The Review seems greatly exercised because Hon. Mr. Stratton consented, when asked by the Premier, to reply to the Leader of the Opposition attack on the budget speech. What was there wrong in his doing so? If the members of the Government have sufficient confidence in the Provincial Secretary's ability to successfully do so, is it not to his credit, rather than to his discredit? The Leader of the Opposition hardly did himself credit, when he allowed the speech of the Treasurer to go unanswered by himself, more particularly when he pressed a vote of want of confidence on going into supply. The Review gives Mr. Stratton altogether too much credit as to his influence in the councils of the Ontario Government.

A HARVEY YOUNG LADY

Remembered by Her Friends Before Going West.

Miss Sinilla Chase, who has been a very active member of Knox Presbyterian Church, Harvey, and has been for some time its faithful organist, on Wednesday evening last was presented with a gold guard and a lady's companion by her many friends. A large number of Miss Chase's friends gathered at her residence, and after spending a while in music, games, etc., the assemblage was called to order.

Miss Mary Telford and Miss Maggie Thompson made the presentation of the address and the handsome presents. A very delightful evening was spent and the company dispersed with the best wishes that Miss Chase may have a prosperous home in Vancouver, where she is about to reside. The address was as follows;

Dear Miss Chase, — We, the members of the Presbyterian Knox church, a short time ago, learned with deep regret that you were about to sever connection with us and Lakehurst, and we felt that we could not let you depart without expressing our feelings of appreciation of the excellent services you have rendered in all the branches of our church work, and especially as organist, the duties of which you so excellently performed. We know that He for whom the work was done, will reward you. We trust that you may be found labouring still in another part of His vineyard. We ask you to accept this guard and this companion as a slight token of our regard for you. In conclusion we wish you God's blessing and a most happy and prosperous home, to which you are to return.

PORT HOPE KNITTING WORKS

THE ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

Of the Charlotte Street Methodist Sunday School.

Rev. Dr. Saunders Preached Two Very Impressive Sermons Large Congregations.

The anniversary services of the Charlotte street Methodist church, were held yesterday morning and evening, when special sermons were delivered by Rev. Dr. Saunders, of Cobourg, formerly of the Dominion Methodist church, Ottawa. There were large congregations present on both occasions, and the choir rendered music of a special nature.

The morning service was more particularly in the interests of the Sunday school children, who were present in large numbers. The subject of the preacher's remarks was "The Victoria Cross."

At the evening service Rev. Dr. Saunders took for his text, Cor. iv, 5; "For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

After speaking on the majesty of these words the speaker went on to define light, which he claimed was the most wonderful thing in the world, and though for ages scientists have been trying to solve its true nature and origin, yet it remains a mystery. It is a beautiful thing—in fact there can be no beauty without it; it reveals all beauty, and may even be said to create all beauty.

But from Christ we receive light in a larger, fuller sense. He reveals to us the source of all spiritual life. "I am the light of the world; he that cometh to Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life."

Who can tell what is the glory of God? How true the words of the Psalmist in the nineteenth Psalm. "The Heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth His handiwork. Every flower bears a mark of His pencil, a reflection of the light of the face of Jesus." We are told that Venus, the queen of light, and last of the constellations to fade before the sun, appeared in its last transit just as a blot of ink. The glory of the greater light outshone her. St. John in his description of the glory of the Lord was limited by the possibilities of human language. Few people have looked upon the face of our Lord. As Peter, John the Baptist, the Samaritan woman, the leper, Nicodemus and the Roman centurian gazed on His countenance they were led to exclaim, according to what they saw there.

One must get Christ-like in order to see and know Christ. The glory of God as it is in the face of Christ is Heaven to the possessor whether here or beyond.

In answer to the King of Sweden, a famous violinist said he caught the strains of music as a barefoot boy on the hills of Norway. Oh, for a sympathy so full with Jesus, in whose face is the glory of God unfolded. Sometimes he thought he would never see the glory of God only as he beheld it in the face of Christ—that face deep lined with sorrow for the lost world—that scarred face looking out on the world to-day, waiting to lift up those who will hear Him.

A young man in Montreal who had got the fever to go west with some friends, and who would not be persuaded, yielded as his mother placed her hand on his shoulder, saying simply, "Thomas, don't go." He told his friends it was his mother's hand which kept him. In his infancy she had saved him from death by fire, at the sacrifice of her hand, which was scarred and crippled. It was the memory of her unselfish love which prompted him to yield to her request. Christ's scarred hand calls us to Him because he gave Himself a ransom for us.

Many artists have in their studios painted pebbles of many hues, to keep their eyes up to colour tone. So if our hearts are tuned by Christ, life will take on a new meaning.

Stephen is our example of what a man will dare, what he will suffer, what he will undertake for Christ. Let us get nearer to the feet of the Lord's Anointed, and there will come into our hearts untold joy and satisfaction; then we shall gaze throughout eternity on the glory of God.

Hamilton Plays Here on Thursday Night

Providing Peterborough Wins the Round With R. M. C. Notes on Curling — Basketball Match.

HOCKEY.

The Peterborough hockey team left on this morning's G.T.R., train for Kingston where they will play their return match with the R. M.C. seven. The Peterborough team has a lead of 12 goals so that it is unlikely that the soldier boys will overcome this handicap.

Peterborough will then be the winners of the Kingston and Peterborough districts and the clubs with them now in the race for the championship are, Collingwood, Owen Sound, Galt and Hamilton. Hamilton will play here on Thursday night and the Peterborough team will very likely go to the Western Ontario City on Saturday. This will mean three hard games for Peterborough in one week and is not altogether a proper procedure but the season is getting advanced and the series must be hurried through. The game on Thursday night should draw one of the largest crowds of the season. The Hamilton team has the name of being a somewhat speedy aggregation and they have never appeared on Peterborough ice before. The hockey enthusiasts of the town are looking forward very anxiously for Thursday night.

The indignation expressed in a Port Perry despatch on Friday night as to the composition of the Port Perry team at Markham seems to have been largely in the nature of a bluff. The statement in the Markham report that Port Perry had on five Lindsay players was neither "baseless" nor "contemptible." The facts are that Port Perry's team at Markham included Callahan, Parkin and C. Dennistoun from the Lindsay team, and on Friday night Paquette, variously of Whitby, Port Perry and Orillia, would also have played for Port Perry but that he missed the train.—Globe.

A hockey team composed of Old Cobourg Boys, now residing in Toronto will play the Cobourgs at the covered rink this evening.

Port Hope's new rink is almost an accomplished fact. The following gentlemen have been appointed as directors: Capt. Henning, Capt. Colwill, Dr. Powers, Messrs. G. H. Ralston, R. Deyell, R. J. Hommick and M. Farquharson. A meeting of the directors was held, and R. Deyell was chosen as president; Mayor H. White, secretary, and R. A. Mulholland treasurer. A 10 per cent. call on allotment of stock has been made, and the balance is to be paid when required, and the secretary was authorized to make application for letters patent of incorporation, which will be procured at once.

Mr. G. H. Ralston banquetted the Port Hope Hockey Club Wednesday night and during the evening announced his intention of donating a trophy to be played for by the teams of this district. The cup will pass into the possession of the team which wins it three times. The Guide says:—"The heartiest wish for the continued success of the Peterborough Club was expressed by all, and and it was the firm belief that, if given fair play, this team would land on top."

CURLIANA.

Three rinks of curlers from Lakefield will come down to give the local men a game to-morrow.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 15. — There were many exciting games in the curling bonspeil to-day. Play was continued in all the leading competitions. Flavelle, the Lindsay expert, was put out of all the big events, being defeated by Steel of Boissevain and McLean of Holland by 14 to 10. Dunbar of St. Paul won his morning game in the Grand Challenge competition, but later was defeated in the Walkerville competition by Scott of the Winnipeg Granites. Edwards of Drayton, M. D., was beaten by McConaghy of Neepawa, 14 to 6. Smith of Duluth lost both his games, going down before Rowan of Miniota in the Caledonian and C. Gibb of Carman in the Walkerville. Rae of Nelson, B. C., was beaten by Pace of the Thistles, 13 to 15, in the Grand Challenge event. Play was stopped at 7 o'clock this evening, and will be resumed on Monday morning.

BASKET-BALL.

To say the least, basket-ball was heartily received on Saturday night at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium, when there were two games. One was of the ordinary variety—a practice game. The other was all the people looked for and some say more. It partook of a championship nature which always arouses the competitive spirit of men. It did more than that. There has been the best of feeling among all the players of the six different teams, but the interest among the fellows and the onlookers of the Saturday night game has never been surpassed.

At nine o'clock, the time for the game to start, it was plainly seen that there are scores of admirers among the fair sex—that is of the game—as the gallery was accommodating all it comfortably could without complaint.

Dunsford won the toss-up and chose the south basket, which has been a lucky one this year, but there must have been charmers or magnets at the north end, if the result of the score counts. At the outset the game seemed to be in Dunford's favour, as they secured the ball from the face-off and was rapidly passed to the forward line, who found immediate trouble in getting past the impregnable defence of Campbell and Dobbin, who certainly are to blame for the defeat of team No. 1. Here the ball was passed by Campbell to Froude, who had been measuring the circumference of the twisted cord, apparently, as he seemed to know just where to put it. This started the scoring and it was like an epidemic, all had a share of it, for at half time the score stood 7-4 in Richardson's favour. In the second half, after all had a waterworks straight, they played with renewed energy and only managed to keep the score at the same radius till the finish, ending with a score of 10-7 in favour of Richardson.

The teams competing for the championship of the league were as follows:

Team No. 1—Dunford, Capt., McGrath, Brown, Finnie and Doidge.

Team No. 2—Richardson, Capt., Froude, McLennan, Dobbin and Campbell.

Referee—Horace E. Ayers.

Umpires—Messrs. Sandford Hall and John Laing.

Next Saturday night and the following Saturday there will be factory games and club matches.

LACROSSE.

The Ontario Lacrosse Club of Port Hope will organize shortly. The boys are already beginning to talk and wish for May weather. The probabilities are that Port Hope will be represented by a very fast team this coming season—just a little better than in 1901.—Guide.

THE RING.

After a brief session Champion Jim Jeffries and Bob Fitzsimmons were finally matched on Saturday morning. The rival puglists, according to appointment, met shortly after 11 o'clock and signed articles of agreement to fight twenty rounds before the club offering the largest purse on or about May 15th of the current year.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Ira Snelgrove, of Toronto, and formerly of Peterborough, is in town.

Rev. Dr. Saunders of Cobourg, during his stay in town, was the guest of Mr. R. J. Kidd, Rubidge street.

Mr. Isaac Lean, Apsley, has been appointed bailiff of the Fifth Division Court of the County of Peterborough.

Mr. Stewart Cruickshanks and his wife, of Bathgate, N. D., left Saturday for their home after visiting in this vicinity for the past month.

Mr. George Ball received this morning from the President of the Grand Council of the C.M.B.A. of Canada, his commission as Grand Deputy for the County of Peterborough.

The many friends of Rev. Father McCloskey will be pleased to learn that he has so far recovered as to be able to walk about. For the first time in three months he visited his own church on Sunday.

The friends of Mr. Norman S. Choate, of "Belmont," Port Hope, will regret to hear that he is at present in the Toronto General Hospital, where he has recently undergone a critical operation. The operation was very successful, however, and he is progressing favourably. Mr. Choate is well known in Peterborough.

OBITUARY.

Death of Richard Hill of Lakefield—Was 83 Years of Age.

The funeral took place during the week of the late Richard Hill of Lakefield. The deceased came out from England over 62 years ago and first settled at Port Hope, where he remained for about two years. From there he went to the Township of Smith, settling on a farm on the 10th concession, where he lived for 13 years. He removed from there to Lakefield, and remained a resident of the village till the time of his death. Mr. Hill married in Port Hope a daughter of the late Mr. Langstaff of that town. A family of 14 children were the issue of that marriage, of whom eleven, with his widow, survive him. Their names are as follows; Thomas Hill, of Burleigh Falls; Rowland Hill of Peterborough; George, Alexander, Wellington and Albert Hill, and Mrs. R. Crawford, of Lakefield; Mrs. Haw, Port Hope; Mrs. Bronson, Minnesota, Mrs. Mowry, of Ottawa; and Mrs. Wills, of Peterborough. Deceased was a native of Bishop Purlton, of Yorkshire, Eng.

FUTURE PROVISION.

There are two periods in a man's life, when in the natural course of things, he is unable to take care of himself—his childhood and his old age. During the whole of our lives we are consumers; during middle life only we are producers. It is therefore the aim of every man to put by enough during middle age, so that he will have an independent income for his old age. But, under ordinary circumstances this is often a hard thing to do. Men at that time of life generally find themselves with a family to provide for; perhaps their whole income is required to meet the household expenses, and it is impossible to find a remunerative investment for their small annual savings.

An Imperial endowment policy, as issued by the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, Toronto, is an ideal investment for a man in this position. Should he die at any time the insurance will provide for his family and leave them in an independent position. At the same time he is providing an income for his old age, which will enable him to end his days in comfort. With an "Imperial Endowment Policy" a man need have no fear for his own future, or the future of his wife and family.

Baby's cold may be cured in a night by using Vapo-Cresolene, which has been extensively in use for twenty-four years. All druggists.

LABORERS FROM CHOICE.

Men and Women of Title Sometimes Busier Than Wage-Earners—A Few Well-Known Examples.

Anxious to keep on the right path let us begin this brief survey of facts by reference to my lady. We may look upon a day or two lately spent by a countess, and thank ourselves that we belong to another set, a set in which the hours of work and the hours of leisure are a little more clearly defined.

The Countess of Warwick must certainly rank among hard-working women. On a recent morning, by her own open confession, she got up at 5 o'clock and in her slippers prepared the excellent little speech she delivered the same evening at Goldsmith's Institute, to the happy prize-winners, and students of the 38 evening continuation schools of Greenwich.

Then she worked hard during the next day at her own Agricultural College, at Reading, hurrying thence at tea time to catch a train for London. Across London she flitted, arriving at the place of meeting between 8 and 9 o'clock, whilst the Blackheath Science and Art and Commercial School Choir was singing, "Oh, for the wings of a dove, then would I fleet away and be at rest."

And her Ladyship's hard labors did not even end with distributing nearly 800 prizes, for in order to get a night's repose she had yet to flee right away to Bradford, where she was due to arrive in the early hours, to rest, let us hope, ere she undertook further work for which she had engaged herself the following morning!

Lady Jenue, the wife of one of the King's most famous judges, is another titled woman to whom hard labor appears to come as a blessing. Her ladyship will frequently work hard at her desk all day till well on into the afternoon—for she is a prolific writer—she will then turn out to visit one of the girls' friendly societies in which she is actively interested, afterwards driving home to receive half a dozen callers, and ending up by attending some important meeting or function with the judge. Sixteen hours a day, rather than eight, is her limit.

A little more than a year ago Lord Cross was a Cabinet Minister, and retired on account of his years, which are now close on 80. The other day he was seen in the neighborhood of Fleet street, smoking a big cigar, and cheerfully facing the dangers of the crossing at Ludgate Circus with an agility which would have moved many a man of 50 or even less to envy, had they been there to see. Viscount Cross has always lived a strenuous life, and now that he is, presumably, too old for state service, he delights in devouting his energies to commercial matters, which take him frequently into the city.

All who are interested in seafaring matters, or who have a love for our splendid navy, know the name of Lord Charles Beresford. Let it be whispered gently, for fear his Lordship should take exception to the title, that he is called by some persons a busybody. His great activity is simply a thorn in the flesh of many of his friends and acquaintances. When he has anything special on hand he will work all day and half the night, merely snatching his food in a manner that would be enough to cause half our overworked shop assistants who live in to go out on strike were they expected to follow his example.

In order to get at figures and facts with which to confound the First Lord of the Admiralty, Lord Charles Beresford will work like a horse. The friends and supporters who aided him when he became member of Parliament for York were utterly astonished at his capacity for work during the exciting days that preceded his successful return to Westminster.

Lord James Hereford's name is beloved by many a thousand men and women by reason of his great services in connection with labor troubles. His sound reasoning abilities have on several occasions brought peace and good will into evidence during recent years where employers and employed have been at loggerheads for weeks and weeks. The workers and their wives and families have been on the verge of starvation in more than one struggle that has been brought to a happy ending mainly through the logic and calm judgment of Lord James. No man has less cause for working in this difficult field than he. As a close personal friend of the King, as a man of wealth and assured position, and as one who has already borne a brave part in the duties and exertions of the professional world, he has every claim to a restful and quiet retirement, yet for the sake of others, he renders invaluable services, much to the profit of the laborers and the labor masters.

The last business to engage his attention was the very important lead poison arbitration question between pottery manufacturers and the Home Office, respecting the special rules which the department had proposed in order to minimize the effects of lead poisoning.

Such are but a few instances in which my lord and lady voluntarily serve terms of hard labor. After all, there is sweetness and happiness to be got through real hard work unattainable by another means, and, fortunately, many of our highly placed fellow men and women have discovered the fact.—Pearson's Weekly.

Strawberries In Pots.

In Sweden strawberries are grown in pots. In the fall, after they finish bearing and before the frost comes, the pots are carried down cellar and kept in a sheltered place over winter. In the spring they are taken out and set in the garden.

OLD MESSAGE FROM ROME.

Cast at Harvard Tells How Romans Sacrificed Sows.

How the early Romans sacrificed cows and sows is told by a famous stele, or tablet, dug up at Rome about two years ago. This stele bears the earliest Latin writing known to exist, and the first reproduction imported to this country has been recently installed at Harvard college. The reproduction shows the old pillar as it is supposed to have been left by the Gauls after they demolished the greater part of Rome in 390 B. C. and the capitol itself was saved by the cackling of the "sacred geese." The inscription, or, rather, that part of it which escaped the barbarians, has been translated as follows:

"Whoever desires to immolate cows, he should do it by the shrine. Sows should be immolated away from the shrine. The ritual cakes used in sacrificing should be brought to the rex sacrorum at the time of the full moon. Whoever desires to immolate cows or sows, having obtained leave from the rex sacrorum through the kalator, must take the auspices and present his votive offerings. The same rules must be followed when sacrifices are performed at the first quarter of the moon. Whosoever disregards the laws concerning the auspices and votive offerings, let him be sacred to Jupiter."

Only about a third of the stele escaped destruction, so that the rest of the inscription will probably never be known. The kalator, it is hardly necessary to explain, was a minor official attending the rex sacrorum, or chief of sacrifices, and, a "person sacred to Jupiter," became himself a potential sacrifice. In other words, he was outlawed, and it was no crime for anybody to "sacrifice" him. The lettering of the inscription is one proof of its antiquity, for, while at first glance the letters suggest Greek, they yet make Latin words, and it is known that the primitive Romans borrowed from the Greeks many of the letters of their early alphabet.

The place in which the old stele was found is believed by some authorities to have been the heroon, or official burial place, of Romulus, the founder of the city, and therefore almost as old as Rome itself. Others, however, declare that Romulus was merely a tradition and so could not have had a heroon. The Harvard classical department, it may be added, says that the date is certainly not later than 500 B. C. and perhaps earlier.

The Raw Food Habit.

Just now the raw food diet threatens to become a fad. Certainly many people are experimenting with this new dietetic idea. It would be far better for the average man or woman to adopt an absolutely raw diet and eat everything which he could possibly eat or relish in a perfectly raw state than to swallow into his stomach the horrible messes which are concocted by the average cook. It is safer on the whole for man to take his food as he finds it in its natural state than to take it as he finds it on the table of the average boarding house or hotel. In other words, it is far safer for man to receive his food straight from the hands of his Maker than from the hands of a French cook.—London Good Health.

Twenty Years of Bronchitis.

Captain Dunlop, of Kingston, commander of the steamer "Bohemian," of the R. & O. Fleet, suffered unceasingly for twenty years, and although he took treatment all that time permanent relief was not obtained until he took Catarrhozone, which cured him quickly and permanently. The Captain says that Catarrhozone is the best cure for bronchitis on the face of the earth, pleasant to use, quick to relieve and sure to cure." Catarrhozone is a wonderful treatment for all diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes. Two months' treatment price $1; small size, 25 cents. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Five Pretenders.

The pretenders who take themselves seriously are five in number—Prince Napoleon, the Duke of Orleans, Don Carlos, Don Miguel and the Count of Caserta. The two last named have five sons. Don Carlos has one son, unmarried at the age of thirty-one, and a childless brother. The Duke of Orleans is childless, and his only brother is his heir. Prince Bonaparte has a brother. Both are middle aged and unmarried. Prince Roland Bonaparte, who is also middle aged, is a widower with a daughter only. He is, moreover, excluded from the Bonaparte succession. These three middle aged princes are the only living men who bear the name of Bonaparte.

POPULAR SCIENCE.

The sun is traveling at forty miles a second, about 40,000 times as fast as an express train.

The comet of 1843 was the only one during the last century which could be seen in broad daylight.

The solor orb would appear blue to anybody who should view it outside of this planet's atmosphere.

The shadow of the moon which falls on the earth during an eclipse of the sun is usually about fifty miles in diameter.

The moon enjoys 354½ hours of sunlight at a time and then an equal amount of darkness, making her day equal to 29.53 of our day.

It is a law of science that sound cannot travel through a vacuum. The sound waves require the atmospheric conditions for their vibration.

Stars seem to rise and set, like the sun, on account of the earth's revolution on her axis. They seem to rise four minutes earlier every night, on account of the earth's revolution in her orbit.

Polaris is a triple star. The bright star,—the North star—moves about the center of mass itself and a dark companion star in 3 days, 23 hours and 14 minutes. These two stars also move slowly around another dark star in a long period.

A NATION OF WORKERS

With Good Health for Capital the Great Majority of Canadians Rely on Brain and Muscle for a Livelihood—With Ill-Health All is Lost.

Canada is a nation of workers. The few who have acquired positions of wealth and leisure, have done so through hard work, and the vast majority find it necessary to toil day after day, and year after year, to support themselves and those depending on them. Their capital is good health. So long as this lasts, they are happy and contented; but, alas! too many are robbed of this capital, and find themselves unable to keep up the struggle. With no earnings coming in, their small savings are soon exhausted, and want, as well as disease, stares them in the face.

Disease is humanity's most deadly foe. Silently, gradually, it steals upon one, until at last it closes its fangs on its victim and secretly robs him of energy, ambition and strength. In this age of keen competition, strenuous work, and ceaseless struggle, it is the nervous system that most readily feels the strain. Nights of sleeplessness, days of tired, languid feelings, depression, discouragement, and despondency, neuralgic pains, shattered nerves, weakness and irregularities of the bodily organs, These are some of the warnings of the approach of such serious and fatal diseases as nervous prostration, paralysis, locomotor ataxia and insanity.

Maintaining good health, is, to the majority of people the most vital question in the world, and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually, and certainly, it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy, nerve cells, and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defy the disease.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is unlike any treatment you ever used. It does not act as a stimulant to whip up the tired nerves into exhausting action, nor, on the other hand, does it deaden and destroy the feeble nerve tissues, but by filling the shrivelled arteries with rich, red, life-sustaining blood, it repairs the waste and revitalizes and restores the body to health and strength. As a permanent cure for nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness, irritability, and the weakness and irregularities which accompany an exhausted nervous system, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is unapproached; 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A handsome and useful Christmas present for your mother or grandmother, is a copy of Dr. Chase's last and complete Receipt Book. Illustrated folder free. 1

Morgan's Dream.

"The dream of my boyhood days," observed J. Pierpont Morgan to a friend recently, "was to be a farmer and have the finest stock in the world—the dolce far niente of the farmer's life was my fancy."

"Well, you have your farm and your stock, to say nothing of stocks," retorted the friend.

"Well, but I am the man of all work and haven't got the dolce far niente and can't buy it either, big a price as I might be willing to pay for it."

Long Tailed Chicks.

A new breed of chickens just received in New York from China has tails twelve feet long. They are kept in cages, and when they are taken out for exercise an attendant goes along to hold up the feathers. The hen lays thirty eggs a year, which are hatched by other hens.

A McKinley Tree.

A giant sequoia in the Mariposa grove has been selected to be named William McKinley. It stands between the Washington and Lincoln trees and is estimated to be 3,000 years old.

"HELPLESS WITH RHEUMATISM"

South American Rheumatic Cure, Mr. Barker says, worked a miracle in his case, and he expresses his gratitude in no uncertain sound.

Mr. S. Barker, of 9 Suffolk Place, Toronto, writes:—"It is only fair to my suffering neighbors to publicly express my great gratitude for the almost miraculous cure from Rheumatism effected in me by the use of South American Rheumatic Cure. For three months I was next door to helplessness, and my sufferings were intense, but two bottles of this great remedy cured me. It relieves in six hours. 52

WOULDN'T STAY BURIED.

Adventure of a Man Who Was Dissatisfied With His Coffin.

A few weeks ago an Armenian while walking in the bazaar of Adana, in Asia Minor, fell on the pavement in a fit. The people in his vicinity, finding him unconscious, sent for the municipal physician, who examined him and certified that he was dead.

He was recognized as being an Armenian, so his body was handed over to the authorities of a neighboring Armenian church. There was not enough money in his pockets to pay for the expense of his burial, so the authorities postponed the funeral to the next day, by which time they hoped to collect enough money from charitable Armenians. The body was put in a coffin and left in a corner of the church.

At night, however, the man returned to his senses and, finding himself in a coffin, the narrowest of all prisons, began to shriek wildly. His voice and the clattering of the coffin awoke the priest and attendants, who were sleeping in an adjacent building. They were terrified, but eventually entered the church and, perceiving whence the cries came, rescued the man.

Early next morning the latter went into a coffin shop, where, by a strange coincidence, the first person he met was the man who had nailed up his coffin the night before. The latter took him for a ghost and fled precipitately, shouting for help the while. The Armenian rushed upon him and, seizing him, demanded pecuniary satisfaction for the damage done to his clothes in the process of putting him in the coffin.

The undertaker took courage on finding that the Armenian was not a ghost at all and retorted by demanding payment for the coffin and his trouble the night before. The dispute was adjudicated on by the other people in the coffin shop, apparently not to the Armenian's satisfaction, for, having come to the conclusion that Adana is hardly a healthy spot for him, he has removed to another town.

Passing of Sailing Barks.

Not many years ago the East river water front was a "forest of masts." Today a dozen smokestacks take their place. Poetry has given place to the dullest and driest of prose. An illustration of the sorrowful pass to which sailing vessels in the merchant marine have come was related last week by the son of a once wealthy shipowner, now dead.

"I was present in my youth," said he, "at the christening of one of my father's barks, a quarter of a century ago. The vessel cost about $32,000. In its maiden voyage to Australia it cleared a net profit of more than $35,000—more than paid for itself, in fact.

"Not long since, while settling up my father's estate, $50 was offered to me for an eighth interest in another bark which he had owned. It cost him $4,000. I took the offer. It was a question of taking $50 or paying an assessment of $200, and, as I was not empowered to spend money of the estate and saw no probable profit if I did, I took the cash."

A Plucky Queen.

While the queen of the Belgians was driving the other day in a pony chaise in the environs of Spa she met a ragpicker's cart drawn by a dog, which was being cruelly beaten by the two occupants. The queen drew her carriage across the road and requested the ragpickers to cease ill treating the dog. Their only reply was a volley of insulting language, while they thrashed the unfortunate animal more brutally than before.

Her majesty thereupon turned her carriage round and followed the men to Theux, where she had them arrested for cruelty. On the police authorities wishing to add the charge of insulting the queen, her majesty asked them to strike it out, as she made her complaint solely in her capacity as a member of the Society For the Protection of Animals.

Forgave Sir Francis Jeune.

Lady Jeune is well known for her work in the east end of London, and she is actively connected with many of the societies that aim to better the condition of the poor. Many a home has she assisted, and, in view of this, an amusing story is told of a prisoner sentenced to a long term by her husband, Sir Francis Jeune, on one occasion when he was doing assize duty. The prisoner was rather indignant, but he ceased his protestations when one of his companions whispered in his ear:

"Never mind, old man. You deserve it after all. And just think what the beak's missus did for the youngsters!"—London Answers.

An Exclusive Edition.

A singular competition is reported between two Italians who have devoted their existence to collecting editions of the "Divine Comedia." One had discovered 214 editions and his rival the same number; but, determined not to be beaten, the latter had a two hundred and fifteenth edition specially set up and printed in Paris, taking care that only one copy of it was printed.

The pulse is slower at night and during sleep. A tall person has a slower pulse than a short person.

Shells in the Ocean.

Pretty

Is an adjective which seems to have become monopolized by the young lady at the typewriter. It is astonishing what an array of beautiful women are found in stores and offices. In fact, the typical American beauty will be found sitting at the typewriter rather than lolling in a carriage in the park.

And yet this pretty young girl needs always to be reminded that "beauty is only skin deep," unless it roots in health. When the health is undermined by womanly diseases, the luster soon passes from the

THE FASHIONS.

Lace gowns embellished with embroidery are among the most favored for evening wear.

Wide gauntlet cuffs are seen on many of the new gloves for women, particularly those of heavy pique.

In evening gowns velvet is again a favorite fabric and is likely to remain so during the cold weather.

Slate colored suede gloves, which can be worn with gowns of almost any color, have as the latest finish buttons of gun metal.

The Angora dot, so called because it is white and fluffy, is in evidence on many of the new veilings in fancy meshes and chiffons.

Brussels nets of the finest meshes are again in favor for evening dresses in white or black, like point d'esprit, and they threaten to rival those of the long popular chiffon or mousseline brilliante.

Some of the very latest of the long enveloping coats, or those in three-quarter length, are made in modified Russian blouse style at the top, and these models are extremely becoming to girlish figures.

NATURE'S ICEHOUSE.

Food For Birds That Is Preserved In the Arctic Regions.

The number of birds that go to the arctic regions to breed is vast beyond conception. They go not by thousands, but by tens and hundreds of thousands, and because nowhere else in the world does nature provide at the same time and in the same place such a lavish prodigality of food.

The vegetation consists of cranberry, cloudberry and crowberry bushes, and these, forced by the perpetual sunshine of the arctic summer, bear enormous crops of fruit. But the crop is not ripe until the middle and end of the arctic summer, and if the fruit eating birds had to wait until it was ripe they would starve in the meantime, so they arrive on the very day of the melting of the snow.

But each year the snow descends on an immense crop of ripe fruit before the birds have time to gather it. It is thus preserved perfectly fresh and pure, and the melting of the snow discloses the bushes, with the unconsumed last year's crop hanging on them or lying, ready to be eaten, on the ground.

The frozen meat stretches across the breadth of northern Asia. It never decays and is accessible the moment the snow melts. The same heat which thaws the fruit brings into being the most prolific insect life in the world—the mosquito swarms on the tundra. No European can live there without a veil after the snow melts. The gun barrels are black with them, and clouds of them often obscure the sight.

Thus the insect eating birds have only to open their mouths to fill them with mosquitoes, and thus the presence of swarms of cliff chaffs, pipis and the wagtails in this arctic region is accounted for.

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be, some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith they cure just the same, for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make these organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demand for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

Damp Walls.

When a wall is found to be too damp to retain wall paper, prepare a coating of the following ingredients: A quarter of a pound of shellac and a quart of naphtha. Brush this over the damp spots, and when it dries the wall will be found to be impervious to moisture from the other side.

A Great Increasing Army.

Composed of men and women that spend heart and soul in the vain effort to overcome a lack of vigour in the body. To replace inertia by vigour, to make good, red, blood, that will build up the system, to have strong nerves, you must eat more, assimilate more. How can it be done? By using Ferrozone. It invigorates, strengthens, possesses magical health giving powers. Get Ferrozone today and make yourself strong and well.

Hamburg Pupils.

THE REFERENDUM.

Prominent Men Express Their Opinions on the Ross Bill.

The following are the opinions of a number of prominent gentlemen regarding Premier Ross' referendum:

Mr. T Dixon Craig, ex-M.P., for East Durham, said, when speaking on the floor of the House of Commons, in 1896 "But we must admit, and I admit frankly, that this question of a prohibitory law is a most difficult one for any Parliament to deal with. I claim that a prohibitory law must have a great majority behind it, not only of those who vote, but of all who have votes in this country. It was a great weakness in the Scott Act that it required for its adoption only a majority of the votes cast. It would have been far better if it had been a majority of all those entitled to vote, because in some instances very little interest was taken in the election, and the majority of the voters were not represented. The law must have a great majority behind it to be effective. It is no use placing such a law on the statute by a bare majority—in fact I would be opposed to it."

Rev. Dr. Potts prepared the following statement for the press: "I am not a member of the Temperance Committee of our Church, but personally and for myself I wish to say that I am greatly pleased with Mr. Ross' presentation of the prohibition question in the Legislature on Wednesday. It seems to me that every fair-minded prohibitionist should be satisfied, and that temperance people who are not prohibitionists should be induced to support the bill presented by the Premier on Wednesday. This is the golden opportunity to have prohibition in Ontario, as far as the bill grants prohibition, and there should be a united effort to record a large majority vote on the 14th of October."

Principal Caven of Knox College, said, "The temperance movement has for a long time been tending towards prohibition, and the people have, I think, a right now to pronounce upon it. It can hardly, however, be expected that any perfect measure can be presented to them at present. The way is now open for any complete measure such as the Dominion could enact. I am in favour of the referendum, but if the object of the Government is to shirk responsibility, I would join with the others in condemning it. On a matter which so deeply enter into the social and business life of the people they have a right to be especially consulted. A plebiscite on the abstract question of prohibition is not the same thing as a vote of the people on the actual measure now submitted There should be, I think, a strong majority—a majority, I should say, of the possible voters, or three-fifths of those actually voting. I should not like to see it smaller.

Chancellor Burwash, of Victoria University, said: "I think it is the wisest course the Government could have taken. You cannot legislate against public opinion. Unlike the plebiscite, the referendum is on a definite measure. It is for the temperance people now to work hard for their cause. It is a big question, and there is enough for all of us to do in the time given."

Rev. Dr. Sutherland, general secretary of the Missionary Society of the Church, said: "The measure has been presented in better shape than I expected, for it not only adopts the Manitoba Act, but calls only a straight majority vote of the people."

Rev J. A. Macdonald, of the Westminster, of course endorses the referendum proposal. As to the principle adopted concerning the majority he said: "It strikes me as being original and evidently intended to secure a large vote in favour of prohibition. What the full effect of the working of that principle would be I do not at this moment see, and I should like to fully consider the question before expressing an opinion."

Rev. J. F. Oekley, president of the Toronto Methodist Conference, said: "I believed in a referendum from the beginning, and I think the vote Mr. Ross asks for is nothing but reasonable In fact it is better than I expected."

Chancellor Wallace, of McMaster University, said he had always been in favour of a referendum, and he was satisfied with the Government's course

Harriston, Feb. 16.—Rev. M. C. Cameron, pastor of the Presbyterian Church here, to-day, in the course of a sermon, said:—"I hope the temperance people of the Province will show a solid front. The Hon. Geo. W. Ross has given everything a reasonable man could look for. We do not want a walk over. The line of battle is distinctly marked out. Any man who will vote for a Provincial issue, and refuses to come out for a great moral reform, has no sand in him, and will be of no weight to enforce prohibition. It will test the real sentiment of the Province. Surely the church of God possesses more power and enthusiasm than the combined forces of the liquor traffic. United, the battle is ours; divided, enemy's."

THE ROCKDALE POST OFFICE.

Rockdale, Feb. 14th, 1902.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—"

Dear Sir,—Will you allow space in your widely circulated paper to reply to your issue of the 13th inst., and also to the issue of the Havelock Standard of the 6th inst., regarding a post office in the Victoria vicinity in the Township of Belmont.

The editor of the Standard gave his opinion that a post office was much needed in the Victoria neighbourhood, and Rockdale being so near Cordova the former office would be shut down.

In reference to the above statement I don't think the editor is very well acquainted with the country or the location of the present post office. Rockdale is on the shore of Belmont Lake, and is very much needed for the tourists which come here in great numbers during the summer months as well as the numerous residents of the locality. It is on the main road from Havelock to Cordova, and three and a half miles from Cordova.

Cordova is the old Wariston post office, established before Rockdale was, (only changed names,) and the mail has been carried through Victoria by Rockdale for years without any complaint until now, to shut down Rockdale post office.

We understand the agitator of a post office at Victoria lives two miles from Blairton post office; two miles from Rockdale post office; three and one-half miles from Preneveau post office, and six miles from Havelock.

If Rockdale is done away with, as the Standard suggests, some of the residents will be deprived of a post office under five and one-half miles travel

I, with other residents of Rockdale have no objections to the Victoria residents having a post office, but claim Rockdale is more important.

I am yours, etc.,

A resident of Rockdale and one interested in Rockdale P. O.

The Pimpernel.

The common pimpernel, "poor man's weather glass," has the disadvantage of being a native plant and has been almost completely expelled from our flower gardens in favor of exotics which are rarer but lack much of being as pretty. The pimpernel is a charming little flower, which opens about 8 in the morning and closes late in the afternoon, but has the remarkable peculiarity of indicating a coming shower by shutting up its petals.

BISHOP ON THE WAR.

American in South Africa Urging Boers to Acknowledge Defeat.

London, Feb. 17.—Bishop Hartzell, according to the latest mail advices from the Cape, has been preaching with great force to Dutch and English congregations in Cape Colony on the moral aspects of the war, taking the British side with almost passionate earnestness, and appealing to the Boer soldiers, after their heroic resistance, to be brave enough to acknowledge defeat and desist from warfare, which could not be justified on the grounds of expediency or necessity. The American bishop also boldly predicted the reunion of the warring races in South Africa, almost as speedily as the North and South had been drawn together after the Civil War.

COULD NOT WALK.

Some people become so crippled with rheumatism that they cannot walk for months at a stretch. Mr. John Connell, Bedford Mills, Ont., suffered great agony with muscular rheumatism in his legs and could not walk for two months. Four bottles of Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure made a well man of him. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days' treatment, 50 cents, at all drug stores, or Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

Revolution in Motive Power.

London, Feb. 17.—Assertions have been made in the press in the past few days that a new valve mechanism which has been tested on the great Northern Railway, will reduce coal consumption 40 per cent., and that a locomotive thus fitted and with 140 pounds of steam will do more work than an ordinary one with 210 pounds. The president of the road told the stockholders Saturday that its importance was probably exaggerated. It may be added here that another invention which is really epoch-making was recently perfected and will be soon announced. It has been tested by the highest authorities who affirm that it will revolutionize the motive power of the world. It cannot be described now, but it comes from Germany.

Andrews in Jail.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 17.—Frank C. Andrews, ex-Police Commissioner, was arraigned in the Police Court Saturday morning on a warrant charging him with misapplying funds of the Wrecked City Savings Bank to the amount of $200,000 and upwards, while he was vice-president of that institution. His bonds was fixed at $15,000, with two sureties. Mr. Andrews did not have bondsmen in court, and he was taken to the county jail.

Terror Among Mexicans.

Chilpancingo, Mex., Feb. 17.—Alarm still prevails here over the discovery of seven small openings in the mountain between this city and Chilapa, from which smoke is pouring, it being feared that the city is in danger of a greater peril than that already experienced. The terror of the inhabitants was added to by an earthquake that occurred between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning, which was severe enough to wake the entire city from slumber.

The world-famous physician and author, Dr. A. W. Chase, is determined that the people of Peterborough shall have an opportunity to test his favourite prescription, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. In years past Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Dr. Chase's Ointment were put to the test, millions of free samples were given away, and to-day these reliable remedies are found in nearly every household.

The doctor has just as great confidence in his Nerve Food, the great blood builder and nerve restorative, and places it in your hands in order that you may test it in your own particular case and return your verdict. This liberal proposition is made by the veteran practitioner simply and purely in the interests of the sick and to prove conclusively the great value of this famous preparation.

Those suffering from any of the diseases named should not fail to secure samples, as the opportunity will be eagerly sought by thousands of people. This will be the most important distribution of reliable medicine ever attempted in this town. Those desiring samples should come early, as vast crowds will, without doubt, throng this office.

FOR MUNICIPAL COAL YARDS

Attorney-General Speaks of the Proposal—Government Does Not Favor Limiting the Power of Library and Park Boards—Bills Read a Second Time and Sent to Committees.

Toronto, Feb. 17.—In the Legislative Assembly to-day bills were introduced by Mr. Brower to amend the Toll Roads Expropriation Act and by Mr. Conmee to incorporate the New Ontario Central Railway.

Private Bills.

The following bills received a second reading:

Respecting the Sandwich, Windsor and Amherstburg Railway.—Mr. McKee.

Respecting the Essex and Kent Radial Railway Company. —Mr. McKee.

To incorporate the Durham Switch Line Railway Company.—Mr. Jamieson.

Respecting the establishment of the Carnegie Library in the City of Ottawa.—Mr. Lumsden.

Respecting the City of Ottawa. —Mr. Powell.

To incorporate the Ontario Electric Railway Company.—Mr. Graham.

Respecting the Town of Toronto Junction.—Mr. Hill.

To incorporate the Peterboro Radial Railway Company.—Mr. Blezard.

Hon. Mr. Dryden informed Mr. Carscallen that there were four inspectors now acting under the provisions of the Ontario Factories Act, three male and one female. The Province was divided into three districts, an inspector being provided for each, factories in which females were employed being inspected by the female inspector. An index of the factories to which the act applied was kept in each district.

Hon. G. W. Ross in reply to Mr. Lee stated that it was not the intention of the Government at present to make such changes in the arrangements of the seats in the Legislative Chamber as were necessary to enable the members to hear the proceedings more distinctly. Mr. Lee said it was a matter of vital importance, as it was almost impossible to hear speeches in some cases. One member had said that the only way to do was to trust in the Lord and in the majority of Mr. Ross and go ahead (laughter), but that was not his way. A man might as well be at Niagara Falls as in some of the more distant parts.

Second Readings.

Mr. Powell's bill to authorize the establishment of Municipal coal yards was sent to the Municipal Committee, Hon. Mr. Gibson calling attention to its far-reaching scope as widening the area of municipal operation. There might be good reason for it on the ground that consumers were overcharged by monopolists, but the same argument would apply to many other commodities, and the bill would form an important precedent. Before any such propositions were legalized it should receive full consideration, and so far there has been no arguments in its favor presented to the House.

Mr. Mutrie's bill to amend the Municipal Act by enabling sewers to be constructed by assessing the cost upon a particular area to be benefited instead of on the frontage tax system as at present, was read a second time.

Mr. Carscallen moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Public Parks Act by giving the council power to revise the estimates of the Park Commission.

Hon. Mr. Gibson pointed out that the City of Hamilton had accepted with their eyes open the general law, giving the Parks and Public Libraries Board certain powers and now he regretted to see that they wished special legislation to weaken the powers of these bodies. He did not think that the proposition would commend itself to the House and would sooner see these independent boards abolished altogether than made the tools of the council.

Mr. Carscallen said that some check was needed upon the action of irresponsible bodies who incurred expenses which were not sanctioned or approved by the mass of the ratepayers.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt said that although in some localities evils might exist such as were complained of, the general working of the act was satisfactory.

The bill received a second reading, as also did its companion measure, the bill to amend the Public Libraries Act in the same direction.

Crown Lands Department Report.

Hon. E. J. Davis presented the report of the Crown Lands Department which showed that the area of lands sold during the year for farming purposes was 43,617 acres, valued at $31,315. The total amount collected on land sales, including those of former years, was $43,211. Mining lands aggregating 10,476 acres and valued at $23,212, were sold. The number of acres leased was 28,540, the rental on leased lands amounting to $72,691. The total mineral product amounted to 116,370 tons, valued at $1,701,706, being an increase of 53,984 tons and $765,637 over the figures for 1900. In addition to pig iron 14,471 tons of steel were made, valued at $347,280. The nickel-copper mines of Sudbury district smelted 271,096 tons, producing 29,589 tons of matte, being a considerable increase over the output of 1900. During the year $1,479,847 was received from woods and forests, including $571,383 from timber licenses, $63,042 from ground rents and $848,148 from timber dues. The total revenue of the department was $1,634,724 and the total disbursements $252,977.

FRED PERRIN'S FATAL FALL.

Accident at the Cereal Co's Building Yesterday.

A DROP OF SIXTY-TWO FEET.

The Unfortunate Man Died About Two Hours After the Accident Occurred—How it Happened.

An accident, that several hours afterwards resulted fatally, occurred at the American Cereal Company's building at about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, the unfortunate victim being Frederick Perrin, who during the past few months has been employed on the construction work of the new building. Perrin's work of late has been on the fifth storey, his particular duty being that of wheeling the wheelbarrows of brick and mortar from the hoist or elevator, to where the bricklayers were engaged. There are two hoists that run from the basement of the building to the fifth floor, 62 feet above. They are separated from each other by the width of an upright timber, only a few inches in thickness. When one hoist is up the other alongside of it is down, and in this manner the work of elevating the materials from the ground to the top of the building is greatly facilitated. Down below the mortar and brick is loaded on the hoist a wheelbarrow full at a time, and when arriving at the fifth storey, Perrin wheeled the material as before stated, and then replaced the wheelbarrow on the hoist for the downward trip. The ascent and descent of the hoist is accomplished by power from a stationary engine outside the building, in charge of an operator who regulated the movement of the elevators in accordance with the signals received from the 5th floor by means of a bell. Through some manner, not yet explainable, when Perrin was about to replace the barrow on one of the hoists, it suddenly dropped with its usual lightning speed to the first floor. Perrin evidently was not anticipating this, and having his hands still on the handles he was pulled headlong down the elevator shaft. The course was not free from obstructions, and the unfortunate man received many hard knocks before he struck on the plank floor below. Some extent of the concussion of the fall may be gathered from the fact that three heavy two inch planks that constituted a temporary floor on the first flat were broken by the violence. When picked up Perrin was unconscious. Medical aid was summoned as quickly as possible and the ambulance was sent for. The unfortunate man was removed to the Nicholls Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Eastwood. It was at once seen that there was no hope for his recovery. His skull was horribly fractured, besides other bones being broken. At half past six he breathed his last.

The late James Frederick Perrin was a man 23 years of age, and was the son of Mr. Samuel Perrin, a well-known farmer of South Monaghan. He has been engaged in the Cereal Company's buildings for the past three months, or more, and was known as a faithful workman, and a genial, straightforward, honest, young man. He has two brothers residing in Peterborough, John, who is also engaged at the Cereal buildings, and Bert of the Canadian General. He was an unmarried man and had a wide circle of friends in Peterborough and Monaghan.

The bricklayers at the Cereal Works have sent a floral pillow to the friends of the late F. Perrin, who was killed at the works yesterday. At their meeting to-night they are to decide as to attending the funeral in a body with the Trades and Labour organizations, who will be represented in large numbers.

AN INQUEST.

Coroner Gray has decided to hold an inquest to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the accident. A jury will be empanelled at 7 o'clock this evening in the Town Council Chamber.

A NEAR-BY BIG STORM.

Ontario Gets Off Without Harm—Atlantic Coast and Eastern Canada Wind Swept and Snow Covered.

Toronto, Feb. 18.—One of the most timely and useful probabilities sent out for a long time from the Observatory was on Saturday morning, when telegraphic despatches were sent to various points in the eastern provinces foretelling a severe storm. On the strength of this storm signals were hoisted at the various points along the coast, and notices were sent to the different railways.

The storm came at the predicted time, and last night raged with great severity all along the New England coast and over the Eastern Provinces. On the coast the wind was blowing a hurricane last night and snow was falling. From indications at the Observatory it will be felt but very lightly in this portion of Ontario.

Heavy snowstorms are reported from New York, Philadelphia, Manchester, Conn., New Haven, Conn., Boston and Washington. The storm started on the Florida coast in a northerly direction. At New York City the official reports last evening showed a wind velocity of 28 miles an hour. At Boston the wind attained a velocity of 44 miles an hour.

Ontario is on the fringe of the storm zone.

FOR TEN YEARS.

How a Well Known Farmer Suffered The Story in his own Words—It Should be of Interest to Many.

Mr. John Soaife, of No. 9, Johnson Side Road, Byng P.O., Ont., has given for publication a most interesting story of how he was cured of Dyspepsia and Sour Stomach ailments which has made his life a burden for over ten years.

Mr. Soafe is a farmer well known and highly esteemed. He is one of the oldest residents in the county, having lived there nearly sixty years. In his published statement of his case and its cure he says in part:

"For over ten years I was a great sufferer with Dyspepsia and Sour Stomach which gave me great pain.

"I did not dare to eat any pastry and in fact almost everything I did eat, no matter how careful I was, would cause me a great deal of distress and pain.

"I tried several remedies but nothing would do me any good till one day I was in a drug store in Dunnville and the druggist told me of several wonderful cures of Stomach Trouble and Dyspepsia that had been done by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I made up my mind to try them and bought a box which I began to use at once.

"From the first dose I got relief. I found very soon that I could eat anything I wanted to without the slightest distress or pain afterwards.

"I continued the treatment till I was completely cured and I can honestly recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets as the very best medicine for Stomach Troubles.

"This is over four years ago and as I am still in good health I am satisfied my cure is a permanent one."

What Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for farmer Soaife they have done for thousands of others and they will do the same for any Dyspeptic who gives them a chance.

CANADA'S ESTIMATES

Reduction of Six and a Half Million Dollars This Year.

THE ADDRESS WAS ADOPTED

A Debate on the Transportation Question—Mr. Bourassa Consents to Withdraw His Amendment—Speech by Mr. Tarte—Improvement of French River Advocated—How American Invasion Would Be Met.

Ottawa, Feb. 18.—The estimates for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1903, were tabled last night. They call for an expenditure on consolidated fund account of $47,845,033. Of this amount, however, $20,696,455 is authorized by statute, leaving $37,148,583 as the amount to be voted. The estimates are $981,839 less than those of the previous year. The estimated expenditure upon capital account is $5,516,600, which added to the ordinary expenditure gives a grand total of $53,361,638. There is a decrease of $5,581,262 in the estimates for capital expenditure, which makes the aggregate reduction $6,563,102.

Details of Appropriations.

The Government is asking salaries for a new judge in British Columbia, and for a judge in the Northwest Territories, amounting in the former case to $2,400 and in the latter to $4,000. A reduction of $15,000 is effected in the vote for printing and binding of Parliamentary documents. The census appropriation amounts to $120,000, as compared with $350,000 last year. The sum of $210,000 is asked for the commissioners' branch for agriculture and dairying, which includes cold storage for Canadian products on railways and steamships. This is $21,400 more than last year's vote. On the other hand there is a reduction of $20,000 in the vote to promote dairy interests by advances for milk and cream, the sum set apart this year being $40,000. The Militia Department asks for $520,000 for the annual drill of militias and musketry, including clothing and stores, an increase of $80,000. Salaries and wages amount to $90,000, or $10,000 more than last year. The appropriation for a Dominion arsenal is $150,000, or $32,000 ahead of the year before. The reductions comprise $42,900 in military properties, $8,500 in grants to associations, and $10,267 for the defences of Esquimalt. The vote for the Intercolonial, chargeable to capital, has been cut down to $1,975,000, or $3,073,167 less than last year.

Miscellaneous Estimates.

The vote for salaries and expenses in connection with the administration of the Yukon is $250,000, a decrease of $20,000.

The sum of $70,000 is wanted for land and cable telegraph lines, including the maintenance of Marconi wireless telegraphy at Belle Isle, an increase of $27,500.

The vote for the mail service is $2,344,700, an advance of $117,700.

Other votes asked for are: Collingwood Harbor $40,000, Depot Harbor Breakwater $65,000, Goderich Harbor $10,000, Toronto Harbor $8,000, Yukon River Improvements $50,000, Ottawa Astronomical Observatory $15,000, Branch of Royal Mint $50,000, Annex to Parliament Building $15,000. (In addition to $85,000 voted last session). Victoria Memorial Museum $50,000.

TRANSPORTATION.

The Question Debated on Mr. Bourassa's Motion, Which Was Withdrawn—Speech of Hon. Mr. Tarte.

Ottawa, Feb. 18.—In the House yesterday Mr. Bourassa resumed the debate, referring to various paragraphs in the Speech, and then passed on to speak to his amendment. He declared for a policy of better returns for railway subsidies and to prevent Canadian railways falling under alien control. The member for La Belle denounced the Government for giving the C.P.R. power to increase its capital by $20,000,000 without getting anything in return but a reference of the rate control question to the courts of law. When he was in Washington he had heard railway manipulators there confess it was the Canadian Pacific they were always fighting, and that almost made him a C.P.R. man; but the railway question was the basis of our national existence. Geographically, only the railways made confederation possible. He therefore, advocated the adoption of the French system of 90-year railway charters, with practical Government ownership and private control.

In conclusion, he urged the Government to accept his amendment in the spirit in which it was offered, and so give Parliament an opportunity of dealing with this problem; if necessary, to appoint a commission to examine the railway policies of other countries and report a plan to the Government.

Hon. Mr. Tarte Replies.

Mr. Tarte replied. He said the question of transportation raised by Mr. Bourassa was an important and difficult one. As to the contemplated purchase of the Canada Atlantic by Dr. Seward Webb and his associates, how could the Government prevent them taking hold of the stock owned by Mr. Booth. While he lamented the decision of Mr. Booth to sell to Americans, he did not see how it could be helped. Mr. Booth was a daring investor; in fact, he had invested his last dollar, and was probably carrying more than he could bear.

But so long as the waterways were ours, Canada had no cause for fear. American capitalists could not buy up the St. Lawrence nor the French River route. As to this latter important project, suppose the Canada Atlantic were purchased by the Americans, if the port of Montreal were equipped trade would find its outlet there. The Canada Atlantic Railway was a summer route. We have the C.P.R. which is a Canadian road, and if it were found the Americans were getting control of it surely Parliament would vote the money to enable the Government to buy up the controlling interest in the stock. But in two years a channel 20 feet deep could be constructed from Georgian Bay to Lake Nipissing, 61 miles long, which was only 364 miles from Montreal by the C.P.R., and 390 miles from Toronto by the Grand Trunk. By the construction of this route, the farmers of the Northwest would save two millions a year. A fleet of 20 steamers, of a capacity of 200,000 bushels each, could in the nine weeks of after-harvesting navigation carry 25,000,000 bushels of grain to the east end of Lake Nipissing. As there was a crop of 65,000,000 bushels last year in Manitoba, it would be seen there was still plenty of grain left for other routes to carry. Besides, he believed that in ten years the wheat crop for export would be 200,000,000 bushels.

The Georgian Bay Canal was a good thing, but it was so large a scheme that for the present he thought it well to go only to Lake Nipissing. He had no data at his command, but he believed the whole canal would cost $100,000,000, and no Canadian Parliament could consent to such an expenditure at present. He did not intend, however, to press the Government to carry out the French River prospect, his object was to draw attention to it.

The Minister of Public Works then went on to defend his policy in regard to Montreal harbor equipment, and promised that in two years there would be a 30-foot channel from Montreal to Quebec. The improvement of lake harbors had encouraged ship building in Collingwood and Toronto. And, talking of shipbuilding, why should it not be bonused? he asked, seeing what bounties had done for the iron industry. Mr. Tarte concluded by urging Mr. Bourassa to withdraw his amendment.

Other Speakers.

Mr. Haggart spoke briefly, dealing exclusively with the railway question brought up by the amendment. He failed to see any danger to be apprehended from the control of Canadian railways passing into the hands of foreign corporations. Parliament could always safeguard the interests of the country by effective legislation.

He favored Mr. Tarte's scheme of a French River channel as a beginning of the Georgian Bay Canal that would bring about the development of the country to a greater extent than any scheme proposed during the past 20 years.

Mr. Jabel Robinson followed. He condemned rambling speeches and excessive taxation.

Mr. W. F. Maclean, speaking on the amendment, denounced the action of 75 per cent. of the members last session in signing a document recommending the Government to grant $65,000,000 to a private corporation to construct the Georgian Bay Canal. He declared the Government should have purchased the Canada Atlantic and so extend the Intercolonial to the Great Lakes. It could have been done as easily as the purchase of the Drummond County Railway.

Mr. Bourassa then withdrew his amendment, and the Address passed.

Government Control of 'Phones.

Mr. W. F. Maclean introduced a bill regarding telephone companies. He explained that the bill aimed to place telephone companies under somewhat the same general government control as exercised over railway and telegraph companies under existing laws, and, especially, as to control of rates. The bill was read a first time.

Mr. Lancaster's bill, to amend the Railway Act in regard to cattle-guards at crossings, was also read a first time.

The House rose at 9 p. m.

TREADGOLD CONCESSION.

A Water Power Franchise in the Yukon Causes Opposition.

Dawson, Feb. 16.—(Globe Special.)—Toronto, Feb. 18.—The order in Council passing the Treadgold waterpower concession was received in Dawson on the 11th inst., and has caused considerable excitement. The general feeling of the community appears to be strongly against the concession. At a special meeting of the Liberal Club on Saturday evening stirring resolutions were passed unanimously requesting the Government to rescind the order in question. A citizens' mass meeting has also been called for Monday evening next for the purpose of protesting against the enactment. The general consensus of opinion appears to be that it is inimical to local improvement.

CATARRH.

What This Disease is and how it may be Cured.

Originating in the Sytem it can be Cured Only by Treating the Blood.

Remedies Applied Externally Only dry up or Suppress its External Manifestations and Throw it Back on the System to Return When They are Discontinued or Find Vent at Some Other Point Perhaps in More Important and Vital Parts.

Catarrh is a constitutional disorder usually manifesting itself in or finding vent through the outside or covering skin, or most frequently by way of the inside or lining skin, which is called mucous membrane.

When catarrh affects the outside or covering skin it is called "eczema." The location of a spot or patch of eczema or skin catarrh may be at most any point covered by integument, by which name the outside skin is known.

Eczema or catarrh of the integument usually takes a descriptive name from its regional manifestation as palmar eczema if on the palm of the hand, facial eczema if on the face ,etc, these names being extended to each part of the body covered by integument. This is said to be the regional name of eczema.

Eczema also takes a descriptive name from the character of its manifestation. With eczema there is an infiltration of the skin, showing the catarrhal nature of the disease, just as in a catarrh of a mucous membrane there is an infiltration of its tissues. This fluid with which the eczematous skin is loaded oozes out, and drying on the surface forms scabs, crusts, scales, etc. Thus eczema gets another name known as its "Lesional name" from its external appearance, as "squamous eczema" where it seems covered with scales, etc.

Then eczema takes a third descriptive name due to its intensity and duration, as—acute, for a short but very severe attack; sub-acute, for a milder attack; and chronic for a long drawn out or lingering eczema.

Thus one little patch of eczema may have several descriptive names attached to it, the regional name, the lesional name, and the name descriptive of its intensity. A patch of scaly eczema on the face might be described as "chronic squamous facial eczema," and any other patch at any other location might receive as many but different descriptive names.

So it is with catarrh in a mucous membrane or the inside or lining skin. If in the lining of the nose it is called "nasal catarrh"; if in the lining of the tubes through which air is conveyed to the lungs it is called "bronchitis"; if in the linings of some of the pelvic organs of women it is known as "leucorrhea" or more frequently as "female weakness."

Bear in mind that this is all catarrh, a systemic disease, finding vent in either the outside or covering skin, (integument) or the inside or lining skin, (mucous membrane) and you will not get confused but readily see why one remedy can cure these seemingly separate ailments.

The difference in the symptoms of catarrh in the integument and catarrh of the mucous membrane is because of a slight difference in their structure. There is the same infiltration and thickening in both cases, but the glandular supply being different, there is apt to be more discharge from catarrh of a mucous membrane and owing to the distinct nerve supply of the outside skin, much more irritation as burning and itching in eczema or catarrh of the integument.

It is, however, all catarrh, an afflicted woman may have leucorrhea, bronchitis, nasal catarrh and eczema, and it would be only systematic catarrh finding vent in all of these ways of four places at once.

If we can cure catarrh in the system we do away with all manifestations of it. Cure it in the system and it needs no vent, there is nothing to come out. This is the correct and scientific way of treating catarrh.

For catarrh of the outside skin, eczema, for catarrh of the mucous membrane of the nose, nasal catarrh, necessitating blowing, hawking and spitting; for catarrh in the lining of the eustachian tubes, causing deafness and "head noises;" for catarrh of the wind pipes leading to the lungs, bronchitis, giving rise to chronic coughs; for catarrh of the pelvic mucous surfaces, called leucorrhea and female weakness; for all kinds of catarrh, lurking in any nook or corner of the system or manifesting itself in any tissue, organ or structure, there is no known remedy that equals Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. An internal remedy, operating through the blood, they search out and cure catarrh in any part or tissue of the body, and cure catarrh just as readily in one form as another, therefore they are as applicable and serviceable for eczema and leucorrhea as for bronchitis or for nasal catarrh.

The Rev. L. E. Palmer, Baptist clergyman, of Ceresco, Mich., makes a statement of interest to all catarrh and grip sufferers. He says; "Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have certainly been a blessing to me. I have used them freely this fall and winter, and have found them a safeguard against Lagrippe and catarrhal troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I feel that I can freely and conscientiously recommend them."

Dr. J. J. Reitiger, of Covington, Ky., says, "I suffered from catarrh in my head and throat every fall, with stoppage of the nose and irritation in the throat, affecting my voice and often extending to the stomach, causing catarrh of the stomach. I bought a fifty cent package of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at my druggists, carried them in my pocket and used them faithfully, and the way in which they cleared my head and throat was certainly remarkable. I had no catarrh last winter and spring and consider myself entirely free from any catarrhal trouble."

Being in tablet form they are convenient to carry, and take; being sold at all drug stores for 50c a box, they are easy to procure and inexpensive; being a systemtic remedy, they are equally good for all catarrhs; being of established merit, they are reliable and satisfactory. Use them and you will become their advocate and friend.

Which Book Shall I Send?

Please tell me which book I may send to you, or to some sick friend. A postal will bring it. Let me tell you a way that I have found to get well.

I have spent a lifetime on it. I have watched it cure in thousands of cases an difficult as physicians ever met. I have proved its power; and I will guarantee that it cures you. I will pay for your treatment if I fail.

Write the book I send you an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I will authorize him to let you test it one month. If it succeeds, you may pay him $5.50. If it fails, I will pay him myself.

Don't question my word, for I do just what I say. Such an offer is possible because the remedy is almost certain. I have furnished the treatment to over half a million people, in just that way, and 39 out of 40 have paid for it, because they were cured. Where it fails it is free.

My success is due to learning how to strengthen the inside nerves. I bring back into nerve power which alone makes each vital organ perform its functions. I overcome weakness anywhere by restoring the power to act. There is no other way. Where I fail there is some organic disease like a cancer, for which no man knows no cure.

This offer shows my confidence. I know the remedy and you may not. Let me take the risk. Ask for the book that will point out the way to get well. Be fair with yourself and write to-day.

Simply state which book you want and address Dr. Shoop, Box 67, Racine, Wis.

Book No. 1 on Dyspepsia.
Book No. 2 on the Heart.
Book No. 3 on the Kidneys
Book No. 4 for Women.
Book No. 5 for Men (sealed
Book No. 6 on Rheumatism

Mild Cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

TRADE WITHIN THE EMPIRE.

An Important Movement Will Be Discussed by Premiers.

London, Feb. 18.—The Mail's Sydney correspondent wires: I understand that at the coming meeting of premiers in London on the occasion of the King's coronation the question of reciprocal trade within the empire is likely to be considered.

An arrangement will be discussed between Mr. Barton, the Federal Premier, and the Canadians, whereby goods from British ships will be allowed a rebate of customs in each country.

There is a possibility of the extension of the arrangement throughout the empire.

It is maintained that such a step is quite feasible without the violation of the most favored nation clause.

On behalf of New Zealand, Mr. R. J. Seddon, the Premier, approves the idea.

Why Remain Unsightly and Disfigured?

Paine's Celery Compound

Will Remove Every Trace of Poison From the Blood and Give You a Perfect and Healthy Circulation.

Are you troubled with eczema, salt rheum, eruptions, boils or running sores? The troubles mentioned are common, and arise from a debility of the nervous system which leaves the excretory organs so weak that they cannot remove the waste matter, and the noxious particles remain in the system carrying disease, instead of health to every tissue of the body.

For the various unsightly and horrible blood and skin diseases, Paine's Celery Compound is the medicine recommended and indorsed by our ablest medical practitioners. Its vitalizing, purifying effect upon the blood is unequalled by any other medicine.

Mr. D. McMahon, Peterborough, Ont., writes about his wonderful cure as follows: "I have great pleasure in testifying to the fact that Paine's Celery Compound has caused a remarkable change in my condition. I was troubled with a very bad type of eczema on my face and in patches over my body for four years. I was under treatment of three doctors at different periods, and have also tried many remedies, but all proved useless. At last I bought a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and put in Iodide of Potassium as recommended on the label. The one bottle did me so much good that I bought five bottles more, and now am happy to say that I am perfectly cured and completely free from the troublesome disease."

Rising Told in Advance.

London, Feb 18.—In a cable despatch from Constantinople the correspondent of The Daily Chronicle declares that the Bulgarians are planning a rising in Macedonia during the coming spring, and that they are endeavoring to persuade the Greeks to join them.

Cramps are Like Burglars.

Nerviline's anodyne power is unique, for its composition expresses the highest medical programs of the age. Polson's Nerviline is a true comfort in the family for in all derangements of the stomach and bowels it is an absolute specific. Nerviline has five times greater medicinal value than any other remedy and is sold in large 25 cent bottles. Try it.

Terrible Details of the Earthquake at Shamaka Now at Hand.

Baku, Transcaucasia, Feb. 18.—Details which are slowly reaching Baku from Shamaka, about 70 miles from here, show that 2,000 persons, mostly women and children, perished as a result of the earthquake last week, and about 4,000 houses were destroyed. Thirty-four villages of the country surrounding Shamaka also suffered.

To add to the terrors of the neighborhood, a volcano near the Village of Marasy, to the eastward of Shamaka, has broken out into active eruption. A great crevice has appeared, whence immense flames and streams of lava are being thrown out.

Battalions of guards and detachments of sappers, with tents, have been despatched to Shamaka to aid in the work of rescue. The Red Cross Society is active in alleviating distress.

The Brand of Food That Dealers Sell Most of is the Kind for You to Use.

Careful investigation has disclosed the fact that some of our largest retail grocers keep in stock no less than twenty different brands of breakfast cereals. These grocers, catering to the whims and fancies of of a varied trade, acknowledge that only four of the twenty brands are good sellers, and that Malt Breakfast Food is the great leader with all classes of the people.

The high position attained by Malt Breakfast Food in this country has been acquired in less than eighteen months. This proves most conclusively that as a breakfast dish, Malt Breakfast Food is giving entire satisfaction to old and young. The large number of letters of approval that the manufacturers receive monthly from every section of the Dominion and Newfoundland telling of improved digestive vigour, stronger nerves, increase in weight and improvement in health, point to the fact that Malt Breakfast is a true health food. One trial makes it the favourite breakfast dish. Ask your grocer for it.

FELL EIGHTY FEET.

Fred. Perrin, a Bricklayer's Assistant, Met Death at Peterboro.

Peterboro, Feb. 18.—Fred Perrin, aged 25 years, son of Mr. Samuel Perrin, a South Monaghan Township farmer, was killed while engaged at work on the new buildings of the American Cereal Company here, yesterday. Perrin was employed as a helper to the brick layers on the fifth storey. He was supposed to remove the wheelbarrow of brick from the hoist each time, as it arrived at the fifth floor. While thus engaged the hoist descended too quickly and Perrin fell to the first floor, about 80 feet below. He was removed to the Nicholls' Hospital, where he died about three hours later.

Paine's Celery Compound.

This medicine is giving marvellous results to sick people all over Canada. The wonderful cures affected by Paine's Celery Compound during the past year speaks volumes in favour of the popular medicine. Thousands who have suffered from rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous troubles and dyspepsia now sing the praises of the medicine that has given them such happy results. A Queer Marriage Custom.

In the Loo Choo islands there are some curious marriage customs. One consists in the bridegroom going round to all his friends' houses and permitting them to dress him up in any ridiculous style that they fancy. Sometimes the happy man is arrayed in a gayly painted kimono, the sleeves of which are tied up with a string laden with bells, toys and trumpets. A mask is then put on and a red hat, the "rig out" being completed by an empty kerosene tin, which rattles noisily along as he walks, accompanied generally by a crowd of children.

HOME NOTES.

Try adding a tablespoonful of kerosene to a pail of clear hot water to wash the windows.

One or two good sized mirrors in brass or gilt frames will do much to lighten a dark hall or room.

To clean cut glass wash articles, let them dry afterward, rub them with prepared chalk and a soft brush, carefully going into all the cavities.

To make a mahogany table shine like a mirror dip a woolen cloth into a tablespoonful of vinegar mixed with three of pure linseed oil and rub vigorously.

Lemon peel (and also orange) should be all saved and dried. It is a capital substitute for kindling wood. A handful will revive a dying fire and at the same time delicately perfume a room.

To renovate black satin ribbon heat some ale, and in it steep the ribbon for some time. After rinsing the ribbon iron it while wet between two cloths, and it will be stiff and glossy like new.

In sponging out bureau drawers and those of sideboards use tepid water containing a 1 per cent solution of carbolic acid, or, if preferred, use a small quantity of thymene in the tepid water instead of the acid.

Consistency.

They had been married but two months. He came home one evening to find his wife in tears. She had found an old scrapbook of his in which were pasted some poems he had written to some one else and published in the college papers. "I thought," she said, "you had never loved any one but me." And he promptly reassured her that she had thought truly, and burned up his old scrapbook in the furnace in the basement.

And the next day he found that she had distributed on the mantel and the dresser not less than five photographs of as many former beaux of hers and invited two of them who were in town to dinner the next Sunday.

Calling Up Fish.

The other day several New York brokers received telephone orders to buy a certain stock and notify Mr. Fish at a given telephone number. Calling up that number, the response was invariably, "Which one is wanted?" Then followed this conversation:

"How many of them are there?"

"Several hundred, large and small."

"I want the head of the firm."

"Oh, then, you want Colonel Jones."

"Colonel Jones? No, I want Mr. Fish. Who in thunder are you?"

"The Aquarium!"

The New Remedy FOR Kidney Troubles.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are prepared from the prescription of Dr. Zina Pitcher (formerly Professor of Materia Medica and Genito-Urinary Diseases, Michigan College of Medicine, Detroit, Mich., U. S.A.) which he used with wonderful success for over twelve years in private practice and in the Western Hospital, Detroit.

These Tablets are therefore a thoroughly tried and tested remedy of a famous kidney specialist, who has devoted his life to the study of diseases of the kidneys, bladder and urinary organs. They contain specific ingredients not found in any other kidney remedy, and it is not surprising, therefore, that they make cures in very many cases where other remedies had proved altogether ineffectual.

Dr. Pitcher does not claim that his Backache Kidney Tablets will cure everything. They are designed for diseases and disorders of the kidneys, bladder and urinary organs, and symptoms traceable to derangement of these organs, such as:

Backache, Lame or Weak Back, Pain in the Back or between the Shoulders, Swelling of the Feet and Legs, Bloating, Puffiness under the Eyes, Puffy and Pasty Appearance of the Face, Dropsy, Bright's Disease and Diabetes (except in the last stages), Gravel, Stone in the Bladder, Brick Dust Deposits in the Urine, Scalding or Irritation of the Urine, Frequent Calls during the Day or Night, Inflammation of the Bladder or Cystitis, Catarrh of the Bladder, Milky Color of the Urine, High Colored or Foul Smelling Urine, Sudden Stoppage of the Flow of Urine, Scanty Flow of Urine, Dribbling, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pains in the Joints or Hips, Uric Acid in the Blood, Heavy Feeling or Pain in the Head, Impure Blood, Drowsiness, Rapid Loss of Flesh, Great Thirst, Excessive Quantity of Urine, Specks floating before the Eyes, Bad Taste in the Mouth (especially in the mornings), Constipation, Torpid Liver, Dragging Pain in the Loins, Sense of Weight or Pressure in the Region of the Bladder, Kidney Troubles of Old People, Bedwetting of Children, Kidney Troubles of Women, and all symptomatic indications of Kidney Derangement.

In these days of much advertised "cure-alls," it is well that the public should use care and caution in the purchase of remedies. It stands to reason that a remedy that confines itself to a particular range of diseases is more potent for those special diseases than a medicine that claims to cure everything. When your back bothers you or your kidneys are out of order take Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, a specific remedy for these complaints.

MADE THEM WONDER.

Prof. Theo. Pull Drove up George Street Blindfolded at Noon To-day.

Prof. Theo. Pull, the well known hypnotist who is billed to appear for one week in the local opera house, performed a wonderful piece of work at noon to-day. The streets of the town were crowded in order that the people might see for themselves the marvellous feats performed by Prof. Pull. When he had completed his undertaking the people stood amazed and began to believe no doubt more than ever in the theory and practicality of hypnotism.

It was just about ten minutes past twelve o'clock when a committee consisting of Mr. Jas. MacPherson, W. H. Armstrong, W. Dale Cahill, Dickson Davidson, John Harvey and a representative each from the Review and the Examiner, took their position in one of Leary's handsome sleighs and started on their mission. They had with them an envelope addressed to Mr. R. Fair, town, which they purposed taking to the post office. The route they took was by way of George, Simcoe, Aylmer, Hunter, George, Brock, Water streets, around onto Hunter street. They alighted from the sleigh, placed the letter in Drawer "A" (Review Office) and then hid the key, in the stamp vendor's wicket. The committee then returned to the opera house by another route, where the hypnotist had in the meantime remained. He was blind folded but walked straightway to the sleigh down stairs, took the lines in his hands and after the members of the committee had taken their places in the conveyance, Prof. Pull drove up George street at a lively pace, turned all the corners that the committee had turned, travelled all the streets the committee had travelled a short while before, and arrived at the post office, amid the curiosity of hundreds. He alighted from the sleigh made his way through the multitude to the stamp vendor's wicket, found the key of Drawer "A", opened the drawer, took therefrom the envelope addressed to Mr. R. Fair, town, and proceeded to the sleigh. After the committee had once more taken their places the Professor drove over the same route the committee had driven over on their return. He stopped in front of the Golden Lion, once more alighted and delivered the letter to Mr. Fair inside the store. He then drove back to the opera house amid the cheering of hundreds. Prof. Pull is a wonder. He will appear in the opera house to-night.

IN LATEST SPORTING CIRCLES.

When Will Hamilton Play in Peterborough?

The Date is Yet Unsettled—The Trent Valley Hockey League.

HOCKEY.

There is still some doubt as to the exact night this week on which the Hamilton team will visit Peterborough. Hamilton is willing to play the game on Thursday night, but the locals are anxious that the event should be further postponed until Friday night. There is no definite word as to this but it is almost certain that the two teams will come together on Friday evening.

THE TRENT VALLEY.

The Trent Valley League series is drawing to a close, the teams that are now left in the running being Norwood and Fenelon Falls, the two aggregations that battled for supremacy last season, Fenelon finally winning out. The Norwood and Fenelon Falls teams will come together in their first home and home games on Friday night in the Cataract Town. The Fenelon team is sure of winning out again and they are certainly the favourites. They have been keeping in excellent condition and have been playing Midland and other O.H.A. teams. Now they are coming up against Lindsay, the team that defeated Peterborough at the first of the season. Concerning the game the Post says:—"The great event of the season will come off to-morrow night, when it is expected that one of the fastest games ever played on Lindsay ice will take place. Fenelon Falls have been practising hard, and the locals have been doing likewise. Citizens of Lindsay, come out to-morrow night and cheer your team to victory."

THE LADIES PLAYED.

The Kingston young ladies and the Belleville young ladies played a game of hockey on Saturday in the Quinte City and in reporting the same the Toronto Star makes the following comment:

"But the score is no indication of the merits of the two teams. The Kingston maidens, it must be admitted, were good skaters and stick handlers, but when their ages and weight are taken into consideration, it is no wonder they won the game. The Kingston team were composed of women. Some of them were old enough to be the mothers of some of the Belleville girls, but then they cannot help getting old.

Shortly after half-time Miss Marjorie Hamilton, who had been playing the star game for the Scorchers, became exhausted, and had to be assisted to the dressing room. She was unable to play again, and Miss Carrie Watson, of the visitors, was taken off to even up."

THEY ARE RINGERS.

There is not the slightest doubt but that the Port Perry team that figured in the tournament at Markham, was bolstered up by three or four Lindsay players, as the following item from the Lindsay Post will show:

"Messrs. Parkin, Callaghan and C. Dennistoun returned Saturday from the Markham tournament. The boys report a pleasant week's outing, but say the Markham-Port Perry game was a record breaker and was bitterly contested. During the progress of the game C. Dennistoun received a few ugly tosses, which shook him up considerably."

What sportsmanlike practice there is in a club ringing in players, as Port Perry has done, it is more than the Examiner can understand, and what is more, the Lindsay players who were willing to ring in on such an occasion as the Markham tournament should be ostracized from the athletic fraternity for a brief period at least as a penalty for such unsportsmanlike action.

RUGBY.

The banquet to the members of the Peterborough Rugby team, Intermediate Champions of Canada, will take place this evening in the Oriental Hotel. The chair will be occupied by his worship Mayor Benne and the affair promises to be one of the leading events of the season in local sporting fraternity. The jackknives which were presented to the team as souvenirs by the Canadian Union, the badges from the Ontario Union and the handsome little souvenirs the citizens of the town have purchased for the boys will all be formally presented to them. Representatives from the various sporting organizations of the town will be present and altogether the supper promises to be a highly successful event.

The photos of the Peterborough Rugby team for the season 1901 are now completed by Mr. Roy and they constitute an excellent piece of work.

LABOUR MEN'S TROUBLES.

About 35 Men Laid off on the Cereal Co's Elevator—The Cause.

There is some trouble existing at the present time between the labourers employed at the elevator building of the American Cereal Co. and Contractor James Bogue. It is said that the men who are members of the Federation of Labour, have been working 9 hours a day, i.e., from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Contractor Bogue it is understood desired the men to start work at 8 o'clock in the morning and continue until 6 in the afternoon, the reason for this being that it is colder from 7 a.m., until 8 a.m., than it is during the extra hour in the evening and therefore affords better opportunity of working with the mortar and cement.

The rules of the Union are that their hours shall be from 7 a.m. until 5 p.m., so that when Contractor Bogue notified the men of his desire that they should commence work at 8 o'clock and continue until 6, they refused to do so. As a result about 35 men it is reported, have been laid off, and the Labour Union have inserted notices in the local papers to labourers notifying them of the trouble.

PORT HOPE KNITTING WORKS

MR. DREDGE REMEMBERED

By His Fellow Employees Yesterday Afternoon—Presentation.

Mr. Walter Dredge, foreman of the press department of Mr. W. H. Robertson's printing establishment, was yesterday afternoon pleasantly surprised by his fellow employees. Mr. Dredge has quite recently embarked in matrimonial life and his fellow employees could not allow the occasion to go by without expressing to him their best wishes for a happy and prosperous future. Accordingly, he was called to attention during the afternoon and presented with a beautiful dinner set, accompanied by a suitably worded address

Mr. Dredge was very much taken by surprise, but thanked the staff most sincerely for their kindness.

THEY WERE "AT HOME."

The Epworth Leaguers of George Street Church Received Their Friends.

The Epworth League of George Street Methodist church were at home to their friends last night. The occasion was taken advantage of by a great many members of the congregation and an hour or so was most delightfully spent. The lecture room of the church was handsomely decorated for the reception there being in evidence an abundance of red, white and blue bunting which produced an exceedingly pretty effect. The guests upon their arrival were met by the reception committee, the members of which greeted them very heartily. An informal programme was run off consisting of vocal selections by Miss Clara Belleghem, and Master Mowat, a vocal quartette by Miss Metheral and Miss Hill and Messrs. Thewlis and Doidge, a reading by Miss Marks and short addresses by Rev. Mr. Wilson and Rev. Mr. Kilgour. Refreshments were served and altogether a delightful evening was enjoyed by the assemblage.

HOUSE OF REFUGE.

Police Magistrate Dumble Writes a Letter to the Mayor and Council.

The matter of the Poor House for the County of Peterborough is not a new issue, although the prospects for the establishing of such a Charitable Institution have not appeared any brighter of recent years than in time past. The need of such an Institution, however, is apparent, perhaps, to no person more than to the Police Magistrates who from time to time are compelled to sentence, as vagrants, unfortunate beings who by reason of their physical and mental infirmities are not able to provide for themselves. Police Magistrate Dumble has time and again expressed himself strongly on the need of such an institution and the following letter which he has sent to the Mayor and Town Council, will perhaps, convey to the reader to some degree at least the present deplorable state of affairs:

Peterborough, Feb. 17th, 1902.

To the Mayor and Council, Peterborough

Gentlemen,—I have been in the habit of sending to the County Gaol as vagrants persons who were without visible means of support, and who by reason of physical and mental disability were unable to support themselves. I have thus continued to send to the Gaol continually the same person at intervals of six months, which was the limit of my power, so that some men have been in the Gaol for over10 years, not as criminals in prison, but as infirm persons in an infirmary. Now, the prison was never intended for an infirmary, nor was it intended to impose on the jailer or matron of the Gaol duties which of necessity had to be performed in case of infirm persons. This morning I sent to the Gaol one Evans, who by reason of paralysis and other infirmities, is unable to help himself in any degree. This man was formerly in the Gaol for about a year and a half, and was taken out by a charitable person who thought to cure him of his ailments. That gentleman has left the country, and the man, having neither home or means of support, must either be left to perish or be cared for by some charitable institution. In the absence of such I was compelled to sent him to Gaol.

By amendment of the Criminal Code made in 1900, it is provided "that no aged or infirm person shall be committed as a loose, idle, or disorderly person or vagrant, for not having any visible means of maintaining himself, and who lives without employment in the County of which he has for two years immediately proceeding been a resident."

Under this law I am forbidden to send persons coming within its purview to the County Gaol, and hereafter will not do so. It will rest with the Town and County to make proper provision for such cases, as humanity will not suffer you to let them perish, and I am helpless to afford them the desired relief.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your Obedient Servant,

D. W. DUMBLE.

ARE CHAMPIONS OF EASTERN ONTARIO.

The Local Intermediates Won From the Cadets.

SCORE WAS FOUR TO TWO.

At Half Time Peterborough had Scored one to the Cadets nil—The Roughest of Games.

It is a good hockey team that can go into Kingston and win out a victory, but the Peterboroughs, without half trying, succeeded last night in not only defeating the Royal Military College team, but actually doubled the score against their opponents. It was the roughest, dirtiest match that any team representing the Peterborough Hockey Club ever played. The members of the Kingston team lost no chance of trying to put a Peterborough man out of business every time an opportunity afforded itself and by the appearance of the boys after the game the chances for dirty work must have been frequent and often. All of them are as sore as if they had passed through a thrashing machine and some of them are incapaciated entirely. The modus operandi of the Cadets was to slash straight for the ankle or wrist of a Peterborough man every time they got within striking distance of the player who was handling the puck and it didn't make a great deal of difference whether he had the puck or not, provided they thought the referee was not looking their way. In fact the style of play adopted by the R.M.C. men was of such a character as to prejudice even the Kingston people against them and before the match was ended all of the spectators were "rooting" for the Peterboroughs with the exception of the R.M.C. boys.

The game was only brilliant at intervals. In the first half the Cadets never seemed to get going and as the Peterboroughs were only desirous of keeping the score down they did not press matters in order to run as little risk as possible of receiving injuries such as might lay them up for a week or so. In the second half the Cadets seamed to waken up and ran through a couple of goals and from this out the game became interesting as the Peterboroughs let out a link or two and did some pretty work.

Towards the end the R.M.C. men died away and simply played a defence game, the only man who tried to do any scoring was Carr-Harris, who made a number of brilliant rushes from his position at point.

The Peterborough defence men played a wonderfully steady game. They did well in Peterborough against the Cadets, but displayed even more judgment in Kingston, as shown by the fact that on their own ice the Cadets were unable to score in the first half, and only tallied two in the last half. The forwards, of course, helped out the defence greatly by the extreme rapidity with which they wheeled and came back to check a rush of their opponents. As the Peterborough rush line expected to play another game this week, and possibly two of them, they held themselves back considerably, particularly in the first half, but occasionally they broke away and gave a pyrotechnical display, which dazzled the spectators.

The referee, Mr. Sadler, of Osgoode Hall, was evidently too inexperienced a man to deal with a game of such importance. He could not skate fast enough to watch the play and was hardly ever close enough up to detect any of the dirty work, unless it was very open. Of course some eight or ten of the Cadets graced the fence on different occasions, but a penalty of being ruled off for a minute or two was too light for the offences which were committed.

The teams were composed as follows:

Royal Military College—Goal, Deyell; point, Carr-Harris; cover point, Ramsay; forwards, Riggs, Trotter, Walden and Dunlop.

Peterborough — Goal, Wasson; point, Glover; cover point, Harold Armstrong; forwards, Morgan, Whitcroft, Graham and Roy Armstrong.

Umpire, W. Bunton.

Timekeeper, James McCabe.

The ice was in fine condition when the match started at a quarter to nine o'clock, and Whitcroft and Roy Armstrong got well away with the puck from the face-off and a tally looked imminent, but they were called back for offside play. Then the Cadets took a hand in the game but Glover relieved. Whitcroft and Morgan and then Armstrong and Whitcroft tried ineffective rushes and then there was a lot of individual play seen as the result of which the Peterboroughs got manys the tumble on the ice. Wasson was hard pressed once or twice and had to block a couple of swift ones. The game seemed greatly in favour of the Peterboroughs. Whenever the boys got within shooting distance they seemed to find it impossible to locate the nets. Graham finally got through along the side and passed to Morgan, who in turn passed to Whitcroft, the latter scoring. Time 9 minutes.

Wasson made a very sensational play in the next game. Carr-Harris in making one of his grand-stand rushes had been able to get through the whole crowd and skated in on the goal with a clear field ahead of him. Wasson went out to meet him with the result that Carr-Harris lost the puck.

No more scoring was done in the first half.

In the second half Harold Armstong made a very fine rush and got almostwithing shooting distance. He was blocked by Carr-Harris who made a counter rush. Morgan made a quick run and close shot as did Whitcroft from a pass by Graham. Then Carr-Harris made another dash. He was tackled by Glover and lost the puck but carried along in his feet until he got a chance to shoot. As a foul had been committed Wasson did not anticipate a shot thinking the referee would call the player back, but the official let the offence pass and Carr-Harris scored. It was only a minute later that Trotter came up the ice and scored again by a pretty shot from the side. Wasson got it with his hand, but it was too swift to hold and dropped into the net. This made the score 2—1 in favour of the Cadets and had the effect of making the Peterborough boys get down to business. All of the forward line took turns in going down the ice in pairs, but it seemed impossible to get a line on the nets. Glover tried a rush, and Graham almost tallied on the pass. Then Whitcroft put in a close one on a pass from Harold Armstrong. The shots were now coming in on Deyell so fast as to bewilder him, and Graham finally got one through him on a pass from Armstrong, who made the rush.

Whitcroft and Roy Armstrong then made several fast runs, and in two minutes Harold Armstrong scored on a pass from Graham.

Roly Glover opened proceedings in the next game by relieving his goal by a great rush up the ice a la "Monty" Montgomery. His shot on the net was a close one. Just a moment later he started another rush and passed to Whitcroft, who after some dodging saw an opening for Graham and passed to him. Chris scored. This ended the scoring and the match ended by some very fast rushes by Roy Armstrong and Whitcroft.

NOTES.

It is said that a Kingston confidence man buncoed Billy Breen out of his coat. Another story is that he had even his clothes up on the match, and lost the coat in the deal. He came home without it anyway, and it is a dangerous topic to introduce when Billy is around.

It will be a wonder if the boys can get into good shape again in time for the Hamilton match.

Mr. James McIntyre, formerly of the Oriental, is now at the British American in Kingston, and gave the Peterboroughs a most kindly welcome.

Messrs. Potter, Crowe and Borland —old Peterborough boys — were on hand to welcome the team when it arrived in Kingston.

Peterborough won the round by 17 goals to 2.

REV. FATHER SWEENEY

Was Suitably Remembered by His People on Sunday Last.

Rev. Father J. Sweency, who for the past eight years or more, has been Parish Priest at Victoria Road, was handsomely remembered by his parishioners ere he took his departure to assume his new duties in Peterborough. On Sunday last Rev. Father Sweeney was presented with an address and a well filled purse as an evidence of the esteem in which he was held by his people. The day was fine, the roads not "too bad" and the church was crowded to the doors with the residents of the neighbourhood, irrespective of denomination. Rev. Father Sweeney made a happy and feeling reply.

Railroad Men's Backache.

Men who work on the railroad whether in the capacity of engineers, firemen, machinists or trackmen, find that the heavy work they do and the exposure to change of weather and temperature very hard on their back and kidneys.

There are few railroadmen who do not complain of kidney trouble in some form.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets have proved themselves the greatest benefactors of all classes of railroad men. They give ease to the aching, sore back, clear up the urine, relieve the scalding and burning, and impart new life and vitality to the urinary organs.

PLASTERS NO GOOD.

Mrs. Mary Wilson, living on Albert Street, Sarnia, Ont., has confidence in Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. Her son George, employed as a machinist on the Grand Trunk R.R., has been cured of lumbago by using them. Mrs. Wilson said: "Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets that I brought my son from Geary's drug store has cured him of that constant pain and lameness in the back that caused him the greatest misery. He had tried plasters and other remedies, but nothing gave him the permanent relief obtained from these Tablets. The whole difficulty has quite disappeared and with it the accompanying weariness and lack of energy. He has no headaches nor kidney trouble, but is enjoying perfect health. I can honestly recommend these Tablets to anyone having any trouble with their backs."

A FATAL MEAL.

The Untimely Ending of a Crow Who Swallowed a Centiped.

"Saw a curious thing in California last winter," said the man who travels about. "I had stopped for a moment to chat with a man who was plowing, when he called my attention to a large centiped that he had just plowed up.

"'Come along with me a few feet,' said he, 'and let's see what those crows will do when they find it.'

"There were several large carrion crows that had been following the farmer and picking up the insects that were turned up, and they were now a few feet away, waiting for the plow to start again.

"We went on a few feet, and the crows followed. One big, black fellow soon saw the centiped and swallowed him at one gulp. Then, in the expressive slang of the day, there was something doing in the neighborhood of that crow. With a caw of despair he mounted into the air for perhaps a hundred feet, then fell heels over head till he was a few feet from the ground. Then he managed to catch himself and flew upward again and away for the hills, cawing wildly. He had not gone more than 300 feet when he lost all control of himself and fell like a shot to the ground. We went over to where he had fallen and found him on his back with his feet in the air, stone dead.

"In a way I know how that crow felt when he awoke to the situation. I hadn't forgotten my first spoonful of tabasco sauce that a joking friend once talked me into swallowing."

Preparing Dates.

The preparation of dried dates is carried on largely at Awabi, and as the season had now commenced I took the opportunity to observe the process and was taken round the factories by the sheik. The dates selected are picked before they are quite ripe. The factory had a chimney about fifteen feet high and contained several open, circular, copper boilers, capable of holding five gallons each and nearly full of water. Into these vessels the dates are put and allowed to simmer over a slow fire. As the water in the copper decreased from evaporation it was filled up again, but it gradually became inspissated by the extraction of the juice of the date. The fruit is left in the water about half an hour and is then taken out and spread on mats or cloths in the sun to dry, after which it becomes hard and of a pale red color. It is exported in large quantities from Muskat to India.

A Survival of the Primitive.

A Philadelphia philosopher thus explains the general preference for a wall table in a restaurant: "Primitive man ate in peril. The cave bear, the saber tooth tiger, even some warrior of his own kind, was apt at any moment to leap upon him and to devour his food and perhaps himself. Therefore he took his meals with his back against a cliff or in the corner of two adjoining cliffs, if possible, and with the open country before him. That, you see, was the safest way for him to eat. He could not then be surprised.

"And we still have in us that memory of the primitive man, and we still unconsciously, when we sit down to our repasts, choose places that give us a wall for our protection. That and not a desire to see things is what causes us to pick out walls and corners. You can see as well from the middle of a room or from any other place, you know."

A Great Increasing Army.

Composed of men and women that spend heart and soul in the vain effort to overcome a lack of vigour in the body. It invigorates, strengthens, possesses magical health giving powers. Get Ferrozone today and make yourself strong and well.

Heavenly.

"Say," the girl's father called from above stairs, "this is an unearthly hour for that young man to be here, Mary!"

"You're right," responded the young man, who had just been accepted; "the hour is unearthly, sure enough; it's simply heavenly!"—Philadelphia Record

"HELPLESS WITH RHEUMATISM"

South American Rheumatic Cure, Mr. Barker says, worked a miracle in his case, and he expresses his gratitude in no uncertain sound.

Mr. S. Barker, of 9 Suffolk Place, Toronto, writes:—"It is only fair to my suffering neighbors to publicly express my great gratitude for the almost miraculous cure from Rheumatism effected in me by the use of South American Rheumatic Cure. For three months I was next door to helplessness, and my sufferings were intense, but two bottles of this great remedy cured me. It relieves in six hours. 50

SMOTHER A COUGH.

You can smother a cough with your hand but you can't cure it that way. Some medicines only smother coughs.

Scott's Emulsion cures them. Old coughs and deep-rooted coughs can't be cured until the inflammation which causes them has been replaced by healthy tissue.

That is exactly the kind of thorough work Scott's Emulsion does. It changes the entire nature of the throat and lungs so that there is nothing to cough about.

LIVING IN LONDON.

It Is Not a Good Place For a Man of Small Income.

An American who in the classical language of his country is at present "located" in London wants to know whether any city in the world is quite so niggardly as our town. He has been going the round of the London restaurants and has encountered in the management of them a spirit which distresses him. "There is, to begin with," he says, "a charge of from twopence to sixpence for guarding your hat and coat in the cloakroom, and a tip in addition is expected. You want to wash your hands—another twopence or another sixpence and another tip. You take up the menu, and, behold, there is an intimation that a charge of threepence each person will be made under the guise of 'table money.' The charge varies according to the nature of the place. Threepence is the lowest and sixpence perhaps the average. At a great many restaurants it is 1 shilling and in at least two that I have visited 1s. 6d. The only difference is that in the lower priced restaurants it is called 'table money' and in the higher priced ones placed under the captivating heading of 'couvert.' To my mind, an entrance fee frankly demanded at the door would be much less offensive than to find yourself asked at the end of a dinner to pay for the trouble and expense of cleaning up the cutlery you have used."

His conclusion of the whole matter is that "London lives by imposing a fixed tariff on the accessories that in every other city I have ever been to are thrown in gratis," and he thinks that being a gentleman is one of the most expensive professions an Englishman can have. He declares it to be an utter delusion that London is a cheap place to live in. "For the poor man," he says, "the man whose income is less than £800 a year, there is no city where less can be had in the way of comforts and even the necessities of life. In New York it is only the luxuries that cost. The expenses of everyday living may be as great or as small as one cares to make them. New York, in fact, is laid out for the poor man. From the transportation system to the price of such fundamental charges on the household treasury as coal, ice, fuel, meat, bread, milk and fruit, almost everything conspires to bring him in a good return for a very small outlay. All these things are cheaper in New York than in London."—London Chronicle.

Houses and Superstitions.

"Real estate men are gradually forgetting most of the old time superstitions which used to cause us much trouble," said a dealer the other day. "The number of houses which cannot be rented or sold on account of being haunted or because some terrible crime was committed on the premises is rapidly decreasing. We run across only a few people who balk at living in house No. 13. Even elderly men who have made big fortunes are beginning to believe that there is nothing in the old saying that the aged rich man builds a mansion to die in."

GET COMFORT.

There is little comfort in life when a person is afflicted with pain. Donald Babcock, farmer, Harrowsmith, Ont., was a sufferer from rheumatism for years. When advised to take Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure he did so, and two bottles of this wonderful preparation, with two boxes of Climax Iron Tonic Pills, completely cured him. He has not had a twinge of pain since, and attends to his duties regularly. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

Select.

Once when passing through a cemetery in Lenox Eliot Gregory was surprised to see that the members of one old New England family had been buried in a circle, with their feet toward its center. He asked the reason for this arrangement, and a wit of that day, daughter of Mrs. Stowe, replied, "So that when they rise at the last day only members of their own family may face them!"

Twenty Years of Bronchitis.

Captain Dunlop, of Kingston, commander of the steamer "Bohemian," of the R. & O. Fleet, suffered unceasingly for twenty years, and although he took treatment all that time permanent relief was not obtained until he took Catarrhozone, which cured him quickly and permanently. The Captain says that Catarrhozone is the best cure for bronchitis on the face of the earth, pleasant to use, quick to relieve and sure to cure." Catarrhozone is a wonderful treatment for all diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes. Two months' treatment price $1; small size, 25 cents. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE RIGHT TO VOTE.

In England It Is Withheld From Many Full Fledged Citizens.

There are many full fledged English citizens who are disqualified from membership in parliament and from taking any part in parliamentary elections. Thus all peers of the realm, except those Irish peers who do not happen to have been elected for life to represent their order in the house of lords, are barred from the exercise of franchise. So, too, are police officials, high and low. They neither have a vote nor are they eligible.

Ineligibility to parliament extends to the Anglican clergy, to Scottish Presbyterian ministers and to the Roman Catholic priesthood. Undischarged bankrupts and those convicted of felony and who have not completed their sentences and are merely freed on tickets of leave are likewise disqualified from election to parliament. So, too, are young men under the age of twenty-one and persons who, having been judicially declared insane, have not been legally restored to their civic rights and privileges.

Insanity, however, does not constitute any disqualification in the case of the upper house of parliament. Lunatics are permitted to take part in the divisions in the gilded chamber, and at the time when the Irish home rule bill, enacted by the house of commons, was defeated by the house of lords no less than three crazy peers were brought down to Westminster by their keepers from the insane asylums in which they were held under restraint and voted as hereditary legislators against home rule being granted to Erin.

The Kidneys and Uric Acid.

Uric acid is the name given by medical men for the poisonous matter which the kidneys filter from the blood. When the kidneys are weak, inactive or diseased they fail to perform their functions as filters, and the uric acid poison remains in the blood to find lodgment in the weaker organs, and produce the most painful and fatal results.

The symptoms of kidney disease, such as backache, frequent and painful urination, deposits in the urine, pains in the sides and limbs, and headaches, are so familiar that it seems unnecessary for anyone to be ignorant of the approach of this dreaded malady. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are ever at hand as a thoroughly effective remedy, as they are for sale by nearly every dealer who pretends to keep any family medicines.

Not only the kidneys themselves become diseased, but the uric acid forms crystals in the joints and muscles, causing the most extreme pain, and what is known as rheumatism, a disease which can never be cured until the kidneys are made healthful and vigourous.

Another form of kidney disease is dropsy and heart failure. In such cases the uric acid turns the blood to water, and causes dropsical swellings, which, when in the region of the heart, produce heart failure.

In view of the frightful risks which you run in neglecting kidney derangements, and the undoubted efficiency of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a cure for weak, inactive, diseased kidneys, it remains as a duty for you to apply the remedy and be cured. You can be certain of beneficial results, for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have stood the test of time, and proven their right to first place as a kidney medicine.

In every town, village and township of Canada there are people who can testify to the extraordinary merits of this great remedy. Ask your friends and neighbours about it, or, better still, try it for yourself, and join the ranks of Dr. Chase's admirers. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto. 2

Something New in Mechanics.

Great is the humor of woman when she doesn't mean it, great is the nerve of woman when she doesn't need it, and great are the nerves of woman when it so pleases her. This combination is blamable for the following: A very pretty girl sat in a Long Island railroad train. Suddenly the whistle blew. It is perhaps not necessary to say that a Long Island railroad whistle is more efficacious than otherwise. It is tuned to the key of W and is operated with a great diapason, giving out a brand of yelping shriek different from anything known to nature. To repeat, the whistle whistled. "O-o-ow!" cried the pretty girl. "Isn't that awful? I should think the railroad company would have these things oiled. It is an outrage." Her companion had often heard of wetting whistles, but never before of oiling them. Think it over.

I have not suffered since taking them, and now sleep well and feel strong and vigorous."

FOSSIL FLOUR.

A Novel Industry That Flourishes in Nova Scotia—A Good Case of All Round Tenacity.

Thirteen hundred and forty feet above the level of Cobequid Bay, N.S., resting almost on the mountain top, lies Bass River Lake, the source of the far-famed Bass River. Within the memory of man this lake, except for a short period, held water of a pellucid kind. In its depths the speckled trout sported, and here and there other denizens of the forest-fringed and shadow-darkened basins lived and multiplied. And herein was formed the material whence has sprung one of the most unique industries in the world.

Twenty years ago, through some unseen rift, the waters were lost, and for months the lake remained a bog. A curiously oozy liquid covered the ribs of its rocky bed. On this liquid the sun's rays had no perceptible effect. The bog never dried. It remained as moist at the end of the summer as when the waters first slipped into the crevasses of the mountain side. But when winter came and bound the reaches the lake again filled up, remaining thus until the hand of man tunnelled and ditched a channel whereby to drain its contents.

During the dry time of twenty years ago various examinations of the substance lying on the bottom of the lake were made by persons drawn thither by the phenomena. Various samples of the curious white deposit were removed from the lake and sent for analysis to different parts, but the earliest attempt to make use of the silicious deposit was made in 1892, when a small building was erected and quantities of the stuff mined. This was turned into pots or boilers for the purpose of removing impurities and the moisture. Brisk fires were built under the boilers. But here again was demonstrated that which had been demonstrated almost twenty years before, when Old Sol tried his caloric rays without effect upon the intractable mass. It would not dry.

In 1898 another company erected a plant similar in most respects to an ordinary flour mill. Steam boilers and an engine for operating the machinery were added, also huge evaporating furnaces. Contracts were let for thousands of cords of wood; and a pole railway upon which ran an engine and cars was constructed from the lake building to the water's edge at the Bay.

Meantime trenches were being cut near the outlet of the lake at a point which would cause most of the water to run out and down the mountain. In this manner large parts of the lake were drained. The slime and black mud were next removed and then operations for the manufacture of the product were begun. Nearly the whole of the summer of 1895 was consumed in this work of preparation, and by the time the plant was good and ready winter was near, necessitating suspension till the following spring.

Special machinery was invented to assist in the drying process, and from that time forward the improvements have been continued until the present, with the result that this year 1,500 tons of the best grade goods of its class have been put upon the market.

At the lake men dig the putty-like clay and toss it into tram-cars which run from the pit to the mill. After reaching the mill huge cauldrons receive the stuff, and it is boiled. This boiling is done to eliminate part of the impurities. Then the mass is pressed into cakes to remove some of the water. These cakes are put away for a season, and when again brought out they are, so far as the novice may judge, good and dry. But herein lies the mistake, as well as the block over which all who have endeavored to manufacture the stuff have stumbled. Did they but turn one of these cakes into the rolls of the flour mill, the instant the wheels revolved there would appear a pasty mass covering and clogging everything it touched. Instead of being dry the stuff would show as wet almost as a rag after dish-washing. How, then, is it dried? Well, in the first place the cakes are broken up by means of a machine like a monstrous meat chopper, and before being further treated appear to be in a state much like culm coal, though entirely without dust. In this state it goes by means of feed belts to an inner chamber, whence it passed through some sort of thing or machine which effectually rids it of all the troublesome moisture as well as the balance of the impurities.

When the visitor next sees the stuff which he, at first glance, thought was dry, it is dry, and from this point very little trouble is encountered in the further process of manufacture. The dried material is then turned into the hoppers of the flour mill, and it is ground much the same as wheat; thence it goes into bags, each holding 100 pounds, ready to be conveyed to the wharf.

The fossil flour is used for various purposes, as in making rubber compounds, in producing ultramarine dyes, as covering for steam pipes, boilers, etc., to prevent heat radiation; it is made into silver polish of the finest quality; also polish for tinware and baser metals. New uses are being discovered continually for this remarkable flour, and it is rapidly superseding whiting and zinc. Ordinary elastic bands contain a filler of some kind or other. This filler is added for several reasons—to dry out the sticky quality of the gum from which the rubber is made, to toughen the stock, to increase its elasticity, to strengthen and increase the bulk. Whiting and zinc have usually been compounded with the caoutchouc gum for these and other reasons. Fossil flour used instead produces stronger and tougher stock, reduces the cost, and permits numberless departures in the manufacture of rubber goods. Both in strength, liveliness, and usefulness, it does not deteriorate the stock, but gives it uniformity and solidity.

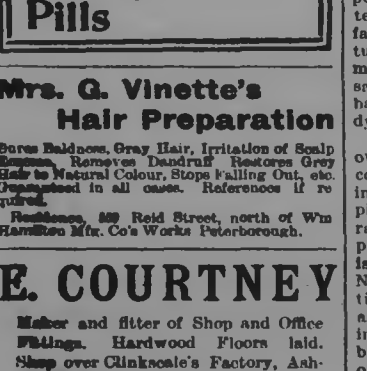
Drink Calcutt's MEDICINAL PORTER

The Creamy, Creamy Kind for Fall Wear. Hand and Heart Stamped Stamped by All—Never Excelled



"Gent—'Get on to my shape, my sober friend. Calcutt's Lifey Porter will put fat and bulk on your bones."

The Calcutt Brewing & Malting Co. LIMITED PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO.

A child three years of age died of drunkenness the other day in New York City. The parents said they had given the child whisky to strengthen him. In their absence he found a bottle of whisky and drank from it, until he fell over in a drunken stupor, from which the physician could not arouse him. That is only one case in several cases of baby drunkards recently noted. The important fact is that alcoholic stimulants quickly develop the [illegible] habit in children. The fact is just as true when the alcohol is disguised as a medicine, a "sarsaparilla" or other "compound." So many medicines contain alcohol, to the same extent that it is contained in beer or whisky, that parents should be cautious what medicines they give their children.

There is absolutely no alcohol, whisky or intoxicant in any form in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, neither does it contain opium or any other narcotic. It is a blood-making and body-building medicine. It does not make flabby flesh but good, firm flesh and muscle. It is pleasant to the taste.

"My four year old daughter had suffered from indigestion and bowel trouble from birth," writes Mrs. Lizzie Aten, of Baldmount, Lackawanna Co., Pa. "The treatment given her by home doctors afforded but temporary relief. Last February she was taken with severe pain in the bowels, followed by violent vomiting. She experienced difficulty in passing urine, which, when cool, deposited a milky sediment. I became alarmed from her symptoms and wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N. Y., receiving in reply a letter, advising the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, together with a special medicine which they sent. This line of treatment I followed for about two months, at the end of which time my child was enjoying good health, and she has had no severe attack of indigestion since."

Free. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to defray expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Burdock Blood Bitters.

CURES SCROFULA.

Mrs. James Carr, Umfraville, Hastings Co., Ont., says: "My little boy, two and a half years old, was in a terrible condition and suffered a great deal from scrofulous sores. My husband bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters for him and gave it to him, and by the time he had finished the second bottle there was not a sore to be seen. On account of this wonderful cure I can honestly recommend B.B.B. to all who suffer from any disease arising from bad blood.

CURES BOILS.

Mr. Oliver J. Murray, Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes as follows: "About six months ago I was troubled with painful boils, for which I could get nothing to cure me. As a last resort I tried Burdock Blood Bitters. One bottle completely rid me of boils, and my health was never better than at present.

Grippe Signs

WHAT ARE THEY?

Sneezing—running at the nose—pain in the head—pain in the back—chills and fever—and a general "ache-all-over" feeling.

What are the "Grippe" consequences? Catarrh—Bronchitis — Pneumonia—Consumption—Nervous Prostration.

UWANTA GRIPPE CAPSULE

treatment cures the Grippe and prevents its consequences.

"I am pleased to add my testimony to the curative powers of the Uwanta Capsule treatment for Grippe. I was attacked very suddenly and very violently with this malady about one year ago. I had found this treatment a certain remedy for colds and I applied it to the 'Grippe.' I got relief in almost quicker time than it takes to tell it—and it cured me." —R. SMART, Toronto.

DRESS ACCESSORIES.

Trifles Which Every Well Dressed Woman Should Possess.

Many are the dainty trifles which increase the beauty of a costume. Collars of pearls are still as stylish as ever, and a single string of them is worn looped over the top of the collar. Dog collars made of strands of the narrowest velvet ribbon are smart additions to a decollete gown. The ribbons are held together by jeweled slides to match the ribbon.

FRONT FOR VELVET COSTUME.

Huge jeweled flowers are taking the place of the omnipresent rosette. Wreaths of baby roses are worn by those who are still young, and they give a quaint look to a pretty face. Bunches of marabou feathers are smart for matrons. Draperies of jeweled tulle are held together by jeweled buttons and form smart evening sleeves on dinner and dancing frocks.

Smart sashes of Persian chiffon or panne have the ends embroidered with black lace butterflies, and the girdle proper is run through slides of jet.

Many fancy fronts are being worn with dressy tailor mades. One of the prettiest of these is shown in the illustration. It is made of pale blue chiffon over liberty satin. The square yoke is collarless, and from this three bands of guipure run the length of the waist. There is a yoke of tucks, and the fullness is held into a folded belt of pale blue velvet.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FRUITS AND FLOWERS.

Never allow blighted leaves or limbs to remain on fruit trees.

The gooseberry thrives best in a heavy, low but not wet soil.

Bulbs love a deeply worked light, rich soil, but they will grow and prosper in almost any good garden ground.

Plants cannot live indefinitely when deprived of their leaves; hence preventing their appearance above the surface is sure to kill them sooner or later.

Moss is the best of all materials for packing trees and plants, as it retains moisture for a long time and never heats. It should be used next to the roots at least.

Train the apple tree low in young orchards. This will save much vexation at fruit gathering time and will enable the trees to stand hard winds much better and give better satisfaction in every way

Common Sense In Law.

When we are told that every law must be enforced to the letter though the heavens fall, it has a brave sound, but a wise regard for the public good demands that the laws be so executed that the heavens may not fall. The maxim that "the extreme of the law may be the extreme of injustice"—"summum jus, summa injuria"—is of venerable age and has had the approval of the best jurisprudence as well as the best statesmanship of many centuries. It is not mere "sophistry"—as somewhat hastily, I suppose, it has been called—but it may well be quoted in support of the application of simple common sense to complicated and perplexing exigencies. I think there is not a government in the world, not even the most conscientious, that does not refrain from rigidly enforcing to the letter some laws standing on its statute books, either because they are antiquated or because such enforcement is practically impossible or, if beneficial, would result in evils greater than those which those laws are to prevent or repress.

Merrill Challenges the World.

Merrill, the druggist of Brantford, offers $1000 reward to anyone who will make a better cure for constipation than Merrill's System Tonic. This medicine is not simply a cathartic, but a positive and pleasant to take cure for habitual constipation. In this way it cures dyspepsia, impure blood and nervous trouble. 50 doses price 50 cents, at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

What He Came For.

A learned judge who was one of the guests at a dinner was unexpectedly called upon to reply to a toast. Recovering somewhat from his surprise, he said that his situation reminded him of the story of a man who fell into the water while he was fishing.

With no little difficulty he was rescued, and, after he had regained his breath and was in a fairly comfortable condition, his rescuer asked him how he came to fall into the water.

"I did not come to fall into the water," replied the unfortunate fisherman. "I came to fish."

Voices to Order.

A knowledge of the physiology of the human larynx has made it possible to supply artificial voices to persons who have been deprived of the one nature gave them, and a number of cases exist where the cavity has been opened and a larynx made of suitable material with rubber membranes has been inserted and become practically useful in speech.

ACTS AFFECTING THE TOWN

Also the Most Important of the Bylaws An Index of the Contents.

Several months ago Mr. W. H. Moore made a digest of the Acts which had been passed as effecting the town and also of the principal by-laws. Although the compendium was compiled for his own use, Mr. Moore was persuaded to allow the municipality to have the benefit of his work and a neat little volume has been issued which contains a multiplicity of facts concerning the town which are of the greatest interest. Only a few of the volumnes are bound in cloth, which seems unfortunate as the book is chiefly valuable as a work of reference and should be graced with a better cover to contents of such importance to the municipality.

GOLD IN YOUR GARRET.

In many thousands of garrets and attics women have gold stored away, and are not aware of it. It is not in coins, nuggets or bars that the gold is held, neither is it in bank notes or bonds; it is there in the form of cast off and faded clothing, garments and materials that can be turned into a gold value by the use of Diamond Dyes.

At a cost of ten cents you can re-colour a dress, skirt, jacket, cape, blouse or waist, and make them as good and stylish as new ones purchased in a store. With one or two packages of Diamond Dyes you can give new life and beauty to your husband's overcoat or suit thrown aside perhaps for the rag gatherer. Your cotton and wool rags re-dyed with Diamond Dyes will make up handsome mats or rugs that will add to the comfort of your home. All the work and transformations suggested will give you results that have a gold value.

FUTURE PROVISION.

There are two periods in a man's life, when in the natural course of things, he is unable to take care of himself—his childhood and his old age. During the whole of our lives we are consumers; during middle life only we are producers. It is therefore the aim of every man to put by enough during middle age, so that he will have an independent income for his old age. But, under ordinary circumstances this is often a hard thing to do. Men at that time of life generally find themselves with a family to provide for; perhaps their whole income is required to meet the household expenses, and it is impossible to find a remunerative investment for their small annual savings.

An Imperial endowment policy, as issued by the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, Toronto, is an ideal investment for a man in this position. Should he die at any time the insurance will provide for his family and leave them in an independent position. At the same time he is providing an income for his old age, which will enable him to end his days in comfort. With an "Imperial Endowment Policy" a man need have no fear for his own future, or the future of his wife and family.

LISGAR CARRIED BY THE LIBERALS.

Stewart has Large Majority Over Richardson.

WILL PROBABLY REACH 1,000.

The Voters of Lisgar Stood by the Government Nominee and Richardson Steps Down and Out.

Winnipeg, Feb. 18.—At a late hour to-night, with nine polling sub-divisions out of a total of 78, to hear form, it is apparent that the Government candidate, Stewart, will carry the riding of Lisgar by a handsome majority over both Toombs (Con.) and Richardson (Ind.). The returns so far show the state of the poll to be as follows:

Stewart 3,041
Richardson 2,052
Toombs 1,551

This gives Stewart a majority of 989 over Richardson and 1,690 over Toombs. As a great number of the polling sub-divisions are far removed from telegraph connection, the full returns will not be obtainable until some time to-morrow. The total Lisgar electoral vote is 8,646. The interest taken in the fight was of the keenest possible description, both in the constituency and in Winnipeg.

In the city to-night the greatest interest was manifested in the result, and until a late hour the streets, clubs, and hotels where the vote was bulletined were crowded with people.

Resignation of Dominion Steel Company Manager Points That Way.

Montreal, Feb. 18.—The retirement of Mr. A. J. Moxham as general manager of the Dominion Steel Company, is leading to considerable speculation in financial circles, and it is generally believed that it foreshadows important developments. In fact it is hinted that Mr. Moxham's retirement will be followed in the course of a few months by the retirement of Mr. H. M. Whitney, of Boston, from the presidency, the appointment of Mr. James Ross, the present managing director, and president of the Dominion Coal Company, as his successor, and the ultimate amalgamation of the Dominion Steel Company and the Dominion Coal Company. Mr. Christopher Shields, the present general manager of the Dominion Coal Company, will, it is expected, be manager of the united concern. The object of the Canadians who are largely interested in companies, such as Mr. James Ross, Sir Wm. Van Horne, R. B. Angus, Senator Cox, and Mr. Elias Rogers, of Toronto, is to have the companies under Canadian control.

THE COLPORTAGE MISSION.

The Indefatigable Missionary Mr. Geo. Buskin is in Town for a few Days.

George Buskin, of the Colportage Mission of Algoma and the Northwest, is making his annual visit to Peterborough on behalf of the work of disseminating through the districts Biblical literature, among the labourers, Indians and settlers. The work is the outcome of the missionary's previous evangelistic work, commencing in the Muskoka and Parry Sound District, from 1875 to 1878, and later in the Lake Huron and Lake Superior Districts. Since the commencement of the Colportage Mission in 1884, out of very limited means there have been supplied more than 31,000 copies of Biblical books, in 20 languages, which have been taken account of, and thousands more that have not been counted, besides tracts and magazines, and 52 various editions of books and tracts, etc., published by the mission in 5 languages, numbering about 320,000 copies. The work is for godliness and not for any denomination, being beneficial to all creeds and nationalities, and will be enlarged as means are forthcoming to do so. At present there are many liabilities to be met, and necessary improvements require to be made. The missionary gratefully acknowledges $35.10 contributed last year in Peterborough. The depot is at 202 King street, Toronto, Ont., and any remittance in its behalf will be thankfully received and duly acknowledged, and applied to the work.

AN ACCIDENT ON THE C. P. R.

A Snowplow and Engine Jumped the Track.

PASSENGERS WERE DELAYED.

Three Men Were Injured—One of Them in the Hospital—How it Occurred.

An accident occurred on the C. P. R. about four and a half miles west of Peterborough last night between 11 and 12 o'clock, and as a result the people of Peterborough are deprived of their Toronto mail, and a number of townspeople were forced to spend the night in Cavanville station, or on the passenger trains that were detained on the other side of the wreck.

A snowplough and engine, with a crew of eleven men, was sent out from Toronto yesterday evening, just ahead of the local. Considerable difficulty was experienced all along the line, but the climax was reached when about four and half miles west of the town the snowplough jumped the track, carrying with it a foreman and six men. The snowplough went to one side of the track, whilst the engine and tender shot to the other side, causing a considerable amount of damage to the rolling stock, and completely blocking the track.

Of the men who were in the caboose of the snowplough three were rather badly injured, and the entire crew of the plough and engine were badly shaken up.

Dr. Young, C. P. R. physician, was sent for, and was taken down on the sent for and was taken up on the examination of the injured men showed that John Morran had his jaw bone broken, the foreman, Patrick Cookley had his leg severely cut and bruised, and George Glenney was injured about the face and ribs. Morran was brought to Peterborough, and is now in the Nicholls Hospital.

The local proceeded as far as Cavanville, and the station agent at that point not having received any word of the snowplough having reached Peterborough, proceeded no farther at the time. Later on word was received at the local station, and wrecking trains were at once despatched from Havelock and Toronto. In order that the work of clearing up the wreck might be carried on at both ends. The local which was due to arrive here at 7.30 o'clock last night, together with the midnight is still at Cavanville. There were quite a number of passengers on both trains including not a few Peterborough people. Those who were on the local managed to arrive in Peterborough at 7 o'clock this morning, the train having come west as far as the wreck and transferred the passengers to the wrecking train which conveyed them to Peterborough. The passengers on the local were not so fortunate. Through some apparent bungle on the part of the conductor of the local it is said, they were obliged to stay at Cavanville until noon to-day. The conductor of the local received orders to go back to Manvers for water and then proceed east as far as the wreck where the passengers would be transferred. He backed his train up as far as Manvers took water and then came sailing through Cavanville much to the disappointment of the Peterborough passengers on board the midnight train who, needless to say, would have preferred to come on to Peterborough than remain for seven or eight hours longer at Cavanville.

Station Agent Bamford says that the storm is one of the worst on record, the snow being packed in the cuts as hard as ice. The line will be cleared this afternoon.

THE REFERENDUM.

It was to be expected that the referendum measure would be keenly criticized from several points of view, and also that some of the criticisms would contradict one another. It has been said that the measure is exceedingly sly, foxy, crafty, etc., and also that it spells political ruin for the Ross Government, the inference being that the Government is seeking its own destruction, or is exceedingly stupid. There is no doubt some genuine dissatisfaction among prohibitionists, who think they are asked to do too much in order to demonstrate the strength of prohibition sentiment; but it is a little surprising that these complaints should be echoed by the Toronto World, which is a strong opponent of prohibition, and which therefore ought to approve of any obstacle being thrown in its way.

Some very ingenious speculations are also being made as to the manner in which the general election and the referendum will act upon one another. It is said that if will pay the prohibitionists to abstain from voting at the general elections so as to lower the standard for the referendum. Suppose, for instance, there are 400,000 votes cast in the general elections; it will require 200,001 to make the referendum law. But if 100,000 prohibitionists abstain from voting in the general election, and only 300,000 votes are cast, it will require only 150,001 to bring about prohibition. By the same process of reasoning, it would be advisable for liquor people to poll a large vote, so as to make the standard for the referendum as high as possible. The result of the working out of this plan therefore would be a large majority against prohibition in the general election and probably the return of a Legislature pledged to repeal the referendum law. We do not think the prohibitionists will adopt this plan. In fact those prohibitionists who are dissatisfied with the terms of the referendum have already indicated the opposite line of action. They say that they will go into the fight in the general election and oppose candidates who support what they regard as the unfair features of the referendum. That, we think, is a true indication of what is going to happen. Both parties will see that the problem cannot be solved merely by arithmetic. The general election will be as important as the referendum. It will make a difference which party is victorious at the polls. The electors will form opinions as to whether the Liberal party or the Conservative party is more favourable to prohibition. Candidates will be asked what they intend to do in the event of an affirmative majority in the referendum. We cannot conceive of the election being passed over without these questions being seriously and anxiously discussed.

Is the requirement for the referendum unfair? What is asked is a bare majority of such a vote as is cast in a political election. The advocates of prohibition are asked to show barely as much earnestness as they would show in putting one party or the other into office for four years. We are told that the issues between the parties are trivial or barely perceptible, and this statement, if exaggerated, contains a measure of truth. We are told also that the question of prohibition is of vast and far-reaching importance, far exceeding the importance of the party issues; and there is force in this contention. Yet we are told also that the people who will flock to the polls to vote for Grit or Tory will not take the trouble to go out and cast a vote for prohibition. Allowance must fairly be made for the fact that the political parties are organized and have certain machinery for bringing voters to the polls. But we suppose the prohibitionists will not be wholly without organization in October. They have a subject which naturally evokes enthusiasm; and they have the use of a large number of the pulpits, and of the organization of the churches. Then it must be remembered that the vote will not be a mere plebiscite, a mere expression of opinion. It will have a definite legal effect; it will be as live and real a thing as the election of a member of the Legislature. If under these circumstances the prohibitionists do not poll a trifle more than half the vote polled at a general election, is that not pretty fair evidence that public sentiment is not strong enough to support a prohibitory law? Are not those who declaim against the requirement showing themselves rather doubtful of the strength of their own cause? And if there is a weakness in the popular support for prohibition, is it not better that that weakness should prevent the passage of the law, rather than that it should prevent the enforcement of the law after its enactment? — The Globe.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

In your last weekly issue I noticed that quite a tract of land, fully described therein as "Water lots, in the Otonabee River, in the Town of Peterborough," has through the influence of Hon. J. R. Stratton been conveyed by the Crown patent from the Government of Ontario to the Town of Peterborough; about 17 acres for the small sum of $25. This will be a great addition to the town, similar to the marsh at Toronto, which is being filled up, and will make a good site for those who may require lots for erecting manufacturing establishments on. The Hon. Member for Peterborough is worthy of great credit for having this sale to the town completed.

On reading of the transfer of this now valuable property to the town, it brought to my recollection scenes of my boyhood days, when I used to fish along the banks of the river just where the said seventeen acres lie. When we crossed the river where the iron bridge now stands, on a scow by means of a rope fastened to a tree on each side of the river. The old log post office then stood on the bank of the river near where the Bank of Montreal now stands. Sanfield was then postmaster; at his death Carver was appointed postmaster. The owners of property in town then were Bailey, Harper, Thos. and J. Chambers, O. Morrow, Henthorns, Dundy, Nicholls & Hall, and others who have gone to rest where no traveller returns. The Mackenzie Rebellion caused great excitement the short time it lasted. The greater part of the town plot was then covered with a cedar swamp and pine trees. Sixty-five years has made great changes for the better in the Town of Peterborough.

The foundry here is rushing business as usual and sleighs are in great demand, and from the appearance of the vast amount of snow in this locality, sleighing may continue until next June.

Great preparations are in progress for the finest dramatic entertainment ever given in this place, of which due notice will be given, by the officials of the cheese and butter factory, under whose patronage it is to be held.

Teams heavily laden with milk are coming to the butter factory, after the severe storms of the past few weeks.

Two valuable watches were lost in the snow here lately. After a diligent search was made for them they were again restored to their owners.

Mr. Harry Bland was visiting with friends at Lakefield when the storm commenced.

After having been deprived of public worship in our churches for the last two Sundays, a large number turned out last Sunday. The sermon by the Rev. Mr. Mounteer was full of thought and information, and should have been heard to be fully appreciated. The text chosen, was, "But I am poor and needy, yet the Lord thinketh on me." He dwelt particularly on the words, "The Lord thinketh on me." At the night service, Rev. Mr. Kannawin chose for his text. "Isaiah xxxii, 2. His exposition of the passage was well received by those who heard him.

FRIED ONIONS

Indirectly Caused the Death of the World's Greatest General.

It is a matter of history that Napoleon was a gormand, an inordinate lover of the good things of the table, and history further records that his favourite dish was fried onions; his death from cancer of sto-much it is claimed also, was probably caused from his excessive indulgence of this fondness for the odorous vegetable.

The onion is undoubtedly a wholesome article of food, in fact has many medicinal qualities of value, but it would be difficult to find a more indigestible article than fried onions, and to many people they are simply poison, but the onion does not stand alone in this respect. Any article of food that is not thoroughly digested becomes a source of disease and discomfort whether it be fried onions or beef steak.

The reason why any wholesome food is not promptly digested is because the stomach lacks some important element of digestion, some stomachs lack peptone, others are deficient in gastric juice, still others lack hydrochloric acid.

The one thing necessary to do in any case of poor digestion is to supply those elements of digestion which the stomach lacks, and nothing does this so thoroughly and safely as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Dr. Richardson in writing a thesis on treatment of dyspepsia and indigestion, closes his remarks by saying, "for those suffering from acid dyspepsia, shown by sour, watery risings, or for flatulent dyspepsia shown by gas on stomach, causing heart trouble and difficult breathing, as well as for all other forms of stomach trouble, the safest treatment is to take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. I advise them because they contain no harmful drugs, but are composed of valuable digestives, which act promptly upon the food eaten. I never knew a case of indigestion or even chronic dyspepsia which Stuart's Tablets would not reach."

Cheap cathartic medicines claiming to cure dyspepsia and indigestion can have no effect whatever in actively digesting the food, and to call any cathartic medicine a cure for indigestion is a misnomer.

Every druggist in the United States and Canada sells Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and they are not only the safest and most successful but the most scientific of any treatment for indigestion and stomach troubles

A School For Detectives.

In Paris aspirants for positions in the detective force are taught in a regular school, where day after day they are put through various exercises until they become proficient and receive appointments or show that they have not the detective instinct in them.

The students first are trained in the use of their eyes and their hands. One of the lessons consists in placing the pupil in a brilliantly lighted room full of furniture and ornaments. Then he is taken to another room and required to make a sketch of the room he just has left, indicating the position of all the objects in it. He is allowed to look at a face for a minute and then required to describe the color of the hair, the eyes, the general form, etc. He afterward is required to pick out a photograph of the face from among several hundred others.

In educating the hand the student is placed in a dark room in which are many curious and unusual objects. These he feels over and then writes a description of them. He must remember even the slightest details. One test is to let him handle gems in the dark and then tell what they are, whether diamonds, rubies or what not. This is, of course, an exercise for the more advanced pupils.

Plays In Installments.

In nearly all the large cities of Spain the theaters sell tickets for separate acts of a play. The plays are, as a rule, of the popular variety, plentifully interspersed with songs and dances. They are, in short, a sort of variety entertainment, with a slender thread of plot running through them. They begin early and end late, and large numbers of performers are employed. Seats are very cheap, and few people would care to sit out the whole performance.

The result is that it is possible for a small sum to buy a ticket entitling the purchaser to see one or two acts out of five or six. The consequence is that when the curtain comes down after an act a large portion of the audience leaves the house and seats are immediately taken by newcomers who have been waiting for the end of the act and have taken tickets for the next. Even in grand opera and classic drama this practice obtains in some of the Spanish theaters.

FUTURE PROVISION.

There are two periods in a man's life, when in the natural course of things, he is unable to take care of himself—his childhood and his old age. During the whole of our lives we are consumers; during middle life only we are producers. It is therefore the aim of every man to put by enough during middle age, so that he will have an independent income for his old age. But, under ordinary circumstances this is often a hard thing to do. Men at that time of life generally find themselves with a family to provide for; perhaps their whole income is required to meet the household expenses, and it is impossible to find a remunerative investment for their small annual savings.

An Imperial endowment policy, as issued by the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, Toronto, is an ideal investment for a man in this position. Should he die at any time the insurance will provide for his family and leave them in an independent position. At the same time he is providing an income for his old age, which will enable him to end his days in comfort. With an "Imperial Endowment Policy" a man need have no fear for his own future, or the future of his wife and family.

His Whereabouts.

"Do you happen to know anything of your master's whereabouts?" asked a wife who was looking for her husband.

"I'm not sure, mem," said the careful servant, "but I think they're in the wash."

Norway Farms.

Less than 1 per cent of the land in Norway is in use for grainfields.

Wages In Spain.

Wages in Spain hardly incline to be excessive in amount. A man who works on a farm receives about 25 cents a day. In the vineyards wages range from 14 cents for women and boys to 21 cents for unskilled men and to 42 or 56 cents for those upon whose skill the whole responsibility of the crop rests.

German Exports.

One-fifth of the population of Germany is engaged in industries concerned in the export trade.

The Turks.

At the bottom of the wonderful physical vitality of the Turkish race is the universal abstinence of the common people. They are the most abstemious race on the earth and the healthiest. The soldiers, peasants, merchants and members of the learned professions never touch alcohol.

Potatoes.

Potatoes form the world's greatest single crop, 4,000,000,000 bushels being produced annually, equal in bulk to the entire wheat and corn crop.

Something In Common.

YOUR HELP NEEDED.

An Appeal for Funds to Furnish the New Free Consumptive Hospital at Gravenhurst—Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Mr. W. J. Gage, and Other Trustees in Receipt of Many Calls for Admission from all Parts of Canada—Beyond Doubt the Most Pressing of all Charities.

The statement of Dr. John Ferguson, one of Toronto's well-known physicians, that "if consumption patients were properly isolated and treated, within ten years from now tuberculosis would be one of the rarest of known diseases," is full of moment to the people of every community in Canada. Without indulging in any unnecessary alarm, the serious thought is that the victims of consumption are found in all parts of the country and among all classes of people.

The letters received by the Association are of the most heart-rending kind. One mother tells how she mortgaged her furniture for one hundred dollars to place her daughter, sick of consumption, under treatment in the Muskoka Cottage Sanatorium, and in so doing saved her life. The Free Consumptive Hospital had not then taken shape. Rev. C. O. Johnston, Toronto, writes Mr. W. J. Gage: "I have a family greatly afflicted with consumption in my church. Five sons and daughters have already fallen out of a family of ten, and I fear the end is not yet." Another, in sending a contribution to the fund, says: "I do not know of a greater disgrace to Canada than her neglect of poor consumptives." Rev. Fred. W. Hollinrake, Grimsby, Ont., writes: "We have in our town a young married man with two little girls—a printer by trade—who has been suffering for some time. He did not desist work until this week. I was up to see him this afternoon. He is lying in bed and very weak. I feel the Sanatorium is the place for him and that he is not too far gone. Ere this he would have entered the Sanatorium but for the question of means. Would it be asking too much of you to write the afflicted one, or kindly see that it is done? He is a member of my church here, and the poor fellow seems very much discouraged."

What to do to help stamp out this disease is being practically answered by the National Sanitarium Association, who four years ago built the Muskoka Cottage Sanatorium, thanks to the generosity of Mr. W. J. Gage and the Executors of the late Hart A. Massey, and who have now just completed a magnificent building to be known as the Free Consumptive Hospital, again the gift of Mr. W. J. Gage and the Massey Estate.

What this method of treatment means is shown in the fact that in four years 510 patients have been treated, and of these over 300 have been cured or so helped that they have gone back to work, caring for wife or children or those otherwise dependent upon them.

The new Free Consumptive Hospital is situated in Muskoka, not far from the Muskoka Cottage Sanatorium, so that the same benefits that have been given to patients of the Muskoka Cottage Sanatorium, by virtue of its excellent situation, should go also to the poorer patients, whose only hope is in being received where neither money nor price is necessary.

Absolutely free, to all intents and purposes, are the words written above the door of the Free Consumptive Hospital, and all that is wanting now is that sufficient money be contributed to furnish the hospital with beds and in other ways to properly equip it. The National Sanitarium Association, because of their heavy debt, are unable to undertake this part of the work, and appeal to the public in all parts of Canada—for all are concerned—for money sufficient to meet this purpose. Amounts large or small will be welcomed. A single dollar will do something, $5 or $10 will do more. Others are contributing in $50 amounts—a sum sufficient to furnish a cot. Out of their abundance there will be some who will send their cheques for $100 or larger amounts.

Contributions will be received by Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Chief Justice, Vice-President National Sanitarium Association, Toronto; W. J. Gage, Esq., Chairman Ex. Com., Toronto; or the National Trust Co., Limited, Treasurer, 22 King Street East, Toronto.

TEA GOWNS.

Beautiful Adaptations From Historical Models.

Tea gowns have become very important. There is not a fashionable woman who does not possess one or more of these artistic creations. Any model is permissible provided that it outlines the figure and gives no hint of being a wrapper. Historical models are largely followed, principally those of the empire period. Many watteau models are also used and models which belong to no period at all, but combine the best points of each. The finest handwork is seen upon these tea gowns, and hand painted medallions of chiffon or lace are not infrequent.

A pretty model is shown in today's cut. The material is pale green peau de soie, with a full, soft front of chiffon of the same shade. It is made with tight fitting sides and a graceful watteau plait in the back. Wide bands of yellow insertion ornament the entire gown and are disposed so as to give the best effect to a tall figure. The short waist is in a bolero effect, composed of tucks and bands of the insertion. A novel feature is formed by the two knots of narrow black velvet having long streamers of the velvet. The neck is cut V shape both back and front. The sleeves are elbow length, ornamented with three bands of lace and a ruffle of chiffon. JUDIC CHOLLET.

PEAU DE SOIE TEA GOWN.

A WELL-KNOWN DAIRYMAN RUN INTO BY A TRAIN.

I was run into by a train and had both my legs, ankle and shoulder broken, and was laid up in the General Hospital for five months. The fractures healed, but my limbs were so sore and stiff that I could scarcely use them to stand or walk upon. I left the hospital, went home and tried a number of liniments: none did me any good. I was then recommended to try Kelpion; and from the first application of Kelpion the pain and stiffness ceased, and by the free use of it, well rubbed in, I was enabled in a few days to return to my business and suffered comparatively no pain. I still use it when necessary, and would not be without it in my house. I am constantly recommending it to persons on my route for every ailment I hear of, and can truly say that so far I have never heard of "Kelpion" failing to accomplish a relief or cure in any one instance.

COLONIAL FLAGS.

Australia's Flag Has Already Been Designed and Accepted—A Suggestion for a Canadian One.

The Judges appointed by the Government of the Australian Commonwealth to determine upon the question of a national ensign have at last made their laborious selection from the 30,000 designs submitted in the recent competition open to Australian artists and others. The flag decided upon is simple enough, embracing, as it does, the Union Jack in the top left-hand corner, with a six-pointed star immediately beneath it, emblematic of the six Confederated States, while the other half of the flag is devoted to a representation of the Southern Cross. The Government and official color is to be blue, while the mercantile marine of the new Commonwealth will fly the flag with a red ground. The approved design was that of a number of competitors.

The suggestion for a Canadian national flag herewith is that of Mr.

FOR TEN YEARS.

How a Well Known Farmer Suffered The Story in his own Words—It Should be of Interest to Many.

Mr. John Scaife, of No. 9, Johnson Side Road, Eyng P.O., Ont., has given for publication a most interesting story of how he was cured of Dyspepsia and Sour Stomach ailments which has made his life a burden for over ten years.

Mr. Scaife is a farmer well known and highly esteemed. He is one of the oldest residents in the county, having lived there nearly sixty years. In his published statement of his case and its cure he says in part:

"For over ten years I was a great sufferer with Dyspepsia and Sour Stomach which gave me great pain.

"I did not dare to eat any pastry and in fact almost everything I did eat, no matter how careful I was, would cause me a great deal of distress and pain.

"I tried reveral remedies but nothing would do me any good till one day I was in a drug store in Dunnville and the druggist told me of several wonderful cures of Stomach Trouble and Dyspepsia that had been done by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"I made up my mind to try them and bought a box which I began to use at once.

"From the first dose I got relief. I found very soon that I could eat anything I wanted to without the slightest distress or pain afterwards.

"I continued the treatment till I was completely cured and I can honestly recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets as the very best medicine for Stomach Troubles.

"This is over four years ago and as I am still in good health I am satisfied my cure is a permanent one."

What Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for farmer Scaife they have done for thousands of others and they will do the same for any Dyspeptic who gives them a chance.

Red and Measles.

French women wrap in red cloth children who have measles, and a French scientist, Chatinier, proved by experiment that red paper pasted on the windows of patients having measles has a good influence.

Canada's Oldest Paper.

The oldest newspaper in the Dominion of Canada, the Montreal Gazette, was founded on June 3, 1778, and for some time was printed in the French language. After a time half of the matter was in English, and in the course of time the French was dropped.

It is said that the Indians gave to the first eastern immigrants who came into California the name of "Wo'hah," formed from "whoa-haw," the sound they heard the drivers produce when they shouted to their oxen.

The Grip and Bronchitis for Years

John Beynon, of Toronto, Permanently Cured by Powley's Liquified Ozone.

When winter comes along with its bitter cold and raw chilliness your system requires building up—must have health to repel the attack of disease germs or you will suffer many ailments such as the grip, colds, bronchitis, pneumonia and lung trouble, which may either lay the seeds of future trouble or end fatally.

Feed the blood oxygen by taking Powley's Liquified Ozone—give it its proper food so that it can distribute nourishment to all the organs of the body and make them strong. Then your system will throw off these germs when they make their attack. You will then become immune.

THE OZONE CO, LTD.

Gentlemen:—I feel I owe you my testimonial and thanks for such a good remedy as you have. I have been terribly troubled with la grippe and bronchitis for years, and even after I got it under control it would leave me weak and miserable. I felt there was something in my system which kept me weak. When the last attack came on, which was a very severe one, I thought I would try Ozone. I am in a position to tell you now that I never tried anything that did me so much good. I feel like myself again. The Ozone has strengthened my vitality, and I can now eat and sleep well, and also work without feeling tired. My wife also had the grippe and Ozone completely cured her. I feel that I cannot praise too highly the remedy which has done so much good for my wife and myself.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is not a combination of drugs—not a medicine—contains no alcohol. Simply Nature's great element, oxygen in condensed form, prepared so that the system can use it to build up health conditions and make rich, red blood.

One Cold Saved.

Logic is logic, whether it touches the affairs of nations or a cold in the head. The conviction, says Tit-Bits, was forced upon a Liverpool woman whose coachman, although he had been ill for several days, appeared one morning with his hair closely cropped.

"Why, Dennis," said the mistress, "whatever possessed you to have your hair cut while you had such a bad cold?"

"Well, mum," replied the unabashed Dennis, "I do be takin' notice this long while that whiniver I have me hair cut I take a bad cowld, so I thought to meself that now, while I had the cowld on to me, it would be the time of all others to go and get me hair cuttin' done, for by that course I would save meself just one cowld. Do you see the power of me reasonin', mum?"

Lifted Up Forever.

Mazzini, whose name is associated with the liberation of Italy, was once asked what he would have taught in school.

"One thing, at any rate, in all," replied Mazzini, "and that is some knowledge of astronomy. A man learns nothing if he has not learned to wonder, and astronomy, better than any science, teaches him something of the mystery and grandeur of the universe. "Now, a man who feels this will soon feel something of his own greatness and mystery, and then for the first time he is a man."

Why He Wept.

The extensive authority of parents under the Chinese laws is well known. A Chinaman of forty years, whose aged mother flogged him every day, shed tears in the company of one of his friends.

"Why do you weep?" he was asked.

"Alas, things are not as they used to be!" answered the devoted son. "The poor woman's arms grow feebler every day!"

Didn't Work.

First Suburbanite—I hear that neighbor of yours adopted that hired girl of his so as to get her to stay with the family.

Second Suburbanite—Yes, and now his adopted daughter wants to stay in the parlor and play the piano all day and let her mother do the housework. —Judge.

Anticipation.

"Doesn't it make you the least bit envious to see what elegant furniture Mrs. Eyefly is putting into her house next door?"

"Not a bit. My husband says it will be sold by the sheriff within six months—and I'll be there to buy."

THE LABOUR STRIKE.

Satisfactory Settlement Between Contractor Bogue and the Union Men.

It is gratifying to know that the differences between Contractor Bogue and the labourers working on the Cereal Company's new elevator has been settled so promptly and satisfactorily. The committee representing the men had several interviews with Mr. Bogue on Monday. They also waited upon Mr. Scott, the gereral superintendent, and explained the nature of their grievance. They pointed out to Mr. Bogue that nine hours was the regular working hours adopted by the Union and that all overtime was to be counted as time and a half. Mr. Bogue at first declined to submit to the rules of the Union and stated that he would make his own hours. The men represented that they were quite willing to go to work at 8 o'clock if desired, and work until 5, during the present severe cold weather, but if Mr. Bogue wanted them to work after 5 they would demand time and a half. Mr. Bogue replied that there would be no overtime, but was satisfied to take the men back on condition that they would start work at 8 o'clock and work until 5.

This was quite satisfactory to the men, as it had been found very difficult to get the sand and cement heated and ready for working at 7 o'clock. The men had no desire to work overtime after 5 o'clock, but if it was found necessary they were willing to do so provided they were paid time and a half.

Mr. Bogue requested the men to be at the works at one o'clock to-day prepared to go to work according to agreement.

The Steward of the works, Mr. W. Redfern and the committee who have had the matter in their hands, are to be congratulated for the judicious manner in which they discharged their duties, and for the satisfactory settlement reached in so short a time. The Federal Union fully endorses all that has been done.

THE FEDERAL UNION.

Special Meeting Held Last Night Regarding the Death of the Late Frederick Perrin.

There was a large attendance of the members of Federal Union No. 9240, at the special meeting called to make arrangements to attend the funeral of their late brother, Frederick J. Perrin, who was killed at the Cereal Works on Monday. In the absence of the President, Wm. Henry, the Vice-President occupied the chair. It was decided to attend the funeral in a body on Thursday afternoon, and arrangements were made for properly conducting the marching of the men, etc.

The strike of the labourers at the Cereal elevator also enaged the attention of the meeting. A number of the members addressed the meeting, endorsing the action of the men. A committee was appointed to wait on the Bricklayers' Union, which was also in session, and to ask them to stand by the Union.

A satisfactory conference was held—the bricklayers deciding to refuse to lay a brick until the difficulty with the labourers was settled.

WATER COMMISSIONERS.

They Met Yesterday Afternoon—The Rules and Regulations.

The Water Commissioners for the Town of Peterborough met yesterday afternoon, there being present, Mr. T. F. Matthews, chairman, Mayor Denne and Mr. W. H. Hill.

Several communications were dealt with and the salaries of one or two of the officials considered. The chief item of business, however, was the adoption of the new rules and regulations governing contracts with water users. The chairman was authorized to procure the necessary books for the secretary-treasurer and collector of the waterworks rates, and the chairman was authorised to make arrangements for procuring a bond from a guarantee company for the collecter to the extent of $2000. It was also decided that arrangements should be entered into at once with Mr. Morrow for the use of the present waterworks store house, workshop and yard.

THE INQUEST OPENED

To Inquire Into the Cause of Death of Fred Perrin, on Monday Last.

An inquest to enquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of James Frederick Perrin, who was fatally injured while at work on the American Cereal Company's building on Monday, was empanelled in the town council chamber last night.

County Crown Attorney Wood looked after the interests of the Crown, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun represented the American Cereal Company, and Mr. W. A. Stratton, K.C., was present on behalf of the relatives of the deceased young man.

The Grand Jury was empannelled as follows; G. K. Martin, foreman; George Ball, D. M. Drummond, Wm. Fowler, W. R. Johnston, J. M. Gemmell, Jas. Graham, H. F. Kidd, C. Barnard, F. M. Vanderwater, Patrick Doris, Robert Stenton, Andrew Brown, Thomas Ellis.

The jurors were duly sworn, after which the Coroner asked them to view the remains of the deceased, which were at the undertaking establishment of Mr. A. Comstock.

The jurors were not a great while doing their duty in this respect, and they then returned to the Town Council Chamber.

Coroner Gray then addressed the jurors. He hoped that the result of their deliberations would be to show that the deceased young man met his death through a simple accident. However, in case that litigation might follow, he thought it well, and in this regard he was supported by the opinion of the Crown Attorney, that a post mortem examination should be made. He desired the jurors to retire to the police court chamber, and come to a decision on us to this point. When the jurors entered the Council Chamber again the foreman, Mr. Martin, announced that they would like a post mortem examination made of the body of deceased.

The inquest was then adjourned until 7.30 o'clock this evening.

PROHIBITION.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir,—Very few are interested in the question of prohibition now before the Local Legislature of this Province of Ontario. The Hon. Geo. Ross, by the bill he brought in, has given the electorate the power to decide this long vexed question. The great leader of the Israelites, Joshua, "gathered all the tribes of Isreal to Shechem and called for the elders of Isreal and for their judges, and said unto them, choose you this day whom you will serve." Is this not a precedent ,and ought to satisfy those who are asking for power and when given them remind me of the first man, Adam, who found fault with God for giving him a help mate. Did the great Apostle Paul harass or ask those in power in his day to suppress the evils that existed then? No, we find him using moral suasion, that which has done more to suppress intemperance than all the laws that have been enacted. That celebrated M. P., the late Daniel O'connel, of Irish fame, said, "that he could drive a coach and four through all the laws they could make." Why do we send missionaries to the heathen? Why not go to those in power in those heathen countries and get them to make laws that would compel the inhabitants thereof to think as we Christians do? God's method of dealing with intelligent beings through the ages has been by speaking to them by Himself as in Eden, by Noah, by all His prophets. The Ninevites were spoken to by Jonah; Daniel told the King Belshazzar of his evil doings—"The voice of one crying in the wilderness, etc., etc." Listen to Jesus as he speaks to Nicodemus; and the woman of Samaria at the well; to the woman who was brought to him he said "Go and Sin no more." From those examples would it not be better for the temperance people to continue the work that they have found so successful in the past, and give up finding fault with those in power, and asking them to do the work that we ourselves should do? "Men don't light a candle and put it under a bushel." "A city set on an hill cannot be hid." Let us by moral suasion do our best to suppress the drinking habits of the day, and then the reward.

Yours truly,
MORAL SUASION.

MR. PARKS REMEMBERED

By the Members of Charlotte Street Methodist Church Last Evening.

Charlotte street choir met last night at the residence of President Main, Downie street, to say goodbye to Mr. Chas. S. Parks, who is leaving town to accept a responsible position with the R. Simpson Co., Toronto. President Main regretted that Mr. Parks was leaving the choir and the town. Since his connection with them he had been zealous in its welfare and advancement, and being the possessor of a rich baritone voice contributed not a little to the success of the choir. In the absence of Miss Stephens the choir leader, Mr. Main assured Mr. Parks that his departure would cause her the deepest regret, as on more than one occasion she had spoken of his faithfullness and hearty co-operation. Mr. Main hoped at a date not far distant Mr. Parks would see his way clear to locate permanently in Peterborough. Mr. Mitchell presented to Mr. Parks a bible and hymn and tune book. The choir then sang "He's a jolly good fellow." Mr. Parks was, of course, taken completely by surprise and said he found it difficult to reply, he had not anticipated anything of this kind, but the gift was none the less appreciated by him and assured the choir that they could not have given him anything that he would have liked better and he hoped he would find plenty of use for both and prove himself worthy of the respect, confidence and appreciation which the choir had shown him. His connection with Charlotte street choir had been of the pleasantest nature and was sorry indeed that in the course of events it was necessary to sever his connection therewith. But he was glad that his removal was not so far but that he would have the pleasure of coming down and spending an occasional Sabbath with the choir. Mr. Parks leaves on Thursday and will be accompanied by the well wishes of a host of friends.

HOCKEY.

The date of the first match in the second round of the semi-finals of the O.H.A. has been settled for Friday night in the Charlotte street rink between Hamilton and Peterborough. The return game will be played in Hamilton on Tuesday night of next week.

There will be practice to-night and to-morrow night. Every member of the team is asked to turn out as well as those outside of the regular players.

The Kingston News refers to the game in Kingston on Monday night as follows:—

The R.M.C. hockey team are out of the race for intermediate honours in the O.H.A. Their light was extinguished by the speedy aggregation of puck chasers from Peterborough. The attendance at the covered rink last night to see the game was small, and those who stayed at home did not miss much, for the soldiers put up a most inferior kind of hookey and were only in the game for about ten minutes in the second half. The cadets on the side of the rink yelled for their favourites, but the encouragement was of no avail, the red coats who played such excellent hockey in the early part of the season were painfully slow and were most clumsy on their skates. About half of the spectators were in favour of the visiting team, and gave them a friendly cheer when they indulged in good play. The Peterborough players were fast skaters, and indulged in well-thought-out combination. They followed up rapidly and their checking back was speedy. The forwards were fast at seeing openings, and taking their opportunity to shoot on goal. The defence men were strong enough company for the forward line, making the team well balanced and aggressive. Carr-Harris and Deyell were the only men on the R.M.C. who did specially good work. The first named player often rushed down the rink, only to find that when his shot was intercepted there were none of his forward men up to tackle the Peterborough man before he cleared. Trotter and Dunlop, who are usually speedy players from start to finish, were slow the most of the time. Waldron and Biggs were not up to their usual standard. Ramsay may have well have been with the spectators. He could not play fast enough to keep warm, and as for his lifting the ladies on the Belleville hockey team could give him pointers. Mr. Sadler, of Osgoode Hall, was the referee.

In the early stage of the game the Cadets were very slow. Deyell was called upon to stop some hot shots. Waldron was retired for mistaking the visitors' ankles for the puck. Harold Armstrong started a rush and passed to Morgan, who sent the puck to Graham and the score stood 1-0 in favour of the visitors. One of the Cadets shot a goal, but the whistle was blown for an off side, and the shot failed to count. Dunlop was sent to the fence for slugging Glover, and Waldron cross checked Graham, and looked on for a time. No more goals were scored in the first half. On resuming play, Deyell was called upon to make a couple of good stops. Harold Armstrong was hurt. The game was once more started and "Klondike" Carr-Harris swept down the rink at a 2.40 gait and evened the score. Trotter continued the good work, and the soldiers were ahead. Score 1-3 in favour of the Cadets. Biggs was given a rest. Armstrong and Graham supplied the necessary paly to tie the score, 2-2. Graham and Harold Armstrong made a fine rush, and the score was 3-2 in favour of the visitors. The last goal was scored after a neat combination on the part of Whitcroft and Graham. The best team won. In the game last night there was no "billiard board rink," so the team which played the speediest hockey were winners, and that team was from Peterborough.

It is the Only Medicine That can Keep Them Happy and Well.

It Feeds the Nerves, Nourishes the Blood and Regulates Digestion.

Men and women advanced in years should remember that the infirmities and ailments of old age are due to a weakened nervous system. One of the most prominent medical writers of the day says:—"The various pains, rheumatic or otherwise, which old people complain of, and which materially disturb their comfort, result from disordered nerves." When you feel old, whether you are twenty or eighty, use Paine's Celery Compound, as it will assuredly strengthen and build you up. The great medicine has added years of peace, free from the infirmities of old age, to thousands of lives.

Old people should bear in mind that Paine's Celery Compound purifies the blood when it moves slowly and sluggishly, removing rheumatism, neuralgia, heart palpitation, nervous weakness, sleeplessness, and troubles with liver, kidneys and stomach. In a word, Paine's Celery Compound makes the old feel young and vigourous.

RUGBY TEAM WAS BANQUETTED

By the Citizens of Peterborough Last Night.

A VERY PLEASANT AFFAIR.

The Chair was Occupied by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner—Mayor Denne was Present—The Souvenirs Presented.

While the Rugby season lasts only a few months in the year, the interest in the game during the entire 12 months sleepeth not in the minds of the citizens of Peterborough. This was fully demonstrated last night, when a jolly company of young athletes of the town, and many of their friends, sat around the festive board at the Oriental Hotel, and spent a few hours in feasting, in speech-making, and in the ceremony attached to presentation of badges, souvenirs, etc., to deserving ones. It was the occasion of a complimentary banquet by the citizens of the town, to the members of the Peterborough Rugby Team, Intermediate Champions of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, and the Canadian Rugby Union. For the second time in three years the Peterborough Club has won this distinction, and a number of the citizens who take a deep interest in the athletics of the town, and who watched with pride the record of the Rugbyists, could not allow the season to pass without in some manner expressing to the members of the Club, the appreciation the townspeople feel of the honour they have done Peterborough, not only in the mere fact of their having carried off the two championships but in the sportsmanlike manner in which they have always conducted themselves.

In addition to the splendid banquet, the citizens procured for each member of the team a handsome souvenir, in the form of a miniature Rugby ball, neatly gilded and decorated with red and white ribbon, the colours of the club. There were also for presentation badges from the O.R.F.U. and jackknives from the C.R.U.

The interior of the dining hall of the Oriental was arranged with an eye to attractiveness, and the tables presented an exceedingly pretty appearance. The chair was occupied by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, the Hon. President of the Club. To his right sat His Worship Mayor Denne, and to his left sat Mr. Hal. Burnham, the Captain of the team, whilst seated around the tables were Messrs. G. W. Hatton, a patron of the club; President R. F. McWilliams, E. M. Poussett, C. H. Bradburn, Dr. Scott, A. W. McPherson, Jos. Picard, H. M. Morden, R. Ross, Roland Denne, H. C. Armstrong, A. A. Hollingshead, W. Crowley, W. B. Rickey, Fred Smith W. Meagher, A. Noble, E. O. Bradburn, Harry Thompson, G. E. Revell, R. N. Bell, James Hamilton, A. J. McClellan, H. Rush, Mr. Carney, F. C. Francis, Ed. Dillon, E. Wasson, Jas. McCabe, D. Davidson, C. G. Graham, W. Breen, S. S. Moore and E. S. Clarry.

After doing ample justice to a very appetizing spread the chairman called the gathering to order. He then read a couple of communications from two patrons of the club, who were unable to be present. They were from Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mr. W. H. Hill, both of whom expressed their regret at being unable to attend, and in testifying to the pride they felt in the record of the club; they made donations towards the getting up of the banquet. There were many other gentlemen, true friends of the club, who would like to have been present but for various reasons were prevented from doing so. Amongst these were Messrs. R. B. McKee, J. B. McWilliams and Dr. Bradd. However there was with them, the chairman said, one of their patrons who had always taken a deep interest in the affairs of the club and in athletics of various kinds in town. He referred to Mr. G. W. Hatton. He had always proved himself an enthusiast, and he would do him the honour of asking him to propose the first toast of the evening—the toast of the King.

Mr. Hatton, in doing so, paid a glowing tribute to His Imperial Majesty. The toast was drunk with great enthusiasm and the company sang with spirit the National Anthem.

The chairman proposed the next toast, which was that of "Our Guests" and in so doing gave a brief sketch of the history of Rugby in Peterborough, and particularly Peterborough's connection with the O.R.F.U. When we look over the record of the club for the past two years we may well feel proud of our Rugby team. The first year they were in the Union they won the Ontario and Canadian Intermediate Championships, and the reasons why they did not land the championship las yesr were familiar to all Peterborough people. The chairman referred to the gentlemanly manner in which the members of the team conducted themselves on and off the field. He said the proudest evening of his life was when, on Thanksgiving Day, they won out the Canadian Championship in Montreal. He coupled with the toast the names of R. F. McWilliams, H. B. Burnham, and A. W. Macpherson.

Before any of these gentlemen arose to reply Mr. Billie Breen favoured the company with a song entitled "Plain Jane Payne."

Capt. Burnham was received with wild enthusiasm. He was told emphatically that he was all right, oh, yes, you bet, that he was a dandy, that he was smiling, that they believed him, and many other statements of a complimentary nature were thrown good naturedly at him. Proceeding with his remarks Capt. Burnham spoke of the successful season they had had, and their determination to repeat the performance next year. He praised Mr. Kenner for his many acts of kindness towards the team and in referring to his desire to drop out of the active work, the captain said that Rugby was a hard game to play but a harder game to stop. Mr. McWilliams came in for due praise in Mr. Burnham's closing remarks.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams expressed the pleasure it gave him in being present. He thought that it was always a splendid idea to recognize the honour that a champion team brought to their town and he thanked Mr. Kenner and the other gentlemen for the handsome entertainment they were giving the rugby team. The president then reviewed the record of the team. While much had been said of what he had done for rugby in Peterborough, he could not take all the credit, he must divide it with Capt Burnham and others. He could not tell them of the pride he felt at the Queen's Hotel, Montreal on Thanksgiving evening when they sat down around the banquet table to celebrate their victory. The team both on and off the field had done themselves credit, but there was one event yet to take place and that was to defeat London on London's own grounds. Mr. McWilliams spoke of the need of grounds in Peterborough and of the financial difficulties to contend with, but notwithstanding all this we do not owe a single dollar. In conclusion he expressed the hope that they would next year win the Ontario and Canadian Intermediate Championships.

Mr. Macpherson's remarks were confined chiefly to expressing his thanks as manager of the club, to the people who have very kindly extended so many accommodations to the boys during the season.

Mr. Breen at this juncture again favoured the audience with a vocal selection.

KINDRED SPORTS.

The pleasant task of proposing the toast of "Kindred Sports," was allotted to His Worship Mayor Denne, who on rising, was warmly received. He said he was pleased at being present with "the boys," and he congratulated them on their successful record. On behalf of the town, he thanked them for the credit they had brought to Peterborough for he was sure that a championship team advertises a town in a great measure. It was always his boast that Peterborough was the banner town of Canada, and he thought it was no idle boast either, for what other town is there that during the past year has seen contracts let to the extent of one million dollars. Then to think that in the midst of all this activity they were able to bring two championships to town! Referring to better accommodation for the athletic clubs of the town, the mayor said that they were about to have a new rink, and he hoped that with the resurrection of the street railway they would be provided with new athletic grounds.

Mr. Denne then had the pleasant duty to perform of presenting to the members of the team the souvenirs that the citizens had donated.

As Mr. Kenner called out the names of the players, at the same time passing a brief eulogy on each, they came forward amid enthusiasm from their admirers. They were as follows,—Victor McWilliams, (not present), W. Crowley, A. W. McPherson, C. G. Graham, W. B. Rickey, Wm. Meagher, R. N. Bell, R. F. McWilliams, J. Dainard, Joe Picard, Art Noble, F. Smith, J. A. Macdonald, (not present,) C. M. Patterson, (not present) Harold Armstrong, A. Scott, Geo. Revell, E. Dillon.

Miss Nellie Graham, Peterborough's rising young vocalist, then rendered one of her well known numbers and responded with an encore.

Mr. G. W. Hatton before proceeding to distribute the jack-knives to the members of the team, spoke a few words of admiration of the boys. They were always anxious to get to the field and when they went on the field they fought honestly. They won the Canadian and Ontario Championships without consideration for the loss of time and money. Their record was unique for a town of Peterborough's size, the speaker thought. Continuing he recited the circumstances in connection with the London games, and the gentlemanly manner in which the boys took their unjust defeat in 1890. The badge the Ontario Union was presenting to them was not worth much materially speaking, but he reminded the boys of the fact that the greatest honour a soldier could receive was the presentation of the Victoria Cross which was made of ordinary iron.

Replying to the toast of Kindred Sports, were the following gentlemen, Dr. Scott, vice-president of the Peterborough Hockey Club; C. H. Bradburn, sec.-treas. Golf Club; E. S. Clarry, president Snow Shoe and Tobogan Club, and Dickson Davidson, ex-president of the Thistle Curling Club. All of whom made suitable replies.

Mr. F. C. Francis, who is a warm supporter of the Club spoke a few remarks and gave an Irish Character Sketch. Dr. Scott proposed the toast of the ladies which was replied to by Mr. Macpherson. He spoke of the great assistance the ladies of the town rendered the Club in connection with the annual dance. The press was proposed by Mr. R. F. McWilliams, who made a very complimentary reference to the work of the local papers towards the rugby club.

He also took occasion to refer to the accommodation afforded by Lieut.-Col. Edwards and the officers of the 57th Regt., in allowing the use of the drill shed and to the Y.M.C.A. for the use of rooms, etc.

The local representatives present replied.

The toast of the chairman was proposed by E. S. Clarry and modestly replied to by Mr. Kenner, who intimated that with the closing of the present hockey season he would withdraw from active participation in all athletics in town and devote his spare time and energies to other channels.

The banquet was brought to a close by all present singing "God Save the King."

Those present were greatly indebted to Miss Kate Graham for the excellent music she furnished on the piano throughout the evening.

RUMOR THAT WAR ENDS MAY 1

Commandant Kritzinger on Trial—Lord Kitchener Will Give Him Every Facility to Obtain Witnesses—Three Thousand Cayuses For South Africa—Why Kruger Talks Bitterly and Resentfully.

London, Feb. 18.—A despatch to The Mail from Susanna (Orange Colony) says: While our troops were engaging a party of 50 Boers near the junction of the Wilge River and Leenwspruit, 100 men of Wessel's commando, forming Dewet's bodyguard, crossed the Wilge lower down and rushed and drove in the Light Horse rearguard. A most exciting incident then occurred.

Seventy Boers wearing British cavalry cloaks, in the rear and under cover of the fire of a number of Boers who were in a kraal on a hill, boldly charged the Light Horse portion.

The enemy fired from their horses while charging the hill, but received a heavy fire from the Light Horse defending the pom-pom, which expended all its ammunition. The enemy came within 500 yards, and then broke back and fled, the New Zealanders' Maxim and pom-pom helping to scatter them.

Four Boers were killed and many wounded. The British loss was one man slightly wounded.

Gen. Dewet, with six men, fled up the Liebenbergsvlei River. Mr. Steyn with a bodyguard 30 strong is between Reitz and Bethlehem.

PEACE BY MAY 1.

London Rumor That Boer War's End Is in Sight.

London, Feb. 18.—The latest rumor from the War Office is to the effect that peace in South Africa will be announced by the end of April or the beginning of May. People are growing very chary of accepting these rumors. Still, from what can be learned, there does seem a likelihood of such prophecy being fulfilled.

KRITZINGER ON TRIAL.

Kitchener Will Give Him Every Facility For Getting Witnesses.

London, Feb. 18.—The press censor in South Africa is evidently active, as the first intimation that the trial of Commandant Kritzinger, who was captured by Gen. French in December last had commenced, came from the War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. The Secretary did not volunteer to furnish any details, but he informed a questioner that Lord Kitchener would certainly see that the Boer general had every facility for producing witnesses. It developed during Mr. Brodrick's answer that the trial began Feb. 15.

3,000 Cayuses For South Africa.

Salt Lake, Utah, Feb. 18.—Three thousand western horses, known as "Cayuses," gathered from the ranges of the inter-Mountain States, are to be shipped to South Africa for use in the British army. The animals were purchased by agents of the British army, who had been scouring the country for weeks, and have been concentrated in corrals in this city and Grand Junction, Colo.

KRUGER IS BITTER.

Boers Will Win Because God Is on Their Side, He Says.

London, Feb. 18.—President Kruger is reported to have spoken with bitter resentment of the terms "guerillas and outlaws" applied by the British to the Boers in the field.

"When my ancestors were fighting the Spaniards in the cause of freedom, three hundred years ago," said Kruger, "they were called 'les gueux' (the beggars), but they fought on, year after year, and won liberty at last, and the name became a sacred one in history. They fought for eighty years and were victorious at last, because God was on their side, and we of South Africa have been fighting less than three years, but we will win in the end, because God is with us."

GET COMFORT.

There is little comfort in life when a person is afflicted with pain. Donald Babcock, farmer, Harrowsmith, Ont., was a sufferer from rheumatism for years. When advised to take Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure he did so, and two bottles of this wonderful preparation, with two boxes of Climax Iron Tonic Pills, completely cured him. He has not had a twinge of pain since, and attends to his duties regularly. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. Senator Templeman in the Cabinet.

Ottawa, Feb. 18.—The Premier invited the British Columbia members to meet him at his office yesterday forenoon to hear their views on the question of Cabinet representation for British Columbia. The matter was talked over at some length, and Sir Wilfrid's proposition already stated to take Senator Templeman into the Cabinet without portfolio, for the present but to place him at the head of a department shortly, was endorsed. Senator Templeman will be sworn in at once.

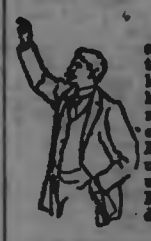
Professional Men.



It's the constant strain and worry under which the professional man labors, the irregularity of habits and loss of rest that makes him peculiarly susceptible to kidney troubles. First it's backache, then urinary difficulties, then—unless it's attended to—Bright's Disease and—death.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Strengthen and invigorate the kidneys—never fail to give quick relief and cure the most obstinate cases.

Rev. M. P. Campbell, pastor of the Baptist Church, Essex, Ont., says: "From my personal use of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Sharon's drug store, I can say they are a most excellent remedy for kidney troubles, and I recommend them to sufferers from such complaints."

ASSEMBLY NOTES.

Over 600 students registered at the Guelph Agricultural College during the year ending Feb. 1, 1902. The Dairy School at Strathroy has 57 young men in attendance now, and during the past week over 200 ladies listened to lectures given by Mrs. Torrance of Quebec.

Cornwall, Hawkesbury, London, West Wawanosh, East Wawanosh, Kinloss, Sydney Township and Carleton Place are all free from smallpox now. New cases, however, are reported from Brockville.

The annual report of the Department of Neglected and Dependent Children shows that 240 children were provided with foster homes last year. About 1,100 orphans were sent to Canada from England.

WHAT ARE PILES.

Ask Scores of People Who Endure the Wretched Itching, Burning Sensations of Piles and do not Know the Nature of Their Disease or the Remedy to Apply.

Piles or hemorrhoids, as they are sometimes called, are small tumors which form in and about the orifice of the rectum. They are caused by an enlarged and inflamed condition of the veins, which are very numerous in this part of the body. Internal piles are situated along the veins which carry blood from the intestines to the liver; external piles, on the veins which surround the rectum.

Piles are of frequent occurrence among people who have a predisposition to rheumatism or gout. Such persons are subject to constipation and to obstruction in the passage of blood from the intestines, the most common form of piles. Congestion of the rectum, bladder and uterine organs, ovarian tumors and nearly all diseases of the liver are followed by piles, and they are very liable to appear during pregnancy and immediately after childbirth.

In bleeding piles the hemorrhage is sometimes so profuse as to cause death, but protruding piles are probably more dreaded because it is believed that nothing short of a surgical operation will cure them. As a rule every form of piles becomes at times acutely inflamed and extremely painful. The itching and burning usually increases at night, and the misery which many people endure is beyond description.

The magical power which Dr. Chase's Ointment has over each and every kind of piles gives it mastery over this disease, even in its chronic form and it is not unusual to hear of it curing where cruel, expensive and dangerous operations have failed.

There is no guesswork about Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for piles. It has been tried in the crucible of time, and gradually won its way into favor with the medical profession, as well as with the public in general. It has a wonderful soothing and healing effect, and whenever applied to burning, itching, inflamed skin, it affords almost instant relief, cooling the fires of disease and healing the raw ulcerous skin.

As your friends and neighbours about Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is recognized by a surprisingly large number of people as the only actual cure for piles. It will not fail you. Sixty cents a box at all dealers, or by mail postpaid on receipt of price, by Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto. 3

The aldermen will be present and fight the case to a finish.

One hundred and nine electors, it is alleged, voted more than once in the municipal elections in January last. Some of them voted four times. Many of those on the list, however, did not by any means vote for all the aldermen elected.

How She Economized.

Husband—Mary, dear, did you buy that book you were telling me about on "how to economize in the kitchen."

Young Wife—Yes, dear, and it is just too lovely for anything! It is full of recipes telling how to utilize cold roast turkey with mushroom sauce and how to make truffle omelets and appetizers and— Why, John, what is the matter?

He staggered to the fireplace. "Give me that cookbook quick, Mary," he gasped hoarsely. "I must either burn it or rob a bank to pay for it!"

The Mirror In Photography.

Many amateurs in possession of a fixed focus camera, says Photography, have doubtless found a difficulty in obtaining a photograph of some object in a room through being too near to it. This difficulty can often be overcome by placing a large mirror in front of the object and the camera in front of the mirror. Avoid the camera being reflected in the glass by standing a little on one side.

England's Lost Land.

It is stated that every year England loses a tract of land the size of Gibraltar and that on the east coast alone the annual loss equals in territory the island of Heligoland. In the last hundred years an edge of England equal in area to the county of London has been submerged.

COUNTER IRRITATION.

Hot Applications, Plasters and Blisters to Relieve Pain.

The use of hot applications to the surface of the body for the relief of pain commended itself to mankind long before the formation of any theory as to how the favorable result was produced. It remained for Dr. Brown-Sequard to establish by actual experiment the fact that physical change is actually produced in tissues by counter irritation.

He found that the vessels of the surface to which the irritation was applied were dilated for several hours, as one might suppose they would be, while in the deeper tissues the vessels were very much diminished in size. Thus a mustard plaster on the region of the kidneys has a pronounced effect in reducing the size of the small arteries.

Experiment has also shown that a counter irritant, a Spanish fly blister on the back of a rabbit, for example, produces congestion of the superficial tissues, while the deeper organs, the lungs, are at the same time rendered anæmic.

Thus we have proof that sudden congestion of the lungs or brain may be to some extent relieved by counter irritants applied superficially to the chest and the back of the neck.

Several stages or degrees of counter irritation are possible of production, sometimes by use of the same remedy. For example, with an application of mustard one may produce simple redness of the skin, or by a longer application or a greater proportion of mustard ingredient blisters may be produced. Strong mustard plasters applied to patients who were unconscious of pain have even produced sloughing surfaces.

In irritating cough, particularly that of consumption, applications of iodine to the chest are often of much benefit, the effect being due to the temporary superficial congestion thus artificially established.

Counter irritation may be properly used in headaches, neuralgia, the first stage of croup or spasmodic cough and in relieving any sudden internal congestion or spasm. Sponges or cloths wrung from hot water and the various applications of hot water and mustard are usually employed. The hot footbath also and in childhood the entire warm water and mustard bath have been used in nearly every household to meet emergencies.

The use of strong counter irritants either of heat or various medicaments is to be resorted to only with great care when a person is without consciousness or when the nerves of sensation are inactive, as, for example, in paralysis of the lower limbs. Troublesome sores may result in such cases.

The use of counter irritants is also not advised in depleted states of the body. Blisters, and to a greater extent the more violent forms of counter irritation, carry away nutrient material from the blood in the process of repairing and so may seriously diminish the chances of ultimate recovery

The Coming Race.

"I see that some English doctor or something says that we are developing into a legless race."

"How could there be a race without legs?"

"Easy. What's the matter with a steamboat race? At the same time, it looks as if a legless race would be a great boom for politics."

"How so?"

"Everybody would be going on the stump."

Intelligence and the Suffrage.

Symonds—So you object to woman suffrage. I should like to know upon what grounds, if you have any reasonable ones.

Belcher—I've heard more than a hundred women say the men are all alike. With such an idea in their heads, how can you expect an intelligent use of the suffrage from them?

Easily Granted.

Ma—Certainly, Tommy. Cut the piece you have in two.

Enterprising.

"Is your traveling man enterprising?"

"Enterprising? That man could sell a carved ivory cardcase to an elephant!"

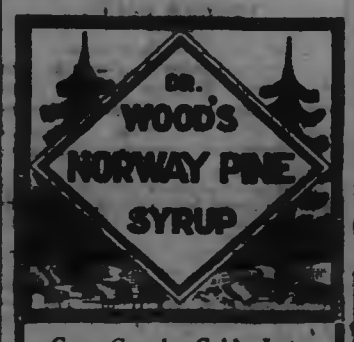
Young Mothers

Stand in special need of help while the baby is being nursed. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only strengthens the woman for motherhood and makes the birth hour practically painless, but it increases the nutritive secretions on which the child is fed. It soothes the nerves, encourages the appetite and rapidly restores the mother to robust health. There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription," neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic.

"I wish to let you know the great benefit my wife derived through taking your 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mr. Robert Harden, of Brandon, Manitoba, Box 236. "It was a case of childbirth. We had heard so much of it that my wife decided to try it. (I may say my wife is thirty-three and this was her first child.) She commenced to take 'Favorite Prescription' five months before her child was born. We have a fine, healthy girl, and we believe that this was mainly owing to the 'Favorite Prescription' taken faithfully according to directions. We shall certainly recommend it wherever we can."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets put the bowels in a healthy condition.



Cures Coughs, Colds, Lung and Bronchial affections that other remedies won't touch.

Mr. Thos. J. Smith, Caledonia, Ont., writes: "A year ago I had a very severe cold which settled in my lungs and in my throat, so that I could scarcely speak louder than a whisper. I tried several medicines, but got no relief until I used one and a half bottles of Norway Pine Syrup, which completely cured me."

Handsome gowns are made of white and black mousseline de soie. A favorite way of trimming the white gowns consists of stamping them with floral designs. These designs are outlined with silver spangles, and the inner shading is done with washes of gray water color. This gives a very shimmering and dainty effect. A gown recently made by Worth for Minnie Maddern Fiske carried out this idea. It was relieved by touches of turquoise blue liberty satin.

The beautiful evening gown in the illustration is made of sheer white all over lace. It has two linings, the upper one of mousseline and the under one of taffeta. The skirt and waist are covered with leaf applications of black mousseline outlined by silver spangles. The stems joining these leaves are also of silver spangles. Here and there is placed a fluffy pale yellow rose made out of chiffon, with a flower center. The belt is of folded panne. The sleeves reach to the elbow and consist of two small shoulder capes, into which are gathered soft transparent puffs of mousseline. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Extracted Without Pain.

The clerk of the lost article department of the street car company smiled affably as a pretty young woman came shyly up to his desk.

"I lost something in one of your street cars," she said.

"Yes? A handkerchief?"

"No."

"An umbrella then?"

"Something more valuable and personal," she said, blushing.

"Well, it could not have been a pocketbook or"—

He paused. He was becoming embarrassed too. She had said it was something more personal. Just when the silence was becoming painful she plucked up courage and added, "I lost—I lost—my husband's teeth."

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be, some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith they cure just the same, for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make these organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demand for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

They Furnish Material.

"After all," she said, "what would you do without woman?"

"Well," admitted the crusty bachelor, "without woman a whole lot of bright masculine writers would have mighty little interesting material for their pens, and a whole lot of wise philosophers would have difficulty finding subjects for their sage remarks. I will concede that much."

The Artist's Enthusiasm.

"Have you done anything with that mystery yet?" asked the friend.

"Yes," answered the detective; "we have found several clews that make it more mysterious than ever, which fact you will of course understand very materially enhances our artistic enjoyment."

$500 Reward

will be paid by Merrill the druggist, Brantford, to any firm who can produce more testimonials for a cough and cold cure than he can for his celebrated Four T's which cures coughs and colds in 24 hours. A Remarkable Story of a Cure by Faith Man Named Easton Injured About Six Years Ago.

(Toronto Telegram)

"Has a miracle been performed in our midst?" This is a question that many people are asking themselves today, and which a large number are answering in the affirmative. Nearly every man, woman and child in Toronto has seen at one time or another—and most of us many times, John Easton, the man who has lain in a plaster cast for six years and sold peanuts, with the help of his wife and family of three children, from his wagon on various street corners and during the baseball season at the King street entrance to the baseball grounds. Well, to-day John Easton can stand as straight, walk as steadily and move about as nimbly as the majority of mankind, and is the picture of health.

The facts of the case are most singular. Some months ago members of the local sect of Dowieites approached Mr. Easton as he lay in his wagon, disposing of peanuts, and persuaded him to become a follower of their belief, that of faith healing. Easton invited the Dowieites to visit him at his home at 191-2 Spadina avenue, a barn which he rents and in which his whole family resides with him. On January 20th Easton was converted. Since then he has not left his home, but has been lying on his back in his wagon, having cut out away the straps which held in his hammock-like plaster of paris case. "I have been praying ever since," he declared to a number of newspaper men who called to see him this morning.

At about ten o'clock last night twenty members of the Dowieite faith, headed by Deaconess Burgess, visited Easton, and all prayed fervently that he should be cured. There was no excitement, everything was as quiet and deliberate as possible. A neighbour who was interested in the ceremony was instructed to go out and procure a saw. This she did, and two of the Dowieites sawed through the plaster case which enveloped Easton, and which the latter himself helped to tear off. Easton then rose from his bed in the wagon, and stepped down to the floor declaring his belief "in God and Divine healing through the intercession of Lord Jesus." His family at once surrounded him and a scene of the greatest rejoicing ensued. Easton was asked to sit down but this he refused to do, declaring that he wanted to use his limbs for he had been lying down long enough. A jubilation service followed this apparent intervention of Providence, and hymns were sung and more prayers offered. From that time until now Mr. Easton has scarcely laid down, but has been walking to and fro and up and down stairs.

When this strange account of what was asserted to be divine healing became known, a Telegram representative went to ascertain the truth of the report. When he reached the barn of 19 1-2 Spadina avenue, in which Easton resides with his family, a number of children were hanging around the door, and vouchsafed the information that "Mr. Easton is walking around."

The Telegram man was invited into the house of a neighbour, in which Mr. Easton is now staying, and was shown into the parlour. He was informed that Mr. Easton was upstairs.

There certainly sounded as if there could be no doubt as to Mr. Easton's ability to use his limbs. Sure enough Mr. Easton entered the room a few minutes later, accompanied by his wife, who seemed to be the embodiment of happiness. There was not the slightest trace of deformity. Mr. Easton could not possibly look healthier or straighter than he did. To show that there was no deception he stooped over and bent backwards without the least exertion.

"Don't you feel any pain?" he was asked.

"None whatever," he replied; "it's wonderful what God can do!" All through his conversation Mr. Easton would break out with exclamations of gratitude to the Almighty, quoting passages of Scripture to emphasize the justification of his belief in divine healing.

"I rose up in the name of Jesus," he said; "it's a wonderful thing." His wife here put her arm around him and kissed him, at which he exclaimed "My dear wife."

"I guess there is no one in Toronto as happy as I am to-day," said Mrs. Easton.

A little girl of seven came into the room and climbed on her father's knee.

"She never sat on her father's knee before—until when?" he asked the little girl.

"Until last night," she answered.

Mr. Easton was injured on the Brantford street railway six years ago. Eminent doctors declared that his back was broken. He brought an action against the railway company but lost on an appeal. Up till last night he has worn a plaster of paris jacket ever since.

SOUTH BURLEIGH.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Saunder spent Sunday with Mr. R. Darling of Dourc.

Mrs. P. Cummings, who has been seriously ill is now recovering.

Mr. Stanley Thompson, of Delorraine, Manitoba, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Clarke Stone.

Miss Beattie Reid of Rochester, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Reid.

Messrs. Cecil and T. Sherin are running the Mount Julian sawmill.

Rev. Mr. McCamus of Lakefield, was prevented by bad roads from holding quarterly service at Eden church on February 9th.

Although the roads have been almost impassible, the farmers here have been busy taking out logs, cordwood and ice, and some of them have delivering hay to Apsley and country round about.

CONSUMPTION AN UNKNOWN DISEASE IN TEN YEARS.

Statement of Dr. John Ferguson The New Free Consumptive Hospital an Immediate Helper to this End.

The statement of Dr. John Ferguson, one of Toronto's well-known physicians, that "if consumptive patients were properly isolated and treated, within ten years from now tuberculosis would be one of the rarest of known diseases," ought to prove an encouraging stimulus to the friends of the new Free Consumptive Hospital to hurry along subscriptions towards the furnishing of this institution, capable of admitting at once fifty patients, and without any charge.

The curability of tuberculosis is clearly in evidence in the records of the Muskoka Cottage Sanatorium, under the management of the National Sanitarium Association, and under whose auspices the new Free Consumptive Hospital has been built. In four years 510 patients have been treated, and more than 352 have been cured or so helped that they could go back to work, caring for wife or child or those dependent upon them.

The new Free Consumptive Hospital is situated in Muskoka, not far from the Muskoka Cottage Sanatorium, the two gentlemen who have generously borne the cost of constructing the building desiring that the same benefits that have come to patients of the Muskoka Cottage Sanatorium, by virtue of its excellent situation, should go to the poorer patients, whose only hope is in admittance to the Free Consumptive Hospital.

All that is wanting now is the furnishing of this Hospital with beds and other necessary appointments. The National Sanitarium Association, because of their heavy debt, are unable to undertake this part of the work. Only let the many whose hearts are touched by such distressing cases as are constantly chronicled in newspaper columns, send their contributions of $1.00 or, if possible, $5.00, $10.00, or $50.00, and no time will be lost in opening wide the doors of the new Hospital. Contributions will be received by Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Chief Justice, 1 Lamport Ave., Toronto; W. J. Gage, Esq., 54 Front St. West, Toronto; or The National Trust Co., Limited, Treasurer, 22 King St. East.

A very enjoyable hop was held in Mr. Heard's Hall on Monday evening, the 10th inst. Dancing was indulged in by the young folks until 12 o'clock and everyone seemed to have had a pleasant time.

A number of men are engaged in building gates for the locks here, the foreman being Mr. J. Robinson of Peterborough.

Rev. M. F. Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore, visited Father Phelan last week. His old acquaintances were delighted to behold his smiling countenance once again in their midst.

They Never Wash.

The Lappe, a people of northern Europe, never wash. They abhor water, and from infancy to age their clothing is never changed except when it is worn out. They wear the same garments, made of reindeer skin with the hair next to the flesh, day and night, winter and summer.

Birds' Nests For Soup.

Nine million birds' nests for soup making are brought into Canton in a year. It takes fifty to make a pound, and they cost $2.50 an ounce.

Cheops.

There are 4,000 tons of stone in the pyramid of Cheops. It could be built for $20,000,000 today.

Vesuvius.

When Vesuvius is at her best as a spouter, she performs wonders. Her longest and greatest eruption lasted from July, 1895, to September, 1899, and one day a rock weighing 30 tons was hurled to a height of 1,200 feet.

Borax.

The United States produces as much borax as the rest of the world combined.

The Driest Place.

The driest place in the world is that of Egypt between the two lower falls of the Nile. Rain has never been known to fall there, and the inhabitants do not believe travelers when told that water falls from the sky.

Alaskan Jewelry.

From ivory, gold and silver the Alaskan native makes bracelets, spoons, rings and other articles prettily engraved. In the Indian village near Sitka there is a "native jewelry store," as a sign over the door announces to the wondering tourist.

The Gulf Stream.

The gulf stream is from 100 to 200 miles wide and over 5,000 miles long, extending from the strait between Florida and Cuba to the northern coast of Norway.

Sea Salt.

Asbestus.

Asbestus is found in nearly all parts of the globe, but there is probably no product of inorganic nature about which there is so much mystery. The principal claim for this remarkable product is that it cannot be consumed by fire.

To Copy Writing.

To copy writing instantly add a little sugar to the ink, with which write the letter to be copied; then lay a sheet of unsized thin paper damped with a sponge on the writing. Not a Nauseating Pill.

The excipient of a pill is the substance which enfolds the ingredients and makes up the pill mass. That of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills is so compounded as to preserve their moisture and they can be carried into any latitude without impairing their strength. Many pills, in order to keep them from adhering, are rolled in powders, which prove nauseating to the taste. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are so prepared that they are agreeable to the most delicate.

HOME RULE FOR IRISH

Written on Liberal Leader's Slate and He Won't Rub it Off.

BRITISH LIBERAL WAR POLICY

A Regular Peace on Broad and Generous Lines Advocated—Policy of Insisting on Unconditional Surrender of the Boers in South Africa Condemned—A Welcome to the Rosebery Impetus.

London, Feb. 20. — Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman is opposed to Lord Rosebery's clean slate policy. Speaking at Leicester last night, he said home rule for Ireland was written on his slate, and he was not going to rub it off.

The Liberal War Policy.

London, Feb. 20.—At the annual meeting of the General Committee of the National Liberal Federation, held at Leicester yesterday, after considerable dissent and an animated debate, a resolution was passed condemning the policy of insisting on the unconditional surrender of the Boers in South Africa, affirming that the future contentment and security of South Africa could only be secured by regular peace, on broad, generous lines, welcoming the impetus Lord Rosebery has given to this policy, and calling on all Liberal members of the House of Commons to support the Liberal leader. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, in his advocacy of this policy.

Irish Land Clearance Sale.

Dublin, Feb. 20.—Twenty farms Lord De Freyne's estate in Roscommon County were sold by the Sheriff yesterday, the tenants having refused to pay rent.

Criminal Recklessness.

Winnipeg, Feb. 19.—The jury in the Portage la Prairie boiler explosion inquest rendered a verdict that the boiler had never been inspected and was run without a safety valve.

Wrecked and Blown Up.

Marseilles, Feb. 19.—A small coasting steamer, the Pioneer, was wrecked during a snowstorm yesterday, near Toulon. An explosion of acetylene, later, on board the steamer killed the captain and a passenger and injured two other passengers.

CANADIAN CASUALTIES.

W. J. Jones Killed, M. G. Hearns Danger. ously Wounded, G. H. Landy Dead from Enteric Fever, H. A. Nealon Ill.

William James Jones was killed at Uitkyt on Feb. 17, next of kin Mrs. Jones, 107 Wardell street, Toronto.

Milford Selwyn Kearns, dangerously wounded, same date, next of kin, Mrs. Kearns, Beeton, Ont.

Died from enteric fever at Heidelberg on Feb. 15, George Robert Lundy, next of kin, C. L. Landy of Innisfail.

Fourteen More to Go.

Ottawa, Feb. 20.—The British War Office has granted the request of the Militia Department to forward 14 men of the third contingent, detained through sickness at Halifax, to South Africa. These will go by the first hay boat leaving St. John's.

Coops Up the Boers.

London, Feb. 20.—A despatch to The Times, from Bank Kop, in the Eastern Transvaal, says the Boers are very timid, keeping on the alert and beyond striking distance of the British. The condition of the prisoners indicates great distress among the burghers. Lord Kitchener's gradual extension of the system of blockhouses is overcoming the difficulties of distance. The Boers are not yet cooped up, but their movements are restricted. The line is now extended to Bank Kop, twenty miles nearer the Swaziland border than the Ermelo Depot, from which the columns formerly operated. Bank Kop is easily provisioned and secure.

Good Advice For Mr. Kruger.

London, Feb. 20.—A despatch to The Times from Rome says—The Tribuna publishes an open letter to Mr. Kruger, and urges him to borrow from history an indication of his duty toward his country. The paper advises Mr. Kruger to sue for peace, since it is evident the Transvaal no longer exists except as a geographical term.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 20.—Stanislaus Lacroix, the Montebello murderer, was told by his priest yesterday that the sentence of death must be carried out, and that he will be hanged on March 21st, in Hull jail. Lacroix has been hoping that he would be given a new trial. He will be closely watched lest he attempt to suicide, as he threatened to do when he was sentenced. An order-in-council has been passed, allowing the law to take its course in the case of Lacroix.

Big Fire at Merritton.

A GENERAL REARRANGEMENT

Assessment Commission Proposes a Genuine Revolution.

NO TAX ON PERSONAL PROPERTY

The Rental Value to Be Made the Basis Instead of Personality—Real Estate to Be Taxed to Its Value—Bonuses of Corporations—A Provincial Board Suggested—A House Tax One of the Personality Substitutes.

Toronto, Feb. 20.—The report of the Ontario Assessment Commission was presented to the Legislature yesterday afternoon by the Provincial Secretary, and is signed by Judge Maclennan, Judge MacMahon, K. W. McKay, A. Pratt, M. J. Butler and D. R. Wilkie. Several very radical changes in the existing law are recommended.

Recommendations.

The following is the summary of recommendations made:

1. That real property be assessed at its actual value, including mineral lands and the real property of all corporations. That the right of use by any person of highways or other public places, in addition to the structures thereon, be assessed at actual value.

2. That the assessment and taxation of personal property, other than income, be abolished.

3. That in lieu of a tax on personal property the following method of taxation be adopted: (a) Tax all persons (with some exceptions in the case of some corporations) with reference to their income (subject to a suitable exemption), in most cases indirectly, but, in some cases, directly, upon income; (b) Where a person's income is derived from trade, manufacture, financial or commercial business (private bankers and brokers excepted), in cities, towns and villages, tax the person by reference to the rental value of the premises occupied for the purpose of his business or occupation, instead of directly upon income. (c) In the case of persons following other callings (including private bankers and brokers), exempt income up to $1000; where income is more than $1000, but not more than $4000, tax the person by reference to his rental value of the premises occupied for the purposes of his business or occupation, instead of directly upon income. (d) Where the income of such a person is more than $4000, tax him by reference to the rental value of the premises occupied for the purpose of his business or occupation, in lieu of assessing his income up to $4000, and tax him directly upon any additional income above $4000. (e) In the case of persons having income derived from investments and the like, and not from their business or calling, tax them directly upon such income (subject to exemptions).

4. Impose in cities, towns and villages, as a supplementary tax, a tax on all owners and occupiers of houses (meaning by that term, buildings used as dwelling places), by assessing them for the rental value of the houses, subject to a deduction, by way of exemption, graded according to the population of the municipality.

Results of Recommendations.

Stated shortly, the result of the above recommendations would be that (a) in cities, towns and villages, every person in commercial or financial business (private bankers and brokers excepted), and, (b) every other person, whose income is not more than $4000, would be taxed on the rental value of his business premises and of his residence; (c) that persons who have no calling would be taxed on their income (subject to exemptions), and on the rental value of their residence; and that (d) persons (including private bankers and brokers), following callings not commercial or financial, and having income, not exempt, of more than $4000, would be taxed on the rental value of their dwelling places and places of business, and, directly, upon their income above $4000.

5. That a Provincial Board be appointed for the assessment of land of railway corporations, the income of express companies and the "special franchises" of other persons, together with the land used with the "special franchise," the tax on the amounts assessed to be paid to the Provincial Treasurer, and to be distributed, after deducting the expenses of the board, amongst the various municipalities concerned. An appeal from the board to the Court of Appeal, in a proper case, to be provided for.

Single Tax Not Practical.

The report then goes on to discuss measures for reform, the most radical of which is the single tax, or tax on land values only, irrespective of improvements. "No instance can be pointed to as a precedent, in which a community comprising a large variety of interests has made experiments of the system. The effect of its immediate adoption would obviously and admittedly be to confiscate either wholly or in a great part the property of one class of the community. It cannot be said in Ontario that land owners have acquired their property by force or fraud. They have purchased it. The policy of the country ever since it became a civilized one, has been to confer and recognize ownership in land, as well as in other property. To alter that policy and without compensation to deprive owners of their property, lawfully acquired, involves a radical change in policy and in the social community, which is not practicable."

THE ASSEMBLY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Premier Says Toronto's Bill For Right to Produce and Distribute Electrical Energy Should Go to Committee.

Toronto, Feb. 19.—In the Legislative Assembly to-day bills were introduced by Mr. Pattullo to amend the Electric Railway Act, by Mr. Brower to amend the Agricultural and Arts Act, and by Mr. Gross respecting civil engineers.

A GRATIFYING SALE

The multitude of buyers attending this Sale each day speaks volumes for the strong inducements that are offered in decidedly low prices for desirable goods. Throngs filled this store again all day. Some were those who had attended before and found it immensely profitable, and others came recommeded by those who had been here before, and of course, many came who couldn't come before. Don't wait for a quiet time during this Ten Days' Sale, for Sutcliffe & Sons' Sales have no quiet time. First opportunity is none too soon. This Big Sacrifice Sale demands your time and money for your own interests. Can you afford to deprive yourself of this privilege. During this sale store Opens at 10 a.m. and closes at 5 p.m., for after these very busy days of selling we will not ask our employees to come back at nights to straighten and prepare for the morrow, consequently an hour in the evening and two in the morning are taken off the selling time.

DISCREDITABLE TACTICS.

Certain Conservative Opposition journals are prepared to, and do, go to extreme lengths in attempts to discredit the Ross Government in connection with prohibition. Having little or no respect for the truth it cannot be expected that such journals would show any respect to even Ministers of the Gospel. The following letter, written to the Toronto World, by Rev. A. C. Courtice, editor of the Christian Guardian, indicates how reckless the junior Conservative organ is in using false statements to bolster up its attacks on the Government—no matter how the truth is outraged or the clerical cloth smirched—so long as it is thought that a point can be made against the Ross Government.

To the Editor of the World,—

Dear Sir, — As you have used my name very recklessly, in the main unfairly, and in many statements untruthfully, I ask you to print on your first page, and with equal prominence, the following:

First. The meeting which you profess to report was a private meeting, and quite a different report was handed to your reporter on Saturday, from that which you printed on Monday.

Secondly. No such report as you have printed was supplied to you by anyone who had any right to say what transpired.

Thirdly. Many of the statements are untrue. The following sentence attributed to me I characterize as untrue:

"Premier Ross had written him two letters in which he had pledged himself to have the referendum taken on certain conditions, and the clauses in the bill on the points in question were the exact opposite of what Premier Ross had promised."

Fourthly. That I advised the Executive to "immediately repudiate the bill," and "ignore" the referendum, is reckless and misleading.

Fifthly. There are two conditions attached to the referendum which I criticized severely. (See The Christian Guardian of this week.).

Sixthly. Your reference to others than myself is unreliable, and your whole method is bad; instead of encouraging me to confer with Mr. Whitney as to his policy, it has the exactly opposite effect.

A. C. COURTICE,

Toronto, February 17, 1902.

A newspaper which will take a course to bring down such a reproof cannot be regarded as a safe guide in regard to information concerning prohibition matters and the referendum.

Happenings in the Village on the Trent —Personal Mention.

The Caledonian Concert Co., which appeared in the Town Hall on Saturday evening, was greeted with a somewhat large audience. Never before has such an excellent concert as this been given in Hastings, and it is hoped that they may be able to appear again at some future time.

Rev. R. T. C. Reeves, of Campbellford, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church on Sunday.

Mr. T. Frederick and Mr. Gordon Moffat, of Norwood, were in town on Monday.

During the last few days business has been a little brisker here, and is without doubt appreciated by the merchants.

Lenten services are being held in St. Mary's church at present—twice during the week, on Wednesday and Friday evenings, Rev. Father McGuire officiating.

THE NORWOOD BUDGET.

What is Going on in the Village to the East.

Miss Nellie Davidson, who has been spending the past four weeks visiting her sister in Keene, is home again.

Mr. Geo. Sherry was in Peterborough on business on Tuesday.

Mr. W. E. Roxburgh went up to Toronto Tuesday evening to attend the annual meeting of the Association of Fairs and Exhibitions.

Mr. Wm. Hodson, who is employed by Messrs. John Finley & Son, had the misfortune to have his foot crushed by a stick of timber falling on it, as a result he will be off work for some time.

On Friday evening last the Keene Hockey boys drove over and played the return match in the semi-finals of the Trent Valley League. As the game in Keene was a tie both teams were determined to win. Shortly after 8 o'clock Mr. Glover, of Peterborough, who acted as referee, lined the teams up and the game began in earnest. From the start the home team had the best of the game, but a lucky shot from centre ice made by McCarthy landed the puck in the net and the first honours went to Keene. Norwood boys then settled down to work and in a few minutes tallied making the score one all. For some time the puck wandered up and down the ice before the home team scored again. After half time the Norwood boys made things hot and run the score up to 5-1. Keene then got down to work and by hard work succeeded in scoring twice again, making the score at time 5-3 in favour of Norwood, and leaving them victors in the semi-finals. For Keene, Dickson at point did some splendid work and had it not been for him the home team would have made the score much larger. Drummond, Keene's young goal tender, also deserves special mention. For Norwood, R. Pearce's wrist-shots made things interesting. On the whole it might be said the home team were off their game and they will need to settle down to some hard practising if they intend to land the trophy in Norwood. The teams were as follows:

Norwood—Goal, Robson; point, Pearce; cover point, Nicol; forwards, R. Pearce, Rathwell, Kempt and Miller.

Keene—Goal, Drummond, point, Dickson; cover point, McCarthy; forwards, McIntyre, Taylor, McCarthy and Lynch.

On Friday evening the Norwood team goes to Fenelon Falls to play the first match in the finals.

Mr. John Neilson, the world's champion skater, gave an exhibition of trick and fast skating in the Palace Skating Rink here on Tuesday evening. Neilson is certainly a wonder and well worth seeing.

On Sunday last the pulpit of the Presbyterian church was occupied by the Rev. Mr. McKnight, of Peterborough. In the morning the rev. gentleman took as his text I. Peter, ii, 6. "Behold I lay on Zion a chief corner stone, elect, precious, and he that believeth on Him shall not be confounded." In a quiet but earnest way he urged all to believe in Christ, stating that irrespective of creed they that believed on Him should not be confounded. In the evening he delivered a quiet but home-reaching address on the text "Ye must be born again."

OMEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The roads are now pretty well opened up to Peterborough and Omemee. Large numbers of farmers made a trip there on Saturday last.

The bad roads and weather prevented many delegates that intended going to Fenelon Falls on the 12th, from attending, but the good Government in power will be supported.

We are to have a large number of stock holders in the Cordage Co. before it is closed. Farmers and others are gaining more confidence since the machinery and other prospects are coming up. Many doubling up their first shares taken.

Rev. Mr. Kannawin attended the funeral of the late Rev. Mr. Andrews, Keene. The deceased was held in the highest respect by many of the old settlers here. Often exchanging pulpits with the late Rev. J. Ewing, his colleague.

One of our local ice-hole fishermen has had to pay $32.00 for his sport. Inspectors Yelland and Brady got on to the racket from Peterborough purchasers, who have a particular taste and relish for the finny tribe captured in Pigeon Creek waters. Other illegal fishers are trembling in their shoes.

For Singers and Speakers.

The New Remedy for Catarrh is Very Valuable.

A Grand Rapids gentleman who represents a prominent manufacturing concern and travels through central and southern Michigan, relates the following regarding the new catarrh cure. he says:

"After suffering from catarrh of head, throat and stomach for several years, I heard of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets quite accidently and like everything else I immediately bought a package and was decidedly surprised at the immediate relief it afforded me and still more to find a complete cure after several weeks' use.

"I have a little son who sings in a boy's choir in one of our prominent churches, and he is greatly troubled with hoarseness and throat weakness, and on my return home from a trip I gave him a few of the tablets one Sunday morning when he had complained of hoarseness. He was delighted with their effect, removing all huskiness in a few minutes and making the voice clear and strong.

"As the tablets are very pleasant to the taste. I had no difficulty in persuading him to use them regularly.

"Our family physician told us they were an antiseptic preparation of undoubted merit and that he himself had no hesitation in using and recommending Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for any form of catarrh.

"I have since met many public speakers and professional singers who used them constantly. A prominent Detroit lawyer told me that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets kept his throat in fine shape during the most trying weather, and that he had long since discarded the use of cheap lozenges and troches on the advice of his physician that they contained so much tolu, potash and opium as to render their use a danger to health."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large pleasant tasting lozenges composed of catarrhal antiseptics, like Red Gum, Blood Root, etc., and sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents for full treatment.

They act upon the blood and mucous membrane and their composition and remarkable success has won the approval of physicians, as well as thousands of sufferers from nasal catarrh, throat troubles and catarrh of stomach.

A little book on treatment of catarrh mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

The Work is Better Done by DIAMOND DYES And at a Much Smaller Cost.

Some people still cling to the old, but now discarded, idea, that garments and wool and cotton fabrics can only be well dyed when they are sent to the regular dyehouse in the city. Such people should at once give the Diamond Dyes a trial, and they will quickly find that these great home colouring agents give brighter and more enduring colours at one fourth the cost charged by the dye-house.

Many letters have come from ladies testifying to the fact that Diamond Dyes have done work that the professional dyer failed to do in proper manner. Try one package of Diamond Dyes, observing the simple directions, and you will be surprised at the result.

"The Something Just as Good" Substituted for PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Beware of Druggists Who Sell Imitations Knowing Them to be Such.

"The Something Just as Good," which is a poor and worthless imitation of life-saving Paine's Celery Compound, is foisted on many an unsuspecting buyer by dishonest and greedy druggists and dealers who have not the slightest interest in the welfare of the sick and afflicted. Their thoughts are wholly centered on extra large profits; it is a matter of indifference to them whether you or your friends live or die. We have recently come into possession of one of the imitations referred to; we have had it chemically analyzed and find it unfit for human use.

The large majority of our druggists are honest and sympathetic men, and will never condescend to substitution or deception. You should, however, when anyone suggests the "Something Just as Good," or offers you a vile imitation for the Paine's Celery Compound, which alone can meet your case, at once resent his impertinence and leave the store. All honest and straightforward druggists gladly recommend Paine's Celery Compound to their customers and speak with pleasure about the wonderful cures it has effected.

Beware of the "Something Just as Good," and all imitations. See that the name, "PAINE'S" is on wrapper and bottle.

ARE USED.

Miss Margaret Brown, 627 Colborne St., London, Ont., says:—"My mother has been afflicted with nervousness and general debility for a long time. She suffered a great deal with insomnia, and found it almost impossible to sleep.

"I went to W. T. Strong's drug store and got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve pills, which she took, and derived so much benefit from them that I bought another box for her. They have done her a wonderful lot of good, making her nervous system much stronger, giving her restful sleep, and removing many other symptoms which previously distressed her.

"I can truly say that these pills are a great remedy for any one suffering from weak nerves, general debility, sleeplessness or heart trouble."

Mr. Carscallen moved the third reading of his bill respecting the Synod of the Diocese of Niagara, which gives power to the Bishop to send three men into any diocese where there is a disagreement between a clergyman and his parishioners on the report of two of whom the clergyman might be removed.

Mr. Pense said it was unusual at such a late stage to oppose a bill, but he protested against the principle involved. The Provincial Synod had declared that no clergyman should be removed from his parish unless tried and condemned by a bench of bishops. The bill, if passed into law, might result in much hardship, as a clergyman so removed might find great difficulty in obtaining a livelihood.

Col. Matheson thought that the Synod had adopted a very arbitrary canon.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt was of the opinion that in case ill feeling arose between a clergyman and his flock or even a considerable minority of them, the sooner he was transferred from his parish to another the better. Anglican though he was he was rather disposed to favor the Methodist system of itinerancy, as it was often the case that a clergyman without being seriously blameworthy found himself at variance with a number of his people. It was to meet such cases that the bill was framed, and he thought it was a reasonable piece of legislation. It was known by those interested that the bill was coming before the House but no objection was taken to it.

Mr. Whitney said it was impossible to expect a clergyman to be persona grata to all in his parish. The bill seemed to him somewhat arbitrary, but as no one had turned up to oppose it in Committee they could hardly send it back.

Hon. J. M. Gibson considered that the measure gave extraordinary power to the Bishop. It was, however, hardly the place of this Legislature to control or exercise a revising power over the legislation of the churches unless a minority who were aggrieved appealed to them to do so.

The bill received a third reading.

The bills to confirm bylaw No. 348 of the Town of Paisley by Mr. Malcolm, and to amend the Act of Incorporation of the Toronto Stock Exchange by Mr. Foy, were read a third time.

They Wanted to Know.

Hon. J. R. Stratton replying to Mr. Kribs, stated that it was not the intention of the Government to build additions to the Orillia Asylum for Idiots or the Belleville Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb.

Hon. J. M. Gibson informed Mr. Matheson that Thomas Hewson Murray of Sault Ste. Marie had been appointed Registrar pro tem for East Algoma.

Mr. Carscallen asked a long list of questions as to the supposed importation of binder twine by the Central Prison authorities or contractors or persons having rights and privileges in that institution, to which Mr. Stratton replied that none was imported by the authorities. The Government did not interfere with the private business of contractors, and he did not know whether they imported any or not. The price at which they were bound to supply binder twine to the farmers was cheaper than that at which the latter could obtain it elsewhere.

Hon. R. Harcourt told Mr. Matheson that no agreements had been executed permitting Mr. G. N. Morang to publish school books.

Mr. Smith obtained an order for a return showing the number of visiting committees appointed under the act respecting neglected and dependent children.

Second Readings.

Mr. Lee moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Election Act. He explained that the measure was intended to give railway men who might otherwise be absent from their constituencies on polling day, an opportunity to vote the day before or the day after the election.

Hon. G. W. Ross sympathized with the object of the bill, but pointed out some of the practical difficulties in the way. It would greatly increase the responsibilities of deputy returning officers who would have the ballots in their custody over night.

Mr. Whitney took advantage of this opening to repeat his familiar recitation as to the prevalence of corruption, ballot-box stuffing, etc., which drew from the Premier two or three times the emphatic comment, "That is untrue!" Then the bill was withdrawn.

Bills amending the Municipal Act by Mr. Russell, Mr. Smith, Mr. Auld and Mr. Carscallen received a second reading.

Mr. Carscallen's bill to amend the Assessment Act, giving municipal councils discretion as to distraining for taxes, excited some discussion, the promoter warmly contending that towns and cities should not be compelled to act as bailiffs for mortgagees and loan companies in extorting taxes from those who were too poor to pay them by process of distress. The bill was sent to committee.

Mr. Carscallen moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Election Act, which transferred to the province all the expense of holding Provincial Elections, now partly borne by urban municipalities. Hon. G. W. Ross pointed out that if this principal prevailed the province would simply have to increase the expenditure and find additional sources of revenue. The bill was out of order as being a charge upon the revenue. The measure was accordingly withdrawn.

Municipal Electricity.

Mr. Crawford moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Municipal Act explaining that it enabled the city to enter into contracts for the production of electricity on an extensive scale.

Hon. G. W. Ross said the bill showed no consideration for vested rights or other competitors. He did not at present know how far he could commit himself to municipal ownership. There were certainly notable instances of its success in Britain, but a great deal depended upon competent management, and there were many contingencies to be taken into account. It was a very wide question and the bill had better be sent to the Municipal Committee.

Mr. Pattullo said if Toronto got a monopoly of the power of Niagara Falls it would injure the smaller towns and cities. Moreover it would benefit the manufacturers of Toronto rather than the citizens generally. There was no urgency and the settlement of the question should be delayed until further information were obtained.

Mr. Crawford said the question of municipal ownership was a growing one and would have to be dealt with very soon. Toronto wanted no monopoly but did want the cheapest possible supply of electric power.

Hon. J. R. Stratton thought the question might safely be left in the hands of the ratepayers of Toronto.

Mr. Carscallen said the development of electrical power at Niagara Falls should be a provincial proposition. He strongly favored municipal ownership as regards many enterprises.

Mr. Foy said the bill did not seek any monopoly for Toronto and that other municipalities that cared to participate would receive the benefit of it. The bill was read a second time.

After Recess.

A number of private bills were reported from committee. The House went into Committee of Supply and considering the remaining items under the head of Public Buildings, including $100,000 for the new building for the School of Practical Science, Toronto, the total estimated cost of which is $200,000, and a re-vote of $30,000 for the Reformatory for Boys, Oxford. Mr. Matheson asked whether the institution was to be built in the North or South Riding, and whether the site had been selected, and was informed that it had not yet been chosen.

The items under the head of Agriculture were explained by Hon. John Dryden. Traveling expenses and allowances for lecturers at Farmers' Institutes showed an increase from $7,500 to $8,500. The grants to Farmers' Institutes were also increased from $2,400 to $3,000. Mr. Elber thought that the lectures at Farmers' Institutes were doing much good but complained that they included among traveling expenses items which the Government should not be called on to pay. Mr. Kidd said that some of the lecturers were incompetent, though admitting that others were well qualified. Mr. Dryden said that local institutes had much to do with the selection of lecturers. Every possible care was taken to send out good men and the farming public generally were well satisfied. Mr. McLaughlin thought that western lecturers should not be sent to Eastern Ontario as the conditions were different. Mr. Duff urged a wider circulation of the reports and bulletins issued by the department. Mr. Elber, referring to the item of $2,500 for cold storage, said he heartily approved of the action of the department and would be glad to see the vote doubled. Mr. Kidd agreed as to importance of educating the farmers in this line. Hon. Mr. Latchford said that the design as to cheap cold storage building placed before the farmers by the Department of Agriculture was excellent in point of efficiency and simplicity in operation. Mr. Pattullo contrasted the present attitude of the Opposition members with their former antagonism to the cold storage policy. He was glad to note that the Dominion Government was taking a practical interest in perfecting the cheese-curing system. Mr. Matheson replied that the Opposition did not oppose cold storage, but the method adopted by the Government in distributing the grants in aid of the system. He advocated the abandonment of the Pioneer Farm at Fryden. The Minister of Agriculture enlarged on the good work done by the Pioneer Farm, which had illustrated the agricultural capacities of the Wabigoon settlement and become the nucleus of a thriving colony.

Merrill Challenges the World.

Merrill, the druggist of Brantford, offers $1000 reward to anyone who will make a better cure for constipation than Merrill's System Tonic. This medicine is not simply a cathartic, but a positive and pleasant to take cure for habitual constipation. In this way it cures dyspepsia, impure blood and nervous trouble. 50 doses price 50 cents, at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

Silently Absented.

The Nervous Pedestrian ran plump into a Stolid Individual standing in front of a Clothing Store.

"You Dummy!" he shouted.

The Stolid Individual ignored the Accusation. A Second Glance showed the Nervous Pedestrian that he was Right.

OSHAWA MIRACLE IS EXPLAINED.

How a Remarkable Case of Paralysis was Cured.

THE MOST INTERESTING MAN IN CANADA.

Joseph Brown Attracts Attention of Physicians, Scientists and Sick People.

From the Mail and Empire.

Oshawa, Ont., Feb. 19. — Joseph Brown, whose case was fully reported in The Mail and Empire some days ago, seems to be the most talked-of and written-about man in Canada. He is in receipt daily of many letters from all over the Dominion. Physicians and scientists, as well as sick people, write him, and many and often amusing questions are asked. To all Mr. Brown answers: "I have given my sworn statement, and it tells my story. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and that after I had been partially paralyzed and unable to move for over four months, and given up by many doctors."

Many people have been puzzled as to how a kidney medicine can cure paralysis. This is easily understood when it is remembered that the kidney poison, which is the direct result of kidney weakness, is most destructive to all healthy tissue and nerve.

JOSEPH BROWN.

Seventy-five per cent. of all nervous diseases, paralysis and brain troubles is directly caused by weak kidneys, allowing violent poisons to escape through the system to derange and destroy.

Dodd's Kidney Pills by correcting the action of the kidneys, encourage these natural filters of the blood to extract and expel the poisons, thus removing the cause of many of these dangerous ailments, which are not generally spoken of as kidney diseases.

GOUDIE TELLS HIS STORY.

Was Under the Influence of Mances, an American Bookmaker.

London, Feb. 19.—When the hearing of the charges against the defendants in the case of the Bank of Liverpool frauds was resumed yesterday, Thomas P. Goudie, the accused bookkeeper of the bank, was placed on the stand as a witness for the Crown. He told his story substantially, as already known, and said James Mances, an American bookmaker, accused of connection with the robberies, introduced himself to Goudie as an American acquainted with American jockeys, and, hence, in a position to "spot" winners. The introduction was followed by bets, whereby Marks & Company won £30,000 during the first week. Goudie explained that fears of exposure rendered him an easy victim of Mances' wiles.

THE BIRKBECK LOAN COMPANY.

Mr. Wm. Fair, who was recently appointed superintendent of the district for the Birkbeck Loan Co., has secured the services of a good staff of agents under his care, all of whom are respectable citizens of the town. Being a permanent stock company of nine years standing this company should meet with the success it deserves, especially in the Industrial Savings Branch. The company fills its agreement to the letter; in fact it has been known to do more than it promises, as the following testimonial speaks for itself:

(From the Trenton Advocate.)
Trenton, Feb. 5th.

The Birkbeck Loan Co., London:

Gentlemen,—I thank you for the manner in which you responded to my application for the withdrawal of my deceased son's investment in your Company. Knowing the rules required 154 payments to be made and my son having only paid in a little over one hundred, you paid me the money with a good interest. I am perfectly satisfied. Wishing your Company every success, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
MRS. ELIZA FRITZE.

IN LATEST SPORTING CIRCLES.

Is it Hamilton or Newmarket To-morrow Night?

The Game Will Take Place Without Fail Items of Interest to Local Sportsmen—Curling and Hockey.

HOCKEY.

The Markham rink being otherwise engaged last night, the Hamilton-Newmarket game was postponed until to-night. It will be played in Toronto, the teams taking the ice as soon as Upper Canada College and Belleville have finished, and will decide who is to meet Peterborough. The scores in the previous Hamilton-Newmarket games are not considered.

The Intermediate Series of the O. H. A. is in rather an uncertain state at the present time. There is to be a game in Peterborough to-morrow night, but who Peterborough is to play against has not been exactly decided. Of course it is known that the team that will come to Peterborough to-morrow night will be either Hamilton or Newmarket, and the matter of which of these two teams should drop out of the running should have been decided last night. However, the game which was to have been a sudden death affair, did not come off, as the ice could not be procured. The result was that the event was further postponed until to-night. Some may be curious to know whether this state of affairs will interfere with the arrangements for to-morrow night's game, whether in view of the fact that Hamilton or Newmarket—either one of which is supposed to come to Peterborough — but by reason of their playing to-night might not be pressed to play two nights in succession. However, the delay in the Hamilton-Newmarket game is not owing to the O.H.A. management, but is accountable to the two teams interested in the match, for that reason there will be no postponement. There should be one of the best matches of the season to-morrow night.

The unexpected often happens. Hamilton is certain of winning out the game against Newmarket, and they are pretty generally looked to as the victors. It was owing to this fact that they have been communicating with the Peterborough club as to the arrangements for the next round, that the Peterborough management got out the bills for the game to-morrow night with the name of the Hamilton team thereon. On the other hand, Newmarket has been saying nothing, and a surprise may strike the hockey public of the province, to-night, that may stagger the Hamiltonians' supporters even more more than the shock the Port Hope people received in Cobourg when their "Invincibles" were made to bite the dust. It is never a good thing to be too sure. All that Peterborough ever says is that they will do the best they can, and they get along better than some teams that spend a lot of time in crowing about what they are going to do, when they should be getting into condition to carry out their boasts.

Of course the name Hamilton sounds large. It is a city and carries with it great weight, but it is a question whether they would be more welcome in Peterborough than Newmarket. Not that Peterborough is anyway timid about running up against the Hamiltonians, but Peterborough in hockey circles at least, should cherish a warm feeling towards the Newmarket people. There are several reasons for this. First, the gentleman who we might term, the father of hockey in Peterborough, viz., W. J. Montgomery, came from Newmarket; secondly, ex-captain Hollingshead comes from Newmarket and again the present point-player of the Newmarket team is Mr. Albert Brundrette, goal keeper for the champion colts of last year, and now a member of the Ontario Bank staff of Newmarket. There should be a friendly feeling existing between the two teams, but the game itself should be none the less keenly contested.

Cornwall defeated the Frontenacs of Kingston, last night, and will go into the senior finals against the Wellingtons of Toronto.

The London News says that wholesale reinstatements are likely in the O.H.A. and a number of London players may thus be taken back. The News is mistaken. There will be no "wholesale" reinstatements at the March meeting, nor at any other time. Every application will be decided on its merits.—The Globe.

Last night a match was played between the Nationals and a light team consisting of Collegiate Institute boys. The score, which was 4 to 1 in favour of the latter, hardly indicates the strength of the opposing team, and but for the brilliant work of H. Sawers, goal tender for the school boys, who made a number of phenomenal stops, the result might have been different. The teams lined up as follows;

Nationals — Goal, Armstrong; point, Haislop; cover point, Duncan; forwards, McDonald, Overend, Kindred, Carmichael.

THE TELEGRAM'S VIEWS.

The Toronto Telegram says: "Walter Sadler, who has done considerable refereeing, says that Stratford's juniors can defeat any intermediate team he has seen this season. Now, as Mr. Sadler has done considerable hockey work this season his opinion should be worth something, and after all probably he is about right."

If Mr. Sadler's opinion as expressed above is no nearer the truth than his decisions at Kingston were correct, he should remain very quiet and not say anything. A man who makes so poor an attempt at refereeing should not begin sizing up teams, or rather if he desires to do so let him not rush into print with them. It has turned out this year that the predictions of referees in this regard have been far from the truth.

Continuing the Telegram says:

"Anything good concerning Stratford that comes from The Telegram ius looked upon with amazement up west; but joking aside let us give credit to the Classic City for their truly great junior aggregation. They have a team hard to beat; in fact the chances are it will run through the season without a defeat. Last year Stratford lost the championship to Peterborough, but it's safe to say that had both matches been played on ice of respectable size, in place of on the Peterborough soup plate, the Classic City would have been victorious."

There we have it again; that only for Peterborough's rink they could not win anything. The same story was told of Peterborough at the beginning of the season, yet Port Hope and R.M.C. have gone under on their own ice.

MILLBROOK BEAT DIAMONDS

Millbrook, Feb. 19.—At an exhibition game played here last night the home team defeated the Black Diamonds of Port Hope by a score of 9 to 2. There were only six players on each team, as Port Hope was short one man. The referee gave satisfaction to all. The players were.

Port Hope — Goal, Lewis; point, Hayden; cover point, Vandette; forwards, Barker, Boney and Ransman.

Referee—O. Leach.

PUCKINGS.

In the Examiner's account of the Rugby banquet which took place at the Oriental Hotel on Tuesday evening, we inadvertently omitted to mention that towards the close of the proceedings, Dr. Bradd, the popular Hon. President of the Hockey Club, entered the banquet hall and was given an enthusiastic reception. The doctor spoke a few words of congratulation to the Rugby team. He had watched their course with great interest, and was highly pleased when he witnessed the game in Montreal, on the occasion of their winning the Canadian Intermediate championship.

The Bobcaygeon team has been put out of the running in the Trent Valley League, but they are now engaged in playing exhibition matches. The Junior Colts will likely go up to Bobcaygeon on Tuesday night of next week.

It is about time that the scratch matches were started. It is said that Tommy Burnham is on a hunt to resurrect the Pig-iron Tigers, and Mr. "Mac" McClellan is around signing players for the Coal Heavers.

The ladies have not announced any matches yet, but it is hoped that they will swing into line. The ladies in the other towns are playing the game for all it is worth, and are having home and home matches with outside towns. Belleville has a pretty swift ladies' team, and would it not be well to have them pay a visit to Peterborough?

WHO IS TO BLAME?

Investigation Into the Cause of Fred Perrin's Death.

WITNESSES BEING HEARD.

The Inquest not Concluded yet - An Adjournment Made Until Next Monday Evening - The Evidence Taken.

The adjourned inquest into the cause of death of the late F. J. Perrin, who fell from the sixth story of the Cereal Works Building, on Monday, was resumed in the Town Council Chamber last evening, the room being crowded to the doors.

Mr. W. A. Stratton, K. C., was present, representing the relatives of the deceased. Mr. R. M. Dennistoun was in attendance on behalf of the Cereal Company, and Mr. R. E. Wood represented the interests of the Crown.

When the jury roll was called it was ascertained that Mr. James Graham was absent from his place, and a fine of $40.00 was imposed by Coroner Gray. Mr. Graham arrived later and upon an explanation being made to the effect that the delay was caused through a defective watch and not through negligence or any attempt to exhibit contempt of the Court the fine was remitted.

Dr. Carmichael, who with Dr. McFall, made a post-mortem examination of the body, read the following report:

We, the undersigned, performed a post-mortem on Mr. F. J. Perrin this a.m., and found the following conditions;—Body well developed; left temporal and molar region contused ecchymosis on left upper eye lid; contused wound on dorsal surface of left hand, and left lumbar region. Blood in right ear and nostrils. On removing scalp, found extravasation of blood over the frontal bone, and left occipital bone. Left temporal bone, which impinged on the brain substance with considerable extravasation of blood between membranes covering brain, otherwise the brain appeared healthy. On examination of chest, found third and fourth ribs fractured, and also found left lung contused on outer and lower border. Heart and right lung appeared normal. In abdomen, found a large quantity of blood in lower and left portion, which appeared to come from left kidney, which was found lacerated. Liver, stomach and other organs appeared normal. On examining back, over lumbar and lower portion of dorsal, found muscles greatly contused, with a large amount of extravasated blood, but found no fracture of the spine. On turning the body over, a large amount of blood flowed from mouth and nose.

W. A. McFALL, M. B.,
D. N. CARMICHAEL, M. D.

"The fracture of the temple bone pressing on the brain would be sufficient to cause death, as would the extravasation of the kidney," stated Dr. Carmichael.

Dr. McFall stated that he assisted at the post-mortem and coincided with the statement made by Dr. Carmichael.

Mr. William Redfern stated to Mr. R. E. Wood that he was in the employment of the Cereal Company on the works. He was bell signal man and his duty was to indicate to the engineer when to move the hoist. He was situated on the top story. He communicated with the engineer by ringing the bell which was in the cellar near the engineer. The hoists were worked by a reversible engine. There were two hoists, when one was at the top the other was at the bottom. One ring signalled the engineer to start and two rings meant to lower. He saw the deceased at the works on the day of the accident. His duties were to remove the loaded barrow off the hoists and put an empty one on. Several men attended to the hoist. When the accident occurred the deceased was taking off a full barrow. He was putting off the barrow when the elevator started to go down. It went down pretty fast. The deceased overbalanced and fell forward. Witness had not rung the bell as a signal to lower the hoist. He did not see the deceased from the time he fell until he was carried out in the ambulance. No one else could have rung the bell from the top at that time.

To the Coronor witness said that the bell might be rung from any of the floors below by anyone who tampered with the wire.

To Mr. Stratton the witness stated that on the morning of the accident the hoist came up level with the top. There was no spring or adjustment at the top to hold the hoist in position. Nothing held it but the engine and gearing. In a factory a hoist was not properly constructed unless it had a lock. He could not say how this would effect a hoist in a building under construction. The hoist started without a signal from him. He signalled it to stop when he saw deceased fall. The hoist had started in this manner before. He had inquired how this had happened and had been told that the bell had rung. This had occurred on more than one occasion. He attributed this to someone telling the engineer that the bell had rung or else someone had pulled the wire between the flats. Sometimes the bell did not ring when he pulled the wire. This was caused by the wire catching. The bell would be out of order. One of the men would pull the wire and release it.

To Mr. Dennistoun witness stated that he was working on the sixth story. There were no stairways or floors in position. As the building progressed, the wire was extended. Anyone could pull the bell on the other stories. The deceased was a steady man at his work. He could not say if the deceased had been what was called an active man he could have saved himself. Witness had been acting as signal man for a couple of months. The deceased had been working for about the same length of time. He could not be called a green hand. Witness had done this class of work before. He was familiar with hoists. This was the customary hoist for large buildings.

To Mr. Wood witness stated that the hoist went to within five feet of where the deceased lay before it stopped.

To Foreman Martin witness stated that he had had so many complaints about the hoist starting without a signal that he could not keep track of the number of times. It had started without a signal that very morning. He could not see how a railing could be constructed that would be a safeguard.

To Mr. Dennistoun witness said that pipes were used sometimes, with a whistle on the end, as a signal. The bell was beneath the lower floor. No falling body could strike it, being thus protected.

To Foreman Martin, witness said that other men had had narrow escapes, and only escaped falling by jumping back quickly. These men were Fred Lynch, John Fox and Geo. Carr.

To Mr. Dennistoun witness said he had warned the men to be careful. Perrin must have heard this warning.

To Mr. Stratton, witness stated that he had not warned Perrin personally, but had warned the men generally. Witness was over the men to the extent that they would not remove a barrow from the hoist if he said to leave it on.

To Mr. Dennistoun he said that he was not the foreman.

Charles Adams was the next witness. To Mr. Wood he stated that he had charge of the engine which ran the hoist. He had been in charge for two months. He was there on Monday last, and knew of the accident. He heard something fall, and thought it was a wheelbarrow. He stopped the hoist immediately. It stopped two feet from the floor. He got no signal to stop the hoist. He had received a signal to lower it. saw the man as he struck the floor. He went to him as soon as he could. Others were there before him. Mr. John Murphy was the first there. The engine was 18 or 20 feet from the hoist. He could see the lower cage when it was down. The lower cage was lowered when he got the signal to raise. He got no signal to stop the hoist at the time of the accident. He stated the code of signals. He stopped the hoist by shutting off the steam, and setting the brake. He set the brake by means of a latch or else held it with his foot. He could not account for the discrepancy in statements regarding the signals as between himself and Redfern. He had never started without the signal. When the complaints were made that the hoist had started without the signals he had not investigated the matter further than to say that he had heard the bell. Anyone interfering with the wires between the floors would have to walk the beams to do it. He could not see the wire above the first floor. Wrong signals had been given at times.

To Coroner Gray he stated that there were no runways or ladders leading to the top story contiguous to the hoist.

To Mr. Wood, witness stated that a boy and a young man were in the engine room when the signal was given on Saturday. The young man heard the signal; he could not say whether the boy did or not.

To Mr. Stratton witness stated that the bell wire was unprotected between the floors. There were no printed notices warning persons against tampering with it. There was considerable noise in the building. Mr. Redfern had never complained that he had rang the bell and the witness had not heard it. The complaints of Mr. Redfern were that the engine had started without the signal. He had not mentioned this to the foreman or others. He thought the man should look out for himself. He had warned the men to be careful. It was a matter to be careful about. There was danger. He went on operating the machine. There was nothing wrong with the spring of the bell. Ice got into the bit holes which the wire came through. No precaution was taken by enclosing the wire. This prevented the bell ringing at times. He could stop the hoist within a few feet. He could see the body when it struck the first floor.

To Mr. Dennistoun, Mr. Adams stated that the wire and bell were new. The engine was about fourteen horse-power. Such a brake as was mentioned to hold the lift at the top was to hold it in case of accident. It could not hold the cage if the engine had started up to lower the hoist. The body and the cage came down at the same time. It took the cage 20 seconds to come down as a rule. The body would have to leave after the hoist in order to arrive at the bottom at the same time, unless they came together for part of the distance. The barrow on the hoist had been shifted from its regular position when it reached the bottom. He had not worked on an elevator engine before but had worked on other engines.

To Foreman Martin witness stated that he was not a certificated engineer. He had not reported the matter of the complaints about the signals to anyone. He had not applied for the position of engineer on the hoisting engine, but merely for for a place on any engine.

George Carr, to Mr. Wood, stated that he was employed on the Cereal Works. He was within three or four feet of the hoist when Perrin fell. The deceased was wheeling off a barrow of mortar and the hoist dropped. He was stooping to catch hold of the handles of the barrow and fell head first down the shaft when the hoist dropped. Witness did not hear the bell signal the engineer. He generally heard the bell ring. He did not hear it that time. The hoist only got down two or three feet when Perrin fell. It was impossible for him to save himself after he overbalanced. Deceased did not touch the cage as far as witness could see. The cage seemed to go about as fast as the man. Some of the men went down to the ground floor immediately. The bell man was as near the hoist as the witness, also George Hoarn. The cage was four or five feet square.

To Mr. Stratton witness stated that he did not hear the bell ring after Perrin fell. He was standing by the hoist when it came up. Perrin was there, and took two or three steps forward to get the barrow. The hoist had just come up and became still when Perrin stepped up. Mr. Redfern was there and it must have been apparent to him that the barrow had not been moved.

To Mr. Dennistoun witness stated that Perrin had made no effort to catch the cable or do anything to save himself. Witness was one of the men in front of whom the hoist had gone down suddenly on a previous occasion. The men understood that it was liable to go down suddenly. Mr. Redfern had warned the men of the danger.

To Mr. Wood witness said he did not hear Mr. Redfern give the signal to stop the hoist when Perrin fell.

To Foreman Martin witness said he saved himself from falling when the hoist went down in front of him by falling backwards.

Charles Adams was recalled and in reply to a question by Mr. Wood stated that a loaded barrow had been placed on the cage which was at the foot of the hoist.

To Mr. Dennistoun he said that the hoist which came down when the other one went up had been down long enough for the usual work to be performed in connection with it.

The meeting was then adjourned until Monday evening next at half past seven.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Mr. Samuel J. O'Brien to Miss Leahy Both of Douro.

Last Tuesday morning at nine o'clock, the bells of St. Joseph's church, Douro, rang out to announce the marriage of one of her fairest daughters, namely, Miss Loretta Leahy, daughter of Mr. John P. Leahy, to Mr. Samuel J. O'Brien, one of Douro's most popular young men.

Miss Martha Leahy, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, while Mr. W. J. O'Toole, did the honours for the groom.

The happy couple partook of their wedding dinner at the residence of the bride's father, where the guests arrived to the number of two hundred, and the evening was spent in dancing.

Numerous and costly were the presents the bride received, among them being a gold bracelet from the groom. The young couple will reside in Otonabee, where there many friends will wish Mr. O'Brien and his bride much happiness.

THE HOSPITAL CLOSED.

The White Tent in Jackson Park is no Longer Occupied.

Dr. Bingham visited the Isolation Hospital in the Jackson Park, this morning, and formally discharged the patient who has been immured there since it was discovered that he was the victim of an attack of smallpox.

Peterborough has been fortunate in being able to so quickly stamp out a disease which as a rule is not so easily eradicated once it breaks out in a community.

Prompt measures and immediate consultation with the Provincial Health Authorities resulted in the loathsome disease being confined to two patients and so well was the outbreak handled that no scare resulted and the business of the town was carried on as usual.

LOCAL LEGAL.

At Osgoode Hall, before Meredith, C. J., MacMahon, J., Lount, J.

Minns vs. Village of Omemee.—O. H. Watson, K.C., for plaintiffs, moved to set aside judgment of Boyd, C., or for a new trial. Action for damages. The plaintiffs are husband and wife. The defendant Graham is a hotelkeeper in the Village of Omemee. The plaintiffs allege that the corporation permitted and allowed defendant Graham to make, keep and maintain an opening or hole in the sidewalk, on George street, adjoining his hotel, for the purpose of an outside opening into its cellar, and that defendants did keep and maintain the opening, and left a loose plank beside it, and did not guard the opening in any way, or place a light at it. On September 14, 1900, at 8 p.m., the plaintiff, M. Ellen Minns, struck her foot against the plank and fell forward into the opening and was injured. It was contended that, on the evidence, the trial Judge should not have dismissed the action against the defendants, the corporation. It had not been guilty of mere non-repair, so as to necessitate the commencement of the action within three months. The evidence shows a resolution in the council to take steps to correct the construction and maintenance of the opening, so as to avoid accidents, and thus the corporation had knowledge of the danger, and were guilty of misfeasance, and the pleadings so charge; and that Homewood vs. City of Hamilton, 1 O. L. R. 266, is not distinguishable. F. D. Moore, (Lindsay,) for defendants, contra. Reserved.

WATER IN THE YUKON

Hon. R. W. Scott Explains Object of Treadgold Company.

KLONDIKE HYDRAULIC MINING

Project Asserted to Be in the Interest of the Country With No Suggestion of a Monopoly—The Interests of Private Miners Protected—Parliament Will Discuss Whole Matter.

Ottawa, Feb. 19.—Hon. Clifford Sifton was expected to reach the city yesterday afternoon from the west, but his train has been stalled for several hours somewhere between here and Renfrew. Hon. R. W. Scott was, however, interviewed regarding the Treadgold concession in the Yukon and stated the proposal had been before the Government in one shape or another for several years past. It had its origin in the project to introduce hydraulic power in the Yukon, to utilize the water and distribute it over areas of mining land not workable under present conditions. Mr. Treadgold and others, Hon. Mr. Scott stated, were willing to invest several millions in this scheme, but not before they received concessions from the Government, which would ensure a reasonable return of the money invested, making justifiable the expenditure. A clause has been inserted protecting the miners, in so far as they can demand and secure water raised by the hydraulic process, and thus work their own lands. The project, it was asserted, was in the interest of that country, and there was no suggestion of a monopoly. Another object is to utilize sections of mining lands not accessible at present on account of their situation above water level. At present the great volume of water flows off in the spring freshets, and it is the intention to reserve part of this for distribution during the remaining months of the year in districts not reached by it now. "Several parties have made similar proposals to the Government in the last few years," concluded Hon. Mr. Scott. "The agreement naturally will cause excitement at the present time, but it will prove to be in the interests of the district. There is no monopoly. The company must provide the miners with water and lands will be worked that are now valueless. The whole matter will likely be discussed in Parliament."

REV. DR. NEWMAN HALL DEAD.

Formerly Chairman of the Congregational Union of Britain.

London, Feb. 19.—Rev. Newman Hall, D.D., former chairman of the Congregational Union, who had been ill for some time past, died at 9.30 o'clock yesterday morning.

Rev. Dr. Newman Hall was born May 22, 1816, at Maidstone, and was a brother of the captain of the famous steamship Great Eastern. He was educated at Highbury College and London University, and was the first pastor of Albion Congregational Church, Hull, 1842-54. From 1854 to 1876 he was pastor of the famous Surrey Chapel, London, in succession to Rev. Rowland Hill and Rev. James Shearman. From 1876 to 1892 he was pastor of Christ Church, Lambeth, built at a cost of about $300,000, in perpetuation of Surrey Chapel. He resigned his charge ten years ago, and since then had been a general evangelist. Dr. Hall was a prolific author. He was chairman of the Congregational Union in 1866. He bore a high reputation as an eloquent and earnest writer, and was the author of a number of well-known hymns.

CLERGUE'S STEEL PLANT.

The First Steel Turned Out at Sault Ste. Marie.

Sault Ste. Marie, Feb. 19.— The first stage in the manufacture of steel rails was reached yesterday at the Algoma Steel Company's works, when for the first time in Algoma steel was manufactured by the Bessemer process. The conversion of pig-iron into steel was witnessed by about 300 people, most of whom carried home souvenirs of the event in the form of pieces of the newly-manufactured steel. Just a year ago to-day work was begun on the immense building of the company, and they are now very near completion, with the exception of part of the roofing. Within the next few months it is expected that one of President Clergue's fondest hopes will be realized in the manufacture of steel rails.

GET COMFORT.

There is little comfort in life when a person is afflicted with pain. Donald Babcock, farmer, Harrowsmith, Ont., was a sufferer from rheumatism for years. When advised to take Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure he did so, and two bottles of this wonderful preparation, with two boxes of Climax Iron Tonic Pills, completely cured him. He has not had a twinge of pain since, and attends to his duties regularly. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

Mrs. Allen's Suicide.

Buffalo, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Fanny Vietch Allen, 37 years old, who since last Saturday had lived with her husband at No. 206 Dewitt street, drank a quantity of carbolic acid at 12.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The woman died a few minutes later at the Emergency Hospital. She left the following note: "Mrs. J. T. Allen, formerly of Fairport, N.Y.; tired of life. Fairport papers please copy."

The body was subsequently claimed by relatives from Toronto, Ont., and taken there last evening for interment. Thomas Allen, husband of deceased, is well known in Orangeville, where he formerly resided.

A NATION OF WORKERS

With Good Health for Capital the Great Majority of Canadians Rely on Brain and Muscle for a Livelihood—With Ill-Health All is Lost.

Canada is a nation of workers. The few who have acquired positions of wealth and leisure, have done so through hard work, and the vast majority find it necessary to toil day after day, and year after year, to support themselves and those depending on them. Their capital is good health. So long as this lasts, they are happy and contented; but, alas! too many are robbed of this capital, and find themselves unable to keep up the struggle. With no earnings coming in, their small savings are soon exhausted, and want, as well as disease, stares them in the face.

Disease is humanity's most deadly foe. Silently, gradually, it steals upon one, until at last it closes its fangs on its victim and secretly robs him of energy, ambition and strength In this age of keen competition, strenuous work, and ceaseless struggle, it is the nervous system that most readily feels the strain. Nights of sleeplessness, days of tired, languid feelings, depression, discouragement, and despondency, neuralgic pains, shattered nerves, weakness and irregularities of the bodily organs, These are some of the warnings of the approach of such serious and fatal diseases as nervous prostration, paralysis, locomotor ataxia and insanity.

Maintaining good health, is, to the majority of people the most vital question in the world, and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually, and certainly, it forms new, red corpuscles in the blood, creates new, healthy, nerve cells, and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defy the disease.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is unlike any treatment you ever used. It does not act as a stimulant to whip up the tired nerves into exhausting action, nor, on the other hand, does it deaden and destroy the feeble nerve tissues, but by filling the shrivelled arteries with rich, red, life-sustaining blood, it repairs the waste and revitalises and restores the body to health and strength. As a permanent cure for nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness, irritability, and the weakness and irregularities which accompany an exhausted nervous system, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is unapproached; 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A handsome and useful Christmas present for your mother or grandmother, is a copy of Dr. Chase's last and complete Receipt Book. Illustrated folder free. 1

The Attempt Was Futile.

London, Feb. 18.—A futile attempt was made in the House of Lords yesterday to obtain a hearing for a bill abolishing the "conscientious objection" clauses in the vaccination law, but even with a grave smallpox epidemic threatened, the Government is determined not to retreat from its present position.

STRIKERS KILLED BY TROOPS.

Eight Thousand Rioters Parade and Paralyze Business in Barcelona.

Barcelona, Feb. 18.—For several days past preparations have been in progress here for a general strike, and now trade is completely paralyzed. The number of strikers is 80,000, and the strike movement is spreading in the vicinity of the city. Three persons were killed and 35 wounded in an encounter between the strikers and troops Monday.

Rioters yesterday attacked a prison van and attempted to release a number of strikers who had been made prisoners. A striker fired on the guard, who in reply shot and killed the man who fired on him.

A large lumber yard has been burned by incendiaries, and several stores have been pillaged.

Rioting was renewed here last evening, and crowds of strikers paraded the streets, doing extensive damage.

A serious collision between the troops and the strikers occurred yesterday at San Martin, a village in the suburbs. Here the troops fired on the mob, killing three and wounding six.

At Badalena the mob attacked the gendarmes, and the cavalry, who were protecting the street car service, and a serious melee followed, in which one person was killed and three were wounded.

At Sabadell, also in the suburbs, the strikers burned the Octroi tax offices and convent.

Troops have been sent to Sabadell, and to other places to suppress the disorders.

"JUST AS GOOD"

Has no glimmer of truth in it when it means a substitute for Dr. Agnew's Ointment.

There are cases on record where men and women too have suffered unspeakable torture from piles; where all kinds of remedies have been applied; where the surgeon's knife has been resorted to as the only hope; where electricity has tried its good offices, but without any permanent cure; and Dr. Agnew's Ointment, as the last resort, has proved its magic—one application has given relief. There is no other "just as good." Don't take chances. 55

20,000 HORSE POWER

Of Electrical Energy to Be Available on 1st July, 1904.

PREMIER ON NIAGARA POWER

His Bill Read a Second Time in the Local House—Hon. R. Harcourt's Bill Re. Separate Schools Receives Second Reading—Maintenance of Public Institutions' Estimates Taken Up in Legislature.

Toronto, Feb. 18.—This afternoon in the Legislative Assembly there were an unusually large number of visitors in attendance in the expectation that the Prohibition Bill would come up for a second reading, in which, however, they were disappointed.

Bills were introduced by Mr. Thompson respecting the office of sheriff, by Mr. Dickenson to amend the Toll Roads Expropriation Act, and by Mr. Jamieson respecting representation in the Legislative Assembly.

The following bills were read a third time and passed: To incorporate the Brantford Young Women's Association, Mr. Preston; respecting the Presbyterian Ladies' College, Ottawa, Mr. Lumsden; respecting the Village of Point Edward, Mr. Pardee, and to incorporate the Morrisburg Electric Railway Co., Mr. Whitney.

Hon. J. M. Gibson's bill to further amend the Devolution of Estates, and Mr. Garrow's bill respecting expert witnesses, were reported from committee.

Second Readings.

Hon. G. W. Ross moved the second reading of his bill to confirm an agreement respecting the Victoria Niagara Falls Park and gave some details as to what had been accomplished in the direction of developing electrical power under the agreement made with the Canadian Niagara Power Co. and the extent of the operations undertaken by the company. He said that the works were within easy reach of completion and that on the 1st of July, 1904, electrical power to the extent of 20,000 horse power would be available. A stipulation in the agreement provided that half the electric power would be supplied to the Canadian side at a price not in excess of that charged to consumers in the United States. In reply to enquiries from the Opposition he said it would be impossible definitely to fix the prices which would be regulated by competition, especially as there were several sites just as good for the development of electric power which would ensure active competition.

The bill received a second reading.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, in moving the second reading of his bill to divide the District of Rainy River for registration purposes, stated that it proposed to locate the second registry office at Fort Francis, which was easily accessible from the district served by the Canadian Northern Railway. The Rat Portage registry office would accommodate the residents of the territory tributary to the Canadian Pacific Railway. The bill was read a second time.

Hon. R. Harcourt's bill to amend the Separate Schools Act received a second reading.

Maintenance of Public Institutions.

The House went into Committee of Supply, the first item taken up being that of Public Institutions Maintenance, $870,217. Hon. J. R. Stratton went over the estimates in detail explaining that the expenditures of last year had been kept within the estimates by nearly $12,000, notwithstanding the general increase in the cost of living. The sum of $15,000 had been spent in the new infirmary at London, in the construction of which it had been sought as far as possible to employ as many of the inmates. The work at the Cobourg Asylum had also been done by day labor under the superintendence of an official of the Department of Public Works. As far as practicable the employes had been put upon an equal basis, regard being had to length of service. As regarded the system of tendering for supplies he believed that he could buy coal considerably cheaper by dealing with individuals in the ordinary way than by asking for tenders, which only gave the dealers an incentive to combine and put up prices. They were having an electric plant put in the Kingston Insane Asylum, and it would be profitable to light the Toronto Asylum and some other institutions in the same manner.

When the items relating to the Central Prison were reached the binder twine question came up. Col. Matheson, criticizing the Government policy. He had been informed, he said, that there was not a pound of binder twine made in the prison. Mr. Stratton contradicted this and stated that the institution had a capacity for manufacturing four tons of twine daily, but the farmers did not send in their orders as extensively as could be wished. Prison made goods did not seem to be popular. However, the fact that binder twine was made at the Central Prison fixed the price of the article for the farmers, and even if much of it were not sold the fact that it was obtainable at a fair price made it worth while in the intercst of the farmers to keep the institution running. Mr. Kidd suggested that perhaps the reason why more of it was not sold was that there were sometimes defects in its manufacture. Mr. Stratton thought that the plan of making the prisoners a small allowance for their work might be worthy of consideration.

The Penetanguishene Reformatory.

After recess the consideration of the estimates for public institutions maintenance in committee was resumed When the item of the Penetanguishene Reformatory was reached Mr. Thompson enquired whether the Government still entertained the intention of removing the reformatory to Oxford County. Mr. Stratton replied in the affirmative, but stated that the institution in Penetanguishene would not be closed, but devoted to some other purpose. The Government had for some time been considering the desirability of establishing an institution for epileptics, and should their desire be carried out some of the other buildings used for institution purposes would perhaps be made available therefore by transferring their inmates to Penetanguishene, where facilities were good for classification. Dr. Jessop and Mr. Lucas protested against the employment of a high salaried superintendent and an assistant superintendent for a comparatively small institution. The Provincial Secretary stated that the superintendent was a most capable and efficient man and that it would not be possible to dispense with the services of either him or his assistant. Hon. J. M. Gibson pointed out that the moral influence of the superintendent upon the boys was invaluable. If the boys were to be reclaimed it must be through the salutary influence of a man who could win their confidence. (Hear, hear). Mr. Whitney contended that a number of items included under other headings should appear in the estimates under the head of "maintenance." The Provincial Secretary in reply held that being expenditures on capital account they were correctly entered.

The items in connection with the Penetanguishene Reformatory stood over for further discussion.

The item of $26,075 for the Mercer Reformatory and Refuge for girls was considered. The Provincial Secretary said that there ought to be a considerable further expenditure on the Refuge which stood greatly in need of improvement. He spoke in high term of the excellent work that was being done in the institution. The item passed.

The items of $187,755 for hospitals and charities and $89,240 for Parliament and departmental buildings and a number of items for public buildings were passed.

A SHORT SITTING.

Dominion House Deliberated For Only About Twenty Minutes Tuesday.

Ottawa, Feb. 19.—Supply being the only Government business ready and the Auditor-General's report not being distributed to members, the Finance Minister did not insist upon proceeding with the estimates, so that about 20 minutes sufficed to put through the business of yesterday afternoon's sitting of the Commons.

At the opening of the sitting a shower of petitions was presented in reference to the construction of proper cattle guards at railway crossings, respecting the Bell Telephone Company, and asking for the appointment of a railway commission.

Mr. Harty, the new member for Kingston, was introduced by Sir Richard Cartwright and D. Fraser, and took his seat amidst Ministerial cheers.

Mr. Cowan's bill respecting drainage across railways was introduced and read a first time.

The House adjourned at 8.20 p.m.

NO CHANGE IN TARIFF.

Ald. Gallery of Montreal Appointed a Quebec Liberal Whip.

Ottawa, Feb. 19.—The first Ministerial caucus of the session was held yesterday morning. W. C. Edwards, M.P., presiding. Henri Bourassa, M. P., did not attend. Speeches were made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. Wm. Mulock, Hon. J. I. Tarte, Hon. James Sutherland and Hon. A. G. Blair upon the general policy of the Government. The view was expressed that the session would be short.

No tariff changes are looked for. The speeches of the Premier and his colleagues were enthusiastically received. The Ministerial absentees from caucus were Messrs. Sifton, Bernier and Paterson. Mr. Sifton is on his way from the Lisgar election and will arrive to-day. The rest had unavoidable engagements at their departments.

After the caucus it was announced that Ald. Gallery of Montreal had been appointed one of the Liberal whips in Quebec.

In the Senate.

Ottawa, Feb. 19.—The debate on the address in the Senate yesterday was participated in by Hon. R. W. Scott, Hon. D. Ferguson and Hon. Mr. Dandurand. It will continue throughout the week.

Hon. David Mills Takes His Seat.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 19.—The Supreme Court was crowded yesterday morning when Hon. Davis Mills, who gave up the position of Minister of Justice a few days ago, took his seat upon the Supreme Court bench. Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick addressed the court, and on behalf of the bar congratulated the new judge. Chief Justice Strong spoke of the valuable service rendered by Justice Gwynne during the 34 years that he was a judge, and said that his successor would be to them a congenial colleague and one worthy of the position.

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be, some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith they cure just the same, for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make these organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demand for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

WANT BOUNTY ON ARSENIC.

Memorandum Giving Financial Side of the Question.

Toronto, Feb. 19.—A memorandum received by the Bureau of Mines from Joseph James of Actinolite, Hastings County, gives reasons why a bounty on arsenic should be granted. He says that negotiations are pending with foreign capitalists for the establishment of large works, which will not be executed unless a bounty be granted. Should this be done there would be a plant of 2,400 tons arsenic annual capacity, on which the province would pay $12,000 and the Dominion $24,000 bounty. This output could be increased to 5,000 tons, on which the bounty would be $75,000, and the annual outlay for stores, fuel, wages, etc., would be $600,000. In the seven years for which a bounty is asked $375,000 would be paid in bounty and $4,200,000 would be expended by the manufacturers. The total annual consumption of arsenic in Canada and the United States is about 6,000 tons.

The One Topic.

Guelph, Feb. 19.—The mass meeting of the annual provincial convention of the R. T. of T., held in Knox Church here last night, was the largest and most enthusiastic gathering the city has had in temperance work for years. Mr. E. R. Bollert occupied the chair and the Rose bill was the one topic dealt with by all speakers.

"Don't Speak

To the motorman," is a sign to be seen on the front platform of many cars. It requires all his thought, all his energy and all his strength to pilot his car through crowded streets. The strain tells on him, and some when he gets "rattled" and has an accident. The surest way to sustain the physical strength and nervous force required by the motorman or railroad man is to keep the stomach in a condition of sound health. When the stomach becomes "weak," food is imperfectly digested and the body is deprived of its necessary nourishment. The nerves are "unstrung" and the body is weakened.

The timely use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery when the stomach is "weak" will re-establish the body in vigorous health. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, nourishes the nerves and purifies the blood.

"I suffered for four years with pain in my stomach so that at times I couldn't work nor eat," writes Mr. Frank Smith, of Granite, Chaffee Co., Colo. "I wrote to you about my sickness and was told to use your medicine, which I did with good results. I only used four bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and must say that I am entirely cured, and feel like a new man, and I can highly recommend your medicine to any sufferer."

MEDICAL HEALTH OFFICER'S REPORT.

Dr. Bingham Reviews the Town's Sanitary Condition

CONSIDERABLE DIPTHERIA

In Peterborough During the Year 1901 —He Makes Reference to the Water Supply of the Town- Precautions Against Disease.

At a meeting of the Board of Health which was held yesterday afternoon in the Town Clerk's office, the proceedings of which are published elsewhere, Dr. Bingham, the Medical Health Officer, submitted the following report:

To the Board of Health of the Town of Peterborough:

I have the honour to submit the annual report upon the sanitary condition of the town, and also other matters relating to the public health for the year ending Dec. 31, 1901. One-hundred and thirty deaths were reported during the year, exclusive of still-born children which are not included in our monitory statistics. This mortality is charged to many different diseases according to the reports of the attending physicians. Of these grim messengers, consumption claimed 17 victims, heart disease 13, diphtheria 10, and smaller numbers fell a prey to other diseases. During the year the amount of sanitary work done by the Board was heavy. Early in the month of May, the sanitary inspector and his assistants, laid seige to ill kept yards and with energy and perseverance they ceased not until they had visited all the premises in the corporation, and had placed these in a fair sanitary condition.

Innumerable complaints during the year reached the Board from many quarters and on a great variety of subjects. All the complaints were attended to without delay and generally were disposed of in a satisfactory manner. Seventy samples of well water were brought in to be tested. We have no laboratory here which would enable us to make a bacteriological examination of this water. Many of the wells were in a foul condition from vegetable impurities. Full directions were given to have these wells cleaned and put in a proper sanitary condition.

One sample of well water was sent to the Provincial Board of Health for analysis and it was found to contain so much chlorine that it was condemned and had to be closed. During the last two months of the year some serious complaints were lodged against the town water. The Board is unable to cope with this matter for all the wits of man can never make river or lake water clean or as healthy as spring water, and when we consider the amount of filth which contaminates the lakes down to the intake pipe the wonder is that the water is fit for domestic use without a filter. No doubt the time will come when the citizens of Peterborough will sink artesian wells in the neighbouring hills and from the bowels of the earth will draw pure crystal streams of spring water, to give health and life to their wives and children. The Medical Health Officer writes from Newmarket that their water supply is from fine artesian wells from 100 to 200 feet deep, and that since they began to use that water, typhoid fever and other infectious diseases are practically unknown amongst the citizens. The infectious diseases in the town were in excess of these of last year, but fortunately they were not of a very severe type. Fifty cases of scarlet fever were reported during the year and no deaths from this cause.

Typhoid fever was present during the year and only one death was reported due to that cause.

In the month of January last year, we had a sharp outbreak of diphtheria in the South Ward, and later on a few cases appeared in other parts of the town. When the disease broke out your health officer and sanitary inspector drove from house to house and made a close inspection of the premises, but we were unable to locate its starting point, and when we remember the various cases of diphtheria, it will be seen that it is nearly impossible to point definitely to the origin of any outbreak of that disease. It is usually ten or 12 days from when the infection enters the system until the disease makes its appearance, hence the difficulty of locating any particular case. If a child comes home from school sick with diphtheria the popular conclusion is that the disease was contracted in the school. This conclusion is not well founded and it is not clear to this day that any case during the whole time of the epidemic had its origin in any of the schools in town.

The activity of the streptococcens, or diphtheria germ always indicates a shattered condition of the vital forces. The germ breeds in water contaminated by animal or vegetable impurities, also in air tainted from open cesspools, and in houses where sewer gas escapes from defective plumbing. Decaying animal or vegetable matter in the cellar or on the premises will cause diphtheria. This disease is also caused by overcrowded sleeping appartments not sufficiently purified by sunlight, and a plentiful supply of fresh air. The diphtheria germ has been found in the breath of dogs and cats, and it is both silly and dangerous for parents to allow their children to play with those animals. The house fly too, is said after feasting upon carrion, to carry the disease to delicate children by inoculation. From the foregoing statements I think the Board will see how difficult it is to locate the cause of any particular case.

Now, gentlemen, I will only mention one other cause of diphtheria and it is of such a delicate nature that for our own safety it must be handled cautiously by this Board. I refer to the skirt. Only a few months ago a Biologist in the City of Rome hired two women to promanade in long dresses on the streets for two hours. At the end of that time he analyzed the skirts and found numerous colonies of bacteria, under favourable conditions. It may be added that if ever the time comes when fair votaries of the long garment may take it into their heads to "shorten sail," that even will lessen the number of diphtheria cases, but it will bring some grief to men as they will then have to sweep the sidewalks instead of looking on as now, while their wives and sweethearts do the work for nothing. Last year 427 cases of smallpox were reported in Ontario. The disease generally was of a mild type. About the close of the year this unwelcome visitor made its appearance in Peterborough, but at great expense and by the most vigourous efforts of the health authorities we hope the disease is now stamped out.

(Signed) JOHN BINGHAM,
Medical Health Officer.

DR. PITCHER HELPS AN OLD MAN.

The Kidney Weakness, Irritability and Frequent Rising at Night, all Cured by Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

People advanced in years are so prone to kidney trouble. The filters of the body become clogged up and out of order after years of incessant work keeping the blood pure.

There is too frequent urination, disturbing the rest at night, pain or scalding, weakness of the bladder, non-retention of the urine, and severe pain in the back, making stooping or rising a painful operation.

For these conditions there is no remedy so effective as Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

They make old people rejoice in renewed strength and vigour of the whole urinary system, take the pain and stiffeness out of the back, and permit undisturbed rest at night.

Mr. Joseph Rippon, 503 Dundas street, Woodstock, Ont., who has been in the book and stationery business for over thirty-five years, says: "With people reaching my age, sixty-seven years, more or less backache and kidney trouble is not uncommon. For over a year I have had more or less trouble and irritation in that direction, which I lay to the long hours on my feet of years past. Wishing to put an end to a trouble that was growing progressively worse, I procured a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and am pleased to say they are satisfactory in every respect. I did not quite finish the one bottle I got, yet all pain and irritation are completely gone. I am pleased to recommend them to others."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50 cents a bottle or three bottles for $1.25 at all druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

The Water Commissioners Revise the Rules Pertaining to the Rates and the Collection Thereof etc.

At a meeting of the Water Commissioners of the town of Peterborough on Monday afternoon the following rules and regulations were approved of concerning the using of town water:—

Whereas, it is desirable for the Water Commissioners of the Town of Peterborough to make certain regulations for the control and management of the waterworks. Be it therefore enacted by the said Water Commissioners as follows,—

1. That the water rates and rents to be charged and payable by consumers for the supply of water to them, except where the water is supplied under special contract made by the consumers with the Peterborough Water Company or with the Water Commissioners, or where said contracts do not apply, shall be as follows,—

The rates are the same as under the old schedule, excepting as to meter rates, which have been arranged as follows,—

From 100 to 500 gallons per day, 35c per 1000 gallons.

From 500 to 1,000 gallons per day, 30c per 1,000 gallons.

From 1,000 to 5,000 gallons per day, 25c per 1,000 gallons.

From 5,000 to 10,000 gallons per day 20c per 1,000 gallons.

From 10,000 to 20,000 gallons per day 17c per 1,000 gallons.

20,000 gallons or over, per day 15c per 1,000 gallons.

And shall, except as hereinafter mentioned, be paid quarterly, in advance, on the first days of January, April, July October in each year, to the Collector of the water rates, provided, however, that except rates for lawns, fountains, street sprinkling, window washing, building purposes, and water taken under special contract, a discount of ten per cent. from said tariff rates will be allowed if such rates are paid on or before the fifteenth day of the month, when they respectively become due.

2. That the rates and rents to be paid by consumers taking water under special contracts entered into by the Peterborough Water Company or the Water Commissioners, shall be the rates and rents, and shall be payable at the times mentioned in the special contracts respectively, or if no time is mentioned, on the first day of January, April, July and October.

3. That the rents for fountains, lawns, street sprinkling and window washing, and other like purposes, shall be payable on or before the first day of July in each year, and if not paid before the fifteenth day of July in any year, the water may be shut off.

4. That the rates for building purposes shall be payable in advance, upon an estimate furnished by the party applying for water therefor, and if more materials are used than specified in the original estimate, the applicant shall pay the additional amount on the completion of the work, and a Statutory Declaration must be furnished when the building is completed, if required, proving the quality of materials used.

5. That it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, whenever they shall deem it advisable, to compel the use of water meters by any consumer or consumers, and to refuse to supply water to any premises whatsoever, unless the person or persons requiring the water shall sign an agreement to take, use and pay for such water according to the form provided for that purpose; that no water meter shall be used in connection with the Waterworks system by any person or persons, unless said water meter shall have been first authorized by the said Commissioners. Every owner, tenant or occupant shall give every facility for the introduction and protection of water meters placed upon their premises by the said Commissioners; that whenever any person or persons refuse to pay water rates or rents within the time specified for the water registered by the water meter, it shall and may be lawful for the said Commissioners to cut off the supply, and also in every such case to collect the water rates or rents for the water supplied, and if they think proper to do so, as if no water meter had been used; and in all cases where the water meter indicates that no water has been used, it shall and may be lawful to charge and collect the same water rates, as if no water meter had been introduced.

6. That in case of non-payment of service extension, water rates or rents by any person or persons for thirty days after the expiration of the day upon which the same shall have become due of payable, the said Commissioners, or their duly authorized officers or agents, may cut off the supply of water from any lands, premises, house, store, office, building or part of building, upon which the said charge of service extensions, water rates or rent shall be due, and the water shall not again be turned on, except upon payment of all arrears due, and the further sum of one dollar to pay for the expense of turning the water on and off.

7. All persons desiring a supply of water must make an application in writing to the Secretary of the Water Commissioners on a form furnished for the purpose. Applications must be signed by the owner or his agent, duly authorized and it shall be discretionary with the Commissioners whether to grant an application or not.

8. The Commissioners will, if the application is granted and a deposit of $4.00 on account of the water is paid, lay down a service not exceeding one inch inside diameter from the main to the street line the size of such service to be determined by the Superintendent, all other work and extra sized or additional services and all services beyond the street line shall be paid for by the applicants who shall deposit with his application a sum equal to such additional cost.

The remaining clauses of the rules and regulations will be published in to-morrow's issue.

MUNICIPAL BONUSES

The Present Law Does Not Give General Satisfaction.

HIGH SCHOOL ACT AMENDMENT

The House in Committee of Supply—Desultory and Conversational Discussion Over Various Items Under the Head of Agriculture—Mr. Whitney Throws Colds Water on His Lieutenants' Fowl Kefforts.

Toronto, Feb. 20.—In the Legislative Assembly to-day the only measure introduced was a bill by Mr. McKee to amend the Drainage Act.

Bills respecting the First Colored Calvinistic Baptist Church in Toronto, Mr. Dryden; respecting the township of Pelee, Mr. Auld; respecting the Town of Goderich, Mr. Garrow, and respecting the city of Ottawa, Mr. Powell, and to confirm an agreement respecting the Victoria Niagara Falls Park, Mr. Ross, were read a third time.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt moved the second reading of his bill to amend the High School Act, which he explained was intended to meet the case of Schools situated in municipalities separated from the county. As the law now stood counties could not aid High Schools without aiding all proportionately, and it was frequently the case that those most needing assistance did not receive it because in order to grant it money would have to be voted also to others, which were already well provided for. He would like to see these matters dealt with by a special committee. The bill was read a second time and referred to a special committee.

Committee of Supply.

The House went into Committee of Supply. The various items under the head of Agriculture furnished fruitful topics for a somewhat desultory and conversational discussion every increase being closely scrutinized. Messrs. Matheson and Miscampbell kept up a steady running fire of criticism and enquiry, the points raised being replied to by Hon. John Dryden. After his two lieutenants had thoroughly discussed the Poultry Department urging the usual argument that it did not yield a direct revenue, Mr. Whitney rather threw cold water on the line taken by his colleagues by expressing his appreciation of the excellence of the display made by the department at the Poultry Exhibition at Guelph. All the agricultural items having been passed, the committee rose.

Mr. Hislop's bill to amend the Municipal Act was read a second time.

Exemptions and Bonuses.

Mr. Hill moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Municipal Act by giving to municipal councils power to exempt from taxation by a two-thirds vote, the plant, machinery and building of any manufacturing enterprise. Hon. J. M. Gibson pointed out that the growth of population in large cities rendered it almost impossible to secure the two-thirds majority of the ratepayers required by the present law. On the other hand he feared that to allow municipal councils to exempt might give rise to grave abuses. He thought that municipalities ought to be left free to pursue their own policy and either exempt manufacturers or tax them as they saw fit, but they should not be permitted to exercise favoritism and tax some manufacturers while exempting others. Mr. Crawford referred to the evil of municipalities bidding against each other to attract bonus-hunting manufacturers. Mr. Pattullo admitted that the present law practically prohibited the larger cities from granting special privileges to manufacturers, but Toronto had great advantages as a railway centre and in other ways. He charged Toronto with having, through its assessment commissioner, endeavored to take away industries from other places. The only way out of the difficulty was to have the same law for all places and stick to it. He favored the general exemption of all machinery from taxation. Manufacturers were of all classes well able to bear taxation. Mr. Whitney claimed that the policy of legislating against bonuses had been dictated by hatred of the N.P. He hoped that some day they would get back into a more reasonable course and allow municipalities to do as they would with their own. Mr. Pardee favored a general law, as did Mr. Graham. The bill received a second reading.

Mr. Conmee's bill amending the Municipal Act, and Mr. Wardell's bill to amend the Assessment Act were also read a second time.

Hon. G. W. Ross in reply to Mr. Whitney, stated that the second reading of the Prohibition bill would probably not be moved before next Thursday.

ASSEMBLY NOTES.

A deputation from Wolfe Island waited on the Government yesterday and asked for assistance for a ferry service between the island and the mainland. They want the amount due to them for good roads devoted to this purpose.

At the Private Bills Committee a clause in Collingwood's bill giving of a bonus of $8,000 to a grist mill and $20,000 to a manufacturing jeweler was, approved.

A deputation from Ottawa waited on Premier Ross yesterday morning and asked for a subsidy to the Ottawa and Dundas Railway from Ottawa to Morrisburg, 45 miles, which has been chartered for two years.

J. H. Carnegie, M.P.P., for East Victoria, has received a letter from a woman in Ingersoll asking him for $10,000 to build houses on Carnegie street in that town. The letter was addressed to "Hon. Andrew Carnegie, M.P.P. for East Victoria, Parliament Buildings, Toronto," and has caused much amusement.

The Sydney fast express and a fast east freight train collided near North Sydney Junction Thursday morning. The trains were moving slowly at the time, and none of the passengers on the express were injured. Both engines were damaged.

Marconi Thursday said his next test would be to transmit words and messages by wireless telegraphy. After perfecting arrangements in Canada, he would challenge Sir William Preece and Professor Lodge to intercept messages. Marconi sails for Canada Feb. 22.

With only one dissentient voice a citizens' meeting in Toronto Thursday, presided over by His Lordship Bishop Sweetnam, decided in favor of the Government control of the liquor traffic. Rev. J. A. Macdonald, editor of the Presbyterian magazine, The Westminster, said, as between a prohibitory law and State control, he would go for the latter.

The Menzie Co.'s blind and roller blind factory and the Merchants' Dyeing and Finishing Co., whose premises are near the King street subway in Toronto, were each damaged by fire on buildings and stocks to the extent of about $100,000. One hundred and thirty men will be temporarily out of employment. Reconstruction will be begun at once. The fire was one of the fiercest seen in the city in recent years, and was over in two hours

SCOTS GREYS CUT UP.

Two Officers Wounded, Two Men Killed and Other Casualties.

London, Feb. 21.—A detachment of the Scots Greys, one of Great Britain's crack dragoon regiments, has been cut up by the Boers at Klipdam. Major C. W. M. Feilden and Capt. E. Usher were severely wounded, two men were killed, six were wounded and 46 captured.

The news was received yesterday from Lord Kitchener, in a despatch dated from Petroria, Feb. 19. The Scots Greys formed part of General Gilbert Hamilton's column. The latter, while moving on Nigel, Feb. 18, engaged a force of Boers at Klipdam. The Scots Greys became detached, were surrounded and cut off.

General Hamilton was unable to dislodge the Boers from their position, so he continued his march towards Nigel. The Boers released the Scots Greys, who had been made prisoners.

For Preferential Trade.

Montreal, Feb. 21.—Preferential trade within the empire won almost unanimous approval at a large meeting of the Montreal Board of Trade. There was but one dissenting voice against this resolution:

Resolved, that this meeting is of opinion that Great Britain can serve best her own interests and that of her colonies by adopting such change in her fiscal policy as will give the products of her colonies a preference in her markets as against the products of foreign countries, it being believed that such preference would stimulate trade and develop colonial enterprise, and, moreover, serve to make the colonies attractive, not only to the large number of British subjects emigrating annually from the British Isles, but also to the surplus population of other countries, and, at the same time, benefit Great Britain by largely freeing her from dependence upon foreign countries for her food supplies.

See the new photos at the entrance to Mr. Whiten's studio. Nothing in town can surpass them in finish and style. Go and see the work.

ACCOMPANIMENTS OF LIBERAL RULE.

Whether or not it is cause and effect, it is still a fact that from sea to sea in Canada, the prevalence of Liberal rule is coincident with great and general prosperity from ocean to ocean. In the Dominion, and in every province with the exception of Manitoba, Liberal Governments are in power, and never was there greater prosperity in this country and for so long a continuous period, as has prevailed since the Liberal party assumed power at Ottawa six years ago, in 1896. The revenue has been increasingly buoyant from year to year, an excellent index to general commercial prosperity; for as increased customs duties result from increased importations, the latter depend upon increased commercial activity, and this indicates an increased popular demand, due in turn to greater general prosperity and possession of means by the people generally. The resources of Canada in agricultural, mineral and forest wealth, are just beginning to receive practical recognition. The waste areas of Ontario are beginning to be developed; millions of dollars are employed in mining and other development operations. Settlement is going forward rapidly in New Ontario, and the new centres of demand for household and farm implement supplies, as well as demands for mining machinery, pulp works machinery, etc., give an impulse to the manufacturing and commercial energies of older Ontario. In this manner the policy of the Ross Government is having, and will continue to have, far-reaching effects. True, the local Government has no direct control over legislation that will directly affect commercial and industrial interests; but a wise and energetic Government can create contributory conditions. The faith of the Ross Government in New Ontario, and their policy of bringing into play the forces that will facilitate the development of its endless resources, have and will continue to have a stimulating effect upon the prosperity of not only that portion but also upon that of the longer settled portions of the Province. Of course the application of the Ross Government's forward policy means the expenditure of more or less of the peoples money; but that expenditure need not give the people of older Ontario any grave concern for in the first any grave concern, for in the first place this expenditure brings its own reward. In the ways mentioned, manufacturing and mercantile operations are stimulated, employment increased, the resulting wages spent by operatives creates a demand for the farmer's produce, and the circle of benefit is complete; then in the second place money spent in development operations, while it is the peoples money, does not come from general taxation of the community, and therefore its expenditure represents no added burden of taxation. The pulp woods that are conceded to development companies are in their natural state useless, and moreover in danger of destruction by fire. Their utilization by pulp companies brings a considerable revenue to the Province, gives employment to labour and the employment of large capital with all the collateral advantages to to all classes of the community which must come from such operations. A wide-awake people like those of Ontario must sympathize with the application of this policy and incidentally condemn the do-nothing policy of the Opposition, which is in many ways opposed to that of the Government—their attitude is suggestive of the dog in the manger. They will neither propose anything in the way of a forward policy themselves, nor will they assist the Ross Government in what it has in the past as far as time has permitted—effectively carried out. This is a live Province and requires a live Government to manage its affairs.

MET A TRAGIC DEATH.

Dr. Bucke, Superintendent of London Asylum, Dies From Fractured Skull.

London, Feb. 21.—A fatal accident that occurred Wednesday night removes from this community one of its ablest and most distinguished men, and inflicts upon the community at large a serious loss. Dr. Richard Maurice Bucke, superintendent of the London Asylum, and known all over the continent as an insanity expert, died under particularly sad circumstances.

He was about to retire for the night, and about 11.30 he walked out alone on the verandah of his residence at the asylum. A few minutes later his family heard the sound of a fall, and, hurrying out, found that he had evidently slipped on a piece of ice and struck the back of his head heavily on the floor. He was lifted and carried into the house and it was found that he displayed no signs of life. Medical aid was summoned from the asylum and from the city. Dr. Beemer and Dr. McCallum responded, but found on their arrival that life was extinct. The only mark of injury perceptible was a bruise on the back of the head,

Sketch of His Life.

Richard Maurice Bucke was born at Methwold, Norfolk, England, on March 18, 1839. He came with his parents to Canada when a year old, and was educated at the London Grammar School. He afterwards studied medicine at McGill University, Montreal, and at London and Paris. After visiting California twice, he began practicing his profession at Sarnia. In 1876 he was appointed medical superintendent of the London Asylum. Dr. Bucke was regarded as being one of the highest authorities in America on the subject of mental diseases, and his opinion and services in such cases were highly valued. In religion Dr. Bucke was a member of the Church of England. He married, in 1865, Miss Jessie Maria Gurd of Moore, Ont., who survives him. The result of this union was a family of four sons and six daughters. The surviving members are: Dr. E. Pardee Bucke, London; W. A. Bucke, Toronto; Robert Bucke, a student at the Western Medical College; Mrs. Harry Pope, Strathroy, and Miss Bucke, at home. The eldest son, Maurice Bucke, died in Colorado two years ago. Julius P. Bucke, K.C., of Sarnia, and P. Eustace Bucke, barrister, Toronto, are brothers of Dr. Bucke.

Hon. J. R. Stratton Shocked.

Toronto, Feb. 21.—Hon. J. R. Stratton was shocked early yesterday morning to hear of the death of Dr. R. M. Bucke, for the past 21 years medical superintendent of the London Asylum. Dr. Bucke was a man of great culture and mental capacity and was the author of an exhaustive work on "Cosmic consciousness." He was a great friend and admirer of the late Walt Whitman, and was a champion of the Bacon side of the Bacon-Shakespeare controversy. His position at the London Asylum is being filled in the meantime by the assistant superintendent, Dr. Buckham.

Farmer's Narrow Escape.

Windsor, Feb. 21.—J. Robins, a farmer of Moore Township, Elgin County, was driving across Lake St. Clair from St. Clair City, Michigan, and Courtright, Ont., yesterday afternoon, when the ice gave way and the horses and load of brick sank to the bottom of the lake. Robins clung to the edge of the ice, and was rescued by people who saw him struggling from the shore.

HONORED THEIR CHIEF.

Conservatives Banquet the Ontario Opposition Leader.

Toronto, Feb. 21.—The banquet tendered last evening by the Opposition members of the Legislature to their leader, Mr. J. P. Whitney, while not revealing any new features of the party program, was a great success from the standpoint of enthusiasm and good-fellowship. The company was made up largely of the Parliamentary delegation and the presidents and secretaries of Conservative associations and candidates for the Legislature throughout the province, and numbered nearly four hundred. In addition to the guest of the evening, there were such prominent speakers as Mr. R. L. Borden, the Dominion Conservative leader, and Mr. F. D. Monk, M.P., the Conservative leader in Quebec, who came up to say a word of cheer to those about to enter upon the provincial campaign. Mr. Whitney's speech contained a recital of his attitude toward provincial issues, similar to those of his former speeches. All three speakers alluded in a long-range manner to the prohibition question, their attitude, succinctly stated, being of non-interference in what they considered to be a perplexing situation in which Premier Ross found himself.

British Empire League.

Ottawa, Feb. 21.—The annual meeting of the British Empire League was held yesterday. The officers were re-elected.

Hon. Mr. Tarte moved a resolution expressing the hope that the Colonial Conference would do good.

Hon. G. E. Foster moved a resolution calling for the adoption of arrangements whereby newspapers and periodicals could pass from one part of the empire to the other at the lowest possible rates, in order that the inhabitants of all parts could the better keep in touch with each other.

All the resolutions were agreed to.

U.S. and Integrity of China.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—The Tribune says that Secretary of State Hay has sent a note to the Russian and Chinese Governments, following closely along the lines of the Anglo-Japanese treaty of Jan. 30. The note is interpreted as a distinct warning to both China and Russia that the United States will not permit the integrity of the empire to be molested in favor of one nation to the detriment of another.

Russian University Closed.

St Petersburg, Feb. 21.—The university has been officially closed.

The university students of St. Petersburg, at a meeting held in that city, Feb. 18, in spite of police orders to the contrary, rejected the Government's concessions respecting student organizations and meetings, and proclaimed that they would strike unless their demands for complete autonomy and freedom of speech were granted.

Britain Doubts Not.

London, Feb. 21.—The Under Secretary of the Foreign Office, Lord Cranborne, in the House of Commons yesterday, informed Henry Norman (Liberal) that His Majesty's Government did not doubt the good faith of Russia's promise to restore the administration of the customs at New Chwang to the Chinese as soon as circumstances permitted this to be done.

IT'S HONEST TRUTH.

REFLECT ON IT.

The unprecedented success of Malt Breakfast Food has been achieved by true merit and practical results.

Health seekers for years looked for a perfect health food; their desires were fully realized with the advent of Malt Breakfast Food, the king of breakfast cereals.

Malt Breakfast Food promised old and young a sustaining and energizing nutriment that would conduce to bodily and mental vigour; it has fulfilled every promise.

Malt Breakfast Food was given to the well and strong as a food that would maintain vigorous health; it was recommended to invalids and convalescents as a nourishment that the weak stomach would tolerate and retain. Results in all cases exceeded the most sanguine expectations.

Able and progressive physicians and scientific food experts have tested Malt Breakfast Food in a variety of ways, and placed it far above all other preparations for the Breakfast Table. Users of oatmeal and starchy grain foods should reflect on these truths. Your Grocer sells Malt Breakfast Food.

MAJORITY IN SENATE

Liberals Now Able to Appoint the Standing Committees.

ARGUMENT OF HON. R. W. SCOTT

As the Government of the Day Is Responsible For the Legislation Adopted by Parliament It Ought to Have a Preponderating Influence Upon the Senate Committees—Carried on Division.

Ottawa, Feb. 21.—For the first time in the history of the Senate the Liberals have practically a majority, and will control the standing committees of the Upper House. This result is ensured by the appointment of a majority of Ministerialists on the Striking Committee. The selection of the committee took place yesterday afternoon and was expected to bring about a keen fight for supremacy between the two parties. The threatened struggle did not, however, come off. Sir Mackenzie Bowell realized that a division would have revealed the Conservatives to be in a minority, and did not dare to risk a vote when the motion to appoint the Striking Committee was submitted. The resolution was, therefore, declared carried on division, the Parliamentary method of registering a protest when no vote is taken. The Striking Committee consists of five Liberals and four Conservatives. The Ministerialists are Hon. R. W. Scott, Hon. Wm. Templeman, Hon. R. Dandurand, Hon. Mr. Ellis and Hon. L. Melvin Jones. The Conservative members are Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Hon. Messrs. Ferguson, Miller and Loughed,

Mr. Scott's Argument

The motion for the appointment of the committee was moved by Hon. R. W. Scott. In doing so he said he would give the reasons for asking the Senate to give the Government a majority. It had always been an accepted principle that the Government of the day is responsible for the legislation adopted by Parliament, and, therefore, ought to have a preponderating influence upon the Senate committees. He thought now that the Government had again been returned that it was fair they should have some consideration. All the chairmanships of the great committees were in the hands of the Conservatives. This, he thought, was not fair, and, therefore, had framed his resolution so as to provide that the Liberal party should have control of the committees. At the close of last session the parties stood 32 Government and 49 Opposition. On the Banking and Commerce Committee there were forty members and eleven Liberals; on the Internal Economy Committee there were twenty-five members and six Liberals.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell said last year the leader of the House Mr. Scott, had stated that the question of party politics had never entered into the striking of the committees. Those who heard him to-day would have the impression that it had been the moving principle. Since 1893, when he went on the Striking Committee, the question of politics had never been heard, but any suggestion for filling the vacancies made by the Government leaders had always been acceded to. When he last year moved for a special committee, Hon. Mr. Mills said it was fair, equitable and just. At the present time the Conservatives had a majority of five.

After some further debate the motion was carried "on division."

Hon. Mr. Scott gave notice that he would move that the House at its rising stand adjourned till Tuesday fortnight.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell asked if it was intended to ignore the Senate in the introduction of Government measures? Hon. Mr. Scott thought there would be very few Government measures this session.

The Senate then adjourned.

LAND REGISTRATIONS.

Report Shows That 2,026 Settlers Came From United States.

Ottawa, Feb. 21.—The report of the Interior Department for the last fiscal year, laid before Parliament by Mr. Sifton yesterday, shows a total revenue from lands' registration fees of $1,890,070, a net increase of $209,308 over the previous year. During the year their were 8,167 homestead entries, of which 2,351 were made by Canadians and 2,026 by settlers from the United States. The next largest number was 1,056, by Austro-Hungarians. Entries were made by 659 English, 90 Irish and 182 Scotch settlers.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Ottawa, Feb. 21.—The House spent the greater part of the afternoon yesterday in supply, and made substantial progress with the civil government estimates. The old question of winter communication between Summerside, P.E.I., and the mainland occupied the attention of the House before supply was entered upon. The House adjourned at 6 o'clock.

OSHAWA MIRACLE IS EXPLAINED.

How a Remarkable Case of Paralysis was Cured.

THE MOST INTERESTING MAN IN CANADA.

Joseph Brown Attracts Attention of Physicians, Scientists and Sick People.

From the Mail and Empire.

Oshawa, Ont., Feb. 19. — Joseph Brown, whose case was fully reported in The Mail and Empire some days ago, seems to be the most talked-of and written-about man in Canada. He is in receipt daily of many letters from all over the Dominion. Physicians and scientists, as well as sick people, write him, and many and often amusing questions are asked. To all Mr. Brown answers: "I have given my sworn statement, and it tells my story. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and that after I had been partially paralyzed and unable to move for over four months, and given up by many doctors."

Many people have been puzzled as to how a kidney medicine can cure paralysis. This is easily understood when it is remembered that the kidney poison, which is the direct result of kidney weakness, is most destructive to all healthy tissue and nerve.

JOSEPH BROWN.

Seventy-five per cent. of all nervous diseases, paralysis and brain troubles is directly caused by weak kidneys, allowing violent poisons to escape through the system to derange and destroy.

Dodd's Kidney Pills by correcting the action of the kidneys, encourage these natural filters of the blood to extract and expel the poisons, thus removing the cause of many of these dangerous ailments, which are not generally spoken of as kidney diseases.

MODUS VIVENDI BILL.

Introduced by Premier Bond in Newfoundland Legislature.

St. John's, Nfld., Feb. 21.—The Colonial Legislature was opened here yesterday afternoon.

After Governor Boyle had delivered the speech from the throne, Premier Bond introduced the modus vivendi on the French Shore Question. The leader of the Opposition intimated the readiness of that party to give the bill its unanimous support,

The Fall Fair Convention.

Toronto, Feb. 21.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Association of Fairs and Exhibitions was brought to a close last evening. The speakers yesterday were: C. A. Zavitz of the Guelph Agricultural College, F. W. Hodson of Ottawa, C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, H. B. Cowan of Ottawa. G. C. Creelman closed by delivering an address on "How the different agricultural and horticultural organizations already existing in Ontario might assist the fall fairs."

The following officers were elected: President, J. Thomas Murphy, Simcoe; first vice-president, D. H. Price, Aylmer; second vice-president, W. B. Sanders, Stayner; recording secretary and treasurer, Alex. McFarlane, Otterville; corresponding secretary, G. C. Creelman, Toronto; executive committee, W. E. Roxburgh, Norwood; J. G. Clarke, Ottawa; William Laidlaw, Guelph; J. W. Sheppard, Cayuga; James Mitchell, Goderich; H. Foreman, Collingwood; F. Metcalfe, Blythe; auditors, J. G. Murdoch and J. M. Gardhouse.

Uncivilized Diplomats.

Pekin, Feb. 20.—The Dowager Empress and the Emperor granted an audience to the diplomatic corps today. The Dowager Empress was seated on the throne, with the Emperor occupying a chair on her left, a step lower down. The second audience, like the first, was undignified because of the lack of order. The diplomats, on entering the hall, rushed towards the throne, scrambling for a sight of the Imperial party.

The Kidneys and Uric Acid.

Uric acid is the name given by medical men for the poisonous matter which the kidneys filter from the blood. When the kidneys are weak, inactive or diseased they fail to perform their functions as filters, and the uric acid poison remains in the blood to find lodgment in the weaker organs, and produce the most painful and fatal results.

The symptoms of kidney disease, such as backache, frequent and painful urination, deposits in the urine, pains in the sides and limbs, and headaches, are so familiar that it seems unnecessary for anyone to be ignorant of the approach of this dreaded malady. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are ever at hand as a thoroughly effective remedy, as they are for sale by nearly every dealer who pretends to keep any family medicines.

Not only the kidneys themselves become diseased, but the uric acid forms crystals in the joints and muscles, causing the most extreme pain, and what is known as rheumatism, a disease which can never be cured until the kidneys are made healthful and vigourous.

Another form of kidney disease is dropsy and heart failure. In such cases the uric acid turns the blood to water, and causes dropsical swellings, which, when in the region of the heart, produce heart failure.

In view of the frightful risks which you run in neglecting kidney derangements, and the undoubted efficiency of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a cure for weak, inactive, diseased kidneys, it remains as a duty for you to apply the remedy and be cured. You can be certain of beneficial results, for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have stood the test of time, and proven their right to first place as a kidney medicine.

In every town, village and township of Canada there are people who can testify to the extraordinary merits of this great remedy. Ask your friends and neighbours about it, or, better still, try it for yourself, and join the ranks of Dr. Chase's admirers. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto. 2

Laid at Rest.

The funeral of the late Frederick Perrin took place yesterday afternoon, from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Howell, Sherbrooke street, to the Little Lake Cemetery, and was largely attended. About 250 members of the Federation of Labour, with which deceased was connected, attended the funeral in a body. The Federation of Labour and the Bricklayers' Union, both sent floral offerings. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. D. O. Crossley, and Rev. J. C. Davidson, Chaplain of the Federation of Labour was also present.

A CASE OF DESTITUTION.

Mr. Cochrane Made a Visit to Dummer Yesterday

And Brought Home Two Children who Were Living in Great Filth—Are now in the Children's Shelter.

Another of those distressing cases that from time to time come to the notice of the Children's Aid Society of the County of Peterborough, was brought to light in the Township of Dummer yesterday, and it truly revealed a most uncivilized state of affairs.

A family living back of Norwood not unfamiliar to the officers of the local Childrens' Aid Society. Some years ago the Society's agent visited the shack which constituted the family's home on the 9th line of Dummer and took therefrom five small children who were in a pitiable condition of filth and hunger. Yesterday the same family was visited on a similar mission and the investigation did not go to show that the man or his wife had made any progress in their mode of living beyond having brought into the world two children who were being raised more like animals than human beings, and were suffering the pangs of hunger.

The little hoval was visited yesterday by High County Constable Cochrane, the agent of the Children's Aid Society and Mr. Wm. Henry, the keeper of the shelter, on Charlotte street. They went to Norwood by rail and then drove to their destination, about 10 miles north.

The miserable shack is situated not far from the road, but somewhat in the woods. It is 10 x 6 feet, of logs, and the furniture, if such it might be called, constituted a wretched sight. There was practically only one bed, or what was supposed to be a bed, and this was constructed of rough boards which were fastened to the wall. There was a table of similar construction, while a miserable fire in an old stove, which had long since outlived its usefulness, was supposed to keep the inmates warm.

It may seem hardly creditable, but the occupants of this desolate shack, with its measurements of 10 by 6 feet, were the father, mother, two children, a sheep, a dog and a cat. The open sides of the house at the gables afforded a little ventilation, which would perhaps not otherwise have been provided. The real condition of affairs baffles description, but another startling circumstance in connection with the life of the Storms family was that they subsisted on one loaf of bread a day, which was given them by the Township of Dummer. One solitary loaf a day fed this family, which figuring matters out would mean an expense of about $7 for the winter.

The two children were brought to town by Mr. Cochrane, the agent, and have been photographed by Mr. Roy. They are perfect samples of destitution. They are two and three years respectively, and are receiving that care which has been so tenderly extended to children in a similar condition.

Will Soon be Open Again.

Messrs. P. Simons & Co. have been successful in securing convenient premises, across the street from their burned building, next to Tully's drug store. They will take possession on the 1st of March, and will open out with a new stock of fine spring cloths of the most fashionable patterns of the season. In their new and more central premises it is hoped that they will be exempt from any further serious business disturbance of the nature they have been up against for the past month. Apart from the actual losses by fire and other damages, the firm have suffered greatly by the unavoidable delays and stoppage of their business for so long a period.

IN LATEST SPORTING CIRCLES.

Newmarket's Team Will Play Here To-night.

Big Surprise in the Hamilton-Newmarket Match Keene Defeated in Curling by two Peterborough Rinks.

HOCKEY.

Notwithstanding the fact that the papers throughout the province and authorities in general, have been calling upon Hamilton to win the Newmarket-Hamilton round, and in view of the additional fact that the Hamilton men were so confident of victory that they had communicated with Peterborough regarding the next round, the unexpected often happens, and last night on Toronto ice, the Hamiltonians were put out of the running by Newmarket's speedy aggregation. The result was a surprise to many, and goes to show that the Newmarket team is a strong combination. Although the Newmarket men played last night they will be obliged to play here this evening against Peterborough. There promises to be a large attendance, larger in fact than at any previous match this winter, and the Peterborough team will be cheered encouragingly throughout. The locals are in pretty good condition. True, it is, that they were pretty badly used up after the match against R.M.C. on Monday night, and only that they have been given careful treatment ever since they would not be in shape for to-morrow's game. Roy Armstrong, who perhaps suffered more than any other of the players on Monday in Kingston, is in condition once more, and the team that will uphold the Peterborough colours to-night will be identically the same as that which put R.M.C. and Port Hope out of business. The boys enter the contest to-night with a full sense of the responsibility that is resting upon them, and may be depended upon to do their very best. What more could one expect?

The referee for to-night's game will be Mr. Roy Schooley of Osgoode Hall, who so very ably refereed the R.M.C. game here.

The team for to-night's game will be as follows:

HURRAH FOR THE JUNIORS!

In the Junior Colts Peterborough has the makings of a great team, and the funny part of it is that very few were aware of this fact until last evening when the little fellows turned out, for a friendly game with the Colts and polished off that aggregation to the tune of three goals to one. The Colts played their usual good game, but the Juniors were too fast for them and at half time the score stood 3—0 in their favour. In the second half the Colts did their utmost to retrieve their lost laurels, but the best that they could do was to score once.

The teams were composed as follows;

Juniors — Goal, W. Thornton; point M. Moore; cover point, G. Perks; forwards, D. Smith, H. Sullivan, R. Hall and B. McFarlane.

Colts, — Goal, H. VanEvery; point, Innis Hamilton, cover point, Lee; forwards, Kennedy, McGrath, Parker, Cameron.

Mr. Dick Watt made a most capable referee.

The Junior Colts tried no individual work, but won out through their brilliant combination play.

CURLIANA.

Two rinks of Peterborough curlers went down to Keene yesterday and administered to the home team a very crushing defeat. The rinks were as follows:

Peterborough		Keene
Rink No. 1.
C B McAllister
R Neil
R J Frost
C N Brown, sk...20	Campbell, sk...11
R F McWilliams

J H Connal
Knapman, sk...29	Kenneally, sk...9

Majority for Peterborough, 29 shots.

KEEP HOCKEY CLEAN.

The introduction of race-course methods in connection with the game of hockey will soon destroy all public interest in it. Hockey is distinctly a Canadian pastime, and it is extremely regretable that the contests which are held between the different clubs should not be honourably conducted. No doubt a majority of the members of the association observe the laws, but the dishonesty of a few individual members bemirches the whole association and brings the game into disrepute in those dishonest methods are resorted to.

The Ontario Hockey Association should deal with the rule breakers in a vigourous manner. No other penalty then permanent exclusion for the individual and the club from the privileges of the association is adequate if the game is to be preserved from professionalism, which is the bane of sporting contests.

Th ethical value of hockey, or any other outdoor game or contest of skill, lies largely in the fact that young men learn to lose cheerfully, without becoming discouraged. They fight strenuously for victory, achieving which, they should learn to wear it modestly; failing that, they should accept their defeat cheerfully and make further preparations for future triumph. When a club composed of young man prefer to not dishonestly in order to win, rather than to deal fairly with their opponents, even though they lose, then they suffer a moral declension which not only deprives the game of its ethical value, but renders it a lesson in depravity.

There should be in connection with each hockey club some mature person whose judgment could be called for, and whose influence with the members would be sufficient to lead them to prefer to lose honourably than to win unfairly.

Hockey is a game which naturally attracts courageous, venturesome, energetic youths, and it should be possible to make the contests between the clubs contribute to the moral as well as physical upbuilding of the players. We commend the suggestion to the Ontario Hockey Association, and trust that some means will be found to put an end to the unsportsmanslike practices which have prevailed in some districts.—News.

BASKET-BALL.

There will be a match to-morrow night of especial interest, being a contest between the Business College team and the Harriers. The game will be called at nine o'clock sharp. Be sure and be on hand. Messrs. Rowley Merrill and Sandford Hall will umpire. H.E. Ayers, referee.

LACROSSE.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — Don't you think it is time something was done to revive the good old game of lacrosse in our town, just to keep up with the general progress? I understand there are several good men who have lately located in town, and with the assistance of old heads, such as the two McCabes, Glover, Lipsett, Boland, Wasson, and several promising players in the Vatieans, as well as others who have signified their intention of coming out in the event of a club being started. I would suggest that a meeting of all lovers of lacrosse be held at an early date and talk over matters, as nothing tends to advertise a town so much as a first class hockey, football or lacrosse club.

I remain, yours,
A Lover of the Game.

FIRE AT CENTRAL SCHOOL.

A Blaze Occurred in the Boiler Room at Noon To-day.

At about half past one o'clock this afternoon fire was discovered in the boiler room of the Central School. An alarm was sent in and the brigade promptly responded. However, the fire was extinguished with the aid of the fire equipment of the school, before any very great damage was done and without the services of the brigade.

How the blaze originated is a great mystery. A coat that was hanging on the wall had by some means taken fire and the woodwork soon caught from this. The blaze was in the way to make fair headway when noticed.

It is believed that the fire had its origin from the hot air pipe.

PROHIBITIONISTS MET YESTERDAY.

They Will Form a County Alliance.

ORGANIZER NICHOLLS HERE.

The Committees on Resolutions Make Their Reports—Considerable Discussion Took Place.

A meeting of the temperance workers of the County of Peterborough was held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall here yesterday, for the purpose of perfecting the organization and discussing the referendum now before the Ontario House.

The meeting was called at the instance of the Dominion Alliance, and was attended by their organizer, Mr. John A. Nicholls, who addressed a meeting in the afternoon, and another one in the evening.

The afternoon meeting, which was principally for the purpose of organization, was rather poorly attended for a convention, which circumstance was attributed by several speakers to the belief that there was a misunderstanding as to the nature of the meeting, as to who was responsible for it being called, and further that the roads were in a poor condition for travel. However, about the close of the meeting, the hall contained about forty or more temperance workers.

The meeting was opened with devotional exercises by Rev. C. L. Thompson, of Ashburnham, after which Mr. H. P. Lindsay, was on motion, asked to take the chair, and Mrs. (Rev.) A. R. Campbell was appointed secretary of the meeting.

THE SPEAKER.

Organizer Nicholls, who was present on behalf of the Dominion Alliance addressed the audience. He first referred to the circumstances that led up to the calling of the meeting, which he said had been convened at the instigation of the Alliance, which was endeavouring to have the province fully organized. He told of the successful meetings of temperance workers he had lately attended in other points of the province, and in referring to the position of the liquor traffic at the present time he thought that they had arrived at the parting of the ways; they were at a crisis in the history of temperance in the province. After reviewing the position of the Dominion Alliance regarding prohibition, and in particular the Liquor Act now introduced into the Ontario House, he contended that the more they examined it the more hostile they were to it. The referendum was what they objected to in particular.

Continuing, the speaker referred to the value of organization. The liquor men were organized, and whilst the temperance people of the province outnumbered the liquor men greatly they were not a united body, and did not carry the weight that they should carry. The provincial Prohibition Convention would meet in Toronto next week, and it was the desire of the Alliance that a delegation from Peterborough should attend. He thought that there was a good chance to have pressure brought on the Government to such a degree as to have the referendum vote take place at a more convenient date than that specified in the bill. He noticed that the Government had delayed the second reading of the bill for a week and he had no doubt that this was done with a view of seeing what would be the outcome of the temperance convention in Toronto. The speaker had no politics. He was neither Grit or Tory, he was for prohibition and for any party that would adopt that principle as one of its planks. The temperance people of this Province were not going to accept defeat, it did not matter what party went under or what Government was defeated, prohibition is to come sooner or later.

Mr. Nicholls' closing remarks were regarding the differences of opinion in the ranks of the temperance people of the Province which he did not think amounted to much. The campaign is being carried on under the general supervision of the Dominion Alliance.

MR. POWELL SPEAKS.

Mr. Powell who was present as a representative of the Good Templars endeavoured to explain why the meeting was not more largely attended. The lodge to which he belonged appointed a delegate not only for today but also for the meeting in Toronto. However, there was a sort of an alliance executive in existence in Peterborough, made up of representatives from the various temperance organizations but it had not been communicated with regarding to-day's meeting. The temperance people of the town therefore were somewhat uncertain as to whether the meeting was called by responsible parties and as to who was supposed to attend. He made fitting reference to the death of the late Dr. Fife who had been a fearless campaigner in the cause of temperance. In closing Mr. Powell asked Mr. Nicholls if the temperance people as a whole were in favour of the bill outside of the referendum which was attached thereto.

Mr. Nicholls stated that they were as far as it went. It was all they could desire for the present, although their goal was total prohibition of the sale, manufacture and importation of the liquor traffic. He then went on to explain what he termed as the severe handicap that was placed on the temperance people.

The question was asked how would it do if we were to stay at home at the Provincial election, thereby making a smaller vote necessary on the referendum?

To this idea Mr. Nicholls did not take kindly, claiming that we had no right to disfranchise ourselves.

MR. J. W. GARVIN.

Mr. J. W. Garvin said that he hesitated to attend the convention in view of the fact that some might think that he had a political motive in attending. He contended that there was nothing for the temperance people to do but to insist on the Government taking back the referendum, or at least asking that the vote take place on the same date as the general election, or at the municipal elections. He thought that the temperance people were not organized as they should be, and instanced the fact that there were only nine prohibitionists in the House. Mr. Ross is trying to suit both parties, Mr. Garvin thought.

Considerable mixed discussion followed, after which the following committees were nominated:

On Resolutions—Mrs. Jas. Kendry and Messrs. J. W. Garvin and George Powell.

On Organization — Messrs. J. W. Carey, Deyell and Miss Nicholls.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

The committees retired and after some minutes interval, they reported as follows:

The Committee on Organization recommended the organization of a prohibition alliance for the County of Peterborough.

That temporary executive officers be appointed as follows:

President—H. P. Lindsay.
Vice-Pres.—Rev. J. Bastow.
Secretary—G. G. Pratley.
Treasurer—Miss Nicholls.

The old officers to act until such time as another convention can be held to perfect the organization.

That the temporary executive be instructed to call a convention at the earliest possible date.

The Committee on Resolutions recommended the following:

Whereas, a referendum of the Manitoba Liquor Act to the electors on the 14th of October under the expressed conditions, is manifestly unfair in the interests of the liquor party, inasmuch as it will not induce them to register their votes nor prevent them from bribing electors to stay at home, and whereas, there is no good reason why the referendum should not be submitted at the general election as the question is a moral, rather than a political question, and whereas, the expense to the Province and to the electors individually of an extra election, such as proposed is burdensome and unnecessary, be it resolved:

That this convention of temperance workers assembled to-day, the 20th of Oct., 1902, in the Town of Peterborough, expresses their strong disapproval of the proposed referendum under the conditions specified, and respectfully request the Ontario Government to change the date of the said referendum to that of the next general election, and grant that a majority of the total votes polled be decisive.

There was little or no discussion on the resolutions which were declared carried.

THE EVENING MEETING.

The attendance at the evening meeting was somewhat larger than in the afternoon. The feature of the proceedings was an address of an hour's length by Mr. John A. Nicholls, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, Toronto. The chair was again occupied by Mr. H. P. Lindsay and before Mr. Nicholls proceeded with his address, the meeting appointed Messrs. J. W. Garvin and George Powell delegates from the local alliance to the convention in Toronto on Tuesday. The meeting also endorsed the resolutions that had been submitted at the afternoon meeting.

Mr. Nicholls' address was along the same lines as that delivered by him in the afternoon. He reviewed the progress of temperance in the province for the past number of years and then directed his remarks concerning the future programme for the temperance people to pursue. In the course of his remarks he handled Mr. Haverson, Solicitor for the License Holder's Association, unsparingly, and made reference to the attitude of the Toronto Globe of late towards prohibition, which did not altogether satisfy him, nor was it, he said, consistent with the attitude of the Globe a few years ago towards the same question.

The provisions of the Manitoba Act were very minutely explained, and the speaker contended that legislation was not made for private evils but for the good of society as a whole. The speaker did not believe in the principle of Government control of the liquor traffic, and would not be contented until they got total prohibition. A passing reference was made to the position of Professor Grant and Editor McDonald towards prohibition. The speaker declared that these men should not be taken as leaders of the temperance people of Ontario.

The promises of Sir Oliver Mowat, and his successors, as to prohibition, were reviewed, and referring to the practicability of prohibition, the legislation of this kind in Kansas and other States was quoted.

In conclusion, Mr. Nicholls asked electors to vote against the candidates who are now opposed to the amendments to the measure now before the House.

On motion of Rev. J. P. Wilson, seconded by Mr. Northey, a vote of thanks was extended to the lecturer of the evening. The meeting then adjourned until 2 p.m. on March 13.

PROPOSED VISIT TO THE UNITED STATES

is a source of great inspiration to the American people. So also are ROUTLEY'S Bargains causing enthusiasm over values which are not surpassed in Canada. We are making ready to enlarge our Wall Paper Dept, and are very anxious that people should buy now. Bring the length and width of your room and we will tell you what it will cost. We are positive we can surprise you with the low prices we are asking for high-grade goods. Since Sept. 1901 we have received over thirteen thousand dollars' worth of Wall Papers divided between our Peterborough and Toronto stores, and with such extensive purchases we get lower prices than can the ordinary dealer. We can safely say that in no town or city in Canada is Wall Paper sold as cheaply as Routley's. We also for each department watch the markets very closely. We cleared out one factory of over 1,000 Hand-made Window Shades now in stock. The advantages we get largely revert to our customers, as we are able to sell them at less than manufacturers' cost. In our Crockery, China and Glassware, Dinner, Tea and Chamber, Trunks and Valises, you will find what you need in quality and price. Good goods at low prices.

AMERICAN BUCKWHEAT CAKES.

Emperor William Discovers This Delicious Breakfast Food and Sends his Chef to Learn to Make It.

From the New York Herald.

The good old American buckwheat cakes, with maple syrup, can tickle an imperial palate, is the latest discovery made by William II., of Germany.

The Emperor learned the appetizing qualities of American cookery during a visit to the Hamburg-American yacht, Princess Victoria Louise, to which, for the occasion, the noted chef of the crack steamer Deutschland, Herr Fahrenheim, had been transferred.

An American breakfast was prepared for the Emperor, which he liked so well that he stayed for another. His Majesty especially praised the buckwheat cakes, which he declared had proven extremely palatable, and finally sent his own chef to the Deutschland, where he took a two days' course in American cooking, during which, the Deutschland's chef says, he was taught how to make American buckwheat cakes and other typical American dishes.

The American buckwheat cake, as served on the Deutschland, and which is to be hereafter a part of Emperor William's menu, is made in the following manner: Two cups of buckwheat, one cup of wheat flour, two tablespoons of Royal Baking Powder, one half teaspoonful of salt, all sifted well together. Mix with milk into a thin batter and bake at once on a hot griddle.

PORT HOPE KNITTING WORKS

SECOND STRIKE

Occurred at the Cereal Building Yesterday Was Settled.

When the workmen engaged on the American Cereal Company's building returned to their work yesterday morning, they found a man at work who was not a member of the Federation of Labour. The strike on Monday, it appears, was settled on the understanding that all the strikers were to be taken back, and that no men should be taken on who were not members of the Union, whilst Union men were idle. The result was that another strike was ordered. A committee of the Labour Union waited upon Mr. Scott, Manager of the company, in his office over the Canadian Bank of Commerce, last night, and a satisfactory settlement was very shortly arrived at. The "scab," it is understood, was discharged, and the men have returned to work.

MINISTERS IN "QUESTION TIMES"

Several Interesting Answers Given to Members' Questions—Debate on Bourassa's Motions Concerning Imperial Policy—Member For Labelle Says Canada Sacrificed—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Reply.

Ottawa, Feb. 20.—Some interesting Ministerial announcements were made during "question time" in the House yesterday afternoon. One of these was the Premier's statement that the Government does not intend disallowing the Ontario act extending the life of the Provincial Legislature, because the matter is a domestic one, purely within the purview of the province. The Minister of Justice intimated that legislation would be introduced this session to supplement the existing law with respect to the compulsory retirement of county judges who have reached the age of 75 years. The case of judges of the High Court of Ontario and the Supreme Court had not yet been considered The Minister of Railways informed the House that he hoped to be able to make an early statement in regard to the appointment of a railway commission. Mr. Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, in answer to Mr. Bennett's question based on the resolution of the Shorthorn Breeders' Association, said that it is not the intention of the Government to discontinue the compulsory use of toxine or to abolish the 90 days' quarantine against English cattle.

Mr. Bourassa's Motions.

Mr. Bourassa moved for papers treating on the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and the Alaskan boundary question, but was asked by the Premier to withdraw the motion in view of the fact that negotiations on the latter subject had not been concluded. Instead of complying at once with the request, however, Mr. Bourassa entered upon a discussion of the British Government's course, and expressed the fear that the Imperial authorities had sacrificed Canadian interests in the boundary matter in order to maintain amicable relations with the United States.

Sir Wilfrid's Reply.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in reply, said he declined to be drawn into a discussion of a question that was not involved in the hon. gentleman's motion, but in his speech. If Mr. Bourassa was not satisfied with the condition of the negotiations, which have not resulted in a treaty in regard to the Alaskan boundary and which have resulted in arrangement in regard to the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, he was quite within his rights in bringing any motion he pleased of censure on the British or Canadian Government, but the papers could not be brought down while the negotiations were pending. Mr. Bourassa's speech was, to say the least of it, out of place.

"I am not," continued the Premier, "any more than he, an admirer of the British policy on the Continent of America. We have heard it before, and for my part I am sorry to say that in many cases Canadians have believed that they have not got their fair due in the past, but while I make no bones at all about this question, and while I am quite free to give my own opinion on it, I hope we have not come to this that we want Great Britain to go to war with the United States if negotiations are prolonged more than we wish on a matter of long-pending difficulty. We want to preserve good relations with our neighbors to the south of us, even though on some occasions our patience is sorely tried. I am sure Mr. Bourassa would be the last man to suggest that the British Government should act like Mr. Kruger and send an ultimatum to the United States. The House will agree that it is better to wait for a few months, or, if need be, one or two years. The negotiations are still pending, but I hope that before Parliament rises I may make a statement to the House on this question which has been engaging the attention of the British Government and the Canadian Government as well."

Mr. Borden agreed with the Premier as to the usages governing the production of papers bearing on negotiations that were still in progress but could not see any reason for delay in admitting to the House the documents in the Bulwer-Clayton matter now that it had been closed.

Mr. Gourley Talks Fight.

Mr. Gourlay of Colchester, N.S., then made a fire-eating speech, in which he said: "The day has gone by, I hope, when there is a cowardly Canadian on the soil of this country. The older men of the House may feel wary, but I think the young breed of this country are not frightened of war. The spirit of manhood is more to me than concessions for the sake of peace." He then concluded as follows:

"If it is necessary to fight the Yankees we will fight them within 24 hours, and after six months we will capture their capital and annex their country to Canada." (Cheers and laughter.)

Mr. Bourassa's motion was then withdrawn. The Commons adjourned before 6.

POLLING ON MARCH 27.

Announcement of the Manitoba Referendum in the House.

Winnipeg, Feb. 20.—Yesterday afternoon the Hon. Colin H. Campbell introduced his referendum bill to the Legislature. He explained the provisions of the bill fully. All those whose names appear on the municipal lists, and persons who have resided within the province for 12 months, will be allowed to vote. Polling is set for March 27, and if the act is sustained it will become effective on June 1. The referendum will carry if 45 per cent. of those on the voters' list vote in favor of the act, or, second, if 60 per cent. on the voters' list vote and 60 per cent. of those who vote are in favor, or, third, if the vote falls below 60 per cent., then a percentage between 60 per cent. and 66 2-3 per cent. will be taken.

FRIED ONIONS

Indirectly Caused the Death of the World's Greatest General.

It is a matter of history that Napoleon was a gormand, an inordinate lover of the good things of the table, and history further records that his favourite dish was fried onions; his death from cancer of stomach it is claimed also, was probably caused from his excessive indulgence of this fondness for the odorous vegetable.

The onion is undoubtedly a wholesome article of food, in fact has many medicinal qualities of value, but it would be difficult to find a more indigestible article than fried onions, and to many people they are simply poison, but the onion does not stand alone in this respect. Any article of food that is not thoroughly digested becomes a source of disease and discomfort whether it be fried onions or beef steak.

The reason why any wholesome food is not promptly digested is because the stomach lacks some important element of digestion, some stomachs lack peptone, others are deficient in gastric juice, still others lack hydrochloric acid.

The one thing necessary to do in any case of poor digestion is to supply those elements of digestion which the stomach lacks, and nothing does this so thoroughly and safely as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Dr. Richardson in writing a thesis on treatment of dyspepsia and indigestion, closes his remarks by saying, "for those suffering from acid dyspepsia, shown by sour, watery risings, or for flatulent dyspepsia shown by gas on stomach, causing heart trouble and difficult breathing, as well as for all other forms of stomach trouble, the safest treatment is to take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. I advise them because they contain no harmful drugs, but are composed of valuable digestives, which act promptly upon the food eaten. I never knew a case of indigestion or even chronic dyspepsia which Stuart's Tablets would not reach."

Cheap cathartic medicines claiming to cure dyspepsia and indigestion can have no effect whatever in actively digesting the food, and to call any cathartic medicine a cure for indigestion is a misnomer.

Every druggist in the United States and Canada sells Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and they are not only the safest and most successful but the most scientific of any treatment for indigestion and stomach troubles.

Will Protest West Durham.

Bowmanville, Feb. 20.—It has been decided by the Conservatives of West Durham to protest the election of R. Beith. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., has been employed, and the necessary papers will be filed at once, though by law the time is not up till Feb. 24. The usual grounds will be alleged.

Stewart's Majority 1,068.

Winnipeg, Feb. 20.—Complete returns from Lisgar have been received, as follows: Stewart, 3,395; Richardson, 2,332; Toombs, 1,643. Stewart's majority over Richardson is 1,068. Toombs, Conservative, lost his deposit.

WHITE FOR EVENING WEAR.

It Is the Height of Fashion This Winter.

One of the latest materials for evening coats is white corduroy. A recent model was built very simply and loosely. For sole ornamentation it had a great collar of lace edged with bands of dark fur. The whole effect was charming and a great relief to the over-trimmed creations of brocade which we have seen so much of this season.

White cloth is being much worn this winter, and there are few costumes more chic than one of this material trimmed with sable or black velvet. White frieze frocks are charming for young girls.

A white crepe de chine or broadcloth skirt is almost indispensable to wear with the light silk and chiffon waists which are so smart this winter. If made of crepe de chine, the skirt should have a tucked upper and a flounce ornamented with insertion or velvet ribbon. A charming model is one where the flounce is laid in graduated folds stitched invisibly. With such a two piece costume the belt should invariably match the waist.

The pretty evening waist here shown is of accordion plaited white chiffon. It has a bolero of white mousseline de sole figured in black and silver. This bolero rises in a point both back and front showing the accordion plaited underblouse. A bow of panne ribbon is carelessly fastened across the front of the decolletage. JUDIC CHOLLET.

All For Templeman.

Ottawa, Feb. 20.—There was a meeting in Victoria, B. C., Tuesday night, called by the executive of the Liberal Association, at which over 300 were present. The proceedings of the Vancouver convention were repudiated. Only six voted against the resolution. The meeting unanimously repudiated Mr. Martin as leader, and unanimously expressed confidence in Senator Templeman as the leader of the Liberal party in British Columbia.

Twenty Years of Bronchitis.

Captain Dunlop, of Kingston, commander of the steamer "Bohemian," of the R. & O. Fleet, suffered unceasingly for twenty years, and although he took treatment all that time permanent relief was not obtained until he took Catarrhozone, which cured him quickly and permanently. The Captain says that Catarrhozone is the best cure for bronchitis on the face of the earth, pleasant to use, quick to relieve and sure to cure." Catarrhozone is a wonderful treatment for all diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes. Two months' treatment price $1; small size, 25 cents. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

A Month Without a Full Moon.

The month of February, 1866, was the most remarkable month in the world's history. January had two full moons, and so had March, but February had none. This had not occurred since the creation of the world, and, according to some astronomers, the same thing may not occur again for a period of 2,500,000,000 years.

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be, some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith they cure just the same, for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make these organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demand for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

Quite a Difference.

The department store is useful and convenient, but the multifarious nature of its activities sometimes leads to a dilemma.

"Where shall I find something nice in oil for the dining room?" asked a stout, smiling woman of the floorwalker in a western department store.

"On the third"— began the floorwalker. Then he paused and looked doubtfully at the inquirer. "Did you mean a painting or something in the sardine line?" he asked.

COULD NOT WALK.

Some people become so crippled with rheumatism that they cannot walk for months at a stretch. Mr. John Connell, Bedford Mills, Ont., suffered great agony with muscular rheumatism in his legs and could not walk for two months. Four bottles of Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure made a well man of him. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days' treatment, 50 cents, at all drug stores, or Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

FIGHTING IN BARCELONA.

City Bristles With Bayonets—Storming Barricades—Food Scarce.

Barcelona, Feb. 20.—Two additional regiments of infantry arrived here yesterday, and the city now bristles with bayonets. Troops are incessantly charging and dispersing mobs. Shots were exchanged on the Gran Via. The rioters erected barricades in one of the suburbs, and the troops carried them at the point of the bayonet. The casualty list is lengthened by every conflict. Industrial and commercial life in Barcelona is paralyzed. No goods arrived here Tuesday, and there is a great scarcity of meat, bread and other foodstuffs. The university and all the schools are closed. The leaders of the workmen's committees have been arrested, and the meeting places have been closed.

MARITIME EXPRESSIONS.

Used In a Metaphorical Sense, They Are Quite Common.

Maritime expressions, used metaphorically, are, in fact, very common. We say a couple are "spliced," a young man is the "mainstay" of his family, an intruder "puts his oar in," the member from Wayback "steers through," a man is "hard up," sometimes "taken aback" or has "the wind taken out of his sails," a toper is "slewed," a loafer "spins a yarn," sometimes "tries the other tack," and a ruler "steers the ship of state" through troublesome times.

This last metaphor is extremely ancient, by the way. Horace refers to Rome as a ship at sea, and Plutarch says the Delphic oracle referred to Athens in the same way. A Tamil saying embodies a like metaphor, "The soul is the ship, reason is the helm, the oars are the soul's thoughts, and truth is the port." An old collection of English proverbs contains this one: "The tongue is the rudder of our ship." A Malay maxim says, "The boat which is swamped at sea may be bailed out, but the shipwreck of the affections is final."

Aristophanes, Plautus and others use an expression which comes down to us as an English saw, "To row one way and look another." An old English proverb (1614) was, "It is not good to have an oar in every one's boat."—United Service.

"Lifting the King."

One of the picturesque English coronation ceremonies which have been discontinued is that of lifting the king. In the old days the monarch always slept at the palace of Westminster on the night before the coronation. The regalia, which are still, technically speaking, in the dean and chapter of Westminster, were brought by them to Westminster hall in preparation for the ceremony. These were arranged on a long table, the crown, the scepter, the spurs, and so on. The king when he descended from the palace to Westminster hall was lifted by his nobles on to a marble chair.

The lifting of the king into this chair was a survival of the old Saxon custom of carrying the king on his shield. The custom survived up to the time of the coronation of George IV. When the monarch was seated in the chair, he at once directed by pointing his finger which of his nobles should carry the various parts of the regalia to the abbey, and the procession began.—London Tatler.

Why He Was Rejected.

The soul of a rajah who had been released from the cares of this world and an uncongenial wife presented himself at the gates of paradise.

"Have you been in purgatory yet?" demanded Brahma.

"No, but I have been married."

"Enter then. It is the same thing."

At this moment another soul arrived, who begged Brahma to allow him also to enter.

"Softly, softly. Have you been in purgatory yet?"

"No, but neither has that other fellow. He died the same day I did."

"Very true, but he had been married."

"Married, indeed! Why, I have been married three times."

"Away, then, to the lower regions!" said Brahma sternly. "Paradise is not made for imbeciles."

A Man's Success.

Ever think what "success" in life means to a man? That he work like a dog as long as he lives and send his wife abroad and his children away to school. Then when he dies he must leave a competence for his "loved ones," in order that they may continue to live without work. Ever hear of a man's loved ones being criticised for failure to do their duty toward him? But from the time the boy is eight years old to the time the man is tottering with old age he never picks up a book, newspaper or magazine without seeing something with reference to his duty. But did you ever hear of any one owing a duty to man or boy?

A Wasp's Nest.

The female wasp spends the winter in a torpid condition, and when spring arrives she hunts up some sort of sheltered spot appropriate for a nest. Having selected the retreat, she proceeds to lay within it the foundation of a home. For this object earth will not serve her turn. The substance of which the walls and chambers of the house are to be composed must be none other than the finest paper, made of wood pulp, mixed with a sort of sizing, worked to a paste and finely spread in sheets.

Brief Naval Message.

One of the briefest naval dispatches ever penned was Captain Walton's message to his chief, Admiral Byng, after the defeat of the Spanish fleet off Cape Passaro in 1718, and it ran thus:

Sir—I have taken and burnt as per margin, going for Syracuse, and am, sir, your obedient servant. J. WALTON.

A Director.

"They tell me that Jim Muggins is one of the directors in a big city corporation now," said the grocer.

"Yes. I seen him las' time I was down to town," said Mr. Meddergrass. "He directs the envelopes fer the firm."

Some men wake up and find themselves famous, while lots of others stay up all night and never even get a glimpse of fame.

Four per cent of sailing vessels and 2½ per cent of steamships are lost in a year.

The fact that all women suffer during the birth-hour leads a great many women to accept a degree of suffering which is altogether unnecessary. Sometimes it is hours, sometimes days before the struggle is over. No medicine can absolutely eliminate pain from this time of travail, but Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can and does make the baby's advent practically painless. It acts upon the organs of maternity, giving them strength and elasticity. It produces physical comfort and mental cheerfulness. It is an effective tonic, giving the mother abundant nutrition for her child.

"I believe I owe my life to Dr. Pierce's remedies, and have long felt it my duty to acknowledge the benefit I received from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Pleasant Pellets,'" says Mrs. Maria O. Hayzel, writing from Brookland, D. C. "Six years ago, after the birth of one of my children, I was left in a weak, run-down condition. My health seemed utterly gone. Life was a burden. I doctored with three different physicians and got no relief. I began to get worse, and to add to the complications, I suffered terribly from constipation. I chanced to see one of your advertisements and concluded to try the above remedies. I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and began to improve right away, and continued improving and gaining in strength. I cannot express the relief it was so great. Seven months later my little daughter was born without much trouble. I feel that I would never have been able to endure my confinement only for the help due solely to Dr. Pierce's medicines. She was a fine, healthy child, and the only one I have ever been able to nurse."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

OLD FAMILIES OF VENICE.

Their Fortunes Are Dissipated and Their Palaces Sold.

Very few of the fine old palaces of Venice belong to the descendants of the families who built and originally occupied them. Very little of the enormous wealth for which Venice was celebrated in the fifteenth century remains. The most of it has been dissipated by the descendants of the men who made it, the same as in England, France and other countries. The rich men of Venice today are an entirely new class of people, whose names do not appear in the Golden Book, which contained a list of the patrician families in Venice who were invited to festivities at the palace. This book was instituted in 1315 and thenceforth until the Austrian occupation was the index and standard of nobility by which all claims to precedence were decided.

Occasionally the grand council, by a vote, rewarded the gallantry or public services of some citizen of humble birth by directing that his name be inscribed upon its pages. None but those whose names were in the Golden Book could use the golden stairs when they entered a doge's palace, and when this right was conferred it was equivalent to an order of nobility in another country. There is one notable exception to the decay of the ancient families, and he is Count Grimani, who traces his lineage back to one of the most famous of the doges, whose portrait, painted by Titian, hangs in the council chamber of the doge's palace. The Grimani palace is on the Grand canal, near the Rialto bridge, and is celebrated for its finely sculptured capitals.

Many of the rich men in Venice today are Jews. They practically control the banking business and manufacturing. They own the fine houses of historical interest and the best paying estates on the mainland in the neighborhood. The present wealth of Venice is invested not so much in real estate as in banking, manufacturing, flour mills, elevators, gas companies, cotton mills, the manufacture of glass and in steamships upon the Adriatic.

Sealskin Doesn't Come From Seals.

The beautiful product used for clothing and commonly known as sealskin is not furnished by the true seal, whose skin is almost useless except when used as an ornamental mat or stiff rug. They are the sea lions and sea bears—the eared seals, otaria—whose skins are so highly valued because so soft and warm. The true seal is common enough, but its skin is only prized as a trophy, and it may be added that sealskin when ready for clothing has not, as often supposed, the same downy appearance on the living animal, being covered with long, coarse, deep rooted hairs, which drop out when dressed by the furrier and leave the soft, woolly hair uninjured.

Where the Difference Lies.

"Wherein lies the difference between photography and courtship?" he asked softly.

"I don't know," she replied.

"In photography," he explained, "the negative is developed in the dark room, while in courtship that is where the affirmative is developed."

She blushed, but made no answer.

"Let us," he suggested, "proceed to develop an affirmative."

There being no objections, it was so ordered

"Well, my boy, there is the forty acre lot, which is a rather broad field. You might try a little action in that with a plow and a pair of horses, and if you stick to it you can accomplish something."

Fatherless Children In Japan.

Japan has only one orphanage, yet in no other land are fatherless children better cared for. Every family cares for the sick, destitute or orphans nearest to it. There is a superstition that a childless house is accursed, and people who are not blessed with children of their own never rest till they have adopted some waif.

MARRIAGE IN ARABIA.

The Wedding Procession an Elaborate and Noisy Affair.

A marriage procession among the Arabs is a very elaborate affair. The camel which bears the bride is decorated with bright henna dye on his neck and shoulders, while there are verses from the Koran inscribed on the hangings. His uncouth legs are often swathed with bright cloths, his head bedecked with plumes and small mirrors, while his back is resplendent with bright colored bits of tinsel, which glisten against a patchwork of many hued cloths. A hood or cage conceals the bride, and no doubt adds to the discomfort of the cramped ride on the beast. There are attendants, and last of all the musicians, chiefly drummers, who attract the crowds by their incessant pounding on small but high keyed instruments.

If the journey to the groom's home is a short one, it is lengthened by stops at frequent intervals, and all the while the lover must not show any eagerness to welcome her, no matter what his feelings may be. The Arab may be affectionate, but he cannot with dignity betray emotion. Among the lower classes buffoons accompany the procession with performing bears or other wild animals, and when the bride is wealthy largess is distributed along the route in the form of clothes or coin. When the groom's tent or fixed home has been reached, the bride is expected to show great reluctance about entering it, and in some cases she has to be lifted by the husband over the blood of a sheep he has just slain.

A Magnificent Vessel.

In 268 B. C., Archimedes devised a marvelous ship for Hiero of Syracuse. Her three lofty masts had been brought from Britain, whereas our ships' masts are of iron or obtained from New Zealand or from Vancouver island. Luxuriously fitted sleeping apartments abounded, and one of her banqueting halls was paved with agate and costly Sicilian stone. Other floors were cunningly inlaid with scenes from the "Iliad." Stables for many horses, ponds stocked with live fish, gardens watered by artificial rivulets and hot baths were provided for use or amusement.

Cramps are Like Burglars.

they come unexpected, and when they are least welcome. Be armed with a one minute cure for cramps and keep Polson's Nerviline handy; it acts instantaneously. Nerviline's anodyne power is unique, for its composition expresses the highest medical progress of the age. Polson's Nerviline is a true comfort in the family for in all dangerments of the stomach and bowels it is an absolute specific. Nerviline has five times greater medicinal value than any other remedy and is sold in large 25 cent bottles. Try it.

Longevity.

The span of life is gradually expanding. We live longer and get more out of it than our grandfathers did. Whether the cause of this is a better knowledge of natural law or more skillful surgery we will not undertake to say. At any rate, people think this a pretty good world to live in and want to stay here as long as they can comfortably. The man with 100 birth anniversaries behind him is not such a remarkable fellow after all.

13. That all hose, jets and cocks used by any consumer or consumers shall be subject to the approval of the said Commissioners or their duly authorized agents for the time being.

14. Persons taking water must keep their own water pipes and all fixtures connected therewith in good repair and protected from frost at their own expense; they must provide a stop and wastecock, to be properly located inside the building, and have pipes so arranged that the water can be drained from them whenever there is danger of freezing.

15. That washing windows with hose between the hours of nine o'clock in the morning and six o'clock in the evening shall not be allowed.

16. If at any time it shall appear that a wrong statement has been made of the number of rooms in a house or the number of occupants or the purpose for which the water was to be used, or there has been any addition made to, or alteration in, the premises of any consumer or consumers, it shall be the duty of the Secretary to make the proper correction forthwith; and the proprietor, tenant or occupant shall forthwith pay the extra additional charges for all the time that such premises have been wrongfully charged.

17. Any person or persons about vacating any premises that have been supplied with water from the Waterworks, or who are desirous of discontinuing the use thereof, must give due notice of the same at the office of the Secretary, otherwise they will be held liable for the rate therefor.

18. The right is reserved to suspend the supply of water for any purpose, or to limit the hours for using the same whenever, at the discretion of the Commissioner, the public interest may require it.

19. The Commissioners or any officer authorized by them may have the water shut off from the premises of any person not complying with the rules of the Commissioners; and in cases where the water has been shut off for allowing waste or leaks or defects in pipes or cocks they may refuse to turn it on again until they shall receive satisfactory evidence that the necessary repairs have been properly made.

20. Any person authorized by the Commissioners for that purpose, shall have free access, at proper hours of the day, and upon reasonable notice given or request made or, in case of the written authority of one of the Commissioners given in respect of the special case, without notice, to all parts of every building or other premises in which water is delivered or consumed, for the purpose of inspecting or repairing as aforesaid, or for the purpose of altering or disconnecting any service pipes within or without any house or building as they may deem expedient, or for placing meters upon any service pipe or connection within or without any house or building as they may deem expedient, and for that purpose or for the purpose of protecting or of regulating the use of such meter, may set or alter the position of the same or of any pipe connection or tap and may alter or disconnect any service pipe, and may fix the price to be paid for the use of such meter, and the times when, and the manner in which the same shall be payable, and may also charge for and recover the expenses of such alterations: and such alterations may be collected in the same manner as water rates.

21. No person being the tenant, occupant or inmate of any house, building or other place supplied with water from the water works shall lend, sell or dispose of the water from the said Waterworks, or shall give away such water or permit the same to be taken or carried away or shall use or apply the same to the use or benefit of others or to any other than his, hers, or their own use or benefit, or shall increase the supply of water beyond that agreed for with the water Commissioners, of the said Town of Peterborough, without their authority or permission, or shall wrongfully neglect or improperly waste the water from the waterworks of the Town of Peterborough.

And any such person is convicted of such act before a Justice of the Peace having jurisdiction in the locality within which the offence is committed, he shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding $20.00, nor less than $1.00, together with the costs and charges attending the proceedings and conviction, or such offender may be imprisoned in the first instance for any term not exceeding thirty days.

TREES OUGHT TO STAND

Says the Forestry Report—The Forest Preserves may be Increased—What Mr. Southworth Reports.

Much valuable information is given in the annual report of the Director of Forestry for the province, Mr. T. Southworth. In opening he says there is reason for both congratulation and dissatisfaction in a survey of the forestry situation in Ontario. He says Ontario has gone far towards the solution of the forestry problem as regards Crown lands, while the danger from denudation in southern Ontario has not only increased, by reason of the steady diminution in the area of woodland, but is becoming more and more apparent to the general public. It is stated that Ontario to-day occupies a far more favourable position as regards reforestration than the majority of the adjoining states. This is because the lands have been held by the Crown when timber licenses were granted.

The report says that it has been established beyond doubt that on land where a pine forest has grown and been cut down a young forest of pine will succeed, except when burned over a number of times.

Mr. Southworth tells of the growth of the forest reserves. In the Lake Temagami reserve, which contains 1,400,000 acres, it is estimated at from three billion to five billion feet board measure. He says if this region had not been set aside as a forest reserve it would probably have been partially settled, and forest fires would have occurred.

The Clerk of Forestry thinks the Government has the right to cancel licenses when they see fit. He says that but for the claims of these timber licenses, which are still extant in respect to the territory from which the matured timber has been removed, the forest system could be largely extended. There are, he asserts, large tracts of country on the north shore of the Georgian Bay and lying along the C.P.R. between Pembroke and Mattawa, which are being reclothed with a growth of young pine, which could advantageously be set aside as timber reserves if the licenses covering them were cancelled or placed on a different basis as to dues. It is pointed out that the amount paid by way of bonus in the sale of timber berths at auction was based on the quantity and stumpage value of the pine timber standing on the territory at the time.

According to Mr. Southworth, another serious problem affecting our forestry operation lies in the disposal of the waste material left by the lumbermen. This waste comprises the tops and branches of felled trees, and constitutes a constant and serious danger, owing to its combustible nature. Its presence militates against the second growth, too, and it is recommended that something be done to have it removed. In Michigan this waste is destroyed by fire for $10 per mile.

The different forest reserves — Algonquin Park, the eastern reserves, Lake Temagami, and the Sibley reserves—are all stated to be doing well. Mr. Southworth recommends that the unpatented part of the township of Sibley be added to the present reserve and created a permanent reserve under the Forest Reserves Act. Algonquin Park includes 1,109,383 acres of forest land; the eastern reserve contains 80,000 acres; Sibley township 45,000 acres; Lake Temagami 1,408,000 acres.

Considerable attention is paid to the valuable hemlock bark and its value. The report says that the possibilities in the development of tanning as an industry are beginning to be recognized by the lumbermen.

Thirty of the counties of Ontario have less than 25 per cent. timber, in three counties there is less than 10 per cent. timber, and Peel and York have only 7 per cent., while a number of others have only 5 per cent. York has a total acreage of 536,015, of which 432,235 is cleared, 32,954 is woodland, and 59,416 waste. The over clearance has affected the western and midland counties more than the eastern portion, according to a table given.

Traits of Three Cities.

A Chicagoan may frankly tell you that you are losing valuable time if you live elsewhere than in his city. His mental attitude is the result of too much Chicago. A New Yorker publicly proclaims it that when you get a few miles outside of New York city you really cease to live and are simply camping out. That is the result of too much New York. A Bostonian says nothing, and you understand his meaning perfectly. You realize that he is not saying whole volumes to you, and you are powerless to dispute a word of it. You have a feeling that he is pitying you because you do not know that Boston is all there is.

"CURED TO STAY"

Is the universal testimony for South American Nervine, and what it did for Mrs. Armstrong it will do for any woman living.

"For one who has suffered as I have for over six years from nervous prostration, and having spent nearly all I possessed in doctor bills without any permanent relief, you can imagine what a God-sent blessing I feel South American Nervine has been to me. The first few doses gave me great relief. It took six bottles in all to cure me, but I feel I am cured to stay cured."—Mrs. Geo. Armstrong, Orillia, Ont. 50

TRAINS DELAYED

And Thirty-Five Passengers had Breakfast in Town.

The C. P. R. express en route from Montreal to Toronto, was delayed at the local station for several hours this morning as a result of some difficulty on the line west of here. About fifty passengers who were on their way west, had breakfast at the various hotels. Messrs. Archie Campbell, M.P., Robert Beith, M.P., and Senator McMullen, who were on their way home from their Parliamentary duties at Ottawa, for Sunday, were amongst the number.

The 11.27 a.m., C.P.R. express going east, did not reach Peterborough until about one o'clock.

PRESENTED WITH PEARLS.

Miss M. Rose, the Expert Teacher in the "Beehive's" Art Needle Work Class, Handsomely Remembered.

The close of the session of the Art Needle Work Class at the "Beehive" was marked by a very pleasing incident. Miss M. Rose, the skilful leader of the class, and who represents Messrs. Belding Paul & Co., the silk manufacturers of Montreal, was made the recipient of a lovely unique pearl brooch, in the form of three crescents with a wishbone design in the centre, set in solid 15 karat gold. The ladies of this class, which numbered 140, all speak highly of Miss Rose's teaching, and artistic skill. The following address was read by Miss T. Emmerson, and Miss Maud Breeze made the presentation:

Miss Rose,—The ladies who have been attending this class for art needlework, wish to thank you for the trouble you have taken with them. They also wish to bear testimony to your efficiency as a teacher in this branch of art.

Outside of your widely known talent for fancy needlework, your clear explanations and your patience in rectifying our mistakes, have made learning under you an easy and pleasant task. We feel that our time in attending these classes has been well spent, and, thanks to you, we have learned as much as was possible during the limited time.

While again sincerely thanking you, we would wish you to accept this brooch, accompanied as it it by our best wishes for your future, as a memento of what has been to us a pleasant and profitable time.

Signed by the Class.

It is needless to say that Miss Rose was agreeably surprised by this valuable token of her class's appreciation, and it was with considerable embarrassment that she gave expression to her feelings on the occasion. The ladies interested in art needlework evidently think that "a rose in the hand is worth two in the bush," and that their popular instructor, well deserved the beautiful souvenirs from her class.

A NEW DRILL SHED.

A Sum to Defray the Cost of Erection to be Placed in the Supplementary Estimates.

A Fine New Structure to Replace the Present Building—Plans Have Already Been Prepared.

Lieut.-Colonel Edwards returned from Ottawa this morning and divulges the pleasing information that he has received the assurance from the Militia Department that a sum will be placed in the supplementary estimates for the purpose of erecting a new drill shed in Peterborough.

In company with Mr. J. H. McClellan, Lieut.-Colonel Edwards waited upon Major-General O'Grady-Haly, the Adjutant-General, the Deputy Minister of Militia, and the Chief Engineer, all of whom viewed with favour the proposition of erecting armouries in Peterborough. Plans have been already drawn for the new structure, and it is understood that the cost will approximate $40,000.

What proved to be one of the strongest of the arguments used was the fact that Peterborough possesses detachments of all three branches of the service — Cavalry, Artillery and Infantry.

GERMAN ARMY OFFICERS.

The Abject Deference Shown Them by Civilians is Amazing.

The respect and deference shown to the German army officer on duty and off duty by his countrymen are wonderful to see, according to a London writer. "Civilians, even compatriots of distinction, on entering the dining room bow to him with formal humility. He acknowledges the obeisances only with a rigid glare of haughty indifference, though he is politely conscious of the coming and going of ladies. The German civilian does not appear to be surprised at or to resent being contemptuously ignored by him, but recognizes him and looks up to him as a superior member of a superior race and continues to make his obeisances, however loftily they are ignored.

"But, while the officer is unable to see the civilian at whom he is looking point blank, he never misses observing the entrance and acknowledging the salute of another of his own race. He rises from his seat and stands stiff and erect while the newcomer advances and exchanges formal bows and greetings, and as he recovers the erect position from the bow he brings his heels together with a sharp parade click and waits until his superior has taken a seat before he resumes his own."

There were tremendous ceremonies in eating and drinking, too, especially in drinking. "Each table group lifted their glasses invariably together, as if at the word of command, taking their time apparently from the senior present. Having seized their glasses together and raised them together and simultaneously drunk, they would simultaneously finish and then, holding their glasses before them, would with great ceremony bow to one another before replacing them on the table. It did not matter whether they were drinking beer or claret or the German champagne, which seems to be the especially smart thing to take, there was the same ceremony. When a senior officer went out of the room, all the juniors present rose to stiff attention and bowed as he passed. When a junior rose, he made the round of the table on his way to the door and bowed separately, with a spur jingling heel click every time to every other officer."

TOWN COUNCIL'S SPECIAL SESSION.

Sugar Beet Industry Again to the Front.

COUNTY HOUSE OF REFUGE.

Matters That Came up for Discussion—Otonabee Power Company's Poles.

A special meeting of the Peterborough Town Council was held last night, the following members being in attendance; His Worship, Mayor Denne, and Aldermen H. Rosh, J. Batten, Benj. Shortly, John Corkery, R. McGregor, G. M. Roger, H. Best, M. A. Morrison, J. Edgcumbe, and Robt. Clinkscale.

BEET SUGAR QUESTION.

The first matter taken up was the discussion of a communication from Mr. N. B. Gash, Hon. Secretary of the Ontario Beet Sugar Association, who asked the Town Council to send a delegation to Ottawa on Tuesday next to attend a convention of gentlemen interested in the beet sugar question. It was the intention of the delegates to ask aid either by bounty or tariff, for the establishment of beet sugar factories in Canada.

The matter was disposed of on a motion by Ald. Roger, seconded by Ald. Corkery, that the matter be referred to the Manufacturers' Committee.

The question of increased vault accommodation for the Town Clerk and Treasurer was introduced and the Property Committee was instructed to lease a room with a vault adjoining it, above Mr. C. N. Brown's store, for the purpose of storing a portion of the books, documents, etc.

A slight change of route in the Otonabee Power Company's line of wires was granted. This was in order that there should be no confliction between the lines of the Otonabee Power Company and that of the Bell Telephone Company.

A motion was passed permitting the Otonabee Power Company to change their route so that they will not use Aylmer street south from King, as intended, but will, instead, go down Stewart street from King street to Dalhousie street, and from Dalhousie street to the Cordage Co's works, they will use the Auburn Power Company's poles.

Mayor Howland, of Toronto, sent a communication to the local council suggesting that they sign a petition to the Dominion Government, asking that the Bell Telephone Company be restrained from increasing their present rates. The council decided to sign the petition.

ELECTRIC ENERGY.

Town Clerk Armstrong read a copy of a bill at present before the Local House, which will, if passed, authorize any city of 100,000 population to generate or develop electric energy by means of water power or otherwise, either within such city or elsewhere, and further, to enter into agreements with any company or persons for the purchase of electric energy, and its transportation or development.

The council did not agree with such privileges being restricted to cities of 100,000 and decided to memorialize the Ontario Government through Hon. J. R. Stratton asking that the legislation be made in this respect regardless of the size of cities as to population.

Ald. G. M. Roger introduced the matter of the need of a House of Refuge. He said that for years past Grand Juries had recommended that a home for the aged and infirm persons should be established in the county and a committee, he understood had been appointed some time ago by the town council to report on the matter, but as far as he knew had never done so. Mr. Roger referred to Mr. Dumble's letter in the local press a few days ago.

Mayor Denne said in reference to the matter that the chairman of the committee that had been appointed to investigate the matter of a House of Refuge had said that it would cost less to board the aged and infirm of the town at an hotel than maintain a House of Refuge. He also said that Police Magistrate Dumble had been asked to report on any cases that came to his notice in the police court that the town should look after and they would do so. Mr. Dumble has failed to do this.

No definite action was taken on the matter.

The council has in times past, it might be said, placed itself on record as being willing to assume an equitable share of the cost of erecting and maintaining a House of Refuge.

LIBERAL LEADERSHIP.

Lord Rosebery Cuts Off From Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman—Talk of a Coalition With Duke of Devonshire.

Counterfeit one dollar bills are in circulation about Toronto.

C. Macdonald has been appointed sub-collector of customs at Ridgetown, Ont., vice M. G. Hay, resigned.

Theodore Roosevelt, jr., who has been ill with pneumonia for two weeks in the Groton, Mass., School Infirmary, was taken to Washington Friday night.

One of the most disastrous fires that has occurred in Amherst, N.S., for a long time happened Friday, when the erecting shops of Rhodes, Currie & Co., car works, was completely destroyed with all their contents.

Two daughters of Sir Granville Williams and their governess were drowned at Rhuddlan, Wales, Friday, by falling through the ice. They were skating, and the ice, weakened by a rapid thaw, gave way under their weight.

Lord Rosebery's announcement of his final separation from Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's section of the Liberal party, in a letter to The London Times, forms a fruitful topic for discussion in all quarters of Great Britain. The most noticeable outcome are rumors of a new coalition between the Unionists and the Imperial Liberals, under the leadership of the Duke of Devonshire and Lord Rosebery, and the possible defection of the London Times in its support of the present Government.

BARCELONA CALM.

Newspaper Telegrams, However, Still Report Situation Serious.

Madrid, Feb. 22.—Official despatches received here assert that calm has been restored at Barcelona, Saragossa and Valencia, but newspapers' telegrams report the situation still to be serious.

The efforts of the Captain-General to persuade the dock laborers to resume work have failed, and the entire trade of Barcelona is at a standstill.

Revolutionary proclamations are still being circulated there.

Forty Persons Killed.

Barcelona, Feb. 22.—Forty persons have been killed since the disturbances broke out here. The strikers yesterday attacked the jail in an attempt to rescue their imprisoned comrades, but they were repulsed by the troops after a number of rioters had been killed or wounded. The ordinary necessaries of life are failing and the distress is accentuating.

DEMAND THE RIGHT TO VOTE.

Women Workers in English Factories Are Urging Social Reform.

London, Feb. 22.—Parliament has been confronted with a petition signed by 66,800 women, working in the textile factories of Cheshire, Yorkshire and Lancashire, praying for the right to vote. The petition declares that conditions are such that it is imperative that women engaged in the industrial struggle for existence should have immediate possession of the franchise. The trade unionists are supporting the appeal. They say that the demand for woman suffrage will be tirelessly pressed until Parliament yields. The women assure the Westminster legislature that when permitted to vote they will exercise a triumphant force in the direction of social reform and administrative efficiency.

Shocking Accident.

St. Thomas, Feb. 22.—A shocking and probably fatal accident took place on Wednesday at the sawmill of Lunn & Braddon at Port Talbot. Thomas Lunn, one of the proprietors, was struck by a board and thrown upon the large circular saw, by which he was terribly cut and lacerated, one of his legs being nearly cut off at the thigh. His hand was also cut and broken so badly that it cannot be saved. The doctor was unable to say whether Mr. Lunn would recover or not.

By Wireless Telegraphy.

Queenstown, Feb. 22.—A wireless telegraph message was received at 3.30 p.m. yesterday from the Cunard Liner Lucania, 30 miles west of Fastnet. The Lucania reported that in lat. 45.59n, long. 35.16w, she was in communication by the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy with the North German Lloyd steamer Kronprinz Wilhelm, and exchanged greetings with Prince Henry, who is on board. The Kronprinz Wilhelm signalled "all well."

The Naval Estimates.

London, Feb. 22.—The Secretary of the Admiralty, H. C. Arnold-Forster introduced the naval estimates for 1902-03 in the House of Commons yesterday. They show a total of £31,255,000, as compared with £30,275,000 last year. The present estimates, said the secretary, gave the Government £15,000,000 for new ships, and it was intended to spend the money.

Tolstoi's Heart Weak.

Yalta, Crimea, Feb. 22.—A bulletin issued at 9 o'clock last evening announced that Count Tolstoi's temperature was low, and that he was suffering from great general weakness and pronounced weakness of the heart.

The Antiquity of Wheat.

The Chinese cultivated wheat 2,700 years before the beginning of the Christian era, always considering it as a gift direct from heaven. Scientific agriculturists are of the opinion that it was widely known and cultivated by prehistoric man. At the present time it is the principal bread corn of the leading European nations and is fast supplanting the use of maize, or Indian corn, in the American states. The Egyptians attributed its origin to Isis and the Greeks to Ceres.

MOTHERS MUST GUIDE

Should Watch the Physical Development of Their Daughters. Earnest Words From Mrs. Pinkham to Mothers.

Every mother possesses information of vital value to her young daughter. That daughter is a precious legacy, and the responsibility for her future is largely in the hands of the mother. The mysterious change that develops the thoughtless girl into the thoughtful woman should find the mother on the watch day and night. As she cares for the physical well-being of her daughter, so will the woman be, and her children also.

When the young girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she experiences headaches, dizziness, faintness, and exhibits an abnormal disposition to sleep, pains in the back and lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, and a dislike for the society of other girls, when she is a mystery to herself and friends, then the mother should go to her aid promptly. At such a time the greatest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the coming change, and is the surest reliance in this hour of trial.

The following letters from Mrs. Southard are practical proof of Mrs. Pinkham's efficient advice to young women.

Mothers Who Allow Their Daughters to Suffer are Cruel When Relief is Easily Obtained. Read This Mother's Experience.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish advice in regard to my daughter. She is thirteen years old and never menstruated. We have had the doctor to her and he said she did not have enough blood. She has been taking iron for three months but is no better. In the morning she vomits, some days she cannot keep anything on her stomach until twelve o'clock. If she tries to do anything she gets faint. Has headache all the time, is as white as marble with great dark rings under her eyes. Please write and tell me what to do as I am discouraged with the doctor."—MRS. CHAS. SOUTHARD, Phœnix Mills, N.Y. (Jan. 19, 1900.)

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Last January I wrote you about my daughter, and told you what our family doctor said about her. I saw another doctor and he said she had quick consumption. After receiving your letter, I began giving her your remedies, and after taking four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and four of Blood Purifier, she is now well and strong as ever. Menses have appeared and are regular. I can never praise your remedies enough for they saved my daughter's life."—MRS. CHAS. SOUTHARD, Phœnix Mills, N.Y. (Dec. 16, 1900.)

Any young girl or any mother is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice in regard to her sickness. No one has had greater experience or success in guiding mothers and their daughters to health. Thousands have trusted her and are glad. She charges nothing for advice. Write to-day.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letters are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

A PLUMBING BYLAW.

As the sewage system of Peterborough becomes perfected the need of a Plumbing Bylaw becomes more and more apparent. London has recently adopted a bylaw which appears to meet the requirements of the case. The London Advertiser speaks as follows in reference to it:

"After three years of endeavour, Dr. C.T. Campbell has succeeded in having the plumbing bylaw pass its first reading, and it will likely become effective in the near future. The bylaw has gone through the course of revision to which are subjected many questions that the aldermen, for reasons that they best understand, do not bring to an issue.

"When the city's sewage system was submitted to the provincial board of health for approval, that approval was granted, subject to this condition—that the city should pass a proper plumbing bylaw. In preparing this bylaw the best features of the model bylaw of the provincial board of health, the New York bylaw, and a bylaw prepared by the Ontario plumbers' Association were combined. It was then revised by the city engineer and the engineer of the waterworks, and ought to contain all the points that are essential. It was then submitted to the council by Dr. Campbell, but at the beginning of each year it was referred to committee and buried with other business that the aldermen did not wish to tackle.

"The reason has been that it was thought by some desirable to have a plumbing inspector to enforce the bylaw; and there were difficulties in the way of appointing such an officer.

"The regulations of the bylaw are two-fold. They provide the material and method of construction, so as to produce the best sanitary results; and at the same time insure for the property-holder good material and work for his money. For example, it determines what kind of pipes shall be used for drains, and how they shall be laid, with the style of traps best suited; the minimum size of soil pipes and material of which they are to be made; character of water closets in houses and how they should be ventilated; the manner of making connections in plumbing; the proper ratio of size to weight in different kinds of pipe used; the manner of jointing pipes, and other particulars.

"In order to insure the enforcement of the bylaw, it is provided that when a plumber has a job to do he shall apply to the city engineer for a permit, and shall submit the plans and specifications of his work. If they conform to the regulations, the permit is granted. The architect should see to it that the plans are carried out. Of course, if there is no architect it might be said the property-owner would be at the mercy of the plumber, because there could be no official inspector. But the danger will not be great. Any plumber will be willing to live up to the regulations when he knows that they apply to everyone; and if he should not, he becomes subject to the penalties of the bylaw as soon as his defects are discovered. It might be better to have an inspector; but even without that official, it is well to have the rules laid down and the defaulting plumber made subject to law."

THE CANADIAN CLIMATE.

Mr. J. A. Smart, Deputy Minister of the Interior, is over in London, and he is telling the British public through the leading newspapers that Canada is not a land of perpetual snow, inhabited by a people clad in furs and skins. Mr. Smart finds it necessary to protest, not only against the ingrained misconceptions as to the Canadian climate, but against the current misinformation being supplied to the public by the daily, weekly and monthly publications.

The progress of Canada has been greatly retarded by the false impression prevailing in the Old World as to our climate. The Canadian winter has been the subject of travellers' tales for two hundred years, and it has ever been the way of travellers to tell thrilling tales. Another influence that has worked injury to our climate has been the intense patriotism of the people of the United States, who, to explain to themselves and others their failure to possess Canada, have described it as an inhospitable northern region not worth having. There are said to be at the present time three million persons in the United States who emigrated from the United Kingdom, and if they, or a great majority of them, have adopted—and how could they help doing so?—the opinions of those surrounding them as to the climate and prospects of this country, need we be surprised that by their letters and their visits home they have done much to confirm the prejudices against this country? When an Englishman gets a letter from his brother in America saying that Canada is too cold a land to live in, he considers that he has indubitable evidence of it, and the whole countryside accepts the evidence, although the "brother in America" may never have been within five hundred miles of Canada.

There is no denying the Canadian winter. Although it has been maligned to our great injury, it is not too much to say that Canadians prize it and would not abolish it if that were possible. It will come to its own in time, and be recognized for what it is, the special blessing of the country. Winter reigns for one-third of the year. Snow covers the ground; ice covers the waters; nature sleeps. But in the spring there is such an awakening as occurs perhaps nowhere else. The people have not been asleep, however, but very much alive, under the exhilarating air and the bright sun. Instead of the period of dismal rains known in some countries—instead of the drear days with their bleak winds we have had a bright snow-clad season, more life-giving to man than summer itself. To the earth, too, it is life-giving, and refits the soil for grain growing.

In an address delivered before the Canadian Club one evening last week Hon. Dr. Montague, who has recently returned from Australia, said that in the point of morality he thought this country superior to the one he had visited, and he ascribed this as due in his opinion, to the Canadian winter, with its long evenings, devoted so largely to domestic pleasures. He doubted if anywhere the home reigned as it did in Canada, and exerted so wholesome an influence on the whole life of the people. There is probably a great deal in this view.

In fact our winter does not need to be apologized for, and our slandered climate might well be our chief boast. Our climate is downright in its expression. Winter is winter, and summer is summer. Both express themselves emphatically. Where the snow piles high in winter peaches bloom and ripen a few few months later.—Toronto Star.

The Review in its issue of Friday came out flat-footed against the Succession Tax and berated the Liberal Government for collecting $1.500 through this medium. The labouring men will do well to bear this in mind.

The Review also complains of our provincial surplus being "dinned" into its ears ad naseum for the last twenty years. That surplus is a nauseous dose to the Review and we are pleased to see that organ own up to the corn.

CATARRH IN RELATION TO DEAFNESS.

Among the causes of deafness, catarrhal inflammation of the nose and throat are of great importance. The reason of this is found in the fact that the Eustachian tube gives a direct passage from the upper part of the throat behind the nose to the cavity of the middle ear. Through this passage catarrh extends to the ear and produces changes in the membranes that lead to deafness. A more complete description of deafness produced by catarrh, as well as by other causes, will be found in the "Journal for the Deaf," which can be obtained free of charge on application by post to the secretary, 72 Regent's Park-road, London, England.

In addition to the "Journal for the Deaf," the Drouet Institute will send free of charge to patients unable to call personally, a special report form, which allows them to submit their case clearly to the consulting physician. Any advice by correspondence is absolutely free, and the Journal and report forms are sent on mere application to the Secretary, 72, Regent's Park-road, London, Eng.

JUDGES OF CANADA

Question of Their Retirement Discussed in the Commons.

DIFFICULTIES IN THE WAY.

Minister of Justice Points Them Out, Especially the Question of Pay—The Printing Bureau—Lord Strathcona Not Likely to Give Up the High Commissionership—House in Supply

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—The House yesterday made steady progress with the estimates, disposing of practically all the civil government and legislation votes. A general discussion occurred on the judicial system during which Mr. Haggart congratulated the Government on the last two appointments to the bench. The House adjourned at 6 o'clock.

The House went into supply immediately after 3 o'clock, and made fairly good progress. On the civil government vote for the Printing Bureau Mr. W. F. Maclean asked for an announcement of the Government's policy in regard to public printing, asking whether it was intended to enlarge the bureau or to continue the plan of giving contracts for public printing to newspapers. Mr. Fielding replied that he could not announce a policy for the future. At present the Printing Bureau could not handle all the work. Subsequently Mr. Mulock said it might be necessary to enlarge the Printing Bureau.

On the vote for contingencies for the High Commissioner's office in London Mr. Fielding, in answer to a question, said that there was absolutely no truth in the report that a successor was to be appointed to Lord Strathcona. Lord Strathcona's health was steadily improving, and it was hoped that he would long continue to hold the position.

About Canada's Judges.

The estimates for the Justice Department brought under discussion the appointment and salaries of judges, Mr. W. F. Maclean contending that there be fewer judges and better salaries.

Mr. Haggart, on the other hand, considered the salaries were high enough, but there were too many judges, too many courts. He commended the Government for the excellence of their choice in the two new appointments to the Supreme Court bench. He was sure both Mr. Mills and Sir Louis Davies would add dignity to the bench.

The Minister of Justice said that it was necessary to have the very best men in the country on the bench of the Supreme Court of Manitoba. But as to the Supreme Court of Canada, it must be remembered every subject had the right of appeal to the Imperial Privy Council. A judge was apointed for life, and, necessarily so, if the independence of the bench was to be maintained. But what he himself would like to do was to have judges retire at a certain age, by mutual agreement with the crown, upon full pay. The Federal Government was not responsible for the number of judges; for we had the anomalous system whereby the local Legislatures established the number of judges. Mr. Fitzpatrick said he believed the Supreme Court filled a useful place in our jurisprudence, and he would be sorry to see it abolished, but, as the Premier reminded him, Parliament might well consider whether it ought not to limit appeals to the Supreme Court, to cases arising under Federal law.

The House adjourned at 6 o'clock.

The Chairmen Chosen.

The committee of the House of Commons organized for business yesterday by electing chairmen. The following were chosen to preside over the meetings of the several committees: Mr. D. C. Fraser (Guysboro) Public Accounts; Mr. Archibald Campbell (West York), Banking and Commerce; Mr. Charles S. Hyman (London), Railways, Canals and Telegraph Lines; Mr. M. K. Cowan (Essex), Miscellaneous Private Bills; Mr. Fletcher B. Wade (Annapolis), Privileges and Elections; T. B. Flint (Yarmouth), Standing Orders; Mr. H. J. Logan (Cumberland), Expiring Laws; Mr. J. H. Legras (Maskinonge), Agriculture and Colonization.

THE SENATE.

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—In the Senate yesterday Hon. R. W. Scott presented the report of the Striking Committee. He asked that it be taken into consideration at once.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell said the changes had been so radical that probably some gentlemen who had been left off committees would like to look it over. He thought it had better be printed and circulated, so that it could be taken into consideration after the adjournment.

Mr. Scott had no objection and the report stood over.

The Senate adjourned till Tuesday, March 19.

Paine's Celery Compound.

This medicine is giving marvellous results to sick people all over Canada. The wonderful cures affected by Paine's Celery Compound during the past year speaks volumes in favour of the popular medicine. Thousands who have suffered from rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous troubles and dyspepsia now sing the praises of the medicine that has given them such happy results. What Counts.

"We are here," began the chairman of the committee, "to discuss ways and means for securing the passage of our bill by the legislature."

"Well," remarked one who was something of a lobbyist, "I know the surest of all ways if we only have sufficient means."

Guard Against Grip.

These Prominent Chicago Physicians express their opinions.

Dr. D. R. Brower says: "Last summer was an exceedingly trying one, and many people are below the standard of health. With constitutions less able to resist the disease, influenza will be much more serious in its effects. There is only one thing for people to do, and that is to take good care of themselves and not let themselves run down; if they do this, the grip microbe can't hurt them."

Dr. D. A. Steele says: "There has been marked increase in the last two weeks in the diseases of the mucous membrane. Acute bronchitis and tonsilitis are prevalent, and ills like these are common under the same conditions that make influenza epidemic. Pneumonia has not made itself felt so markedly as yet, but it is to be feared."

Dr. Spalding says: "Any person who has a hard cold should look out for himself, as it is impossible to tell the symptoms of a hard cold from those of influenza in its earlier stages. The complications and after effects are so serious that everybody should be careful."

How to Guard Against Grip.

When you feel out of sorts, when your head aches, your eyes water, and every bone in your body is sore, you have the grip. We wish we had the power to tell you all about Powley's Liquified Ozone—that it will cure the grip in a remarkably short time—rid you of all the pains and fever. It is the new way of curing this disease, a scientific way of feeding the blood oxygen—it's natural food—and making the system healthy. No germ can operate in a healthy body.

Take ozone whenever you feel the least bit sick; it will keep you so that you won't have any of the diseases caused by this changeable weather. You've tried drugs, tried stimulants—try Nature's way, Ozone—no drugs, no alcohol, not a medicine, simply oxygen, a stable form, prepared for the first time so that the system can receive and use it.

Read these Statements from Canadian People.

"In the fall of 1900 I commenced taking Ozone and find that when I feel office work and confinement telling on me by taking Powley's Liquified Ozone for a short time I am quite a different person, and can work so very much better. In my family they consider it without an equal. They find it a sure cure for the grip, sore throat, colds, etc. I have recommended it to a great many people, who, when they have used it, give it great praise.

For the last three winters I have had a very severe attack of LaGrippe. So bad did the disease become that my friends gave up hope of my life. Every means was tried to help my case, but all seemed of no avail. Finally the disease died out of itself, but left me with a severe cough and lump in my throat. I lost fully twenty pounds while sick.

We noticed your advertisements in the paper, and seeing that the Ozone had done others so much good we resolved to give it a trial. My mother also was sick with la grippe at this time and it left her with a weak heart. We both commenced using the Ozone, and by the time we had finished one bottle we felt very much improved. We continued the use of the Ozone, and I am pleased to state that my cough and lump in my throat is all gone, and my mother's health is as good as ever. We owe our lives practically to Ozone.

"We have recommended the preparation to many of our friends and the results have in every case been very gratifying.

(Signed) MARGARET SMITH, Collingwood, Ont."

"I am thankful I am alive to give you my testimonial as to the wonderful, yes, miraculous cure your Ozone has wrought in my case. I had a severe attack of la grippe, which developed into rheumatic fever. I was reduced in weight to 120 pounds. I employed the services of a good physician but derived no benefit; in fact I became worse. I was advised to try several of the cures advertised, but in spite of all the many remedies I took I grew weaker and weaker. I was advised to go to Preston Mineral Springs, which I did, but I was so weak I could not stand the baths and got worse. I became discouraged and came home to die.

"Mr. Cherrie, grocer on Queen St., advised me to try Ozone, so I purchased a bottle. After taking three bottles the rheumatism left me. For six weeks previous to this I could take no nourishment at all, but the first bottle gave me a good appetite. I began to gain in flesh and have been steadily increasing ever since. I now weigh 170 pounds and feel as well as possible. Every one who knew my condition consider it a miracle that I am cured. I am a staunch believer in the merits of Ozone, and intend to keep it always in the house.

(Signed) WILLIAM GOUGH, Florist, Danforth & Pape Ave., Toronto Ont."

The testimonial Mr. Gough has just given is in every particular true. Both myself and wife gave up all hope of Mr. Gough ever getting better. I can testify that his present state of health is as nearly perfect as it is possible to be. (Signed) H. REED, Gardener, 523 Danforth Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Won't You Write a Postal To Get Well?

Send me no money, but simply write me a postal if you are not well. Pay when you get well.

I will send you a book that tells how a lifetime of study has enabled me to strengthen the inside nerves. Those are the nerves that operate the stomach, kidneys, heart, womanly organism etc. Weakness of these organs means weakness of those nerves. Nerve strength alone makes any organ do its duty.

I will send you, too, an order on your nearest druggist for six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Use it for a month, and if it succeeds pay him $5.50 for it. If not, I will pay him myself.

No matter how difficult your case; no matter what you have tried. If my book shows you that your trouble is nerve weakness—and most sickness is—I will warrant my Restorative to cure you.

I fail sometimes, but not often. My records show that 39 out of 40 who get those six bottles pay, and pay gladly. I have learned that most people are honest with a physician who cures them. That is all I ask. If I fail I don't expect a penny from you.

Mine is the only way to restore vital nerve power. Other treatments bring but fleeting results at best. If you want to be well, let me send you an order for the medicine. If it cures pay $5.50 I leave the decision to you.

Simply state which book you want and the name of your dealer and address Dr. Shoop, Box 47, Racine, Wis.

LAMP WAS UPSET.

W. S. Macdonald of Gananoque So Badly Burned That He Died.

Gananoque, Feb. 22.—Mr. W. S. Macdonald of this place died on Thursday from the effects of a serious burn. He was in bed suffering from an attack of pneumonia and was under medical care. On the table near his bed was a lamp for keeping poultices hot. In getting out of bed he in some way upset the lamp and the bedding caught fire. One of his attendants, who happened to be at the door of the bedroom, rushed in and put out the flames, but not before Mr. Macdonald's chest was badly burned. Mr. Macdonald, who was 90 years of age, was a son of the late Charles Macdonald, who, with his brother, the Hon. Charles Macdonald of Gananoque, dealt extensively in lumber on the St. Lawrence River. He was a grandson of Col. Stone, the founder of Gananoque. Mr. Macdonald has two sons who survive him, Mr. P. A. Macdonald, Master in Chancery, Winnipeg, and Mr. Charles Macdonald, the bridge engineer of New York.

What Fifteen Cents Will Buy to Strengthen Body and Brain.

Fifteen cents will buy a package of Malt Breakfast Food. The contents of one package will make from twenty-five to thirty meals for one person; cost per meal, from one-half to three-fifths of a cent.

Each morning dish of Malt Breakfast Food will furnish you with more true nutriment for body and brain than you could derive from ten cents worth of beef steak or lamb chops, and you will go out to the day's duties with better digestive vigour than after a meat diet.

In the past it has been conclusively proven that one package of Malt Breakfast Food costing fifteen cents will build up more solid flesh, muscle and tissue for man or woman than any other food product costing one dollar. Malt Breakfast Food is therefore the diet for all classes of our people. While it builds up the weak, it also keeps the well and strong in perfect health. Malt Breakfast Food at all grocers.

A RAILWAY TRIBUNAL

Attorney-General Favors Regulating Board for Ontario.

THE ELECTRIC LINE PROBLEM

The Government May Have a Measure Laying Down Some General Principles Concerning Electric Roads Before the Close of the Session—Mr. Barr's County Councils Bill Lost on Division.

Toronto, Feb. 21.—In the Legislative Assembly to-day Mr. Pardee introduced a bill to amend the Ontario Companies Act.

The bill to provide for the Revision of the Statute Law, Mr. Gibson; respecting Mortmain and the disposition of Land for Charitable Uses, Mr. Gibson; respecting the Windsor, Essex and Lake Shore Rapid Railway Company, Mr. McKee, and respecting the Sandwich, Windsor and Amherstburg Railway, Mr. McKee, were read a third time.

Questions by Members.

Hon. R. Harcourt, in reply to Mr. Brower, said that the amount of $19,784 had been received by the province during 1901 as examination fees or appeal fees from students at Departmental examinations.

Hon. F. Latchford, in answer to questions by Mr. Lucas, said that the location of the route of the Manitoulin & North Shore Railway from Meaford to Owen Sound had not yet been submitted for approval. It was expected that the route would be definitely settled before May 1, 1902.

Hon. John Dryden, replying to Mr. Little, stated that it was not the intention of the Government to make a grant to a Provincial ploughing match this year. The amendment of the Barberry Shrub Act so as to prohibit the growth and cultivation of the shrub, was under consideration.

Mr. Stratton informed Mr. Fox that it was not the intention of the Administration to appoint another license inspector or sub-inspector for Victoria County.

Electric Railways.

Mr. McKay moved the second reading of his bill respecting Electric Railways regulating the terms on which electric railways may make connection with other lines and providing that the Commissioner of Public Works shall have power to decide when compensation is demanded.

Hon. J. M. Gibson said that there should be a general law on the subject and a number of provisions had been put in shape and some preparations made for the introduction of a measure of this kind. Many difficult and complicated questions would arise in connection with the extension of the electric railway system, which it was impossible for any act to anticipate. He also considered that it would be found desirable to establish some sort of a tribunal which would perform similar functions in respect to electric railways as did the Railway Committee of the Privy Council in connection with Dominion railway lines. It was possible that before the end of the session a measure laying down some general principles in regard to electric railways would be introduced by the Government, which would apply to lines already chartered as well as to those now applying for their franchise.

The bill received a second reading and was referred to the Railway Committee.

Mr. Barr moved the second reading of a bill to amend the County Councils Act, explaining that it was to some extent a reversion to the old system. It provided that municipalities having a population of over 800 should have a deputy reeve.

Hon. R. Harcourt hoped that no bill on the subject would become law this session as in the main the present law was a great improvement on the preceding system and should not be disturbed after being in force only a year or two.

The bill was lost on division.

Mr. Thompson moved the second reading of a bill to amend the act respecting the office of sheriff which reduced the fees of those officials on certificates as to executions against land. Hon. J. M. Gibson opposed the bill on the ground that many sheriffs had a difficulty in making a livelihood. Mr. Whitney said that that was no reason why they should be allowed an excessive fee for this particular service. The debate was adjourned.

Second Readings.

The following bills received second readings:

Respecting the Town of Perth, Mr. Matheson.

Respecting the Village of Alexandria, Mr. McDonald.

To incorporate the Huronian Company (Limited), Mr. Charlton.

To legalize certain bylaws in aid of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway Company, Mr. McKee.

Respecting the City of Toronto, Mr. Foy.

Respecting the Town of Collingwood and the Collingwood Shipbuilding Company, Limited, Mr. Duff.

Respecting the Debenture Debt of the Town of Orillia, Mr. Miscampbell.

To incorporate the Petrolea Rapid Railway Company, Mr. Pardee.

Respecting the Fort Erie Ferry Railway Company, Mr. Gross.

Respecting the Nepigon Railway Company, Mr. Conmee.

No Municipal Coal Cards.

The bill of the City of Ottawa, asking for the privilege of establishing municipal coal yards, got little sympathy and was thrown out. Mr. Powell, M.P.P., urged that the dealers in Ottawa had raised the price of coal away up, and the city wanted to be in a position to checkmate them. Only two voted in support of the measure, Hon. Mr. Gibson saying he thought the same end would be attained by citizens clubbing together.

Mr. Powell had no better luck with his bill to reduce the qualification of municipal electors from $400 to $300, and to permit such qualified voters to become eligible for aldermen. The Attorney-General opposed it as a step backward. Mr. Powell said there should be no difference in the qualification for alderman and member for the legislature, but Hon. Mr. Gibson pointed out that in municipal councils aldermen had the power to put mortgages on the people and nobody but those interested should have that power.

ASSEMBLY NOTES.

The Provincial Health Department will prosecute Peter Sheehan, manager of the Michigan Land and Lumber Company, for violation of the smallpox regulations.

The Western Dairymen's Association has asked the Government for a grant of $150,000, and have been told their request was too large.

Registrar-General's Report.

Hon. J. R. Stratton laid on the table the thirty-first annual report of the Registrar-General regarding births, marriages and deaths in the province for the year 1900. The report says the total population by census in 1891 was 2,114,321, and in 1901, 2,181,942. Taking the figures of the municipal census, and completing them by using the consus figures for Muskoka and Parry Sound, Nipissing and Algoma, where the municipal returns have not been completed, it was found that the population in 1900 was 2,201,751.

Further on the report says the population of Ontario has lost a considerable number, who have gone west. The urban population has increased in the decade from 35.7 to 42.5 per cent.

Referring to births the report states that the rate was more satisfactory in rural than urban places, and that in 1901 the total number was 46,127, as compared with 44,705 in 1899, an increase of 1,422. In the counties where the large cities are the number of births has decreased. Toronto, with an increase of 15 per cent., should have had 5,449 births in the census decade instead of 4,534. This was the case with nearly all cities in the province.

The total marriages reported for the year were 17,107, a rate of 7.3 per 1,000, or, by the census of 1901, 7.4. Compared with other countries, the report observes that this may be considered as satisfactory.

The deaths in 1901 were 29,494, an increase of 887 over 1900. This must be considered a low death rate, the report says.

Mrs. M. J. Wales, Gerrard street, Toronto, says; "I consider it a duty to tell what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I had tried everything that doctors had prescribed but never was relieved until I used Paine's Celery Compound. all pains have left me, and I sleep well—a blessing I had not enjoyed for years. No one should be without Paine's Celery Compound, when they are weak and sick. If people would keep a bottle of the Compound near them, we would hear of fewer deaths from heart disease."

$100,000.00 Common Stock at 10 Per Cent. Premium, or $110.00 Per Share.

Subscriptions will be payable as follows;—10 per cent. on application; 40 per cent. on notice of allotment; and 50 per cent. two months thereafter.

The dividend of 7 per cent. per annum on the preference shares will run from date of payment, and payments may be made in advance.

The Preference Stock will be Preferred both as to CAPITAL and DIVIDENDS, and will be entitled to receive a CUMULATIVE dividend of seven per cent. per annum.

Application will be made in due course for listing the Stocks of the Company on the Stock Exchange.

The property of the Company, both fixed and movable, is being purchased at a little under its value with the business as a going concern, as determined by six expert valuators, and $250,000 OF COMMON STOCK AT $110 PER PER SHARE is being TAKEN BY THE VENDORS as a part of the purchase money IN LIEU OF CASH.

WORKING CAPITAL.

The Vendors will also transfer to the Company outside of the real estate, plant, machinery and business FREE OF DEBT OR ENCUMBRANCE of any kind, the following working capital:—

1.	Customers' notes (bearing interest, secured by liens on machines and in most cases by Mortgages on farms,) guaranteed by Vendors to be paid during the present three months, and to produce cash	$75,000.00
2.	Customers' notes, (same as above) maturing in 1902 and guaranteed by Vendors to produce in cash	75,000.00
3.	Parts of machines and stock-in-trade for use in completing work on hand, guaranteed cash value of material	50,000.00

WORKING CAPITAL PUT IN BY VENDORS - - - - - $200,000.00

The new Company will begin ENTIRELY FREE OF DEBT and with APPROXIMATELY $350,000 OF WORKING CAPITAL, consisting of the above $200,000 supplied by the Vendors, and $150,000 the proceeds from the sale of stock.

ASSETS.

The Company's assets, consisting of land, buildings, plant, machinery, patents, licenses, stock-in-trade, customers' notes, etc., are valued with the going business as mentioned above at $649,933.10. Including the additional cash from the present sale of Stock, the total assets of the new Company will amount to approximately $800,000, or double the issue of Preference Stock.

The real property of the Company will consist of over four and one-half acres of freehold, unencumbered land, close to Abell and Queen Streets, in the City of Toronto, and adjoining the Western City Stations of the G.T.R. and C.P.R. Railways. Private switches from both railways enter the shops.

The buildings, which are of the most substantial character, in stone and brick, were built under Mr. John Abell's personal supervision, and are well adapted to the requirements of the business carried on upon the largest scale proposed. The land is sufficient for large additions to the shops when required.

The whole property, including plant and equipment, is in excellent repair and of sufficient capacity to produce several times the present output.

The Directors have quite recently (Feb. 6) secured a further Report from an experienced expert as to the property, plant, machinery, valuations, etc., which fully bears out the above statements. All Reports and Certificates may be seen by intending subscribers, at the Solicitors' office.

The Abell business is one of the oldest and best known in Canada, having been established by Mr. John Abell in Woodbridge in 1845. The present shops occupy the best site in the City of Toronto for economical manufacture and distribution.

PROFITS.

The business, although operated on conservative lines in the past, owing entirely to lack of working capital, has been very profitable, as will be seen from the following Certificate issued by the two well-known auditors, Messrs. John M. Martin and Harry Vigeon:—

To the Board of Directors, The John Abell Engine and Machine Co., Limited:—

Gentlemen:—We have examined the books of the John Abell Engine and Machine Works Company, Limited, for the four years ending 31st October, 1901, and CERTIFY that the Net Profits, after proper charges for repairs had been made, including interest on borrowed Capital and interest earned on Customers' Notes, were as follows:—

" "	1899	36,209.45
" "	1900	37,468.77
For the year ending 31st October,	1901	59,647.26

Yours faithfully,
JOHN M. MARTIN, F.C.A.
HARRY VIGEON, F.C.A.

Toronto, December 23rd, 1901.

Interest paid on borrowed capital has been included in the above statement of profits, and its equivalent will, in future, go to the Shareholders who will supply the capital.

The profits of the first three years given would be equal to a DIVIDEND OF TEN PER CENT. IN THE OLD COMPANY, while those of the past year WOULD EXCEED 15 PER CENT.

It is worth while noting particularly that the PROFITS OF THE PAST YEAR would pay very large dividends EVEN IN THE NEW COMPANY—SEVEN PER CENT. ON THE PREFERENCE STOCK issue of $400,000 and MORE THAN 12 1-2 PER CENT. on the Common stock issue of $250,000.

The reason for anticipating large dividends on the new Stock issue, with ample working capital and capacity to fill all orders, will be clear when it is stated that the ORDERS for equally profitable work left UNFILLED at the END OF LAST SEASON were considerably MORE THAN THE ORDERS WHICH WERE FILLED and which produced the large profits of $59,647.26.

A careful analysis of the accounts for the several years shows that the net profits increase in much greater proportion than the volume of trade. While this may apply to manufacturing concerns generally, it is more marked in the present case, where the property is already fully equipped for quite four times the past trade, where the superior quality of the product and the reputation of the manufacturers are such that MORE THAN FOUR TIMES THE PAST TRADE IS AVAILABLE with little additional effort, and where there is practically nothing to be added beyond the necessary capital.

On double the average output of the first three years mentioned above it is estimated that the profit and loss charges would increase only about $4,000. On ONLY DOUBLE, the average trade therefore of these years the profits should exceed $130,000.

This sum, $30,000, would provide the following:

Dividend on $400,000 Preference Stock at 7 per cent., ...	$28,000
Dividend on $250,000 Common Stock at 10 per cent., ...	$25,000
Leaving a balance for Reserve Fund, contingencies, dividends, etc., ...	$27,000

On double the output of the year 1901, or in other words, upon filling ONLY THE ORDERS ACTUALLY RECEIVED during the year 1901, the Company should make a profit of more than $120,000.

This sum $120,000 would provide the following:—

Dividend on $400,000 Preference Stock 7 Per cent....	$28,000
Dividend on $250,000 Common Stock at 10 per cent..	25,000
Balance for Reserve Fund, contingencies, further dividends, etc.	67,000

ATTENTION IS DIRECTED PARTICULARLY TO THE FACT THAT THE ABOVE ESTIMATES ARE BASED ON ACTUAL EXPERIENCE AND ARE NOT THE USUAL MERE GUESS WORK.

That the year 1901 is not very exceptional, and that the trade can be easily more than doubled in ordinary times will be evident from the following fact, namely, that the signed orders unfilled in each of the three years preceding last year were as follows:—1898, $59,819; 1899, $34,230; and 1900, $61,796. IN THE YEAR 1901, AS STATED, THE ORDERS RECEIVED WERE MORE THAN DOUBLE THOSE WHICH WERE FILLED. When the time was reached in each year that no more orders would be received, the agents were notified of the fact, or otherwise the amount WOULD HAVE BEEN MORE THAN DOUBLED EACH YEAR. The figures given refer to the Canadian trade alone, but a very profitable foreign trade has been offered and can be obtained if desired.

The Company's property is so well equipped for several lines of staple machinery used in all sections of Canada, that the business should be very little affected by local causes.

It will be needless to point out that a large saving will be affected by buying for cash, operating on a larger scale, and by more active and aggressive management, under a Board of Directors composed largely of experienced men connected with our best known and most successful manufacturing industries.

It will be sufficient evidence of the superiority of the Abell Engines and Machinery to say that since 1876 they have been awarded TWENTY-NINE FIRST PRIZES, INCLUDING THIRTEEN GOLD MEDALS — WINNING THE FIRST PLACE IN EVERY CONTESTED TRIAL IN CANADA FOR PORTABLE AND TRACTION ENGINES. They have secured, also, a first position in all foreign competitions entered, including those of the CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION IN 1876, and the WORLD'S FAIR AT CHICAGO IN 1893. (See Catalogue for details.)

The Abell Engines and Machines have been selected by both the Dominion and Ontario Governments for use on their Experimental Farms throughout Canada.

Canada is fast becoming one of the greatest grain growing countries of the world, and as the country advances the Abell business must increase. The entire output consists of staple lines, connected with the staple industries of the country—Agricultrue, Flour-Milling, Mining and Timber.

The Manitoba and North-West trade has proved to be exceedingly profitable, and the grain growing area of these districts is rapidly increasing. The Company has a large share of the best trade of these sections of Canada, and should have no difficulty in holding its position. There is a very profitable agency at the City of Winnipeg, and reliable agents are located at the chief centres in Manitoba and further west.

The Company will own a number of valuable patents and exclusive licenses, covering machines and parts which are almost indispensable to all up-to-date threshing outfits.

Mr. John Abell is a practical machinist, and the originator of the modern Traction and Portable Engine, used for Threshing purposes. He is the owner of a large number of Canadian patents, all of which will be turned over to the new company.

One of Abell's new engines, (1898) "The Cock o' the North," is proving to be the best yet produced, and a very large sale is assured, especially in the older sections of Canada.

One of the most profitable machines turned out by the Company is a straw-burning Traction Engine, specially designed for the Manitoba and the North-West trade.

The orders coming in for the above Engines and Threshers alone should soon employ more than double the present entire staff of the shops, working the whole year.

The Flour Mill Machinery Department has proved to be profitable, and can easily be extended.

Some of the best Boilers in the country have been manufactured by the Abells, such as those at the Gooderham and Worts' Distillery, The Ontario Parliament Buildings, and The Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co.'s works, at Fernie.

The machinery sold by the Company is paid for, as a rule, one-third cash in the first four months, one-third the second season, and the balance during the third season. The contracts are settled by notes, bearing good rates of interest, and liens are held on the machinery until paid for, and as a rule mortgages on farms are obtained also.

In the past, the Company has employed not more than 175 hands during the busy season, while the shops are quite large enough for several times this number.

The above gives only a very imperfect idea of the nature and variety of the Abell manufactures, and of the character of the property. Intending subscribers are referred particularly to the Company's new illustrated Catalogue, which will be forwarded on application.

APPLICATION FOR SHARES MAY BE MADE ON THE ACCOMPANYING FORM AND FORWARDED TO THE COMPANY OR TO THE SOLICITORS OR BANKERS, AT ANY OF THEIR BRANCHES IN CANADA, WITH THE DEPOSIT OF TEN PER CENT.

CHEQUES, DRAFTS, MONEY ORDERS, ETC., ARE TO BE MADE PAYABLE TO THE NATIONAL TRUST COMPANY, LIMITED.

The right is reserved to reject or reduce the amount of any application, and subscription carries with it an agreement to accept the reduced amount.

In case of an over-subscription, the Directors reserve the right to make allotments first to subscribers for a small number of shares.

Copies of this Prospectus, and Subscription forms, may be had on application to the Company, or to the Solicitors or Bankers, at any of their branches throughout Canada.

Dated February 15th, 1902.

N.B.—The Directors, after careful consideration of a probability of a large over-subscription for the preference stock and also for the unusual opportunity for the use of further working capital in meeting the volume of trade offered, have decided to offer now for subscription the balance of the preference stock, making the whole issue of preference stock $500,000.

(Cut out and forward this or copies thereof to the Company, or to the Solicitors, Bankers, or National Trust Company.)

Dr. Walters, of Lindsay, officiated as referee to the satisfaction of both teams. The teams were as follows:

Norwood—Robinson, goal; Pearce, point; McCall, cover point; Pearse, Rathwell, K. Miller and Butler, forwards.

Fenelon Falls—Gould, goal; Burgess, point; H. Deyman, cover point; Beateau, Sandord and Patterson, forwards.

Referee—Dr. Walters, of Lindsay. Goal Umpires—Jones and Webster. Timekeepers—Junkin and Anderson.

SORROW IN HAMILTON.

Perhaps there is no town in Canada that possesses a more disappointed lot of hockey enthusiasts than does Hamilton. They had two disappointments lately the first being when the O.H.A. executive allowed the Newmarket protest and the second bitter disappointment was when the Newmarket team defeated them in Toronto. Concerning the former incident the Hamilton Herald grew very angry and expressed itself in this manner:

"We have no words with which to express our indignation at the action of the executive of the O.H.A. A judicial body capable of such an injustice to the Tigers for the sake of favouring a suburb of Toronto should be kicked to death by jackasses, and we would like to be the one to do it."

A Lethbridge paper to hand gives an account of a grand hockey tournament which took place at Pincher Creek, N.W.T. Two Peterborough boys figured on the team. They were Mr. Bill Cavanah, who played point for the Peterborough Colts last year and who at the Pincher Creek tournament played on the forward line of the Lethbridge team. The second Peterborough boy was Mr. Percy Jamieson, and now of the Lethbridge staff of the Bank of Montreal. The latter played on the Lethbridge Junior team.

A TEA AND CONCERT.

Successful Affair Held at Auburn Last Night—Large Attendance.

The tea and concert held at Auburn last evening under the auspices of the Auburn Sunday School proved a decided success. There was a large attendance and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was spent by all. Tea was served from six to eight by the young ladies of the Sunday School, who did their work in a credible manner. The wants of the inner man having been satisfied, Mr. John Simpson took the chair and commenced the entertainment. In his address he stated that the proceeds would be devoted to the re-shingling of the church, and hoped that the required amount would be raised. The different parts of the programme were well rendered, and the dialogue entitled "Taming a Lion" brought down the house. Mr. Sucee's selections on the zenaphone were also well received. The following is the programme;—

ANOTHER WIN FOR PETERBORO.'

Local Hockeyists Downed Newmarket Easily.

THE SCORE WAS 10 TO 4.

The Biggest Crowd of the Season Witnessed the Match—It was Late in Starting.

The Peterborough Intermediates showed conclusively last night, that the team is composed of championship material, by defeating the Newmarket seven, in the first game of the semi-finals by ten goals to four.

The match was fast from start to finish, but the local team, as usual, husbanded its strength until the second half, and in the last half-hour the shots on goal sang a merry tune around the Newmarket goalkeeper's ears. The two teams were very evenly matched in weight, and this fact lent great additional interest to the game, as both sevens depended on their speed and skill rather than upon rough play, to win the match for them. The visitors gave some very beautiful exhibits of combination play, but the local forwards checked far too closely for their efforts to culminate successfully. In comparing the work of the forwards of the two teams, the Peterboroughs appeared to have the advantage in fast skating, stick-handling, following up and checking—in fact they seemed to outclass their opponents in every department of the game, and, barring accidents, should beat the Newmarkets out on their own ice by fully as large a score as they were credited with last night. The defence men of the visitors were the least bit inclined to be rough, but any breaks in this line resulted in the offender being promptly relegated to the fence, and the consequent disadvantage to the visitors was great in having to play short-handed during a large portion of the game. The Newmarket goal keeper was one in a thousand, and the way he handled some of the shots was marvellous. Wasson did not have the same chance to shine as he did not have a great many to look after. He had hard luck with three out of the four shots that scored, as he was able to stop them but they dropped inside the net. Armstrong, at coverpoint, played the game which entitles him justly to the credit of being without compare in his position, and Glover at point attracted general notice by his really magnificent relief work. During the evening he made a brilliant rush up the ice which resulted in a goal being scored for the Peterboroughs. On the forward line Whitcroft distinguished himself by playing the best game of the season. His rushes were marvellous in their rapidity. Harry Morgan's unselfish style of play is deserving of special comment as there is no doubt but that many of the goals were the direct result of the judicious manner in which he fed the wings. It was a pleasure to see the manner in which Chris Graham "followed up." Every time a lift was made by the Peterborough defence men, Chris could be seen travelling up the ice almost as fast as the puck and he was successful in blocking a great many relief plays. Roy Armstrong made a number of beautiful shots on goal, but ran in hard luck, as regards scoring, as Kennedy seemed to get his eye on everything that came from the right wing. His ribs will bear the imprint of some of Roy's shots for a good many moons.

Mr. John Ross Robertson, president of the O. H. A., witnessed the match, as did Mr. W. A. Buchanan, the Association Treasurer. Mr. J. S. Robertson, of the Telegram, was also an interested spectator.

Mr. Schooley, of Toronto, made a most capable referee, satisfying both teams in his decisions. The opposing sevens lined up on the ice as follows:

Newmarket — Goal, Kennedy; point, Brundrette; cover point, Kelly; forwards, Cameron, Brunton, Flannigan and Halloran. Umpire, F. Wright; timekeeper, W. J. Smith.

Peterborough—Goal, Wasson, point, Glover; cover point, H. Armstrong; forwards, Whitcroft, Morgan, Graham and R. Armstrong. Umpire, Jas. McCabe; timekeeper, Alex. Gibson.

The Newmarket team was late in arriving at the rink owing to the fact that the boys were taken to the hotel for their dinner before coming on the ice. As a consequence some of the spectators kicked their heels in the cold for over two hours. All were there for over an hour. All discomforts, however, were forgotten when the game was once underway. The teams appeared to divide the honours during the first ten minutes, but many good plays were spoiled by the visitors being too anxious and and taking the puck on offside work. It took the Peterboroughs some time to settle down to their usual gait and in the meantime Wasson was called on to stop some well directed shots. Finally the two Armstrongs went up the ice together and Harold did the trick. Time 14 minutes.

Harold Armstrong and Graham started off in the next game with some neat combination and it looked as though they would score, but Kennedy came out of his goal to meet them and actually made a rush up the ice himself, being the first goal keeper to try this trick here in a long time. The move is explained by the fact that Kennedy usually plays cover point for the team. Cameron and Brundrette were both off at once for rough play and the Peterboroughs pressed hard but it seemed impossible to get a shot into the nets. Armstrong made some nice wrist shots which looked dangerous, but they were all blocked. Harold and Roy scored but were called back for an offside play. Brunton ended the suspense by scoring as the result of a very pretty three-man combination. Time 6 minutes. Score 11-1.

Both teams worked hard to break the tie in their own favour and the honour fell to Morgan after five minutes play. Roy Armstrong's shot was stopped but Morgan was quick enough to slap the puck through before the goal could be relieved.

The first half ended while Newmarket's goal was being hotly beseiged.

The second half was more exciting to watch than the first as the scoring came more frequently and there's nothing like fast and accurate shooting to create enthusiasm. The puck was carried down on the Newmarket goal from the face-off and when it was relieved Harold Armstrong was in possession of the disc. He passed to Roy and the latter to Whitcroft, who made several quick dodges and then put a fast one past Kennedy. Time 5 minutes. Score 3-1.

In seven minutes time Whitcroft scored again on a pass from Harold Armstrong, and then Chris Graham poked one through from a scrimmage. Score 5-1. A four-man combination swept down on Wasson and how he ever got the puck was a wonder, but he did, and passed over to Whitcroft who went down the ice like a flash and made the score 6-1. Time 4 minutes. Newmarket then woke up and pressed hard scoring in 3 minutes from a mix-up in front of the Peterborough net. Score 6-2.

It was in the next game that Glover made his fine rush the length of the rink, passing to Morgan just in front of the net to evade Brundrette. Morgan scored. Time 3 minutes. Score 7-2.

Twice in succession Whitcroft got the puck from Morgan at the faceoff and went through the visitor's defence and tallied. It just took him a minute each time to do it. Score 9-2. Newmarket scored in 2 minutes, Whitcroft again in 1-2 minute and Newmarket again in 1 minute leaving the final score 10-4.

FEDERAL UNION.

Continued Large Addition to the Membership Roll.

The nearer spring approaches the larger becomes the number of applications for membership in Peterborough Federal Union No. 9240. The workingmen of the town never before took so lively an interest in the labour question, and the advantages afforded by the legislative concessions granted them.

The regular meeting of Federal Labour Union No. 9240, was held last night, the hall being crowded with members.

President Henry opened the meeting sharply on time, and after the opening order of business was gone through, called for new applications for membership. It was soon apparent that another large rally was to be made, as name after name was read out. The candidates were vouched for and lined up in the hall to the number of seventy — the largest number that has yet been presented in one night. These were duly initiated and admitted to membership, making the total number nearly nine hundred.

A discussion followed relative to the strike which had occurred during the week, at the Cereal elevator. Mr. Scott was warmly praised for the friendly and conciliatory attitude he assumed towards the men in settling the difficulty with the contractor.

A resolution of condolence was passed to the bereaved mother and relatives of the late Frederick Perrin, who was killed at the works.

The rate was struck for divers' wages at one dollar per hour of eight hours a day.

The meeting was well conducted throughout, there being the best of order and harmony prevailing.

THE MANITOBA ACT ON A REFERENDUM.

To Carry it Will Require a Number of Votes Equal to a Majority of Those Cast at the Coming Provincial General Elections — Would Become Operative May 1, 1904—The Vote Will be on October 14th—Mr. Ross Eloquently Reviews the Whole Situation—Many Opinions Quoted—The Progress of Temperance—The Government Striving Frankly to Redeem Its Pledges.

Globe Feb. 13, 1902.

Immediately upon the opening of the Legislature Wednesday Premier Ross introduced his bill respecting the sale of intoxicating liquors, the effect of which is to bring into force the Manitoba liquor act upon its being approved on the 14th of October next by the electors entitled to vote for members of the Legislative Assembly. The act will become operative on May 1, 1904, upon getting a majority vote, provided the total number of votes cast for it shall exceed one-half the number of votes cast in the coming Provincial general election. The address of Premier Ross, in introducing the bill, lasted two hours and ten minutes, and was as follows:—

I beg to move, seconded by Mr. Gibson, for leave to introduce a bill entitled "An act respecting the sale of intoxicating liquors in the Province of Ontario."

In moving the first reading of this bill, of which I gave notice a few days ago, I must ask the indulgence of the House for having to speak at some length, in order to explain some of the more important features of the bill, which I expect the House to consider more fully when it comes to its second reading. I have, in my somewhat extended experience as a member of this House, taken part in many discussions with regard to the license laws of the Province, and with regard to legislation imposing reasonable restrictions upon the sale of intoxicating liquor, all of which was thought to be in the public interest, and was intended to promote public morality. These discussions and attempts at legislation have extended over many years of the life of this Legislature. Even before I had the honor of a seat here, perhaps the most important legislation with regard to the license laws that ever occupied the attention of the Legislature was discussed, and is now known as the Crooks act of 1876. I think hon. gentlemen on both sides of the House, indeed all well-wishers of humanity, will agree that in the main the tendencies of public opinion, growing and deepening every year, by which the Legislature has been endeavoring to impose, and, I hope, measurably at least to enforce, restrictions upon the illicit sale of intoxicating liquors, have been of great advantage to the public and have been of great assistance in promoting morality, in maintaining law and order, and in contributing morally, and perhaps financially, to the welfare of the people. The effect of these restrictions has been to reduce very materially the number of places in which intoxicating liquors are sold. For instance, in the year before the Crooks act was passed there were in the Province of Ontario 4,793 tavern licenses; last year there were 2,621. In 1875 there were 1,307 shop licenses, last year 308. In 1875 there were 52 wholesale licenses, last year there were 21. In 1875 there were 33 vessel licenses, last year there were none; vessel licenses have been entirely abolished. We had in all licenses to the number of 6,185 in 1875, and last year we had 2,950.

I mention this to show that the tendency of public opinion and the object of this legislation have been to confine the sale of intoxicating liquors to the narrowest possible limits within which the license laws could be effectually enforced, and if it is reasonable to infer that by reducing the number of licenses we are restraining the evils of intemperance, then we have here evidence, so far as statistics will prove anything, that there must have been a very material improvement in the habits of the people in the last 25 years. As an instance, in 1875 one license was issued to each 278 persons. Last year one license was issued on an average to 700 persons. The reduction there is most marked. As compared with some States of the Union, our standing in this respect is very satisfactory. I would only mention a State or two—take for example the State of Michigan just across the border, in which there is one license for each 239 persons, against 700 persons in Ontario. In New York they have one license for each 134 persons. Another evidence of the progress of this temperance sentiment is seen in the entire abolition of licenses in many municipalities. We have in Ontario 756 organized municipalities. In 141 of these no tavern licenses are issued at all; that is, in 20 per cent. of the municipalities there are no tavern licenses. In 435 municipalities one and not more than two tavern licenses are issued. In 625 municipalities there is not a single shop license. Provinces or with some of the large cities the result as a whole is equally satisfactory. In Quebec there is one license for each 635 people, as against one to each 700 in Ontario. I will not go into the details of this any further than merely to mention this one fact, that the convictions for drunkenness in Ontario are now one for each 828 people. In Quebec one for each 461, in Nova Scotia one for each 448, in New Brunswick one for each 253, in Manitoba one for each 355, in British Columbia one for 207, in Prince Edward Island one for each 341, in the Territories one for each 180, for the whole Dominion one for each 310, and for Ontario one for each 828. It appears from these statistics, and I do not know if you can rely on them absolutely, but they have been carefully prepared, and I think may be trusted to mean a good deal, that Ontario is the most temperate Province in the Dominion, and that the result of our license legislation has been gratifying in the extreme. I will not wait to go over the legislation of the various years, but will just mention one or two great steps in advance which have been taken in the last few years. I refer particularly to the license act of 1897, whereby the unit of population to each hotel was raised, resulting in the closing of about 120 hotels. We also limited the hours for sale in towns from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., and in cities from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. Previous to this act, in many cities and inspectoral divisions there was no limitation at all on the sale of liquors in the evenings, either during the day or during the night. Another amendment to the act prohibited the sale of liquors to minors. The effect of that, in a word, is simply that one-half or nearly one-half of the whole population of the Province was placed under prohibitory regulations. Other minor provisions need not be mentioned. Now, the high-water mark of our license law was reached in 1897.

Legislation Was Postponed.

It was thought that a year ago this act could be still further improved, and the Government had carefully prepared a bill for that purpose. While that bill was under consideration we were met by the action of the Manitoba Legislature adopting Provincial prohibition. We were met, too, by strong demands from a very influential part of our population for similar prohibition in Ontario, and we thought that until this question of partial prohibition was disposed of we would allow the license law to stand. The larger would, of course, include the lesser in the estimation of the promoters of this latter movement. We therefore had no license legislation since 1897, although we were of the opinion, and perhaps that opinion will be shared by hon. gentlemen opposite, that our license law could be still further improved. Now, I mention this to show the progress we have made along the line of license legislation, and to bring us up to the point at which we now arrive, namely, to consider whether legislation shall for the present be abandoned, and whether we shall embark a measure of partial prohibition—and I say partial prohibition, because, by that, meaning prohibition to the extent of our constitutional limitation.

Manitoba Bill Adopted.

The Government has decided to bring in a bill in the terms of the Manitoba act, the provisions of which are well known to every hon. gentleman in this House; the main provisions, at all events, are well-known. That bill will be referred to the House in the usual way. Several objections are taken to what is supposed to be the policy of the Government in regard to it. In the first place, I shall take hon. gentlemen into my confidence and say we are not introducing that act to be passed in the usual way, placed upon the statute books by the assent of the Crown, and in that way becoming law when so assented to. It is proposed to introduce the act, to have it considered clause by clause, and at some time in the future refer that act to the electors of the Province of Ontario in order to get an expression of opinion from them, and if that expression is favorable, then the act will go into operation on the terms stated therein.

Propriety of the Referendum.

And now I am at once met by two objections, and that will be the burden of my address this afternoon, as to the propriety of taking this course. There are people who say, on the other hand, that in sumptuary legislation like this, in following the precedents of legislation elsewhere, it is perfectly within our right to submit such legislation to the electors. Prohibition has never been made a party question in the strict sense of the term. Liberals have not taken it up as a question on which they asked for the decision of the electors in a party sense. The Opposition has acted in a similar way. How to account for this attitude of the two parties is rather a difficult matter. It would perhaps require considerable investigation and lengthened explanation to set at rest the attitude, to explain the attitude, of the public on prohibition as a party measure compared with or contrasted with the attitude of the public on other party measures. For instance, protection was made a party measure and manhood suffrage was in a certain sense made a party measure in this country, and confederation was made a party measure, and yet for thirty years, more or less, the question of prohibition has been before the Parliaments, first of the old Province of Canada, then the Parliament of the Dominion, and before this Parliament, and yet neither of the two great parties felt themselves disposed to raise an issue, a direct issue, at the polls on the question of prohibition in the same way as issues are raised on the other questions I have named.

Not a Party Question.

That being the case, we are therefore presenting this question to the House not strictly as a party measure; we are not asking the electors to vote as Liberals or Conservatives; we are submitting it in the sense that it is a great question of vast importance to the people, a question that to some extent is of so great importance as for the time being to absorb or overshadow the differences which party leaders have made between each other, and ask for the opinion of the electors on this question [illegible] this Legislature and of the Legislatures of the colonies since constitutional government was established here. Having some misgivings in the matter, I put myself in communication with Sir John Bourinot, who is admittedly a high authority on constitutional matters. I wrote him as long ago as Dec. 5 last, asking him to express his opinion on two points.

Opinions of High Authorities.

First, did he think that the question of a referendum was a constitutional mode of procedure, and secondly, when the opinions of the electors had been expressed, by what procedure could the prerogative of the Crown be put into effect? Sir John Bourinot's memorandum is a little long, but, as I said at the outset, I intend to proceed with deliberation and calmness, as the question is such an important one, and I shall give in extenso his views. In answering the letter, he said:—"The democratic conditions of the Canadian system of Parliamentary government can be seen in the growing tendency of recent years to depart somewhat under special circumstances from the old principle of Parliamentary sovereignty in legislation, and obtain immediately an expression of opinion on some question of grave import on which there is a great diversity of opinion, and the future success of which must mainly depend on

I can understand that if prohibition were passed by either party, in the ordinary method of political warfare there might be a disposition on the other side to discredit it. I do not say that either party would do so, but it has sometimes happened in party conflicts. If this question can be submitted to the people as a question on which the best thought of the people can be enlisted, and in regard to which the strongest convictions of the people can be expressed, without regard to their party affiliations, we would have a better and more conclusive and perhaps a more judicial decision than we could get on it in any other way.

Is It Constitutional?

The first question with which I am met then is this: Is the referendum which we are now adopting a constitutional mode of procedure. I notice that some of our newspapers take the ground that it is not constitutional, and, as a matter of course, the Government are severely censured for adopting this measure. It is said to be a measure by which we are shirking our responsibilities. It is said to be un-British, a departure from British usages. The fact that we are introducing the measure in this form adds to the responsibilities which I now feel in the discussion on which I have entered. I am not merely introducing a bill for prohibition, but a bill which will be quoted as a precedent for many years to come as to the proper procedure in matters of this kind and in other matters. I am aware what a great divergence it may mean, what a great divergence from the practice of the measure of public support which it will receive in case it is brought into legal operation. It is for this reason that the Dominion Parliament and the Legislatures of several Provinces have, within a decade of years, submitted to the people at the polls the question whether they are in favor of prohibiting the sale of spirituous liquors within the limits of their constitutional jurisdiction before proceeding to pass legislation dealing with the subject?

Plebiscite and Referendum.

While the plebiscite may be compared to the Swiss 'initative,' which gives the right to the electors to move the Legislative bodies to take up and consider any subject of public interest, the referendum, which is also borrowed from the same country, has been also suggested on several occasions as a desirable and efficient method of bringing into force a measure which can only be successful when it obtains the unequivocal support of a large majority of the people interested in its provisions. This democratic feature of the Swiss political system may be compared with the practice that already exists in Canada, of referring certain by-laws of municipal bodies to the vote of the ratepayers of a municipality, of giving the people of a district an opportunity of accepting or rejecting the Canada temperance act, of permitting a majority of the ratepayers in a municipal division to establish a free library at the public expense, etc." And here, Mr. Ross continued, he quotes a high constitutional authority, Cooley, of whose standing, I am sure, hon. gentlemen are well aware, Mr. Cooley says:

"It is not always essential that a legislative act should be a competent statute which must in any event take effect as law at the time it leaves the hand of the legislative department." A statute "may be conditional and its taking effect may be made to depend upon some subsequent effect."

On the question of the referendum applied to certain classes of legislation Dr. James Bryce has well said: "A general election, although in form a choice of particular persons as members, has now become practically an expression of popular opinion on the two or three leading measures then propounded and discussed by the party leaders, as well as a vote of confidence or no confidence in the Ministry of the day. It is in substance a vote on those measures, although, of course, a vote only on their general principles, and not, like the Swiss referendum, upon the statute which the Legislature has passed. Even, therefore, in a country which clings to and founds itself upon the absolute supremacy of its representative Chamber, the notion of a direct appeal to the people has made much progress." And Mr. Dicey, an equally competent authority, tells us: "The referendum, in short, is a regular, normal peaceful proceeding, as unconnected with revolutionary violence or despotic coercion and as easily carried out as the sending up of a bill from the House of Commons to the House of Lords. The law to be accepted or rejected is laid before the people in its precise terms; they are concerned solely with its merits and demerits; their thoughts are not distracted by the necessity for considering any other topic." In the constitution of the new commonwealth of Australia there is a provision which practically admits the usefulness of a referendum in certain cases of legislative difficulty; and that is, in case of a conflict between the Senate and House of Representatives, both elective, on a bill. In case of an irrepressible conflict, the Houses are dissolved and an expression of opinion is obtained from the electorate on this measure alone, which is then again submitted to the Legislature to be settled by a joint vote of both Houses.

Approved by Imperial Parliament.

Now in Australia we find that a constitution contains provision for a referendum. That constitution was adopted by the Imperial Legislature a little over a year ago. The Imperial Legislature accepted that constitution with a referendum clause in it. If it be right for the Commonwealth of Australia to observe as a proper constitutional procedure, to require a measure on which there is irrepressible conflict between the two branches of the Legislature to be submitted to the electors, then we would be surely justified in referring to the electors a measure on which there is a great difference of opinion, and on which an opinion cannot be got in any other way.

Mr. Whitney—I would remind my hon. friend that the provisions to which he is now alluding were placed in the constitution of Australia because of the deadlock over a situation which prevents the possibility of any other settlement.

The Premier—The British Houses of Parliament have often come to a deadlock, and there is no provision in the British constitution for such a referendum. The constitution of the Commonwealth, instead of allowing an irrepressible conflict to continue, adopted the referendum as the solution of that deadlock, and adopted that solution with the approval and concurrence of the British House of Commons and the House of Lords, and with the best legal advice and opinions of the best minds of the empire.

Mr. Whitney—It is impossible here.

The Premier—It might have been adopted here.

Mr. Whitney—The hon. gentlemen

"I HOPE the Bill will be received by the public as a fulfilment of any promise we have made, and that it will be an effective instrument for elevating the morals of the country."

—HON. GEO. W. ROSS.

THE PROHIBITION BILL.

A prohibition bill on the lines of the Manitoba act was read a first time in the Legislature yesterday.

A referendum on the bill will be submitted on October 14.

A majority will decide; but to validate the measure the votes cast for prohibition must be more than half of the total votes cast in the Provincial general election of 1902.

The vote will be on the Provincial lists.

The Question of Compensation will be left in abeyance pending the result of the referendum.

On the second Tuesday of October—that is, on October 14—the electors of the Province of Ontario will be called upon to vote as to whether the partial measure of prohibition provided by what is ordinarily known as the Manitoba act shall be applied to Ontario.

The question will be decided by a majority of the electorate, but to validate the act that majority must be equal to a majority of the total number of votes polled at the general Provincial election, which will take place earlier in the year. Thus, if 400,000 votes are polled in the general election, over 200,000 votes must be cast in favor of prohibition at the referendum. In arriving at the total, constituencies in which elections take place by acclamation will be estimated as contributing to the total vote the same percentage of the voters on their lists as that of the constituencies in which contests take place. The decision will be left to voters qualified to vote for the Provincial Legislature.

The question of compensation will be left over for subsequent settlement. Should the referendum result in the enactment of the law, compensation must be faced by the Legislature then existing. Premier Ross intimated that he considered it a suitable object for the sifting and deliberations of a commission. Finally, the bill becomes law, if made valid, on May 1, 1904.

The foregoing summarizes the Government policy in dealing with the situation created by the Privy Council affirming the constitutionality of the Manitoba act. Hon. Geo. W. Ross yesterday afternoon submitted for its first reading the bill which embodies this policy, explaining his grounds in a speech which was a remarkably clear and full statement of the position of the Government upon the subject.

It is unnecessary to state that interest in the Premier's announcement was of the keenest. When at 3.25 p.m. he rose to make the long-expected statement, he had an audience which was limited only by the capacity of the great Legislative chamber. The galleries were packed, the privileged portions of the floor under the galleries were crowded with favored visitors; every member was in his place. And yet the proceedings were of the quietest. The order of business in which the explanation came is ordinarily devoted to the formal placing of business before the House. Perhaps a dozen bills received their first reading, and then, when attention had been lulled by the reiteration of formalities, the head of the Government was upon his feet, and, unheralded by the preliminary cheer with which Parliamentary followers love to emphasize the openings words of a leader, he was at his task in low, even tones, with deliberate enunciation and careful phrasing. Coolly and lucidly the speech flowed on in perfect silence. The voice rose as the speaker warmed to his task of exposition, but he was intent upon lucidity, not upon arousing enthusiasm. It was not a debating speech, but an expository one. No reference to Parliamentary opponents was made; there was none of the cut and thrust in which Mr. Ross can upon occasion excel. It was an explanation, but without passion, and with perfect clearness.

The opening portion of Mr. Ross' speech was devoted to an exposition of the principle of the referendum, and a demonstration that the course of the Government in deciding to resort to it is perfectly constitutional. The legal right of the Province to use the referendum he established by an overwhelming mass of evidence. Much of it was contained in an able monograph upon the subject, supplied by so eminent an authority as Sir John Bourinot; telling use was also made by Mr. Ross of more than one Privy Council judgment touching upon the extent of the Provincial powers. Mr. Justice Mills, Sir John Thompson, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir John Macdonald, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, were some of the Canadian publicists quoted in this connection. And in any event, he declared, he was not afraid to create a precedent.

With equal cogency Mr. Ross set forth what may be termed the desirability of this new constitutional expedient. The referendum, he showed by an exhaustive series of citations, is steadily growing in favor in the English-speaking world. So thoughtful a statesman as Lord Salisbury recently indicated it as a valuable means of opposing a bulwark to popular passion; and Mr. Ross added to this a reminder that Ontario, having no second chamber, may do worse than adopt some such check upon the intensity with which a particular course of action may occasionally be urged upon the Government and the House. The approval given by such moral reformers as the late Miss Frances Willard and Dr. Lyman Abbott to direct legislation was also noted. In the field of actual legislation the Imperial Parliament has expressly sanctioned the use of the referendum in Australia; the Australian use of it offers points which constitute a valuable contribution to the art of government; it is steadily growing in public favor in Great Britain, and a certain use has long been made of it in Ontario.

A subordinate division of Mr. Ross' speech dealt with the application of the referendum to the question of prohibition; in this connection he set forth with great clearness that temperance workers have repeatedly requested it, as early as in 1875 and as late as in 1899. He also in this connection touched upon the proportion of the vote which should be regarded as a mandate, quoting a long array of authorities who regard it as advisable to insist upon a preponderating majority.

His position thus established, Mr. Ross proceeded to announce the conditions on which the referendum is to be submitted, as already stated. His analysis of the important question of the proportion of the vote was especially clear and pointed. The practically universal opinion of the friends of temperance, he had already pointed out, was that any prohibitory measure should have a substantial backing. It was, he added, in the air. He was inclined, he observed, to favor the requiring of a majority of those on the lists; but practical considerations intervened, and rendered such a requirement an undue handicap. A good deal had been heard of requiring a certain percentage of the vote cast, and at some length he considered this. At one time, he said, the Government had considered the advisability of requiring a three-fifths vote; but against this was to be set the fact that the number going to the polls might be very small. Accordingly, they had decided upon a majority, with the added condition that the favorable vote must be at least a majority of the vote cast at the coming Provincial election. He remarked that the number of votes usually polled at such elections is about 400,000, rarely reaching 450,000. He said that the vote would be held separate from other elections, thus being put upon an equality with Parliamentary elections. He declined to induce voters to proceed to the polls by coupling the referendum with municipal or other elections. A temperance man who would not take the trouble to vote for prohibition would not be of much assistance to prohibition after it had been passed. The question of compensation he dealt with as already indicated.

This closed Mr. Ross' explanation. Mr. Whitney reserved his remarks for the second reading. The bill will come up for its second reading next week, and the main debate will take place then.

misunderstands me. I say that such a deadlock is impossible here, because we have got only one House.

The Premier—It is not impossible at Ottawa. There may be a deadlock between the Commons and the Senate, and they must get over it the best way they can, no provisions whatever having been made for such a difficulty. I would not be at all surprised if, in revising our constitution, such a provision was included. It would be a good way of getting over the difficulty.

A Vexed Question.

If a referendum is unconstitutional, how do you account for its acceptance by the House of Commons in the case of Australia? Then, Sir John Bourinot, continuing, says:—"It seems to me that the question of prohibition is one of these vexed questions which affect so deeply the social and moral conditions of the people at large that it can properly be taken out of the category of ordinary subjects which can be best solved by the wisdom of the Legislature itself." And further on he says:—"The whole object of a plebiscite, as well as a referendum, is to obtain such a complete decision of the popular will as will enable the Legislature to deal definitely with a question on which there is great variance of opinion." I need not read the whole of this paper. It is all on the line that I have indicated. There are the three great constitutional authorities that I have mentioned, the action of Australia, and then there is the opinion of Sir John Bourinot himself that in this or any similar matter we are quite within our rights, that it is a legitimate thing, and it would not be an unconstitutional procedure for us to adopt a referendum, or take the opinion of the electors as to whether such and such a bill meets with their approval, and that opinion being expressed in the terms laid down by Parliament, then the proclamation of the Crown should issue, bringing that into effect.

The Privy Council.

There is another argument which is very strong to my mind, and that is the opinion of the Privy Council given in the case of the Queen v. Hodge, where the Privy Council declared that the powers of the Provincial Legislature were within its own jurisdiction as full and ample as the powers of the British House of Commons. I will just quote one sentence: "When the B.N.A. act enacted that there should be a Legislature for Ontario, and that its Legislative Assembly should have exclusive authority to make laws for the Province and for Provincial purposes in relation to matters enumerated in section 92, it conferred powers not in any sense to be exercised by delegations from or as agents of the Imperial Parliament, but authority as plenary, and as ample within the limits prescribed by section 92, as the Imperial Parliament in the plenitude of its powers possessed and could bestow."

Limitation of Powers.

Now, is there any inference to be drawn from that definition of our powers as a Legislature, except that we can do here within our own constitutional limitations anything that the British House of Commons can do? No person will hold that the British House of Commons could refer a bill to the electorate of Great Britain. That would be to put a limit upon the greatest Parliament in the world, a Parliament that has legislated not only for the United Kingdom, but for the greatest empire in the world. No such limitations exist upon the British constitution. If our powers are coterminous within our own legislative jurisdiction with what the British Parliament can do in Great Britain, then we within our constitution can do in the Province of Ontario anything Great Britain can for the United Kingdom. And this view, sir, is further confirmed by the judgment of Lord Selborne in a noted case arising out of an act the Government of India. A word from Lord Selborne's judgment will make this point clear. He says:—

"Where plenary powers of legislation exist as to particular subjects, whether in an Imperial or in a Provincial Legislature, they may (in their Lordship's judgment) be well exercised, either absolutely or conditionally. Legislation, conditional on the use of particular powers, or on the exercise of a limited discretion, entrusted by the Legislature to persons in whom it places confidence, is no uncommon things, and in many circumstances it may be highly convenient."

Powers of the Province.

If we passed this bill, and it became law on the signature of his Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, that would be passing it absolutely. If Lord Selborne's judgment is correct, we could also pass it conditional upon the vote of the electors, that is, conditional on the use of particular powers or on the exercise of limited discretion. Indeed, a limited discretion entrusted by the Legislature to persons in whom it places confidence—that is, the electors—is no uncommon thing, and in many instances it may be strongly defended. You have, therefore, very strong evidence leading up to the view I desire to start out with, that our act was not unconstitutional. I could quote, too, Canadian authorities, some of them bearing as closely on the subject as those I have already quoted, others a little more remote. In 1891 Mr. Flint, who was leader of the temperance movement in the House of Commons, spoke on a bill—Mr. Flint was not leader then—but he spoke on a bill introduced by Mr. Jamieson, now Judge Jamieson, who was then leader of the prohibition party in the House of Commons. There was an amendment moved to the effect that "it is essential to the effectual working and permanent maintenance of such an enactment that the electorate of Canada should first pronounce a definite opinion on the subject at the polls."

Mr. Mills, in speaking to the amendment, said:—"I do not admit that it is an un-British or an unconstitutional proceeding to refer a matter of this kind directly to the people of the country." Mr. Mills was always regarded as a high constitutional authority, and as proof of that regard he now occupies, to my great delight, a seat on the Supreme Court Bench. He says:—"I admit that it is an undesirable course to take in a majority of cases, because there is no difficulty, in the majority of instances, in enforcing a measure which is placed upon the statute book; but this would be a sumptuary law, and it requires a general co-operation of the community to give it effect. I do not think a greater misfortune could befall the cause of total abstinence than the placing on the statute book of a measure which would be inoperative."

Then Sir Louis Davies, now of the Supreme Court also, spoke. He said:—"It is said to be un-English, that there is no precedent for it. Well, sir, I am not aware that it is absolutely essential that we never should take any step in this new country unless we can show an English precedent for it; but we can show precedents in other countries, in Switzerland, as my hon. friend reminds me."

Hard to Keep Under.

In 1892 the same subject, for it seems hard to keep it under, came up again in the House of Commons on a motion of Mr. Charlton, in which Mr. Charlton asked that the question be referred to the electors of Canada at the polls. Speaking on this question, Sir John Thompson said:—"I am not submitting, as the hon. gentlemen seem to anticipate, that there are constitutional questions involved." Sir John Thompson did not raise constitutional objections. He said:—"I have no doubt we can change and mould our constitution in that respect as we please," so he had no doubt as to the constitutional process. "But," he says, "I feel very confident in the assertion that such a mode of action is utterly repugnant to constitutional principles we have adopted and followed with zeal down to the present time."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the same debate, says:—"I agree to a large extent with the Minister of Justice that the system of referring such a question, or, in fact, any question, to a plebiscite is not in harmony with our institutions. I would rather see this question, and all other questions, disposed of in the old British manner, that is, by Parliament itself. The hon. gentlemen and all people who look at this question dispassionately must admit that, in this instance, there might be an exception made. Rules exist, but there are few rules to which there is not an exception. This question of temperance and prohibition is one which might well be disposed of in this manner. . . I doubt if you can have any better mode of ascertaining the views of the country at large, and therefore I would favor the reference of this question to the people, not that I would do it as a general rule, but as an exception which might properly apply under the circumstances."

Then, again, Mr. Mills in 1898, six or seven years after his first expression of opinion on the question, referred to the same matter when the bill for the plebiscite was before the Senate of that year. There the question was raised as to the propriety of such a course and as to its constitutional effects. Mr. Mills, speaking in the Senate in 1898, said:—"Ordinarily the work of legislation ought to be carried on by Parliament, and the Government ought to assume the responsibility of determining what they propose, because in a great many instances the questions that, as a Government, they are pledged to and that they are called upon to deal with are questions with reference to which the elections have turned. Now, this is not an ordinary question of legislation, and no question relating to a sumptuary matter can be, because it is not what is best in the abstract, but it is what the people are ready to sustain, that you are bound to determine."

Constitutionality of the Referendum.

Further evidence shows that Sir John Macdonald and Sir Mackenzie Bowell, and all who had any status in Parliament in fact for the last ten or fifteen years, either by their vote or by their speeches accepted the constitutionality of a referendum. If, therefore, we are making a departure, we are making it on high legal sanction, the sanction of the British House of Commons, the sanction of the Australian Commonwealth, the sanction of the Canadian House of Commons, the sanction of the great leaders in constitutional law on both sides of the Atlantic. We are making it in view of the difficulties to a certain extent which are involved in legislation of this kind, and I would be rather disposed, in a conservative way, to echo the view expressed by Sir Louis Davies, that we must not allow ourselves to be too strongly bound by precedents. Precedents are useful in steadying the decision of the court, and therefore useful, too, in legislation, but we pass—I was almost going to say daily—in this House bills for which there has been no precedent. How is society to grow, how are the liberties of the people to expand, if you are to sit down and study musty volume after musty volume in order to ascertain if our grandfathers or great-grandfathers or ancestors a hundred years ago did so and so? Should we then, while recognizing the good sense, the prudence and judgment and loyalty to the liberty of the people, and to popular rule and so, and the public understood, which contains the means of its will we be for ever in leading-strings, should we be restrained by hands that practically have mouldered years ago and gone to their original dust? We are in the living present. We have the responsibilities of living legislation before us and the full realization of that larger sense of manhood we enjoy, some of which we have inherited from our fathers.

A Philosophic Expedient.

That leads me to the next view. Is the referendum a mode of procedure which one might reasonably expect to meet with the approval of thoughtful men? Legislation to be effective, and to maintain its dignity, must keep within the lines of the best thought of the people. If we are too conservative we are discarded, and very properly so; if we are too radical, we may introduce revolutions and changes which will be very disturbing and very unconstitutional. The golden mean in legislation must always be our aim. Does the referendum commend itself to those who have given it thought, the leaders of the great movements which are crystallized in legislation? I have no less an authority than the Premier of England, Lord Salisbury, on that point. Lord Salisbury said, and I believe that anything on a question like this coming from a man such as Lord Salisbury is full of thought and significance—Lord Salisbury said: "I believe nothing could oppose a bulwark to popular passion except an arrangement for deliberate and careful reference of any matters in dispute to the people, like the arrangement existing in the United States and Switzerland." I commend these three or four lines to the thoughtful attention of the members of the House and the people of the country. We are apt to be, to use a vulgar expression, stampeded in legislation, and to be stampeded in opinion by the intensity of the advocates of any particular opinion. We are apt to lose that judicial poise which a Legislature should always maintain if it is to deal rightly by both parties who are to be affected by our legislation. On the one hand, we have the militant temperance men, thoughtful, moral, pure-minded, earnest, anxious to see this world blossom out in beauty and freshness, and we have their case presented with such intensity—I shall not say emotion—as to be almost overcome by the arguments as well as the illustrations used. On the other hand, we have those in the trade who say, "The trade is our life, we depend on it for our existence." They see no harm in it. To destroy it would be to turn them on the streets, to make beggars of wealthy men, and they bring before us the result of absolute prohibition. We have to stand midway between these two parties. They are both citizens; the motives of one may be purer than of the other, some of you may say, but that is not the question we have to consider.

The question we have to consider is how so to legislate that, while we promote the moral influences the temperance man advocates, we do not inflict a moral wrong on the other man whose business we are disposing of, and in this case this view has had a great deal of weight with me in thinking over the responsibility of a referendum.

A Single-chamber House.

This is a single chamber; there is nobody to be appealed to from this body. In the Dominion there is a Senate; the object of a second chamber in all legislation is to steady the more volatile public opinion which will find an expression in the lower House. If you will read the debates on confederation or the history of the House of Lords, you will find that this is the view presented by the advocates of a second chamber. In the United States the complications arising out of the existence of a second chamber are greater perhaps than in Great Britain, and yet you will see that in the United States hasty legislation is more strongly guarded against than it is under the British system, and consequently the American constitution is less elastic than the British. We are the only Province in the Dominion that started out with a single chamber. We have guided legislation on the whole wisely, prudently and with some little regard to conservative public opinion. We have in this instance to see if the pressure—I use the word in a proper sense—that is brought to bear on us by those who are anxious for this legislation is a pressure endorsed by the electors in their minds and judgment. There is no other body to stand between us and the elector to give this question a second thought, and for that reason there is a good deal of force in the view I now entertain, that in a question like this, partaking somewhat of a material character, and in which there is such intense religious zeal involved—and sometimes zeal perhaps outruns the good sense of the individual with regard to both views of the question—it does seem to me there ought to be some way of getting at the calm, judicial thought of the whole people, or shall I say some neutral body, or some other body that will give the subject sober second thought, and will give that sober second thought without any regard to the consequences involved. We are to a certain extent influenced, and in the main primarily so, by the effect it should have on our various circumstances. We ought not to try to get away too far from that principle on which, I think, the security of British institutions depends, of occasional and frequent appeals to the electors. One of the great planks of the Chartists was triennial Parliaments, bringing the House of Commons to account every three years, if possible. We have to give an account every four years, but I want to point out, while this is our constitutional method, it may be well in a question of this kind, and this question seems to be unique, to have some will be given, and where these who in the last analysis have to take the consequences for good or evil shall have an opportunity of expressing their opinions upon it.

English Opinions.

I have mentioned what Lord Salisbury said on the question of the referendum. The view of the great Conservative party of England is in harmony with Lord Salisbury's views. The official leaflet issued from the Central Conservative offices previous to the last campaign enumerated the following items of the party platform:—(1) A firm Imperial policy; (2) a strong navy; (3) the referendum. Now, I am sure that the Conservative party in England has in the past moved as slowly as any party could move and exist. I do not know but it is going somewhat slowly still on some political questions, but, notwithstanding its immobility and its conservatism on general principles, it has accepted as one of its party planks the referendum on some questions. I have also a quotation from Mr. Lecky, member of Parliament, and author of "Democracy and Liberty," in which he points out the advantages of the referendum:—"The referendum would have the immense advantage of disentangling issues, separating one great question from the many minor questions with which it may be mixed. Confused or blended issues are among the greatest political dangers of our time. It would bring into action the opinion of the great silent element of the community, and reduce to their true proportions many movements to which party combinations or noisy agitations have given a factitious prominence. The experience of Switzerland and America shows that when the referendum takes root in a country it takes political questions to an immense degree out of the hands of wire-pullers, and makes it possible to decide them, mainly, though not wholly, on their merit, without producing a change of Government or of party predominance."

I have also the opinion of Mr. Strachey, the editor of The London Spectator:—"The most democratic measure conceivable is the referendum. No one who upholds that institution can be accused for a moment of not trusting the people or of failing to acquiesce in the principle that the people themselves constitute the ultimate sovereign power in the nation. That is the true touchstone. The man who refuses to agree on the referendum may be a good Jacobin—one, that is, who holds certain abstract views as sacred—but he cannot be true to the essential principles of democratic government."

Miss Willard's View.

The late Miss Frances Willard, for many years President of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, a woman of superior culture and of great insight, said of the referendum:—"I believe in direct legislation, and think it is so greatly needed that language cannot express the dire necessity under which we find ourselves. The reign of the people is the one thing that my soul desires to see. The reign of the politician is a public ignominy. I also believe that direct legislation is certain to become the great political issue in the immediate future. The people are being educated by events. They are coming to see that there is no hope for reform under the existing system of voting. It is the duty of every citizen to carefully study this great question."

Just a word from another, a famous American, Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of The Outlook: "In my judgment the remedy for the evils of democracy is more democracy, a fresh appeal from the few to the many, from the managers to the people. I believe in the referendum, and, within limits, the initiative, because it is one form of this appeal from the few to the many, from forces of abstract democracy to democracy that is the rule of the people."

What is the Referendum?

I admit that in the minds of some of the hon. gentlemen of this House they look upon the referendum with some little fear and dread. After all, what is it? As Dr. Abbott says, "Democracy and yet more democracy." It is but trusting to the electors. It is but removing from the sphere where we may be unduly influenced by deputations to a sphere where each man may, governed only by his own thought, and the responsibility which every voter feels with the ballot in his hands, express that opinion without fear, favor or affection. If that procedure would strengthen constitutional government, the sooner it is adopted the better. If that feature would give us a more judicial opinion upon a question upon which it is exceptionally hard under the present conditions to get an opinion, the sooner we adopt it the better. Then we have many precedents. I will not refer to the example of Switzerland. Australia a few years ago had the referendum on sectarian education, on the Bible in the schools, on grants to denominational schools. Then, referring to my own experience of the great commotion that was caused in this country in 1886—I think it was in 1886—on the subject of the Bible in the school, I am sorry that we did not seek then the referendum on that question, when I think of the hate and religious bigotry and prejudices that were appealed to, and the strife of religious feeling that entered into that contest. When I think of the hard things that were said on both sides, particularly on one side—(laughter)—I do feel as if anything that could prevent the country being overrun with a frenzy like that ought to be avoided, and the shelter of the referendum would be a boon greatly to be desired. In Australia they did what we did not do, know how much of a majority is meanwealth was submitted by referendum to the people, and bills have been introduced into the Australian Legislature to make the referendum part of the constitution, but that was before the foundation of the Commonwealth, so that these bills have not been acted upon.

Popular in the United States.

In the United States every constitutional amendment—and every State of the Union except Delaware has the power to make constitutional amendments in that way—has been submitted to the people, and in every one of these cases, so far as I can ascertain, they are approved by a two-thirds majority. The constitutional amendments are not only approved in this way, but various other matters are approved in this way. In fifteen of the States no law changing the location of the capital is valid without submission to popular vote; in seven States no laws establishing banking corporations; in eleven States no laws for the incurrence of debts, excepting such as are specified in the constitution.

In Use in Canada, Too.

The referendum has been very extensively used in Canada also. For instance, we have the referendum in many municipal matters. In school matters, if the trustees have any doubt or difficulty as to the location of a school site, then a referendum is held as to which site it shall be, and so on. We have had it in connection with the Dunkin act, which was introduced in 1864, and in the Scott act, in 1878. We have had local option on our statute books ever since confederation. A referendum was taken by Prince Edward Island in 1892, in Manitoba the same year, and plebiscites have been taken in Ontario, in Nova Scotia and over the whole Dominion. The precedents for the referendum accumulate as we look them up. A referendum was taken in sixteen of the United States on the question of prohibition alone, so that the referendum is sustained by numberless precedents as the proper course to pursue under certain circumstances, and certainly as the proper course in regard to all legislation affecting the liquor traffic. I need not, therefore, fortify the action of the Government in considering this question of the referendum any further by precedent. They are overwhelming in every quarter of the globe, in Europe, Australia, in the United States; even in England a few years ago Sir Wm. Harcourt introduced what is called a local option law to become operative unless voted against by two-thirds of the ratepayers.

Lord Randolph Churchill hild a similar bill. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman had one also. There was the Welsh bill and the Scotch bill; Sir William Harcourt's bill and Lord Randolph Churchill's bill, all involving the principal of the reference to the people. We are, therefore, fortified in the views we are taking by the strongest precedents.

The Basis of the Vote.

We come now to one of the crucial points in connection with the bill in hand. What should be the basis of the vote in a case such as we are now considering? On what basis should the judgment of the people be accepted as their ultimate, complete and conclusive judgment? I want to examine this point closely in the light of opinions from several sources. The referendum has generally been carried by a majority of the electors voting for it. In the United States when prohibition was first submitted in the various States, such was the case, but when it was embodied in the constitution of the State and made permanent, as it has been in four or five States, it became operative only on a vote of a two-thirds majority. Some municipal by-laws are operative only on this large majority of two-thirds. The McCarthy act, which was introduced in the House of Commons in 1893 and which was afterwards declared ultra vires, provided that local option should only be operative on a three-fifths majority. We, therefore, have the example of the United States in regard to changes in the constitution of the various States, and the example of the McCarthy act, adopted by the House of Commons when Sir John Macdonald was Premier, calling for a three-fifths majority in the case of a permanent enactment affecting the liquor traffic. Besides, we have the evidence and the opinions of some of our strongest men.

Hon. Alex. Mackenzie's View.

In 1877, when the question of prohibition was before the country, the late Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, then Premier, speaking at Colborne, said:—"I have always taken the ground that until public sentiment has reached such an advanced stage of maturity that we would be quite certain of a very large majority in favor of such a measure it would be unwise and impolitic to attempt to enforce a total prohibition of the liquor traffic." Mr. Mackenzie, you see, said that to enforce it a large majority would be necessary. In 1878, when the Scott act was passed, and the measure was before the Senate, one of the strongest prohibitionists whom I have had the honor to know, and who for many years was President of the Dominion Alliance, Senator Vidal, was anxious that an easy mode should be provided whereby the bill could be put into force in the Provinces, or, in other words, whereby we could have Provincial prohibition, as well as prohibition by counties and cities, and speaking on that view of the case he said:—"I am perfectly satisfied that unless this measure receives the support of a large majority of them (the people) it must be inoperative." Senator Aikin, on the same occasion, said:—"I think it would be most unfortunate if public sentiment was not educated up to that people were in favor of the law that it should be applied in any province."

As the Premier resumed his seat he

Opinions of Prominent Men.

Another distinguished leader of the temperance movement in the same discussion—I refer to the late Senator Allan—moved an amendment, providing that it should only be enforced by a majority of the whole number of electors qualified to vote for a member of the House of Commons. Another well-known public man, Hon. Mr. Campbell, did not believe that law which so seriously affected the liberty and property of a certain portion of the community should be enforced by a bare majority of the votes.

Senator Dickey said:—"It would be a great misfortune to undertake to put this law into force in any community where there was not a decided preponderance in favor of it—not a preponderance of the active, enthusiastic people who chose to go out and cast their votes and exercise themselves on this question, but a decided preponderance of the whole body of the electors."

These are the views of prominent Senators, and some of them active temperance men. Mr. Mackenzie, when the subject was before the House of Commons, repeated in substance the statement I have just quoted. He said his mind had always been that the community had a perfect right to protect itself by a law of this kind. On the other hand, he quite admitted that there was almost an absolute necessity that there should be a strong, if not universal, opinion in favor of the enactment. A measure which even apparently restricted the members of any portion of the community on general grounds affected the whole community; and for this reason he would never favor the enactment of a prohibitory law which was not subject to the test of the vote of the people, until he was satisfied that there was an overwhelming majority of the whole community in favor of such a measure.

Sir Leonard Tilley's Experience.

Among those who spoke on the subject of prohibition in the House of Commons debates in 1884, and with whom I had the honor of a place in the House in my early Parliamentary career, was Sir Leonard Tilley, regarded by all of us early temperance workers as the advocate of temperance and prohibition par excellence. The proposition was before the House of Commons on motion of Mr. Foster:—"That this House is of the opinion, for the reasons hereinafter set forth, that the right and most effectual legislative remedy for these evils is to be found in the enactment and enforcement of a law prohibiting the importation, manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes," to which an amendment was moved as follows:—"And this House is of opinion that the public sentiment of the people of Canada calls for immediate legislation to that end." Sir Leonard Tilley spoke against the resolution, and in so doing related some of his own experiences. He became Premier of New Brunswick in 1865, and passed a prohibitory law. It was not in operation more than six months—in fact, I do not know whether it was in operation so long as that—when Sir Leonard, owing to the action of the Lieutenant-Governor, had a dissolution of the House forced upon him. An election followed, and Sir Leonard Tilley and many of his colleagues were defeated, and only two or three of those who supported the prohibition measure were returned. Speaking from a wide experience and with an earnest desire that his words should be helpful to the temperance cause, Sir Leonard afterwards, in addressing himself to the resolution, said, after reciting his own experience:—"I can understand the delicacy of an hon. gentleman voting against the last amendment, as a temperance man and a prohibitionist, because as such he would seem inconsistent, and I noticed cheers when my name was called as voting against the immediate adoption of prohibition, but I did so because I believe it is in the interest of temperance that we should not enact a law that will not be enforced. I speak with the experience I had thirty years ago, and have had ever since 1856. When the convention was held in Montreal, I was written to by one of the leading friends of temperance, asking my opinion. I was unable to be present, but I wrote a letter in reply, which letter Mr. Ross read at a convention held in Ottawa. What was the opinion I then expressed? I stated that if they decided to submit the proposal to the popular vote they should not suggest less than a three-fifths vote, because if carried by a bare majority, and without public sentiment behind it, the law would fail, and the cause of temperance would be damaged, instead of benefited. . . If a prohibitory law were enacted to-morrow I am satisfied it could not be enforced, and nothing could do more damage to the cause of prohibition than the enactment of a law, followed by its non-enforcement and ultimate repeal. It would then take us a century to get back to our starting-point." That is a very strong expression. Perhaps it could not be from any other source in which I have greater confidence; an expression calling for thought, giving an experience of twenty-five or twenty-six years in the temperance movement, in all its ups and downs, flows and ebbs in Canada and the United States, and it is worthy of the most careful consideration.

A Great Majority Required.

Another very active member of Parliament, and a member of the Dominion Alliance, was Mr. Dixon Craig, who expressed his opinion in 1896, when the subject of prohibition was before the House. He says:—"But we must admit, and I admit it frankly, that this prescribed shall be consumed or drunk difficult one for any Parliament to deal with. I claim that a prohibitory law must have a great majority behind it, not only of those who vote, but of all who have votes in this country. It was a great weakness in the Scott act that it required for its adoption only a majority of the votes cast. It would have been far better if it had required a majority of all those entitled to vote, because in some cases very little interest was taken in the election, and the majority of the voters were not represented. The law must have a great majority behind it to be effective. It is no use placing such a law on the statute book by a bare majority—in fact, I would be opposed to it." And he spoke in a similar strain in 1898.

A Preponderating Sentiment.

And then I have a quotation from Mr. Foster in 1891, in which he takes a similar view. I will trouble the House with reading as little of it as may be necessary to put his views fairly before you. Mr. Foster in 1891 said:—"I said that I believed in the feasibility of a prohibitory law under certain conditions. What are these conditions? I will name but one. That is, the condition which follows as a logical sequence, as a necessary deduction from what I have just been stating, that before a prohibitory law ought to be enacted, and before it can be maintained so as to do good in the country, there must necessarily be the basis of a strong and preponderating public sentiment in its favor, in order not only to lead to this enactment, but to tend to its enforcement as well; and I say again what has been quoted as a reproach to me, and I say it boldly and earnestly, that that man is no true friend of the temperance cause, or the prohibition movement who will enact a law to-day if he does not firmly believe in his heart that that law finds its reflex in the overpowering conviction of a preponderating and active majority in the country in favor, not only of its enactment, but enforcement as well, and that he would do the worst possible to the cause of prohibition to snatch a verdict for the enactment of the law and find out afterwards, if it were not a reflex of such a preponderating sentiment in the country, that it would become a dead letter on the statute book, a by-word in the community, and a reproach to the very temperance men who favored its enactment."

In a Judicial Mood.

He repeated similar sentiments in 1898, with which I will not trouble the House. Now, these views are the views of temperance men, and I am not giving them with regard to their politics at all, because they are not of one shade of politics, but I am giving them in order that we may endeavor to put ourselves in a judicial mood, and that the country should endeavor to put itself in a judicial mood, and consider, when such a law is being submitted and considered by the electors, if the sentiment in favor of it is preponderating, in so great an to give it vitality and efficiency. The men whom I have mentioned were leaders; some of them are leaders to-day, and those who are leaders must necessarily study public opinion, and must necessarily give thought to every legislative act which they are required to consider. The thoughtful opinion of these leaders is in the direction that a large and preponderating majority is required, and no snatch verdict, because in New Brunswick and some other cases a snatch verdict resulted disastrously to the temperance cause. Another circumstance indicates the necessity for calmness. We have had the Dunkin act on the statute book since 1864. To-day it is enforced in only three municipalities. I mentioned in my opening remarks that something like 174 municipalities gave no tavern licenses. That was the action of the License Commissioners. It was not felt that they were required. But only three municipalities to-day, after 36 or 38 years' experience with the Dunkin act, keep that act as a by-law operative within their borders.

Scott Act's Educational Effect.

The Scott act was carried in twenty-six counties and in two cities, and it was repealed in all. It was carried by majorities aggregating 151,000 in round numbers, and repealed by majorities aggregating the same amount, so that there was a very decided change in public opinion. Now, the Scott act is not to be under-estimated nor discredited as a temperance factor, yet it is very disappointing to find it cast aside in every instance where it was adopted. The effect of the Scott act was educational, and it may have done a great deal of good, but as an efficient means for repressing the liquor traffic or arming the officers of the law with the power which it was supposed to afford them, the Scott act has been discredited, has been found ineffective, and has not, excepting in an educational sense, done any particular good. This is another reason why we should proceed with some deliberation and care.

Prohibition in the United States.

And then, as Carlyle says, "History is philosophy teaching by experience." We might regard the United States in relation to prohibition. There prohibition was carried in sixteen States, and is operating now in five. A very curious record of ups and downs has prohibition had in the great republic to the south of us. In Delaware it was repealed after two years; in Rhode Island, after eleven years. Massachusetts had two trials, one of sixteen years and another of six years, and repealed it. Connecticut repealed it after eighteen years, Michigan twenty years. Iowa has given it two trials, extending over 30 years; Indiana three years, Illinois two and South Dakota eight. So that in the United States it would appear that this move had its ebb and flow. It was sometimes a tidal wave sweeping everything out of its way; then came a reaction. I do not know that these feverish and emotional expressions of opinion are the best, after all, for the welfare of the commonwealth. I would rather have a steady educational process, encroaching inch by inch upon whatever evils we wanted to remove, and holding every inch of the ground, and making the inch of to-day the circumstance and starting-place of to-morrow. I would much rather do this than make a furious onslaught upon an evil, or supposed evil, fancy I had demolished it, and then find shortly afterwards that it had obtained additional vitality, and was thriving perhaps more freely and actively than in its previous state of existence.

that in this matter we should proceed with some deliberation.

Origin of Referendum.

Then I want to spend a few moments in considering the origin of the referendum as a temperance movement. I speak now of the referendum as distinct from the plebiscite. It is said by those who do not like the present party in power that we have invented the referendum to get us out of difficulties. Why, I cannot claim the paternity, the Liberal party cannot claim the paternity, of this measure of reform. The referendum originated in the Senate of the Dominion of Canada. You will find the first expression of approval of this kind of legislation brought down by Mr. Vidal on the 7th day of March, 1875.

I have here the report of the Senate committee, presented by Senator Vidal in 1875. But perhaps I should preface this by saying that in 1874 and 1875 an unusual number of petitions were presented to the House of Commons and to the Senate also asking prohibitory legislation. There were petitions signed by nearly 100,000 individual names, there were petitions from many municipalities, from the Legislatures of the Provinces, one from this Legislature. These petitions were referred to a committee of the House of Commons on one side and a committee of the Senate on the other.

Proposed to Consult the People.

The concluding paragraph of the report is as follows:—"That should the Government not feel satisfied that the indication of public opinion afforded by the numerous petitions presented to Parliament is sufficient to justify the early introduction of such a law, it would be desirable to submit the question to the decision of the people by taking a vote of the electors thereon as soon as practicable."

This was in March, 1875. This view of the proper procedure to take in such cases became somewhat more decisive in time. Members of this House who have followed this question during the last 24 years will remember that in September, 1875, a Dominion convention was held in Montreal, at which there were representatives from all parts of the Dominion, representatives of all churches and from all classes. A few days prior to the meeting of that convention the Ontario Prohibitory League met in Toronto and through its President addressed to the people remarks which I am now going to quote.

The President was Mr. Robert McLean, who said:—"The question of prohibition is one that requires the greatest consideration on the part of any Government, however strong, before deciding to put a prohibitory law on the statute book. It is agreed on all hands that such a law to be effective must have an undoubtedly strong public sentiment in favor of the law and its rigid enforcement. What, then, is the best method of ascertaining what public opinion is on this most important question? Some propose making it a test question at the polls. The experience of the past shows that very little dependence could be placed on the result of such a test. So many side issues would arise regarding men and measures that the question of prohibition would in many cases be lost sight of or be subordinated to some other issue. Others propose that a plebiscite be taken, thus affording each elector an opportunity of saying yea or nay to that question, irrespective of any other question of public policy. This would still leave the law to be passed upon by Parliament, which might or might not be done. The best way"—here is the point—"would be to ask Parliament to pass a stringent prohibitory law at its next session and submit it for the ratification of the electors of the Dominion at the next general election."

Ratification Favored.

Now, this is the origin of the referendum on the question of prohibition, in the form in which we now have it. The convention which met at Montreal consisted of 285 delegates. All classes were represented. The Roman Catholic Bishop of Sherbrooke sent his approval in a letter to Secretary Gales; the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Manitoba also sent a sympathetic letter. Representatives were there from every Province in the Dominion except British Columbia. The convention was in session for several days. A Committee on Resolutions was appointed. This is the resolution adopted by the convention in 1875:—

"That in order that a prohibitory law when passed may have that sympathy and support so indispensably necessary to its success, it is the opinion of this convention that the Dominion Parliament should be urged to enact such a law, subject to ratification by popular vote."

Now, if we are submitting this referendum in this year of grace 1902, we are only doing what the temperance men approved of by the greatest convention ever held in Canada in 1875, and we are therefore acting in good faith, so far as their requests are concerned, in submitting this law. Senator Vidal was President of that convention; I had the honor of being present at it myself. Still further to give light on our action in this Parliament I have the minutes of the Dominion Alliance for 1898-99. The meeting was held in Ottawa. A committee was appointed to draft a resolution for the approval of the council and the representatives of the alliance present there.

The first resolution they recommended was: "An act totally prohibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in any Province adopting such an act by a vote of the duly qualified electors." This was as late as the end of 1899. A committee was appointed to take steps to secure the introduction into Parliament of a resolution along these lines.

The Flint Resolution.

That committee made a report on the 26th of April. The committee perhaps was not very numerous. I do not know many of the members personally. I see the Hon. J. C. Aikins, Senator Vidal, Major Bond, Mr. F. S. Spence were there, a representative from Prince Edward Island, Mr. Jas. McMullen, and others I do not know personally. It was not a very large committee, and I have mentioned most of the members. That committee adopted that mode of procedure, a bill in favor of prohibition to be submitted to the electors. Acting on instructions from that meeting, Mr. Flint, on the 28th of July, in the same year, introduced a motion into the House of Commons, the first two clauses of which I will read:—

"(1) That, subject and except as hereinafter mentioned, the sale of intoxicating liquor in every Province and Territory in Canada should be prohibited.

"(2) That the act prohibiting such sale should not come into force in any Province or Territory unless and until a majority of the qualified electors therein, voting at an election, shall have voted in favor of such act."

In speaking on that resolution, as you will see by referring to Hansard of that date, Mr. Flint said:—"This resolution, as a majority of hon. gentlemen are for many years doing good work in connection with the prohibition of the liquor traffic in Canada." I agree with that too.

"It is the aim of the alliance to represent the general public sentiment of those who believe in a prohibitory liquor law for the whole Dominion as the proper goal towards which citizens favorable to the progress of temperance should labor. I would have much preferred had more time been placed at the disposal of those who sketched out this line of prohibitory effort that it could have been incorporated in a bill. After discussion this resolution was sketched out, and I trust no one will treat it as if it were an attempt at a complete exposition of the case from that standpoint."

The third clause of Mr. Flint's resolution was as follows:—

"(3) That upon such vote in favor of said act being duly certified to the Governor-General in Council such act shall be brought into force in said Province or Territory and shall remain in force therein for four years and thereafter until the same shall have been repealed in said Province or Territory. Such repeal shall not take effect therein until a majority of the qualified electors in such Province or Territory vote for the repeal thereof; the proceedings for such repeal to be similar in all respects to those bringing the act into force."

The Majority Meant.

Mr. Whitney—Is the majority mentioned there a majority of the total qualified voters?

Hon. Mr. Ross—That is a little ambiguous, but I will give it to you as I understand it. It reads a majority of the qualified electors therein, and then the resolution proposing the repeal reads in precisely the same terms:—"The said bill shall not take effect therein until a majority of the qualified electors in such Province or Territory voting at an election shall have voted for the repeal thereof." That does seem grammatically very clear, that Mr. Flint and the Alliance then committed themselves to the majority vote, a vote of the majority of the electors.

Mr. Whitney—In favor of the bill; the repeal would require a larger majority.

Hon. Mr. Ross—A majority of the electors. I am bound to say that in reading the debates on that occasion I observe that one member, I think it was Mr. Bell of Prince Edward Island, referred to the resolution as meaning not a majority of the electors, but a majority of those who voted, but, as I said a moment ago, the resolution appeared to me to mean a majority of the electors.

The Alliance Manifesto.

In following out this the Alliance issued a manifesto to the people of the Province in which they said:—"The legislation proposed in the report of the committee will be a long step in advance. It will enable each Province to secure prohibition of a more thorough and effective kind than could be enacted by a Provincial Legislature. The further voting proposed will be not like the plebiscites already taken, mere expressions of opinion, but actual law-making action bringing prohibition into force by a majority vote in any Province. Voting should be at next general election without any petition."

There the words go "by a majority vote in any Province."

That brings us to the position practically where we are now. If we be charged with acting from political motives and shirking our responsibility we have a pretty good answer in the action of the Alliance and the resolution they adopted. I do not know if this meets the approval of the Alliance or not; perhaps they do not know what we propose. When they do I sincerely trust our course will meet with their approval.

The Government's Pledges.

One thing more in this very discursive address, and I have done. I will go back, if my hon. friend from North Toronto (Mr. Marter) will allow me, to that interesting period in the history of the House when the hon. member brought in a bill known as the Marter bill in 1893. At that time various deputations waited upon the Government and asked for legislation, asked for Provincial prohibition. Sir Oliver Mowat, who was then Premier, was not clear upon the question of jurisdiction. He therefore framed certain questions which were subsequently referred to the Privy Council, and on which the opinion of the Privy Council was afterwards obtained, and I am sorry to say, without any reproach to the Lords of the Privy Council, that I never could quite clearly understand what their decision was. However, the Legislature of Manitoba and also of Prince Edward Island introduced what was known as a Provincial prohibitory law. That of Manitoba has stood the test of the Privy Council, and therefore they acted within their constitutional limitations. Now, going back to 1894, we are confronted with the pledges which the Government are said to have given to the prohibitionists at that time. On the 26th of February, 1894, a large deputation waited upon us. I had the honor of being present as a member of the Government, and we were asked what we were going to do if prohibition would be within the competence of our Provincial Legislature. Sir Oliver Mowat's pledge was, "If the decision of the Privy Council should be that the Province has the jurisdiction to pass a prohibitory liquor law as to sale, I will introduce such a bill at the following session if I am at the head of the Government."

Relation of the Manitoba Bill.

I think we can safely say, I do not think we need at all to exercise any ingenuity or casuistry in saying, that the prohibition bill adopted or passed by Manitoba is not a prohibitory liquor law as to sale, but it does prohibit the sales in hotels and in clubs and in private boarding-houses. It does not prohibit the sale in drug stores, nor to citizens of Manitoba who desire to buy it from outside the Province. I do not think that that pledge of Sir Oliver Mowat's was covered by the Manitoba act. The next pledge is somewhat different: "If the decision of the Privy Council is that the Province has jurisdiction to pass only a partial prohibitory liquor law, I will introduce such a bill as the decision will warrant, unless the partial prohibitory power is so limited as to be ineffective from a temperance standpoint."

Bound by the Pledges.

It would be unworthy of me to attempt by any verbal or technical or metaphysical distinction to explain away the force of that pledge. I think I could make out a very strong case that some features, at all events, of the Manitoba law would not be effective from a temperance standpoint. The public estimate, however, or appraisement of that pledge, was that whatever Manitoba would do we would do, and I would rather take the responsibility of redeeming the pledge in that frank and open way, in which it was accepted by the public, than attempt by any word of mine to explain it away. We took the public into our confidence, and stated thus and so, and the public understood that in this matter we should proceed with some deliberation.

Origin of Referendum.

Then I want to spend a few moments in considering the origin of the referendum as a temperance movement. I speak now of the referendum as distinct from the plebiscite. It is said by those who do not like the present party in power that we have invented the referendum to get us out of difficulties. Why, I cannot claim the paternity, the Liberal party cannot claim the paternity, of this measure of reform. The referendum originated in the Senate of the Dominion of Canada. You will find the first expression of approval of this kind of legislation brought down by Mr. Vidal on the 7th day of March, 1875.

I have here the report of the Senate committee, presented by Senator Vidal in 1875. But perhaps I should preface this by saying that in 1874 and 1875 an unusual number of petitions were presented to the House of Commons and to the Senate also asking prohibitory legislation. There were petitions signed by nearly 100,000 individual names, there were petitions from many municipalities, from the Legislatures of the Provinces, one from this Legislature. These petitions were referred to a committee of the House of Commons on one side and a committee of the Senate on the other.

Proposed to Consult the People.

The concluding paragraph of the report is as follows:—"That should the Government not feel satisfied that the indication of public opinion afforded by the numerous petitions presented to Parliament is sufficient to justify the early introduction of such a law, it would be desirable to submit the question to the decision of the people by taking a vote of the electors thereon as soon as practicable."

This was in March, 1875. This view of the proper procedure to take in such cases became somewhat more decisive in time. Members of this House who have followed this question during the last 24 years will remember that in September, 1875, a Dominion convention was held in Montreal, at which there were representatives from all parts of the Dominion, representatives of all churches and from all classes. A few days prior to the meeting of that convention the Ontario Prohibitory League met in Toronto and through its President addressed to the people remarks which I am now going to quote.

The President was Mr. Robert McLean, who said:—"The question of prohibition is one that requires the greatest consideration on the part of any Government, however strong, before deciding to put a prohibitory law on the statute book. It is agreed on all hands that such a law to be effective must have an undoubtedly strong public sentiment in favor of the law and its rigid enforcement. What, then, is the best method of ascertaining what public opinion is on this most important question? Some propose making it a test question at the polls. The experience of the past shows that very little dependence could be placed on the result of such a test. So many side issues would arise regarding men and measures that the question of prohibition would in many cases be lost sight of or be subordinated to some other issue. Others propose that a plebiscite be taken, thus affording each elector an opportunity of saying yea or nay to that question, irrespective of any other question of public policy. This would still leave the law to be passed upon by Parliament, which might or might not be done. The best way"—here is the point—"would be to ask Parliament to pass a stringent prohibitory law at its next session and submit it for the ratification of the electors of the Dominion at the next general election."

Ratification Favored.

Now, this is the origin of the referendum on the question of prohibition, in the form in which we now have it. The convention which met at Montreal consisted of 285 delegates. All classes were represented. The Roman Catholic Bishop of Sherbrooke sent his approval in a letter to Secretary Gales; the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Manitoba also sent a sympathetic letter. Representatives were there from every Province in the Dominion except British Columbia. The convention was in session for several days. A Committee on Resolutions was appointed. This is the resolution adopted by the convention in 1875:—

"That in order that a prohibitory law when passed may have that sympathy and support so indispensably necessary to its success, it is the opinion of this convention that the Dominion Parliament should be urged to enact such a law, subject to ratification by popular vote."

Now, if we are submitting this referendum in this year of grace 1902, we are only doing what the temperance men approved of by the greatest convention ever held in Canada in 1875, and we are therefore acting in good faith, so far as their requests are concerned, in submitting this law. Senator Vidal was President of that convention; I had the honor of being present at it myself. Still further to give light on our action in this Parliament I have the minutes of the Dominion Alliance for 1898-99. The meeting was held in Ottawa. A committee was appointed to draft a resolution for the approval of the council and the representatives of the alliance present there.

The first resolution they recommended was: "An act totally prohibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in any Province adopting such an act by a vote of the duly qualified electors." This was as late as the end of 1899. A committee was appointed to take steps to secure the introduction into Parliament of a resolution along these lines.

The Flint Resolution.

That committee made a report on the 26th of April. The committee perhaps was not very numerous. I do not know many of the members personally. I see the Hon. J. C. Aikins, Senator Vidal, Major Bond, Mr. F. S. Spence were there, a representative from Prince Edward Island, Mr. Jas. McMullen, and others I do not know personally. In speaking on that resolution, as you will see by referring to Hansard of that date, Mr. Flint said:—"This resolution, as a majority of hon. gentlemen are would do likewise, when it was shown to be within our constitutional limitation, acting on and fulfilling that pledge to its very letter, without any reservation or misgivings either way. But some will say this is not a fulfilment of our pledge, to introduce a bill and refer it to the people for approval, and that we should introduce the bill on our responsibility as a Government, and, in the heroic language of our opponents, "stand or fall by it." I do not know what Sir Oliver Mowat had in his mind, whether he proposed introducing the bill on his responsibility as Premier. I cannot attempt to say what was in his mind.

Change in Public Sentiment.

Public opinion at that time was particularly active on the subject of temperance. I do not want to apologize if it be said that we have shifted our ground from Sir Oliver Mowat's time, that is, within the last eight or nine years. Everybody will admit that temperance sentiment in Ontario is not as intense, as deep and as strong as it was then. In 1894, when the first plebiscite was taken, the majority for prohibition was 80,000. In 1898, at the second plebiscite, it was under 40,000, a great falling off in these four years. I hope there is no further falling off in that sentiment which makes for temperance and sobriety; and without seeking to justify my action by what I think everybody will admit is a change in public opinion, a change which is widespread. I take the strongest ground, and I shall take it as original ground, that the wisest thing for the temperance men and the wisest action for the public men of this country is to let the people judge between them as to what is the state of public opinion on this question.

The Later Pledges.

That is what I propose to do, and I do that assuming, as I do, to a certain extent, full responsibility, or a certain measure of responsibility, for the promises which Sir Oliver Mowat made, promises which were assumed by Mr. Hardy in March, 1897, when he said:—"We take the responsibility; we were parties to that pledge. We were parties to drawing the declaration, and we stand by it, and we will not be driven from it because people tell us in a moment—I think sometimes of recklessness—that we have violated our pledge."

That is what he said in March, 1897. I stated to a deputation which waited on the Government since I had the honor of becoming Premier that I would not recede from the position taken by my predecessors on this question. I further said to a deputation on March 31st, 1901, that the Government were always prepared to go as far as the law would allow, and I had not receded from that position. A week later I said to a deputation representing the Methodist Church:—"You know what our past record has been, what our predecessors have agreed to, and what is the general policy of the Government upon that question. That need not be repeated over and over again, because you know exactly where we stand. We stand where we always stood."

We promised in 1894 that we would go to the full extent of our constitutional limitations, and, as I said a moment ago, —the House will pardon the repetition— I am assuming that that promise implied a responsibility on the leader of the Government following Sir Oliver Mowat.

The People the Judges.

We have not receded from the substance of that. We are doing in substance what Sir Oliver Mowat would have done in 1894 if we introduce a bill to the full extent of our constitutional limitations, and we are going to ask the people to accept the substance of our constitutional limitations as our pledge and our duty to the country. We are asking the country to consider and review the position taken in 1894, and to see whether at this moment, or when this bill will be submitted, the sentiment of the country is that it will be effective. I am aware that we shall be censured by some hon. gentlemen opposite for the course we have taken, and I can anticipate what some of the hon. gentlemen and some sections of the press will say. Well, I have no misgivings about that. Henry Clay said, "I would rather be right than President," and I would much rather submit the bill under considerations that would give us an honest expression of opinion than introduce it under conditions with a view to securing a "snatch" vote. It is under these circumstances that we cast the responsibility of legislation of this kind on the people, and if they are capable of saying who shall occupy seats in this House they are capable of judging as to what is the right course in a matter of this kind.

Not Another Plebiscite.

I do not agree with the view that this referendum is another plebiscite. The first plebiscite was a much more comprehensive expression of opinion than is involved in this bill. By the act of 1893 the question which was submitted was as follows:—"Are you in favor of the prohibition by the competent authority of the importation, manufacture and sale, as a beverage, of intoxicating liquors into or within the Province of Ontario?" That was the clause of the act on which the vote was taken, and the ballot on which each elector voted contained this question:—"Are you in favor of the immediate prohibition by law of the importation, manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage?" This plebiscite, which provided for the immediate prohibition by law of the importation, manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, was a sweeping law indeed, but the Dominion plebiscite of 1898 was, if anything, a little stronger. Clause 3 of the Dominion act reads:—"Are you in favor of an act prohibiting the importation, manufacture or sale of spirits, wine, ale, beer, cider and all other alcoholic liquors for use as a beverage?" We should have had a dry time indeed if beer and cider, and all other liquid refreshments were prohibited. The ballot on that occasion read:—"Are you in favor of the passing of an act prohibiting the importation, manufacture or sale of spirits, wine, ale, beer, cider, and all other alcoholic liquors for use as beverages?"

A Straight Question.

Now you will see that we voted in those two plebiscites on a much broader question than we have a right to cover by the bill which we are now bringing down. We were voting then upon a question, and everybody construed into the ballot his own thought as to what prohibition might be and what it involved. We are not now voting on a question at all. Massachusetts once voted on woman's suffrage. New York voted on the question of prison labor. We voted once, in Toronto, on the question of Sunday labor. These are questions different from by-laws. The referendum involves the submission of an act. We are submitting an act which, if it passes the House, will become law under certain conditions. The fact that we have taken two plebiscites on an abstract question does not in any way affect our voting for a bill which contains the means of its tions so far as the liquor traffic is concerned. We propose that the referendum shall be based on Parliamentary franchise, that is, we are going to say that those who are qualified to send members to the Legislature are qualified to say whether prohibition is, in their opinion, a desirable social condition, or otherwise. It has been said, in some cases, that it would be better if the vote was taken on a municipal franchise, but we rather prefer keeping within the lines that control the action of this Legislative Assembly.

The Question of Majority.

The next point we have to consider, and one of the most difficult ones, is the majority on which it should be made operative. I say, without hesitation, that I favor very strongly the majority of electors on the voters' lists. That is a majority of the whole people. But there are some practical difficulties in carrying it out which we have to consider. If you take the list of qualified voters and say that the majority of these shall make a prohibitory law, there is still a considerable number of absentees whose vote cannot be registered. Many people have died in the meantime also, and that mode is, to a certain extent, handicapped. You cannot take a majority of voters on the list, although this is a question, largely, for the whole people, I mean for the whole voting people, and the more electors who come out and express an opinion the better. It has been suggested, therefore, and the weight of opinion is greatly in favor of it, that there should be a large majority, that we should take some percentage. You will have noticed in the opinions that I have read that Sir Leonard Tilley favored three-fifths of a majority, and that is a large majority. You will have seen from the newspapers, and by the opinions of several clergymen and other leading men, that three-fifths and two-fifths and other majorities are spoken of, and all the religious papers are in favor of a substantial majority. There seems to be, therefore, in the air, and in all circles, a feeling that if this law is going to be efficient it should have something stronger to back it than was the case in the Scott act, which had only a bare majority. The opinion as regards a three-fifths majority is a basis for which something can be said, and against which some objections can be made. It may involve but a small expression of public opinion. In 1894 only 57 per cent. of the vote was polled, and only 46 in 1898. Any expression limited in its area, or any vote that does not give a large enough majority to insure of the law being observed, will not be a sufficient mandate to the Legislature to put that law into operation.

The Majority Required.

We were, therefore, obliged to abandon the idea entertained at one time of a majority of three-fifths, and we ultimately settled down to this view—that the vote should be based upon a majority of those who in the next general election elected the Parliament of the Province of Ontario. Let me be concrete. We usually poll 400,000 votes in a Provincial election; we may poll 440,000. In a keen contest it runs from 72 to 75 per cent., and in some cases over 75 per cent., but very seldom 80 per cent. If more than one-half of those who make this House, and who make and unmake political parties in this House and country, vote in favor of a prohibitory liquor law, then a prohibitory liquor law will be enacted. That is the view we have finally settled upon. Thus we will make the majority of the electorate rule. We let the majority of the electors rule in a question of this kind, and we say with the utmost frankness that if we can trust the people of this country to change the complexion of this House by a majority vote, we can trust the majority of the people to change the social order of things. The majority of people in the United States make or unmake a President; a majority of people in the United Kingdom make or unmake the Government. Governments are important, and Presidents are important, but it is more important for the moral well-being of this country that we should not by the legislation of a small portion of the people put on the statute book a prohibitory law which in a short time will be repealed, and behind which there was not a sufficient public opinion, and which will so discredit the temperance movement that it will not rally for twenty or twenty-five years. We are greatly impressed with this view of the question, which has been strongly represented to us, that a bare majority should carry. A bare majority in a case of this kind is a very different thing to a bare majority even in the election of members of this House. It is a very different question. It will create a condition of things which will affect in this Province some $30,000,000 or $40,000,000 worth of property, which will affect the occupation of ten, fifteen or even twenty thousand people. It will affect the varied industries dependent upon the trade of intoxicating liquors for their existence. I do not say it is revolutionary; that is too strong a word, but it would be such a charge in so many various occupations and callings, and it would so antagonize those who would be materially affected therewith, in the first place, that unless the majority at its back is strong, it would go under as the Scott act went under, as the liquor act went under in the Province of New Brunswick, where it carried practically by a two-thirds vote. I do not like trying experiments in legislation. I do not like what is commonly called "backing and filling."

Wise Government Will Consider.

I think a wise Government and a wise Legislature will resolutely and with purpose sit down and consider whether it is putting its hand to what is going to be effective or what it desires, and with the same earnestness as I speak to you, sir, I say to the people of the country that never in the history of the Province of Ontario, so far as the question of prohibition is concerned, should they more seriously consider the step they are taking, not simply because it is going to be a restraining influence, presumably upon the liquor traffic, but to see whether the step they are going to take is one which they will not be obliged to retrace subsequently in a few years. Nothing has been more ruinous in certain places to the progress of temperance reform than the accidents which have befallen the result of temperance legislation in cities, towns and counties. We want to guard against those accidents, but I think it is a most reasonable thing that if a majority of the people of this Province say the time is ripe for prohibition they should be allowed prohibition.

Date of Voting.

We next propose, that the voting shall be held separate from the municipal election, and from the Provincial or Federal election. We have fixed in the act the second Tuesday in October as the day for taking the vote, assuming, of course, that the election to this House will take place in the meantime. At that time we will know how many votes were polled in the Provincial election, and when the returns are in we will know how much of a majority is think we should not do this, and hold the election upon a municipal election. Now, I do not want to furnish any excuse for myself in going to the polls to vote for prohibition, and what I do not ask for myself I give to no other. I do not want a person to excuse himself going to the polls to vote for prohibition simply because he is going to vote on a municipal election. We say our Provincial elections to this House are solemn and important occasions. It is a solemn point to say who will be our legislators for the next four years, and it is even a more solemn thing for the people of Ontario to say what shall be the policy of the Province of Ontario for the next four years, or, it may be, for the next forty years, for all I know. To mix up that act with the election to the municipal Council would be to weaken the force of the act, would be to weaken the responsibility of the elector, would be to dim the judicial state of mind in which he should be when he went to the ballot-box in order to discharge that duty to the State. I do not think, I do not entertain for one moment, the suggestion that the elector should not be put to this trouble. I have voted for most of the plebiscites. It took ten minutes of my time in each case. I voted for the Scott act and took the platform on its behalf for a week, and did not begrudge the time. Any temperance man who will begrudge the time in going to the polls to vote for prohibition will be of very little use in enforcing prohibition should it become operative. What we want is earnest, strenuous men. It is the time for strenuous men, as Roosevelt would say. It is time for men to have a little heart-searching, and see if this is going to be effective, and, if so, they will go to any amount of trouble in order to record their vote, and do so without any hesitation. And so we name the day in the act now, so that those who wish to consider what they are going to do will have ample time to ponder on this thing.

Mr. Whitney—What course will you pursue in the case of an election by acclamation?

Mr. Ross—In the case of an election by acclamation, when the percentage is struck for the whole Province, if there is, say, 75 per cent. of the votes polled, then 75 per cent. will hold where there has been an election by acclamation.

The Question of Revenue.

There are two other considerations which I will submit to the House in a few words. This bill not only involves serious changes in the operation of the business of a great many people, and a change perhaps in the social organization of many families, but it also means a substantial loss of revenue. I have always taken the ground that we should never consider loss of revenue as against the moral advantages of prohibition and temperance where they were in force. I have said so years ago. I have said so in the House of Commons. I say so now, that if it is a matter of choice between the loss of revenue and the evil consequences to flow from intoxicating liquors, we could very well afford to give up the revenue, providing the evil consequences of intemperance could be prevented. That is the only judgment I have had, and yet we must not be blind to the fact that there will be a substantial loss of revenue. The Province receives between the municipalities and the Provincial treasury a revenue of about $700,000 in tavern and shop licenses, and the licenses on distilleries and breweries. That is not very much. We received only $376,000. We could adjust our finances to that loss without much difficulty. No doubt the municipalities could adjust their accounts to the loss they would suffer. I mention this as one of the points to be considered in coming to a decision as to what should be done.

Question of Compensation.

Then there is the larger question of compensation. It has been said that any legislation dealing with the prohibition of the liquor traffic would not be just without compensation to those whose business is affected. The bill does not deal with this phase of the question, as it would be needless to provide the machinery for such purposes until the bill had passed. Some of England's greatest statesmen, Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Chamberlain, expressed their approval of the principle of compensation. My own view, as expressed on several occasions and many years ago, is, if we could be entirely relieved for all time of the evil effects of the liquor traffic, the purchase of the v

A FOOLISH PROPOSAL.

It is surprising to notice that some temperance men suggest absenting themselves from the polls at the next general election in order that the total vote may be reduced, and in this way make it easier for the prohibitionists to obtain a majority when the vote is taken on the referendum in October. The object of the bill—an object approved by many of the best men in the Province, as well as by the religious press—is to get a full and preponderating expression of opinion on the question of prohibition. If the temperance men desire a victory for prohibition that will be effective, instead of by an artifice such as the one proposed, preventing a large vote at the next general election, they will aid the object of the Government in getting a full expression of opinion, and at the same time discourage a form of procedure which, to say the least, cannot be justified on high grounds, leaving out of the question entirely the interests of the temperance cause. It would be easy for the Government, and we have no idea what its intention is, to defeat this by providing that should the vote at the next general election be smaller than the vote cast in 1898, then the basis of the referendum should be the vote of 1898. We have no idea that the Government intend taking such a course, but it would be perfectly legitimate for it to do so if there was any attempt to prevent the obtaining of a full expression of opinion by the method suggested in some quarters.

THE TEXT-BOOK QUESTION.

Col. Matheson has reason to resent the report of the Text-book Commission of 1898. That report laughed out of court his ridiculous advocacy of the Irish national readers. The unusual bitterness of Mr. Whitney's attack upon the commission is also readily understood. He had intended to make school books a chief plank in the elections of 1898. This plank was as wide as the Province itself; its limits were so vague that its true outlines could readily be concealed in a cloud of glittering and plausible arguments. But the report of the commission swept the plank from under him. General statements, plausible conclusions, vehement accusations—all these fell away in the presence of the clear-cut and impartial decisions of the commissioners. These decisions said that the retail prices of the school books were "not excessive and should not be reduced to any lower prices," and that both in the price and quality of these books "the public had nothing to complain of." The Ontario method of authorization, they also said, "has worked admirably," and it "would not be in the public interest to abandon the system of royalty." Moreover, they added, "an admirable selection of text-books is obtainable in Ontario as cheaply as in England or the United States, and in many instances at much less cost," and the contracts for publication contain such provisions "that there cannot be a monopoly."

The elections of 1902 are before him, and Mr. Whitney is once more collecting his planks. He would rejoice to unearth the old text-book plank, but it lies buried under the commission's report. It is natural, then, that he should pour out his bitterness upon the commission. He charges that it was improperly appointed and improperly constituted. And yet it was duly appointed by order in Council, and in personnel it was unobjectionable. Judge Morgan brought to the commission his legal and judicial training, as well as his experience as a member of a similar commission in 1889. Mr. James Bain, in addition to his experience as a commissioner in many similar investigations, gave to the commission his unsurpassed knowledge of books and their values. Mr. Blackett Robinson, the third commissioner, represented the practical wisdom of a lifelong publisher. A better classified commission could not be devised. The fairness or impartiality of such a commission could not be questioned.

Mr. Whitney charges further that the commission was unfairly conducted. It is true that the representatives of the press were not admitted to its sessions. The publishers of Toronto submitted their account books to the commission, and revealed under oath the nature and extent of their business transactions. Was it unfair to exclude the press and the public? The sittings themselves were not a secret to the Toronto press. The proceedings were not hurried or incomplete. Twenty-one sessions were held, and the counsel for the commissioners and the publishers, Messrs. Rowell and Nesbitt, were in their methods searching and impartial. The witnesses were experts, as they should be in such technical matters as the making of books. Twenty witnesses were examined as to the cost of the text-books. Several of these witnesses were members of the publishing houses concerned in the inquiry—necessarily so. But they were examined by able counsel and under oath, and their evidence was verified by a personal examination of their account books. One-half of the witnesses on the cost of the text-books were representatives of the printing, publishing and paper-making firms of the city, in no wise connected with the publishing houses interested in the inquiry. Ten witnesses were examined as to the system of royalty, and one-half of these represented editors and one-half publishers. Four university professors of English, representatives of the four universities of Toronto, gave evidence as to the literary quality of the text-books. What more could Mr. Whitney ask? Could it be that he resents the omission to call Col. Matheson or himself as a witness?

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT OF THE FUTURE.

Ontario is a fortunate Province in more respects than one. In geographical situation the middle link in the chain of Provinces, in climatic conditions that produce strong types of men and a wide range of natural products, and in a population largely of British extraction, with the cream of other nationalities represented, Ontario is still entitled to her claim as the banner member of the confederated family.

None the less fortunate has the Province been in the men who have controlled her destinies during the thirty-five years since confederation; indeed, they have been typical, in their intelligence, probity and statesmanship, of her manhood. The thirty members who have belonged to the various Provincial Cabinets in Ontario since 1867 form an honor roll of citizens of whom any country might well be proud; men whose characters have survived the storm and stress of party warfare, men who served their country well and truly, men who did not betray their positions of public trust for personal aggrandisement.

As a natural sequence of such disinterested and capable service on the part of those who gave their best thought and energy to Provincial problems, Ontario has—as is universally acknowledged—attained a proud position among her sister Provinces. She is a pioneer and leader in municipal development, in educational expansion, in advanced agricultural methods, and in the exploitation of her rich heritage in natural resources.

A few months hence the electorate will, for the tenth time in their Provincial history, select their representatives for another legislative term, and through them the Cabinet to conduct the affairs of government. The opportunity is an important one, the trust a sacred one, and the voice of the ballot thus expressed may mean much for the continued prosperity and good government of the Province.

Thus the Ross Government will place their record before the people. An honorable record it has been, a record of strong men serving in administrative capacities, a record of progress, a record in which the high traditions of Liberal government in the past have been fully maintained. We believe the voters of Ontario will say that the present Cabinet deserve continued confidence on their record alone. But there is another, and possibly a stronger, reason why they should be sustained at the polls—the reason of the future. Never in the history of the Province—creditable as that history has been—has it been so essential to retain a strong, representative and experienced Cabinet in power, having in view the possibilities of the immediate future. Never has the future looked so bright to Ontario on the lines of internal development and material prosperity. The Governmental motto, "Build up Ontario," calls for the best thought, the best energies, of the Premier and his Ministers, and as men of proved experience in municipal, legislative and administrative life, they are the best qualified to still further add to the commendable record of the past.

What of Ontario's future? With only one-sixth of its area having passed from the possession of the Crown, an empire in itself remains to be developed. A hundred million acres remain in the Crown, with what untold wealth and possibilities of development who can predict? New streams of settlement are pouring into the rich valleys of the Provincial northland; new centres of civilization are springing up; new markets are being prepared for commerce. And sympathetically with this northward and westward expansion within Provincial boundaries the railways are extending their lines of steel, highways are being created to take the place of the blazed path through the forest, nature's rich reserve of waterpower is beginning to be utilized, and the schoolhouse and church—the twin adjuncts of civilization—are springing up side by side with the home of the pioneer. Able, honest, courageous administrators will still be needed to direct these great energies and to assist in and control the foundation-laying of new counties and cities.

We are undoubtedly on the eve of great expansion in our natural resources. Never before has Ontario's mineral wealth attracted so much attention from men of capital and expert mineral knowledge. Much may result, for example, from the deep interest recently shown in the Sudbury district by Thomas A. Edison, who has expressed himself as greatly pleased with the examinations there made on his behalf. Scarce a month passes but fresh indications of mineral wealth are discovered. Strong men are still needed to legislate wisely regarding this department of Provincial wealth.

We are, moreover, on the eve of even greater development in connection with the pulpwood industry. Another decade will see many new mills at work, employing an army of men and attracting more capital to our northern pulpwood regions. Under the wise regulation requiring the manufacture of pulp within the Province, and in view of our vast storehouses of the necessary woods for that purpose, Ontario may soon become the great paper supply depot of America, if not of the world. Able administration of this branch of activity will still be called for.

The exploratory surveys of 1900 further revealed the immense possibilities of new Ontario between the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway and James Bay, representing a vast region yet untrodden by other than a chance voyageur or explorer. It was found to contain extensive forests of pulpwoods and white pine, great natural playgrounds of lake and island, and mighty rivers with waterpower almost beyond computation. The area includes one immense forest reserve and suitable areas for others. Far-seeing men are still necessary for the gradual utilization of all these evidences of additional Provincial wealth.

The vision of Ontario's future is a vision for today. The men of the present generation are entitled to go in and take possession of this new northern domain, and the outlook is one that may well thrill with its bright possibilities. Inspiring as has been our thirty-five years of growth, the coming span of years of equal length will witness an enlargement and development that warrants a high optimism. Much depends, however, on Governmental management—on the men upon whom will fall the task of safeguarding our rich heritage, of dealing with the problems of expansion with a statesmanlike breadth of view that will produce the best results for the people.

Who, then, are best qualified for the important task? Men who have had no experience in departmental administration or in drafting legislation to meet the needs of the times—men who, indeed, have opposed nearly every move for the exploitation and progress of the Province, or men who have already served the Province faithfully and well, who have inaugurated many of the forward movements in recent years, and are therefore best qualified to carry them through to a satisfactory completion?

We have no fear of the result at the polls; it will be a mandate to Premier Ross and his colleagues: Continue the good work, build up Ontario, see that the Province retains its lead in this growing Dominion.

BRINGING IN THE LIQUOR ACT.

The handsome chamber in which the deliberations of the Provincial law-givers are held has seldom shown to better advantage than it did when the Premier got up to move the first reading of "An act respecting the sale of intoxicating liquors in the Province of Ontario," as the title ran. Every seat was filled long before Mr. Speaker took the chair, standing-room was at a premium, and as many more were outside seeking to get in. On the floor a favored few had secured seats, and almost trespassed on the sacred space defined by the position of the bar. Hon. Mr. Ross' speech in introducing the act naturally divided itself into four parts, namely, (1) the position of the temperance movement in the Province; (2) the necessity of ascertaining public opinion as to it, a defence of the referendum as a means of doing so, and drawing the distinction between a plebiscite and a referendum; (3) the desirability of having what would be regarded as a decisive expression of public opinion in its favor before attempting to bring such a measure into operation, and (4) the position of himself and his predecessors as fixed by the pledges they had given.

Only the merest skeleton can be given in these limits of a closely-reasoned speech which occupied over two hours in delivery, and no one interested in the question should fail to read the arguments which appear elsewhere, by which the Premier supported his contentions. He began by pointing out the progress that had been made under license laws towards the goal at which they aimed. The trend had been steadily in favor of greater and greater restriction ever since the adoption of the Crooks act in 1875. How these restrictions had operated was best exemplified by the fact that whereas there were 6,185 licenses in the Province in 1875, there were but 2,950 in 1901. In 1875 there was one license for every 217 persons; in 1901, one for every 700 persons. There were 141 municipalities in the Province to-day in which there was not a single tavern license, 438 in which there was one, or not more than two, and 625 in which there was not a single shop license. He compared the convictions for drunkenness in the various Provinces, and drew the conclusion, so far as statistics could settle such a thing, that Ontario was the most temperate Province in the Dominion. The progress had been continuous. In 1897 further restrictive measures had been put on the statute book, which had resulted in the number of licenses being reduced by more than 150. They had by no means reached a finality, and further legislation in that direction would have been brought before the House but for the larger question raised by the Manitoba act. It was a case where the greater eclipsed the lesser, and it was deemed not advisable to proceed any further with license measures until they ascertained the will of the people with respect to the greater measure of restriction.

They had therefore determined to ascertain the feeling of the electorate with respect to a measure identical with the Manitoba act. Prohibition had never been a party question. No party in the Dominion had ever adopted it as a part of its platform. In determining to submit it to the people they were being charged with merely shirking the question; and that that method was un-British and unconstitutional. Early in last December he had communicated with Sir John Bourinot, admittedly the greatest constitutional authority in the Dominion, as to what his views were with respect to a referendum. Sir John had taken the trouble to send an extended opinion, the conclusion being that the referendum was not inconsistent with sound constitutional British procedure. Mr. Bourinot quoted a number of high authorities in support of his own view, and cited the principle in the new Australian constitution, which provides for a reference to the popular vote whenever a deadlock ensues between the Commons and Senate. The Premier also quoted a favorable opinion from Lord Salisbury on the referendum principle. "I believe," said Lord Salisbury, "that nothing could oppose a bulwark to popular passion except an arrangement for deliberate and careful reference of any matter in dispute to the votes of the people, like the arrangements existing in the United States and Switzerland." He also quoted endorsations of the referendum principle from Prof. Lecky, the eminent historian; J. St. Loe Strachey, editor of The London Spectator; Frances Willard, and others. Mr. Ross showed unmistakably that he is not to be frightened from considering anything that promises political improvement, because someone for a temporary purpose calls bad names after it. The referendum, with regard to the particular class of questions to which it was proposed now to apply it, needed no defence, because there were precedents for it on every hand—precedents in the Dominion and in the Provinces and in the municipalities—so that it might be said that the bringing into operation of anything of the nature of a prohibitory law had invariably been done by a popular vote. He mentioned the many instances where it is employed in municipalities on money by-laws and popular votes of various kinds. For himself, he had confidence in submitting such a measure as he was now introducing to the calm, judicial thought of the people.

Coming to the question of what majority should be efficacious to make the measure law, he was again able to appeal to a wealth of precedents. He was able to quote such middle-of-the-road prohibitionists as Senator Vidal, for some years President of the Dominion Alliance, and Sir Leonard Tilley in this regard. The former, speaking as a prohibitionist in the Senate, was quite prepared to accept the condition that prohibition should only be made operative when it was shown that there was a large majority in its favor. Sir Leonard Tilley said in 1884 this majority should be three-fifths of those voting. The great weakness of the Scott act was that it could be put in operation by a mere majority of the votes cast. He quoted from Mr. Foster's speech in the House of Commons that prohibition could only be successfully enforced when there was shown to be a preponderating and active majority in the country in its favor, and that the man who would attempt to enforce it under any other condition would not be a true friend of prohibition. Mr. Ross recited what had been the fate of the Dunkin and Scott acts, something that no one needs to be told. Mr. Flint, the leader of the prohibitionists in the Dominion Parliament, in a resolution made there a few years ago, stipulated that prohibition should not be enforced unless a majority of the qualified electors voted for it. In regard to the pledges given by Sir Oliver Mowat, he reminded them of the language of them. There were two. The first expressed Sir Oliver's readiness to give prohibition if it were shown that they had power to stop the sale of liquor in Ontario. It was arguable that this measure, which had run the gauntlet of the Privy Council, did not prohibit sale. The language of the second pledge was that he would give the Province a prohibitory law unless the powers that they were shown to have could only enable them to pass a measure which would fail to be effective from a temperance standpoint. These were the pledges which both Mr. Hardy and himself had also subscribed to, and which he was now carrying out by submitting a measure for the approval of the electors, which the highest authorities had decided was within the competence of the Legislature. If the electors stamped it with their approval, he further pledged himself to put it in operation. He would rather get an honest, unbiassed opinion in this way than attempt to snatch a political advantage, as might be done. He distinguished between a referendum and a plebiscite. The latter was a vote on an abstract question; the referendum was a vote on a practical measure, the terms of which were known, and which would go into operation when the conditions attached to it were fulfilled.

Mr. Ross then dealt with the important question as to what majority would be necessary to give effect to the bill. They had carefully considered the precedents which they had had before them, but finally reached the conclusion that the electoral lists on which the general election would be held would be the lists to be used at a special election taking place on the 14th of October next, and that the number of votes cast at the general election would be the basis upon which the majority would be calculated. To illustrate: If 400,000 votes are recorded at the general election, it will require 200,001 votes at least to carry prohibition at the special election to be held subsequently in October. He briefly referred to compensation, intimating that it was a subject they would have to consider from every point of view when the people had decided that the traffic must go.

VIEWS UPON THE BILL.

LEADERS OF THOUGHT EXPRESS THEIR VIEWS.

Generally Speaking, They Are Favorable to the Terms Contained in the Measure Respecting the Referendum.

Not a few of the leaders of religious thought have given expression to their views on the bill submitted by the Premier. Among the interviews given were the following:—

Rev. Dr. Potts:—"I am not a member of the Temperance Committee of our church, but personally and for myself I wish to say that I am greatly pleased with Mr. Ross' presentation of the prohibition question in the Legislature Wednesday. It seems to me that every fair minded prohibitionist should be satisfied and that temperance people who are not prohibitionists should be induced to support the bill presented by the Premier Wednesday. This is the golden opportunity to have prohibition in the Province of Ontario, as far as the bill grants prohibition, and there should be a united effort to record a large majority vote on the 14th of October."

Chancellor Burwash of Victoria University said:—"I think it is the wisest course the Government could have taken. You cannot legislate against public opinion. Unlike the plebiscite, the referendum is on a definite measure. It is for the temperance people now to work hard for their cause. It is a big question, and there is enough for all of us to do in the time given."

Rev. J. F. Ockley, President of the Toronto Methodist Conference, said:—"I believed in a referendum from the beginning, and I think the vote Mr. Ross asks for is nothing but reasonable. In fact, it is better than I expected."

Favors the Referendum.

Principal Caven of Knox College said: "The temperance movement has for a long time been tending towards prohibition, and the people have, I think, a right now to pronounce upon it. It can hardly be expected, however, that any perfect measure can be presented to them at present. The way is now open for any complete measure such as the Dominion could enact. I am in favor of the referendum, but if the object of the Government is to shirk responsibility, I would join with the others in condemning it. On a matter which so deeply enters into the social and business life of the people they have a right to be specially consulted. A plebiscite on the abstract question of prohibition is not the same thing as a vote of the people on the actual measure now submitted. There should be, I think, a strong majority—a majority, I should say, of the possible voters, or three-fifths of those actually voting. I should not like to see it smaller."

Mr. Maclaren's Views.

J. J. Maclaren, K.C., expressed the opinion that the referendum is quite constitutional, though it may not be quite in consonance with our party system, which directly fixes responsibility upon the party in power. Mr. Maclaren said the referendum had been variously regarded. It was held to be un-British in some quarters. Again, there were those who said it was unconstitutional. He did not hold with this view. The referendum was quite constitutional, but it, perhaps, hardly answered to our party system. Our party system fixed responsibility. The party in power were responsible to the people. The referendum might be objected to on the score that it seemed to lessen responsibility. That was to say, the men in power could throw at any time, though they had been elected by the will of the people, the burden of responsibility off their shoulders, and propose the referendum.

Asked if the referendum was a dodge on the part of the Government, or illustrated a genuine desire to ascertain the will of the people, Mr. Maclaren said it was wholly a matter of the kind of political spectacles through which you looked at the motive. Some said it was an evasion, others that it was perfectly reasonable that the people should be asked in a solemn manner to declare their will, for while they had affirmed the principle of prohibition, and had voted for prohibition for the Dominion, they had yet to vote upon the concrete question of prohibition for the Province of Ontario. Mr. Maclaren said he recommended his temperance friends not to oppose the referendum, for that would be a dissipation of strength which would all be needed in the bringing forward the largest possible vote on the question itself.

Favored a Majority Vote.

As to the percentage of majority, Mr. Maclaren had advocated that the temperance people should pin their faith to a majority of the votes cast. Some had said two-thirds, others had asked for a majority showing sixty per cent., and the Government, he now observed, had asked for a majority of the votes polled at the last Provincial election. He had not had time to consider the effect of this upon the temperance vote, but he was not disturbed by it. He had been in favor of a majority of the votes cast, because he knew well enough that no Government which had been elected on a bare majority could withstand the force of a majority polled in favor of prohibition. There might be certain questions confined to small areas of operation in regard to which you might demand a two-thirds vote, but the question affected the whole Province, and a majority vote would be found to be irresistible. Some prominent persons, both clerical and lay, had been calling for two-thirds and sixty per cent., which he thought to be very unwise. It was like giving the temperance case away.

He would not commit himself in regard to the new proposal of the Government that there should be a majority of the votes cast at the last Provincial election. Regarding compensation, Mr. Maclaren said that it was absurd to talk of it, as the people in the business had received forty years' warning. Mr. Maclaren thought the enforcement of a prohibitory law would be quite practicable.

Will Bring a Big Vote.

Rev. J. A. Macdonald, editor of The Westminster, said:—"Those who have denounced the referendum and said it was unconstitutional and un-British, must, in the light of the Premier's speech, and the high authority whom he quoted, revise their views. The principle adopted as touching the majority strikes me as being quite original, and evidently intended to secure a large vote in favor of prohibition. What the full effect of that principle would be I do not at this moment see, and I should like to fully [illegible] the question before giving an opinion."

Better Than He Expected.

Rev. Dr. Sutherland, General Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, said:—"The measure has been presented in better shape than I expected, for it not only adopts the Manitoba act, but calls for only a straight majority vote of the people. A two-thirds majority would have been utterly unreasonable. If the vote were taken at the same time as the general election, it would have been far better, and would save the people much trouble and expense. I have not gone minutely into the details of this bill, but if it must go to the people, the Manitoba act is perhaps as good a measure as we could expect."

ONTARIO'S GREAT ESTATE.

No branch of Provincial administration is of greater importance than the Department of Crown Lands. As the great revenue-producing department, which has brought thirty-five millions into the treasury since confederation, it has to do with a vast territory, in which a hundred million acres are still undisposed of, an empire in area, possessing untold potentialities of natural resources in the soil, the forest, the mineral deposits, the fish and game wealth, and chains of rivers and lakes invaluable as waterways and waterpowers. The effective administration of such a rich heritage demands the best energies of a high type of public servant, and the Province has been fortunate in securing the services of just such men in this branch of Governmental control, men of the calibre and capacity of Stephen Richards, R. W. Scott, T. B. Pardee, Arthur S. Hardy, J. M. Gibson and the present incumbent, E. J. Davis, who succeeded to the portfolio in October of 1899.

The qualifications of the Hon. Mr. Davis were recognized on every hand, resting, as they did, upon his own successful business life, his municipal career, his legislative record of thirteen years as member for North York, and his administrative record as Provincial Secretary. Although only two years have elapsed since Mr. Davis became Commissioner, he has already shown himself a worthy successor of a notable line of Provincial Crown lands administrators. One of his first steps was to familiarize himself with the vast domain over which he has control. To that end he has personally inspected the various agricultural, lumbering and mining districts in new Ontario, from Temiskaming on the east to the Rainy River on the west, thus equipping himself with the firsthand knowledge indispensable to the successful administration of the extended and varied interests coming within the purview of his department.

The results of his administration are already apparent, especially in connection with colonization. Mr. Davis in 1900 instituted a Bureau of Colonization, the work of which has more than justified its creation. The Commissioner has rendered the Province a valuable service in realizing the growing needs of our new north. The streams of settlement guided into these fertile regions during the past two seasons have been far in excess of those of previous years. Eighteen townships, for example, were opened in the Temiskaming district alone in 1901, in order to accommodate the unprecedented rush to the new lands of that portion of Ontario, while the Algoma, Thunder Bay and Rainy River sections also show a steady inflow of desirable settlers.

The Commissioner has carried out two successful pine timber sales. That of December, 1899, was rendered necessary by reason of the limits having been overrun by fire. The limits sold in September of 1901 were placed on the market partly with a view to the ultimate opening up of agricultural lands in Algoma, to meet a demand for settlement arising through the construction of the Algoma Central Railway, and because certain of the townships had been burned over and miners and squatters were going in. The prices realized at these two sales were most satisfactory, showing an average price per square mile that has only been twice exceeded in the whole history of Provincial timber sales since confederation.

To Mr. Davis is due the credit of crystallizing the fire-ranging regulations into law, making it legal to place rangers on Crown timber lands where found necessary, and also on licensed timber lands, even where limit-holders do not make application for a staff. The Ontario fire-ranging system is recognized as the best on the continent, its chief features having been copied in Quebec, New Brunswick and British Columbia, and by the Dominion in respect to the western timber lands still under the control of the Federal Government. The United States Government has practically adopted the Ontario system in reference to its public lands. It may be added that the timber regulations of the Crown Lands Department have been largely copied by other Governments, as well as the Ontario system of licensing cullers, who measure all timber cut on licensed lands, on which measurements the accounts for Crown dues are based.

The administration of the Crown Lands Department has been marked by a progressive policy in regard to forest reserves. The setting apart of the great Temagami reserve on January of 1901 was a notable event in the departmental history. This reserve comprises an area of nearly a million and a half acres, and includes a great stretch of white pine, estimated at three billion feet. It also constitutes a vast natural park of wonderful scenic beauty, in which are to be found the headwaters of several important streams. It is the first area of virgin forest set apart in the Province as a forest reserve. Incidentally, it will form a valuable fish and game preserve. It is satisfactory to the public to know that the Government is thus thoroughly alive to the importance of forestry and reforestization.

Reference should in fairness be made to the manner in which the department has dealt with the pulpwood industry, which is rapidly assuming large proportions. The recent growth of the industry has been no less marked than are its bright prospects for the immediate future. The Commissioner is responsible for two excellent regulations in this connection—the increase of the dues on spruce from twenty to forty cents per cord with the right to make further increases as the public policy shall warrant, and a provision that all pulpwood cut on Crown lands in the Province must hereafter be manufactured into pulp or its products in Canada. Millions have already been invested in the various enterprises to which pulpwood concessions have been granted, and the next few years will undoubtedly witness a great expansion on these lines.

Shortly after Mr. Davis became Commissioner he visited the Sudbury district in order to ascertain the views of the mining community regarding the mines act. As an immediate result of this conference a bill was introduced by him, during the session of 1900, in which many progressive amendments were made to the existing law. The chief change effected related to the royalty clause in the act, which was repealed, thereby removing all inequalities and placing all mining properties on an equal footing in the matter of attracting capital, and in that way assisting in the greater development of the nickel and copper districts.

There was in addition a strong feeling on the part of the mining public that as great a degree of refining of nickel and copper ores should be done in Canada as was practicable. A clause was therefore inserted in the act of 1900 providing that power should be reserved to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council to impose certain license fees to be levied upon the raw ores, or the partly treated products of the ores mentioned, to be remitted, however, if the fine metals were produced in the Dominion. This portion of the new act has not been brought into force, there being as yet no process in operation in Canada for the complete refining of these ores. The desire of the Government is to bring the refining of nickel to as high a point as possible in our own country, and this result is being gradually achieved without the need of an enforcing law, and through the co-operation of the mining companies interested. Reduction works have been established at Sudbury, by which the treatment of the raw ore is carried to a much higher point than in the past. Formerly the matte left the country containing from 25 per cent. to 40 per cent. of metallic contents of nickel and copper, now it is brought to 80 per cent., which is a long stride toward the ultimate goal of complete refining in Canada.

A word should be said as to the energetic way in which the Bureau of Mines arranged its display at the recent Pan-American Exposition. Three gold medals were awarded Ontario for the best general exhibit of economic ores and minerals, maps and photographs illustrative of its mineral resources. There were twenty other medals and awards. No other Province or State approached Ontario in the number of awards or the general excellence of its exhibits.

PROHIBITION IN MAINE.

The following opinion was sent by Hon. Llewelyn Powers, Governor of Maine in 1898, to a gentleman in Toronto, regarding the effects of prohibition in that State:—"For more than thirty years prohibition of the liquor traffic has been the settled policy of the State of Maine. There is no indication that the State desires to change. Our people are among the most intelligent of the Union, and are capable of appreciating what of good or bad comes from prohibition, and are decidedly of the opinion that great good has resulted. I doubt very much if it has had any great influence on the business interests of the State, but so far as it has affected them, it has aided by tending to make the wage-earners more temperate and industrious. I think there has been less of vice and crime than would have been the case without prohibition, as in our State a large portion of the crimes are the result of the improper use of intoxicating liquors, and I think that is so everywhere.

"I think it has diminished the consumption very largely, and you will find proof of this when you recall the efforts that are being constantly made by liquor dealers to repeal the prohibitory laws. Whether it has had more good than evil effect on the moral character of the citizens is a matter of opinion. I think, on the whole, its effect has been for good, though it has caused many persons to violate its provisions, and many communities look with too much complacency upon its open violation. In the small towns, I mean rural towns, and small villages, the saloon and grog shop are among the things of the past. In our larger villages and cities intoxicating liquors are sold, sometimes openly and often secretly, though there are many prosecutions of the parties engaged in the traffic."

ELECTRIC RAILWAY LEGISLATION.

The public is moderately familiar with the evils that have arisen in connection with the building and operation of steam railways, and the thought has frequently been expressed that if we had the road to go over again we would adopt very different methods. Our mistakes have been somewhat numerous. Chiefly, for example, we have to a considerable extent allowed the absolute control of rates to slip out of our hands. Even where we attempted to deal with rates on the basis of the amount invested, we have been frustrated by over-bonding, over-capitalization, and their kindred evils. We have seen the cost of building unduly enhanced by the familiar "construction company" device. One of the growing convictions of the time is that the public control of these corporations must be strengthened, and we are getting in a mood to go to considerable lengths for that purpose.

That is the position as to steam railways. We are now at the beginning of a new era—an era of electric railway building. Would it not be well to ask ourselves if our experiences with steam railways are to be of any use to us in warning us to avoid similar errors in dealing with the new form of transportation? We do not form extravagant notions of the great profits which may be reaped from the operation of electric railways. It would not surprise us if it were shown that the profits were problematical, and it might be that if rates for passengers and freights were now fixed they would be found too low to yield profits at all. To fix rates now might, therefore, be inadvisable, but what should be done is that the absolute right to fix rates at any future time should be preserved. Closely connected with this is the public right to know with certainty the actual amount of capital invested in these enterprises. If this be regarded as an unwarranted invasion of private interests, the reply is that they are not private interests in the real sense of the words. These companies are allowed to run over the public roads, are relieved from the cost of acquiring right of way, and to a large extent of the cost of grading. It is not unfair, therefore, to require that the actual cost of construction and operation of the new railways should be ascertained for the protection of the public interest. No one would begrudge a handsome return on the actual capital invested, because it may be granted that wherever capital takes risks, the possible rewards should be correspondingly enticing. But rates should not be based on capital that never existed.

FAKE MIRACLE.

What the Canadian Baptist Says About the Easton Affair.

A few days ago the Examiner published an account of an alleged cure by faith in Toronto. The Canadian Baptist refers to it as follows:

The Dowieites of Toronto, think they have a case of miraculous healing. A man by the name of Easton had his spine injured in a street car accident in Brantford about six years ago. He has had his back in a plaster cast, and has sold peanuts from his bed in a waggon for a long time. On Friday evening last, in a prayer meeting of Dowieites he thought himself healed, and upon the cast being sawn through he was able to walk. Dr. Ferguson, who examined Easton at the time of the accident, said at the time, that it was only a loosening of the tendons, and not an injury to the spinal cord, and that he could have walked at the time had he thought so. In this judgment Drs. Franks and Henwood concurred. We have also been informed that on the appeal from the decision of the first court which granted him damages, the higher court reversed the action of the lower court, apparently not thinking him seriously injured. There have also been suspicions that he was too willing to be thought disabled because of the appeal made to the generosity of the public. Of course we must not place too much reliance upon mere suspicions. In any case, his back may have healed during the years it has been resting in its plaster cast. We refer to it, and give the facts, as the case will doubtless be trumpeted abroad as a miracle, in the interest of Dowie's grotesque claims.

THE BANQUET TO MR. WHITNEY.

The banquet given on Thursday night in Toronto, to Mr. J. P. Whitney, leader of the Conservative Opposition in the Ontario Legislature by his fellow members, was a political paradox; it was at once a great success and a dismal failure. A great success as far as the social features and display of enthusiasm were concerned, but as a political demonstration, giving the slightest evidence, either in the way of party cohesion or breadth of policy and grasp of the Provincial situation of the fitness of the leader or his followers to exercise the power to which they aspire, it was a dismal failure. Even the enthusiasm, perhaps, had something of an artificial character about it for in the leader's entourage on the occasion of the banquet, can be noticed the names of some of his immediate following who, though amongst the enthusiastic in warmth of speech, are known to be discontented with his leadership, to aspire to the position themselves, and the rivalry is so thinly veiled that the most superficial observer cannot fail to note the condition of strife for the mastery which prevails.

The failure of the political and party features of the occasion was conspicuous. In this respect it was a disappointment. The speech of Mr. Whitney, the leader of the Opposition, was of course to be considered the speech of the evening; but it was in itself a disappointment — especially to those to whom remained a shred of confidence that their leader might at the supreme moment develop some latent ability to devise a practicable policy, or might perchance show himself equal to the task of striking a high plane in the treatment of public questions. It must have been a disappointment to his followers, if they expected to be heartened or encouraged by the utterance of a high or hopeful note on the part of their leader; it will be a disappointment to the rank and file of the sheperdless sheep of the party throughout the country who may have expected their leader, upon a great occasion like the banquet under consideration, to raise a battle cry which they could take up and echo, that would give them something to unite upon and give hope of some measure of success in contesting the general elections to be held doubtless within a few months. But the speech contained nothing new—nothing but the well worn political platitudes and gauzy generalies which have done duty upon two hundred platforms in the past five years. The speech offered nothing in the way of a policy except some visionary propositions or propositions covered already by the policy which the energetic Ross Government is already carrying into effect as rapidly as circumstances and the interests concerned will permit or suggest.

A consideration of Mr. Whitney's address a little more in detail will bear out the generalization of it already given. His opening expression of affection for the people of Quebec might be considered large but for the fact that it comes directly in conflict with the attitude of himself and his party in this connection in having made use of race and creed cries time after time to advance the political interests of the Conservative Opposition in this Province, to the peril of the National harmony. The more vehemently Mr. Whitney protests his affection for the people of Quebec, with all that that protestation is meant to imply, the more prominently will his inconsistency—not to say, in regard to his past record, his hypocrisy—stand revealed. Mr. Whitney's expressed confidence in the result of an appeal to the people shows what magnificent optimism he is capable of—he represents the electorate as hungering and thirsting—waiting with bated breath for an opportunity to place in power a leader without policy any more definite than that of getting office for the sake of office—waiting for an opportunity to displace a Government with a magnificent record of administration, and a clear cut policy of advance, development, and do-something. As reported in the Mail, Mr. Whitney makes the ingenuous admission that the Conservative party "has had great leaders." The justice of this remark is not for us to determine. If he chooses to compare the calibre and character of the "have been" leaders with those at present in command, he is responsible for the contrast and inference it suggests, whose appositeness, not only the Conservative party at large but the country at large, will acknowledge.

The Opposition Leader's tribute to one of his lieutenants, the chairman of the banquet. Mr. Foy, of South Toronto, was generally just, but when he held up Mr. Foy to admiration on account of his heroic abnegation in declining the position of a judgeship, he was, to say the least, not wise. Perhaps the less said about this little episode, the better. It is well known that the Member for South Toronto was quite willing to profit by the efforts of some friends who were advancing his interests in the direction mentioned, and would doubtless have accepted the position, as he agreed to do, had not his party leader held out inducements regarded as of superior advantage; so that that gentleman's alleged refusal of a judgeship, was not so much an act of self-denial, as a careful calculation of values, and a deliberate choice between two good things.

There does not seem to be anything big about Mr. Whitney, except perhaps his voice, his denunciatory adjectives and his very good opinion of himself. The latter he cannot insist upon too strongly, and on Thursday night he reached the puerile stage of self-assertion. He declared in a tone of complaint and in effect, that the Government consulted him too much in regard to legislation, that the Government leaned too heavily upon him and that in fact he was the Atlas that upheld the Government. Mr. Whitney assumes a great deal when he takes the position, that only the legislation which meets his approval is allowed to pass. Let him inform the public what particular legislation has been passed solely upon the ground of his distinguished approval. This claim is pure childishness. In times past Mr. Meredith and Sir Oliver Mowat frequently conferred on non-political questions. The Conservative leader is wrong in assuming that the only function of an opposition in the legislature is to strive for office, and not to assist with its advice and help and co-operate with, the Government and its followers in placing laws on the statute book in the interest of the people. If Mr. Whitney sits in his seat reading newspapers and following the details of legislation under consideration as little as the most indifferent member of the House, he is not in a position to claim credit for his opinion and consent being necessary to the enactment of legislation. Does he consider himself leader of the Opposition and leader of the Government rolled into one? Mr. Whitney's claim of confidence in the verdict of the people does not seem quite consistent with his statement that all the bye-elections of the Province had been stolen. This is on all fours with the Opposition leader's habitual reckless style of statement. Let us compare his rash assertion with facts, which neither bear out the claim of the people being ready to take the Opposition to their hearts or that the bye-elections had been stolen. Since 1898 there have been held in this Province twenty-five bye-elections. Four of these went by acclamation to Liberal candidates, in four were Conservative candidates elected, the largest majority having been forty-three, and of the remaining seventeen elections all went Liberal and many of them by overwhelming majorities.

Mr. Whitney seamed to gloat over what he called "the trouble" into which Premier Ross had got over a Bill to regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors. Mr. Whitney is the leader of a great party about to appeal to the country. What are his views on Prohibition, a question, affecting the most important interests of any measure that has been before the country for years? As the leader of the Opposition what is his opinion? Surely a man who according to his own showing, has opinions to let for the benefit of the Government, might have an opinion for the benefit of the country upon a most important subject. But Mr. Whitney has not the courage to commit himself. He does nothing. He simply drifts, and waits till he thinks he sees the Government in a tight place, and then adopts the position which he thinks will yield the largest amount of political profit.

As remarked one would have thought that the leader of the Conservative party in Ontario on the eve of an appeal to the people would have taken advantage so exceptionally excellent an opportunity to place his policy, if he had one, before the public. But the opportunity was neglected. Mr. Whitney merely dealt out by way of a policy, a rehash of the speeches he has, as he said, delivered on 200 platforms since 1897. Most of the reforms which he claims he will inaugurate are being given as rapidly as circumstances will permit by the present Government. The only thing that Mr. Whitney can claim as his paltry own is the impracticable and visionary extent to which he would carry Government ownership and operation. Now Government ownership of public utilities has much to commend it. But it doubtless has its limitations and Mr. Whitney's proposal to paternalize all public utilities must be considered in relation to the effect it would have in discouraging private enterprise and reducing the people to enervating dependence upon Government action. Mr. Whitney's proposals upon this subject if they are not visionary are in their entirety presently impracticable. His proposal to establish six or eight agricultural schools, with as many expensive staffs, will not commend itself to the sober judgment of the electors. While too much cannot well be done to promote the interests of agriculture, such a plan would be unwieldly and involve an unnecessary expanse. Improve and extend the usefulness of our present agricultural college, which is doing an excellent work, and the best results will follow. The man who promises too much should be carefully mistrusted. Mr. Whitney should have given the electors something to vote for except an abstraction — he should have submitted some concrete programme that would appeal to the progressive spirit of the people.

It is no wonder that the leader of the Opposition concluded his banquet speech, with a doleful reference to the weight of the task he had before him in the coming electoral contest; for he certainly will find it a hard thing to persuade an intelligent electorate to substitute a party of contradictory and internally warring elements, with no other policy than the acquirement of office, for a live, progressive government, who have faith in the resources of the country, and present a bold, aggressive policy looking to their development. The Opposition leader's superior assumption of virtue in declaring that "when the Conservative party in Ontario wants to succeed by means of corrupt practice, they must find another leader," is amusing. There is abundant evidence that many of the leading members of the party have been anxious to secure another leader. We have it on record that a confidential agent of the party took a poll of the leading members of the party, and the result was a preference for another leader, indicating a state of sub-latent revolt against the existing leadership of the party which is declared to be surfeited with harmony, and the satisfaction with the leader cannot have been very greatly strengthened by the disappointing failure of the chief at Thursday night's banquet to come up within decent distance of the measure of performance that was to be expected of the head of a great party on the eve of an appeal to the people. Mr. Whitney calls for the appointment of an athletic committee to operate in every municipality in the coming election. He should set the example by furnishing such committees with an able-abodied policy to fight for.

Independent opinion draws the same conclusions generally from the speech of Mr. Whitney as suggested above. The Toronto Telegram of last night says:

It was generally expected that last night Mr. J. P. Whitney would announce some new planks in the Conservative platform in Ontario, at the banquet tendered him at McConkey's by his followers in the local House. Those who attended the banquet with that feeling were disappointed, for Mr. Whitney did not get out of the beaten track, and his utterances were in accord with recent political speeches on the various planks of the Conservative platform. The banquet tendered their leader by the Opposition members was one of the most successful functions of the sort ever held in the city. Fully 200 were present, including the Tory leader in the Dominion House and the head of the Conservative party in Quebec. While Mr. Whitney told of the troubles that Hon. G. W. Ross was having with the prohibition bill, he neglected to state what his own position was on that all important question.

We are making ready to enlarge our Wall Paper Dept, and are very anxious that people should buy now. Bring the length and width of your room and we will tell you what it will cost. We are positive we can surprise you with the low prices we are asking for high-grade goods. Since Sept. 1901 we have received over thirteen thousand dollars' worth of Wall Papers divided between our Peterborough and Toronto stores, and with such extensive purchases we get lower prices than can the ordinary dealer. We can safely say that in no town or city in Canada is Wall Paper sold as cheaply as Routley's. We also for each department watch the markets very closely. We cleared out one factory of over 1,000 Hand-made Window Shades now in stock. The advantages we get largely revert to our customers, as we are able to sell them at less than manufacturers' cost. One of Our Vices?

It is peculiarly necessary that we in America should understand the danger of morbid self consciousness, for it is one of our two most distinctive national vices, being equaled only by our irreverence. It is no accident that more books are written about America than concerning any other land, nor does it mean that we are more interesting, except to ourselves, than the rest of the world. It does mean that we are so self conscious, so oversensitive to praise and blame—above all, so anxious to know what our neighbors are saying about us—that any traveler, however inane and incapable, who spends a few weeks upon our soil may return home and write his book about us, and we buy it by the hundred thousand. We are doing great things, thanks to our opportunities and our forefathers, but how much greater might we do could we use in quiet, simple action the time and energy we spend in pluming ourselves upon our achievements.—Edward Howard Griggs in Ladies' Home Journal.

Kidney Troubles of Children.

There are many mothers blessing Dr. Pitcher and his wonderful Backache Kidney Tablets. This remedy has proved so successful for that serious affliction of children—bed wetting—that mothers rejoice to know of a positive cure. The Tablets have a strengthening and tonic influence on the weak urinary organs of children and enable them to retain their water naturally.

Don't let your child grow up with this weakness blighting his life. Have the trouble cured in time before it does permanent injury to the health.

THE DIFFICULTY REMOVED.

Mrs. W. M. Glover, Pearl Street, Brockville, Ont., says: "One of my children that had been suffering from sluggish kidneys read about Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and procured a bottle from F. R. Curry's drug store. They removed the whole difficulty promptly. That depressing pain over the kidneys stopped, dizziness and headaches ceased, and there was a general invigorating of the system. There is no question regarding the merits of these Tablets for the back and kidneys."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50c. a box, at all druggists or by mail. THE DR. ZINA PITCHER CO., Toronto, Ont.

THE CANADA MILITIA

Lord Dundonald May Succeed O'Grady-Haly in Command.

BOER LEADERS TO KRUGER.

Dr. Albrecht Has a Report From Them to the Ex-President of the Transvaal —Despatch From Pretoria to the Times Says the Burghers Are Demoralized—Victorian at Cape Town.

Ottawa, Feb. 22. — Notwithstanding the fact that no information is obtainable at the Militia Department concerning the rumored recommendation of Lord Dundonald by the Imperial authorities as the next to take command of the Canadian militia, further inquiries tend to show that the report is well founded. It is taken for granted that the recommendation of this Government for an extension of General O'Grady-Haly's term until at least the 30th of June next is agreed to by the War Office. The present Major-General is an efficient and painstaking officer, who is doing his best to promote the efficiency and development of the Canadian militia. One of the matters to which he has devoted special attention has been the improvement in musketry training among the militia, and the lessons of the South African war have proved the wisdom and soundness of this course. General O'Grady-Haly has shown great appreciation for the good qualities of the Canadian troops, and has avoided the mistakes of his predecessors who often failed to recognize that some distinction must be drawn between soldiers of the regular army and a colonial militia. He has also, so far as can be learned, invariably acted upon the principle that the Minister who is responsible to Parliament and the people for the administration of military affairs is the paramount authority in the department. When the time comes for General O'Grady-Haly to relinquish the command, and the hope is expressed that this will not be for a long time yet, he will carry with him the respect and good wishes of the authorities here, as well as of the officers and men of the force.

DR. ALBRECHT HAS A REPORT.

Some Communication From the Boer Leaders to Kruger.

Antwerp, Feb. 22.—Dr. Albrecht, who has just returned from the Transvaal, will proceed to-day to Utrecht to see Mr. Kruger, to whom he is said to bring an important secret communication from the Boer leaders in South Africa.

Dr. Albrecht predicts the long continuance of the war. He says the blockhouse system will not affect the final result.

"It may cost the Boers a few more men, but they will never surrender, and the British will never possess the Transvaal.

EARLY BURGHER COLLAPSE.

Despatch to the Times From Pretoria Predicts a Cessation of Hostilities.

London, Feb. 22.—A despatch to The Times from Pretoria predicts an early collapse of Boer resistance in the Eastern Transvaal. The attitude of the traders leaves no doubt that they consider the situation critical. Reports from north and south of the Delagoa line show that the burghers are continuing the struggle reluctantly. An intercepted message from Commandant Viljoen to Acting President Schalkburger urges the latter to "try and counteract" the spirit of surrender rife among the burghers.

Victorian at Cape Town.

London, Feb. 22.—The transport Victorian, with the second section of the third Canadian Mounted Rifles on board, arrived at Cape Town on Thursday afternoon.

Boers in Bermuda.

New York, Feb. 22.—J. B. Mattison, M.D., writes to The Tribune: Recent statements in the daily press regarding gifts to the Boers from Bermuda prompt me to say that during my outing, just ended, in that lovely land, I had the privilege, freely granted, of visiting the captive camp. I talked with many, noted their food, their clothing, their sanitary and hospital conditions and must say that the stories started by sensation mongers in some American journals about poor food, bad clothes, much sickness and great mortality among the Boers in Bermuda are not true.

Another Canadian Dead.

St. Thomas, Feb. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. D. Decow of Middlemiss have received a letter from their son, J. A. Decow, who is a member of Baden-Powell's South African Constabulary. The letter was dated Bullfontein, near the capital of the Orange River Colony, and it contained information of the death of Richard Took, one of the number of who enlisted in this city for the force. Took died at Bloemfontein of enteric fever, after having been sick the greater part of the time since he arrived at Cape Town. Eight deaths had occurred up to that time in the troop to which Decow and Took belonged.

Expended $4,000,000 in Canada.

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—The annual reports of the Department of Agriculture, which was presented to Parliament yesterday, shows that the department had forwarded the following to South Africa: Hay, 96,320 tons; flour, 38,235 bags; oats, 50,200 bags; beef, 40,722 cases; jams, 11,749 cases. The expenditure of the War Office for this was $4,000,000. Before all the contracts are completed the amount will be about seven millions.

The department has received an order for 15,000 long tons of hay, equal to 16,780 Canadian tons, to be shipped to South Africa during the month of March. The department has already placed the contracts

Major Feilden Born in Canada.

London, Feb. 22.—Major Cecil William Montague Feilden, who was wounded by the Boers at Klipdam, as reported Thursday, is one of the bravest and most popular officers in the British army. On more than one occasion he has won high praise by his valor on the field of battle. He is 39 years old, a native of Quebec, and has been an officer in the Scots Greys since 1891, when he was given a captaincy in that regiment. The major has served as private secretary to Lord Wolseley, aid-de-camp of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, military secretary to Lord Cadogan, and has occupied other important posts in the military and quasi-military service. He went to South Africa in 1900.

What is He Saying?

The young man is one of those up-to-date clerks. The lady has come to enquire about Alabastine's Gold Window ALABASTINE.

He says, "these goods are superior to anything you can use. Alabastine is famous for tinting and decorating, that parasite of repeating year after year, doing away with the nasty mess of washing and scraping the walls as you have to do if kalsomine is used."

"Walls coated with Alabastine are sanitary, as it admits of the free passage of air, which ordinary sanitarians have written is "essential to a healthy home." You may have observed the close, musty smell in a papered room. This is because the paper obstructs wall respiration: and then the mouldy paste used to make the paper stick emits an unhealthy odour. Especially is this so in damp weather.

He hands the lady a circular of tints with directions, requesting her to write the Company for further particulars and suggestions how to decorate her home, and gives the names of painters she can rely upon to do first class work such as Alabastine is adapted to.

Practical men are requested to send for free offer "Two Good Things," mentioning this paper. Alabastine is for Sale by Hardware and Paint Dealers Everywhere. Never Sold in Bulk.

"77" FOR GRIP

"77" PREVENTS PNEUMONIA.

It seems so simple for anyone to risk having the grip or Pneumonia, with perhaps a weakened constitution forever after, when they can positively be avoided and prevented by the use of "SEVENTY-SEVEN," ("77"), Dr. Humphreys' Precious Specific for the cure of Grip and Colds. The best results are obtained by keeping "77" handy (it fits the vest pocket), and taking a dose at the first dose or shiver. Taken early, it cuts it short promptly. Taken during its prevalence, preoccupies the system and prevents its invasion. Taken while suffering, relief is speedily realized, which is continued to an entire cure. At druggists, 25c, or mailed. Humphreys' Med. Co., 61 John st. N. Y.

Diphtheria and sinister fever cannot spread where Vapo-Cresolene is used. All Druggists.

ARTILLERY AGAINST RIOTERS.

Barcelona Rioters Veritably Go Up to the Cannon's Mouth—Casualties on Both Sides Number 500.

London, Feb. 21.—A message to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Barcelona, via Perpignan, France, says a fierce battle has been fought between the troops and the rioters in the suburb of Barcelona, known as Sane.

Before the engagement the cavalry and infantry had been posted in the most dangerous points, and a field battery had been located on the plaza, from which vantage point the guns could sweep the surrounding streets.

When the final clash with the troops occurred, continues the despatch, the artillery was brought into action, and raked street after street. The rioters engaged the batteries at close range, but were finally driven off.

It is reported that 500 persons were killed and wounded on both sides. The entire neighborhood was wrecked by the shells. The ruins caught fire and this completed the destruction.

Further fighting is reported at Mataro, 15 miles from Barcelona, where a quantity of arms have been discovered.

Fighting is also reported at Tortosa and Tarragona respectively, 100 and 50 miles southwest of Barcelona.

FEVER'S VICTIMS.

The After Effects Often Worse Than the Disease Itself.

A Sufferer From the After Effects of Typhoid Tells of His Deplorable Condition—Appeared to be in a Rapid Decline.

The after effects of some troubles, such as fevers, la grippe, etc., are frequently more serious in their results than the original illness, and the patient is left an almost physical wreck. In such cases as these what is needed is a tonic medicine, to enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves and put the system right. Mr. L. Barnhardt, a prosperous young farmer living near Welland, Ont., offers proof of the truth of these statements. Mr. Barnhardt says:—"Some years ago, while living in the United States, I was attacked by typhoid fever, the after effects of which proved more disastrous to my constitution than the fever itself, and for months I was an almost total wreck. I had no appetite, was haggard and emaciated, and apparently bloodless. I had violent and distressing headaches, and my whole appearance was suggestive of a rapid decline. I tried no less than three doctors, but they failed to benefit me. At this juncture a friend of mine mentioned my case to another physician, and he suggested that I should take a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took this advice and found it most satisfactory. Almost from the outset the pills helped me, and I continued their use until I had taken about a dozen boxes, when I felt myself fully restored to my former health, and my weight increased to 165 pounds. I have enjoyed the best of health ever since, and I will always give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the praise they so richly deserve."

These pills are a certain cure for the after effects of fever, la grippe and pneumonia. They make new, rich, red blood and strengthen the nerves from first dose to last; and in this way they cure such troubles as anaemia, neuralgia, rheumatism, heart weakness, kidney and liver ailments, partial paralysis, St. Vitus dance, etc. They also cure the functional ailments that make the lives of so many woman a source of constant misery, and bring the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. Other alleged tonic pills are mere imitations of this great medicine, and the buyer should see that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is on every box. Sold by all dealers in medicine or sent postpaid at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TROUBLES IN JAMAICA.

People's Representatives Withdraw Because of Government's Threats.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 22.—Political troubles here have been revived by the withdrawal of the people's representatives from the Legislative Council, in consequence of the threat of the Government to carry the complete budget, notwithstanding any opposition which may be offered.

The Governor of Jamaica, Sir Augustus Hemming, will again give up part of his salary of £5,000 a year in order further to assist the colony out of its financial difficulties.

FUTURE PROVISION.

There are two periods in a man's life, when in the natural course of things, he is unable to take care of himself—his childhood and his old age. During the whole of our lives we are consumers; during middle life only we are producers. It is therefore the aim of every man to put by enough during middle age, so that he will have an independent income for his old age. But, under ordinary circumstances this is often a hard thing to do. Men at that time of life generally find themselves with a family to provide for; perhaps their whole income is required to meet the household expenses, and it is impossible to find a remunerative investment for their small annual savings.

An Imperial endowment policy, as issued by the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, Toronto, is an ideal investment for a man in this position. Should he die at any time the insurance will provide for his family and leave them in an independent position. At the same time he is providing an income for his old age, which will enable him to end his days in comfort. With an "Imperial Endowment Policy" a man need have no fear for his own future, or the future of his wife and family.

HINTS NATURE GIVES

SYMPTOMS THAT SHOULD WARN MEN OF COMING SICKNESS.

The Significance of Sneezing, Yawning and Recurring Winter Colds. The Meaning of Blue Hands—Apoplexy's Warning Signals.

Nature scarce ever strikes without warning. In so far as disease is concerned it gives clear signs of what is impending days, weeks, months and even years before the attack. If people looked for these signs and took warning from them, they would escape much serious illness and live many years longer than they do. It is indeed remarkable how careless we are in this respect. A man who will anxiously scan the sky for signs of coming rain lest his top hat may get spoiled will never dream of examining his eyes, nose or finger nails for signs of coming illness.

The sneeze, for instance, is very significant. It is always a sign that something is injuring the air passages anywhere from the nose down to the lungs. Should it be only a case of snuff or pepper, of course the sneeze is of no consequence. But often it is an indication of congestion. There is inflammation somewhere, with too much blood, and the object of the sneeze is to give relief by getting rid of some of the fluid. This sneeze is a warning that every prudent person should attend to. It is at least the forerunner of a cold. But it may indicate an approaching attack of bronchitis or pneumonia. When there is much sneezing, accompanied by something like a small shower of rain, the victim will do well to take a warm footbath, go to bed and adopt the other usual remedies to cure a cold.

The winter cold itself is a grave warning. When it recurs two or three times every winter, it is sure to be followed in the end by chronic bronchitis. Once this comes on it is practically incurable.

Men are started on their lives much as a shell from a cannon—with a certain fixed quantity of energy. If disease or accident does not carry them off, they will die some time of what we call old age—in other words, when the energy with which they started is spent. Some have energy enough to carry them over the full century; others have only sufficient to keep them going for ninety, eighty, seventy, sixty or fewer years. Now, early baldness is a sure sign, with some exceptions, that the energy is likely to fail sooner than in the average man. But all kinds of baldness have not this significance. Sometimes the loss of hair arises from scalp disease caused probably by microbes. The warning baldness is that kind which commences about the temples and on the crown of the head and gradually eats its way over the scalp until only a circular fringe of hair is left.

Blue nails, or blue hands, betoken weak or obstructed circulation. They are a warning against overexertion of any kind. The obstruction may occur from disorder of several organs in the body. But most commonly the blueness indicates that the heart is not up to the mark.

Yawning is a somewhat similar warning. It is a sign that the steam has run down and that it is time to go to bed or perhaps to go into the open air. When you sit in a close room, the lungs do not receive sufficient of the vital gas, oxygen. The yawn is then a desperate effort of the lungs to properly aerate the blood, and it warns you to open the windows or to leave the room. When you are out of bed too long or when you have done an unusually hard day's work, the waste products of your body are present in excessive quantity. Then the yawn is a warning to you to lie down and rest.

Most people have a great horror of getting a "stroke" or fit of apoplexy. It is not by any means as unpleasant as the toothache, but the suddenness of it is what appalls. There is really no suddenness about it, however. No disease gives such early warning. A "stroke" is a very simple occurrence and not at all horrible. It results from two or three causes, but the most common one is this: A little artery in the brain wears out and lets some blood escape, which clots, presses on the brain and paralyzes whatever part of the body is governed by the piece of brain pressed upon. Now this artery wears out only in common with other arteries of the body. In some people they all become what is called atheromatous, or hard and brittle. At the same time they become tortuous or twisted. We can see these hard and tortuous arteries on the temples, and then we know it is not safe to do anything which will congest the brain, lest the one little artery there, which is especially liable to give way, shall let the blood escape. Likewise warning is often given by the tiny arteries of the eye. They break and let out little traces of blood, which can easily be seen, but a cold or sleepless night may do the same. When these signs occur—and they occur months and years before the stroke—do not get excited or angry, no matter how great the provocation, do not rush to catch an omnibus or in any way overexert yourself, and do not dine too heartily. By taking the warnings given by nature you will insure yourself against this pleasantest way of leaving the world and be sure of dying of cholera or smallpox or some other respectable disease.

Rail Road Men

In all departments of active service stand in need of the readiness of mind and promptness of action which depend on a healthy nervous system. Let a railroad man be "rattled," and every life depending on him is in danger. A great many railroad men have found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a valuable tonic for the overstrained nervous system. It builds up the body, purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves, and induces a healthy appetite and refreshing sleep.

"I suffered for six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. O. Popplewell, of Eureka Springs, Carroll Co., Ark. "I felt that there was no help for me; could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helpless to the floor. Two years ago I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little 'Pellets,' and improved from the start. After taking twelve bottles of the 'Discovery' I was able to do light work, and have been improving ever since."

FAT NERVES.

A whirl of excitement was recently caused among scientists by the discovery of "how nerves act".

Healthy nerves are fat nerves. It is fat in the core of a nerve that by hardening and softening creates nerve action.

Maybe this explains why Scott's Emulsion has always been such a remarkable remedy for nervousness, Scott's Emulsion makes fat nerves. It feeds them with fat. Good for all forms of nervousness and for neuralgia.

velvet and satin are rarely seen. Many dresses are finished wth deep accordion plaited flounces. A deep border formed of tiny frills also makes an exceedingly pretty finish to an evening skirt and is made in crepe de chine, mousseline de soie, net, chiffon and many types of net.

Jeweled lace is effective, and, although sequins are generally introduced, the leading designs are carried out in jewels. Silver sequins of the small type are charming with pearls, and two or three sizes are used on the same gown with good effect.

A French evening gown is the subject of the cut. It is made of two shades of heliotrope chiffon and is trimmed with perpendicular bands of medallion appliqne, with which are inset velvet disks. The waist is composed of a short bolero over an accordion plaited chiffon blouse. The novel sleeves reach half way between the shoulder and elbow and are trimmed with several tiny ruffles. LI HUNG CHANG'S WIVES.

The First One, Though Alive, Was Looked Upon as Dead.

The one romantic complication in the life of the late Machiavelli of China, Li Hung Chang, is amusing or tragic according as one may choose to look at it.

Earl Li early in his distinguished career took a wife. During the Taiping rebellion his wife had to fly to the interior for safety, where she lived for many months without communicating with her husband. The Chinese statesman meanwhile, thinking his wife had perished with other victims in the massacre, enlisted the sympathies of the emperor, who ordered a magnificent funeral. The empty coffin was followed to the grave with all pomp and ceremony of state by Li Hung Chang and representatives of the emperor. After a period of mourning Li Hung Chang took unto himself another wife and settled down again to domestic felicity.

Then the first wife appeared. She had narrowly escaped the massacre and had been living with her family. Mrs. Chang No. 1 took exception to Mrs. Chang No. 2 and wished to be reinstated as principal wife, for the law of China does not allow polygamy.

Li Hung Chang was in a great stew. In despair he applied to the emperor. The emperor said Mrs. Chang No. 1 had been accorded a state funeral. Therefore, to all intents and purposes, she was dead, and he advised his minister to ignore her, which he did. As women are treated as mere chattels in China, the first wife did not demur, but went back to her family, among whom she died.

The Moon Kept on Shining.

A certain well known judge was once violently attacked by a young and very impudent counsel. To the surprise of everybody, the judge heard him quite through, unconscious of what was said by those present, and made no reply.

After the adjournment for the day and when all were assembled at the hotel where the judge and many of the court folk had their refreshments, one of the company asked the judge why he did not rebuke the impertinent fellow.

"Permit me," said the judge loud enough to attract the attention of the whole company, among whom was the barrister in question—"permit me to tell you a little story. My father, when we lived in the country, had a dog, a mere puppy, I may say. Well, this puppy would go out every moonlight night and bark at the moon for hours together."

The judge paused, as if he had finished.

"Well, what of it?" exclaimed half a dozen of the audience at once.

"Oh, nothing—nothing, but the moon kept shining on, just as if nothing had happened."

The Side De Morny Cared For.

The Duc de Morny, half brother to Louis Napoleon, was embassador extraordinary to the emperor of Russia during the coronation festivities and wrote home that the French might learn something from the Russians, if it were only how to light 10,000 candles in five minutes. De Morny was in Paris the night before the coup d'etat and spent the evening at the opera. Between the acts he went into one of the boxes to speak to a lady of his acquaintance.

"What shall you do, M. de Morny," asked a lady, "if the national assembly is swept out of doors as threatened?"

"Madame," he replied, "I shall try to be on the side of the broom handle."—Gentleman's Magazine.

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be, some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith they cure just the same, for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make these organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demand for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

Tortoise Shell.

What is known as "tortoise shell" consists of the thin outer scales which overlie the shell of a species of sea turtle. The shelling process consists in spreading dried leaves or grass evenly over the back and then setting them on fire. The heat causes the shell to separate at the joints, but does not injure it. A large blade is then inserted horizontally between the laminæ, which are gently pried from the back. Many turtles do not survive the process, but most of them live and get a new covering, just as a man will grow a finger nail in place of one he may lose.

GET COMFORT.

There is little comfort in life when a person is afflicted with pain. Donald Babcock, farmer, Harrowsmith, Ont., was a sufferer from rheumatism for years. He has not had a twinges of pain since, and attends to his duties regularly. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. AN ANSWER TO REV. LANGFELDT.

A Christian Scientist Takes Issue With Him.

REPLYS TO HIS ADDRESS.

Claims That Christian Science Does not Antagonize Religion What it is.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In your issue of the 15th inst. you published an address by Rev. Mr. Langfeldt on Christian Science. We admire the fairness with which he treats the subject, and his very evident sincerity; but everyone who understands Christian Science or demonstrates it in even a slight degree must protest against Mr. Langfeldt's wrong conception of the subject. He is quite right in saying that Christian Science is not faith cure, hypnotism or spiritualism, but he is not as clear on what Christian Science really is. If Christian Science really did teach what Mr. Langfeldt conceives it to teach, he would be justified in criticising it as he does; but such is not the case.

He says that Christian Science antagonizes science and philosophy. Material science does not claim to explain the nature of a single molecule of what it terms matter. Science cannot tell us what life is, and cannot explain any of its myriad manifestations. What was called science a few years ago is called nonsence to-day. Neither the systems of so-called science nor the systems of philosophy have ever been able to solve the problems of life or meet the needs of humanity; but Christian Science combs, and, unlike natural science, does explain rationally what God is, what man is and what life is. It teaches but one divine rule, one principle for all scientific truth. We admit that Christian Science is opposed to some of the science of to-day, but true science, or, as Webster has it, "knowledge classified and made available in the work, life or search for truth," has always been opposed to this world's methods. Paul says, "The wisdom of this world's methods cometh to naught."

Christian Science does not antagonize religion. We believe in whatever makes men and women better, purer and happier, whatever tends to destroy evil in the thoughts and lives of mankind, and whatever exalts the good. We believe in one God and Father of all, a Divine Spiritual being, who fills all space, is omnipotent and omniscient, the only creator, who created all, and pronounced it very good. We believe in Jesus as our Saviour and Wayshower to eternal life. We believe in the divinity of Christ, in the resurrection and ascension and the efficacy of the atonement. We believe in unceasing prayer, and the Bible as God's revelation to man. If this is what our critic means by opposing religion, then we must agree with him, but not otherwise.

Neither does Christian Science claim to be something entirely new, nor does it offer a substitute for the religion of Jesus. On the contrary, it is the religion that Jesus taught and practised nineteen centuries ago. Mrs. Eddy does not claim to have originated something new, but she does claim to have discovered the rules for applying this religion to everyday needs. Christian Science offers a clear and practical interpretation to the religion of Jesus, whereby we are able to do in some measure the works that Jesus commanded us to do. We do not seek to proselyte or convert people, and if some do leave their churches and identify themselves with Christian Science, it is because they have not been satisfied with the results of their former teachings. Christian Science does not take away their faith in the Christian religion, but gives them a more practical interpretation to that religion, which they find meets all their needs, physical, moral and spiritual.

Mr. Langfeldt critizes the belief of Christian Scientists that "all is mind, and there is no matter." He further claims that we deny the existence of stars, trees, rivers, and, as a proper deduction, that we can have no true appreciation of the study of botany, astronomy, etc. If we consider the question closely, the denial of the existence of matter does not mean quite what it at first seems to mean. We do not assert that there are no rivers, no hills, no trees, no stars, no heavens or earth, neither do we maintain that the physical senses do not tell us anything, but we do maintain that our human perceptions are through the medium of a false sense of things. Paul says, "Now we see through a glass darkly, but then face to face." Back of the things seen lie spiritual realities, of which the things we see are not the perfect representations. We believe that as the real fact concerning the sun standing still was revealed by deep investigation, so the real facts of Mind will eventually clearly show that matter is naught, and then old things will pass away and all things become new. Our ideas on this are substantiated by the great apostle Paul, when he says, "The things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal." If God is Spirit, and God is all, then all must be Spirit. Let me say here that to the Christian Scientist the study of God's creation is supremely beautiful. The abstract statement that all these things that we see are unreal does not express the true idea of our faith, for we believe that everything is real, as mind, but not as matter. It is the human material concept of God's creation that is an illusion. As we advance spiritually nature will become more fair and beautiful to us, until we shall eventually see as God sees, and view with gladness the "new heaven" and the "new earth."

Mr. Langfeldt also mistakes our idea in regard to the unreality of evil. Sin is only as real as we make it by our indulgence, and we will never be rid of sin until we stop sinning, for this very indulgence makes sin real to us. Just so long as the false erring thought in man continues to voice and believe in the reality of evil, just so long will evil, in all manner of ways, be manifested to this erring thought. Why does the great prophet Isaiah commend him that "shutteth his eyes from seeing evil," if there is any reality in evil? (Isa. 33; 15, 16.) Why does Zephaniah tell the people that they "Shall not see evil any more," (Zeph. 3; 15.) If evil has any reality? Why does Paul tell the Romans to be "simple concerning evil" If evil is real? In Lamentations we read, "Out of the mouth of the Most High proceedeth not evil and good." Now, if God is the only Creator, and everything He created is good, then we must necessarily come to the conclusion that evil was never created, and does not exist in reality.

As for disease being imaginary, it is far more than imagination. It is as real to the diseased man as anything can possibly be; but we do say the cause is mental, and that the real remedy is the Divine mind, as thousands of persons can testify who have been healed by it, of all kinds of acute and chronic diseases, as can be verified by any person who desires.

Mr. Langfeldt also says that Christian Scientists entertain the hope that as the Science is better understood, and its principles developed, there will be no more dying. Jesus said "If a man keep My saying, he shall never taste of death." At the present material time we admit that we are far from that perfection; nevertheless, Jesus' statement was not meaningless and the fulfillment of the same will be ours in proportion as our human will yields to the Divine. John the Divine also said, "God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes, and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow or crying, neither shall there be any more pain, for the former things are passed away." Saint John also in his vision saw "a new heaven and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness." And all these things we believe will re-appear, though centuries may pass before that time.

Our critic also states that Christian Science teaches that man is God, as one of the factors whose sum makes God, and that man has no individuality, no personality. The teachings of Christian Science on this point are very clear, that God is Spirit, even as the sun's ray is not the sun, but a reflection of it. Mrs. Eddy says, in "Rudimental Divine Science," that "Man is not absorbed in Deity, for he is forever individual."

Another misconception in Mr. Langfeldt's criticism is his failure to grasp the Christian Science idea of a personal God. We prefer, however, not to use the word "personal" as applied to God, since such a term is liable to convey the idea that God is a limited being with an outlined form. We believe in infinite individuality of God, that He is a self conscious, all intelligent, rational being, unlimited and everywhere present. Mrs. Eddy says again, in the same work as above quoted, "In Christian Science we learn that God is definitely individual, and not a person, as that word is used by the best authorities, if our lexicographers are right in defining person as specially a finite human being; but God is personal, if by person is meant Infinite Soul."

In denial of the statement that Christian Science rejects the teachings of the scriptures, we need only refer to the first tenent of our church, "As adherents of truth, we take the inspired Word of God for our guide to Eternal Life." Mrs. Eddy distinctly states that in her search for Truth the Bible was her only guide, and she announces no doctrine which is not fully and clearly substantiated by the the Sacred Word. Neither does Mrs. Eddy put meaning upon words that they never had before, for there is no word in the vocabulary of Christian Science that is not warranted by the dictionaries. Of course, many words have many meanings, and persons use these words according to their understanding of the definition. Mrs. Eddy does not claim to have added anything to the Bible, but simply to have learned what there is in the Bible We take the Bible to mean what it says in its simple and natural meaning, and do not isolate nor distort texts to substantiate our belief. Furthermore, the study of Christian Science has led men and women to love and study their Bibles, and to value them more than they ever did before, gaining this understanding. As understood in the light of Christian Science the Bible presents a religion and a philosophy of life, the most consistent and the most logical that the world has ever known.

Such being our belief, it follows that instead of leading people away from God and the Bible, it leads them closer to God, and to better understanding of the Word. All who have studied Christian Science know that it heals the sick, reforms the sinner and reclaims the atheist and unbeliever; and if we follow Jesus' rule, and judge the tree of Christian Science by its fruits, we must admit that it is the truth because it does the work which the Master commanded us to do.

"Stuffing a Cold."

The man who originated the oft quoted maxim, "Stuff a cold and starve a fever," either did not understand what he was writing about or he has been widely misunderstood, to the great injury of multitudes who have acted upon the absurd maxim.

Presuming that the author of it was a physician who knew something of the nature of colds and the action of remedies, he must have spoken subjunctively and not imperatively, and then it would read thus: "If you stuff a cold, the consequence will be that you will be thrown into a fever as a result of the stuffing treatment of the cold, and then you will have to starve the fever."

This is a true and sensible interpretation of this commonly received maxim, which has done as much harm as any of the thousand and one popular errors which prevail on medical subjects. Without dwelling on the nature or causes of colds or on what physicians call the pathology of these disorders, we will say that a low or even starvation diet for a few days, with the free drinking of warm, mildly stimulating teas, is better for a cold than any drug or combination of drugs.—London Family Doctor.

Wheat Does Not Grow Wild.

The existence of names for wheat in the most ancient languages confirms the evidence of its great antiquity and of its cultivation in the more temperate parts of Europe, Asia and Africa. From the evidence adduced by botanists of high standing, it seems highly improbable that wheat has ever been found growing persistently in a wild state, although it has often been asserted by poets, travelers and historians.

In the "Odyssey," for example, we are told that wheat formerly grew in Sicily without the aid of man. Diodorus repeats the tradition that Osiris found wheat and barley growing promiscuously in Palestine, but neither this nor other reputed discoveries of wheat growing wild seem at all credible, seeing that it does not appear to be endowed with the power of persistency, except under continued culture.

How Man and Nature Use Gases.

Man uses the same elementary gases as nature does, with others that she does not employ with the same intention. Both use oxygen for sustaining combustion, but nature uses it systematically for construction, which man does not. Man uses hydrogen for combustion, as nature does, but not for construction. Man takes advantage of nitrogen for concentration of energy. Nature takes the same advantage, by which nitrogen, though negative, becomes the most important of vital structures. But she does more. She makes nitrogen constructive as well as concentrative, an art man has not attained.

WHAT ARE PILES.

Ask Scores of People Who Endure the Wretched Itching, Burning Sensations of Piles and do not Know the Nature of Their Disease or the Remedy to Apply.

Piles or hemorrhoids, as they are sometimes called, are small tumors which form in and about the orifice of the rectum. They are caused by an enlarged and inflamed condition of the veins, which are very numerous in this part of the body. Internal piles are situated along the veins which carry blood from the intestines to the liver; external piles, on the veins which surround the rectum.

Piles are of frequent occurrence among people who have a predisposition to rheumatism or gout. Such persons are subject to constipation and to obstruction in the passage of blood from the intestines, the most common form of piles. Congestion of the rectum, bladder and uterine organs, ovarian tumors and nearly all diseases of the liver are followed by piles, and they are very liable to appear during pregnancy and immediately after childbirth.

In bleeding piles the hemorrhage is sometimes so profuse as to cause death, but protruding piles are probably more dreaded because it is believed that nothing short of a surgical operation will cure them. As a rule every form of piles becomes at times acutely inflamed and extremely painful. The itching and burning usually increases at night, and the misery which many people endure is beyond description.

The magical power which Dr. Chase's Ointment has over each and every kind of piles gives it mastery over this disease, even in its chronic form and it is not unusual to hear of it curing where cruel, expensive and dangerous operations have failed.

There is no guesswork about Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for piles. It has been tried in the crucible of time, and gradually won its way into favor with the medical profession, as well as with the public in general. It has a wonderful soothing and healing effect, and whenever applied to burning, itching, inflamed skin, it affords almost instant relief, cooling the fires of disease and healing the raw ulcerous skin.

As your friends and neighbours about Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is recognized by a surprisingly large number of people as the only actual cure for piles. It will not fail you. Sixty cents a box at all dealers, or by mail postpaid on receipt of price, by Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto. 3

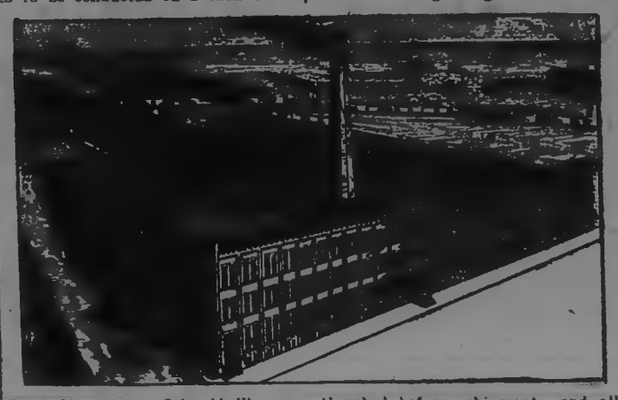
JOHN ABELL BUSINESS GREATLY STRENGTHENED

Passes Into Hands of New Company, Who Issues Prospectus to the Public To-day.

The John Abell business is springing up into new life and promises to enter upon a period of prosperity which will eclipse all its previous records of industrial greatness. The long expected prospectus of the newly-organised company is published in to-day's paper and the public who have money to invest will no doubt eagerly seize an opportunity for buying up profitable stock. The prospectus assures intending investors of the entire absence of water in the stock, and shows the business is to be conducted on a cash basis.



For half a century John Abell's name has been a household word in the farming districts of Canada, and his agricultural implements have been noted for their thorough finish and reliability. As a manufacturer of agricultural machinery, John Abell has done much to build up this country.

SPLENDID WORKSHOPS AND PLANT.

The new company, which has bought up this well-established plant, will continue the factory on the present premises, which are splendidly situated on Queen street west, in a central section of the city. The shops are large and commodious, and the only thing that has hampered the concern of late years has been the lack of capital.

The name of John Abell, however, has not declined, and the shops are fully equipped for turning out quite four times the past output.

The large sum of $200,000 has been added to the working capital of the business by the new directors, and with the reputation for first-class harvest machinery, with a splendid plant and keen business minds behind it, the new Abell works ought to be one of the busiest factories in Canada.

ISSUE OF STOCK IS OPPORTUNE.

The issue of the stock is offered at a most opportune time. The future of Canada as a grain-growing country is assured. Our largest railway has sufficient faith in the grain-producing powers of Manitoba and the Northwest to see the wisdom of spending nearly $20,000,000, chiefly for the purpose of enabling it to carry the grain from Northwestern Canada. All grain grown must be threshed before shipment, and all should be threshed by machinery produced in Canada, and chiefly in the great manufacturing Province of Ontario. The demand for machinery of this kind is said to be so great that about three-fourths of the whole has to be imported into this country from the United States against a heavy duty.

The Board of Directors is an exceedingly strong one, and nearly all have been selected by reason of their successful experience in the leading industries of this country. The subscription lists close at a very early date, and intending subscribers would do well to take advantage without delay of the opportunity offered.

"What Lovely Shoes!"

"Never dreamed that such shoes could be made in Canada!"

"Isn't that a beautiful finish?"

"I like the shape and cut of it, too, so graceful, you know."

"Yes, it's the "King Quality" shoe, and really, girls, I never wore shoes so comfortable and neat as these are. And, you know, we save all the customs duties, because they are made in Canada."

"They won the gold medal at Paris this year."

TOOK 164 WITHOUT CASUALTIES

Prisoners Include Three Prominent Boer Officers—Col. Park Surprised the Enemy—Latest Recipients of the Victoria Cross—Signal Acts of Bravery—Canadians Sick of Enteric Fever in S. Africa.

London, Feb. 24.—A despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, Friday, Feb. 21, says Colonel Park with 300 mounted National Scouts recently surprised a Boer force at Nooitgedacht, Transvaal Colony, and captured 164 prisoners, together with a quantity of munitions of war and a number of horses and wagons. There were no British casualties.

The prisoners include Field Cornets Joubert and Dejater and Lieutenant Wiljoen.

WITH GENERAL FRENCH.

Long-Planned Campaign in Western Cape Colony Begun.

Pretoria, Feb. 24.—General French reports that Piet Wessels, with a commando, is in the northeast of Cape Colony, and Louis Wessels is near Richmond, thus leaving the Midland district practically clear.

A convoy of 60 donkey wagons, moving from Beaufort West to Fraserburg, under an escort of 100 infantry and 60 District Mounted troops, was attacked by the enemy in force 30 miles from its destination, and captured before relief could arrive.

The enemy were unable to remove the wagons, except 12, but burnt the remainder.

Crabbe, arriving, pushed the enemy north, after severe fighting. In the attack on the convoy and Crabbe's fight two officers and 11 men were killed and one officer and 47 men wounded.

Enemy's ascertained losses: Twenty-four killed and 47 wounded, but none captured.

A detachment of Colonel W. Doran's column, 100 strong, operating near Calvinia, was rushed during the night, and during the retirement on the main body lost three officers and seven men killed and seventeen wounded.

V.C. HEROES.

Two Britishers Who Are the Latest to Capture the Honor.

London, Feb. 24.—The latest recipients of the Victoria Cross for gallantry in South Africa are Surgeon-Captain T. J. Crean of the 1st Imperial Light Horse, and Lieutenant L. C. Maygar, 5th Victorian Mounted Rifles. The former received the honor, says Saturday night's Gazette, for his bravery during the action with Dewet at Tygerskloof on Dec. 19, when he continued to attend to the wounded under a heavy fire at only 150 yard range, after he had been wounded, and only desisted on being hit a second time. Surgeon-Captain Crean is well known in the world of sport as an Irish international Rugby forward, and went to South Africa as a member of Mr. W. E. Maclagan's team of footballers, who visited the country about eight years ago.

Lieut. Maygar is decorated for a splendid act of gallantry at Geelhoutboom on Nov. 23, when, as they retired, he took a dismounted comrade on his own horse, which bolted into boggy ground. Both had to get down, when Lieut. Maygar again put the man on the horse's back, and telling him to gallop for cover, proceeded himself on foot under a heavy fire.

Canadian Has Enteric Fever.

Ottawa, Feb. 24.—A cablegram to Lord Minto reports that William Shouldice, C Division South African Constabulary, was dangerously ill of enteric fever on Feb. 17, at Heidelberg. His father is Mr. Shouldice, Valentia, Ont.

A Brockville Man Ill.

Ottawa, Feb. 24.—His Excellency the Governor-General has received the following cable from Mr. Chamberlain: "H. W. Meade, South African Constabulary, dangerously ill of enteric fever at Vet River, Feb. 18. Next of kin, Mr. S. Meade, Brockville, Ont.

Quick Run to Cape Town.

Halifax, N.S., Feb. 24.—The British troopship Victorian, with the second section of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, under command of Col. Evans, made a record voyage from Halifax to Cape Town. She arrived at the Cape on Thursday, only 23 days out from Halifax. This is nearly a week faster than any previous transport. The Manhattan, which carried the first section, was thirty days on the passage.

AUSTRALIANS BEGGING OFF.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Presence at Coronation Becomes More Important.

London, Feb. 24.—The cost of the coronation, as represented in the Civil Service estimates, is £100,000. This may include the expenses of the two processions and the alterations in the Abbey, but obviously does not cover the entertainment of the guests by the Crown and the special embassies of the colonies and various powers. The street decorations will be managed by committees of the property owners, the borough councils having shown little energy in making arrangements of a comprehensive scope. Clubland has already come to the front with a unique decorative scheme of St. James street.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's presence becomes especially important, since the Australian premiers are begging off on one pretext or another. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Barton will be the chief colonial representatives, and will have the places of honor in the Abbey and probably at both conventions. Lord Strathcona will probably occupy a seat among the peers.

The minor colonial officials are not more likely than the secretaries of the regular diplomatic embassies to obtain entrance to the Abbey.

French Shore Modus Vivendi.

St. John's, N.F., Feb. 21.—The party leaders in both houses of the colonial legislature have affected an arrangement for securing the unanimous passage of the French Shore Modus Vivendi bill, in all stages, in both chambers, next week, and for the prompt ratification of the measure by the Governor as a further testimony of the colony's full sympathy with the empire in the present situation.

Big Fire in New York—Park Avenue Hotel and 71st Regiment Armoury Go Up in Smoke—Toronto and Other Canadian Guests in the Hotel Who Fortunately Escaped Uninjured—Loss $750,000.

New York, Feb. 24.—Nineteen persons lost their lives, and fifty or more were injured in a fire which was communicated early Saturday from the Seventy-first Regiment N. Y. N. G. Armoury to the Park Avenue Hotel. The armoury was destroyed, entailing a loss estimated at $650,000. In the hotel the damage was principally in the tiers of rooms surrounding the elevator shafts. The loss to the hotel building is estimated at $100,000.

A CANADIAN VICTIM.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart, of Chicago, Latter a Daughter of Mr. Peter Patterson, Ex-M.P.P., Lose Their Lives.

Toronto, Feb. 24.—Two people, well-known in Toronto, lost their lives in the terrible holocaust in New York Saturday morning, when the Park Avenue Hotel and the 71st Regiment Armoury were destroyed. The victims were W. G. Barnhart, who registered at the hotel from Chicago, and his wife, who was a daughter of Peter Patterson, ex-M.P.P., for West York, now of Woodstock. Mrs. Barnhart was also a sister of Mrs. John Taylor of 98 Spadina road, Toronto. Mrs. Taylor left for New York on Saturday.

Frank Denton, K.C., also left for New York on Saturday night, on receiving word that Mr. Barnhart was burned to death. He did not know at the time that Mrs. Barnhart had lost her life. Last night Mr. Denton wired from the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, as follows:

"Both Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart dead and identified. Cannot arrange for place of burial till to-morrow, when cable message from her people, now wintering in the Bahamas, is expected."

Mrs. Barnhart's father and other members of the family are spending the winter in Nassau, Bahama Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. George Warwick and Miss Maddison of Toronto were also guests at the Park Avenue Hotel. A telegram received from them Saturday announced that they were safe and comfortably quartered at the Waldorf-Astoria.

According to The New York World, B. R. Cousins and B. E. Pearson of St. John, N.B., saved themselves by crawling on hands and knees through the smoke and flame of the first floor.

George Iles of Montreal was a guest at the hotel, but escaped uninjured.

HAS REACHED NEW YORK.

American Batteries Head the Sunday Heavens With 21 Guns in Welcome of Prince Henry.

New York, Feb. 24.—Prince Henry of Prussia, representative of his brother, the Emperor of Germany, at the launching of the latter's yacht reached here yesterday, and was cordially welcomed as a guest of the nation. The land batteries that guard the outer harbor sounded the first greeting of a salute of 21 guns, the ships of a special naval squadron assembled in his honor re-echoed the sentiment; there were verbal greetings from the representatives of President Roosevelt, the army, the navy and the city of New York, and a great crowd lined the way into the city to see and cheer the sailor Prince of Germany.

The great storm against which the Kron Prinz Wilhelm had struggled for days, and which had glazed the Atlantic coast in an armor of ice, had lost its force and resigned its sway to warm sunshine and cheery blue skies, so there were no regrets that the royal guest was a full day late for the entertainment provided for him. The genius of Marconi reaching out from the storm-swept coast had definitely located the belated liner, and made certain the hour that she would reach Sandy Hook. There was a curtain of haze off the Hook early in the morning, and it was after 9 o'clock before the watchers caught the shadow outlines of the cautiously approaching liner.

Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, commander of the special squadron, and honorary aide to the Prince, left the flagship Illinois with his staff at 9.40 o'clock in the naval tug Nina. The Nina met the Kron Prinz beyond the Fort Wadsworth, and swinging around on the starboard side of the liner, steamed up the bay.

When the saluting ceremony was over the Kron Prinz was stopped, and the Nina hauled around to her port side, and Admiral Evans and his staff boarded her.

Admiral Evans was escorted forward at once, and in the quarters of Captain A. Richter, master of the Kron Prinz, he and the Prince met. The Prince came forward, and grasping the hand of the naval officer, shook it warmly.

"I am very glad to see you, Sir," said the Admiral, "everybody in the United States is waiting to welcome you. It is my pleasure, Sir, to greet you formally in their behalf."

"I thank you, Sir, and through you the people of your country," responded the Prince, "I am very glad to be here and on this splendid day. The Emperor directed me to pay his compliments to you, Admiral, and I do so with very great pleasure."

About an hour was spent by the Prince in receiving his callers and in making an admiral's inspection of the troops and crew of the Hohenzollern. Then followed a lunch. Then his calls were repaid.

Prince Henry last night attended a reception given in his honor by the Deutscherverein at the club house of the organization. From the club house the Prince was driven to the 23rd street ferry of the Pennsylvania Railroad, where he took the ferry boat Phila for the depot in Jersey City.

SIGNIFICANT UTTERANCE.

Major-General Hutton Speaks on Militarism in Australia—Federal Defence Bill Shelved.

Sydney, Feb. 24.—Major-General Hutton, Commandant-General of the Federal forces, in a speech Saturday deprecated militarism in Australia, and said the country did not need a standing army. The Commonwealth troops, he declared, ought to be essentially citizen soldiers pursuing their civil avocations uninterruptedly excepting in emergencies.

Nearly 16,000 men would soon have returned from South Africa, and would be distributed among the community as teachers. He intended to do his best in this direction, irrespective of political consideration.

This utterance is regarded as significant in view of the fact that the drastic Federal defence bill has been shelved, pending a consultation between the Ministers and Gen. Hutton.

It is thought likely that the Government proposals will be modified. Ministers acknowledge that they are relying largely on Gen. Hutton's advice.

RELEASE OF MISS STONE.

She Arrived at Strumitza, Macedonia, Sunday Morning.

Constantinople, Feb. 24.—Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, who, with Mme. Tsilka, was captured by brigands in the district of Salonika Sept. 3 last, has been released and arrived at Strumitza, Macedonia, at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. Nobody was at Strumitza to meet Miss Stone, as the brigands had given no indication where they proposed to release the prisoners. Mme. Tsilka and her baby were also released at the same time. They are all well. Miss Stone immediately made herself known to the authorities at Strumitza. The first news of Miss Stone's release was contained in a telegram received by Mr. Dickinson, the American Consul-General at Constantinople, from the American vice-consul at Salonika. The telegram gives no details of the release. As Staumitza is near the Salonika-Usukb Railroad, Miss Stone will proceed to Salonika without delay.

MISS ELLEN M. STONE.

Goes to the Committee.

London, Feb. 24.—Wiring from Constantinople the correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says he understands that, owing to the necessity of protecting the innocent persons who assisted them, the American delegates will never divulge where and how the ransom money for the release of Miss Stone was paid. The correspondent learns, however, that the ruse of filling the money bags with lead after the ransom had been paid, with a view of making it appear that the mission to pay the ransom had failed, was completely successful. It is practically certain that the ransom money goes to the Macedonian committee. Miss Stone, continues the correspondent, is completely innocent of any knowledge of the plot to kidnap her, but strong suspicions are entertained about some Bulgarians, who accompanied her party, or remained behind.

DVORNIKS SLAY STUDENTS.

A Brutal Tragedy in Name of the Law in Russia.

London, Feb. 24.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Express says in a despatch that the police, learning that some 500 students had arranged a meeting to be held in a certain theatre last Friday night, quietly filled the galleries of the theatre with a thousand dvorniks. After the performance had ended at midnight, the students remained in the pit, the dvorniks still in the gallery. At 3 o'clock in the morning, at a given signal, the dvorniks suddenly descended and attacked the students, beating them with clubs in a most brutal manner. The students had arms, ribs and heads broken, and some of them were killed. A large number of them have been sent to hospitals, while others have been imprisoned.

OUR DEBENTURES.

Peterborough is about to place on the market debentures to the amount $230,000 and in this connection it is interesting to note what the Ottawa Free Press says concerning the issue of civic debentures:

"When certain civic debentures were placed on the market three or four years ago, we suggested that at least a large portion could be readily and appropriately sold to our own citizens if they were divided into small sums, say twenty, ten or even five dollars. No better means of strengthening the spirit of citizenship could, we thought,—and still think—be found. Such a procedure would cause the holders of civic bonds to feel that they were citizens indeed, possessing an individual interest in the progress of the capital, and affected, pecuniarily, as good or bad administration prevailed. It would also tend to make the population more permanent and less transient, and promote individual proprietorship in residential property. But our views were not received by the great financiers of the city with favour, as it was held that administrative machinery would be required on an extended scale, entailing expense. As though a little expense would not have been more than compensated for by the corresponding advantages which would have assuredly been the civic accrument. We observe that the financial administrators in New York are wiser in their generation, and the Comptroller, instead of selling the civic bonds now being issued in scrip, carrying a large amount, has opened the sale to anyone who, has ten dollars to invest. More than that in order to encourage the sale of the bonds to small investors, he has offered a rebate of ten per cent. for a single bond of ten dollars, which will be awarded to the applicant before the million dollars tendered for by a banker at the same price will be granted. The Comptroller almost repeats the arguments advanced in these columns in addition of such a procedure. He "believes that the more single bonds are purchased by people in modest circumstances, the keener, more active and intelligent will be the interest taken in civic affairs by the public. It will largely increase the number of watchful eyes on the doings of the city council, and stimulate a wholesome popular pride in the city." Exactly so. Greater New York is in this respect setting an example which every city in Canada can with advantage follow."

NEW ALLIES OF PROHIBITION.

The Mail and Empire, the World, the Telegram, the Hamilton Spectator, and other payers, are trying to rouse up a feeling amongst the prohibitionists against Hon. G. W. Ross and the referendum.

Why?

Do they want prohibition?

No. They have declared against it. They are opposed to it on any terms.

Do they denounce the referendum because they fear it will bring about prohibition?

They say not. They denounce it as a wrong upon prohibitionists because it will not bring about prohibition.

And yet they do not want prohibition?

Not on any terms.

Isn't it rather astonishing to see the foremost opponents of prohibition denouncing the Government for not giving the prohibitionists all they asked?

Nothing is astonishing in politics. Just remember that no matter what course the Ross Government had taken, the Mail and the World, and the Telegram and the Spectator, would have "carried on" as they are now doing. It is Mr. Ross they are after. If they can "do for him" they will attend to the question of prohibition next October, or at any other time when it needs to be attended to. —The Toronto Star.

KITCHENER'S BROTHER IN HAWAII.

Most of His Time Spent at Pearl Harbor —Uses a Camera.

Honolulu, Feb. 24.—Lord Kitchener, the commander of the British forces in South Africa, has written to his brother, Colonel C. Kitchener, that the termination of the Boer war is a question of but a few months more.

Colonel Kitchener is commander of the British forces in Jamaica and stopped here three days ago from San Francisco en route to China to visit his son, who is a lieutenant on a British battleship in the Asiatic squadron.

It is said that Colonel Kitchener's visit to Honolulu may have been more significant than first appeared. As soon as possible after the vessel docked Colonel Kitchener provided himself with a camera and hurried to the railway station and took a train to the district of Ewa. While there he inspected the celebrated Ewa sugar plantation, but most of his time was occupied in inspecting the new harbor and the various sites for the new naval station which the United States is soon to construct.

He is reported to have taken soundings of the various parts of the channel and to have made extensive notes of this information, in addition to having taken many photographs of the locks and naval station sites.

TAPS FROM THE WIRES.

The new Marquis of Dufferin is 36 years old, but looks more like 21.

Michael Belair, contractor, 68 years of age, of Pembroke, committed suicide on Saturday night at his boarding house, Ottawa, by drinking carbolic acid.

Mr. John Cameron has been offered the Postmastership of London, rendered vacant by the death of the late Mr. Thomas Browne, and has signified his acceptance.

Dr. T. A. McCallum of Dunnville has been appointed Superintendent of the London Asylum, in succession to the late Dr. Bucke. The salary is $2,000 and residence.

William Prest, about 73 years of age, dropped dead in a store at Galt on Saturday night. He was a shoemaker by occupation, and a respected resident of Galt for many years.

By judgment of the Imperial Privy Council, rendered Saturday, the Hull Electric Company, loses the appeal which it took to establish its right to a monopoly of lighting the City of Hull.

Dr. Newman Hall's funeral at Christ Church, Westminster Bridge road, London, was attended by over two thousand people, including representative delegations from all the prominent Noncomformist societies.

William Burnison, farmer of Dewe's Falls, while engaged in shingling, fell from the roof of his barn, a distance of over thirty feet, Saturday afternoon, and sustained fractures of an arm and a thigh, and was otherwise badly injured.

Sentences were on Saturday pronounced at London on the prisoners found guilty of complicity in the Bank of Liverpool frauds. Thomas P. Goudie, the bookkeeper of the bank, and "Dick" Burge, the pugilist, were each sentenced to ten years' imprisonment.

John Manchester met his death at Stanley's Corners, 10 miles from from Ottawa, on Saturday. Thomas Hill's chimney took fire, and Manchester went up on the roof to help Hill extinguish the flames. Hill slipped, and to save himself clutched Manchester. Both fell to the ground. Manchester was killed outright. Hill had his hip broken.

Edward Groom Mingay, a printer, employed at The Evening Star office, Toronto, was found dead in bed shortly before noon on Saturday! The cause of death given in the burial certificate was an overdose of laudanum. Mingay left a letter written to a young lady, the contents of which the coroner declared were of a private character. Mingay had been subject to fits of epilepsy, which caused him to become melancholy at intervals. Deceased was 40 years of age and a widower.

ONLY A SUGGESTION.

But It Has Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump it can only result from the food we eat and digest, and that food should be albuminous or flesh-forming food, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals; in other words, the kind of food that make flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bill of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough and generally too much, the stomach, from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimilate it, which is the reason so many people remain thin and under weight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh-forming beefsteak and eggs and similar wholesome food.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking, after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and diastase which every weak stomach lacks, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to regain its natural tone and vigour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh-forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them with marked benefit as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful ingredient.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada as well as in Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, nervous, dyspeptic people strong, plump and well.

TERRY M'GOVERN'S VICTORY.

Dave Sullivan Knocked Out in the 15th Round at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 23.—Terry McGovern defeated Dave Sullivan Saturday night in the arena of the Southern Atlantic Club after as desperate fighting as was ever seen in any ring. From the first tap of the gong until the end both went at it hammer and tongs nearly every second, both men working away with all the strength they possessed.

There has seldom been seen a battle where the issue was more in doubt. In one round it would be Sullivan and in the next McGovern. McGovern, knowing that the fight meant his position in the front rank, was after his man every second. In the majority of the rounds he was on the aggressive, and Sullivan was forced to do more defensive work than his opponent. He put up a wonderful fight, however, was game to the core, and lost more through a blunder of his own in the fifteenth than because he was knocked out. When the finish came, however, he was groggy and going fast. The chances are that he would not have lasted many more rounds, even had he risen to his feet before Fitzsimmons counted 10.

There were loud cheers as Bob Fitzsimmons stepped through the ropes to referee the preliminary event, and urgent calls for a speech. After some hesitation, Fitzsimmons advanced to the ropes and said:

"I suppose you know I am matched to fight Mr. Jeffries some time in May. I shall train as I have never trained before, and will do my best to do him." This was greeted with howls of applause.

A Big Legacy Fee.

London, Feb. 24.—The death of old Lord Fitzwilliam will make a very great difference to his grandson, Lord Milton, the successor to the title. GERMS of GRIP and all such disorders as pneumonia, bronchitis, colds, lung trouble and incipient consumption, make their successful attack when the cells of the body can't throw them off.

Now you will make a mistake if you think you can guard against the attack of these germs by alcoholic stimulation or drugging. You will only suffer a worse depression after and leave the vital parts of your body more unprotected to these terrible germs.

"For the last four years my lungs were affected, and medical skill had determined that my case was hopeless. Early this spring an attack of La Grippe threatened to bring my life to a sudden close. I then commenced using Ozone. "The New System of Curing Diseases." The first bottle gave relief, and after using several bottles, my lungs were quite restored. The night sweats ceased, and my condition improved.

"My recovery is a marvel to all who know me, and I thank God for it. I wish you, sirs, much success with this medical wonder, and will warmly recommend at all times. Yours very truly, Gordon McDonald, 421 McLeod Street, Ottawa, Ont."

CANADIAN JOURNALS

PRINCIPAL GRANT ON PRIVILEGES AND DUTIES OF THE PRESS.

How Far Canadian Newspapers Meet the Ideal Stated by Thomas Carlyle—Are Its Conductors the Kings and Clergy of Which He Spoke?—Functions of a Good Paper.

"The Defects of Canadian Journalism and How to Cure Them," was the subject discussed at Queen's Alumni Conference at Kingston, on Wednesday, 5th Feb. Principal Grant and Prof. Shortt were the chief speakers. Principal Grant first asked, "What kind of equipment should one who writes on this subject have?" The answer was, three qualifications —a wide knowledge of Canadian newspapers; some experience in writing for them; some acquaintance with publishers, editors and reporters, and a sympathy with Canadian conditions and aims. He should also have some knowledge of the English-speaking world, so as to be able to judge camparatively instead of from a fanciful standard of his own. And he should also have a clear conception of the idea of the ideal of which the press is the expression. Principal Grant asked how far he himself was equipped in these respects, and pointed out that in regard to the first two he had a fair amount of knowledge, and as to the third he agreed generally with Carlyle.

Kings and Clergy.

Here he quoted from three works of Carlyle in which his views were given: "Sartor Resartus," "the journal published by Froudo" and the essay on "Signs of the Times." In these Carlyle says that journalists are now the true kings and clergy; that they are weaving the organic filaments of a new and higher social state; that the only sovereigns in these days are the literary men. Were there any such in Britain? That the true Church of England at this moment lies in the editors of its newspapers. This, the Principal said, presented the loftiest conceivable ideal of journalism. It may be considered extreme and one-sided. It ignores the preacher altogether, forgetting the immense influence on his flock of the faithful priest or minister, the influence of personality, the influence of the human voice and the sanctions to believing souls of the revelation from God, the author of which the preacher invokes. Still it is certain that whereas once the clergyman, considered the greater part of life as his, times have changed. Preachers to-day are restricted, as a rule, to the narrow field of undisputed religious truth, whereas the journalist lays all life under contribution, and the mass of men read nothing else unless it be popular novels. The journalist, therefore, according to the power in him to reach men's minds, forms those currents of opinions which take shape in Government policies, in the tone of our thinking and conversation, and in the whole of modern life and its institutions. Admittedly this ideal is seldom before the mind of the journalist. Ordinary publishers have no such lofty ambition. The paper is their property, to be managed on business principles, and, like other business men, they rather resent the criticism of outsiders who talk of ideals. Courtesy forbids answering, as Samuel Johnson answered that plea, "I do not see the necessity;" but we may point out that if journalism exists only to provide a living for certain publishers, printers, writers and "devils," it can hardly be considered a blessing, and it cannot satisfy the reason and conscience of an educated and moral people. But just as the church grew from lofty thoughts and therefore attracted to its service the best minds of ages, from rich and poor alike, we are to find its true ideal, not in men like Friar Tuck, but in the conception of those who originated it and who are still its bulwarks and glory; so it is with the press.

Functions of a Good Paper.

Next, what may be legitimately considered to be the functions of a good newspaper in Canada? First, its function "is to inform, not to rule the people." "It should be an open forum for public discussion." "The articulate voice of the plain, unorganised and unsubsidized people." How far, the speaker asked, does Canadian journalism fulfill this function? It is hindered by party affiliations and by the growing power of capitalism, which can bring influence to bear on every commercial enterprise, which the unorganized public cannot command. Admitting this, is there still with us a free press, or the admission on the part of every paper that it is first and foremost an organ of the public? To a certain extent there is such a press in Canada, not to the same extent as in Britain, chiefly because there is not here such an educated, tolerant, liberty-loving public as there is there. Principal Grant gave illustrations to prove his position on this point, and went on to say that as the press mirrors the condition of the public in order to improve it, the public must be improved. That takes time. It is also clear that the position that a newspaper is not first of all a commercial enterprise involves a responsibility from which no respectable paper can escape. What does this involve? Not that every Tom, Dick or Harry has the right to claim as much space as he likes in its columns for his views, but that the paper shall (1) give space, not as a courtesy, but as a right, to different opinions, so long as these are expressed with reasonable brevity, and (2) that it shall employ upon its staff, as far as its means allow, men competent to ascertain public opinion and to report it, not in the slang of the street, but in good English. This duty it owes to our noble English speech and to clearness of thought. Uneducated reporters make use of vulgarisms to hide their ignorance; they are unable to write well because of limited vocabulary and indistinct conceptions. Hence the best papers now take pains to get competent reporters and correspondents at almost any price.

Policy of the Times.

The most successful paper in this is The London Times. It had at the same time on its staff the American art critic, Stillman, as its correspondent at Rome; an Austrian or cosmopolite, de Blowitz, at Paris; an Australian, Dr. Morrison, at Pekin; an English woman, Miss Shaw, as its writer on colonial affairs; a Canadian, Dr. Parkin, as occasional correspondent; the inevitable Scot, who bore the name of Macdonald, and representatives of other nationalities. The speaker quoted from Stillman's book, recently published, "The Autobiography of a Journalist," a striking testimony to the value of the press, and the free hand allowed him by The Times. The chief papers in the cities of Britain and the United States now look to the universities to supply them with such competent men. How can the universities give the best training for journalists? Not by a special course, but by their honor work in literae humaniores, with an outlook into modern science, and then letting them get their clinics in newspaper offices. The small number of graduates on the Canadian press, Principal Grant said, is because journalism in Canada offers so little opportunity of rising to anything. Gordon Waldron, B. A., editor of The Farmer's Sun, says that there is not in all Canada a dozen positions in journalism worth more than that of a good bookkeeper, but that in the country it has a bright side, as it gives ready entrance into public life and holds forth the prospect of public office. The Principal agreed with Mr. Waldron in this, and urged that there is here a field still open for university men possessed of independence of character, vigor of initiative, willingness to work and a small capital.

A Guide to the People.

Another function we have a right to ask from Canadian journalism, said the Principal, is that it should guide as well as inform the people. We are just beginning to be entrusted with international relationships, and therefore need the guidance of unselfish, thoughtful and statesmanlike men, who will deal in advance with the large questions which are coming upon us, and so prepare us for Governmental action. This function is not being well discharged now. There is too little of that high political debate which is required, and the reason is that we have few writers well read in constitutional, political, ethical or economic science. The financial poverty of many Canadian papers prevents them getting such writers, and one reason of this is the oversupply of newspapers to our population compared to Britain. For instance, Edinburgh, with 800,000 people, has only one morning daily (The Scotsman), while Toronto has three, and nothing shows the tolerance of opinion there, and the determination of the people to have only the best article, better than the fact that though Edinburgh is represented in parliament by Gladstonians, The Scotsman is aggressively Unionist and anti-Boer.

The failure of Canadian Journalism to educate the people is the cause of our undignified treatment of large questions. The press has not created that sound opinion which is indispensable to wise legislation. The United States press is even more guilty in this respect. Hence the levity with which the people and Congress treat the most momentous questions. Principal Grant gave illustrations of the way in which Canadians are the victims of false and feverish gusts of opinion because of the unbalanced condition of the public mind. Asking, how shall we cure this defect? he answered: "I have no Morrison's pill for it. The defect comes from our immature condition, and can be cured only by a sounder training of the people, less self-laudation, and a higher sense of duty among our statesmen." The Principal appealed to Canadian journalists to do their portion in this great work. The last question put in the address was: Wherein does the newspaper differ from literature? Admitting that a hard and fast line cannot be drawn between them, the speaker said that while the newspaper deals with the fleeting, literature deals with the permanent. Not that there is a fundamental dualism between these, because essentially the one is the reflection of the other.

Privileges and Duties.

Principal Grant's closing remarks were as follows: "Seeing that the material with which the newspapers deals reflects what is of very permanent significance in human life and in the best interests of the country, the journalist may well be filled with an inspiring sense of the dignity of his profession. We have the right to demand much from him, because much is given to him, and so much flows from the spirit in which his power is exercised. The fact that he is allowed the shelter of anonymous writing, even when attacking persons, imposes upon him the obligation to cultivate self-restraint, the spirit of honor, and that British fair play which should be dear to all her children. That such a spirit is not always found, even in the press of the United Kingdom, Mr. Leckie emphatically declares in his last book." After quoting from Mr. Leckie, Principal Grant added: "This is a saddening indictment, for few will venture to say it does not apply also to Canada. It can, indeed, be pleaded on behalf of the British Government that at any rate it does not circulate daily tons of such poisonous stuff as Mr. Leckie describes, free or at nominal cost, while imposing high postal rates on the monthly and quarterly magazines, which are written from beginning to end by men of philosophic and scientific minds for thinking people."

FUTURE PROVISION.

There are two periods in a man's life, when in the natural course of things, he is unable to take care of himself—his childhood and his old age. During the whole of our lives we are consumers; during middle life only we are producers. It is therefore the aim of every man to put by enough during middle age, so that he will have an independent income for his old age. But, under ordinary circumstances this is often a hard thing to do. Men at that time of life generally find themselves with a family to provide for; perhaps their whole income is required to meet the household expenses, and it is impossible to find a remunerative investment for their small annual savings.

An Imperial endowment policy, as issued by the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, Toronto, is an ideal investment for a man in this position. Should he die at any time the insurance will provide for his family and leave them in an independent position. At the same time he is providing an income for his old age, which will enable him to end his days in comfort. With an "Imperial Endowment Policy" a man need have no fear for his own future, or the future of his wife and family.

Famous Abductions.

Marriage by abduction was by no means uncommon in the early ages. The daughter of the king of Argus was abducted by a Phœnician. The Greeks carried off Europa from Tyre and Medea from Colchis.

Next to the abduction of the fair Helen, perhaps the most remarkable in its political consequences was the King of Leinster's taking away of the wife of a neighboring petty sovereign, O'Rourke of Breffni.

The king of Connaught avenged the insult and drove from the throne his brother of Leinster, who appealed to Henry II. of England for aid to recover his lost sovereignty. The Norman conquest of Ireland followed, with long centuries of war and devastation.

A Great Increasing Army.

Composed of men and women that spend heart and soul in the vain effort to overcome a lack of vigour in the body. To replace inertia by vigour, to make good, red, blood, that will build up the system, to have strong nerves, you must eat more, assimilate more. How can it be done? By using Ferrozone. It invigorates, strengthens, possesses magical health giving powers. Get Ferrozone today and make yourself strong and well.

A Tough Negro.

Stories of brute toughness and Homeric endurance are tenderly preserved in the folklore of the water front —how, for instance, Scipio Flanagan, "the biggest nigger in the business," supported the entire weight of an immense packing case, weighing upward of 1,800, on his prostrate body. The negro held the hand truck to receive the case, which in the hands of half a dozen men was being balanced at just the right angle to slip into place. But it hit the edge of the truck and knocked it away, and the negro unluckily lost his footing and fell flat with the great box on top of him. He shrieked in terror and groaned, it was said, like a siren whistle, but when a gang of fifteen men lifted the thing bodily and pulled him out all he did was to screw his fists into his eyes like a big child, stretch his long limbs grotesquely and return to work. Of course he talked about this feat for many a day.

Five Views of a Man.

A healthy man, a man with a cough, a man with congested lungs, a man in consumption, a dying—now dead man. All from neglecting, when the cough started, to take Four T's, the great guaranteed one day cough and cold remedy. Price 25c a bottle at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

A Sad Lot.

Newitt—Yes, old Goodsman's three boys are a bad lot. Two of them at least ought to be in jail.

Brown—Some redeeming quality about the third one, eh?

Newitt—Yes; he's already there.

2. Customers' notes, (same as above) maturing in 1902 and guaranteed by Vendors to produce in cash	75,000.00

Railways. Private switches from both railways enter the shops.

The buildings, which are of the most substantial character, in stone and brick, were built under Mr. John Abell's personal supervision, and are well adapted to the requirements of the business carried on upon the largest scale proposed. The land is sufficient for large additions to the shops when required.

The whole property, including plant and equipment, is in excellent repair and of sufficient capacity to produce several times the present output.

The Directors have quite recently (Feb. 6) secured a further Report from an experienced expert as to the property, plant, machinery, valuations, etc., which fully bears out the above statements. All Reports and Certificates may be seen by intending subscribers, at the Solicitors' office.

The Abell business is one of the oldest and best known in Canada, having been established by Mr. John Abell in Woodbridge in 1845. The present shops occupy the best site in the City of Toronto for economical manufacture and distribution.

PROFITS.

The business, although operated on conservative lines in the past, owing entirely to lack of working capital, has been very profitable, as will be seen from the following Certificate issued by the two well-known auditors, Messrs. John M. Martin and Harry Vigeon:—

To the Board of Directors, The John Abell Engine and Machine Co., Limited:—

Gentlemen:—We have examined the books of the John Abell Engine and Machine Works Company, Limited, for the four years ending 31st October, 1901, and CERTIFY that the Net Profits, after proper charges for repairs had been made, including interest on borrowed Capital and interest earned on Customers' Notes, were as follows:—

For the year ending 31st October,	1898	$37,333.67
" "	1900	28,300.45
" "	1900	27,466.77
For the year ending 31st October,	1901	59,647.26

Yours faithfully,

JOHN M. MARTIN, F.C.A.
HARRY VIGEON, F.C.A.

Toronto, December 23rd, 1901.

Interest paid on borrowed capital has been included in the above statement of profits, and its equivalent will, in future, go to the Shareholders who will supply the capital.

The profits of the first three years given would be equal to a DIVIDEND OF TEN PER CENT. IN THE OLD COMPANY, while those of the past year WOULD EXCEED 15 PER CENT.

It is worth while noting particularly that the PROFITS OF THE PAST YEAR would pay very large dividends EVEN IN THE NEW COMPANY—SEVEN PER CENT. ON THE PREFERENCE STOCK issue of $400,000 and MORE THAN 13 1-2 PER CENT. on the Common stock issue of $250,000.

The reason for anticipating large dividends on the new Stock issue, with ample working capital and capacity to fill all orders, will be clear when it is stated that the ORDERS for equally profitable work left UNFILLED at the END OF LAST SEASON were considerably MORE THAN THE ORDERS WHICH WERE FILLED and which produced the large profits of $59,647.26.

A careful analysis of the accounts for the several years shows that the net profits increase in much greater proportion than the volume of trade. While this may apply to manufacturing concerns generally, it is more marked in the present case, where the property is already fully equipped for quite four times the past trade, where the superior quality of the product and the reputation of the manufacturers are such that MORE THAN FOUR TIMES THE PAST TRADE IS AVAILABLE with little additional effort, and where there is practically nothing to be added beyond the necessary capital.

On double the average output of the first three years mentioned above it is estimated that the profit and loss charges would increase only about $4,000. On ONLY DOUBLE, the average trade therefore of these years the profits should exceed $120,000.

This sum, $120,000, would provide the following:

Dividend on $400,000 Preference Stock at 7 per cent., ...	$28,000
Dividend on $250,000 Common Stock at 10 per cent., ...	25,000
Leaving a balance for Reserve Fund, contingencies, dividends, etc., ...	$37,000

On double the output of the year 1901, or in other words, upon filling ONLY THE ORDERS ACTUALLY RECEIVED during the year 1901, the Company should make a profit of more than $120,000.

This sum $120,000 would provide the following:—

Dividend on $400,000 Preference Stock 7 Per cent....	$28,000
Dividend on $250,000 Common Stock at 10 per cent..	25,000
Balance for Reserve Fund, contingencies, further dividends, etc.....	67,000

ATTENTION IS DIRECTED PARTICULARLY TO THE FACT THAT THE ABOVE ESTIMATES ARE BASED ON ACTUAL EXPERIENCE AND ARE NOT THE USUAL MERE GUESS WORK.

That the year 1901 is not very exceptional, and that the trade can be easily more than doubled in ordinary times will be evident from the following fact, namely, that the signed orders unfilled in each of the three years preceding last year were as follows:—1898, $58,819; 1899, $44,220; and 1900, $61,795. IN THE YEAR 1901, AS STATED, THE ORDERS RECEIVED WERE MORE THAN DOUBLE THOSE WHICH WERE FILLED. When the time was reached in each year that no more orders would be received, the agents were notified of the fact, or otherwise the amount WOULD HAVE BEEN MORE THAN DOUBLED EACH YEAR. The figures given refer to the Canadian trade alone, but a very profitable foreign trade has been offered and can be obtained if desired.

The Company's property is so well equipped for several lines of staple machinery used in all sections of Canada, that the business should be very little affected by local causes.

It will be needless to point out that a large saving will be effected by buying for cash, operating on a larger scale, and by more active and aggressive management, under a Board of Directors composed largely of experienced men connected with our best known and most successful manufacturing industries.

It will be sufficient evidence of the superiority of the Abell Engines and Machinery to say that since 1876 they have been awarded TWENTY-NINE FIRST PRIZES, INCLUDING THIRTEEN GOLD MEDALS — WINNING THE FIRST PLACE IN EVERY CONTESTED TRIAL IN CANADA FOR PORTABLE AND TRACTION ENGINES. They have secured, also, a first position in all foreign competitions entered, including those of the CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION IN 1876, and the WORLD'S FAIR AT CHICAGO IN 1893. (See Catalogue for details.)

The Abell Engines and Machines have been selected by both the Dominion and Ontario Governments for use on their Experimental Farms throughout Canada.

Canada is fast becoming one of the greatest grain growing countries of the world, and as the country advances the Abell business must increase. The entire output consists of staple lines, connected with the staple industries of the country—Agriculture, Flour-Milling, Mining and Timber.

The Manitoba and North-West trade has proved to be exceedingly profitable, and the grain growing area of these districts is rapidly increasing. The Company has a large share of the best trade of these sections of Canada, and should have no difficulty in holding its position. There is a very profitable agency at the City of Winnipeg, and reliable agents are located at the chief centres in Manitoba and further west.

The Company will own a number of valuable patents and exclusive licenses, covering machines and parts which are almost indispensable to all up-to-date threshing outfits.

Mr. John Abell is a practical machinist, and the originator of the modern Traction and Portable Engine, used for Threshing purposes. He is the owner of a large number of Canadian patents, all of which will be turned over to the new company.

One of Abell's new engines, (1898) "The Cock o' the North," is proving to be the best yet produced, and a very large sale is assured, especially in the older sections of Canada.

One of the most profitable machines turned out by the Company is a straw-burning Traction Engine, specially designed for the Manitoba and the North-West trade.

The orders coming in for the above Engines and Threshers alone should soon employ more than double the present entire staff of the shops, working the whole year.

The Flour Mill Machinery Department has proved to be profitable, and can easily be extended.

Some of the best Boilers in the country have been manufactured by the Abells, such as those at the Gooderham and Worts' Distillery, The Ontario Parliament Buildings, and The Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co.'s works, at Fernie.

The machinery sold by the Company is paid for, as a rule, one-third cash in the first four months, one-third the second season, and the balance during the third season. The contracts are settled by notes, bearing good rates of interest, and liens are held on the machinery until paid for, and as a rule mortgages on farms are obtained also.

In the past, the Company has employed not more than 175 hands during the busy season, while the shops are quite large enough for several times this number.

The above gives only a very imperfect idea of the nature and variety of the Abell manufactures, and of the character of the property. Intending subscribers are referred particularly to the Company's new illustrated Catalogue, which will be forwarded on application.

APPLICATION FOR SHARES MAY BE MADE ON THE ACCOMPANYING FORM AND FORWARDED TO THE COMPANY OR TO THE SOLICITORS OR BANKERS, AT ANY OF THEIR BRANCHES IN CANADA, WITH THE DEPOSIT OF TEN PER CENT.

CHEQUES, DRAFTS, MONEY ORDERS, ETC., ARE TO BE MADE PAYABLE TO THE NATIONAL TRUST COMPANY, LIMITED.

The right is reserved to reject or reduce the amount of any application, and subscription carries with it an agreement to accept the reduced amount.

In case of an over-subscription, the Directors reserve the right to make allotments first to subscribers for a small number of shares.

Copies of this Prospectus, and Subscription forms, may be had on application to the Company, or to the Solicitors or Bankers, at any of their branches throughout Canada.

Dated February 14th, 1902.

N.B.—The Directors, after careful consideration of a probability of a large over-subscription for the preference stock and also for the unusual opportunity for the use of further working capital in meeting the volume of trade offered, have decided to offer now for subscription the balance of the preference stock, making the whole issue of preference stock $500,000.

(Cut out and forward this or copies thereof to the Company, or to the Solicitors, Bankers, or National Trust Company.)

A MERITED TRIBUTE.

Our Own Experience of the Comforts of Travel on the Grand Trunk.

The Ladies' Journal had occasion to visit Chicago recently on a matter of business. We travelled by the Grand Trunk Railway, leaving Toronto to the minute at five o'clock in the evening, schedule time, and arriving in Chicago at 7.20 the next morning, right to the moment according to the time table. In fact, during the whole journey we could step right off the train into the darkness at the moment we were timed to stop at any particular station, feeling sure we would reach the platform without any mistake. This, too, in the midst of quite severe winter weather when the track of the railway, as a rule, is not always in the best of condition. The Journal has ridden on most of the great trunk lines in America and finds that the Grand Trunk main line between Toronto and Chicago is equal to the best of them.

The train itself was a marvel of luxury and convenience. The dining car's beautifully shaded electric lamps on each table, revealed the whitest and finest of linen, cutlery of the best and china of the daintiest pattern. The service was altogether everything that could be desired. The servants of the Company are courteous and obliging but not obsequious.

We observed that the train, both in going and returning, was filled about to its capacity, most of the upper berths being taken and all of the lower ones. This was no special occasion, simply ordinary every day travel. We give this brief notice of the Grand Trunk from our pride in our grand national highway, and out of the fullness of our heart for such a comfortable, safe, and speedy journey. Moreover, we were not travelling on a pass. — Toronto Ladies' Journal.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. W. H. Gordon.

After a period of severe daily suffering extending over five weeks, Mrs. Margaret E. Gordon, wife of Mr. W. H. Gordon, of the grocery firm of Kernaghan & Gordon, breathed her last on Sunday morning. The end came suddenly at the last, the exhausted energies collapsing while the frail tongue was uttering blessings on her family, and singing familiar hymns.

Mrs. Gordon was a daughter of the late Walter Ainslie, of Peterborough, and was 36 years of age when she died. She leaves to mourn her early departure, a sorrowing husband and three sadly bereaved young children, aged respectively 4, 7, and 14 years. The deceased was a member of St. Paul's church, and lived a pure and consistent life. She was a self-sacrificing and devoted wife and mother, and, until the past four years, when her physical troubles first began, she was energetic and active in her home and social life. She was a member of the Order of Chosen Friends, and carried an insurance with the local Lodge.

The friends of Mr. Gordon will sympathize with him in the loss of his young and faithful partner, who has been taken from him just at a time when his young family most needed her careful training and wise counsels.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, No. 136 London street, on Tuesday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock, to the Little Lake cemetery.

LATE JOHN DELANEY.

He Passed Away Last Night at the age of 86 Years.

In the death of John Delaney, which occurred at the family residence, corner of Brock and Downie streets, last night, Peterborough loses one of its oldest and most highly respected citizens.

Notwithstanding his advanced age the deceased was in good health until Wednesday of last week, when he was stricken with paralysis, which a few days later carried him away.

The late Mr. Delaney was a native of Tipperary, Ireland, and came to Canada when a young man, settling in Peterborough. He has resided here ever since. After being engaged in business for many years, in which he was very successful, he retired about 25 years ago.

The late Mr. Delaney was married to Miss Ellen O'Donnell, a native of Ireland, and a niece of Rev. Father Butler. A widow and a family of seven survive him. They are Mrs. (Dr.) Ward, Montreal; Mrs. R. W. Muncaster, Charleston, S.C.; Mrs. W. J. Morrow, and Miss Alice, of town; John, of Denver; Dr. W. J., of Nantucket, Conn.; and T. J. of Denver, Col. He had no other relatives in America, excepting a married sister in the States. The deceased was a man, who, though he never identified himself with any public office, or societies of any kind, was intimately known to a wide circle of friends. He was a Roman Catholic in religion, and a Liberal in politics. He was noted for being broadminded and strongly discouraged bigotry, and a striking feature of his life was the exceptionally large circle of staunch Protestant friends he always won to his side. He was genial and kind, and more charitably disposed than most people were aware of, for many persons can testify as to his generosity of spirit and kindness of heart.

The funeral will take place at 9 o'clock on Wednesday morning to the Roman Catholic burying ground for interment.

VERY SAD DEATH.

A Promising Young Daughter of Rev. C. L. Thompson Passes Away.

The public will sympathize very deeply with Rev. C. L. and Mrs. Thompson on the loss they have sustained by the death of their promising young daughter, Miss L. Constance. Her untimely end occurred at the Nicholls Hospital yesterday after a very brief illness of typhoid which developed into peritonitis. She was only removed to the hospital on Saturday. The deceased was 23 years of age and was a most promising young woman. By her bright and cheerful manner, and her earnest Christian life, she became a great favourite amongst her fellow-workers in the Sunday School and church, and amongst others with whom she was thrown in contact. Her sudden and untimely demise will come as a severe shock to her many friends all of whom will join in extending to Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson their sincere sympathy.

The funeral will take place from the parsonage, Ashburnham, on Tuesday at 3.30 o'clock, and proceed to Little Lake Cemetery.

DEATH OF HERBERT PAXTON.

Whitby, Feb. 22.—The death in Tucson, Arizona, of Herbert Paxton, eldest son of Sheriff Paxton, is announced this afternoon. His parents received word a few days ago that he was dangerously ill with pneumonia, and his father immediately left to see him, but would not reach his bedside in time. The deceased was a promising young man. He learned the hardware business with Gross & Granger here, was employed for a few months in T. Eaton's, Toronto, and only left there last September to engage in silver mining with his uncle in Arizona. The news of his death will come as a great shock to his many friends here and in Toronto, with whom he was a great favourite.

Mr. Paxton was a nephew of Mrs. Dr. Eastwood, of town.

Impeding the Highway.

The sidewalk in front of R. Fair & Co's store to-day was not of much use to pedestrians. Some thirty-four formidable cases of new goods had arrived in town, via steamship "Pretoria," from Glasgow, and almost barricaded the entrance to the Golden Lion, and impeding traffic for part of the day. But it's "Fair's way" as usual.

ARM TAKEN OFF.

Mr. James Wood Jr. Met With a Rather Peculiar Accident.

James Wood, jr., whose home is near Keene, met with an accident on Friday, which necessitated the amputation of his right arm, above the elbow. It was a rather peculiar accident that befel Mr. Wood. He was engaged in cutting some straw from a stack, with a knife that is used for that purpose. The portion of the stack on which he was standing gave way, and Mr. Wood fell, alighting partially on top of the sharp instrument. His arm was badly cut, and Dr. Shaw, who attended him, advised his removal to the Nicholls Hospital. After a consultation between Drs. Halliday, Shaw and Young, the arm was amputated last night.

The patient is now doing as well as might be expected.

HEAVY FINE.

An Omemee Man Who did Illegal Fishing was Brought to Time.

The authorities throughout this district and the fisheries' overseers are determined to make it interesting for those who have been violating the Ontario Fish and Game Laws. It is a well known fact that illegal fishing has been going on for some time in the lakes and rivers of Peterborough county, but it is another matter to convict the guilty parties. The practice has gone on to such an extent, however, and the violations have of late been done so openly that war will be carried on to the fullest extent against the parties suspected of such illegal proceedure.

This morning Ed. Dancy, of Omemee, appeared in the police court charged with offering 'lunge for sale in town. Through his solicitor, Mr. W. A. Stratton, K.C., he pleaded guilty and was fined $30 and costs amounting in all to $36.00. In passing sentence Police Magistrate Dumble said that had he the privilege of placing the amount of fine he would have made it $50.

It is alleged that Dancy did his illegal fishing near Cowan's bridge, Pigeon Creek. It is one of the best places in the country for one to indulge in this illegal sport, and it is said that as much as 17 large maskinonge an hour have been taken out.

CARPENTERS' UNION.

It Will Meet This Evening—The Programme for the Meeting.

A member of the Carpenter's Union contributes the following:—

Carpenter's Union, No. 672, meet to-night.

Under the present management of the Union a profitable and widespread influence will be energetic carried out this spring and summer. It will be a wise move on the part of all qualified wood-working mechanics to belong to the union. We do not urge this to cause any dissension between employees and contractors. On the contrary, what we want is to try and educate our contractors into union principles in the employment of all good union men who are qualified to earn a good fair day's pay. Our apprenticeship system in carpenter work is abused, and is a thing of the past, why? Simply because there has been neither head nor tail to management of our craft as regards working of journeymen.

I think the majority of the right-thinking people will agree that in years gone by it was the rule for contractors to always engage apprentices and have them serve a term of at least three years for wages running from $3 to $5 per week, i.e., $3 per week for first year and $5 for third year, but now what do you see. The same state of affairs? No; but men who never worked a day at the trade starting out with a hammer and saw and a piece of a boot-leg with a wooden bottom nailed onto it to hold nails in, at $1.00 or $1.25 a day, and taking the place of men who have served their time for small wages. The time has come when we must understand one another and not go behind one another's back to do it either.

All learned professions have their unions and understand one another as regards finances, etc., and why not carpenters and joiners have the same?

The contractors of this town or any other town will not object, (without it is some crank,) to union principles as long as they are given fair notice as to the intention of what wages carpenters will expect to receive, so that they can figure on contracts accordingly.

We would earnestly advise all carpenters to avail themselves of the benefit of the union and try and advance our principles in brotherly and intelligent ways with all our coworkers.

The programme for to-night will be the consideration of a proposed debate,—Resolved "That a plumbers' union would be an assistance to carpenters." Mr. Boundy will champion the debate in plumber's interests, while Messrs. Geo. Kane and Robt. Ritchie will look out for carpenters' interests.—Communicated.

THE WATER RATES.

Some misunderstanding appears to exist in connection with the tariff of rates adopted by the Water Commissioners, certain citizens raising the objection that too great a discrimination is being made in favour of the larger consumers. As a matter of fact, the rate has not been changed in any particular since the town took over the waterworks system, and the figures are exactly the same as heretofore. The reason that the directors of the Water Company fixed the rates as per the schedule, was that in the case of the larger consumers of water, they would simply have put in pumps of their own rather than pay what they considered an exhorbitant price for their water privileges.

TOTAL ABSTINENCE NOTES.

A Total Abstinence Society to be Organized in Ennismore.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Spiritual Adviser of St. Peter's T.A.S., visited Ennismore Sunday and celebrated mass in St. Martin's church, after which he delivered a stirring temperance address to a large congregation, preparatory to organizing a total abstinence society in that parish next Sunday. It is understood that the organization will be affiliated with St. Peter's T.A.S.

For the information of those who wish to obtain copies of Rev. Father Murphy's temperance sermon recently delivered here, it might be stated that it will shortly be issued in pamphlet form.

At the last regular meeting of St. Peter's T.A.S. fully twenty members were initiated. At present there are nearly 1,200 members in the joint temperance societies of the Cathedral.

Considerable improvements are being made to the rooms of the society which will be completed in about ten days.

WAS SUNDAY SCHOOL DAY.

Anniversary Services at George Street Church.

Very Interesting Sermons by Rev. J. P. Wilson—The Special Music—To-night's Programme.

Anniversary services in connection with George street Methodist Sunday school and Grace Sunday school, were held yesterday, and will conclude this evening by a grand entertainment by the scholars in the body of the church. The services yesterday were very largely attended, and interesting special sermons, appropriate to the occasion, were preached by the pastor, Rev. J. P. Wilson.

The morning service was more particularly for the benefit of the younger members of the school, who were out in large numbers, although all the classes were well represented. Those not connected with the Sunday school work occupied the side pews and the gallery, while the centre seats were appropriated for the use of the Sunday school scholars and their respective teachers. At about 11 a.m., to the time of a pretty selection played by the organist, Mrs. Mowat, the scholars marched into the church, the members of the primary classes taking the lead, closely followed by the intermediate and senior classes. The capacity of the church was well taxed, and the children joined heartily in the singing. The music was in keeping with the nature of the service, and not the least delightful feature was the vocal solo by Master Mowat, the boy soprano, who sang "The Holy City" most excellently. Master Mowat's singing is particularly characterized by his plain articulation, and the calmness of his manner.

The pastor, Rev. J. P. Wilson, in referring to the presence of the Sunday school scholars, said that the youth of the church was gathered there, that the hope of the church and country was in the Sunday school and if we could only keep these thousands of young people in the work that are now engaged the world would be so much the better.

Continuing with his discourse, which was merely a bible talk, Rev. Mr. Wilson, spoke from the 22nd verse of the 11th chapter of 1st Cronicles. He took as his subject the words—"Also he went down and slew a lion in a pit on a snowy day." A vivid picture of the lion was related by the preacher. His manner was treacherous and cowardly. He went on to show that when the bible speaks of lions it was not necessarily the wild beast of the forest. God calls everything a lion that is an enemy to us, and he wanted men and women to fight these lions. The devil goes about like a lion and the lions which he wished to speak about were, a bad temper, untruthfulness, and disobedience. He urged them to conquer their tempers, and as to untruthfulness he said that everybody who lies is a coward or a thief. As to disobedience, the pastor told how that men went to jail for disobedience of the civil laws of our country. They are thus punished. How severe then should be the punishment to those who break God's laws. In conclusion he told them how they must be courageous if they were going to follow Christian lives.

In the evening the pastor took as his text, Cor. xiii, 11—"When I was a child." He compared infancy with manhood, and explained how our memory was gradually developed as we grew up. Paul, as he sat thinking, was carried back to the days of his childhood, and he was again in his native city, Tarsus, and saw his father busy at his trade of tent-making, and his young playmates round about. How great has a man to get before he can forget his early days, or how low in vice has he got to sink before the face of his mother and the remembrance of his infant days can be blotted out. What we see and learn in our childhood has a decided bearing on us when the real problems of life confront us.

So, then, we should be careful that helpful influences are thrown around the lives of the children who are coming up around us. The Sunday school is doing a great work, but it should be followed up by the influence of a pure Christian home. If a child is not given the benefit of a father's prayer or a mother's blessing, it goes out into the world handicapped, and has not the same chance as one who has known the guidance of those who have entrusted the life of the child to Him. Then, when old age creeps upon us, and we, like Paul, sit down and live for a few minutes our early life over again, the thoughts that come to us, if we have come up right, will be such as will bring our thoughts to God; but if they be of a wasted life, lived only for self, to where will our thoughts turn, or what will be the reward of the fight against God? "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

"ABELL'S" PROSPECTUS ISSUED

A Remarkably Frank and Straightforward Offer.

Readers of the Examiner and particularly those who are residents of Peterborough, will be pleased to find the present issue of this paper the long looked for prospectus of the John Abell business. Readers will observe that this prospectus meets fully the objections which have been urged recently against stock issues of this kind. Among the most commendable features of the prospectus are the exceedingly small capitalization, and the entire absence of "water" in the stock. Investors are assured not only that they are joining in the purchase of a business on a cash basis, but that they are also obtaining one of the most substantial and best known going concerns in the Dominion of Canada. For quite half a century the name of John Abell has been associated with agricultural machinery, and he has long been looked upon as the pioneer in engines and threshing machinery.

The property of the new company is unusually well located in a section of Toronto, where property is rapidly rising in value. The shops are said to be the finest of the kind in Canada, and the equipment equal to the best.

The Board of Directors is an exceedingly strong one, and nearly all have been selected by reason of their successful experience in the leading industries of the country. The subscription lists close at a very early date, and intending subscribers would do well to take advantage without delay of the opportunity offered.

The Local Team Leaves for Newmarket.

The Fraternal Spirit Existing Between Port Hope and Cobourg—Other Notes.

HOCKEY.

The local hockey team leaves tomorrow morning for Newmarket where they will play the return game with the team of that town in the intermediate series of the O.H.A. The team will be the regular seven and they are all in good condition. Quite a number of town people will go up to cheer the boys along.

"There is a prevailing opinion among local hockey critics and those interested in the advancement of the sport," says the Montreal Witness, "that so far this winter, the recognised standard of the game from a playing point of view, is considerably below the average of previous seasons. It is considered that the majority of the teams forming the senior as well as the intermediate leagues, are somewhat given over to unnecessary roughness and individual tactics of a character anything but conducive to the brilliant manipulation of the game.

"There are to-day hockey enthusiasts who do not hesitate to denounce the style and manner of play indulged in at present; in fact, there are some who go further, and state that the class of hockey that is being played at our rinks this season is slowly, but surely, killing the great game, and placing it before the public, whose sympathy and support are essential to its advancement and prosperity, as anything but clean and gentlemanly. This is unfortunate in the extreme, and probably much of the fault, if such there be, lies with the players themselves. This being the case is it not time to rectify matters, and let us have hockey in the future, in all its brilliancy and excitement? If the boys interested in the good old game were really cognizant of the existing state of affairs, and the adverse effects their unsportsmanlike tactics are having upon the public, they would surely try and mend matters and play the game in form and principle.

"Would it not be a good idea if the officials of the different clubs represented in the senior league were to investigate the cause of the present protest, and, if need be, guard themselves against the possibility of any accusations being laid at the doors of their respective teams or players? This would, undoubtedly go a long way to place the blame on the right shoulders, and relieve certain players suspected of indulging in tactics not in accordance with their well-known characters and dispositions as athletes.

"By all means let us have good, clean and scientific hockey, so that the public may become interested in the game as a natural sequence to the manner in which it is carried on.

"Players who acquire a name for roughness and mean play in the excitement of a keen contest are subjected to all kinds of humiliation and public condemnation, and it cannot be denied that such an unpopular relationship between spectators and players is detrimental to the best interests of the latter, not only in their athletic career, but also in their everyday life."

DON'T LOVE ONE ANOTHER.

It is amusing indeed to watch the good fellowship that exists between Port Hope and Cobourg in any line of sport. Why the authorities of these two towns allow teams to visit each other in supposed friendly games of lacrosse, hockey or the like, or why there is any desire on the part of either town to visit the other is more than the average person can understand. According to the story of the Port Hope people when they arrive home from Cobourg the players in the latter place are nothing short of murders or something of that like, whilst when a team of Cobourg men goes to Port Hope they come home with a like story. The papers of the town indulge in the same abusive language as is characteristic of the players, and personalities are very common. If Cobourg has such an opinion of Port Hope people as their papers and citizens say they have, and if the Port Hope people do not hold their neighbouring townspeople in any greater esteem than one would infer from reading the columns of their papers it should be a case of "Honey why don't you stay in your own back yard?" They should have nothing whatever to do with each other. When matters arrive at such a stage as papers having to indulge in personalities and stating that so and so is not a gentleman, it is about time to stop. Here is a sample of the style of journalism referred to. It is taken from the Guide merely for convenience, but that paper is by no means the only offender in this regard. The Guide in speaking of a recent game between Cobourg and Port Hope said:

"Cobourg won a game. The H. Ontarios went to Cobourg last (Thursday) night to play the return game, and were treated to a beautiful banquet of cross-checks, trips, slashes and kicks, with a dessert of bruised heads and battered ankles. It was thought by many in Port Hope, that Cobourg would give the boys a half decent show after being so well treated here last Tuesday, but no, win they must at any cost, and accordingly adopted the above mentioned tactics. Of course, when it is known that Charlie McCallum refereed, very few will marvel at the disgraceful action of the Cobourg players. He sustained his reputation of not knowing the game, or wilfully "throwing it into the visiting team," it doesn't matter how it is termed. For the sake of civilization he should have stopped the brutality. The whole Cobourg forward line, Turpin, Jake Brown, R. Brown and Rorsbeck, acted at times as though their senses had taken leave of them. There was hardly any choice as to who was the least dirty, but if any, R. Brown had that distinction, while his brother Jake, headed the list for mean, contemptible playing. The defence men, McKenna, Walker and Hooper were gentlemen, and played as such, but their habits could not atone for the actions of the others."

Continuing the Guide says: "Last night's exhibition was very similar to that of last year when Port Hope's best team played there. McCallum was referee that night also, and the visitors were just as badly used up.

The score on that occasion was 4 to 1 in favour of Port Hope, but they had to beat seven players and a referee. Last night the seven players were beaten, but the referee was too much for the visitors."

BASKET-BALL.

Those who witnessed the match on Saturday night between the Harriers and the Business College went home well satisfied—because it was competition from the outset. While the score was rather a one-sided one, yet the Harriers were kept on their mettle continually and were always in danger. Kemp, who has developed into a very accurate shot, was fed continually, so that he was able to start the scoring early in the game. Smith for the Business College had considerable trouble in getting past the defence of the Harriers as was so strongly evidenced.

The teams were as follows:

Harriers—(13) Dobbin, Campbell, defence; Laing, centre; Richardson, Kemp, forwards.

Business College—(6) Smith, Laing, forwards; Searight, Trollope, defence.

Umpires—Messrs. Rowley Merrill and Sandford Hall.

WORK ON LOCAL WATERS.

Annual Report of Mr. S. Clegg the Superintending Engineer.

Mr. S. Clegg, Superintending Engineer, makes the following report of the Trent and Newcastle District Works, to the Minister of Railways and Canals:

Sir,—As requested by you in your communication No. 2222, dated July 9 last, I have the honour to submit the following report on the works under my charge on the Trent River and the waters tributary to it, for the year ended June 30, 1901.

These works extended from the Bay of Quinte on the south to Balsam Lake on the north, a distance of about 170 miles. A glance at the map will show the immense number of small lakes that are in the counties of Peterborough, Victoria and the Haliburton district that empty into these waters. The Ontario Government has built and is building some large dams on the northern lakes to enable them to control the water in the spring and have a more even flow during the whole year. This will greatly assist navigation and prevent heavy spring freshets. Since taking charge of this work on the 1st of March last, the following work has been done:—

Little Lake, Peterborough — There are four piers and a two-stick boom about 1-2 mile long; the work of removing the old pier base and building a new pier at the west end of boom was completed. The pier is 22 feet by 22 feet base, 18 feet by 18 feet top, and 19 feet high, sheathed with two-inch plank to a depth of 7 feet on the west and south sides.

Katchawanooka Lake—The boom from Young's Point to Lakefield, distance of about 4 1-2 miles, was overhauled and repaired; new chains added where the old ones were defective, and the ends of the boom-sticks cut and rabored in places where the chains had drawn through the timber. Some of the anchors had to be moved.

Lovesick Lake—The boom had to be overhauled and quite a number of new chains put in.

Deer Bay—The boom was broken by the ice in the spring and had to be repaired. The ends were reboged, and some new chains provided to replace the defective ones.

Fenelon Falls—The boom was overhauled and placed in position, and 9 new stop-logs were put in the slide.

Buckhorn—Three piers were repaired and new tops put on them.

Mount Julian—Approach to wharf repaired.

Lindsay River—The work of dredging, started last year, could not be completed, on account of not being able to procure a dredge.

Otonabee River — The work of dredging and removing shoals from the river was completed, and the river greatly improved for navigation.

OTONABEE COUNCIL MEETING.

The auditors reported that they had pared the assessment roll with the collectors' roll, examined and checked each ratepayer's amount of taxes, the aggregate of township, county, school, statute labour and dog tax, equalled the amount of the roll, examined each item of receipt and expenditure for the year 1901, compared them with the vouchers, and found them correct. The vouchers were initialled and stamped as required by law. On motion the report was adopted, and the usual number ordered to be printed for distribution. A communication was received from the council of Douro asking the council to petition the Legislature to change the council act to the old system; no action was taken. The council discussed the advisability of purchasing another grader, but came to the conclusion not to do so until more of the statute labour was commuted, but will keep the grader at work all summer when weather and soil is favourable. The clerk was instructed to notify all pathmasters, and in the future the instructions will be embodied with the other instructions on the back of the road lists, to keep the roads in winter in their divisions in a fit condition for travel by clearing them after storms, by the removal of pitch holes holes, by digging down the edges and throwing the snow off the roads, not into the holes as loose snow, as it will scoop out again; also making turnouts where required, and make a return to the clerk of such work to be allowed for at the rate of eight hours a day, and to be applied to statute labour amounts, and that pathmasters will hold office until their successor is notified of their appointment. Council adjourned to 17th March.

A PANACEA FOR RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatism is treated with unfailing success at Mount Clemens, Mich. Seventy-five per cent. of Rheumatics are cured, and ninety per cent. benefitted by the Thermal Bath treatment. The bubbling springs are highly charged with mineral constituents and possess healing medicinal qualities that have proven so efficacious in diseases originating from uric acid. BRIGHT LITERARY EFFORT.

Miss Helen Lough of Cavan Makes a Reply to the "Islanders."

The Examiner has much pleasure in reproducing from the Toronto Globe a little poem, the author of which is known to many Peterborough people, and whose home is in Cavan. Miss Helen B. Lough, some few years ago a pupil at the local Collegiate Institute, and daughter of Mr. William Lough, of Cavan, comes to the front with a reply to Kipling's "Islanders," and her attempt to uphold the men who Kipling ridicules, will be heartily endorsed. This is not, it may be stated, Miss Lough's first literary effort, and her friends will be pleased to learn of the progress she is making in this particular line. The title of the poem is a "Reply to the Islanders," and is as follows:

O Kipling, far-famed Kipling, bard of the overseas,
We dance no more to the tune you pipe when you sing such words as these;
We bow the knee to genius as you write from your hidden den,
But we love you not when you slander old England's fighting men.

What if they sometimes stumble—they are staunch and brave and true.
Was he of Blenheim faultless, or he of Waterloo?
Saw you ever a coast indented where the waves unceasing break?
Saw you ever aught so perfect none could more perfect make?

We of the younger nations, we who can shoot and ride;
Who deemed it an honour to send our best to match with England's pride,
'Tis late, methinks, to tell us that there "they content their souls
"With flanneled fools at the wicket and muddled oafs at the goals."

O Kipling, far-famed Kipling, bard of the overseas,
Hedged by her millions, boundless love, well could she take her ease.
Recant the rhyming nonsense unworthy of your pen,
And leave the future of England to England's fighting men!

FOOD VALUES.

Valuable Canadian Contribution to a Much-Discussed Question by Prof. Ellis—What to Eat.

"The Chemistry of Food" was the subject of a very practical and interesting lecture by Prof. W. H. Ellis, of the School of Practical Science, delivered at the Biological Building of Toronto University on a recent Saturday afternoon.

Prof. Ellis, by the aid of the lantern, showed how the chemical values of foods were ascertained, and reviewed some important and interesting experiments to ascertain the relative building material and energy in different foods, used by men in various occupations. He took up the comparison of the oxidization of foods in the body to the combustion of fuel in the fireplace of the engine, and showed wherein the comparison was a good one, and wherein it failed.

Taking up various foods in order, a number of time-honored beliefs were rudely shattered. Oysters, which used to be considered such good food for invalids, were shown to have the lowest value of almost all foods, while extract of beef, it was declared, had no food value; except in so far as their was sediment in it. It was valuable only as an appetizer.

The chemical constituents of food are divided by the chemist into the proteids or protein and the carbo-hydrates. Protein is the lean part of all meats, which goes to build up the muscles of the body; in other words, the building material. The carbo-hydrates, such as the fats, sugars and starches, go to give energy to perform work. Meat, taking lean and fat together, had a large part of the material required by the body, while milk was an almost perfect food. Cheese contained large quantities of all the elements required. Eggs had also a high value, while the vegetables gave the chief supply of hydro-carbonates. Potatoes were desired by people chiefly to give them starch, and this starch was made more soluble by thorough boiling.

The fruits, it was shown, were very largely composed of water, and chiefly valuable as stimulating appetite and assisting digestion by their agreeable taste. The banana contained the most food of all the fruits, while the cucumber, the lecturer regarded, owing to its great proportion of water, as a vegetable form of drink. Nuts were good food, and especially rich in oils. The greatest amount of energy for the least amount of money could be got out of oatmeal, cornmeal and wheat flour.

The closing lantern slide consisted of a table, showing the amount of food value to be obtained for 25 cents in the purchase of different foods. The prices which this table presupposes are: Beef, sirloin, 18c. per lb.; beef, round, 15c.; mutton, leg, 20c.; salt fat pork, 12c.; turkey, 23c.; cheese, 12c.; beans, 5c.; cornmeal, 3c.; oatmeal, 4c.; wheat flour, 3½c.; oysters, 35c. per quart; eggs, 25c. per doz.; milk, 6c. per quart; potatoes, 50c. per bushel.

FOOD IN FRUIT SKINS.

Nutritive Qualities In Them Believed to Be a Brain Feed.

There are more nutritive qualities hidden in the skins of fruits, cereals and vegetables than the average person is aware of. In fact, the great bulk of the brain building foods are in the skins of the fruits and vegetables we eat.

If, as Savarin says, "the destiny of nations depends on their food," then the destiny, whether a healthy long life or insanity or suicide of every unit of the United States depends on how he or she is fed.

If the breed so much depends upon food, why should not every person capable of normal thought seek to procure such food as best sustains his or her normality? Brain starvation, through the lack of suitable brain and nerve nourishment in our daily food, is the sole cause of the craving for stimulants to supply, as they do, artificially and improperly what nature has provided in a natural form in the skin of the grape, which contains the best part of the wine; in the skins of all fruits and vegetables, and if not in the skins of the cereals, how comes it that stimulating properties are extracted from them, as the inner kernel, the starch, is devoid of anything other than a beat giver?

It has been proved by chemical analysis and demonstrated by microscopic experiments that the most valuable brain sustaining properties are resident in all skins of cereals, fruits and vegetables, and as an instance of the great difference to the health resultant from partaking or rejecting the skins here is an incident that occurred in India, as told by an Indian officer:

A regiment was stationed in a part of the country where grapes were the chief article of food. The officers, one after another, became so sick as to be invalided as unfit for service, but it being considered remarkable that the troops were all well a commission of inquiry was instituted, when it was found that while every trooper in eating grapes swallowed the skins the officers followed the fashionable habit of rejecting them. It was then ordered that the officers should swallow the skins, which was done, with the result that they immediately recovered.

Thus it will be seen that the skin of the grape, besides being a brain feeder, possesses other healthful and nutritive qualities necessary to the sustenance of the human body. The reason why asparagus, cabbage, string beans, lettuce, spinach and other green vegetables are so wholesome is that the skins are not rejected.

A FARMER'S TRIALS.

The Struggle Against Sickness is the Most Trying of all his Difficulties—With Good Health he can Conquer all Other Troubles.

No more courageous example of industry and untiring perseverance against many difficulties and uncertainties can be found than the case of the average farmer in the North-West of Canada.

Bred of a stock that refuses to be beaten these grand men are invincible and absolutely control the most adverse circumstances to their advantage and profit.

But in this struggle many a man forgets to husband his strength, making the greatest demands on their bodily strength, forgetful of the fact that some day there will come a day of reckoning.

Thousands of just such men eat and drink what they should not, and how they should not. They overlook the condition of their digestive organs till at last Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Bloating, Biliousness or Headache come to warn them that it is time to stop and consider.

Mr. Ferg. McGregor, of Carnduff, Assa., was troubled for years with his stomach. He could get no relief. Everything he ate gave him pain and distress.

Finally he was advised to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and from the day he commenced to use them he began to get better.

His Dyspepsia has disappeared, he enjoys his meals and his general health is much improved. He says, "Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets can be highly recommended for all forms of Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble. They have done wonders for me."

It is now absolutely unnecessary for anyone to suffer longer with any form of stomach trouble as it has been proven beyond doubt in thousands of cases that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will promptly relieve and permanently cure all such troubles.

Cases like that of Mr. McGregor are reported every day and the most rigid investigation always results in absolute confirmation of every detail published.

What has cured the most stubborn cases of dyspepsia in so many others should be worth a trial at least.

Boosting Comfortably.

"It wa'n't warm, but it was peaceful," says the man who lived in the chicken barn because his wife's relatives lived in the house. Thus the satisfaction of the mind transcends in importance the mere comforts of the body.—New York World.

OVER 1 000 CITIZENS SUE

Writ Issued at Osgoode Hall Containing Record Number of Names.

To be sued by the King is the unusual position of more than 1,000 loyal citizens of the City of Hamilton. A writ including more names than any other document of the kind was issued at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Jan. 28. The Hamilton residents are put down as "subsequent purchasers" of the property covered by a mortgage, which the King now seeks to foreclose. The writ is within two days of being 60 years old, and it is said that if it had not been issued until 48 hours later the claim would have been outlawed.

The endorsement on the record is as follows:

The plaintiff's claim is on a mortgage, dated May 30, 1853, made between Peter Hunter of Hamilton, of the Town of Hamilton, in the District of Gore, of the Province of Upper Canada, Esquire, one of the directors of the Desjardins Canal Co., as mortgagor to the Hon. John Henry Dunn, of York, in the Home District of the said province, his Majesty's Receiver-General of the said province, and for and on behalf of his said Majesty as mortgagee, and that the mortgage may be enforced by foreclosure.

Then follows: The plaintiff claims to be the mortgaged premises. These are given as 97 acres in the Township of Barton, and besides including part of the Mountain, takes in part of Bay and James streets.

The court adds: The plaintiff claims "that there is now due for principal money the sum of $20,000 and for interest the sum of $77,600," and says to the defendants, "You are liable to be charged with these sums, with subsequent interest to be computed at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum and costs in and by the judgment to be drawn up, and that in default of payment within six months of the judgment, your interest in the property may be foreclosed, unless there is filed a notice to this effect: 'We dispute the amount claimed by the plaintiff in this action.'"

Most of the defendants are the owners of the equity of redemption in the lands; the others, such as the Hamilton Street Railway Company, are encumbrancers of parts of the lands.

The announcement regarding the issuing of the writs against 1,000 citizens caused quite a sensation in legal circles in Hamilton. The mortgage held by the Government is 60 years old, and hasn't been looked on by the local lawyers as an existing mortgage, and many of the lawyers are busy explaining to their clients, who happen to be interested in the action, how it was that the instrument in question came to have been overlooked. Some of the legal gentlemen think the Government's object is to get rid of the mortgage, as it is a blot on the title of so much property held by citizens and not actually to enforce the foreclosure of the mortgage.

THE LAKE'S AWAKENING.

A Reminiscence of the Past Summer That May Cause Pleasure.

The shadow of a great darkness broods upon land and water, a darkness deepened by a mist as cold and clammy as a dead hand. There is no wind, and the invisible ripples follow each other in over the lake's black surface and kiss the sands in silence. The beach itself is almost invisible, the yellow sand stretching a faint streak of color to right and left till it vanishes in the blackness of the night. Presently, from somewhere back in the east, a faint glow steals up into the heavens, broadening and brightening as the moments pass. Suddenly the beach becomes visible, the trees stand forth ghostly in the half daylight. From the top of a scrub oak there sounds a sleepy, long-drawn out "c-a-a-w" where a crow is trying to say something before he is quite wide awake. This sound is followed by a plaintiff "peep, peep," from somewhere along the pebbly beach, and a spotted sandpiper runs down to greet the ripples. Back in the woods the chorus has begun, and birds are carolling everywhere their greeting to the new day. The darkness is all gone now, but the mist still hangs heavy over the lifeless waters. As the day brightens the land breeze wakes and stirs the tree tops and then descends to try conclusions with the fog, which it soon tosses in feathery vapors high in the air, where the sun's rays complete its undoing. The atmosphere clears rapidly, and the stakes of the pond nets are now visible. A heron stands like a sentinel on the nearest one, motionless save that his eyes are busy and his great beak is ready to transfix the first unlucky fish that ventures near. There are plenty of sandpipers now racing and rioting along the shore, while the birds in the trees are busy hunting their breakfast. The lake itself is waking up, the land breeze is fast clearing the air, and creaming the crests of the rising billows. As the fog finally lifts it reveals the outlines of two huge liners which have been crawling cautiously along all night, but which now signal full speed ahead, with belching funnels and throbbing engines. A little distance up the shore a thin thread of blue smoke appears, the breakfast camp fire of a near-by camp. There is just time for us to have a dip before the sun gets too high.

Smallpox Is Air-Borne.

Dr. J. F. Thresh, in a report to the Essex County Council, says The Cardiff Mail, enumerates 75 cases of smallpox attributed to the proximity of the Smallpox Hospital ships in the Thames. There has, he says, in these cases been no communication personally, and whenever smallpox has been under treatment on the hospital ships outbreaks of the disease have occurred. Similar contagion has been experienced on the opposite side of the Thames, indicating that the disease is airborne.

Woman is as Old as She Looks.

It is not age but disease, weakness and ill-health that makes women look old, care-worn and wrinkled. You cannot look your best unless you feel well, strong and vigourous, with pure, rich blood and steady nerves. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food makes good looks because it makes good health, restores the healthful glow to the complexion, rounds out the form and gives elasticity to every motion of the body.

CHARLESTON "LOST."

An Episode of the Telegraph After the Great Earthquake.

How powerfully the imagination may be stimulated by a story told in dots and dashes is illustrated by an episode of the Charleston earthquake, relates L. C. Hall. At the moment of the final shock every wire connecting Charleston with the outside world was instantly "lost." And as no other tidings could be had from the doomed city it was as if in an instant it had been swept from the face of the earth. And for many hours Charleston remained literally dead to the world.

The next morning before the average citizen had time to collect his wits the telegraph people had started out gangs of linemen to get the wires in working order. Operators in the principal offices within a radius of several hundred miles were set to calling "C. N." For a long time there was no response, but at last on the wire which I had in charge a slight answering signal was felt rather than heard—faint and flickering, like the first sign of returning life. From that moment my watch was, if possible, more diligent. For an hour or more I called, "Adjusted," and used every effort to revive the feeble pulse. I could fancy myself working desperately to resuscitate a half drowned man. Again I felt the flickering signal, and then once more all signs of life faded away. Finally as the wires were gradually cleared of debris the current began to strengthen, and then came the answering "i—i! C N," weak and unsteady, but still sufficiently plain to be made out.

To me it sounded like a voice from the tomb, and I shouted along the tidings that Charleston was still in existence. Quickly the sounder was surrounded by a throng of excited telegraphers. The Morse was broken and unsteady at first, then the current grew stronger—the patient was growing better—and for a long time we listened to the labored clicking, until at last the worst was known. And at the end of the recital a great sigh went out from the hearts of all of us, as if literally in our presence a long buried city had been exhumed.

Twenty Years of Bronchitis.

Captain Dunlop, of Kingston, commander of the steamer "Bohemian," of the R. & O. Fleet, suffered unceasingly for twenty years, and although he took treatment all that time permanent relief was not obtained until he took Catarrhozone, which cured him quickly and permanently. The Captain says that Catarrhozone is the best cure for bronchitis on the face of the earth, pleasant to use, quick to relieve and sure to cure." Catarrhozone is a wonderful treatment for all diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes. Two months' treatment price $1; small size, 25 cents. Druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Why Did They Abandon Pompeii?

At a period when newspaper discussions were rather vapid, despite the accredited appearance of the sea serpent and the arrival of the large potato, Max Nordau in an Austrian journal propounded a problem that should lead to useful inquiry:

Why was it that the inhabitants of Pompeii did not return to their homes after the destruction of the city?

Of the 30,000 inhabitants a few hundreds at most seem to have lost their lives. The eruption of Vesuvius lasted only a few days. The deposit of lava and ashes was not very thick. The houses might have been easily repaired. Many of them stand to this day. They were beautiful houses, many of them, richly appointed and containing valuables of great price. Had the Pompeiians no love of home, or were they too superstitious, or did their terrors at the eruption make them believe the disaster might come again?

Making Water In the Navy.

For many years after the close of the civil war water was not generally distilled in vessels of the navy except on long voyages. Later on medical statistics showed that in ships where distilled water only was used there was almost an entire freedom from dysentery and enteric fevers, while these disorders were more or less common in vessels that used water purchased in different ports. Gradually the practice of distilling water for drinking purposes became general, and now shore water is seldom purchased, the distilling plants of our ships being ample for all demands.

Our First Canal Lock.

The first canal lock built in America is preserved as a relic near the present site of the Soo canal. It was built by the Northwestern Fur company in 1700. It is 36 feet long and 8 feet 9 inches wide. It had a lift of nine feet and a depth of two and a half feet. During the war of 1812 it was badly wrecked. The early day fur companies used this little waterway to look down their small cargoes of valuable furs.

Pictorial Wash Lists.

Pretty old inventions are our modern wash lists. The old German housewife had an odd way of keeping track of the garments she gave out to be washed. She had a picture of each article and wrote down the number of everything opposite to it with a piece of chalk, which was rubbed out when the article was returned, to be used again the next week. It was really a pictorial and perpetual wash list.

NATURAL HISTORY.

Camels are the only animals that cannot swim.

A seal has been known to remain twenty-five minutes under water.

The starfish has no nose, but can smell with the whole of its under side.

The greyhound, which can cover a mile in 1m. 28s., is the fastest of quadrupeds.

Nearly all bottom sea fishes have the power of changing color at will, like chameleons.

A sea anemone, taken from the Firth of Forth in 1828, lived and flourished in captivity until 1887.

Horses, giraffes and ostriches have the largest eyes of land creatures, cuttlefish of sea beasts.

Grizzly cubs born in captivity are almost impossible to raise. Of twenty-three born at Cincinnati only one lived.

The Eskimo dog will eat almost any of the dried fruits. The sour or acid fruits, as the orange, lemon, lime, shaddock, etc., as well as the sour plums and the bitter olives, are rarely eaten.

To protect itself from the rain the orang outang crooks its arms over its head. The hair on the orang's upper arm points downward, while on the lower arm it points upward, the apparent purpose being to shed the rain like a thatch.

THE DANGER OF LOW VITALITY.

Severe Colds, Pneumonia, Consumption Find Easy Victims in Persons Whose Health is in Poor Condition—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

At no season of the year is a low condition of health more likely to lead to serious results than at the present time. With vitality running low, the blood thin and nerves exhausted, one is made susceptible to colds and catarrhs on the slightest exposure. Gradually a persistent cough, hawking and spitting, is established, and each severe cold is accompanied by chills, fever, pains in the chest, and sometimes spitting of blood.

This is the short and deadly road that leads to pneumonia, consumption and other deadly lung troubles, and the only sure method of avoiding them is to keep the general health just as near to the high-water mark as possible all the time. It is because of its remarkable influence as a system-builder that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has come to be so universally used as a means of increasing vitality and raising the standard of health.

There is no lesson which experience more strongly emphasizes than the importance of keeping the body well filled with health-giving vitality. When a weakened, run-down system is attacked by pneumonia, consumption, or even a heavy cold, there is small chance of ever shaking it off. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food instills into the blood the most potent blood-forming and nerve-invigorating elements which have ever been found in nature. You cannot possibly help but be benefited by this preparation, and even in long-standing cases of extreme debility and prostration there is good hope for recovery by the persistent use of this great food cure.

It is not wise to neglect the health at any time. Do not wait until you are completely exhausted and worn out before appealing to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Build up the system while yet there is some foundation to build on. Put new, rich blood in the shrivelled arteries, new vital energy into the nerves, and add firm flesh and solid muscles to the body, in order that in the day of trial, when attacked by disease, there may be some chance for fighting the great foe to human happiness.

Should you find yourself suffering from a cough, bronchitis, asthma, or any similar trouble, we can recommend you to use Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, believing it to be the most thoroughly effective treatment that you can possibly obtain. It has time and again proven its power over asthma, and affords the greatest relief even in the most serious cases of pneumonia and consumption.

While Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is aiding expectoration, clearing the choked-up air passages, healing and soothing the torn and ulcerated linings of the throat and bronchial tubes, do not lose sight of the value of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a means of restoring lost strength and vigour. It is a unique preparation of surprising effect as a blood and nerve restorative. Fifty cents a box, six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 4

HE FILLED THE BUCKET.

A Story of Grant When He Was a "Plob." at West Point.

There is a story told of General Grant when a pleb. He had just entered on his first day in "pleb." camp. A first classman who had noticed the boy's strong build intimated to him it would be a pleasure to have him call immediately at the senior's tent. Grant went. There is a rule at West Point, which was a rule then as well, that any cadet who asks another to perform menial labor for him shall be dismissed from the service. The first classman knew too much to ask his pleb. visitor outright to do anything of the kind, but here is the way he went at it:

"I presume, Mr. Grant, that you have lived on a farm, and, this being the case, you have had undoubtedly a good opportunity to note the effect of the sun's rays on certain objects. Now, if you had left a water bucket that was innocent of holding a single drop of the fluid out in the sun from its rising to its setting, what do you think, sir, would be the particular effect upon that particular water bucket?"

"I think," said Grant, "that it would get warped and leaky."

"Very good, Mr. Grant. You show erudition beyond your years. Now, if you will notice my water bucket, you will see that it is as dry as a chip. Now, by the further exercise of your knowledge, Mr. Grant, can you tell me by what means I may prevent the warping and leaking of my bucket?"

"Have it filled," said Grant.

"Very good again, Mr. Grant, but note that you said 'have it filled,' not 'fill it.' That necessarily means that some one must fill it for me. You have shown so much acumen that I fear to violate your prescription either in letter or in spirit, which I should do if I presumed to carry the bucket to the water tank myself."

Grant filled the bucket.

PROTECTION OF WORDS.

A Plea For a Rest For Our Familiar Quotations.

In these days when everybody is writing and everybody seems to succeed would it not be well to start a society for the protection of words and phrases? Many of these are so brutally overworked by the amateur. The winged words, the words that burn, the thoughts that breathe, the telling phrases, do they not clamor loudly for a rest? That very sentence affords an illuminating example of what I mean. How apt, how vivid, how expressive it would be if all its epithets had not lost their vitality through overwork! To the sated reader the whole sentence is but the echo of an echo. It not merely means nothing, but it is robbed even of its sound and fury.

The greenhorn that complained of "Hamlet" that it was too full of quotations unconsciously expressed a great fact through the medium of a bull. In a wrongheaded way he pointed out that constant reiteration has reduced the grandest passages in the language to mere commonplaces. Give our familiar quotations a rest. Lay to sleep our household words. Let fortune for awhile cease to favor the brave. Let us feign that the poet is made. Let a man who would steal another's thunder be arrested for felony. Let us win no more golden opinions. Let the favored few withdraw to some select seclusion and the countless thousands to some dry eyed privacy.

Thus may nouns, adjectives and phrases, after a long rest, reawaken with the freshness of the morning upon them, their original meanings recreated, energetic, effective, brilliant, as on the day when they were first conceived and brought forth.—Era.

Thought She Was a Calf.

When Mme. Schumann-Heink was thirteen, her father was transferred to Gratz, where a singing teacher, Marietta von Leclair, recognizing the young girl's talent, offered to give her singing lessons without compensation. For two years she studied nothing but solfeggios. Then she began learning songs. She had a very deep contralto without any high notes at that time. One day a caller, hearing her sing Schubert's "Der Tod und das Madchen" in an adjoining room, said to her teacher, "I did not know that you taught young calves."

"She is not a young calf," replied Marietta von Leclair. "Some day she will be a great singer."—Gustav Kobbe in Woman's Home Companion.

Shakespeare's Anachronisms.

The very head and front of all offenders in the perpetration of anachronisms was Shakespeare himself. He speaks of cannon in the reign of John, whereas cannon were unknown until a century and a half later; of printing in the time of Henry II.; of clocks, and striking clocks at that, in the time of Julius Cæsar; he makes Hector quote Aristotle and Coriolanus refer to cats and Alexander; he introduces a billiard table into Cleopatra's palace; he dowers Bohemia with a sea coast and makes Delphos an island.

Massachusetts Superstitions.

In parts of Massachusetts it is thought that if a girl puts a piece of southern wood down her back the first boy she meets will be her husband. In Boston if a marriageable woman puts a bit of southern wood under her pillow on retiring the first man she sees in the morning will, so says the superstition, be the one whom she is to marry.

A Minute or So Late.

Sweet Wife—Oh, Herald, the hall clock just fell and narrowly missed mother. Had it struck her she would have been killed.

Herald (aloud)—You don't say so! (Aside) I always did say that clock was slow.

"Pain in the head and back" is a form of suffering with which so many women are familiar. Often this pain is associated with nervousness, sleeplessness and loss of appetite. The cause of such suffering is generally to be traced to derangement of the womanly function, or a diseased condition of the delicate womanly organs.

In such cases the action of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is marvelous in the prompt relief of pain and permanent cure of disease. It regulates the periodic function, dries disagreeable drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It cures when all other means have been tried in vain.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

In a little over thirty years Dr. Pierce, assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has cured more than half a million women.

"I was a great sufferer for six years and doctored all the time with a number of different physicians, but did not receive any benefit," writes Mrs. George Sogden, of 641 Bonda Street, Saginaw (South), Mich. "One day as I was reading a paper I saw your advertisement, and, although I had given up all hope of ever getting better, thought I would write to you. When I received your letter, telling me what to do, I commenced to take your 'Favorite Prescription' and follow your advice. I have taken ten bottles in all, also five vials of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' Am now regular after having missed two years and suffered with pain in the head and back. I was so nervous, could not eat or sleep. Now I thank you for my recovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness.

NEW STYLES IN BLOUSES,

Peau de Soie and Satin Are Taking the Place of Taffeta.

The blouse waist of 1902 promises to eclipse its predecessors in daintiness and chic. It is made of every material conceivable, taffeta, satin, Persian panne, corduroy and peau de soie. Most stylish among these is peau de soie. This comes in a soft, lustrous quality and in all the evening and day shades. A lighter variety is called peau de cygne, and this has even more luster than the peau de soie. Both peau de soie and peau de cygne cleanse well and can be worn for more than one season. For this reason they are usurping to a large extent the place of taffeta.

Many of the peau de soie and satin blouses are made without linings and blouse both back and front.

Persian liberty satins in all the eastern colorings are very fashionable and are made up with fronts of chiffon and bits of hand embroidery.

The thoroughly French waist in the illustration is made of chiffon and rich yellow lace. Over a blouse of accordion plaited chiffon is appliqued a jacket effect of the lace having two medallions of painted mousseline set into the front pieces. The jacket effect is cut away at the sides to allow a glimpse of the under chiffon to be seen, and this is banded with velvet ribbons. The sleeves are marvels of grace. They are made of the lace inset with three medallions of the mousseline. There is a deep cuff of lace and black velvet. The collar has an odd trimming contrived with two straps of velvet. In the front where the lace jacket opens over the chiffon blouse there is a full rosette of the chiffon with long lace tipped ends.

Searching For Knowledge.

"I say, pa," began little Clarence Callipers, with the rising inflection of one who earnestly desires to acquire important information, "what"—

"Oh, I don't know!" replied his long suffering sire wearily.

"Yes. But the question I wanted to ask isn't foolish, pa."

"H'm! If it isn't foolish, you may ask it. But, remember, just one question, and no more."

"Well, pa, there are two of 'em that I want to ask. One is, Which is the smartest, the man who knows enough to know that he don't know much or the man who knows enough to look as if he knew everything? The other is, If the end of the world was to come and the earth be destroyed while a man was up in a balloon, where would he land when he came down? And, pa, I don't know which one of 'em to ask."

ARTISTS' BLUNDERS

Some Odd Mistakes That Have Been Perpetuated on Canvas.

In a letter from an artist and art writer of London he speaks of the absurd mistakes made by some of the old masters. In the very pretentious and also very large portrait of Queen Victoria executed by Benjamin Constant the well known French artist painted the ribbon of the Order of the Garter of a wrong color, and the artist was much chagrined by the evidence of his own carelessness. Queen Victoria told him he was using the wrong color, but he was not convinced.

There is a landscape by a famous English painter in which a rainbow is depicted behind the sun, and a picture of Eden is in the gallery of the Gesu, in Lisbon, where Adam and Eve are represented as watching a procession of monks.

In the famous galleries of Antwerp are certain pictures by old masters in which the jumble of ideas is as remarkable as the technique is fine. In one picture of heaven the archangels are armed with bows and arrows, and in a painting of the "Murder of the Innocents" the massacre is represented as taking place in a city of Holland. The parents of the children are stout burghers, the Roman soldiers are Dutch policemen armed with muskets, and the innocent infants are transformed into solid schoolboys in bulgy trousers and jackets and hobnailed shoes. The effect is droll.

Things He Didn't Understand.

At the table on an incoming liner on a recent trip one of the first cabin passengers found in an oyster one of the tiny seed pearls which look almost exactly like bird shot. Apparently the formation of pearls was a mystery to him, for he examined the thing curiously, picked it up gingerly and laid it on the tablecloth for further investigation.

Now, it is a habit of cooks at sea to carry fishhooks in their pockets, and on this trip, by a curious coincidence, part of a small hook got caught in a piece of beefsteak that was served to this particular passenger. As soon as his knife encountered the hard object he started, picked it out carefully and laid it beside his other find on the cloth.

Then he beckoned to the waiter and confidentially whispered in his ear. "I don't want to be impertinent," he said, "but would you mind telling me where you shoot your oysters and why you catch your steaks with a hook and line?"

Ants and Magnetism.

That ants doctor their sick by hypnotism and magnetism is proved by observation. An ardent student tells how he witnessed what may be termed a seance in medical science among ants. He saw several of these little creatures emerge from the hill and noticed that there were some among them which were weak and emaciated—invalids, in fact. They were accompanied by healthy members of the community, and all made their way toward a distant mound.

On following their movements through a glass the observer saw on this mound a big and sturdy ant, which made some motions in the direction of the advancing invalids. The latter went up the mound, one by one, and submitted themselves to treatment. This consisted in the physician ant passing his feelers over the head and body of the patient in a manner distinctly suggestive of the hypnotizing of nerves and muscles practiced by human doctors. Every one went through the treatment; then the patients went back, and the doctor marched off in the opposite direction.

The Original Squeers.

The grossest injury which Dickens ever inflicted on a fellow being was his too accurate portrait of an innocent man in his Squeers. That Yorkshire schoolmasters were, as a rule, cruel and wicked enough it is true, but the particular schoolmaster who was recognized and who recognized himself as the original Squeers seems to have been an exception to the rule.

It will be remembered that Dickens and his illustrator traveled together to the north of England for the purpose of collecting material for "Nicklelby" and especially for the Dotheboys episode. At Great Bridge they visited a boarding school known as Rowes academy. The master, William Shaw, received the strangers with some hauteur and did not as much as withdraw his eyes from the operation of penmaking during the interview.

Phis sketched him in the act; Bos described the act. The personal peculiarities of William Shaw were recognized in Squeers. Shaw became a butt of popular ridicule, lost his pupils and finally died of a broken heart. Yet there is abundant evidence to prove that he was a really excellent and kind hearted man, who was made to suffer for the misdeeds of his neighbors.

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be, some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith they cure just the same, for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make these organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demand for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

Creeds and Trades.

Certain creeds seem to monopolise certain industries. Practically all British manufacturers of cocoa, for example, are Quakers. Then, in London at any rate, a very large percentage of cigar merchants and all the best known manufacturers of Christmas cards are Jews. Whenever a Welshman comes to London to seek his fortune it is long odds on his making a pile either in the draper's or drug store business. Irishmen, probably owing to the fact that they lack the money making instinct, flock to journalism.—London Tatler.

ACROSS THE COURT

By IRENE C. BYRNE XXX

COPYRIGHT, 1901, BY I. C. BYRNE

O'Neill's office was small. He did not need a larger one. Young lawyers seldom do. There are several good reasons why they don't, but that has nothing to do with this story.

The office was also an inside one—that is, it looked out on a court, a great well-like space bounded by four walls—not blind, blank walls, but walls nearly bristling with staring, impudent windows.

Behind those windows myriads of busy men and women worked at schemes by which they hoped to enrich themselves and, sometimes, incidentally to impoverish others; schemes as farreaching in their consequences as the stone which, thrown into a stream, sends a ripple to the farthest shore.

Still, though these schemes may have been interesting to a thoughtful man making a study of the great tragi-comedy of life, neither the walls nor the windows were particularly so. Yet O'Neill passed a large part of his time gazing intently at the window opposite his own.

Time and again when he had seated himself at his desk, determined to add a chapter to the book destined to bring him fame, and, what was of even more vital importance, to pay his most pressing bills, he found his glances wandering across the space which separated him from the desire of his eyes.

"I wish she'd move her desk," he muttered half angrily one day as he found himself as usual watching instead of working—watching the slender, modestly dressed girl who sat in the window working so busily that she had no time to discover that opposite her was a young man whose valuable time she was wasting. Or if she had, she had never revealed the fact. But the ways of a maid with a man are not always simple and she may have been wiser in her generation than he knew.

He had scarcely uttered the wish before he was fearful that it might come to pass, so he cried out hastily, as if anxious to propitiate some jealous eavesdropping god who might take him at his word: "No, I don't. I'll take it all back, dear little saint." In fairy tales men have been granted thoughtless wishes to their own undoing and she was the princess of his fairy tale.

Why, then, did he call her the saint? He hardly knew. He certainly could not have told why if asked. Yet he felt that it suited her better than any other name he might have used. Perhaps it was because she never seemed conscious of him—saints have a way of ignoring poor mortals; perhaps because she parted her dark hair, Madonna wise, over her rather pale face in a fashion that added solemnity to its youthful seriousness; perhaps because the man who sometimes stood near her, dictating letters to her, looked such a sinner that by the law of contrast he made one think of saints.

O'Neill, at least, thought he looked like a sinner and one for whom there was no hope.

"Old satyr!" he growled at him as, watching from the shallow depths of his bare little office, he saw him lay a too familiar hand on the girl's shoulder. "I don't like his polygamous eyebrows. By Jove! What a scoundrel!" For the satyr had suddenly stooped and kissed the saint.

O'Neill saw the start which showed how unexpected the caress was, could almost hear the frightened exclamation with which she sprang to her feet. In another moment she stood with her hat on, covering her typewriter, and then she was gone.

The young lawyer was hot with rage, fiery with righteous indignation. He flung himself into the corridor and started around in blind zeal to do something, anything. The need for action was strong within him. But before he made the first turning he felt how impotent he was, for he realized instinctively that the saint would shrink from the publicity of a scene.

But he was determined that she should work no more for that man if he could help it. Doesn't a saint belong to the one who worships? And have not men of all times and of all nations come forth gladly to death rather than have their idols desecrated?

Adroitly enough, he learned who the man was, a lawyer, a politician, a professional corrupter of legislatures. And the saint? Oh, a little typewriter, Miss Browne, who seemed rather demure for a man like Lawson, who was rather "a good fellow." Strange that when some men say "a good fellow" they are thinking of qualities never found in a summary of the virtues!

Then O'Neill wrote her a letter such as Galahad, had he lived in these strenuous days, might have written. He explained how he had seen the affront to which she had been subjected, regretted deeply that as his own law practice was such a negative quantity he could not give her a regular position as his stenographer, but offered her desk room in his office and assured her that he would secure her work from the other lawyers in the building, who, like himself, needed work done, but whose meager incomes would not permit them to employ a stenographer the entire time.

The answer was a formal little note requesting him to call at her home to meet her mother.

He went, of course. The mother, soft voiced and gentle eyed, explained the saint. She was, indeed, an edition de luxe of her daughter, refined and glorified by life. But the young man was too young, too little of an artist, to appreciate that. Both women were so grateful it was not strange that he went again and often. And he found himself wondering at the truly marvelous way in which women can impart an atmosphere of home and refinement to even a four-room flat.

He ceased gazing across the court during his business hours, for was she not enshrined in his own office? She was busy, too, earning more money than when with the satyr, for O'Neill had proved a good solicitor, and he had secured her more work than she could do.

Her unflagging industry aroused his own zeal, shamed him into emulation, and the book, until then only dreamed of, was in the publisher's hands before he dared to tell her how long he had called her the "saint" when her real name was a mystery.

"But, why?" she said, opening wide her big, brown eyes, that perhaps looked more ignorant of his meaning than they really were. "I am not so very good. You know I have an awful temper."

"Good!" he exclaimed. "Oh, I could say my prayers to you! If I weren't such a beggar I'd ask"— Then he stopped. How could an unworthy man ask a saint to stoop, save in pity, and he did not want pity!

"I thought beggars were the ones who needed to ask," she said softly.

"But I want so much," he pleaded.

"I am sorry," she faltered, though an acute observer would have thought that the eyes, shining like stars, were brightened by other emotions than sorrow, "for I have but little to give."

"So little! Oh, my saint"—imploringly—"you can give me heaven—if you only will, if you only will!"

"It isn't mine to give to you, you sacrilegious boy, and if it were I would want to keep it for myself, but," and now he had to bend to hear, for her head was drooping and her voice came softly, tremulously—"but I think we could find it together."

And then—oh, the strange unreasonableness of man!—he did the very thing that he had condemned the satyr for doing. But his eyebrows, to be sure, were not polygamous, and the saint, in her goodness, forgave him; so, perhaps, there was a difference.

O'Neill's work, mostly clever magazine articles and editorials, has been in such demand since his book, "Strikes and Socialism," proved a success that he needs the entire services of the saint, whom his friends call Mrs. O'Neill. And the heaven which they share is colloquially known as "the Happy Flat."

MARCONI AGREEMENT

The Dominion Government May Use Wireless Telegraphy.

CHEAPER RATES WILL PREVAIL

There Will Be a General Reduction, If Contract Proves Successful, of 60 Per Cent.—Ordinary Messages Will Be 10 Cents Per Word, Press Messages 5 Cents Per Word—Cost $80,000.

Ottawa, Feb. 24.—The contract between the Government and the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company, which Hon. W. S. Fielding will lay on the table of the House to-day, provides that the Government will contribute $80,000 towards the erection of a station in Nova Scotia, according to plans and specifications prepared by Signor Marconi himself. Should the station cost more than that amount, the additional expense will be borne by the company. The company agrees that the rates to be charged for messages between Canada and Great Britain shall not in any case exceed the rates charged for similar messages between Great Britain and any other part of North America. If the company's operations are successful it undertakes to transmit general messages at rates which shall be fully 60 per cent. less than the rates now charged for cablegrams between Canada and Great Britain. In other words, whereas the present rate for general messages is 25 cents, the company will not charge more than 10 cents per word. The rate for Government messages and messages for the press is not to exceed five cents per word. The company will as far as possible, use Canadian machinery, material and labor in the construction of the station in Nova Scotia. The Government undertakes that all messages received by the company, or intended for transmission by the company, shall be sent over Government telegraph lines, now existing, or which may hereafter be constructed or operated by the Government at rates not higher than those charged to others for ordinary commercial messages. If the Government desire to use the Marconi system as a means of communicating with any of the light-houses or life-saving stations on the coast or between the mainland and any island within the jurisdiction of Canada, or with any ships to assist in operations for the protection of life and property on the seacoast or inland waters of Canada, it is free to erect such stations as it may require. In such cases the company must furnish all machinery needed for such stations at a fair and reasonable price, and free from any charge for patent rights or royalties. From the foregoing outline it will be seen that the arrangement made with the Marconi company is a very advantageous one for Canada, and the Minister of Finance who conducted the negotiations on behalf of the Government, is to be heartily congratulated upon the foresight and business capacity which he has displayed.

TEMI-KAMING RAILWAY.

Hon. Mr. Latchford Explains the Ontario Government's Intention.

Ottawa, Feb. 24. — If the impression prevailed anywhere in Ottawa that the Government railway into the Temiskaming district will divert trade from Ottawa because of the line starting from North Bay instead of Mattawa, it has probably been dispelled by the luminous and comprehensive address delivered by Hon. F. R. Latchford before a largely attended meeting of merchants in the Board of Trade rooms Saturday afternoon. The Commissioner of Public Works for Ontario was present by invitation of the Board of Trade, and explained at length the reasons which influenced the Government in its choice of the route and the advantages which would result from the construction of the proposed railway.

Exports of Pulp.

It may be of interest to the general public to know that while Canada is not making much noise regarding the exports of wood pulp to Great Britain there is a steady and rapid growth to be recorded during the first half of last year as compared with the months of January to June of 1900, says W. P. Ryrie in The Globe.

The following figures will show the relative position of this country as compared with other sources of supply for Great Britain's requirements:

	Tons.	Value.
Norway	128,455	£550,630
Sweden	49,271	401,045
Canada	38,757	162,822
United States	6,741	54,400
Other countries ..	1,454	52,003

The shipments from Norway and Sweden have fallen off very materially, the reduction in quantities being respectively 23,759 tons and 6,390 tons from the 1900 figures.

The depreciation in the value of Norway's export was over £90,000, though Sweden's showed an addition of over £24,000, which is accounted for by the higher range of prices obtained.

Canada has shipped nearly 15,000 tons more during this period at an increase value of over £38,000, which amount practically balances the falling off in Norway's export.

Taking the latest British Board of Trade reports, we find the following figures, showing the growth in Canada's trade in quantities and values during the month of May for the years 1899, 1900 and 1901:

1899—1,768 tons; value, £5,682 (being 5 per cent. of total quantity imported).

1900—3,150 tons; value, £14,447 (7½ per cent. of total quantity imported).

1901—5,614 tons; value, £28,340 (13½ per cent. of total quantity imported).

It will thus be seen that though people may be accused of being slow in developing the resources in this country, there is a steady and healthy growth, which must eventually place us in the position to which we are justly entitled.

TRAMPS ON THE CARS.

The Box Car Is Often Entered by Springing the Door Off.

The box car is often entered by springing the door off its iron way at the side opposite the seal. A party going one way will do this for a party going the opposite direction and then, when all are in, spring the door back again. Since everything externally is in the best of order, long trips may be made in this manner without disturbance or interruption.

Now and then the prisoner is exposed to danger of starvation. A case of this kind has been related to me where only the accidential visit of a train hand saved a man from death.

A railroad accident, whether by water or fire, is a very serious affair to passengers of this sort. You have doubtless read more than once, as I have, of tramps drowned like rats or burned or crushed to death while stealing rides in this fashion. Riding the trucks is done in various ways. A locomotive engineer of my acquaintance has shown me the precise spot from which he had taken out two men at one time. It was on the rear truck of the tender. They were resting face downward on the truck beam, with just eleven inches of vertical space for their bodies by actual measurement.

The Crescent as an Emblem.

The crescent has been known since time out of memory. In ancient mythology it decorated the foreheads of Diana and of Astarte, the Syrian Venus. In the days of Rome's greatest glory the ladies wore it as an ornament in their hair. Since the foundation of Constantinople, the ancient Byzantium, it has been the emblem of the city and as such adorns its walls and public buildings, besides being stamped on its coins and postage. The legend which accounts for its universal adoption in Turkey, and Constantinople in particular, is as follows:

Philip of Macedon laid siege to the city in the year 340 B. C. He chose a night of unusual darkness for the proposed assault, but was foiled by the moon suddenly breaking from behind a cloud. In commemoration of this providential deliverance the crescent was adopted as the symbol of the city. The Mohammedan sultans were slow to assume this emblem until some one mentioned that it was the symbol of increasing greatness, power changing as rapidly as the phases of the moon.

Too Strong For a Jury.

"You can never tell what a jury will do in the way of awarding damages," said a lawyer. "Some years ago I happened to be present at a meeting between a man injured in the big railroad wreck on the Lake Shore, at Ashtabula, and representatives of the road. The man asked $25,000, and the railroad had offered $17,000. The man told his story, and it was a terrible one. It seems that he was caught in the wreck and held by one foot, which was pinioned down. The wreck caught fire, and the flames crept toward him. Firemen and others around saturated his clothing with water and placed wet blankets over him, but he was not released until his foot was burned off. It was a grewsome story.

"One of the directors of the road was present. He took the claim agent aside and said: 'Give that man $25,000. If he tells his story in court, he will get damages enough to put the road into the hands of a receiver.' He got the money."

Comes That Way.

A young minister who was naturally of a shy disposition was rather embarrassed at his first marriage ceremony and unwittingly reversed the usual order of the service, thus making the bridegroom promise to love and obey his blushing bride. The error passed unnoticed at the time, but shortly afterward it dawned upon the father of the bride that a mistake had occurred, and he said to the minister:

"I believe, Mr. ——, you have made John promise to love and obey my daughter. Ah, well," he added after a pause and with a sly look at his better half, "I suppose it won't matter much. It generally comes to that anyway."—Pearson's.

A Story of Stevenson.

Robert Louis Stevenson was particularly attached to the "y" in his name and utterly averse to the "ph" form of spelling. Letters of admiring autograph hunters did not often draw him, but one day in Samoa a letter arrived containing praise so judicious that he said, "That I must answer." Then his eye caught the envelope, addressed to R. L. Stephenson. "Step hence, Step-ben-son!" he cried and, crumpling the offending missive, flung it on the fire.

Luck In Horseshoes.

The superstition dates back too far for record, but it was not always confined to the horseshoe. Any piece of iron found in one's path was accounted a sign of good luck, and as horseshoes were more commonly picked up than any other article of that metal that particular object at last became the standard emblem of good fortune and the supposed defense against bad luck. In Aubrey's "Miscellanies," written 200 years ago, the author mentions having seen the horseshoe nailed up in church, and he also says that "most of the houses in the west end of London have the horseshoe on the threshold." The horseshoe to possess virtue must have been found, not purchased or looked up. Admiral Nelson had great faith in the luck of the horseshoe, and one was nailed to the mast of his ship, the Victory.

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be, some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith they cure just the same, for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make these organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demand for these Pills there must be heaps of people that have faith in them.

ELECTION PROTESTS

Two Against Liberals and Two Against Conservatives.

THE USUAL CHARGES ARE MADE

Except in the Case of Mr. Robert Beith a Most Unusual One Is Added—The Four Constituencies Concerned Are West Durham Addington, West York and West Hastings—The Petitioners.

Toronto, Feb. 25.—The political atmosphere is permeated with election protest talk, no less than three protests having been filed at Osgoode Hall shortly before 4 o'clock last evening, at which hour the time of filing them expired.

The three were against the election of the Conservative candidates in Addington and West Hastings and one against that of Mr. Campbell, the Liberal candidate in West York.

What with the protest filed a few days ago against the Liberal candidate in West Durham, it makes two protests on behalf of each party.

The allegations in each case are the usual ones of bribery and corruption.

In West York Robert Stuart Burrows, a printer, is the petitioner. S. W. Dady, auctioneer, disputes Mr. Avery's seat, and Cornelius Mullin, a sailor, of Belleville, petitions against E. Gus Porter.

The petition in the case of Robert Beith of West Durham asks that the successful candidate be disqualified for corrupt practices. One of the charges reads:

"Before and during the said election the respondent personally engaged persons as canvassers and agents, knowing that they had within eight years previous been found guilty of corrupt practices by the court, and by the reports of election judges."

The usual charges of bribery and corruption by agents are also made.

NOW IN B. C. LEGISLATURE.

Mr. Joseph Martin's Claim to Opposition Leader's Seat Contested.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 25.—There was a disgraceful scene in the Provincial Legislature yesterday afternoon. Richard McBride, leader of the Opposition; Joseph Martin, the leader of the party, formerly the Opposition, but which voted with the Government last session, and Smith Curtis, formerly Martin's first lieutenant, engaged in what narrowly averted being a fist fight.

It was over the seat in the House usually alloted to the leader of the Opposition. McBride took it when he entered the chamber, and when Martin arrived there was a wordy war. McBride held the seat until the chaplain arose to read the prayers.

The new leader of the Opposition arose also, and Martin slipped into the chair.

Mr. Curtis grabbed Mr. Martin by the throat and hurled him back.

Messrs. McInnes, Gilmour and others grabbed Mr. Curtis and pushed him off, while cries of "Shame, put Martin out," etc., came from the galleries, which were crowded.

After discussing the matter all afternoon the question whether Martin should get his seat was put to a vote, and it was decided affirmatively by 18 to 16.

Albanians and Turks Fight.

Cettinje, Montenegro, Feb. 25. — Sixty-four men are reported to have been killed or wounded during the fighting which occurred on the Montengrin frontier between Albanians and Turkish regular troops. The trouble was due to the recent assassination of an Albanian chief, Mulazeka. The fighting still continues.

An Old Man's Tragic Death.

St. Thomas, Feb. 25.—George Fauss, a man 65 years of age, was killed at Montague yesterday morning at 9.30 o'clock. Mr. Fauss was walking by the side of the track as No. 31 M.C.R. express was approaching, and just as the train reached him he stepped in front of the engine, was struck and instantly killed.

No Truth in Conscription Story.

London, Feb. 25.—Ridiculous rumors have been flying about during the last two or three days that the War Office has drawn up a scheme for general conscription. There is not a word of truth in the stories.

The Fighting Senators Suspended.

Washington, Feb. 25. — Senator Frye, President pro tem of the Senate, gave directions to the clerks of the Senate yesterday that the names of Senators Tillman and McLaurin of South Carolina must not be called on roll calls until further notice. This fixes the status of the Senators, who are practically suspended from all senatorial functions.

The President has withdrawn his invitation extended to Senator Tillman of South Carolina to attend the dinner in honor of Prince Henry of Prussia at the White House.

Gasoline Tank Exploded.

Mitchell, Feb. 25.—W. R. Davis, of The Mitchell Advocate, suffered a serious loss yesterday to his plant, owing to the explosion of the gasoline tank, which is used in connection with the engine as power for the large press. The explosion and fire occurred about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, in the rear part of the establishment. The loss is estimated at about $2,000.

A Remarkable "Keep-up!"

Never have we known a sale to be so thoroughly successful. The large numbers of people who attend daily is a surprise to our even sanguine expectation. We had prepared for large crowds in the way of large quantities of merchandise, also in the matter of having the people properly served, by more than doubling our sales force.

These two factors account in part for the steady "keep up" of the daily crowds.

VERY CRUEL MURDER

A Galician Kills His Wife at Stuartburn, Manitoba.

THE MAN'S GRIM THREAT TO HER

When He Went to Dominion City For Provisions He Told Her That If She Were Alive When He Returned He Would Kill Her—Brutally Kept His Promise With a Club When He Came Home.

Winnipeg, Feb. 25.—A Dominion City man, Mihal Storusche, arrived from Stuartburn yesterday morning, bringing the news that Usep Salamon, a Galician, living on section 12, concession 2, lot 6, east, had murdered his wife on Saturday night by battering her on the head and face with a club.

Storusche says Salamon came to his house at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning and asked him to go for a doctor, that his wife had fallen down a ladder-way and broken her teeth and was bleeding badly.

Storusche said he had no wagon, and advised Salamon to go to his (Storusche's) father's place. Storusche, sr., a woman, and three men went to Salamon's house about 9 o'clock on Sunday morning, and found Mrs. Salamon lying on her back on the floor, her mouth bleeding and her face bruised. Her limbs were convulsed in a final struggle with death. On Storesche's raising her up, she fell back in his arms dead.

Salamon is about 35 years of age, and his wife was about 30. They lived unhappily. Mrs. Salamon told her neighbors last week that her husband had gone to Dominion City for flour and warned her that she must either drown or kill herself before his return, for if he found her alive he would kill her.

Salamon was taken in charge by the Police Magistrate at Rinson, and is in irons at Stewart Mills' house.

PRINCE AND PRESIDENT.

Latter Hosts German Royalty at the White House.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The dinner given to Prince Henry by President Roosevelt at the White House last night closed the honors bestowed on the royal visitor by official Washington yesterday. The affair was on an elaborate scale, and brought together a most distinguished company.

During the dinner the President proposed the health of the German Emperor and the German people, saying: "We admire their great past and great present, and we wish them all possible success in the future. May the bonds of friendship between the two peoples ever grow stronger."

The President also proposed the health of "Our Guest," Prince Henry of Prussia.

Following the toast of the President to the German Emperor, Prince Henry arose and addressed himself to the President, proposed a toast to himself and the people of the United States.

Wants Charter Renewed.

Winnipeg, Feb. 25.—D. D. Mann arrived on Saturday on his way from British Columbia, where, in company with Mr. Greenshields, K. C., of Montreal, he interviewed the Government of that province, and asked that charter which was granted some years ago to the Victoria, Vancouver, & Eastern Railway should be renewed. The present idea is to make this line a part of the Canadian Northern system.

A New Anaesthetic.

Paris, Feb. 25.—Acoine is the name of an interesting product which is destined to oust cocaine, morphine, chloral, antipyrine and other anaesthetics. A little pinch dropped into a gnawing tooth instantly banishes pain. Acoine's properties were recently reported to the French Academy of Medicine by Dr. Chauvel, and are based on divers experiments. Acoine has the great advantage of not being toxic.

General Strike Averted.

Turin, Italy, Feb. 25.—Owing to the number of railroad employes who are joining the strikers, and also on account of the fear of a general strike on the railroads, the Government has issued a decree calling to the colors all railroad employes in Italy who belong to the mobile and territorial army. The men will thus be brought under military control while continuing their duties.

Asleep Six Days.

Vancouver, Feb. 25.—It is now seven days since Ah Sing, Chinaman, went to sleep, after taking an overdose of opium, and he is still in the land of dreams and shows no signs of awakening. The man is gradually growing weaker, and it is feared that he cannot live. Food is administered by means of a tube. The case is creating considerable interest among medical men of the city.

Bylaw Carried.

Niagara Falls, Feb. 25.—The McPherson Frog and Switch Co. bylaw was carried yesterday by a majority of 47. They will build a factory worth $40,000, and employ 40 to 50 men in return for a $2,500 site.

Higher C.P.R. Earnings.

Montreal, Feb. 25.—The C. P. R. traffic for the week ending Feb. 21 was $592,000; for the same week last year it was $409,000.

Get Rid of it.

If you have catarrh, why don't you try to get rid of it? The first thing you know it will go down into your lungs or stomach and cause serious trouble. You should use Vapo-Cresolene at once. The cure is so easy and so pleasant. You put some Cresolene in the vaporizer, light the lamp beneath and breathe in the vapor while sleeping, that's all. The healing, soothing vapor, goes all up through the nose, quieting inflammation and restoring the parts to a healthy condition. Doctors prescribe it.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which alone is not a medicine, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklets containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. Vapo-Cresolene Co., 180 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

HELP THE LABOURING MAN.

In Monday's issue the Examiner called the attention of the labouring men to the fact that the Review had denounced the Ontario Government for collecting a Succession Tax from wealthy estates. By a typographical error the Examiner mentioned the sum of $1,500 as having been collected and the Review indignantly denies that it ever "mentioned the sum of $1,500." That is correct. The Review did not mention the sum of $1,500, but it did mention the sum of $1,500,000 and what the labouring men are asked to take note of is this little sentence used by the Conservative organ in referring to the matter,—"Not less a sum than $1,500,000 has been collected by the Ontario Government, under what is known as the Succession Act, since it was placed upon the statute book. WHY SHOULD THIS TAX BE IMPOSED UPON THE ESTATES OF DECEASED PEOPLE?"

The Succession Act does not touch the workingman, but only those who have amassed wealth through using the workingmen as a medium. The labouringmen comprehend the Act well and will understand that through its provisions their burden is lightened at the expense of the capitalists.

OUR MANITOBA LETTER.

For many years people of the Eastern Provinces had a very vague idea of the magnitude of the west. Very erroneous indeed were the views of those people concerning the storms, the cold, the wild animals, the Indians, and life in general in the west. Twenty years of prosperity enjoyed by Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, has had its influence. When in the east during the early part of the winter I was occasionally asked such questions as, "Do you really have a wire stretched from the house to the barn?" "Is it true that no two storied houses can be built in that country on account of the danger of being capsized by the fearful winds?" "Is it possible to do any driving in the winter time, since the frost is so intense?". Now such questions are yet asked, but it is only rarely. The people of the older provinces are forced in the face of facts, to throw aside their prejudices and to admit that we have a country of unbounded natural resources, and one with a great future in store for it. In conversation with many whom I knew four years ago had never a good word to say of the prairies, I found their views had changed materially. To-day, thanks to the reports of friends and and to prosperous, contented settlers and to the press, they know something of the true state of affairs here. Such education, is having, and will have, its effect. Our population is bound to increase by bounds; the land under cultivation will soon be doubled and trebled; and capital will be readily forthcoming for the development of our industries.

By way of comparison I may say that I saw the worst storm that I have seen during the past four years on the last day of December; I was then in Ontario.

The heaviest fall of snow, accompanied with high winds, that I have seen during that period I witnessed in Toronto on the 23rd of January.

On being asked the question, "How do you build your stables to ensure warmth?" I replied that we built our stables with inch lumber using one ply only. That was too much, and I was promptly told that such a statement was untrue. However, such is the case, and when properly banked, the manure within seldom freezes.

On reaching Winnipeg on my return trip I found the air very frosty. By way of condolence, everyone with whom I conversed, assured me that they had enjoyed a very mild winter up to that particular time. A heavy snowfall occurred on the 12th of this month.

At the present time Winnipeg is a great centre of attraction. The bonspiel is in progress, and almost all the towns along the line have sent in their rinks. Most of the business men take advantage of the cheap rates prevailing at this time and run into Winnipeg for the transaction of business.

Before this letter reaches you, the great political fight in the Lisgar constituency will be over. To pick up a Winnipeg Telegram just now you would find that Mr. Toombs, the Conservative candidate was already elected, though the polling does not take place until to-morrow. On the other hand the Free Press prophetically declares that Mr. Steward, (Liberal) is a sure winner. What of Richardson, (Independent)? The Tribune certainly has Mr. Richardson already warming a Federal bench. We have not long to await the issue in which the keenest interest is being taken.

Talk about wheat, we have more wheat than we know what to do with. The large store-houses at Fort William are full, and nearly all the elevators along the line have been crowded to their utmost capacity. Only those farmers who were in close proximity to the towns have been able to market any quantity of grain. The others have nearly all of last year's bountiful crop in their granaries. Little relief can be expected until navigation opens in the spring, which simply means that the farmers must haul their grain during the summer when they should be at work on their farms. Where does the blame lie? Have the C.P.R. all the rolling stock that they should have? Has the Government no remedy to suggest? Already the western grain-growers are waking up to their own interests and are building flat ware-houses and elevators, still their grain must pass over the road which practically has a monopoly of the west and must pass through the hands of the great wheat combine. Opposition lines, government control of freight rates and unfettered shipping rights is our only source of relief.

Manitoba would gladly push her boundaries westward taking in a large strip of what is now known as the North West Territories. Premier Roblin of Manitoba, and his colleagues have been holding meetings in the Territories, endeavouring to impress upon us the desirability of such a union. Premier Haultain of the Territories and Hon. Clifford Sifton are on the stump, and so feasible are their arguments that at every point, they speak to interested, sympathetic audiences. We have in our premier a leader who is capable, progressive and thoroughly in touch with our requirements. On the question of Provincial autonomy we are strictly non-partisan and are bound to have "One Province the Gem of Canada."

WHEN DANGERS THREATEN YOU BE FULLY ARMED.

Paine's Celery Compound

Will Enable You To Vanquish Every Foe.

When dangers threaten you, common sense, care and attention should direct your course.

If you are a victim of disease and looking for restoration to health, as soon think of stopping the raging of the boisterous ocean by a wave of the hand as of getting rid of your troubles by use of any of the various medicines in liquid and pill forms so common in our land at the present time. Medical investigations, tests and proofs of cures point to one infallible disease banisher — Paine's Celery Compound, the only medicine that goes directly to the very root of your trouble. It nourishes nerves and brain, purifies the blood, cures dyspepsia, neuralgia, rheumatism, liver complaints, kidney troubles, tones up the system and makes the weak strong.

Mrs. T. O. Smith, Victoria, B. C., says: "I would prove an ungrateful woman if I refrained from doing justice to Paine's Celery Compound. Having suffered for many years from chronic constipation and general debility, I at last got low. I was given up to die by the doctors. Just at this time I was recommended Paine's Celery Compound by a friend, and in two days found some relief. After using the medicine for three months I am as well as ever before, and enjoy good health.

Killed by a Bull.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 25. — Telesthores Seigi, a brother of the Carmelite Monastery at Falls View, was killed by a Jersey bull some time on Saturday. Brother Telesthores, who was employed as farm hand, is supposed to have gone into the stall where the bull was kept to feed him, and found the bull loose. The latter attacked the brother, butted him down, and tramped him to death. The bull was never known to be a vicious animal. The monastery authorities had the animal disposed of by shooting soon after the accident.

Premier "Dick" Seddon.

"Dick" Seddon, as the Prime Minister of New Zealand is known, was once manager of a canteen at a miners' camp. Of the turning point in his life an anecdote is told which may be regarded as an illustration of the sort of hold which he has upon the people of New Zealand. A dispute occurred between the miners of two districts. The miners of one camp wished to settle the matter by the ordeal of battle, and accordingly sent their chosen representative to the other with a challenge to fight the best man. The champion of the challengers had tyrannized over the miners in both camps, and was only chosen now in the belief that his prowess would intimidate the enemy. This effect, it seemed likely to have, until "Dick" Seddon offered to fight the bully in his comrades' cause. Fight he did, and won such a victory as made him the hero henceforth of the whole camp.

Edward Entwistle, the man who, 70 years ago, took George Stephenson's "Rocket" engine, which won the Government prizes, on its trial trip between Liverpool and Manchester, England, is still living in Des Moines, Ia.

If the Baroness Burdett-Coutts survives to witness the coronation of Edward VII., it will be the third event of the kind in her experience. She was present at the coronation of William IV. and of Victoria.

Lieut.-Com. VonTugen Dead.

Woodstock, Feb. 24.—Customs officer W. H. VonTugen has received word from Switzerland of the death of his son, Lieut. Commander Gravely VonTugen of the British navy. The deceased had been in Switzerland on sick leave for some months, in an endeavor to free himself of lung trouble. His death was unexpected, and, on the day before the cable was received announcing his untimely end, his father received a cheerful letter from him. Commander VonTugen was born in Woodstock 35 years ago, and has seen considerable service in various parts of the empire.

Keep Busy.

An unhappy life is an idle one. Those who are happiest are the most earnest workers. It is folly to say that we can find no labor. Life itself is a stupendous task. It is cowardly, however, to shirk labor by feigning not to see it. Each mortal, if he does his duty, will have a busy life.

GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE.

Said to Have Reached Agreement Re. Newfoundland and Morocco.

London, Feb. 25.—A despatch from Paris states that the French and British Governments have arrived at an agreement on all points of difference between them in regard to Newfoundland and Morocco as well as on other issues. This understanding has been greatly assisted by the growing antagonism between Germany and England.

The French note with satisfaction the evident bitterness between Berlin and London, and the 31 years that have passed since an armistice put an end to the Franco-German struggle have not served to weaken the French conviction that a country which is unfriendly to Germany is, or ought to be, friendly to France. Therefore the relations between England and France are closer and more cordial than at any time within the memory of man.

The British Ambassador is a frequent and a welcome visitor at the French Foreign Office, and even Russia, the avowed ally of France, seems for the present to be second in French esteem to Great Britain.

England, it is reported, has agreed that France is to have a free hand in Morocco, while France will surrender the rights on the French shore of Newfoundland, which have been a ground of vexatious controversy for more than a century. It is also stated that England, while not agreeing to the absorption of Siam by France, will not interfere with any steps which France may see fit to take in that section of Asia, where the French have already absorbed a large section of Siamese territory and are reaching for more. No formal arrangement has been made between the French and English Cabinets, but negotiations are making satisfactory progress.

Women of Means and Social Standing Use the DIAMOND DYES.

Home dyeing is always a subject of interest to thrifty and economical women. It means scores of dollars saved to the family each year when women can re-colour their faded and soiled dresses, skirts, blouses, jackets, capes, ribbons, feathers and suits for men and boys. If, in the past, you have sold for a few cents per pound your cast off garments to the ragmen, save your goods and materials, and test the magical powers of the Diamond Dyes. In these popular dyes you can get the newest and most fashionable colours, and observing the simple directions, you can have a new dress, skirt, suit or overcoat at a cost of from ten to twenty cents. This pleasing and economical work is done by thousands of women of means and good position. Try the Diamond Dyes and you will be successful.

The "Big Dipper."

In astronomy the "Big Dipper," so called, is in the constellation of Ursa Major, or the Great Bear. The stars forming the tail of the bear also form the handle of the dipper. The first star in the handle is Benetnasch, the second Mizar, the third Alioth. The other four, which go to form the bowl of the dipper, are Megrez, Phad, Merak and Dubhe. The two last named are called "The Pointers," because they point or guide the eye to the pole star, which is distant 29 degrees. The top bowl stars are 10 degrees and the bottom ones 8 degrees apart.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Huron, Bruce and Middlesex Railway Bill Will Be Reconsidered—Warning to Bill Introducers.

Toronto, Feb. 24.—In the Legislative Assembly to-day bills were introduced by Hon. J. M. Gibson to amend the Manhood Suffrage Registration Act and the Joint Stock Companies Winding Up Act.

Mr. Jessop inquired whether it was the intention of the Government to appoint a registrar of deeds for Lincoln County before the general elections.

Hon. J. M. Gibson replied that it was the intention to make the appointment so soon as a selection could be made without reference to the general elections.

Mr. Taylor moved the reference back to the Railway Committee of the bill to incorporate the Huron, Bruce and Middlesex Railway Co.

Hon. J. M. Gibson understood that a number of the representatives of the districts affected were desirous of opposing the bill, so it might be well to refer it back. Incidentally he reminded the members of the responsibility they incurred in introducing a bill. Too many members introduced a measure and seemed to consider their duty was finished in leaving the House to look after it. A good deal of the delay in the proceedings of the House was due to this habit. The introducer of a bill should watch it at every stage. The bill was referred back.

Mr. Hill moved that the bill respecting the Town of Toronto Junction should be recommitted to the Private Bills Committee for re-consideration. This was opposed by Mr. Matheson and Mr. Crawford, the latter taking the ground that the clause struck out of the bill as it originally stood affected pending litigation. Hon. J. M. Gibson said that bills ought only to be referred back when a committee had been misled or new information of a material character bearing on the measure had been procured.

Mr. Hill refused to withdraw his resolution, which was declared lost on division.

Mr. Hill moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Public Health Act. He explained that it referred to the establishment of sanitariums and required the consent of the local board of health before such institutions could be established.

Mr. Stratton said that there had been sometimes objections made to the locations of sanitariums either from sanitary or sentimental reasons but he thought that an understanding could easily be arrived at and had no objection to the bill going to committee. Mr. Whitney thought it was a good bill. The bill received a second reading.

Two Wrongs.

A clergyman, lecturing on "Capital Punishment," took strong grounds against the death penalty, arguing that while it was wrong for a man to commit murder it was but another wrong to kill the murderer and that two wrongs never made a right.

"At least," said he, "I never heard of but one case where they did." And he proceeded to relate the following story, presumably in support of his argument:

"A man entered a country grocery, where a number of the villagers sat around on barrels and boxes, and asked if two wrongs ever made a right. The response was 'Never.' So I thought till recently," continued he, "when I met a stranger who asked me to change a five dollar bill for him. I did so and after his departure found the bill was a counterfeit. So I kept it till the other day and shoved it on a fellow greener than I." The listeners exclaimed that those were two wrongs certainly, but they didn't make a right. "Well," replied the man, "they made me all right."

The Agony of Sleeplessness.

Did you ever pass a single night in wakeful misery, tossing and rolling in bed, trying in vain to sleep and longing for morning to come? Can you imagine the torture of spending night after night in this way, each succeeding night growing worse and worse? This is the most dreadful symptom of nervous exhaustion and Debility. You can be thoroughly and gradually cured of sleeplessness by the upbuilding influence of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It cures in Nature's way, by creating new nerve cells and restoring lost vitality.

A Five-Mile Rope.

A firm of rope manufacturers at Deptford, Sunderland, has just despatched, from the Monkwearmouth goods station, to a firm of colliery proprietors, a steel wire haulage rope, five miles in length. It took two traction engines to draw it through the streets of the town, for the coil weighs about 35 tons, and had to be loaded up in three trucks.

King George IV.'s Coronation

The coronation of George IV. was the most magnificent ceremony ever witnessed in Britain. Queen Victoria's coronation cost £69,421 1s. 10d., and William IV.'s £42,298 3s. 9d.—a startling drop from the amount of £243,000 spent on George IV.

A FIVE HOURS' DEBATE

A Reciprocal Tariff Proposed for the Dominion.

MR. CHARLTON'S RESOLUTION

Canada's Foreign Trade—That With Great Britain and the United States Compared—Unequal Conditions Imposed by the United States—What Reciprocity Did—Bills Introduced—Questions Answered.

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—The House yesterday debated for five hours Mr. Charlton's motion favoring a tariff based on the principle of reciprocity in trade conditions with a forty per cent. rebate on dutiable imports from countries admitting Canadian natural products free of duty. The motion was seconded by Mr. Bell of Pictou, N.S., the other participants in the debate being Messrs. Edwards (Russell), Sproule (Grey), Heyd (South Brant), Maclean (East York) and Northrup (East Hastings). Mr. Fielding moved the adjournment of the debate, and the House rose at 10 o'clock.

Mr Charlton's Speech.

Mr. Charlton, speaking of his motion for reciprocity and differential duties, said 63 per cent. of the export trade of Canada was with England, while only one-fourth of our imports came from England. He then devoted some time to showing that except with Great Britain, our trade was unsatisfactory, and he then proceeded with a bit of history to demonstrate what reciprocity would do. This he illustrated by pointing out that under the reciprocity treaty of 1854 our exports to the United States rose from $10,000,000 to $44,000,000 in 12 years, an increase of 440 per cent. Then ensued a war of tariffs with a result satisfactory to Canada, but not so pleasing to the Americans, for while our exports in these 35 years to England increased from $16,826,000 in 1866 to $105,000,000 last year, an increase of 27 per cent., our exports to the United States only increased $3,000,000. On the other hand, while our imports from Great Britain only increased $3,000,000, or 7 7-10 per cent., our imports from the United States increased $90,000,000, or 318 per cent. And this was brought about, not by a tariff as high as the United States tariff, which we ought to have employed; but by a low tariff against their practically exclusive tariff. (Hear, hear.) Our tariff imposed at present a duty of 28 per cent. upon dutiable goods imported from the United States, or 12½ per cent. upon total imports. Upon dutiable goods from Great Britain the duty was 50 per cent., or 25 per cent. upon our total imports. (Hear, hear.) And so we import 63 per cent of our total from the States, 22½ per cent from Great Britain and 14½ per cent. from the rest of the world.

"These duties are unequal and not in our interest," said Mr. Charlton "They shouldn't be lower to the United States than to Great Britain; that they ought to bear some relation to this treatment of us goes without saying." (Cheers).

He showed that our trade was important, and that the magnitude of our importations of manufactured goods from the United States was simply amazing. In 1898 we imported of manufactured goods $26,732,000 from Great Britain and $43,824,000 from the United States; in 1899, $31,646,000 from Great Britain and $56,546,000 from the United States; in 1900, $37,985,000 from Great Britain and $62,858,000 from the United States; in 1901, $37,270,000 from Great Britain ($714,000 of a decrease) and $65,559,000 (or $2,700,000 of an increase) from the United States. In other words we imported $28,289,000 more from the United States than from Great Britain last year, and $15,000,000 more than from the rest of the world.

Mr. Charlton repeated that to secure reciprocity with the United States in natural products we should not be called on to increase our free list or lower our tariff. The deal would be mutually advantageous. It was said that he wanted to lower the duties on all manufactures in Canada. That was not true. What he wanted was to allow the United States to pay them back in Canadian products for our immense imports of American manufactured goods, and, if not that, we manufacture them ourselves. (Hear, hear.)

What he would do was to give the United States an inducement of 40 of 50, or 75 per cent. or anything to obtain fair tariff treatment. "If that is not enough," said Mr. Charlton, "all right, we will simply do what we have threatened and what we will do, and so far as I know, I don't care how soon it is done. I know that my friend on the right (Mr. Edwards) will say that I'm gone stark mad on the question of protection. But this is more than a question of protection, it is a question of self-protection."

To sum up, Mr. Charlton said he had shown that our tariff was one-half lower than the American, while their's practically excluded Canadian products. Our tariff was lower to the United States than to England. We bought three times as much from the United States as we sell to that country; and bought our manufactured goods chiefly from them. So that if they refused to remedy this condition of trade, self-protection must be resorted to by Canada. With all our resources of natural wealth we shouldn't be content, he urged, to plod along at the rate of a 10 per cent. increase each decade in our population, while the flower of our people went across the line. It would take us 900 years at that rate to people the country we have. "At all events, we do not want to continue to be hewers of wood and drawers of water to the United States," said Mr. Charlton, and this familiar old Tory citation the Opposition cheered.

Mr. Charlton added that his policy was to give a preference in our market to the countries that admitted our natural products free. It was one that would even bring the Germans to time, and it would certainly help us in the onward march to empire.

He concluded by moving—"That this House is of the opinion that Canadian import duties should be arranged upon the principle of reciprocity in trade conditions so far as may be consistent with Canadian interests; that a rebate of not less than 40 per cent. of the amount of duties imposed should be made upon dutiable imports from nations or countries admitting Canadian natural products into their markets free of duty; and that the scale of Canadian duties should be sufficiently high to avoid inflicting injury upon Canadian interests in cases where a rebate of 40 per cent. or more shall be made under the conditions aforesaid."

Mr. W. C. Edwards replied in a free trade speech. He dissented entirely from Mr. Charlton's claim that the policy put foreward by him was in the interests of Canada. If Canada never had protection, it was his belief, the population would be double what it is to-day.

Mr. Bell (Pictou) followed. He expressed himself as greatly impressed with Mr. Charlton's speech, and, took the member for Russell to task for holding free trade opinions while continuing to give a blind support to an out and out protectionist Government.

Mr. Heyd was in favor of giving further protection to the woollen manufacturers.

Mr. W. B. Northrup opposed the resolution on the ground of its indefiniteness, declaring for such an explicit clear cut tariff pronouncement as would leave no man in the country ignorant of how his representative stood on the question.

Mr. W. F. Maclean said the Liberals had gone part of the way; now let the Government do the manly thing and come right out for adequate protection. He would say to them, do it now, do it to-night. Now was the accepted time, now the appointed hour. He hoped this was the last time the Opposition would have to appeal to the Government to take the final leap and confess that the only policy for Canada was the policy of protection and not the jug-handled arrangement in force at the present time.

The Finance Minister.

Mr. Fielding said he did not think the House desired a division on the resolution, the object of which was rather to invite discussion and adjourn the debate to another day. As far as the Government was concerned, the general practice was that it should not declare its intention in regard to the tariff until the budget was brought down, so as not to make tariff announcements in advance of the budget statement. While agreeing with some points of the resolution, and disagreeing with others, he thought the debate ought to go over, and accordingly moved its adjournment, which was carried, and the House adjourned at 10 o'clock.

Bill Introduced.

Mr. Northrup introduced his bill to amend the Election Act.

During the year 1901, Mr. Sifton stated, the immigration to Canada totalled 27,898. Of this number 16,357 were British, 6,054 foreign and 5,487 were landed at Montreal who were not defined as to nationality.

A question by Mr. E. F. Clark in the House yesterday elicited from the Premier the information that the Government had sent a delegation to Patagonia to represent to these Welshmen the advantages of Canada as a field for settlement. The Government was now in communication with Welsh agents respecting the advisability of giving their people further assistance.

The Minister of Interior laid upon the table of the House the terms of the hydraulic concessions in the Klondike, granted to the Treadgold syndicate. In the main these are as already set forth in the press.

Railway Commission Bill Drafted.

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—A bill for the appointment of a railway commission has been drafted, and is now before the Cabinet. The measure will require the most careful consideration, and will involve a lengthened debate. The probability is, therefore, that it will be laid over until next session.

HAVE YOU EVER STOPPED TO CONSIDER?

Have you ever stopped to consider the quality, composition and effects of the various foods you use? It is too extensive a subject to deal with in a short newspaper article. Take your dish of oatmeal porridge and compare it with a dish of Malt Breakfast Food porridge, that tens of thousands are now using with the best results. What's the difference? Why, a vast and important one as far as your health and strength are concerned. Your oatmeal is a blood heater and irritant, often causing skin eruptions and facial disfigurements, and it frequently deranges the stomach and digestive organs.

Malt Breakfast Food, so highly indorsed by physicians and food experts is a grain food entirely free from insoluble starch; it enriches the blood and keeps it pure; it soothes and comforts the stomach; it is adapted for young and old, the weak and strong. One package makes twenty-five meals. Try it and be happy. Grocers heartly recommend it.

Distinguished Physicians

TALK ABOUT DEAFNESS.

They Point Out the Cause of Progressive Hardness of Hearing and Show Conclusively How it May be Cured.

Says a well-known ear specialist;—"Deafness in ninety per cent. of the cases is the direct result of closure of the eustachian tube (a little passageway leading from the middle ear to the back part of the throat) from a catarrhal inflammation of its mucous membrane. Then follows a rarefaction of air in the middle ear, with consequent intrusion of the drum, and an impaction of the ossicular arch, with a gradual anchylosis of the ossicular articulations, and a progressive stenosis of the eustachian tubes."

An editorial in The Medical Brief, a journal published by and for physicians and having the largest circulation of any strictly medical publication in the world, says, (10-1901, P. 1617).

"Deafness is becoming increasingly common, and the frequent failure of local treatment makes it necessary that we look for systemic conditions which may play a part in the continuance of the trouble.

At least three-fourths of the cases of deafness are due to catarrhal disease, involving the eustachian tube.

Simply cleansing diseased mucous surfaces, inflating the middle ear, injecting medicaments, etc., will make no permanent impression so long as constitutional conditions remain unchanged.

Persistent medication, with careful attention to hygiene, may yield an amelioration of the trouble, and, as deafness is a very great affliction, hampering the individual in a business way and shutting out much enjoyment, even a slight improvement is well worth working for."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets constitute the best, most reliable and economical internal or constitutional remedy for catarrh anywhere about the body, acting as they do through the blood, they search out and attack the disease wherever it may lurk. That this medicine cures catarrhal deafness is attested by many worthy and reliable people.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt, of Rochester, N. Y., says;—"I have suffered much from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers, and powders for months at a time, with only slight relief and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure. Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist, and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask, and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I can hear as well as ever."

Mr. James W. Brown says;—"I suffered from catarrhal deafness for years and spent hundreds of dollars with specialists, without relief. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets completely cured my catarrh, and to-day I can hear as well as I ever could."

F. Mitchell Hawes, the famous baritone, in a personal letter to a friend, said;—"I am going back to my beloved profession next month. This will surprise you I know, for when I last saw you I never expected to sing again, but I am entirely cured of my catarrh, and my hearing is now as acute as ever. I used Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and in three weeks they had done for me more than all the specialists to whom I paid thousands of dollars and now I am entirely well."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50c a box. Try them, and you will become their advocate and friend.

SILK DIFFERENCES.
There are thirteen hundred thousand yards in a pound of "cocoon silk."
There are 100 strands or thirteen thousand yards in a pound of full letter "A" Corticelli sewing silk.
There are seventy strands or eighteen thousand yards in a pound of common sewing silk, but labelled letter "A."
Corticelli sewing silk is therefore a third stronger—and it costs no more.

THE INQUEST AGAIN ADJOURNED

Several More Witnesses Examined Last Night.

THE JURORS MEET TO-NIGHT

A Brother of Deceased Gives Evidence —How Did Young Perrin Lose His Balance?

The inquest to enquire into the cause of death of James Frederick Perrin, who lost his life while at work on the Canadian Cereal Company's building last week, resumed at 7.30 o'clock last evening before Coroner Gray. All the jurors answered to their names promptly. Mr. Wood, County Crown Attorney, looked after the Crown's interests; Mr. E. M. Dennistoun, appeared on behalf of the Cereal Company, and Mr. W. A. Stratton, K.C., represented the relatives of the deceased.

The first witness called was John S. Perrin, a brother of the deceased young man. He was at work on the Cereal Company building when the accident occurred. He was only about 25 feet distant from his brother when he fell. He did not see his brother fall, but went down stairs immediately afterwards. Saw his brother lying on the floor; he was removed to the Nicholls Hospital, where he died a few hours later. He could not say how the accident was caused, excepting there must have been a mistake in the signal from the engineer.

To Mr. Dennistoun—I saw my brother's feet go through the well-hole of the floor on which he was. Being questioned as to a certain beam that is attached to the gable of the hoist, witness could not say whether or not this beam disappeared before his brother or not. The hoist had gone down twice before in a manner that might have caused an accident. He was aware of this but he had not told his brother, nor did he tell anyone else. He did not report the matter to anyone; the reason the witness assigned for this being that he was not there for the purpose of warning people.

"You don't blame anyone then?"

A.—I think that it was neglect of duty on the part of the bell man or the engineer. I can't say which one was to blame.

George Armour kissed the book next. He was also working on the building on like work as the deceased. He saw him put out his hand to reach a wheelbarrow, when he went down head first. Witness was not the first to reach him, but he did reach Perrin very shortly after he fell. His head was about twenty inches from the well hole, and he was lying on his back. Perrin did not go down before the hoist. The beam of the hoist also went down before Perrin did. Continuing, witness said—"I generally hear the bell ring; I heard it ring for my own, but not for Perrin. The bell rang the time Perrin fell but how many times it rang I do not know. The signalman was talking to the men down below; they often talk to each other down the well holes. He was not prepared to say that this conversation was going on at the time the hoist went down. There was no doubt at all that the bell rang and between the time that it rang and the time the hoist went down witness had walked about ten feet.

To Mr. Stratton—I never worked on one of these hoists before. I don't know is what manner they are run.

To Mr. Dennistoun—There was some slack in the rope attached to the bell. You can see the hoist from any part of the building when it is up. He could not say how long the barrow had been waiting to be unloaded. There was no one behind him that he was aware of. There may have been time to replace the barrow above if they had time below to load a barrow on the other hoist and perform any other duties that may have been necessary. He could not say that Redfern rang the bell. As to how the bell really did ring, witness said that it might have been possible for a chip from a brick in the cellar to have struck it. They were dumping brick in the cellar.

Mr. Dennistoun asked—Did he make any effort to recover his balance? A—He had no chance to. He had one foot on the hoist. If he had not one foot on the hoist he would not have fallen. Witness knew that the hoist had gone down suddenly before and he had warned them all. He had told them that if they ever went to fall to catch the cable. However, it would be 99 chances out of a hundred that they would miss it. He, himself, while he could possibly take the barrow off the hoist without putting his foot on it, generally put his foot on the platform of his hoist. He could not say whether or not Perrin was backing his barrow off the hoist or not. Witness continues to take his chances in the same manner. Witness was pressed very hard as to whether deceased struck the wheelbarrow on the hoist, the beam of the hoist or the wire attached to the hoist, but he would not pass an opinion on the matter. While he did speak to the men about the danger, he spoke to no one in authority. He might have done so had he so chosen.

To Foreman Martin—The handles on the wheel-barrow had been shortened and one could not grip them just as well with mits on. As to the conversation that the men were having down the hoist, he did not want to give the impression that Mr. Redfern was neglecting his duty. He may have been giving an order for some particular kind of bricks, etc.

To Mr. Dennistoun—I am still working at the building and continued taking the barrows off in the usual manner, and taking the usual chances of accident until this morning when we started taking off the barrows from the west side.

MR. REDFERN.

William Redfern, the signal man, was called, and said that he did not hold the bell rope in his hand continuously. He had not hold of the rope when he was talking down the well hole. He positively denied pulling the rope. He was talking down the manhole after the barrow came up and before the deceased went up to the cage. When he wants to speak to those down below he rings the bell three times; this he did on this occasion.

To Mr. Dennistoun—You heard Armour say that he heard the bell ring, just after which the cage went down. Did you hear it?

Witness—I did not.

Continuing witness said that there was about four feet of slack in the rope. Perrin was not at the hoist when he gave the signal to the men below that he wanted to talk to them.

Thomas Adams was sworn and said that the hoist would not stay in position merely by shutting off the steam; it was necessary to apply a break as well. "Providing I am at my post and the lower cage is loaded I answer the signal immediately; but sometimes I have to attend to the fires and cannot answer the bell as soon as I—otherwise would. I am certain I did not mistake the signal."

Mr. James Gaylord was called. He is a foreman on the works. He left the working of the hoist to the engineer. He did not assist in the construction of the hoist. He examined it every day before they start to work. He examined the barrow after the accident and found the barrow on the hoist just as it had been put on. He also examined the bell, and found it in working order. He was on the third floor going towards the basement when the crash came.

To Mr. Stratton, witness said that the bell was in the basement. It was not protected and the bell was not encased. There was no one on any of the floors excepting on the top and bottom floors that he was aware of. The engineer takes care of the bell and hoist. Witness had not heard any complaints from the men as to the bell not working right. "I superintend the construction; I have no contract but I am in the employ of the company. Mr. Langford's men built the hoist. There is no way of locking the hoist at the first, second or third floors other than by the manipulation of the machinery by the engineer. I have had about 27 years experience in constructing works.

To Mr. Dennistoun—"From all my experience in the working of hoists I think that this hoist and its attachments worked perfectly. There are notices up forbidding any one not employees entering upon the works, but it is not strictly enforced."

William Langford, the contractor for the woodwork of the building, was called to give evidence as to the construction of the hoist. The first hoist which they had had, and which came from Toronto, was not successful, and a new one was constructed on a different pattern. They also obtained a new cable, and it was as near perfect in every respect as it was possible to have it. There was no need for having a lock at each floor in this case. If it were propelled by a horse, as some are, it would be wise to have a brake, but with a reversible engine, and a brake at the engine there was no need of a brake on each. He thought the engine was the means by which the hoist descened on the occasion in question. He did not think there was anything negligent or dangerous in having the bell as it was. A catch or brake such as he referred to on horse elevators, would not have prevented the hoist from descending, if the power from the engine were applied.

The court then adjourned until to-morrow night at 7.30 o'clock.

AN OLD CURLER GONE.

Robt. McIntyre of Keene—Father of Mrs. Wm. Kindred, Town.

Robert McIntyre so well known in Keene and vicinity is dead. He was born just south of Keene about 60 years ago and has spent the greater part of his life here. About 30 years ago he married Margret, daughter of the late Richard Reid, who, with three girls and three boys are left to mourn so great a loss. He was a cooper by trade, but laterly held the mail contract between Keene and the station. Mr. McIntyre was very enthusiastic in all that he undertook, and while Sergt. of the 57th Batt. he distinguished himself as a crack shot; and also took part in the Fenian raid, for which he received his medal a few years ago, having at that time been attached to the Port Hope Batt. At the time of his death he was one of the oldest members of the Keene Curling Club, having been connected with that organisation for over 30 years, and is well known by all the old curlers in this vicinity as a very successful skip and enthusiastic curler, having last year won as a skip the single rink cup at Campbellford. There are only three members of his family still living, viz.: John, of Indiania; Mrs. Wm. McFarlane, of Keene, and Mrs. Wm. Kindred, of Peterborough.

The funeral service will be held in the Presbyterian church, Keene, at 3 p.m., on Wednesday, Feb. 26th.

CANADIAN GENERAL.

The Electric Company Will Increase its Capital Stock to $3,000,000.

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Canadian General Electric Company yesterday it was decided to apply to the Dominion Parliament to increase the capital stock of the company from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. Of the present stock $300,000 is preferred, and $1,700,000 is common stock, all paid up. The report states that while the power to issue another million of stock is asked for, it is not proposed to issue for the present more than $500,000, which will be offered to the shareholders in proportion to their holdings, at such premium as shall be determined upon.

Another by-law passed on December 12th, 1901, increasing the number of directors from 12 to 15, was approved yesterday.

In their annual report the directors state that the volume of business has been much larger than in any previous year in the history of the company. Owing to re-organizations and additions to plant during the year, the works have been run at a slight temporary disadvantage, but notithstanding this, the results of the year's business have been most satisfactory.

HOCKEY.

The Peterborough hockey team left this morning for Newmarket, where they will play their return game with the team of that place. The boys were accompanied by a few enthusiasts, while many more went up at noon. They are prepared to give a good account of themselves.

LADIES PLAYED.

The young ladies of Port Hope and Cobourg played a very interesting game of hockey on Saturday last in Port Hope, resulting in a victory for the home team, the score being 1 to 0. One of the players on the forward line of the Port Hope team was Miss Greta Symonds, formerly of Peterborough. The Guide has the following, to say of the match;

"Greta Symonds and Edna Read distinguished themselves for the High School, while Misses Crowther and Skill were the stars for Cobourg, more particularly the former, who worked hard to score all the time, and seemed never to tire. On three occasions she rushed in and attempted to score but either Marion Barrett or Adelaide Bowden would stop her, while goal keeper Mabel Wood took care of the rubber in a manner that would do credit to 'Duch' Morrison of the Galt team. Neither team could effect a score in the second half, and the match ended 1 to 0 in favour of Port Hope. The teams were;

Continuing, the Guide says:

"Eva McMillan, is a very earnest player, but does not keep her position on the wing, which greatly lessens her usefulness at times. Greta Symonds and Edna Read displayed a good knowledge of the game and handled the puck nicely."

CURLIANA.

The Orillia bonspiel opened yesterday and Peterborough was represented by four rinks, the skips being Messrs. Sam Ray, Geo. Whitton, R. Neill and T. Rutherford. A despatch from Orillia states:—Mild weather and soft ice greeted the curlers here today. Rinks are present from Peterborough, Lindsay, Bobcaygeon, Beaverton, Bracebridge, Midland, Barrie, Collingwood, Churchill and Brampton. Only the primary was played.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY

Successful Entertainment in George Street Church.

REPORTS FOR THE YEAR.

About 1200 People Were in the Church Last Night—A Chorus of 600 Voices—The Prize Winners.

The anniversary services in connection with George street Methodist Sunday School and Grace church concluded last night by a grand entertainment in the body of the church. Perhaps the interior of the church never looked prettier and it is certainly a while since it contained so many people. The decorations were very beautiful and the performers occupied a large temporary platform to the front of the edifice. The chair was occupied by Mr. T. W. Robinson, superintendent of the Sunday School, who superintended the rendering of the programme in a decidedly business-like manner. The singing of the children showed a great deal of careful training on the part of those who instructed them, whilst the music of the orchestra added materially to the pleasure of all present.

The programme was as follows:—

1. Bugle Call.
2. March.
3. Chorus No. 3, Forward.
4. Responsive Reading.
5. Prayer.
6. Chorus No. 6.
7. Reading of Reports.
8. Chorus No. 10.
9. Little mothers.
10. Chorus No. 12.
11. Distribution of Prizes.
12. Solo and Chorus No. 14.
13. Primary Chorus No. 16.
14. Pastor's Address.
15. Chorus No. 18.
16. 16 Famous Women.
17. Solo, Alma Knapman.
18. Chorus No. 20.
19. Garland Drill.
20. Chorus No. 22.
21. Class, Chorus No. 8.
22. Chorus, Maple Leaf.
23. God Save the King.

There is a combined membership of over 1,000 in the two schools and there were fully 600 of these in attendance last night. The "Ten Famous Women" which constituted a very important number on the programme were represented by the following: Joan of Arc, Queen Elizabeth, Barbara Heck, Harriet Beecher Stone, Elizabeth Barret Browning, Florence Nightengale, Grace Darling, Harriet Hosmer and Jennie Lynd. Miss Alberta White represented the Goddess of History, and was seated on a throne, attended by Mr. Harold Daly.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mr. A. E. Dixon presented the following report of the Sunday School for the year:

The number on the roll is as follows:—Boys 304, girls 430, officers and teachers 23, orchestra 3, home department 50, cradle roll 33. Total 388.

The average attendance of the boys was 161, of the girls 200 and of the officers and teachers 43, making a total average attendance of 403, an increase of 13 over that of the previous year.

The largest attendance was 485, on the 13th of January, 1901.

Miss Richardson's class had the largest average attendance, viz., 16.

The number of verses memorized by the boys was 5,740, by the girls 12,511, total 18,260, being an average of 352.

Mrs. Jas. Stubbs' class recited the largest average, viz., 57, and of the boys class Mr. R. B. McGill's recited the largest average, viz., 25.

The average contributions was as follows: Boys $2.71, girls $3.09, total $5.80, being an increase of $1.53 over the average of the previous year. Mr. G. Robertsons' class gave the largest average per Sunday, viz., 33 cents and Mrs. Jory's class gave the largest average of the girls' classes, 32 cents.

The library was improved by the addition of over 300 new books and now contains about 1,000 volumes and appears to give the school better satisfaction than ever before, it is under the able management of Mr. F. H. Dobbin and a very efficient staff of assistants.

Last spring after much consideration we adopted systematic giving, by individual envelopes, throughout the school, and under the excellent management of Mr. F. Brownscombe and two assistants, the plan has been as successful as the most sanguine anticipated, resulting in a training in systematic giving which should prove valuable, and in an increase in the givings of over 51 per cent. compared with the same period of the previous year.

About the same time a change was made in the method of raising our contributions to missions. We formerly gave the contributions on four Sundays for that purpose. We now give 15 per cent. of our total contributions.

Two teachers and twelve scholars have earned the distinction of having been present in their classes every Sunday during the year and are entitled to prizes. One scholar, Howard Goldey, having been present every Sunday for six successive years.

We have lost by death a faithful and valuable teacher, Miss Josephine Londerville, having been promoted to a higher sphere, and also a scholar, Minnie Pickles, who had not been absent from her class once in several years.

A. E. DIXON,
Secretary.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

Of the Park Street Baptist Sunday School on Friday Evening Last.

The anniversary of the Park street Baptist Sunday school took place on Friday evening. There was a large attendance of scholars, and, judging by the manner in which the good things disappeared, they all enjoyed themselves. When the meeting was called to order a few minutes after eight, there was scarcely standing room in the church. The children of the primary department numbering about forty, sang very sweetly "An Invitation Song."

The report of the secretary and treasurer was read, the secretary's report showing an average attendance of 140 for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1901. The treasurer's report gave the receipts as $160.73 and the expenditures $100.77.

Mr. Reekie, from McMaster University, gave a very interesting lecture on Egypt, illustrated by lime light views, showing some of the principle cities and their places of worship, as well as many of the pyramids and sphinx of ancient Egypt.

At intermission a male quartette consisting of Messrs. H. Allin, J. Rome, J. Tranter and E. Prest rendered a selection which was very much enjoyed.

The children of the primary class again sang, after which Mr. Reekie continued his lecture, closing with some fine views of Christ crowned with thorns, His death, burial and resurrection, followed by the singing of Toplady's popular hymn, "Rock of Ages," each verse being illustrated on the canvas.

Bricklayer's Backache.

It requires a good strong sturdy man to stand the strain of the hard work that falls to the lot of a mason. Exposure to the hot sun and the cutting winds, bending over, inhaling the fine dust of the lime, brick or stone, all these things are bound sooner or later to tell on the kidneys and put them out of working order.

The poor old back begins to ache and pain, the urine is scant and scalds when passing.

Any mason who finds his back aching and his kidneys bothering him can have these troubles removed and be put in fit shape for his work by a bottle or two of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

ACTED LIKE A CHARM.

Mr. Geo. Orbss, South Street, Aylmer, Ont., a stone and brickmason, well known in that town and vicinity, says: "For some fifteen years I have had trouble with my back and kidneys. It arose from my attempting to lift a very heavy stone and straining myself. I have tried all sorts of remedies in the hope of being cured, but obtained very little relief. My back would be so bad at times that it was with great pain and difficulty I could straighten up when I arose from my bed in the morning, and I suffered so much that I had to give up my mason work altogether. I read a good deal about Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets and bought a supply from my druggist. They acted like a charm—took the soreness and stiffness out of my back so that I can now straighten up with ease. The pain is all gone and I feel strong and well."

Price 50c. a box, at all druggists or by mail, THE DR. ZINA PITCHER CO., Toronto.

RIGHTS OF PEERESSES.

Number of Ladies Who Could Sit in the Lords, But No Woman Could Have a Seat in the Commons.

It is a fact not generally known that there are in the British Empire several women who are legally entitled to sit in Parliament as peeresses in their own right. It is true that no woman can have a seat in the House of Commons, but ladies who have been raised to the peerage by the Sovereign, or who have by descent become peeresses, stand on a different footing in relation to the House of Lords.

The fact that this right is not exercised, or that it might be challenged, if pressed, does not affect its validity in the least. There are about ten peeresses who are thus entitled, most of whom are baronesses. Curiously enough, the premier baroness is a little lady of not more than six summers. The youngest of the baronesses is, therefore, the first in point of precedence.

She is the infant daughter of the late Baron Beaumont of Carlton Towers, Yorkshire, whose barony was created early in the fourteenth century, and extends to the female line. She succeeded to the title under very distressing circumstances, her father being accidentally killed while shooting. At present the baroness is too much occupied with her lessons and her pets to think about her right to a seat in Parliament.

The Baroness Berkeley is the present representative of another ancient barony, dating from the year 1421. She succeeded upon the death of her uncle nearly twenty years ago. He was both Baron and Earl Berkeley, but the earldom not extending to the female line his neice could only inherit the barony. The earldom consequently passed to the nearest male relative, a cousin.

The Baroness Berkeley is the wife of Major-General Gustavus Milman, and the heiress to the barony is her only daughter, the Honorable Eva Mary Fitzhardinge. For some years, therefore, it is likely to remain in the female line.

The Baroness Berners, another peeress in her own right, owes the title to the fact that when the barony was established it was provided that it should descend through both the male and female lines. For nearly a century, from 1748 down to 1832, this peerage was in abeyance. At the latter date it was revived in favor of the present holder's great-uncle.

The Baroness is the only surviving child of the Hon. and Rev. Robert Wilson, and the title descended to her in the year 1871, on the death of her paternal uncle, the sixth Baron Berners.

Her husband was the late Sir Thomas Henry Tyrwhitt, Bart., and the title once more reverts to the male line, the eldest son of the Baroness, Sir Rommond Tyrwhitt Wilson, being the heir.

The Baroness Berners is the mother of nine sons, two of whom died some time ago.

Very few people are aware that the beautiful Countess of Yarborough is a baroness twice over. Her husband is a baron as well as an earl, and the Countess is also a baroness in her own right.

She is the thirteenth holder of the Barony of Conyers, which dates from the year 1509, and to which she succeeded on the death of her father, the twelfth Baron Conyers, nine years ago. The founder of the house came over with William the Conqueror, and was made custodian of Durham Castle.

Everybody knows that the Baroness Burdett-Coutts is a baroness in her own right, and by virtue of her own good deeds. Perhaps everybody is not aware, however, that she is the only Baroness ever created for her personal goodness. What she has done for the poor and needy only she and her intimates know. Her benefactions have been legion; and it should be remembered that they have been spread over all quarters of the world.

There are two baronies of Scotland at present held by women in their own right. They are the Baronies of Gray and Kinloss, the former of which is held by the wife of Mr. McLaren Smith, who some time since assumed the name of Smith-Gray.

The Baroness Gray succeeded her uncle, the late Earl of Moray, in the barony some six years ago; and twelve months later she was confirmed in the title by the House of Lords. On her death the barony goes once more into the male line, the heir being the present holder's son.

The Barony of Kinloss is now held by Mary Morgan Grenville, daughter of the third Duke of Buckingham and Chandos. She succeeded on the death of her father, more than 20 years ago, to the only one of his titles which could be inherited by a female representative of the family.

The only lady who is a Countess in her own right enjoys quite a unique distinction. She has two other peerages, which came to her in the same fashion. The lady is Sybell Lilian Mackenzie, who at the tender age of fourteen found herself Countess of Cromartie, Viscountess Tarbat and Baroness Castlehaven and Macleod. That was in 1893, when she succeeded her father the late Earl of Cromartie.

In consequence of the rebellion of 1745 the old Earldom of Cromartie was forfeited by its then holder, but in 1861 Queen Victoria created Anne Duchess of Sutherland, the then heiress, countess, viscountess, and baroness as already mentioned, with descent to her son, and afterwards to her oldest daughter in case the son should have no heir.

Two women are peers in their own right on account of the services rendered to the British Empire by their deceased husbands. One of these is the widow of the late Right Hon. W. H. Smith, who used to lead the House of Commons. She was created Viscountess Hambleden, and will be succeeded by the Hon. W. F. D. Smith, M.P., her son.

The other is the widow of Sir John A. Macdonald, a former Canadian Premier. Her title is Baroness Macdonald of Earnscliffe, Ontario.

ARTIFICIAL ICE.

Principle Upon Which This Commodity Is Manufactured.

The principle upon which the manufacture of ice is based is that a gas when compressed gathers heat enormously, and if robbed of this heat and allowed to escape at a future time it seeks to regain its heat by withdrawing heat from its surroundings. Ammonia gas is generally preferred to others because it can be liquefied with comparatively little pressure. On removing the water from common ammonia by distillation anhydrous ammonia is obtained. This is compressed by a combined steam pump and a compressor, and the resulting liquefaction induces heat, which is economized by circulating water about the vessel or pipe containing the liquefied ammonia. Thus the ammonia is cooled and the heat largely transferred to the water, which is then pumped back to the boiler that supplies the steam pump. The liquid ammonia is then carried in a pipe to expansion coils that afford plenty of room for its evaporation, when it begins to return to the gaseous form and to draw heat from its surroundings, which gradually reduces the temperature. Proper vessels of water are placed in contact with the expansion coils, and in due time ice is formed.

A Throat and Lung Treatment

That Has Been Largely Imitated but Never Successfully Rivalled is Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

There is no guesswork about the virtues of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It has been before the people too long, and withstood too many a battle brunt from aspiring rivals, to be considered an experiment of unknown value.

Year by year, as the fall and winter seasons come and go, the sale of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine increases steadily and certainly. It has proven its remarkable value won its laurels and continues to lead the van as the most popular and most largely used cough and cold medicine of this country.

Children especially are fond of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, because it is sweet and pleasant to the taste, and quickly relieves and cures them when gasping for breath with choked-up air passages, or tearing the linings of the throat and bronchial tubes with a severe and painful cough.

Bronchitis, whooping cough, croup, sore throat, severe chest colds and painful coughs are relieved and cured promptly and thoroughly by this famous preparation. It also frees the asthma sufferer from the dreadful paroxysms which cause him such keen agony and cures asthma, as has been proven in a hundred cases.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine aids expectoration, clears the throat and air passages, soothes and heals the inflamed linings of the bronchial tubes, and cures coughs of every description. But it is far more than a mere cough cure, for its action is far-reaching and it thoroughly removes the cold as well.

You cannot compare Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine with any remedy you ever used. It is unique as a treatment for throat and lung troubles. There are other preparations of linseed and turpentine put up in imitation of Dr. Chase's, and it is therefore important that that you be careful when buying. 25 cents a bottle; family size, three times as much, 60 cents. At all dealers, or Edmansen, Bates & Co., Toronto. 5

Decadence in Penmanship.

"While the people as a whole may write more legibly than they did a generation ago," said an old writing teacher, "there are not so many really excellent penmen. The multiplication of business colleges has improved the handwriting of a portion of the public, while the invention of the typewriter has made it useless to acquire extra skill in penmanship. Time was when the first class penmen commanded high salaries, but now there is such a slight demand for good writers that the market is overstocked. No penman can compete with a typewriter, and so the art of superior penmanship is gradually dying out and will soon be lost."

Strong Enough for Cancers.

Cancers are caused by poisonous humors in the blood. The only non-surgical treatment known is Merrill's System Tonic. This is a powerful blood purifier and at the same time blood builder. It cures Scrofula, Eczema and Salt Rheum in thirty days and boils and pimples in a week. 50 doses, price 50c. Sold by Ormond and Walsh, druggists.

FOR ORDINARY WEAR.

Waists of Flannel, Cashmere and Corduroy Are Fashionable.

For a schoolgirl nothing is prettier in the way of waists than one of dotted velvet. Such a waist can be made with stitched plaits and strappings or, if desired, trimmed with little pipings of plain satin the color of the waist or black. With a waist of plain velvet a wide lace collar is pretty. Changeable velvets make charming blouses for dressy and ordinary occasions.

White flannel, which has been heretofore so popular, is being discarded by people who have to consider the cost of things. It is really most unpractical, as it soils almost immediately, and when washed it either grows yellow or shrinks.

Cashmere and silk and wool fabrics are superseding flannel because of their superior cleaning qualities. Box plaits form a popular way of making these unlined tailor made waists.

The waist in today's illustration is of white silk laid in alternate tucks and shirrings. The sleeves are elbow length and are finished by wide ruffings of chiffon. Above these ruffings are wide and narrow bands of black velvet, terminating in rosettes. The waist has a short yoke of tucks, bordered by a curved medallion applique. The waist is collarless, but about the throat is worn a pretty neck ornament consisting of three narrow bands of velvet ribbon held together by a white lace butterfly. JUNIO CHOLLET.

Valuable Advice to Rheumatics.

Eat meat sparingly and take very little sugar, avoid damp feet, and drink water abundantly, always rely on Polson's Nerviline as an absolute reliever of rheumatic pains. Being five times stronger than other remedies its power over pain is simply beyond belief. Buy a large 25 cent bottle to-day, test it, and see if this is not so. Polson's Nervigine always cures rheumatism.

Man's Monuments.

Mr. James Ricalton, writing of the wonderful old ruins of monuments and shrines at Anurajahpoord, the city of the sacred bo tree in Ceylon, says: "From the days of the mound builders man has shown himself to be a monument erecting being. The Christians have their cathedrals, the Mohammedans have their mosques, and the Buddhists have their shrine tombs, designated differently in different countries as pagoda, tope and dagoba.

"The pagodas of China are entirely dissimilar to those of Burma, and the dagobas of Ceylon are quite unlike those in either country, yet all serve the one purpose of relic sepulture. They are not altogether a thing of the past. They are still erected near the temples, but those of modern construction are small and unimportant when compared with those that have withstood biennial monsoons for 2,000 years. Even their half buried ruins are stupendous."

Water, Crackers and Gruel.

is the usual dyspeptic bill of fare. There are no sausages, no banquets, no little suppers and no fun. Take Merrill's System Tonic and get a healthy stomach, lots of vigour and then eat mince pie and cabbage with the rest of us. System Tonic is par excellence the most perfect tonic cathartic known, 50 pleasant-to-take doses 50c. Sold by Ormond and Walsh, druggists.

Old Delusions.

It is inexplicable how the old delusion that a man cannot eat one quail a day for thirty days holds its own. Any man can eat one quail a day for thirty days. At Lawrence some years ago Will Upton ate two quails a day for more than thirty days. For the first week or two he starved himself with the idea that he must keep up an appetite. After that he sometimes ate three or four of the birds in a day.

Another old fraud on the public is the belief that a horse cannot pull a sack of sand at the end of a two hundred foot rope. Any cow pony in Kansas will go off on a lope with such a sack.

NATURE REVOLTS

Because the Kidneys were overworked and weakened and could not do their whole duty. South American Kidney Cure cleared away the impurities—healed the diseased parts—made a sick-to-death man well.

One of the happiest men in the County of Heron to-day, is Mr. James McBrine, of Jamestown. He was suddenly attacked with most severe Kidney disease which culminated in a complication of bladder troubles. He tried the best physicians in the County without avail. Attracted by testimony of most marvellous cures by South American Kidney Cure he procured it, and before he had used one bottle was completely cured. 6

IN THE No. 7 MINE

By PERCIVAL RIDSDALE

COPYRIGHT, 1901, BY PERCIVAL RIDSDALE

"'Tain't no use cryin'," said Paddy McGann. "If the boss bounces me to-morrow, I has got to go, but I hate to leave you, Billy; I just hate to."

Billy was Paddy's lead mule in the No. 7 mine, a big rawboned animal with a philosophic countenance and a reputation with all except Paddy of having a vicious temper.

"It ain't right," cried Paddy, "and I ain't a-goin' to stand it. Oh, Billy, if I had lots of money d'you know what I'd do? Well, I'd buy you and take you up to the surface and let you do nothin' but eat grass and run around the fields. Say, how long has it been, Billy, since you saw the sky? Guess it must be all of seven years."

Billy looked contemplative.

"Well, never mind; there's a good time comin' some day. And say, Billy, if I don't get even with Evan Jones—well, you can kick me for a duffer. It won't be long before I'm as big as he is, and then we'll both get even with him. You—say, what's the matter, Billy?"

For Billy had shaken off the nose bag with a jerk, and with ears cocked, eyes staring and nostrils agape he was looking down the gangway.

"What is"— began Paddy, and then, sniffing the air, he cried, "Why, it's smoke, Billy."

The mule whinnied, and there was a note of terror in the long, low cry.

"Smoke," cried Paddy again, "and it ain't no powder smoke neither! Say, Billy, she's afire!"

Down the gangway they sped. Paddy was mystified. Where could the smoke come from? There was nothing along the gangway which could burn. It was all rock. He stopped suddenly, horrified. The air current had changed. He was in an outtake, but the air was rushing inward, and it was bringing the smoke. But why should it come into the outtake? If—but as he asked himself the question Paddy knew what had happened. Some one had left the door open, and the diverted air current was sweeping into the workings, carrying the smoke with it.

Billy pulled at the restraining hand, but again they dashed forward, and again they stopped, for Paddy was crying:

"The shift, Billy—the shift! They is in there. They don't know, Billy. They'll all be killed!"

Far up the gangway and at one side in a remote working the inside foreman and thirty men had gone in the early morning to block an old opening. Paddy knew what that meant. They were isolated, and the smoke would not reach them until the very last. By that time the surrounding chambers would be so full of it that escape would be impossible.

This flashed through Paddy's mind before he could bring Billy to a stop. Almost without thinking he had determined what to do. There were two things—he could in a moment or two reach a safe place or he could go back into the smoke and warn the men. He might be overcome before he could find them, and might find them only to die in their company, but he did not think of these things. With a pull he turned Billy around.

"You've got to help me, Billy!" he cried. "I can't reach them alone." Billy shivered and whinnied.

Clinging around the mule's neck, he choked and gasped for breath. It seemed that with each inhalation liquid fire poured down his throat, while his eyes, though closed, were like balls of fire. How it was faring with Billy Paddy did not know. He felt the mule gasp as he stumbled along, and once when Billy stopped, trembling, and moaned out his agony in a long despairing scream Paddy had all he could do to smother the sobs in his own throat and urge the mule on. At last, and it seemed an age, the smoke grew lighter, for they were outracing it, and the farther they got from the entrance to the gangway the lighter it became. Then they reached the spot where the side working commenced. Billy dashed down the narrow opening and, with a long gasp, drank in great gulps of the comparatively untainted air. Then on they sped until Paddy knew he was close to the working in which the men were. Could he find them? Much—their lives and his—depended on his quickness.

He slipped off Billy's back and dashed from one opening into another, straining his eyes to see any faint glimmer of light. He found himself coughing and knew that the heading was gradually filling with the smoke, yet he had not found trace of the men. He cried in his vexation and then shouted in the utter vainness of his efforts. His eyes and his throat were begining to smart again, and his breath was short. He stuffed his handkerchief in his mouth, but the relief was slight. Once or twice he had to stop and lean against the rough rib of the heading, but he stumbled on again. Then almost as he fell into an opening he saw light. Gathering all his strength, he raised his voice in a long shout. There came an answer.

"Hurry! Danger!"

Then they came with a rush. There was no need to ask questions. The workings were already filling with smoke, and the men dropped everything and ran. One by one they passed Paddy. As the last one passed the boy he shouted back:

"Tell the boss!"

"Tell the boss!" "Tell the boss!" The words rang in Paddy's ears like the roar of a waterfall. All at once a cold and inquiring nose was thrust into his face. It was Billy. With the touch Paddy's senses returned, and he knew what the words meant. Evan Jones, the inside boss, the man who was to discharge him on pay day, was somewhere inside, ignorant of the danger which in a few moments would overtake him. Even now there might not be time. Paddy said nothing to Billy. Breath was too precious. Instead he grasped Billy's mane and swung himself on the mule's back again. Then straight down the passage they went until, after some minutes, they came upon Evan Jones.

"She's—afire!" gasped Paddy.

The boy's face told the foreman there was no time to ask questions, but as he swung himself up beside Paddy and laid his head low on Billy's back to avoid bumping against the low hanging roof he cried:

"Where are the others? Do they know?"

"They ran when I told 'em!" gasped Paddy.

"Cowards!" muttered the foreman.

The working was rapidly filling with smoke, but Billy gallantly breasted it beneath the double load, and so they came to the opening upon the gangway. In the darkness they dashed into it, only to recoil the next moment.

"It's full of smoke!" cried the foreman.

Billy, terror stricken, shook them off and would have plunged back down the passage but for Paddy's restraining hand.

"It's our only chance," said Jones. "We must make it. Give me your hand."

"But Billy?" questioned Paddy.

"He'll have to find his own way out. We can't bother with him."

"Go ahead," said Paddy. "Me and Billy'll get out together."

"Fool!" cried Jones. "Come on!" he called as he ran.

Paddy drew off his coat and, throwing it over the mule's head, tried to lead him out, but Billy would not move.

"Billy," cried the boy, "don't you know I'll take care of you? Come!"

Billy whimpered and then, with a big shake, sprang down the passage, dragging Paddy after him. The foreman was already some distance away, but Billy's burst of speed soon brought them together again. Paddy, keeping his feet in a remarkable manner, passed the foreman, and they dashed on into the smoke. Paddy's head was swimming, and his eyes were bursting from their sockets. He seemed to spin along like a top. Then there came a crash, and he found himself on the ground huddled against Billy. The mule sank down with a pitiful cry of pain. His leg was broken.

It seemed ages after that when Paddy opened his eyes to find a lot of anxious faces gazing into his. He was helped up, and a distant roar, like the voice of many people, fell upon his ear. He saw he was at the head of the shaft and that a number of men stood around. Evan Jones bent over him and said:

"Don't cry about Billy. You did all you could to save him, and you were nearly gone when I found you and brought you out. We both had a narrow shave, and so did the other fellows, and we all owe our lives to you. The people want you to say something. 'Are you strong enough?'"

Raised by willing hands, Paddy was greeted by a roar of cheering, and when he found his voice he said, although he could hardly hear himself speak: "Don't say nothin' to me about it. It was Billy done it all. Billy, he was"—

But he could say no more, and, turning to his mother, who had forced her way to his side, he burst into sobs and hid his tears on her bosom.

Cooling Off.

The man who would sit on a cake of ice to cool off would be considered crazy. Yet it is a very common thing for a person heated by exercise to stand in a cool draught, just to cool off. This is the beginning of many a cough which ultimately involves the bronchial tract and the lungs.

For coughs in any stage there is no remedy so valuable as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures deep-seated, obstinate coughs, bronchitis, bleeding of the lungs, and like conditions which if neglected or unskillfully treated terminate in consumption.

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good."

"I took a severe cold which settled in the bronchial tubes," writes Rev. Frank Hay, of Nortonville, Jefferson Co., Kansas. "After trying medicines labeled 'Sure Cure,' almost without number, I was led to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took two bottles and was cured, and have stayed cured.

"When I think of the great pain I had to endure, and the terrible cough I had, it seems almost a miracle that I was so soon relieved.

"That God may spare you many years and abundantly bless you is the prayer of your grateful friend."

OF INTEREST TO HAY FEVER SUFFERERS.

Physicians generally recommend a change of climate for the relief of Hay Fever, where such weeds and flowers as ragweed and honeysuckle are not indigenous, as these and many other flowers and grasses aggravate the disease. Many localities have been recommended, such as mountainous regions and the sea coast, but generally at these resorts a great deal depends upon the vagaries of the wind, and results are not always satisfactory, as if the wind should blow off shore, as it frequently does, there is no relief. In Muskoka and among the 30,000 Islands of the Georgian Bay conditions are different. It is of no consequence which way the wind blows. The preponderance of water area to land surface; the curative odors of balsam and pine, together with the elevation of a thousand feet above the sea, renders hay fever an impossible condition in these districts Handsome illustrated booklet entitled "Hay Fever; how to avoid and cure," may be had free by applying to local agents or M.C. Dickson, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

Hunger Caused This Suicide.

Winnipeg, Feb. 25.—Mr. Hildinger brought news this morning of the suicide of Martin Miklac, a Galician living at Cimliman. Miklac cut his throat with a butcher knife and stabbed himself in the breast. He leaves a wife and two children. The cause of his rash act was destitution, only half a loaf of bread being found in the house. His wife tried to stop him, but failed.

The Falls Claims Another Victim.

Many times has this statement been published. But if Niagara has claimed its thousands, neglected coughs and colds have claimed their tens of thousands. You can't stop the falls but you can stop the cough or cold in two days by taking a 25c bottle of Four T's, the great guaranteed cough and cold cure. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

SERMON ON SUNDAY SINS.

By Rev. A. E. Langfeldt, Rector of St. Luke's.

THE SINS OF OMISSION

And the Sins of Commission Very Ably Dealt With—The Observance of the Sabbath.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of St. Luke's, preached a very interesting sermon on Sunday last, taking as his subject "Sunday Sins." Extracts from Rev. Mr. Langfeldt's sermon are as follows:

As I go on to speak of our sins of omission, I must not be understood to mean, that there is any such thing in the world as a simple sin of omission only. Say for instance, that there is the greatest of all omissions, no real love of God in the heart. But the heart of man must love something. Therefore, if God be not in His proper place in the heart, some other object is there, and that is idolatry. Idolatry is not loving something too much, but it is loving anything in which God is not. Then the positive sin of idolatry is, after all, the very same thing with the negative sin of the absence of the love of God. You cannot have a mere sin of omission.

Carrying, then, this truth along with us, let us now proceed to look at some of the sins of omission, which attach to us the very performance of our religious duties, and remember that all religious service is of the nature of sacrifice. Not sacrifice in propitiation, that belongs to the One great sacrifice alone, once offered for all and for ever. But still a religious service is a sacrifice. An act of faith in it; an act of homage; a tribute of self-dedication to God, and the sacrifice must be without flaw. It is not enough that it be of the right kind; it must be in the right state. "Whatsoever hath a blemish, that shall ye not offer, for it shall not be acceptable for you." And, first, let us look at the Sunday and the sanctuary.

The folly and sin of most men, is, they begin by making the Sunday a blank day, and then, because it is blank, it becomes a disregarded, a worldly and a profane day.

Can we wonder that such unfilled Sundays, as some persons spend, grow listless and weary?

The first requisite, is, a taste for spiritual things; a mind set to the holy and the heavenly; aspiration and capabilities of delight, such as only the Holy Ghost can impart to a man.

We believe that according to the Fourth Commandment, the Sabbath is obligatory. Therefore every Sunday, unless any particular circumstance prevent, everyone should attend the public service of the church. Of the other hours of the day, apart from such as every man's conscience should prescribe, ought to be passed in strictly devotional, private exercises, whereby the soul, rising itself above the week day worldliness, prepares itself for the duties and trials of the coming week, enjoys the fellowship and presence of God, and gradually prepares itself for a higher and perfect condition.

In addition to this it is clear that if the Sunday be anything, there should be some directly religious readings to improve the mind, to purify the heart every Sunday.

The attendance in God's house, the private retirement, the sacred study, the spiritual converse, the work of Christian kindness, are they to be found, each of them, in its integrity?

Before going to church, you should endeavour to adapt and tune your minds, to the holy engagement in which you are about to enter.

Secondly, Arrived in your place, it is an omission which will return again and again upon you in wandering thoughts and unprofitable devotions, if you do not, before the service begins, really and earnestly cast yourself upon the Divine Help, and imploring in secret prayer the influence of the Holy Ghost to keep and sanctify and fill that weak and treacherous heart of yours in a right attitude towards God.

Thirdly. Do not think lightly of the posture of your body. We are so constituted that the position of the body re-acts upon the mind. Kneel when you speak to God and do not show indolence towards God by merely bowing your head, and sit while you pray.

And lastly, do no turn your back upon the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The dying command of your Lord and Saviour is in words that cannot be mistaken, that it is essential to your spiritual life and salvation.

Is it strange to you that your life is barren, hollow, that it yields no peace, that it produces no effect, that it is no more a reality, because you refuse the gracious invitation of your Lord?

Is it wonderful that that soul perishes who so rejects that Bread? or that there is no sense of forgiveness to that one who can set at nought the emblem of Christ's atoning blood? Happy for us that we can turn from all our poor, blemished sacrifices, to that pure and perfect One which hath been offered "without blemish, without spot," for you. Only let us never forget that he who would safely trust in the power of that sacrifice for his salvation must take the spotlessness of that sacrifice for his daily pattern.

A CAUSE OF HEADACHE.

One Very Common Cause, Generally Over-Looked.

Headache is a symptom, an indication of derangement or disease in some organ and the cause of the headache is difficult to locate because so many diseases have headache as a prominent symptom; derangement of the stomach and liver, heart trouble, kidney disease, lung trouble, eye strain or ill fitting glasses, all produce headaches, and if we could always locate the organ which is at fault, the cure of obstinate headaches would be a much simpler matter.

However, for that form of headache, called frontal headache, pain back of the eyes and in forehead, the cause is now known to be catarrh of the head and throat; when the headache is located in the back of head and neck it is often caused from catarrh of the stomach or liver.

At any rate catarrh is the most common cause of such headaches, and the cause of the catarrh causes a prompt disappearance of the headaches.

There is at present no treatment for catarrh so convenient and effective as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new internal remedy in tablet form, composed of antiseptics, like eucalyptol, guaiacol and blood root, which act upon the blood and cause the elimination of the catarrhal poison from the system through the natural channels.

Miss Cora Ainsley, a prominent school teacher in one of our normal schools, speaks of her experience with catarrhal headaches and eulogizes Stuart's Catarrh Tablets as a cure for them. She says, "I suffered daily from severe frontal headaches, and pain in the back of the eyes, at times so intensely as to incapacitate me in my daily duties. I had suffered from Catarrh more or less for years, but never thought it was the cause of my headaches, but finally became convinced that such was the case, because the headaches were always worse whenever I had a cold or a fresh attack of catarrh.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets were highly recommended to me as a safe and pleasant catarrh cure, and after using a few fifty-cent boxes which I procured from my druggists I was surprised and delighted to find that both the catarrh and headaches had gone for good."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents per package under the guarantee of the proprietors, that they contain absolutely no cocaine (found in so many catarrh cures), no opium, (so common in cheap cough cures), nor any harmful drug. They contain simply the wholesome antiseptics necessary to destroy and drive from the system the germs of catarrhal disease.

ACCEPT REFERENDUM

Ontario Convention Asks for Changes in the Bill.

WILL SEE THE GOVERNMENT

The Date of Voting and the Majority Required Are Objected To—Pavilion in Toronto Crowded With Delegates to Convention Held Under the Auspices of the Dominion Alliance.

Toronto, Feb. 26.—The prohibitionists of the province met yesterday at the Pavilion, and after several hours of keen debate, decided upon the line to take with regard to the present situation. The report of the Executive Committee of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance was carried, and at 1 o'clock to-day a deputation of thirty or forty of the leading prohibitionists of the country will wait upon Hon. Geo. W. Ross and the Ontario Cabinet, and press upon him the views of the convention. Summarized, the attitude of the convention is that the prohibitionists are displeased at the action of the Government in insisting upon the referendum, but will, under protest, accept the situation and throw themselves into the campaign. They demand, however, a revision of the terms of the referendum, in the direction of having the vote taken on the day of the municipal elections, and of having the question decided by a simple majority of the vote cast.

The convention, which was composed of delegates from practically all the temperance organizations of the province, was large enough to fill the body and the first gallery of the Pavilion. Rev. Dr. W. A. McKay of Woodstock, President of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, presided. His task was not easy, for the meeting was vivacious, and the supply of delegates anxious to speak greatly exceeded the time at the disposal of the convention. The Chairman's work accordingly was delicate, and the eagerness of would-be speakors to place their views before the convention led to occasional scenes of noise and confusion. These were more marked in the morning. In the afternoon the convention steadied, and after keen and good debating made its decision, arriving at ultimate uniformity of views.

The main question was whether the referendum should be repudiated or accepted. The official view was in favor of the latter, and Mr. F. S. Spence moved the adoption of the report of the committee, which was ultimately adopted. Rev. Dr. Chown moved the amendment to repudiate the referendum, and the principal vote of the day was the one which negatived this. Other amendments were thrown aside rather unceremoniously and the report as follows was passed:

The Report Adopted.

"That this convention hails with pleasure the decision of the Privy Council sustaining the Manitoba Liquor Act, thus affirming the right of a provincial legislature to prohibit transactions in intoxicating liquors which take place wholly within the territorial limits of its jurisdiction by the residents of the province.

"That the bill introduced into the Ontario legislature making prohibition conditional upon difficult, unreasonable and unjust requirements cannot be accepted as a fulfilment of the government's pledge, and this convention expresses its deep regret that the government has not carried out the simple, definite promise of Sir Oliver Mowat, reiterated by Hon. A. S. Hardy and Hon. G. W. Ross, to introduce a bill to prohibit the liquor traffic to the limit of the declared power of the province.

"That a specially objectionable and unfair feature of the said bill is the provision that, even if the bill is approved by a majority of the electorate voting thereon, it will not become law unless that majority attains very large dimensions. And this convention begs to respectfully inform the government that legislation limited by any condition that would permit the opinions of a minority of the voting electorate to prevail would not be considered by the prohibitionists of Ontario as a fulfilment of the government's promises, nor as entitling members of the legislature who voted for it to their confidence and support.

"That this convention also objects to the unfairness of a method which makes it necessary for prohibitionists to poll a large vote in order to secure the legislation they desire, while anti-prohibitionists are not required to do so, but may succeed without taking the trouble of voting.

"That this convention further protests against the fixing of the date for the proposed voting at an inconvenient time, with an important economy of public funds and the time and effort of the voters, and that if a vote is taken the date be the same as the municipal elections.

"That a deputation be appointed to lay before the government the foregoing resolutions, and to ask for a removal from the bill of the unfair conditions complained of, and that every member of the legislature be urged to do all he can to secure the elimination from the bill of those conditions.

"That when this convention adjourns, it stand adjourned to meet again at the call of the Executive, after the general election, unless some emergency should require its being convened at an earlier date."

GREENWAY DENOUNCES IT.

He Scores Manitoba Government For Not Trying Its Act.

Winnipeg, Feb. 26.—Mr. Greenway, leader of the Opposition in the Legislature, spoke on the Referendum bill yesterday afternoon. He denounced the course of the Government in not trying the act for a year before taking the referendum, but did not move any amendment to the measure. He stated that should he ever become Premier he would not exact a prohibitory law unless the vote on the referendum showed the people were prepared to support prohibition when it came down to business.

The Alliance Petition.

The Manitoba Branch of the Dominion Alliance petitions the Lieut.-Governor as follows:

That Your Honor will withhold His Majesty's assent to any bill referring to the people in an ymanner the enforcement of the Liquor Act, on the ground that such a reference would be subversive of the principles of representative and responsible government, and, inasmuch as it would be contrary to the usuages and repugnant to the spirit of the constitution, and, moreover, injurious to the dignity and prerogative of the Crown, if not ultra vires of the British North America Act."

A petition couched in similar language has also been sent to Ottawa, asking the Governor-General in Council to exercise his prerogative in the event of the bill being assented to here.

LAUNCH OF THE METEOR.

Miss Alice Roosevelt Christens the German Emperor's New Yacht at Shooter's Island—A Successful Function.

New York, Feb. 26.—In a drizzling rain and in the presence of a brilliant assemblage, amidst cheering and the roar of cannon, the German Emperor's new schooner yacht Meteor was launched from Shooters Island yesterday. Unlike the weather, the arrangements were perfect and no untoward incident marred the occasion.

The President, Mrs. and Miss Roosevelt, Prince Henry, and the distinguished party accompanying them, were enthusiastically cheered on arriving at the platform built just back of the bow of the Meteor.

Exactly at 10.39 Miss Roosevelt broke the champagne bottle, saying: "In the name of the German Emperor, I christen thee Meteor."

Guns roared, bands played, and the great cheering lasted for several minutes. The Prince handed a bouquet to Miss Roosevelt and then, raising his hat, in a few words acknowledged the cheering of those on the main platform.

The launch occurred without mishap.

The Height of Flunkeyism.

New York, Feb. 26.—Amid a scene of confusion, the banquet of the Georgia Society was concluded at the Marlborough Hotel. James G. Gray, second vice-president of the society, said: "I do not approve of this reception and this great ovation of the American people to a paper admiral of Germany, which has itself denied scant credit to a real admiral, an American." Mr. Gray said: "It is the height of flunkeyism."

GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

Motion re Excessive Hours of Labor Carried by One Vote.

London, Feb. 26.—The Government was defeated in the House of Commons last night. Capt. Norton (Liberal) called attention to the excessive hours of labor of railroad men, and moved that the Government should be empowered to demand returns from the railroad companies for the hours exceeding twelve per day worked by their servants.

After some debate, which was directed toward showing that accidents arose from overwork on the part of the railroad employes, Gerald Balfour (Conservative), on behalf of the Government, admitted that there was some justification for the motion and that he was willing to accept a modified form thereof, but the House carried Capt. Norton's original motion by 155 to 154, amid loud cheers from the Opposition.

A Generous Chinaman.

Kingston, Feb. 26.—Hong Lee, a practical Chinese laundryman, who wants to see Queen's University prosper, walked over to J. J. Harpell, who has the work of collecting for Grant Hall in charge, and counted him out $100 in bills as his share to the new building, an amount equal to that given by the Governor-General. A year ago Hong Lee also gave $50 to a class scholarship. The Chinaman is very partial to Dr. Grant, and in his shop has the latest photograph of the Principal hung in a conspicuous place.

Blondin Captured.

New York, Feb. 26.—Joseph Wilfrid Blondin, who was accused of the murder of his wife near Boston, Mass., last June, by cutting off her head, was arrested at police headquarters here yesterday. He had gone to headquarters to take an examination for an engineer's license and was identified. The prisoner admitted his identity, but professed to know nothing of the killing of his wife.

Fire at Dunnville.

Dunnville, Ont., Feb. 26.—About 3 o'clock yesterday morning the factory of the Dunnville Planing Company, Limited, was discovered to be on fire, and in a short time the whole structure was reduced to ashes. The loss is estimated at $5,000.

Killed by a Tree.

London, Feb. 26.—John C. Nagle, commonly known as "Doc Nagle," of the Muncey road, Caradoc, was killed yesterday morning by being struck on the back of the head with the branch of a tree, which he was felling in the woods.

VICTORIA COUNTY CHEESE BOARD.

The Annual Meeting was Held on Saturday.

President Thos. Robson Re-elected—The Advantages of Cold Storage—Some Opposition to an Instructor—First Board Sale June 2nd.

(Lindsay Post.)

There was a good attendance of farmers, cheesemakers and salesmen at the annual meeting of the Victoria County Cheese Board, which was held in the Council Chamber on Saturday afternoon, commencing at 1.30 o'clock. The interest taken fully demonstrates that the cheese industry of this county and district is an important one.

President Robertson, of Verulam, before calling the meeting to order made a few brief remarks relative to the prospects for the cheese industry for the coming season. Secretary Shine was in his place and read the minutes of the last meeting which on motion of Mr. Sandford were adopted.

Treasurer Sandford presented his report, which showed that $41.74 was on hand to the credit of the board. The expenses for the year amounted to 74 cents. It was moved by Mr. Irwin, seconded by Mr. Brown, that the treasurer's report be adopted.—Carried.

On motion of Mr. Flavelle, seconded by Mr. Sandford, Mr. Haight was appointed arbitrator to settle any disputes that may arise between the cheesemakers and buyers.

The election of officers followed, and resulted as follows: Pres., Mr. Thos. Robertson; 1st Vice-Pres., Mr. Ray; 2nd Vice-Pres., Mr. D. Parkins; Sec., Mr. E. Shine; Treas., Mr. F. Sandford.

Mr. Wm. Flavelle called attention to the matter of curing cheese. Any of the farmers who had attended or read the reports of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association would see that the proper curing of cheese was fully discussed. At certain times in the year it was necessary to place cheese in cold storage; by doing this its value would often be increased by one cent per pound. There had been erected in Brockville a suitable building for this purpose. Ordinary buildings are not good enough and we will never have first-class cheese unless the article is kept in a suitable building. The cold storage building erected by his firm could accommodate a large number of boxes, but he was afraid other buyers would be prejudiced if the cheese was stored there, and he did not wish them to feel that way at all. Last year his firm bought largely because it was an advantage to do so, having the cold storage. A number of salesmen had placed cheese in their building last year and were only charged a small rent—one cent per box a week—which only covered the expense of placing the cheese in the building and taking it out. At times it is necessary to have cheese at a lower temperature, especially after it is a week or ten days' old.

Mr. Robertson — I spoke on that line in Peterborough once and Mr. Cluxton objected to a lower temperature.

Mr. Kennedy, a salesman, said that cheese placed in cold storage under lower temperature had proved satisfactory to him.

Mr. Flavelle—I guess Mr. Cluxton was thinking of the temperature being down to freezing point. That would not do, but it has been fully demonstrated that the placing of cheese under a lower temperature at certain times, especially in July and August, is an advantage. I do not want buyers Whitton and Fitzgerald to be prejudiced on account of the cheese being placed in our cold storage; we want them to come and buy just the same.

Mr. Whitney pointed out that the temperature at 65 degrees would be right for curing cheese, and it would not be wise to have the temperature too low.

Mr. Robertson—Mr. Flavelle's advice is good and no buyer should be prejudiced because our factory men use their cold storage.

Mr. Wilkinson, sec.-treas., of the Cambray factory, said that their factory consigned the cheese to England last year and had planned to do so again this coming season. They had tried the consigning of cheese as an experiment, but had only made $6 more than they would have got if they remained on the board. In his opinion it was not wise for other factories to drop off the board, and it was likely that after this year Cambray factory would be back again.

Mr. Robertson—I do not think it advisable to drop this board and retard the cheese industry of this country to make $6 a year more than this board paid.

Mr. Sinclair said Cambray dropped out because certain salesmen had not kept the rules of the board, selling off it whenever they could secure a better price. Mr. Hill had sold off the board frequently, because he was tempted by the buyers and offered a little higher price. He then would go around among the other patrons, canvassing them and saying his factory got more for its cheese.

Mr. Hill—"I do not think that is fair of Mr. Sinclair; he is holding me up as the only scapegoat on the board. I think there were others who made the same practice."

Mr. Shine—"Yes, you are right, Mr. Hill — the report has gone around that other salesmen violated the rules of the board."

Pres. Robertson — "Buyers must make up their minds to buy cheese at the board meeting and not from individual salesmen; we should stick together and try to secure the highest price. Sometimes we make more by adjourning the board meeting. I must say that I violated the rules and sold off the board once, but not until the last salesman had sold. I got 1-16th of a cent more. I contend that no salesman is obliged to sell if the price does not suit—say with one another and compel the buyers to pay the price."

Mr. Ray — "It should be optional whether we sell or not."

Pres. Robertson—"Mr. Jordon, of the Oakwood factory, sold cheese at that village governed by the price of the Lindsay cheese board."

Mr. Shine—"Yes, they got the advantage of our prices without any cost."

Mr. Jordan—"Well, if you like you may fine me $5. Oakwood made money last year as we were not at the expense of the board fees. We have a cold storage in Oakwood erected by our president, and our cheese was shipped away fresh. Again, our factory objects to an instructor, and by not being on this board we save his fees — $10. We may be on the board this year, but it will depend very much whether you have an instructor or not."

Mr. Robertson—"It is your opinion that we should do away with the board and go on selling cheese as was done twenty years ago."

Mr. Jordan — "You will not require to sell cheese on the plan followed twenty years ago. The cheesemakers nowadays know their business, and some of them know more about cheesemaking than some instructors. In our factory we pay by test, using a Babcock tester, and I would like to know where any advantage comes in by having an instructor? We do not care about paying the expense of an instructor for other factories."

Mr. Hall, a cheesemaker, when asked his opinion of an instructor, said that patrons required instruction as well as cheesemakers.

Pres. Robertson — "Now you have struck it right. I quite agree with you. Some patrons are always complaining of the dishonesty of their neighbours, but it has been proven that they are dishonest themselves, and have been caught sending milk to factories with water in it, skim milk, and milk tasting of turnips."

Mr. Ray said it would not be advisable in the interest of the cheese industry to do away with an instructor—it would be like the town of Lindsay trying to keep order without a policeman.

Messrs. Currins, Kill, Lytle, Shine and O'Brien spoke briefly, each favouring the hiring of an instructor.

It was moved by Mr. Currins, seconded by Mr. Ray, that the services of an instructor for the year be secured, but as the number of salesmen had dwindled down to a few the president decided to defer the matter until another meeting.

The first sale of the board will be held on Monday, June 2nd. The Peterborough Board Sale will be held on Wednesday, May 28th.

W. J. TOLLEY, POSTMAN, 112 CRAWFORD ST., TORONTO, SAYS:

I was thrown from my bicycle and sustained most serious injury to my arm. The doctor who attended me at first thought my arm was broken. He bound it up carefully, told me it was very badly sprained, and that I would probably not be able to use it for a month. During that night I suffered agonising pain and the next day another postman had to take my route. I was then recommended to try Kelpion. I bathed my arm in hot water and my wife rubbed it for half an hour with Kelpion. Within an hour of the rubbing I was delighted to find that the intense pain had nearly ceased. The following morning it was again rubbed with a liberal supply of Kelpion and I found I could use my fingers slightly. I kept on rubbing Kelpion in freely and by the third day my arm was as well and painless as it had ever been. I now swear by Kelpion and I recommend it as the most beneficial ointment for general household use I ever knew of. Take my advice and keep a bottle in your house always. It is the best remedy I ever tried.

GALWAY.

Death of Mrs. T. O'Neil, at the Age of 65 Years.

It is with feeling of deep regret that we are called upon to record the death of one of Galway's most respected pioneers in the person of Mrs. Thos. O'Neil. Deceased lady along with her husband came to Galway in January, 1861, and settled on lot 16, on the 16th concession, where she resided up till the time of her death. Mrs. O'Neil enjoyed good health until two years ago, when she was taken ill and since then has gradually became weaker. Four months ago she was taken to her bed and was never around again.

Although deceased has shared with her husband the joys and sorrows that are found in a new settled country, they finally succeeded in converting the unbroken forest and dismal swamp into productive fields and a comfortable home. On account of her good qualities and kind disposition, Mrs. O'Neil has made many warm friends, who will never forget the many little acts of kindness received at her hands. She leaves to mourn her loss a devoted husband and seven children. They are,—Mrs. T. Wall, of Merrill, Mich.; Mrs. O. J. Vell, of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. A. McNeal, of Waubaushene, Ont.; Mrs. J. Power, of Bobcaygeon, Ont., and two daughters and one son who reside at home.

The remains were taken to the Roman Catholic church in Galway last Tuesday, where Rev. Father P. J. O'Leary celebrated high mass.

The members of the family have the sympathy of the entire community in the hour of their sad trial.

ONLY A SUGGESTION.

But It Has Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump it can only result from the food we eat and digest, and that food should be albuminous or flesh-forming food, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals; in other words, the kind of food that make flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bill of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough and generally too much, the stomach, from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimilate it, which is the reason so many people remain thin and under weight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh-forming beefsteak and eggs and similar wholesome food.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking, after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and diastase which every weak stomach lacks, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to regain its natural tone and vigour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh-forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them with marked benefit as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful ingredient.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada as well as in Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, nervous, dyspeptic people strong, plump and well.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

A public meeting was held in Mount Pleasant on the 20th inst., called by Reeve Fisher of the Township of Cavan, to hear the Commissioner of Roads for the province of Ontario, Mr Campbell, express his views on road making and the commutation of statute labour. Mr. Campbell and Hon. J. R. Stratton were here about four years ago looking at the swamp roads on the 13th and 14th concession lines to see about opening them so as to make it more convenient for those going to our market town, Peterborough.

Reeve Fisher occupied the chair, and in his opening address said the council had sent for Mr. Campbell to enlighten us on the commutation of statute labour and road making. Mr. Campbell in a very able address, and from his long experience in road-making, gave some good suggestions as to the best methods of making roads. He thought that the council in purchasing a road grader, had made a move in the right direction. He could not express his opinion on the roads in this township on account of the heavy covering of snow, but judging from the swamp roads remaining unopened our progress in roadmaking had been sold. Sectional jealousies should not prevent the council doing its duty. He referred to the extra 8 miles those living here had to travel in going to our market town, and advised the draining of the swamp so as to make the roads in it, and prepare it for cultivation, and that the Government would give us a liberal grant to assist us in removing the surface water, providing their engineer, after taking a survey of the drain as located by the late engineer, Mr. Huston, reports favourably to the Government. With Government aid and reducing the size of the drain, it would cost the township but a small amount to drain the swamp and make the swamp roads, and dispose of this long vexed question, which the township council for the convenience of those residing in the northern part of the township should have dealt with long ago. It is really a disgrace for an old and wealthy township like Cavan to have one road unopened that it is possible to open for travel. Mr. Campbell in his address spoke highly of the present system of doing statute labour, and suggested a plan to change it by making those who have road work to do pay, say, 50 cents a day for each day's work, and that each councillor should be the overseer or pathmaster in his ward.

Now, Mr. Editor, you know very well that we as a township are conservative in our views, and the change proposed would throw a great amount of responsibility on our council. We don't elect them to fill the office of pathmaster. This would impose a burden on them too heavy to bear, and an additional expense on the ratepayers, as we could not expect our council to spend their time making roads for nothing, so that before making any change from the present system it would be necessary to discuss the matter thoroughly.

The Canadian Order of Foresters are gaining in numbers here. An organizer has been here lately, who has been the means of adding a number to the Order.

CHEAPER NEWSPAPER PRINT.

May Save Newspaper Establishments of Canada Thousands of Dollars.

Ottawa, Feb. 26.—A very important announcement is made which is calculated to revolutionize the paper trade in Canada. The organization of the Atlantic Pulp and Paper Co., which has been going on for some months, has been completed. The capital is $3,000,000. W. C. Edwards, M.P., is the president.

The company proposes to furnish the plant with a capacity for turning out over 22,000 tons of newspaper print a year, which they will be able to sell at the rate of a little over $1.80 per hundred pounds. The present price of newspaper print is about $2.50 per hundred, which would mean a saving to the newspaper establishments of Canada of tens of thousands of dollars annually.

A FARMER'S TRIALS.

The Struggle Against Sickness is the Most Trying of all his Difficulties—With Good Health he can Conquer all Other Troubles.

No more courageous example of industry and untiring perseverance against many difficulties and uncertainties can be found than the case of the average farmer in the North-West of Canada.

Bred of a stock that refuses to be beaten these grand men are invincible and absolutely control the most adverse circumstances to their advantage and profit.

But in this struggle many a man forgets to husband his strength, making the greatest demands on their bodily strength, forgetful of the fact that some day there will come a day of reckoning.

Thousands of just such men eat and drink what they should not, and how they should not. They overlook the condition of their digestive organs till at last Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Bloating, Biliousness or Headache come to warn them that it is time to stop and consider.

Mr. Ferg. McGregor, of Carnduff, Assa., was troubled for years with his stomach. He could get no relief. Everything he ate gave him pain and distress.

Finally he was advised to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and from the day he commenced to use them he began to get better.

His Dyspepsia has disappeared, he enjoys his meals and his general health is much improved. He says, "Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets can be highly recommended for all forms of Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble. They have done wonders for me."

It is now absolutely unnecessary for anyone to suffer longer with any form of stomach trouble as it has been proven beyond doubt in thousands of cases that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will promptly relieve and permanently cure all such troubles.

Cases like that of Mr. McGregor are reported every day and the most rigid investigation always results in absolute confirmation of every detail published.

What has cured the most stubborn cases of dyspepsia in so many others should be worth a trial at least.

First National Convention.

On May 26, 1835, what was probably the first national nominating convention in the history of the country met in Baltimore. It was attended by 600 men, a majority of whom were residents of Maryland. The convention was called by General Jackson. It was called a year ahead of the presidential campaign in order that time might be taken by the forelock in behalf of General Jackson's political protege, Martin Van Buren.—Gunton's Magazine.

FUTURE PROVISION.

There are two periods in a man's life, when in the natural course of things, he is unable to take care of himself—his childhood and his old age. During the whole of our lives we are consumers; during middle life only we are producers. It is therefore the aim of every man to put by enough during middle age, so that he will have an independent income for his old age. But, under ordinary circumstances this is often a hard thing to do. Men at that time of life generally find themselves with a family to provide for; perhaps their whole income is required to meet the household expenses, and it is impossible to find a remunerative investment for their small annual savings.

An Imperial endowment policy, as issued by the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, Toronto, is an ideal investment for a men in this position. Should he die at any time the insurance will provide for his family and leave them in an independent position. At the same time he is providing an income for his old age, which will enable him to end his days in comfort. With an "Imperial Endowment Policy" a man need have no fear for his own future, or the future of his wife and family.

MR. WHITNEY CALLED

Premier Ross Takes the Leader of Opposition to Task.

THE GOVERNMENT RAILWAY

The Legislature Unanimously Approves Temiskaming Line—Will Start This Year—Mr. T. E. Preston Explains His Connection With a Government Contract—Complaints of Railway Discrimination.

Toronto, Feb. 25.—In the Legislative Assembly to-day bills were introduced by Mr. Gross to amend the High School Act, and by Mr. Russell to incorporate the Huron & Bruce Railway Co.

Hon. G. W. Ross took the opportunity to make an explanation as to statements by Mr. Whitney in his speech at the recent banquite given to him, to the effect that for the last 3 years there had not been a week during the session when he had not been approached to ascertain whether he would support propositions for subsidies, etc., proposed by the Government, as the Government would not proceed with their legislation without being assured of the support of the Opposition. He (the Premier) strenuously denied that the Government has ever consulted the Opposition as to subsidies or legislation, either through any member of the Administration or by any emissary. The Government had not abrogated its functions by waiting to see what position the leader of the Opposition would take in regard to subsidies or proposed measures. He did not want the impression to go abroad that the Government had sunk into a position of obscurity or that the power had past to the left side of the House.

A somewhat warm discussion followed. Mr. Whitney replied to the Premier affirming that he had repeatedly been approached by men of responsibility, members of the Liberal party, who told him that they had been informed that the Government would not take up measures in which they were interested unless they were assured that the Opposition would not oppose them. Hon. G. W. Ross emphatically denied that such persons had had any authority from the Government to make such overtures or were in any sense "emissaries" as Mr. Whitney had stated, to which Mr. Whitney replied that they had represented themselves as such. Messrs. Gibson and Stratton also declared that any statements to the affect that such individuals came at the request of the Administration or acted with authority were wholly unfounded.

Mr. Preston rose to make a personal explanation respecting a matter which had come up in the Public Accounts Committee. He admitted having received $53 for job printing for the Western Dairyman's Association in connection with the Pan-American Exposition. He was unaware when he accepted the work that the money came from the Provincial Treasury, but thought it was paid by the association.

Third Readings.

Bills respecting the Pembroke Southern Railway Co., Mr. Munroe; to incorporate the Toronto Canoe Club, Mr. Foy; to enable Louis Gayne to practice medicine, Mr. Loughlin; respecting expert witnesses, Mr. Garrow; to incorporate the Durham Switch Line Railway Co., Mr. Jamieson.

On motion of Hon. G. W. Ross a resolution was adopted giving Government business precedence over all other business after Monday.

The Temiskaming Railway.

Hon. Mr. Latchford moved the second reading of the Temiskaming & North Ontario Railway Act. He dealt upon the richness of the country that would be opened up in timber and agricultural resources. It would tap the Lake Temagami region and connect with two or three important railway systems at North Bay. The proposed road was 106 miles in length. It would render accessible the good land round the head of Lake Temiskaming, the settlers upon which were now practically cut off from communication with the older part of the province during the winter season.

Mr. Carscallen said that the Government displayed a surprising want of knowledge in embarking in a great enterprise. There was no estimate of the cost of the road and the House was asked to commit itself as to what might be a heavy expenditure without knowing if the route was practicable.

Mr. Matheson said it was strange that the Dominion Government had not been approached and requested to aid the road.

Mr. Whitney alluded to what the Dominion Government were doing in aiding the roads built in other provinces, and thought that Ontario had a right to aid.

Hon. F. Latchford said that plans and profiles and estimates for a road of the highest class had been prepared covering some 70 or 80 miles of the road. The pine was found to be very thick, and a few areas could, if it were desirable, be sold and defray the entire cost of the railway, which would be between $1,750,000 and $2,000,000. The heaviest construction was found in the section immediately north of North Bay, where there would be a good deal of rock cutting, and the expense would be from $25,000 to $40,000 per mile. Estimates would shortly be laid before the House. He quite agreed with the proposal that the Dominion Government should aid the road.

Hon. G. W. Ross said that no answer had yet been received from the Dominion as to whether the road would receive aid or not, but it would certainly be an extraordinary thing if a road otherwise entitled to assistance were refused it because it was built by the province instead of by a corporation.

Mr. Kidd favored the construction of the railway from Mattawa instead of North Day. Mr. Crawford thought that the Government should not bring on a business proposition like this without full information as to the cost. Hon. J. M. Gibson expressed his surprise that a representative of Toronto which was so deeply interested in the road, should counsel delay, to which Mr. Crawford replied that he did not desire delay, but wanted fuller information.

After some further discussion the bill received a second reading.

Hon. J. M. Gibson moved the second reading of a bill to amend the Jurors' Act. He explained that it gave power to the county selectors of jurors to determine that the county courts should be held simultaneously with High Courts, allowing the same jurors to serve. Another clause provided that if the clerk of the court was satisfied that there was no business for jurors at the court they might be notified not to attend.

Mr. Hoyle called attention to his bill covering similar ground, which provided that when there was no business for a court, no court should be held. He thought a large expenditure of public money would be saved if the summoning of a jury were done away with in cases where ten days before the court day it were found that there was no jury business.

Mr. Carscallen doubted whether the Attorney-General's bill would be any improvement on the present system. The bill received a second reading.

After Recess.

Hon. R. Harcourt introduced a bill respecting Toronto University and University College.

Hon. John Dryden moved the second reading of his bill to amend the San Jose Scale Act, which provided that inspectors should be appointed by the municipalities, one-half their fees to be paid by the municipalities and the remainder by the province. Mr. Jessop expressed his warm approval of the measure, which received a second reading.

Hon. G. W. Ross moved that the House go into Committee of Supply.

Want of Confidence Motion.

Mr. Crawford drew attention to the importance of the transportation question, pointing out the disadvantageous position occupied by Canadian shippers, as compared with those of the United States, on account of the discrimination against them by the railroads. The burden of these high freight rates was all borne by the producer. The annual loss to the Ontario producers amounted to fully one million dollars. The Provincial Government should stir up their friends in Ottawa to take action. It cost less to ship cattle from Chicago to Montreal than from Huron and Bruce to the same point. He concluded by moving in amendment "that in the opinion of this House it is the duty of the Provincial Government to without delay urge upon the Government of Canada the necessity of taking steps to obtain for the people of this province cheaper rates for the transportation of agricultural products."

Hon. John Dryden pointed out that the amendment was a resolution of want of confidence. The mover was asking the Government to go outside of its jurisdiction. While recognizing the need of cheap transportation he thought the figures quoted by Mr. Crawford were hardly fair. One reason why the rates from Chicago were lower was doubtless because shipments were on a larger scale. The Government were fully prepared to do anything in their power to secure to the farmers full advantages as regards transportation, but the resolution asked them to interfere in a matter which was wholly within the sphere of Dominion legislation.

Mr. Duff spoke in favor of the amendment, contending that the House was justified in expressing an opinion even though the question were beyond the purview of legislation.

Mr. Eilber followed in the same strain, urging that the amount of money paid by the people in railroad bonuses entitled them to be heard on the question.

Hon. E. J. Davis said transportation was one of the great issues of the day and ought to be fully considered at the proper time and place, but the Government could not constitutionally take the action proposed. The motion meant the stoppage of supplies on the ground that the Government had lost the confidence of the House. What he asked had the friends of the Opposition done during 18 years of power to place the transportation question on a better basis? He pointed out that the Provincial Government had increased transportation facilities by aiding railways, being frequently opposed by the Opposition in so doing, and where railways had been so assisted the rates had been controlled. The Government had not been neglectful in opening up arteries by building colonization roads in the newer sections. They had almost set apart a million dollars for highway construction in older Ontario, of which several important counties were availing themselves. This record indicated that the Government had been fully alive to their duty within their legitimate jurisdiction. He had no doubt from the tone of the discussions at Ottawa that the Dominion Government also realized their responsibilities in the matter.

Mr. Carscallen spoke at length in favor of the amendment, urging as a precedent that the Liberals some years since had passed a resolution favoring Senate reform which was equally beyond their jurisdiction.

Mr. Graham emphasized the argument that the Good Roads end of the transportation problem was a highly important one. He thought that a Railway Commission ought to be appointed at Ottawa.

Mr. Hoyle appealed to the House to give a unanimous support to the amendment.

Mr. Crawford's amendment was lost on division. The vote was 30 to 41.

TERRIBLE BACK PAINS

Mrs. Maggie Woodford Suffered Terribly Until Cured by Powley's Liquified Ozone.

The kidneys are about the most important organs of the body. All the waste products caused by muscular action and of digested food, which are found in the blood, have to be thrown off from the body—most of them pass through the kidneys. If there is any interruption in this process, instead of being thrown off, this poisonous matter is reabsorbed by the blood and spread to the remotest parts of the system to work harm and injury. Powley's Liquified Ozone stimulates the action of the kidneys, causes them to throw off all poisonous matter, restores health conditions to all the tissues of the body.

The Ozone Co., Limited—Gentlemen: About July last I was attacked with a sinking sensation; I would have frightful dreams; food would not digest, and my nerves seemed to be unstrung. I had a terrible pain across my back; sometimes I felt that it would break, so great would be the pain. I also had rheumatism in all my joints. I tried a laxative and thought I might get some ease, but I only got worse. My husband advised me to try Ozone, as it was doing so much for other people. We purchased a bottle and I am so thankful we did, as I soon got relief and now am well and gaining rapidly in flesh. The Ozone seems to do my blood so much good. My belief now is that I had a bad attack of kidney disease. We keep Ozone continually in our house and no matter what the trouble is, we find it a ready friend to relieve pain, sores, cuts, stomach trouble or any case where we have need of a good remedy. (Signed) MRS. MAGGIE WOODFORD, 350 Gerrard St., East Toronto.

There isn't any combination of drugs in Powley's Liquified Ozone—it isn't a medicine, contains no alcohol. It is simply Nature's great element, blood food or oxygen, what the blood and system require.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

IS THE GREAT LIBERATOR FROM DISEASE AND SUFFERING.

When All Other Medicines and Agencies Fail, Paine's Celery Compound Will Restore Lost Health.

General good health depends upon the perfect action of the nervous currents, the vigour of the circulation of the blood and condition of the digestive organism.

If you are run down, have no energy, feel lifeless, useless, fretful or despondent, use at once Paine's Celery Compound, and note well the great change. If you are a victim of neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, liver or kidney troubles, sleeplessness or headache, be assured that any of these ailments can be forever banished by the honest use of Paine's Celery Compound. This great and popular medicine is the noblest and happiest gift to suffering men and women that the world knows of. Mrs. E. Neary, Port Williams, N. S., tells of her experience with Paine's Celery Compound as follows:

"I have much pleasure in testifying to the beneficial effects of Paine's Celery Compound. I suffered for about five years with chronic dyspepsia and weakness of the heart. I had tried several other medicines but all to no purpose. No relief came until I used Paine's Celery Compound, which helped me at once; in fact it saved my life. I cannot recommend Paine's Celery Compound too highly, for I believe it to be the best medicine ever prepared."

WE ARE THE WINNERS AGAIN.

The Newmarket Team Beaten on its own ice.

THE SCORE WAS 6 TO 3.

The Peterborough Intermediates now Enter the Finals Against Galt.

Peterborough 6, Newmarket 3. Yes, that was the score, last evening, and it means that our fast little intermediate team won out from Newmarket in the semi-final round by 16 goals to 7.

Six straight victories, and in the finals with a team which the Toronto papers called to lose against every seven against which they played and which won on each and every occasion notwithstanding the prognostication of the Queen City press.

The game in Newmarket was probably the fastest which the Peterborough's had to play this season. The Newmarket boys were fast and aggressive all the time and the Peterboroughs had their hands full to look after their clever opponents. Our team, however, clearly outplayed the Newmarket seven in "following up" and in the manner in which they whirled and came back to assist the defence in every rush made into Peterborough territory. The Newmarket team played a beautifully symetrical game of hockey, just as they did in Peterborough, but when it came to scoring they were not in it for a minute with the Peterborough boys.

The game was not a rough one for several reasons.

In the first place the two teams were too evenly matched for either one or the other to expect to gain much advantage by mixing it up, and again if any of the players had tried anything of the kind Referee Forbes would have promptly penalized the offender. On several occasions members of the Newmarket team attempted to "put it over" the Peterborough players, but the game as a whole was fairly free from foul checking and the Peterboroughs had easily the best of all decisions on any of this kind of work.

All of the Peterborough boys played their usual game—in fact they played even better than usual, but on account of the smallness of the rink, the dodgers had little chance to get in their work. The Newmarket boys jumped into the game from the drop of the hat and evidently started out with the intention of making up the small item of six goals with which they were handicapped. It didn't seem to make any difference, however, how fast they travelled, the Peterboroughs were always with them and seemed to take to the gait "like a widow after a flea at five o'clock in the morning," and, moreover, when the Newmarkets felt inclined to slacken the pace the Peterboroughs would not stand for it, and towards the close played the northern villagers "clear off their feet."

In comparing the two teams on their showing last night, it was evident to all that the Peterboroughs won out through the superior stick-handling of both the forwards and the defence men.

The Peterborough team was composed of the same players that have won all of the recent games, but the Newmarket team played Clarke in goal and Kelly at cover point, which re-arrangement undoubtedly strengthened the septette.

It is no exaggeration to say that the Newmarket rink could be placed inside the Peterborough rink and there would be ten feet of ice to the good all around. The lighting, too, is very, very poor and to this circumstance can be credited the fact of two of Newmarket's goals being scored. Whenever the puck was lifted to a height of six feet off the ice, it was lost to view and in consequence the defence men were kept guessing at many times during the evening.

The match started at 8.25 and Referee Forbes, of Osgoode Hall, showed that he understood his business from start to finish. In three minutes Morgan drew first blood for Peterborough on a pass from Harold Armstrong.

Newmarket pressed hard at the beginning of the next game and Wasson was called upon to stop some hot ones. Kelly finally lifted one into the net from the centre of the rink, making the score 1-1.

Newmarket again pressed hard but the Peterboroughs were too fast for them. Graham and Whitcroft figured in some nice rushes, Harold Armstrong and Morgan eventually did the trick, making the score 2-1, then Harold and Roy gave a pretty exhibition and scored another, making the score 3 to 1 by half time.

In the second half the Peterboroughs started in to run up a score and the fastest play that ever was seen on the Newmarket rink was witnessed. In a minute and a half Roly Glover made a lift all the way from his position at point into the Newmarket net, making the score 4 to 1. Then Harry Morgan made a dash up the side and passed to Chris Graham who scored. Time 3 1-2 minutes. Score 5 to 1.

Three minutes later Brunton put one past Wasson for Newmarket, making the score 5-2. Peterborough then pressed Newmarket hard and had all the best of the play, but Kelly in a long lift from the goal dropped one straight into the Peterborough net. Score 5-3.

Graham scored one for Peterborough just before time was called, making the final score 6-3.

NOTES.

The Grand Trunk gave the boys a "special" back to Toronto from Newmarket.

The Newmarket rink was so poorly lighted that any high lift on the goal was sure to count. Roly Glover scored one and the Newmarket cover point two, in this style of play.

And now for Galt.

The Toronto papers can no longer "rub it into" Peterborough about the smallness of our rink. Every team which the Peterboroughs have downed here have also been beaten on their home ice.

THE LATE MR. DELANEY.

His Remains Were Interred in the Roman Catholic Cemetery This Morning.

The funeral of the late John Delaney took place this morning from the family residence, corner of Brock and Downie streets, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery. The burial service was conducted by Rev. Dr. O'Brien. The pall bearers were Messrs. John Moloney, H. LeBrun, B. Morrow, Thos. Kelly, J. Dolan and D. O'Connell. A great many of the prominent business and professional men turned out to pay their last tribute of respect to the deceased.

The late Mr. Delaney was in every respect a good citizen and won universal esteem. He was a faithful member of the Roman Catholic Church, devoted to its services and active, in his years of activity, in promoting its material welfare. Mr. Delaney always retained a warm place in his heart for his native land, and was, consequently, an ardent Home Ruler.

In politics Mr. Delaney was in his earlier years in this country a Conservative, but as he learned more of the principles of the Liberal party in Canada, he left the Conservative party many years ago, and allied himself with the Liberals. He was an ardent admirer of Sir Oliver Mowat and his Government and a warm friend of the present Provincial Secretary.

Mr. Delaney was a man of great force of character, positive convictions, and of strong likes and dislikes; he was a warm friend to those who won his friendship and occupied a corresponding attitude to those who did not commend themselves to his liking, yet he was highly and universally respected for his staunch principles and upright life.

CONGRATULATIONS.

Yours truly,

A telephone message from Orillia this afternoon stated that Skip R. Neill had defeated Skip Noble of Collingwood by a score of 13 to 9. Peterborough is creeping up to the finals and the games from this time forward will be watched with much interest.

Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, president of the Ontario Curling Association attended in an official capacity the reception that was given to Skip Flavelle and his rink last night.

The Lindsay people last night tendered a reception to Mr. J. D. Flavelle and his Winnipeg rink. They arrived in Lindsay last night and the reception took place in the Opera House.

HOCKEY.

The final match in the Trent Valley League Series will take place in Norwood on Friday night between Fenelon Falls and the Norwood seven. Great interest is being centred in the game and quite a number from Peterborough will go down to see the finish. The Fenelon Falls team, who were generally looked upon as winners, have a lead of only 3 goals, so that the chances now are that on their own rink Norwood will overcome this handicap. The result will therefore be a match for blood. The Trent Valley League has had a very successful season and the game on Friday night will only prove an exciting and appropriate windup.

The Lindsay and Fenelon Falls teams are after each other in good style, and last week, it will be remembered, the Lindsay men administered the first defeat of the season to the Cataract Town team, in Lindsay. The return game is billed for Tuesday of next week, and the Lindsayites will run a special train to the Falls.

Why the Peterborough young ladies have been so slow in getting on games with outside towns is hard to say. almost every other town in the country is having exhibitions of home and home games amongst the ladies. Why don't Peterborough young ladies challenge Belleville, or Port Hope?

The Junior Colts were to have gone up to Bobcaygeon yesterday, but they called the trip off.

Trinity College School Hockey Team played Lindsay Collegiate in Lindsay on Saturday and defeated them after a good game by 9-3. Mr. Harry Rogers, son of Mr. R. B. Rogers, played on the forward line of the T.C.S. team.

BASKET-BALL.

On Saturday night of this week there will be another interesting time at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium, where there are to be a couple of good games. At nine o'clock the Owl Basketball team will play the Business College Team which is sufficient proof that there will be a contest worth crossing a block or two to see.

There is a likelihood that a triangular league will be formed, comprising the factories of Ackerman's Stitchers, Hamilton's Machinists, and the Canadian General Electricians, making it entirely a factory league.

"RESCUE THE PERISHING."

More Good Work by the Officers of the Childrens' Aid Society.

Last evening Mr. Wm. Henry, caretaker, and Mr. George Cochrane, agent, of the Children's Aid Society, returned to town from the northern portion of the Township of Dummer, with two more destitute waifs, rescued from their parents' home. Their father's name is Thomas Graham, who with his wife and half starved family, have been living in a miserable hovel at the head of Gilchrist Bay. Graham has been doing practically nothing all winter for the support of his family, and they have been subsisting on the generosity of neighbors, and the hospitality of the lumbermen working at Fitzgerald's shanty, on White Lake. The mother has a nine-months-old babe, which she has nursed and cared for until she has become sick and unable to look after her other two children. These two little waifs the officers of the society relieved her of yesterday—one a bright little lad named George, the other an intelligent tot of a girl named Mabel, four years of age.

The father at first rebelled against the action of the officers, refusing to give them up and became abusive. But, Mr. Cochrane soon stopped his opposition by some well directed words of advise and caution. The house is a desolate and dirty hovel, barren of every comfort, and the wonder is that disease had not joined with starvation and cold in devastating the whole family. The little boy had been hired out by the heartless father to a farmer named Forbes at $2.00 a month, but evidently the kind farmer had no expectation of getting any value from his juvenile help, and took the lad more out of charity, to get him away from such a home. All that Mr. Henry could find in Graham's home in the shape of food was a stale crust of bread, so hard that he could not break it with his fingers.

The little boy and girl were brought to town last night after a twenty-four mile drive, and were washed, clothed and fed by the motherly matron of the Home, and this morning presented a clean, tidy and intelligent appearance. When little George, who is a sensitive boy, was asked by the reporter this morning if he wasn't glad to get away from home to where he would be well cared for, he replied, with a sobbing heart—"No, I would rather be back home again with ma." He said his mother was always good to him, and kept excusing his father by saying he couldn't get any work to do.

The Dummer Board of Health was to meet to-day, and, in conjunction with Dr. Bell, were to arrange for the welfare of Mrs. Graham and her baby.

THE VERDICT OF THE JURORS.

The Perrin Inquest Concluded Last Night.

WHAT THEY RECOMMEND.

They Say the Hoist Should be Protected—The Evidence Last Night—Was Deceased a Slow Man at Work?

"That having heard the evidence the jury is of the opinion that the deceased, James F. Perrin, came to his death as the result of an accidental fall on Monday, the 17th day of February, 1902, at the works of the Cereal Company. That the said fall was caused by the absence of a proper signalling system between the engine room and top of the building. The jury strongly recommend that the signal bell wire and all attachments be properly protected, either by encasement or otherwise, and further, that a proper speaking tube and whistle be provided for the use of the men at the top of the hoist who require to communicate with those in the basement in regard to the material wanted. The jury further are of the opinion that the top of the hoist should be protected in some way to prevent similar accidents in future."

The above was the verdict that was brought in by the Coroner's Jury last night, after listening for four nights to evidence as to how Frederick J. Perrin, an employee on the Cereal Company building, lost his life, and after deliberating over the evidence for an hour and a half.

When the inquest was resumed last night before Coroner Gray the first witness that was called was George Foster. He said "I was in the engine room when the accident happened. I drive the horse and cart and draw brick from a pile on the hill to the building. I was about 5 feet from the engineer when the accident occurred; I was behind him, and heard someone yelling that someone had fallen. I did not see body falling. The engineer's name is Chas. Adams, but I did not know him previous to working at the Cereal works. He was standing in his usual place at the side of the engine. I heard only one bell at the time hoist was to start The engineer was on duty at the proper place, and the bell rang just before the engine started. I told the head bricklayer that evening that I had heard the bell ring. I was not working that day, having been laid off. I had been in the engine room about 10 or 15 minutes before the bell rang. I heard it ring a number of times, as it rang every few minutes. I also heard it ring to call the attention of the labourers. I knew where the bell was. I never was there when any questions were raised as to the accuracy of the bell. Three men fill the barrows with brick, two others mix the mortar. I saw two strangers on the lower flat but none up above. The strangers were in the basement and could be seen by everyone."

John Murphy was next called. At the time of the accident he was about twenty feet from the hoist filling a barrow with brick. "That is my duty. I don't remember who was talking to Mr. Redfern. I was too far from the foot of the shaft. I saw deceased just as soon as he reached the floor. I was not paying any attention to the ringing of the bell. I do not know of any particular occasion when the hoist came down without the bell ringing; had been at work around the hoist ever since it was put up." He had heard complaints from the men above as to the ringing of the bell. They had asked if the bell had not rung when they above had pulled the bell rope. No report was made on the matter, and the cause of it was not investigated. There was once in particular that the bell rang and the hoist started down, when those above shouted that they did not ring it. It was very strange; he could not understand how the bell could ring without it having been pulled, but according to the statements of those above this was the case. Jack Perrin himself had shouted down one day but witness could not distinguish what he said.

To Mr. Dennistoun — "I was one of the first to reach the deceased. He never spoke after he struck the floor. Witness knew him very well and considered that he was slow in getting around at this particular work; one had to be pretty quick at it, and sometimes Perrin was very slow; sometimes a man would take off two wheelbarrows while he was taking off one. Witness himself told Perrin to keep away from the hoist when working on the first floor, as he often saw him so slow in getting off the hoist that he would be raised two or three feet with its ascent. Perrin would only laugh at what witness had to say; he took no stock in the belief that a chip of brick might have struck the bell. The sound would not be the same. When he and the deceased were working together it was on the first and second floor. Jack Perrin who gave evidence here was a brother of the deceased.

Charles Murden was sworn. He was working down in the basement at the time of the accident; he was putting wheelbarrows on the hoist. He had some communication with Mr. Redfern a few days before up the shaft, but he had no conversation that day with him. He heard the signal bell for the hoist to stop, but he did not hear it ring to start coming down. He could not positively swer that he did not hear the bell. He had completed the loading of the hoist when the bell rang for the ascent. There had been a complaint on the Friday before as to the ringing of the bell. Mr. Redfern came down and asked if the bell had rung, for he was sure that he had not pulled the wire. The hoist came down on that occasion, according to Redfern's story, without the bell ringing. Redfern claimed that the engineer started off without the signal.

To Mr. Dennistoun, witness said that he considered that Perrin was a slow man for the position he held. Witness sized him up as a good, steady worker, but rather slow. Witness worked alongside of him for a while; Perrin's actions were slow. When he heard the bells on the occasion of the accident he was about 15 feet away.

John McLeod gave evidence next. He was filling the barrows with mortar; there was not much more that occurred that he could relate further than what had been related. The last signal he heard was three rings which was to call the attention of the workmen below. Witness was the one that spoke up the hoist to Mr. Redfern. That was the last he heard until the hoist started down.

Thos. Quinlan, was also at work on the building. He could not add anything to what had already been said.

John Fox who was at work on the last story was the man who took the last barrow off the hoist, and then turned to wheel his barrow when Perrin fell down the hoist. He did not add anything to what had already been said. He said he was aware that there was a certain amount of danger, and he never put his foot on the hoist when pulling back the barrow.

Perrin was a little slower than the rest of us. He saw witness nearly go in two or three times and joked witness about it. He chaffed witness about it no later than the day of the accident. Perrin was taking his chances when he put his foot on the hoist. Perrin was not so slow as to block the work, but he was a man of slow action. The barrows were empty that witness was putting on but the barrows that Perrin was taking off were loaded. How the hoist came to go down on the Saturday previous without the signal having been given, witness did not know. The hoist could not start without the engineer having put the machine in motion.

To Foreman Martin witness said that he came very nearly losing his life when the hoist went down on the Saturday previous to the accident. He made no complaint to any one other than the time keeper. It is a fact that the hoist has since gone down without the bell having rung. The last incident occurred on the day after the man Perrin was killed.

John Dorris was at work on the top story. He was working at some scaffolding. He did not know anything about how the accident occurred.

Hamilton Godfrey was engaged at the same work as the deceased but knew nothing of the accident. He had known of the hoist going down without the bell having rung. Witness did not hear the bell on the occasions he referred to. One would have to be very careful. He would say that Perrin was a man who worked steady but he was rather slow. He thought that any one who puts his foot on the hoist did so at his own risk. He had told the deceased very often to watch himself but the only reply that he got from Perrin was that if a man was not afraid up on the fifth flat he would be all right.

To Mr. Stratton—Witness could not say whether or not the hoist could have been fastened by putting a bar across the floor under the hoist. He never gave the construction of the hoist or its movements much consideration.

James Bogue, one of the contractors, said that there was an arrangement between his partner, himself and the company as to the brickwork. Mr. Gaylord has charge of that particular work on which Perrin was engaged. He knew nothing about the code of signals and he knew nothing about how the accident occurred other than what he had heard.

Mr. Dennistoun asked witness as to what he thought as to the construction of the hoist and its workings, and he replied that he thought that it was all right and that the code of signals was the best that could be employed under the circumstances.

Mr. Scott, manager of the Cereal Co. in Peterborough, said that he had been in the building on the day of the accident. Mr. Gaylord had full charge of the brick work and the mode of signaling was no doubt arranged between the engineer and Mr. Gaylord.

John S. Perrin recalled, said that he had only taken Redfern's place once that he knew of in the duties of ringing the bell. This was once when Redfern went below to see about something.

SOME MILITARY ITEMS.

The regular weekly drill of the Class of Instruction of the 57th Regiment was held last night there being an attendance of about 16 members. The class is making excellent progress and will be in splendid form when the spring drill opens. The boys have eight more drills before the examinations are held. At last night's drill the members of the class were informed by Sgt.-Major Brittain that Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, Commanding Officer of the Regiment, has offered two prizes for the men who come out first and second respectively in their examinations.

There are only a few weeks now until the spring drill commences and the boys are already beginning to feel anxious for the regular Tuesday night march out. The indications are that the 57th Regiment will be recruited up to full strength the entire season through.

A few of the companies of the 57th are reminded of the fact that they have not had their company supper yet.

Gave Birth to Triplets.

The stables of Mr. J. C. Lake on Pinnacle street, Belleville, were yesterday visited by a large and curious crowd of sight-seers. Yesterday morning an ordinary cow belonging to that gentleman gave birth to three calves. All were alive and two were exceptionally lively, but the third was rather weak. It is, however, thought that all three will live. The triplets are identically marked, being red and white.

SINGLE COURT.
Before Street, J.

Re Bradburn and Turner.—Judgment (G. A. B.) on petition under the vendor's and purchasers' act. The testator, Thomas Bradburn, by his will, dated 12 of January, 1900, in the first place appointed his three sons, who were the vendors, to be his executors, directing them to pay all his lawful debts out of his estate. Then followed devises and bequests of real and personal property to various members of his family. These were followed by a clause, declaring that all the foregoing property was to be free and clear of every incumberance whatsoever. The next clause was as follows:—"I do hereby will the following property, subject to the payment of all my just debts; and when all my debts are fully paid, the balance shall be divided amongst my said four children.—Thomas, William, Rupert and Mabel, share and share alike. The property which I will to my children, share and share alike, is situated as follows." Then came a list of the lands referred to in this clause, covering the land which was the subject of the petition. Then the will proceeded:—"I would here suggest what I consider the best means of protection for all parties interested in this my will, to make no division of any of my property, but pool it altogether, and divide the proceeds share and share alike.....The property willed and described herein is intended to go to the parties direct." Held, that the case came within the provisions of sec. 15 of R.S.O. ch. 129, under which, when a charge for debts is created, but the estate is not vested in any trustee or trustees by the terms of the will, a power of sale is given to the executors, and purchasers are (G. sec. 19) relieved from the necessity of inquiring as to the due execution of the power. Therefore, the executors can make title to these lands without the concurrence of any of the devisees. The children's rights are given to them only in the residue after payment of the debts, and the latter references in the will must be read accordingly. (2) The will contained various gifts to the widow, including an annuity of $1,500, payable quarterly, and declared that she was to accept them in lieu of dower. The petition stated that, after the death of the testator, the widow elected to, and did, accept the provision made for her in lieu of dower, and had since received regularly the annuity. Held, that the purchaser was entitled either to a release from her or to a declaration from her in a form sufficient to estop her as against him from claiming dower, for her receipt of the annuity was only prima facie evidence against her, and she might, in spite of it, be let in to claim her dower in case it should appear that she had elected in that proper knowledge of the effect of her so doing. Order declaring accordingly. No costs. A. P. Poussette, K.C., for the vendors. E. A. Peck, Peterborough, for the purchaser.

Three Hard Words.

There are three short and simple words, the hardest to pronounce in any language (and I suspect they were no easier before the confusion of tongues), but which no man or nation that cannot utter can claim to have arrived at manhood. These words are, "I was wrong."—Lowell.

Valuable Advice to Rheumatics.

Eat meat sparingly and take very little sugar, avoid damp feet, and drink water abundantly, always rely on Polson's Nerviline as an absolute reliever of rheumatic pains. Being five times stronger than other remedies its power over pain is simply beyond belief. Buy a large 25 cent bottle to-day, test it, and see if this is not so. Polson's Nerviline always cures rheumatism.

Carpenters' Kidneys.

Carpentering is not an easy trade. The constant reaching up and down, the lifting and stooping over are all severe strains on the kidneys. No wonder a carpenter exclaimed, recently, that every time he drove a nail it seemed as though he was piercing his own back. He uses now on the first sign of Backache and is able to follow his trade with comfort and profit.

"I have had kidney and urinary troubles for more than three years with severe pain in the small of my back and in both sides. I could not stoop without difficulty, and I had severe neuralgic pain in both temples. Seeing the advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box. They have given me quick relief, removing the pain from the back and sides, and banishing the neuralgic pains from my head. The urinary difficulty is now entirely gone, I feel fresh and vigorous in the mornings, and am much stronger in every way since taking these pills." CLARENCE E. SIMMS. Carpenter and Builder, Trenton, Ont.

THE DESTRUCTIVE TEREDO.

A Curious and Fragile Worm That Digs Tunnels In Timber.

It was in 1731 that Holland narrowly escaped inundation along its coast because the timbers of the sea dikes in many parts were discovered to be quite unsound. The timely discovery of the real condition of the dikes saved the country from an awful catastrophe, the full extent of which was comprehended by only a few Dutchmen.

The timbers had been honeycombed by the teredo, or shipworm. This creature burrows into any wood immersed in sea water. It makes an entrance when young and digs channels along the grain of the wood, living and often dying in the timber. The worm grows in some localities to a length of twelve inches, its girth being one and a half inches, and the curious thing about its whiplike body is its exceeding tenderness. It cannot bear its own weight. It will break if subjected to any strain.

It will burrow straight along the grain of the wood unless turned aside by a knot or nail, and, no matter how many of these worms may be burrowing in the same piece of wood, they never run their channels into one another. By some marvelous instinct they keep clear of each other's preserves. We have recently seen a cross section of a log eighteen inches in diameter, and we counted no fewer than 800 distinct burrows.

When the Bowels Are Constipated

Health Cannot be Good—Digestion and Other Bodily Functions Cannot be Properly Performed—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The character of food, sedentary habits, and neglecting the calls of nature, may be set down as the usual causes of constipation. The accompanying derangements are indigestion, stomach trouble, liver and kidney diseases, and an endless amount of pain and suffering. Poisonous impurities when left in the blood, are bound to find lodgment in some weak spot of the system and the result is disease of the most deadly nature.

It is a serious smatter to neglect constipation. You may do so for a time, only to find that your health has been undermined by bodily derangements of the most deadly kind. You should have a movement of the bowels every day. To accomplish this, avoid concentrated foods, use vegetables and fruits freely, and take one of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills before retiring, two or three times a week, or oftener, if required.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are not an ordinary cathartic. They have a specific and combined action on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and consequently cure constipation, and the accompanying derangements, thoroughly and well, by removing the causes. For the information of those who are not yet familiar with the peculiar merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, we might add that they are purely vegetable in composition, pleasant and natural in action, and remarkably prompt and far-reaching in effect, even in the most serious and chronic cases of constipation, kidney and liver diseases.

Persons with weak kidneys are peculiarly susceptible to sudden change of temperature, and for this reason need to be on a sharp look-out during the fall and winter seasons, lest the cold settle on these filterin gorgans and bring on Bright's disease of the kidneys, by far the most painful and fatal of diseases. Scores and hundreds of people make a practice of keeping Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house, and take one whenever the symptoms of constipation and kidney derangements make themselves known. Scanty, highly-coloured urine, painful urination, and pain in the back and limbs are the danger signals of kidney disease.

Whatever else you may neglect, do Wnot overlook the importance of keeping the bowels, the kidneys, and liver in healthful, vigourous action. There is no surer way of avoiding serious disease and prolonging life, and the evidence of the people of this country seems to prove conclusively that by far the most effective treatment in bringing about these results is the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose; 25 cents a box; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto. 6

Experiments show that an electric current will travel over a good conductor at the rate of 500,000 miles a minute, or around the earth in three seconds.

Dentistry.

The art of dentistry was introduced into New York by John Greenwood in 1788. He made the first artificial teeth ever manufactured in that country.

ELABORATE SKIRTS.

Triple Flounces, Appliques and Tucks on All the Newest Models.

Skirts are becoming more and more ornate. Triple effects are especially stylish, and one of the newest skirts boasts of three gored flounces laid in clusters of five tucks and edged with a rich passementerie. In net and thin goods a favorite model for tall people consists in a yoke with two rows of shirring farther down, from which falls a full ruffle edged with a wide patterning of lace.

Skirts of velvet are handsomest made perfectly plain, with a clinging effect around the hips and a long train. One large gored flounce is rich when added on invisibly or by means of a single heavily stitched fold. A pretty style for a cloth gown consists in ornamenting it at intervals with wavy bands of inch wide velvet ribbon of a little darker shade than the cloth.

Today's picture shows a gown of yellow lace of a rather plain design. The waist is bloused into a belt of turquoise silk. The sleeves are elbow length, with a wide frill. The sole trimming of the waist consists of narrow black velvet ribbons brought across the shoulders and front fichu fashion and held together with a turquoise brooch.

The skirt has a graduated flounce set on invisibly. There is a very long train.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Water, Crackers and Gruel.

is the usual dyspeptic bill of fare. There are no sausages, no banquets, no little suppers and no fun. Take Merrill's System Tonic and get a healthy stomach, lots of vigour and then eat mince pie and cabbage with the rest of us. System Tonic is par excellence the most perfect tonic cathartic known, 50 pleasant-to-take doses 50c. Sold by Ormond and Walsh, druggists.

The Saving Sense of Humor.

Some of the world's greatest humorists unite with that sprightly gift a deep tenderness and broad sympathy. Their lips smile at a spectacle of the absurd at the same instant that their eyes overflow in recognizing the pathos that is its so frequent accompaniment. It is this quick perception of a situation as a whole, this power to see all its aspects at once, that gives us just judgments tempered by mercy, severity lined with leniency, that acts as a saving grace to culprits.

The world would be better and happier if every one in it who is invested with authority over his fellows had this peculiar sympathy with wit, which makes it impossible for one to be a bigot and a tyrant. Humor and cruelty do not go together, although there is a kind of counterfeit humor, sometimes mistaken for the real thing, which is essentially oppressive, because it finds enjoyment in looking upon that which is at the same time grotesque and horrible. But this is far removed from the gentle humor which mellows their judgments and humanizes actions.—Florence Hull Winterburn in Woman's Home Companion.

An Excellent Proposal.

E. Colegate, an English engineer, has written The London Daily Mail in connection with the loss of the Condor, suggesting that each ship should carry a buoy bearing the name of the vessel, this buoy being on a clear part of the deck, and connected with a wire cord, wound on a reel. Thus, when a ship sinks the buoy would float, the cord would pay out, and the exact fate and whereabouts of the lost vessel would be known to the first ship passing that way.

A "SWEET" STOMACH

Is the key-note of a happy heart. Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets make and keep the stomach sweet, because they aid digestion and prevent ferment.

Stomach ferment induces Indigestion. Indigestion produces distress after eating, weight in the stomach, wind on the stomach, loss of appetite, dizziness, nausea, impoverished blood, catarrh of the stomach, sick headache and many other disorders—but Dr. Von Stan's pineapple tablets nip the trouble in the bud, and prevent the seating of diseases. Eminent physicians prescribe them. Sixty tablets, 35 cents. 64

THE NEW BLACK ROD

MOLYNEUX ST. JOHN IS A HUGE SUCCESS IN THE ROLE.

Casts His Predecessor, Rene Kimber, Far Into the Shade—Acted With All the Dignity and More Than the Acumen of the Former Flexible Servant of the Dominion in a Unique Position.

There is no doubt in the world that the opening of the second session of the ninth Parliament of Canada was really a matinee performance to introduce one Molyneux St. John in his great act of three bows and a recitation in two languages. For him the guns boomed from Nepean Point, for him the flags waved, for him the guard turned out, for him the new carpet was spread in the House of Commons.

Molyneux St. John—be sure you call it "Sinjun" — has proved that an Usher of the Black Rod is born, not made. Only the other day he showed his intimacy with the details of his office by refusing to issue invitations for the opening before he received his warrant from the proper authority. Somehow or other the existence of the new Usher of the Black Rod had been forgotten in the shuffle, and though Mr. Sinjun has a name that burns itself into the memory by the very sound of it, he was evidently getting the dinky-dink from somebody who ought to know better. What did Sinjun do? Did he vex the air with impotent clamor? Did he writhe with wounded pride? Not he. He looked up the precedents, ascertained his place in the scheme of things, and acted with all the dignity and more than the acumen of the late lamented Rene Kimber.

He simply sat tight until things came his way. He did nothing, which is wisdom that many a strenuous politician fails to learn in a whole lifetime. Molyneux St. John waited stoically until the State realized it could not get along without him, that he was an indispensable cog in the machine, and that he must get the right motor impulse. Official circles were charmed, fashionable Ottawa was enraptured. Here was a Black Rod that knew his book — a true successor of the illustrious Kimber! Society was saved again. But would he carry off the actual duties of the position with grace and unction? Would his bows have the same distinction as Kimber's, the same admixture of Oriental obeisance with Anglo-Saxon reserve? Expectation was at fever height.

It is not too much to say that Molyneux St. John justified the highest hopes, says the brilliant Ottawa correspondent of The Toronto Star. From the time his gavel sounded on the door of the Commons to the time he backed out amidst the frantic cheers of the members of Parliament, he pleased the eye and satisfied the senses. How well he looked in his swallowtail and black smalls, his hose and slippers with silver buckles! What a fine front of chest! What a poise to those shoulders! What a suave swell to those calves! Put a powdered wig on that dome of thought and you find a gentleman of the eighteenth century! Gallagher of British Columbia, who stands six feet four in his boots, swore audibly that every man with a figure ought to wear knickerbockers. It was the general opinion of the House of Commons that, take Molyneux St. John as he stood and he was a direct refutation of the slander that modern men wear long pants because they have spindle shanks. It was also freely stated that for a good appearance in the shafts and a fine high-stepping action, the new Usher of the Black Rod had Rene Kimber faded so as to look like twenty-eight cents and two cents over.

Then the gallant way he bore that black rod! It was truly a pleasure to see him. Rene Kimber was a small man, and the clothes that went with the black rod always seemed to be bigger than the man himself. In this way the rod suffered an abatement of dignity. It reminded irreverent people of a poker. But Molyneux St. John has changed all that. In his case he adorns and fills out the costume, and the costume, worn bravely, gives the rod new importance. It was thus and so, we imagine, that Charlemagne toyed with his good sword Joyeuse, Orlando with his Durandal, and King Arthur with his Excalibur. No meaningless symbol this black rod now. There is prestige and puissance behind that ebony wand.

But the bow! We must get to that. The bow is the best card. It reminds one of Kimber, and yet it is distinctly original. It has been polished, amplified, and generally improved; just as if Bach should take a rag-time melody, enrich it with contrapuntal skill, and make something lofty and noble of it. St. John has based a new, a more comprehensive movement, a more majestic sweep on Kimber's theme, and the result is surprising. Bets were offered yesterday that St. John's bow would be from the cervical vertebrae merely. It certainly would not extend beyond the deltoid muscles, and would not encroach on the epigastrium. They were all wrong. St. John argued that a family that had, like the Kimbers, been bowing and scraping for generations, ought to know what was the best thing in that line. So he decided for an inclination which should begin in the lumbar region and take in everything from the hips upward. He could, in studying, find nothing better than the "jack-knife" style, which has been in vogue ever since Confederation. But, being a master mind, it was not for him to follow abjectly, so he contrived a little quirk which at once stamped him as an innovator. The Kimber backbone, be it known, was flexible. The St. John backbone is not. To get the proper suppleness the new Black Rod is said to have practised in a bowling alley in Buffalo. When Kimber bowed and recovered, such was the elasticity of the spinal ligaments that he looked as if he might fall over backward. That was not good art, for nothing is good art which makes the spectator uneasy. Sinjun concentrated his ingenuity on the "recover." As he works it out it is a stately uprising, the back straight, the neck rigid. At the proper moment up goes the chin and there stands the Usher of the Black Rod, as staunch and stalwart as a Roman sentinel. This is the movement which has made St. John's name, and which provoked uproarious applause from a critical Commons. Of Sinjun's French the less said the better. It is the French of Toronto Junction, and the Black Rod has evidently taken his lesson in a Turner Verein. But 'twill serve.

And why should we pick flaws in a performance whose good points so far exceed the defects? Thank heaven, the glorious traditions of our constitution are safe in the hands of a man whose surname reminds us of the gorgeous revelations in the Island of Palms, and whose Christian name recalls the chivalry and derring-do of the Crusaders!

A Scientific Voice Improver.

Because of its strengthening influence upon the vocal chords, Catarrhozone cannot be too highly recommended as a wonderful voice improver. It almost instantly removes huskiness or hoarseness, thus insuring clearness and brilliancy of tone. Catarrhozone keeps the mucous surfaces in perfect condition, and its regular use absolutely prevents colds and throat irritation, thereby removing the singer's greatest source of anxiety, unfitness of voice. The most eminent speakers and Prima Donas would not be without Catarrhozone and credit in no small degree their uniform strength and brilliancy of tone to its influence. The hard rubber inhaler fits conveniently into a purse or vest pocket, and may be used in the church, theatre, any place or time. Complete outfit $1. Small sizes 25c. Druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Old Saws and Sayings.

A few old sayings on the subject of food come to us rather as a surprise in our age of daintiness and refinement, yet they have their raison d'etre notwithstanding. "Meat is much; manners are more;" "Cease your chatter and mind your platter;" "The ass that brays most eats least;" "The wing with the liver to him who's the giver;" "He can give little to his servant who licks his own trencher."

Apropos of this remark, it is amusing to note that "manners" was the name given to the remnants of a meal. These came to the servants as official perquisites; hence our well worn expression before emptying a dish, "Leave the last slice (or whatever it may be) for manners," though if votes were collected on this point it is hardly likely that any of us would have taken it as it stands in the original.

Hard on the Hack Business.

That great discovery made by a Brantford druggist and known as "Four T's" does away with hacking and coughing in two days. As a lung tonic and lung tissue re-constructor it has no equal. Children take Four T's and it cures whooping cough and croup. Price, 25c per bottle. Sold by Ormond & Walsh, druggists.

Tip-Top Wood.

They are telling a story of how the meanest man in a certain township and the meanest man in a near-by Ontario town locked horns lately. The one had brought in a load of wood for the other, and had nearly finished piling it when the latter came out and sized the pile up.

"Well," he said, "of all the wood I ever seen, that beat's 'em all."

"What's wrong with that wood?" demanded the farmer.

"What's wrong with it?"

"Yes, what's wrong with it? That's tip-top wood," said the farmer.

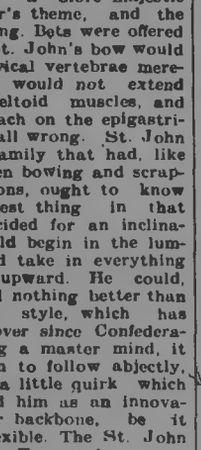
"Oh, it's tip-top wood, all right enough. Why, man alive, if you'd brought the leaves I'd have had the whole tree."

Daisy Roses.

The Daisy rose is a small plant from six to eight inches in height, bearing clusters of small roses resembling double daisies. As many as twenty-five or thirty clusters bloom at once, so it pays to cultivate it for decorative purposes.

TEARFUL,

Trembling, frightened, she knows not why. Between her sobs she tells her husband of her misery. It is not enough for the husband to comfort the wife in this condition, she needs help. In those early days when the shadow of maternity first begins to fall upon the woman she is often nervous, sleepless, without appetite, and full of vague fears.



The help needed by women at this crisis is fully furnished by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It nourishes the nerves and so quiets them. It restores the appetite and induces refreshing sleep. It gives physical strength and mental buoyancy to meet the trial of motherhood, and makes the baby's advent practically painless.

"I will be very glad to say a few words for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. P. S. Douglas, of Mansonville, Brome Co., Que. "During the first four months when I looked to becoming a mother I suffered very much from nausea and vomiting, and I felt so terribly sick I could scarcely eat or drink anything. I hated all kinds of food. At this time I wrote to Dr. Pierce and he told me to get his 'Favorite Prescription' and a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I got a bottle of each and when I had taken them a few days I felt much better, and when I had taken hardly three parts of each bottle I felt well and could eat as well as any one, and could do my work without any trouble (I could not do anything before). I feel very thankful to Dr. Pierce for his medicine, and I tell all who tell me they are sick to get these medicines or write to Dr. Pierce."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the bowels.

"RALPH CONNOR."

London Chronicle Says Canadian Novelist Needs Larger Outlook on Life.

The London Chronicle sits down to the reading of Ralph Connor's book, "The Man from Glengarry," with an unbiased mind, and this is the result:

There are now two Canadian novelists who have attained large circulations. One of them is Mr. Gilbert Parker, the other is the author who writes under the pen-name of "Ralph Connor." Of the latter's novels, "The Sky Pilot" is in its sixth English edition, his "Black Rock" in its fifth. Mr. Parker has found splendid back-grounds for his stories in French Canada, while Mr. Connor's canvases reflect certain aspects of English Canada. But as literary artists the two men are not in the same class. Long ago Mr. Parker moved into the front rank, but what one sees in Mr. Connor's work is promise rather than performance. In places "The Man from Glengarry" is good, and holds out the promise of better things in the future, but there are in it long and dreary flats, so to speak, that are devoid of any vital interest whatsoever. The first two chapters are far the best in the book, depicting with vigor and effect the primitive passions of an Ottawa lumber camp.

"The Man from Glengarry" is described on the title page as a "Tale of Western Canada," but, as a matter of fact, only the last eighty pages of the book, which contains in all 440, have anything to say regarding Western Canada—and by that term Mr. Connor means British Columbia. The main interest of the story lies in the pictures given us of Glengarry itself. Glengarry is a strip of country running back from the St. Lawrence, and was known as the "Indian Lands"; it was once an Indian reservation, and it was settled by men of Highland blood in the early years of last century.

The hero of the story is a certain Ranald Macdonald, the son of one of the Glengarry men. His instincts are not unnaturally of the Pagan sort (the hard, ruthless, unlovely Berserker kind of Pagan, but he is captured and tamed by the wife of the Presbyterian minister of the small community! He undergoes various religious "experiences," by the aid of which he conquers a blood feud. He falls in love with his employer's daughter—by whom in the end he is jilted, but he finds compensation in a girl friend of hers.

The story, as a story, is bald enough, but, as has already been suggested, it is not without some redeeming features. When Mr. Connor has reached a wider outlook on life he will undoubtedly write a better book.

Effect of Lord Dufferin's Mission.

Lord Dufferin's mission to Canada was distinguished by the inculcation of respect and admiration for Canada by Canadians. His Excellency fitted the public mind with an idea of this country both as to its present greatness and to its splendid future that until his arrival had not been entertained. Along with this valuable leadership Canada received from him a new view of the Imperial relations. He showed that servility and independence were not our part in the union, but on the contrary, we were destined to be an independent associate nation, claiming and enjoying equal rights with other British communities. Lord Dufferin spent six and a half years with us and traversed Canada from end to end, delighting the people with his genius and inspiring them by his oratory. His farewell speech was delivered at the Industrial Exhibition grounds in Toronto on September 24, 1878. The parting words were a consideration of the duty of Canadians to their heritage. "Love your country," he said; "believe in her, honor her, work for her, live for her, die for her." On October 19 he sailed from Quebec and a brilliant page in our history was closed.

THE SNOW DERBY.

An Interesting Account of Skiing in Norway.

A Jump of 120 Feet and a Twelve Mile Race on Skis.

(London Daily Herald.)

The Norwegian Snow Derby, which took place recently, is not a horse race—it is performed in Christiania by men on "skis,"—those snowshoes, some eight feet long, for which that country is famous.

There has not been such a splendid fall of snow for two or three years as is now lying several feet deep upon the ground. This is just the season when it is at its best, for it seldom falls before Christmas, and that is why the first Sunday in February is generally chosen for the great Hoprend, the equivalent—in point of enthusiasm and interest—to our Derby. The winner holds the blue ribbon of the Scandinavian racing world.

The most exciting part of this very exciting entertainment is a jump of 120 feet.

CHRISTIANIA'S SNOW CARNIVAL.

There are nearly two hundred thousand inhabitants in Christiania, and apparently all who are capable of getting so far, assemble at Holmenkollen on the morning of the fray—the learned professors from the university, gay, light-hearted students, the shop people. Even the mill ledges are utilized for conveying folk up the hill. There are beautiful sledges, too, whose bells tinkle merrily as the horses scamper over the hard frozen ground, a music which is really necessary for the safety of life, as a sleigh passes over noiseless snow at great speed. The sleigh bell is more musical than the pip-pip of the motor car. Every one seems bent on enjoyment; there is the corps of soldiers, who use skis as our men use bicycles; there are folk wrapped up in gorgeous bear skins behind smart trotters; there are old and young, rich and poor, and foremost are the young people of both sexes, who have climbed through the forest on ski.

Every village in Norway has its ski club, and from the moment the first snow of winter has fallen, the youths of the village begin to practice for the great competition in Christiania. Before the eventful day, each valley has chosen its representative, who is looked upon with honour and awe by his friends. He is seldom allowed to compete under eighteen years of age, and never over twenty-five, for a man must be at the height of his physical prime to endure the strain necessary for the occasion.

At the appointed time he travels to the capital in order to take part in the races, which continue for a couple of days at Holmenkollen, a large hill, or a little mountain—whichever one prefers to call it—just outside the town. The first competitions are for distance, the second for the famous jump.

On to the brow of the hill comes a youth; one can see him straight up above, for the hill seems almost perpendicular. At the given word off he rushes down the mountain side. Down the hill he comes, his pace in consequence of the steepness of the incline, being tremendous. On, on, on, he comes, wildly rushing on to the little platform and then, doubling himself up into a ball, his legs well under him, and his arms whirling like a windmill. To keep his balance, he jumps. Jumps, yes, to what looks like destruction, for he has those great, long, heavy planks, strapped to his feet, and before he can touch ground he must spring at least seventy or eighty feet; but so wonderful, so truly marvellous has the skill of these men become, that the record jump now stands at 120 feet.

The average of clean jumps is something like 70 per cent. This sounds incredible, but it is nevertheless true.

THE RACING DRESS.

The ordinary man's dress worn on these occasions, is made of thick, grey cloth; it is buttoned up tight to the neck like a khaki jacket, and round the neck a thick scarf is wound, for it is a strange peculiarity of Northern lands to muffle the throat and extremities, rather than the body itself. A grey woolen cap drawn down over the ears fits perfectly tight to the head, and thick woollen gloves are made long enough to come up over the sleeves to the elbow, so that the wind cannot penetrate at the cuff opening, or snow get inside in the event of a fall. The gloves are like those of a baby; they have only a thumb, no fingers, this again being for warmth.

An important part, of course, in such cold, is the covering of the feet. Very thick stockings are donned, outside which a still thicker horsehair covering is worn. Then there is a special ski boot, which has no hard sole, but is made of a piece of leather on which the foot is placed, and the hide brought well over the top, is sewn into the shape of the foot. At the back of his boot, there is a little strap, which is used to fix the ski heel-strap securely to the boot; when the other straps passing over the toes in front cannot be extricated without undoing all three fastenings. In the tight fixing of ski lies their safety and their danger.

"Ski," pronounced "she," are very old for all practical purposes, but very new as a form of sport or fashionable entertainment. In such a snowy, mountainous land as Norway they are absolutely indispensable. The postman go up country on ski, the children go to school on ski, the doctor visits his patients on ski, and the pastor goes to church on ski.

TWELVE MILE RACE OVER THE MOUNTAIN.

The competition on the first day is along twelve English miles over the mountain side, marked here and there by bits of red stuff tied to the pine trees.

The path begins with an ascent of four or five hundred feet, and the competition is not only up hill and down dale, but across hillocks and mounds. The ski-lobner has to jump clefs and ravines, make sharp turns, hop over tree trunks, and overcome every kind of obstacle that man can devise; then a rush down hill of a thousand feet, and up again through the mountain forests. When on the flat the ski-lobner shuffles but in such a manner that at every step he accomplishes several feet. When descending a hill he puts his ski as closely together as possible—they must be perfectly parallel, or an ugly accident is the result—and, bending his knees, glides at breakneck speed to the bottom. Should his speed become too terrific, he sticks his pole—which is about six feet long—into the snow behind him, and bending his weight upon it, uses it as a drag.

Going downhill is delightful; going up—at all events, to the novice—terribly fatiguing. That is the trial of strength and skill, as ski, with their candles greased soles, have an unpleasant knack of going backwards, and while struggling up the unhappy ski-lobner finds himself going downhill at far greater rapidity. But there are no novices at the Hoprend, and they stamp their shoes in such a way that they bite the snow, and, turning their toes straight out and bending their knees, they literally tread uphill, their appearance behind being somewhat froglike, and the marks they leave on the snow resembling a plate.

After the twelve miles the men come in very exhausted, as they do after the Oxford and Cambridge boat races, for the exertion is just as great.

A TERRIFIC JUMP.

For the great jump the competitors assemble at the top of a hill with a very steep grade; the trees are cut back on either side to allow plenty of space for the competitors and spectators.

The bottom of the hill is a frozen lake, where hundreds, aye, thousands of sledges are drawn up to witness the fray. Half-way down the hill a platform is erected, built out in the snow; this is only a few feet in size, and is made as the jumping-off point for the great spring. At the top stand those young men, each wearing his own number, large and distinct, upon his breast, and if he has any medals denoting former triumphs, he naturally wears them, too. The descent is about four hundred feet, and the platform comes in the middle. The brightest of blue skies forms a canopy overhead, the snow glistens in the sunshine like myriads of brilliant crystals, and a beautiful white coating hangs upon the fir trees, giving the effect of a fairy scene.

UNITED WORKMEN.

Annual Grand Lodge Meeting—A Record Year—4,942 New Members—Progress all Along the Line—New Officers Elected.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen for the Province of Ontario met in 24th annual session in Toronto last week. About 500 representatives—picked men from the subordinate lodges—were present and manifested a deep interest in the business. The reports of the Grand Officers for 1901 were exceedingly satisfactory, showing a year of exceptional progress in this pioneer of fraternal insurance societies. Grand Master Workman Capt. T. M. Cornett, Gananoque, in his annual report says: We have been able to pay all death claims from the receipts of 12 assessments, one a month, and have a balance at the end of the year of $71,636.22 after paying all claims passed upon. Further on he says: "I am pleased to report that from every section of our jurisdiction the most encouraging reports have been received, and during the two years that I have had the honour of presiding over the A. O. U. W. we have had a large increase—5,019 applications in 1901—the largest number in a single year in the history of the Order in Ontario." Referring to the annual reports of the officers, he adds: Our system is one of the most perfect and it is a question if there is another organized company or corporation in existence that gives a more detailed statement of all transactions than that given by the financial officers of the A. O. U. W. of Ontario."

These facts gleaned from the very complete report of M. D. Carder, Grand Recorder, will interest not only members of the Order but the public generally. The members initiated in 1901 was 4815. Members in good standing Dec. 31st, 47,662. Average age of new members 29y, 10m, 14d. In 1901 there were 39 new lodges organized. Total lodges in Ontario, 449. The Reserve Fund is $726,245.69. Paid in 1901 for 327 deaths $626,900.00. Average age at death, 51 years, eight months, seven days. The amount paid for deaths since organization, $6,530,105.24. Cash received in 1901 from all sources, $724,323.41. Death rate, 8.13 per 1,000.

Dr. J. M. Cotton, Grand Medical Examiner, makes very full report on each death. Chief among causes of death are; Tuberculosis, 33; accidents, 34; heart disease 28; cancer 27; Bright's disease 17; appoplexy 13; diabetes 4; appendicitis, 7. It is interesting to note the ages at which members died — 11 members died between 18 and 24 years; 5 between 25 and 29; 12 between 30 and 34; 27 between 35 and 39; 39 between 40 and 44; 40 between 45 and 49; 47 between 50 and 54; 62 between 55 and 59; and 104 at the ages of 60 years and over.

The greatest number of deaths were among the following occupations—Farmers 76; merchants 19; carpenters 15; labourers 13; blacksmiths 9; physicians 7; butchers 7; agents 7; builders 7; manufacturers 6; machinists 6; grocers 6; engineers 6; clerks 5; hotel keepers 5; millers 5; painters 5; tailers 5; dyers 4; accountants 4; publishers 3, ironworkers 3; clergymen 3; cabinet makers 3.

In dealing with proposed amendments to the Constitution, Grand Lodge decided not to admit women, not to start a sick benefit branch, not to change the rates this year, not to longer debar residents of the Yukon from membership, not to make an extra call for the Reserve Fund, not to start a fund for aged and infirm members, not to issue $3,000 or $4,000 certificates. It decided to hold the annual sessions in future the third week in March, to continue the Canadian Workman, Orillia, as the official organ, to hold next annual session in Toronto, to continue to employ organizers, and to try to add new members to every lodge.

Mayor Howland was on Wednesday introduced, and extended a warm civic welcome and the freedom of the city.

As 1902 is the Coronation year, G. M. W. Gibson wishes it to be made a crowning year in the Order by every member, hence his watchword is "A member for every member," and "God Save the King."

Officers elected for 1902 are;—Grand Master Workman, Joseph Gibson, Ingersoll; Past Grand Master Workman, Capt. T. M. Cornett, Gananoque; Grand Foreman, J. M. THRONGS TEST THIS MEDICINE.

The Sampling of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food a Great Success—Nearly Every Street in the Town Represented.

The Most Important Distribution of Reliable Medicine That was Ever Attempted in Peterborough.

This Great Food Cure put to the Test—We Want Your Opinion.

Last week we gave away to the citizens of Peterborough hundreds of full-sized fifty-cent boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This offer was for one day only, and, judging from the throngs which crowded these offices from 9 o'clock till 6, we think there are not many streets in Peterborough but were well represented.

You may wonder what can be the object of giving away sample boxes of a preparation that is already so well known as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It is simply because we want your opinion regarding the merits of this remedy. We know that as a blood builder and nerve restorative it possesses medicinal properties that are not to be found in any rival medicine.

Many people in Peterborough have proven this to their satisfaction, but some are sceptical. It is the sceptical ones that we want to reach now. People who have suffered for years from some form of weakness or nervous trouble, and who have sought in vain for relief from doctors and medicines. People who have lost faith in medicine, but who are willing to try Dr. Chase's Nrave Food when offered the opportunity.

This is a severe test, but we have confidence in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and believe that nine persons out of ten who use one box will be benefitted, and will continue the treatment until cured.

We want your opinion of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You need not tell us, but tell your friends and neighbours who are suffering. Tell them how it forms new red corpuscles in the blood and creates new nerve force in the exhausted nerve cells. Tell them how much better your appetite has grown since using it. Tell them how much you are gaining in weight and of how you feel the thrill of old-time vigour in your body.

We have always been willing to put Dr. Chase's remedies to the severest possible test. Millions of samples of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Dr Chase's Ointment have been given away, and with the result that they are to-day standards as the highest class of medicines for the ailments for which they are recommended. They have won their way into the homes of the people by sheer force of merit. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is doing the same. This free distribution will win for it thousands of new admirers. It has the merit, and actually cures the most severe nervous diseases, as you will learn if you read the testimonials published from time to time in this paper. Fifty cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

What is Life to You?

If you are a victim of piles, as one person in every four is, you suffer keenly from one of the most torturing ailments known to man, and may wonder if life is really worth living. Certain relief and ultimate cure is awaiting you by means of Dr. Chase's Ointment. It has never failed to cure piles. Painlessly and naturally it allays the inflammation, heals the ulcers and thoroughly cures this wretched disease.

The Terms of the Referendum Held to Be Fair.

HON. MR. ROSS' STRONG SPEECH

Reviews at Length the Reasons For His Course—Date of Polling May Be Altered to Municipal Election Day—Objections of Prohibitionists on This Point to Be Considered.

Toronto, Feb. 27.—The deputation which waited on the Government at the Parliament buildings yesterday afternoon, representing the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, numbered upwards of 100 persons, including several ladies. They were received by Premier Ross and all the members of his Cabinet, and by a number of members of the Legislature. The interview took place in the Council Chamber.

Rev. Dr. McKay of Woodstock, President of the Alliance, in introducing the deputation, reminded the Premier that he was an honored Vice-President of the Ontario branch, which they represented. They came, he said, to impress upon the Government two points in regard to the present situation: (1) that the vote should be a fair one; and (2) that it should be taken at an opportune time. By a fair vote they meant that a majority should carry, as on other questions. Regarding an opportune time for taking the vote, the general opinion of the convention had favored the day of the municipal elections. Any other day, the speaker contended, would lay the voters open to an intimidation and boycott. He thought that the clause regarding the date of the vote was the most objectionable feature of the bill. A change in the date would be a great help, and would be fairer to both sides.

It has been stated, Dr. McKay went on, that the referendum had been adopted by the Alliance. He declared that the referendum had not been adopted by them.

Premier Ross—You are not right there.

Rev. Dr. McKay—It has not been adopted by the Alliance, but we have, under protest, submitted to it. So far as I have heard, we have not endorsed the principle of the referendum. We are prepared to go forward and do our work faithfully, provided we have these two things, a fair referendum and a different day to vote upon it.

A. B. Spence of Collingwood said he spoke on behalf of the independent people who composed the great body of the electorate. They desired to express their thanks that the Manitoba bill had been adhered to in its entirety. The Government had held to well-defined constitutional lines, but they would have been glad had they continued on constitutional lines, and assumed the whole responsibility for the bill instead of taking a referendum. He felt that no fair-play-loving British subject could accept the referendum in its present form.

C. J. Miller of Orillia said he desired to thank Premier Ross and the Cabinet for the great and good work they had done in the past for the temperance cause. They could not, however, maintain that confidence, so far as the present bill was concerned. He said there was only one sentiment at Tuesday's convention with regard to the referendum, and that was that they did not approve of it. They felt that they were heavily handicapped in the race. He believed the sentiment of the country was ripe for the enactment of this partial measure of prohibition. (Applause.)

Mrs. Thornley of London said the attitude of the W.C.T.U. on the question of the referendum had been much misunderstood. She read a resolution passed by them demanding a majority vote, and protested against the date of the election on the ground that it would not only give the liquor men a chance for intimidation, but employers of labor also. She said that as a majority the wealthy people had never been on the side of reform, and in the last plebiscite many of them to the certain knowledge of the temperance people had called their employes together and forbidden them to vote in favor of prohibition. She expressed the hope that if the bill did not now include it it should be made to include a provision to prevent corruption, which was so rampant at the last plebiscite.

Rev. Dr. Carman, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church, entered a very strong protest against the date of voting and the method of the vote. He could say to the Government that personally he did not feel justified in going to the poll when the ballot boxes were stuffed with 200,000 votes before he got there. That was the biggest ballot-box stuffing the country had ever known. If he judged the voice of the convention rightly it was that the people were not going to be turned aside by academical nonsense of men in seats high and mighty. They did not ask for any advantage over the liquor men, they simply asked for British fair play. He also said that if it was decided not to hold a vote at the date of the municipal elections then they would ask the Government to take the vote on the date of the general elections. He did not see how the Government could justify itself by taking the academical position that such and such a majority must be polled to enforce the law. They could, he said, move the temperance and prohibition people of the country to show their indignation, and put down their feet with a good deal of courage on the day that the indignation ought to be shown.

The Premier's Reply.

Premier Ross, in his reply, reviewed the circumstances leading up to the present measure. He said the Province had at different times pronounced in favor of total prohibition. They had not, however, committed themselves to any measure of partial prohibition such as had been found was in the power of the Province. He denied that the referendum was unconstitutional, and said that on that point he would accept the opinion of high constitutional authorities. In submitting, he added, with a smile, that he would consult the clergymen on questions of theology. The referendum had already been adopted, in principle, in the case of the Scott Act and Local Option. He reminded his hearers that the enforcement of law was no easy matter. The Government had at first decided that the bill should require a three-fifths majority, but that had been objected to as too large.

The Government's proposition was simply this: They asked that, say 75 per cent. of the vote on the list be polled and that half of that vote shall be in favor of the bill. That meant that three men out of every eight on the list would have the power of governing the actions of the other five in regard to certain habits of their life. That was a fair proposition, he said, and, amid some interruptions, he declared that was as far as they intended to go. If the temperance people could not be successful under these conditions they did not deserve to be successful. He did not think it mattered if the liquor vote did stay at home. All the temperance people should care about was to get their own vote out.

As to the day of the vote, he said that the 14th of October would not be chosen owing to the Methodist General Conference being in session at that time, and other objections. He would say that it would not be on the day of the general elections, but as to its being on the day of the municipal elections, he and his colleagues would give it serious consideration. The deputation then withdrew.

BOERS RUSH OUTPOSTS.

Boers Left 30 Dead and Wounded on the Field—Capture of Empty Wagon Convoy by Boers.

London, Feb. 27.—Lord Kitchener reported that 600 Boers, driving cattle, rushed the outpost line near Bothenberg, Transvaal Colony, during the night of Feb. 23, and that some of them got through. The Boers left 15 dead and 8 wounded on the field.

Another despatch from Lord Kitchener, made public yesterday, says: A convoy of empty wagons was attacked and captured by the Boers southwest of Klerksdorp, Transvaal Colony, Feb. 24. The escort consisted of a force of the Imperial Yeomanry, three companies of the Northumberland Fusiliers and two guns. The fighting was severe, but have no further details."

Five Boers Taken.

London, Feb. 27.—The correspondent of The Times at Ermelo says that Col. Mackenzie's column, operating near Lake Chrissie, Southeastern Transvaal, has surprised Hans Grobelar's small laager, capturing Stephanus Grobelar, Corporals Vandermewe and Schalkmeyer and four others. Grobelar and Schalkmeyer are both influential men, who have been encouraging Boer resistance in Ermelo district.

Boer Delegates Arrive.

New York, Feb. 27.—Among the passengers who arrived yesterday on the steamship Rotterdam from Rotterdam and Boulogne were Messrs. THE REFERENDUM.

The proposal attached to the "Prohibition" Bill introduced into the Legislature by Hon. G. W. Ross on February 12th, to make the bill effective on a vote by the people in the month of October, receives criticism from some sources and for various reasons. The objectors are extreme men, it appears, for what appear to them to be objectionable features, seem to others, equally honest prohibitionists, to be reasonable and desirable. A desire is expressed in some quarters to have the vote clubbed with the vote at the municipal elections. The desire of the Government seems to be to have an unbiassed vote taken which will represent the real condition of public interest in regard to the proposed legislation. It is fair to argue that the man who will not take the trouble to come out and cast his vote for prohibiti unless he can do it with a minimum of inconvenience, (as, say, the same time he votes at a municipal election), cannot have his heart enlisted very deeply in the cause, and cannot be expected to contribute much to the strong moral sentiment which it is universally acknowledged should be behind a prohibitory law to secure its effective enforcement. There are objections made to the referendum itself — objections are made to the manner and time of taking the vote, and objections are also made as to the bill, and the referendum not being a fulfillment of Hon. Mr. Ross' pledge to give a prohibitory measure. It will be noticed that the most bitter and violent denunciation of Mr. Ross come from those politicians and journalists who have no interest in prohibition whatever—who are utterly opposed to it, and only use the circumstances to make political capital. Those really in favour of the measure, unconsciously, perhaps, but surely, ally themselves with the enemies of the cause by joining in the unreasoning clamour against the Government. There are level-headed men who take different views, and claim that all the objections mentioned above do not exist, and that the bill itself, including the referendum, is unobjectionable and a reasonable fulfillment of Mr. Ross' promises respecting prohibition.

Take first the views of Rev. Dr. Potts, one of the most eminent divines of the Methodist church. On Sunday he preached educational sermons in London, and on Monday Dr. Potts said to a reporter, who sought his opinion:

> "I regard the bill introduced by Mr. Ross as a fair bill, and one which ought to be accepted by the temperance people of this country without hesitation. The people of Ontario who are favourable to prohibition have no right to demand a bill with a less majority than what will constitute the forthcoming Legislature of the Province. Many of the prohibitionists are doing a great injustice to the cause they propose to help by quarrelling among themselves. This is, in my opinion, the golden opportunity for prohibition in Ontario, and if it is not a success, the responsibility will be largely chargeable to the so-called leaders of prohibition, who are disheartening the people of the Province by their quarrels among themselves, and by their suggestion that it is impossible to realise such a majority as the bill requires."

The Montreal Witness, which has been for a generation a bulwark of the temperance cause and a strong and consistent advocate of prohibition, sees a good thing in the bill. The day after the bill was introduced, the Witness after referring to some objections which had been suggested, said:

> The Government has provided against the matter being carried by an irresponsible fraction of the people by requiring that as many votes should be cast for prohibition as would be a majority of the votes cast at the approaching provincial elections, and it may prove very difficult to get that number of votes out against the pressure that will be brought to bear to set the people against voting. As for the recourse to the referendum at all we cannot see but that it involves a breach of promise on the part of the Government which promised not a referendum but a law. But Governments succumb to "force majeure." We have repeatedly said that we thought the referendum in itself desirable. What the country wants is not so much a prohibition law as a prohibition people. There is no educative machinery like a plebiscite or referendum. If there is any question in the minds of any whether the people will give a favourable reply, that is so far a vindication of its submission to them. If the people do not want it, then on the principle of self-government they should not have it. The temperance forces are now on their mettle.

This is broad and explicit enough. About a week later on, Feb. 18th, the Witness in an article on the referendum, after arguments on the same line, said:

> "In any case, let us adjure the prohibitionists, if they have any sentiments adverse to Mr. Ross to turn into votes, that they shall give them scope at the provincial elections and not against the success of the referendum. They may rest assured that the prohibition sentiment of the province will certainly be gauged by the result of that contest, and that any lack of enthusiasm in it will simply injure the cause."

Further on in the same article the Witness has the following:

> "There is one caution which we cannot too often urge on our readers. Most of them are prohibitionists and have been, like ourselves, working for a prohibition law all their lives. We have perhaps been at too close quarters in the fight for this definite aim to keep fully in mind that it is not a law that we are really fighting for, but to secure such a sentiment on the part of the people as will make the drink traffic accursed in all men's eyes. For ourselves, we put little faith in law EXCEPT AS THE EXPRESSION OF SUCH AN OVERWHELMING PUBLIC OPINION as will insist on its enforcement. This moral force, which is the real desideratum, can be developed almost as successfully under one plebiscite or referendum as under another. If the referendum shall make it plain that the people want the law, neither Mr. Ross' Government nor any other will fail to grant it. If it fails in this then the nastiest croaks of Opposition newspapers are likely to be realized, no matter what formal results a provincial vote might show.....Under the referendum proposed by Mr. Ross, we have at least the opportunity to demonstrate to all reasonable men whether Ontario does or does not want prohibition in the concrete form of a given law. Let us deal with our politicians as we think they deserve at the right place and time. Let those who think they can mend matters by turning out the Ross Government at the coming elections bend their energies to that end. But let us not get this referendum shelved for another seven years by kicking against it, and let us reserve our best powers to showing clearly, when the referendum comes that Ontario wants and demands prohibitory legislation."

These comments of the Witness compress the matter into a nutshell, and justify the submission of the question of prohibition to the people by the referendum vote. It certainly does not seem unreasonable to require as great a vote for prohibition as is given for parliamentary representatives. If an elector does not take enough interest in the result of the election to vote for the candidate who represents his political convictions, he may fairly be claimed to be indifferent to the representation he receives, and will take no interest in the manner in which his candidate, if successful, will perform his duty. If a professed prohibitionist does not take enough interest in the question to go out and record his vote in its favour, he certainly cannot be expected to take a lively interest in its enforcement, and, without effective enforcement, all thoughtful prohibitionists are of the opinion that such a measure is a peril to the best interests of temperance. Therefore the proposal to secure as strong an expression of public sentiment as possible, through the medium of a referendum is self-evidently in the best interests of prohibition. The referendum will be a test of the bona fides of those professing to be in favour of prohibition; will decide whether they believe in prohibition as a beautiful theory and academic abstraction, or as a practical agent in preventing the evils that come from the traffic in strong drink.

The management was all that could be desired. The check room was well patronized, and since it has been introduced several parties who have have been at every carnival have left the rink severely alone, for which all are very thankful.

Mr. James B. Wood, son of Mr. James Wood, living east of Villiers, met with a very serious accident on Friday evening last, by falling from a straw stack while cutting some feed for the stock. It seems that the straw was frozen and could not be cut very well, so while pushing it with his foot it gave way with him, and he fell on the knife, inflicting a very severe wound in the front of his right arm, cutting through all the tissues and blood vessels, nerves, and even shaving the elbow joint. The cut started four inches below the elbow and extended half way to the shoulder. Mr. Wood in this condition ran to the house, a distance of at least 100 yards, and asked his wife to put a towel around his arm, and twist it with a stove lifter, which she did, and then ran for the assistance of someone to go for a doctor. This was about 5 p.m. that the accident occurred and the doctor could not get there until nine o'clock, when he prevented all further loss of blood, and started for Peterborough as soon as things could be got ready. Mr. Wood stood the trip very well, and Drs. Halliday, Eastwood and Shaw tried to save the arm, but on Sunday, as all pulsation in the arm had ceased, after calling in Dr. Young, it was decided to remove the arm so as to save Mr. Wood's life. At last accounts Mr. Wood was doing well, and he has every prospect of recovering.

Rev. Mr. McCuaig preached for the second time to a delighted audience in the Keene church on Sunday last.

Rev. W. B. Secombe has been selected as a delegate to the Prohibition convention in Toronto, and left for the city on Tuesday morning.

Campbellford curlers played a game in Keene on Friday last and were defeated by one shot and the last stone, played by Mr. Kennealey, won the game. The skips were — Campbellford, Messrs. C. Smith and T. Tait; Keene, M. Kennealey and W. Campbell.

Two rinks of our curling club suffered a severe defeat on Thursday from two rinks from Peterborough, but the next day they pulled themselves together again and defeated two rinks from Campbellford.

On Saturday a junior hockey team drove to Warkworth and met a defeat from the team of that place.

Miss Florence Miller of Peterborough, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. T. J. Wallace.

Miss Lizzie Miller is home from Toronto, where she has been taking a course in vocal music.

A very successful entertainment was given in the town hall in connection with the Ladies' Aid by talent from Peterborough. Miss White gave several recitations and Miss C. Bellegham captivated the audience by a few well rendered vocal solos. Mr. Milne sang in his usual good voice. Miss Dobbin was the accompanists of the evening.

Miss N. Dennis, of Huntsville, Muskoka, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Dr. Shaw.

Raymond Kerr has just recovered from a very severe attack of rheumatic fever. He was attended by Dr. Montgomery. Some fears were held as to his recovery but he is able to be around again.

We are sorry to notice the death of Frederick Perrin. He was a young man of industrious habits and good disposition, and his friends may be sure of the sympathy of the people of this vicinity.

The roads are in a very fair condition considering the amount of snow. Several people from Rice Lake plains passed through Bensfort on Saturday. If the Peterborough Radial Railway should build their road through South Monaghan we should expect a very fair share of the traffic from the country to the south of us.

TOWED INTO HALIFAX.

Halifax, N.S., Feb. 27.—The North German Lloyd steamer Neckar, from Bremer Haven for New York, with 1,200 passengers on board, was conveyed into Halifax harbor yesterday afternoon by the steamer Karlsrhue of the same line and the British steamer Malin Head.

The Neckar left Bremer Haven on Feb. 8, and heavy weather was experienced until the 17th, when the propeller became disabled. The ship drifted helplessly about the ocean for hours. The Karlsrhue and the Malin Head stood by the disabled steamer.

For nine days the big liner battled with furious gales. Seven times the tow lines parted between the Neckar and the Malin Head. The Karlsrhue has 1,150 passengers, and she is bound for New York. She sustained considerable damage to her deck, and several of her officers were injured. Both steamers will repair here.

A CAUSE OF HEADACHE.

One Very Common Cause, Generally Over-Looked.

Headache is a symptom, an indication of derangement or disease in some organ and the cause of the headache is difficult to locate because so many diseases have headache as a prominent symptom; derangement of the stomach and liver, heart trouble, kidney disease, lung trouble, eye strain or ill fitting glasses, all produce headaches, and if we could always locate the organ which is at fault, the cure of obstinate headaches would be a much simpler matter.

However, for that form of headache, called frontal headache, pain back of the eyes and in forehead, the cause is now known to be catarrh of the head and throat; when the headache is located in the back of head and neck it is often caused from catarrh of the stomach or liver.

At any rate catarrh is the most common cause of such headaches, and the cause of the catarrh causes a prompt disappearance of the headaches.

There is at present no treatment for catarrh so convenient and effective as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new internal remedy in tablet form, composed of antiseptics, like eucalyptol, guaiacol and blood root, which act upon the blood and cause the elimination of the catarrhal poison from the system through the natural channels.

Miss Cora Ainsley, a prominent school teacher in one of our normal schools, speaks of her experience with catarrhal headaches and eulogizes Stuart's Catarrh Tablets as a cure for them. She says, "I suffered daily from severe frontal headaches, and pain in the back of the eyes, at times so intensely as to incapacitate me in my daily duties. I had suffered from Catarrh more or less for years, but never thought it was the cause of my headaches, but finally became convinced that such was the case, because the headaches were always worse whenever I had a cold or a fresh attack of catarrh.

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets were highly recommended to me as a safe and pleasant catarrh cure, and after using a few fifty-cent boxes which I procured from my druggists I was surprised and delighted to find that both the catarrh and headaches had gone for good."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents per package under the guarantee of the proprietors, that they contain absolutely no cocaine (found in so many catarrh cures), no opium, (so common in cheap cough cures), nor any harmful drug. They contain simply the wholesome antiseptics necessary to destroy and drive from the system the germs of catarrhal disease.

BOUNDS OF THE NEW DISTRICTS

Mr. Hill's Bill For the Inspection of Voluntary Schools Was Lost—Mr. Preston's Loan Corporation Investment's Bill Read a Second Time—Also Mr. Pattullo's Electric Railway Bill.

Toronto, Feb. 26.—In the Legislative Assembly to-day Hon. Mr. Gibson introduced a bill to amend the act respecting the representation of the people. It proposed to add four members to the representation of Algoma and Nipissing. Western Algoma would be given two members, being divided into two districts, north and south. This would give complete railway communication within each district. The southern district would include Port Arthur and the Rainy River District and certain townships near Port Arthur and Fort William. This would be called the Port Arthur and Rainy River District, which would have a population of 12,649. The Northern District would have 13,156. The three districts of Eastern Algoma would be called respectively Sault Ste. Marie, Manitoulin and Algoma. Sault Ste. Marie included the Michipicoton district and a number of townships, with a population of 14,448. Manitoulin comprised the other islands in the districts as well as some townships on the mainland, with about 14,136. Algoma comprising the remainder of the district, had a population of 18,096. Nipissing would be divided into East and West Nipissing by a line running north from Lake Nipissing just east of Sturgeon Falls. Some of the townships now included in North Renfrew were detached from that constituency and transferred to East Nipissing, and some townships now included in Nipissing along the line of the Canada Atlantic Railway were transferred to North Hastings.

Mr. McKee's bill respecting the Sandwich, Windsor & Amherstburg Railway received a third reading.

Mr. Carpenter moved that the bill incorporating the Lake Superior, Long Lake and Albany River Railway Company be recommitted to the Railway Committee for reconsideration. Hon. John Dryden objected on the ground that those interested in opposing the bill had had full notice. Hon. G. W. Ross took the same ground. The committee had power to hear expert evidence which the House had not. If there were any good grounds for the motion its purpose could be attained in another way by giving notice before it was considered in committee of the House. The motion was withdrawn.

Inspection of Voluntary Schools.

Mr. Hill moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Public School Act. Hon. Mr. Harcourt opposed the measure on the grounds of public policy as it would be a retrograde step to go back to sectionalism in school matters. There was only one single school interested in the promotion of the bill. The principle of the measure was contrary to the trend of education in Great Britain. The bill merely asked that voluntary schools should be inspected by the Public School Inspector, but that was only the thin edge of the wedge. Having once got legal recognition state aid would next be asked for, which would establish the principle of sectionalism in schools. Mr. Matheson wanted to know if the public system had to be pampered up that they were afraid to allow voluntary schools to be inspected by public officials. The House was responsible to see that all children were properly educated, not merely those who attended the public schools. Mr. Hill said the Education Department report showed the need of his bill as they disclosed the fact that a large number of children were not attending the public schools. The bill would do a good deal to bring the public schools into harmony with the voluntary schools that were being established.

Mr. Whitney said the bill anticipated any possible objection on the ground that the voluntary schools were asking for state aid, as it provided that the schools inspected under it should themselves pay for inspection. Mr. Harcourt thought that the tendency of such legislation was to establish a system of voluntary schools such as had been tried for a century in England and was now being discarded. An application for a grant would follow inspection and legal recognition as day followed night. The motion was lost on division.

Mr. Kribs' bill to establish a Government Printing Office being ruled out of order by the Speaker, was withdrawn.

Mr. Conmee's bill to amend the Municipal Act so as to allow the exemption of smelters and reduction works was withdrawn.

Mr. Preston moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Loan Corporations Act which enlarged the list of securities upon which loan companies were permitted to lend by including debentures of some classes of industrial corporations. Hon. J. M. Gibson was inclined to favor the bill provided the public interests were adequately safeguarded. He thought that some of the classes of investments named offered good security.

Mr. Pardee urged caution in the matter. Mr. Matheson thought that loan companies had already too much latitude and did not consider the proposal desirable, a view in which Hon. Mr. Stratton was disposed to agree. The bill received a second reading.

Mr. Barr moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Division Court Act, providing that in the case of payment of money into court the action shall not be stopped unless the plaintiff intimates that he accepts the payment as a settlement. Hon. Mr. Latchford opposed the bill which was lost on division.

A LARGE BOTTLE, 25c.

Mr. Graham moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Local Courts Act which he explained would enable a junior judge to be appointed in the Counties of Leeds and Grenville. He gave particulars showing the need of such an official. Mr. Whitney favored the appointment of a junior judge for these counties, but was opposed to the way in which it was done by a bill introduced by a private member, without a word from the Attorney-General. It was necessitated by mistaken legislation in the past from the consequences of which they were now endeavoring to escape. He had been approached by parties who had told him that the Government would not proceed with the bill unless the Opposition supported it. At this point Attorney-General Gibson asked Mr. Whitney if he stated or intimated that he (Mr. Gibson) had any knowledge of such a request. Mr. Whitney made a non-committal reply. The Attorney-General said the bill was one which might very reasonably be introduced by a private member. The general legislation which Mr. Whitney had criticised, limiting the appointment of junior judges, was beneficial, but there were special and exceptional circumstances in this case and the bill was a reasonable one. He repudiated the intimation that any suggestion had been made by him or by the Government that counsel should be taken with Mr. Whitney on the subject. There was no reason why they should care what the Opposition leader's opinion was. The bill was read a second time.

Mr. Dickenson's bill to amend the Toll Roads Expropriation Act received a second reading.

Mr. Pattullo moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Electric Railway Act, giving power to the Government to regulate freight rates. He urged that the roads had been given too extensive bonding privileges, which resulted in extortionate rates. He favored a general law. The bill was read a second time.

Mr. McKee's bill to amend the Drainage Act received a second reading.

After Recess.

The following bills were adopted in committee: Respecting the Town of Peterboro, Mr. Blezard; to incorporate the Ontario Electric Railway Co., Mr. Graham; to incorporate the Peterboro Radial Railway Co., Mr. Blezard; to amend the act incorporating the Ontario Ship Railway Co., Mr. Conmee; respecting the Town of Perth, Mr. Matheson; to incorporate the Huronian Company, Ltd., Mr. Charlton; respecting the Nipegon Railway Co., Mr. Conmee.

Second Readings.

The following bills were read a second time: To incorporate the Lake Superior, Long Lake and Albany River Railway Co., Mr. Hill; to incorporate the Canada Western Railway Co., Mr. Conmee; respecting Hamilton, Ancaster and Brantford Railway Co., Mr. Dickenson; to enable the trustees of the Jane Laycock Orphanage to sell lands, Mr. Preston; to confer certain powers on the trustees of John Bacon's will, Mr. Pyne; respecting a by-law of the Town of Sarnia, Mr. Pardee.

The House then went into concurrence and passed a number of items, those which the Opposition intended to contest being allowed to stand over.

The House went into Committee of Supply, the first item considered being $128,175 for outside service and surveys in connection with the Crown Lands Department. Hon. E. J. Davis pointed out that the principal changes were on increases of $2,000 for forest ranging and $2,500 for forest reserves. Under the head of Mining Development the appropriation for the Kingston School of Mining had been increased from $18,500 to $23,500. The Opposition was not in a critical mood and the items passed with little discussion.

Hurt in a Collision.

Hamilton, Feb. 27.—A serious collision took place about 9 o'clock yesterday morning at the Stuart street station, Grand Trunk. The Lehigh Valley express, having on board a good many volunteers going to Toronto Convention, had been divided into two sections. The first got away safely; the second crashed into the rear of the Toronto train. That train was forced into the rear of the west-bound train, and a bad smash resulted.

Arthur Woodworth, a student at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., had his feet badly crushed. S. F. Ackenbaugh, a Nazareth, Pa., student, was hurt about the legs and bruised. Dr. Noknoot of New York, had his jaw bone fractured. He was taken on to Toronto. Woodworth and Ackenbaugh were removed to the General Hospital. Has Gone Into Effect Amongst the Men at the Cereal Works.

A general strike has gone into effect which has caused every man working on the erection of the Cereal Works, to quit work.

The bricklayers objected to a man to whom Mr. Bogue had given employment, and went on strike rather than work with him. Mr. Bogue then discharged the man, and the bricklayers all went back to work again. Inside of a few minutes a large number of the men were discharged, and in consequence a general strike of the entire force was ordered, and work on the buildings has ceased for the present.

A Poplar Tree That was Cut Down on Charlotte Street—Its History.

An old land mark disappeared yesterday in the shape of a poplar tree which for years has stood on the edge of Charlotte street, opposite the Grand Trunk station. The tree was on a lot owned by Mr. R. A. Morrow, at the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets, and projected some few feet on to the street. However the historic feature in connection with the tree is that it was planted by Mr. James Stevenson, of town, in the year 1843, just 59 years ago. Mr. Stevenson planted this poplar along with several others and has seen it grow to a tree, which contained about five cords of wood.

FOUL PLAY IS SUSPECTED

Death of David Valentine Being Investigated.

THE BODY TO BE EXHUMED

Dead Man's Daughter Here From St. Thomas.

The Deceased Was Alleged to Have Been Frozen to Death Near Burleigh Falls—Detective Greer in Town.

When David Valentine, an old gentleman, was found dead in the snow, some few weeks ago, about three-quarters of a mile north of Burleigh, suspicion of foul play was so remote from the minds of the people in that neighbourhood, and of the Crown officials, to whose attention Valentine's death had been communicated, that no inquest was ordered, and the remains were shipped to St. Thomas, deceased's home, where they were interred.

Now, however, the people of Peterborough county are to be given a sensation. Foul play has been alleged and the matter is in the hands of Government detectives, who are at work on the affair.

The story of the Valentine sensation to date briefly told is as follows: David Valentine, an old gentleman, whose home was in St. Thomas, was staying with his brother-in-law, Mr. W. J. Hicks, who resides a short distance north of Burleigh Falls. He was supposed to perform the duties of hired man, although he was a person of moderate means. He had decided to purchase a piece of land of his own in Burleigh, and as he was a veteran of '66 he was entitled to a Government grant elsewhere. It was with a view of filing his claim that the old gentleman visited Peterborough on Saturday, February 8. While here on that date it is said he had an interview with Mr. J. B. McWilliams, Crown Timber Agent, and then proceeded to walk to Burleigh in the evening. He reached Lakefield, Young's Point and Burleigh all right and after spending some time at the latter place he started on his journey to the home of his brother-in-law, a mile or two farther on. This he did, not reach alive. He was found dead in the snow by his employer, it is stated, on Monday morning. There were evidences that the old gentleman did not die without a struggle, which it was supposed at the time was a fight for life against the cold and the storm which had been raging Saturday and Sunday. The ground had been trampled rather hard for some feet around where the deceased lay, and this was attributed to the belief that Valentine was merely trying to keep himself warm by exertion, while lost in the storm. These facts as believed by Mr. Darcey, proprietor of the Burleigh Falls hotel, were communicated to Coroner Gray, of town, who decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The body was then, as previously stated, shipped to the deceased's home at St. Thomas and there interred.

The above constituted the Valentine story up until Friday last when a young lady and a gentleman arrived in Peterborough from St. Thomas, and inquired for Coroner Gray. The young lady was Miss Laurine Valentine, a daughter of the deceased man, whose death is now causing an investigation. They visited the spot where her father had met his death and made a few inquiries. This action had been prompted by certain marks of violence which, it is alleged were seen on the body of the dead man. A result of all their investigation was that the girl swore out the necessary information before Coroner Gray, demanding that an inquest be held to inquire into the cause of death to her parent, and certain circumstances were related to show why such an inquiry should be held. Among other allegations it is alleged that there was a large dent on the back of the deceased's head, that there was blood from the mouth and nose, that his knee was swollen, and that when the deceased left Burleigh Falls Hotel he had on his person the sum of $17, and when found he had only five cents. The girl in brief claimed that she honestly believed that her father was the victim of foul play. Coroner Gray consulted with Crown Attorney Wood, and the circumstances were then communicated to the Attorney General's Department. Detective Greer, of the Ontario Government's detective staff, arrived in town yesterday and had a consultation with the local officials of the Crown. He then left for St. Thomas, where the body will be exhumed, and a post mortem examination held.

Further action will depend upon the result of the post mortem examination. Should an inquest be ordered it will take place in Peterborough County of course, and the outcome of the proceedings will be watched with interest. The deceased was 62 years of age.

UNFORTUNATE CHILDREN.

Two More Were Taken This Morning. Taken Charge of by the Society.

The Children's Aid Society is doing a flourishing business these days. Two more children were taken over by the Society this morning. They were the children of Mrs. McLaughlan, of Cardiff township, Haliburton county. The children's name is Armstrong, their mother having married a second time. The youngsters—a girl and a boy—are aged respectively 10 and 11 years. They have been living in town with their grandmother who took them in her care three years ago. Now the mother comes to Peterborough and wants to take the children back again. The children prefer to stay with their grandmother, and an order has been made by the court, giving the children to the care of the Society. The Society then enters into a contract with the grandmother who will keep the children as heretofore.

"LIFE IN THE GERMAN ARMY."

A Talk by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt to the Intermediate Bible Club.

The regular monthly "open" meeting" of the Social Bible Club at the Y.M.C.A. took place on Tuesday evening. There was a good attendance. After the customary Bible study under the direction of Mr. John Manning, club leader, Mr. Howard Humphries, chairman of the Programme Committee, took the chair and the evening's entertainment was proceeded with. The programme included pleasing instrumentals by Mr. Will Staples, a stirring recitation by Major Miller, in that gentleman's best form, and latest songs by Mr. Jas. Browne, who is always a prime favourite with the Bible Club members. This was followed by a talk on German Army Life by Rev. E A. Langfeldt.

On rising to speak Mr. Langfeldt was warmly received. After expressing his pleasure at the opportunity given of making the acquaintance of the boys of the Social Bible Club, and of learning how they spend the time in Clubdom, he proceeded with the story of the routine work of the Kaiser's Army—a knowledge, by the way, born of personal experience.

In Germany they have conscription. Every young man must spend three years in fitting himself to be able to best fight his Country's enemies should occasion arise. Military law is supreme. No policeman dare arrest a soldier in uniform. The arrest must be made by the military authorities. At stated intervals there are proclamations issued by the military authorities at the several army centres calling for all young men of twenty years of age within a specified district to report at a stated time and place to be examined and sworn in for a three years' term of service. The proclamation is accompanied by a railway ticket to the stated point. While every young man must serve in the army those who volunteer are given the choice of regiment to which they shall attach themselves. Before entering the army the average German youth looks forward to his soldiering days as the proudest of his life. Actual experience serves to disillusionize him. His personal feelings are sadly shocked. He finds that he is only one of many, and that as an individual he is not considered, except in so far as he properly performs his duty. It is discipline — rigid discipline — from the time he enters the service until he leaves.

The story of the making of a soldier was closely followed from the time the young recruit leaves home, and is met at the station by a corporal's guard, and taken to the garrison and sworn in, until he leaves a seasoned soldier. Garrison experiences were amusingly told—the early roll call, the hurried ablutions, the two meals per day of one and a half pounds of rye bread, and a mug of black coffee, the mending classes, etc. An exhibition of marching brought forth a hearty laugh. The drill sergeant came in for strong language; he was a czar in his domineering ways over recruits, and positively cruel at times. Conditions are now much improved. Cruelty by a sergeant must be tried by a special committee. German soldiers are paid 54 cents (ten days pay) in advance. A soldier is not allowed to spend on any one day more than a stated fraction of his ten days' allowance. This sum is supposed to provide metal polish, shoe dressing, etc. The surplus over necessities went to provide personal luxuries. These were generally minus.

The uniforms of various branches of the service were described and much general information given by the speaker in his own fascinating manner.

In closing Mr. Langfeldt took occasion to point out some helpful lessons for the boys as to serving in the ranks of an earthly sovereign, and of enlisting in the service of the King of Kings.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Langfeldt and the other gentlemen who assisted in providing so pleasant and profitable an evening's entertainment.

Refreshments were served by an energetic committee under Mr. H. Hartley, and the proceedings concluded with a hymn and prayer.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

Annual Meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary, Tuesday.

The Woman's Auxiliary held its annual meeting yesterday, which was attended by a large number. A service was held by the rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, at which he spoke on the right qualifications of a W. A. member. After the service the members held their annual business meeting in the school house. The first order of business was the presentation of a "life member certificate" to the honoured first vice-president, Mrs. Phillips. The presentation was made by the president, Mrs. E. A. Peck. The rector replied on behalf of Mrs. Phillips and thanked the members for their mark of esteem and appreciation.

After the presentation of the various reports, which all proved to be very satisfactory and showed the St. Luke's branch to be in a very flourishing condition, the election of officers was then proceeded with.

The president, Mrs. E. A. Peck, felt compelled to resign her office on account of ill-health. The members reluctantly accepted the resignation, and unanimously elected Mrs. Peck honorary president.

Officers were elected as follows:
President — Mrs. W. J. Scott.
1st Vice.-Pres.—Mrs. E. A. Langfeldt.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. R. B. Rogers.
Recording Sec.-Treas.—Miss Strickland.
Assistant Sec.-Treas—Mrs. Kidd.
Cor.-Secretary—Mrs. W. Gibbs.
Dorcas Secretary—Mrs. F. J. Jameson.
Convenor of P. M. C.— Mrs. E. A. Peck.

The rector appointed Mrs. C. F. Wade and Mrs. A. O. Sawyer representatives on the Board of Management.

Superintendent of the Mission Band appointed by the W. A.—Mrs. E. A. Langfeldt.

The report of the Mission Band, presented by Miss Alice Scott, was especially interesting. It showed a membership of 56 boys and girls. The band has undertaken to clothe and support an Indian child at the Wapuska Mission.

After the business was transacted the members had refreshments and spent a social half hour in pleasant intercourse.

What Toronto Papers Think of Newmarket Game.

Items of Local Interest to Local Sportsmen—The Trent Valley League.

HOCKEY.

The Toronto Telegram has the following to say of Tuesday night's match:

Who said Peterborough couldn't win away from home? Answer, quick! No, it wasn't Newmarket, Royal Military College, or Port Hope. To truly tell, listens, Peterborough is winning, no just at this period in the world's ex-matter where the team travels. The other night Newmarket came away from the eastern town six goals behind, but Newmarket, like its great farmer neighbour, William Muleck, faced this defeat like a deficit in the Post Office Department, and calculated in coming out with a surplus of goals when Peterborough finished the match at Newmarket.

It was a bad night for Newmarket's prophets—and bettors, too—not being backward in boasting that their lads would win the match, if not the round. The supporters of the North York team had to defend their arguments with the coin of the realm, which, it may be said, is on deposit in Peterborough banks about this time.

Peterborough went up to Newmarket with its team, a dozen supporters and lots of confidence. The entire outfit won, and there is a happy lot in the Cereal City this day. Among those who travelled to Newmarket from the east were Dr. Bradd, James McCabe, A. A. Mellingshead, A. H. Stratton, D. Davidson, Alf. Terrill, W. Bunton and Fred Clarke.

The ice was thick and heavy, just like playing lacrosse in a freshly ploughed field. When you moved you carried along as much slush as one of Street Commissioner Jones' carts. The puck and ice became deeply in love and dared the entire two teams, at times, to separate them. Still, the hockey was fast at times, but it was generally admitted, except probably in the instance of that awful Grit, T. H. Lloyd, that Peterborough had a far superior team. They know the fine points of the game, and play in finished style. So it is no wonder that they got the score moving early, and never allowed their opponents to creep up on them. At half-time the tally stood Peterborough 3, Newmarket 1. At full time, Peterborough 6, Newmarket 3. One of Peterborough's goals was scored on a lift of Glover's and Kelly lifted the puck on two occasions from cover-point into the Peterborough net. The puck, in these instances, got lost in the mist, until it was picked up behind the posts, and then Ernie Wasson would converse with himself for a few seconds. With the one exception, Peterborough's goals were all scored from clean shots in front of goal, Morgan and Graham being the tallies.

That youngster, Harold Armstrong, Peterborough's cover point, just about drove Newmarket hockey critics out of their senses. He is a marvel. He skates like a Rubenstein and wiggles around the ice with all the alertness of a snake. Rushes started at his signal and Newmarket simply looked on and stared. "What's the use of getting in the way of people seeing a pretty sight like that?" they said, as the young cover point flew down the ice. By the way, that Peterborough team is excellently balanced—fast, energetic defence. Glover, at point, lifts as though he had intentions of puncturing the heavens.

Ernie Wasson, Peterborough's tall and thin goalkeeper, claims to have played the game before the war of 1812, and last night he held a little jubilation on the train en route to the city. Cause, he was ruled off for having a little too good a time with a Newmarket man over in one of the corners of the rink—the first time a referee ever told him to sit on the fence in his lengthy career.

Newmarket changed its goal keeper from Friday night's match, and changed its luck, too. Kennedy played a great game between the posts at Peterborough. However, he was supplanted by the old goal man, Dr. Clarke, and while he did very well, his work was not on a level with Kennedy's. Brunton is one of Newmarket's best forwards. He is aggressive and quick. In combination play Newmarket is very weak, and Peterborough very strong.

The gate receipts reached $125, the best in Newmarket's history.

Young Roy Armstrong, of the Peterborough team, is a cool headed chap.

W. Forbes, of Osgoode Hall, proved himself to be a capable and strict referee.

A big crowd saw the match, and nearly everybody anticipated victory for the local men.

The Newmarket rink is just as small as Peterborough's, in fact the boys from the east say smaller.

Peterborough now goes into the finals. Its victory over Newmarket amounted to nine goals on the round.

A coach attached to a freight brought the Peterborough contingent into the city shortly after midnight.

Rough work was almost entirely absent, and it can easily be said that the two matches between Peterborough and Newmarket were as clean as any seen in the O. H. A. this year.

The teams and officials at the game were:—

Peterborough (6) — Goal, Wasson; point, R. Glover; cover-point, H. Armstrong; forwards, Whitcroft, H. Morgan, C. Graham, R. Armstrong.

Newmarket (3)—Goal, C. Clarke; point A. Brundette; cover-point, T. Kelly; forwards, Kennedy, Flannigan, Brunton, O-Halleran.

Referee, W. Forbes, of Toronto. Umpires, Jas. McCabe, Peterborough; L. C. Howard, Newmarket. Timekeepers, Dr. C. F. Piper, Toronto; W. Smith, Newmarket.

Mr. Ernie Wasson will referee the game in Norwood to-morrow night between Norwood and Fenelon for the championship of the Trent Valley Hockey League.

The latest novelty in Pittsburg, Pa., is lacrosse on ice.

The Ottawa hockey club has challenged the Winnipeg Victorias to play for the Stanley Cup. The Victorias have replied saying they will consider the challenge against this year's champions for a series of games beginning on March 14th.

Cornwall hockey team uses lacrosse tactics on the ice, but may get over that in time. Down in that eastern part of Ontario a knowledge of hockey is only beginning to dawn upon the players, while the people are still in the dark ages as regards the game.

The Stirling junior hockey team are playing great hockey now. After feating the Belleville Victorias in two games, they defeated the Madoc team last Thursday by a score of 15 to 0. On Saturday last they met the Brighton juniors at Stirling and defeated them by a score of 15 to 0. Shaw, Airhart and Fletcher of the Stirlings were ruled off for three minutes.

The Kingston young ladies are having such a fine time playing hockey that they are, according to the Whig, thinking of playing Rugby next fall.

The appended kindly words come from the Port Hope Guide: "Peterborough took one step nearer the Intermediate O.H.A. championship last night by defeating Newmarket on their own ice by a score of 6 to 3, and thereby winning the round by 16 to 7. Peterborough now enters the finals with the winners of the Galt-Collingwood game, and unless something goes very wrong that Garland cup should come to this district. There has been plenty of loud newspaper talk about the western teams being too fast for the east, but it is the prevailing opinion around these diggins that something will drop, and drop hard, too, when the final is played. The Peterborough men are in excellent shape and to beat them it requires more than an ordinary effort. Shake, Peter, go ahead, but 'be careful of the final.'"

CURLIANA.

All of the curlers are back from Orillia and give glowing accounts of their trips. Skip Robt. Neill and his three men won the first prize consisting of two pair of red home curling stones. Mr. Neill and his Vice, Mr. R. J. Frost, very generously abandoned all claim to the stones and presented them to Messrs. M. Green and E. O. Bradburn, the second and first stone players. Mr. Neill and his rink played a very fine game throughout the bonspiel and are to be heartily congratulated on winning out from the best players in Eastern Ontario.

LACROSSE.

With the approach of spring, the presence of beautiful mild weather such as we have experienced during the past week, the thoughts of the athlete and of those enthusiasts who are admirers of any particular line of summer sport, naturally turn in that direction. Not a few then, have wondered by this time what the prospects are for Peterborough possessing a lacrosse team that will uphold the name of the town in a corresponding manner with the Rugby Club and the Hockey Club. For some years past lacrosse has been a dead issue in Peterborough and several attempts to revive it have proved dismal failures. However, the lovers of Canada's National game in Peterborough have not yet lost hope and it is believed that something may yet be done to place a team of no mean standing in the C.L.A. Peterborough possessed two very good junior aggregations last summer. These were the Vatican and the Y.M.C.A. teams, and an amalgamation of the two should result in there being a speedy 12 in town. The Examiner would be pleased to receive any suggestions as to the best means of arousing an interest in the game in Peterborough.

PING PONG.

British Columbia claims the first provincial ping-pong tournament in Canada. It was held last week in Vancouver.

CANOEING.

The Toronto Canoe Club are determined to win the canoeing contests (sets to which they have received an invitation to compete in at the Boston Sportsman's Show, to be held from the 10th to the 15th of March, and commenced training at the club house last evening. A large number of the members who are anxious for a position on the crew, were on hand, and it will be a very difficult matter for the committee to select the best representative crew which will be nine in number. Any member who wishes to have his name considered will have to attend practice regularly.—Toronto News.

THE TURF.

SOME MILITARY NEWS

About Peterborough's new Drill Shed—Spring Drill.

Though not as yet absolutely settled spring drill for the three city infantry regiments of Toronto will commence on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 2nd, 3rd and 4th, respectively. Notwithstanding all rumours to the contrary there will be no change in the command of any one of the three battalions.

The history of the country, the progress of the militia, one of its institutions, is exemplified in the by no means uninteresting fact that in this year many of our infantry regiments will complete their fortieth year of continuous military existence. The 3rd Regiment "Victoria Rifles" and the 5th "Royal Scots," both with their headquarters in Montreal, entered upon their forty-first year on the 10th and 31st of last month respectively. The 8th Regiment, Royal Rifles, will complete their fortieth year on Friday next, February 28th.

The 1st Prince of Wales' Fusiliers are the senior infantry regiment in the Dominion; they date from November, 1859, the 2nd "Queen's Own Rifles" from April, 1860, and the 63rd ""Halifax Rifles" from May in the same year. Of the original officers in these six regiments rather more than one hundred and fifty in all, but few more than a score are now alive.

In proportion to their numbers the cavalry and artillery arms of the services have a longer record than the infantry. The G.G.B.G. dates from December, 1855, though it has really a much longer record, but it was the first corps to be re-organised under the provisions of the Militia Act of 1855, then the independent squadron known as the "Queen's Own Canadian Hussars," was organised in November, 1856.

The 1st "Quebec," the 2nd "Ottawa," the 3rd "Montreal," the 5th "Kingston," and the 6th "London" Field Batteries came into being, the first three in 1855, and the two last in 1856. The 2nd "Montreal" Regiment Garrison Artillery has existed since November, 1856.

As the winter is about over there are signs of military activity. If the local military men intend having any doings here on May 24th it is about time that they were doing something towards inviting a few outside corps to Peterborough. Other towns are making a move in this line. The Windsor authorities, it is understood, are offering the 48th Highlanders inducements to spend May 24th in that city. Lieut.-Col. Macdonald, the commanding officer of the kilted regiment, admits that negotiations were in progress, but he can make no definite announcement at present. The regiment visited Windsor five or six years ago, and were royally entertained by the citizens of that city.

It is rumoured that the Queen's Own Rifles have received an attractive invitation from Montreal, but until Lieut.-Col. Pellatt returns from the south, the offer cannot be officially considered.

The Royal Grenadiers of Toronto will visit either Stratford or Guelph.

The Military Land Grants Department has sent out twenty thousand claim papers up to date, but of these only one-half are back in the Government offices properly filled out and signed. It is now thought that about eight thousand veterans will secure farms in New Ontario.

The prospects of a new drill shed for Peterborough are now exceedingly rosy and local military men are as a result very jubilant. It is suggested that the new structure be erected with an entrance off McDonel street. The steep grade going into the present drill shed is very inconvenient and would be overcome by an entrance on the street one block further north.

Strike at Deloro.

There is trouble at the Deloro Mines, among the employees of the Canadian Goldfields Company. It seems that it has been the custom hitherto for the night shift to work twelve hours a night, five nights a week. This gave the miners Saturday and Sunday nights off. An order was recently issued calling on the miners to work ten hours a night, six nights a week. Against this order the hand struck, and as a consequence the works are practically closed down. Mr. Kirkgaard, manager, is absent from Deloro, and is expected to return to-morrow, when it is hoped that the differences may be settled and work resumed.

MR. FISHER'S BUDGET

House Makes Good Progress With Agricultural Estimates.

CANADA TO SHOW AT ST. LOUIS

Discussion on Dominion Charters and Provincial Laws—Deputations Wait on Government—The Root Sugar Men's Requests—What the Shoe Men Want—Senator Templeman Sworn In.

Ottawa, Feb. 26.—The House devoted yesterday to Mr. Fisher's estimates, and made fairly good progress.

Mr. Ingram introduced a bill respecting the Canada Southern Railway Company.

Mr. Monk introduced a bill to amend the Interpretation Act. He explained that its object is to make clear that companies operating under Dominion franchises are nevertheless subject to provincial laws. The necessity for the bill arose from a decision of the Privy Council, which reversed the decision of the Quebec courts in the case of the Canadian Pacific Railway v. Roy, and decided that English common law governed in the case of the burning of a barn by sparks from a railway engine. While the bill was general in its terms, it would apply chiefly in Quebec.

Mr. Lemieux supported the proposal, saying that the Province of Quebec would insist in maintaining its own law on civil rights.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier discussed the general question of expropriation and torts in such cases, and while emphasizing the fairness and justice of the Quebec civil code, expressed a doubt as to whether the bill proposed would effect the object desired. He inclined to the belief that the provision of the civil code in this particular case was still the law in Quebec.

Mr. Maclean said the question would come up in connection with the Bell Telephone Company, which claimed to override municipal laws under its Dominion charter.

Mr. Casgrain reviewed the decision of the Privy Council, and said that to meet the case in point it would be necessary to extend the principle of compensation now in force in cases of expropriation and damage resulting therefrom to injuries such as that complained of in the Roy case.

Will Go to St. Louis.

Mr. Fisher made the announcement that he had been authorized by Council to accept the invitation to Canada to take part in the exhibition in St. Louis in 1903.

There was a discussion on the item of $110,000 for quarantine, but it finally went through and the House adjourned at 11.30.

Beet Root Sugar Men.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. Sydney Fisher received a delegation from the beet root sugar industry. Representatives of the industry from Galt, Berlin, Lindsay, Dresden, Walkerton and Peterboro were present. Arch. Campbell, M.P., introduced the delegation. The delegates asked that countervailing duties be imposed equal to the duty against those countries that allow a bounty on sugar. They also asked that the present duties on sugar be adjusted. The duty now is three-quarters of a cent in favor of the United States. The delegates also asked that the time be extended for admitting, duty free, machinery to be used in the manufacture of beet root sugar. The Premier said that the Government would take their representations into consideration.

Boot and Shoe Deputation.

The Premier, Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. Sydney Fisher gave a hearing to a deputation of about 200 gentlemen from various parts of Canada, representing the boot and shoe industry. They were introduced by Mr. O. S. Hyman, M.P., and asked for an increase in the duty upon boots and shoes from 25 per cent. to 35 per cent. It was argued that the Canadian boot and shoe industry is being greatly interferred with by importations from the United States, which are on the increase.

Want Canal Deepened.

Mr. Mulhern and L. A. Ross of Cornwall headed a delegation yesterday to Mr. Blair to ask for certain improvements to the Cornwall Canal at Cornwall to allow larger boats to call at the town. They wanted the canal at that point deepened.

Senator Templeman Sworn In.

Hon. William Templeman was yesterday sworn in as a Minister of the Cabinet without portfolio. Afterwards Hon. Mr. Templeman received the hearty congratulations of his colleagues.

Squandered a Fortune.

How often we hear the expression, notwithstanding the fact that those who use it are perhaps spending their money foolishly in medicines which only give relief without removing the cause. Merrill's System Tonic cures heart, stomach, kidney, nerve and liver troubles—because by purifying the blood, regulating the bowels and toning each of these organs the cause of disease is removed. Price 50 cts. per bottle at Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

Hon. R. J. Davis Banqueted.

Stouffville, Feb. 26.—The Liberals of this vicinity tendered a complimentary banquet to Hon. E. J. Davis, Commissioner of Crown Lands for the province, last evening, and the result was a success beyond the expectations of the most sanguine of the committee in charge.

Sold For $225,000.

Montreal, Feb. 26.—The Northwest Cattle Company, of which Mr. H. Montague Allan is president, have sold their ranch in the Northwest Territory for $225,000. Messrs. Gordon and Ironsides are the purchasers.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

WILL CURE OR RELIEVE

BILIOUSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, JAUNDICE, ERYSIPELAS, SALT RHEUM, HEARTBURN, HEADACHE, DIZZINESS, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, DRYNESS OF THE SKIN.

And every species of disease arising from disordered LIVER, KIDNEYS, STOMACH, BOWELS OR BLOOD.

BIRTH OF THE CICADA.

Even when warm weather comes again and other cicadas sing gayly from their trees the subterranean exile remains within the ground, daily growing larger and stronger until a second winter has come and gone. Then a stranger restlessness possesses him, and, burrowing steadily upward, he at last emerges from his long retirement on some warm, moist August morning. A rough, horny, earth colored creature he is, with strong hooked feet and bulky body. Clumsy is he also, and, staggering along, he gropes blindly about for some perpendicular object, up which he laboriously begins to climb.

Presently a slight quiver shakes his form, and a little crack opens a-down his back. It seems almost as if his unwonted exertions had actually burst his horny shell as the gaping wound reveals a mass of damp material within. Slowly the split widens, and a broad and massive head equipped with two great shining eyes pushes upward through the opening, and we realize that the birth of a cicada is taking place.—Frank Leslie's Monthly.

A Twofold Surprise.

"Miss Alice," said the nervy young man, "I think I will marry you."

"Indeed? Two very remarkable statements, sir."

"Two! How two?"

"One that you will marry me, the other that you think."

Ocean Depths.

The ocean used to be considered about as deep at its deepest as the highest mountains are high. It has now been proved to be half as deep again—that is, 46,236 feet.

Known by His Good Works.

Opinions of Dr. Chase, His Well-known Receipt Book and Famous Family Remedies, as Expressed by Persons Who Attended the Great Free Distribution.

Esteemed on Account of the Great Good he has Accomplished for his Fellow Beings.

There was little time for conversation at the distribution of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food the other day, for it was necessary for the crowd to keep moving in order to make room for new arrivals. A few however found time to drop a good word for Dr. Chase's Ointment, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, or Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and very many stated that they could scarcely keep house without Dr. Chase's Receipt Book.

One lady said that for the past five years they had not been without Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house, as a safeguard against croup, whooping cough and bronchitis. She said that her attention was first called to the remarkable value of this remedy when her little girl was very low with bronchitis. In her opinion it saved the child's life and she does not believe that there is any medicine obtainable that is so good for coughs and colds as Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Several men who dropped in for samples dwelt on the wonderful control which Dr. Chase's Ointment has over itching, bleeding and protruding piles. One man had been undergone the expense, pain and risk of an operation for piles, only to have them return in an aggravated form. He declares now that he was cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment, and gives it as his opinion that if people could only know the potency of this great preparation it would be found in every home on this continent.

There were probably more people who referred to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills than to any other preparation. They spoke of the wonderful promptness of these pills in relieving and curing biliousness, headache, backache, and the derangements of liver and kidneys. Several stated that they could find no regulator of the bowels, the filtering and the excretory organs that could in any way be compared to this 25 cent remedy.

It might interest you to know that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is most frequently used for the following ailments in order as stated: Nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, nervous prostration, dizziness, sleeplessness, rush of blood to the head, palpitation of the heart, muscular weakness, female weakness and irregularities peculiar to women. It is without a rival as a blood builder and nerve restorative. 50 cents a box at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Out Both Ways.

A farmer's boy in Scotland was charged with attempting to steal an article from a shop door. In pleading his case he said he didn't steal the thing—"he was only gaun the dae it."

Whereupon the judge informed him that to do it and going to do it were all the same and that he would have to pay a fine of 10 shillings or go to jail for ten days.

The boy, not having the money, was allowed to go and get it from a friend. In a little while he was seen standing in the court, and when asked if he had got the money to pay his fine he answered:

"Na, but I was gaen tae dae it, and ye said that gaen tae dae it and dae it were just the same. I'm thinking you and me'll be aboot clear noo."

Shoemaker's Backache.

The constant bending over that of necessity a shoemaker must do when at work comes hard on the back and hard on the kidneys.

Backache, lame, weak and sore back are the bug bears of a shoemaker's existence.

The kidneys get cramped and strained, are unable to filter the blood as they should—they tell of their disordered condition by making the back ache and pain.

There isn't much use rubbing on liniments or sticking on plasters when the prime cause of the ache lies in the kidneys.

The remedy that is most effectual for "shoemaker's backache," as for all kinds of backache and kidney trouble, is Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets.

INTENSE PAIN.

John Saunders, shoemaker, Whitby, Ont., gives the following evidence:—"I procured a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets at the drug store, and can say that they gave the great relief immediately. I was suffering with intense pain in the back and biliousness, with bad taste in the mouth, and loss of appetite. Under the influence of the medicine all this quickly disappeared and I feel well again. One thing I wish to say, while they did the work finely, they were very gentle in action, no distress, no griping like other medicines, and I was able to work all the time. I can heartily recommend them to all who suffer from backache, kidney trouble or biliousness."

LAND OF EVANGELINE.

A Land With a History That Is Yet Prosperous, Materially and Otherwise —Some Comparisons

Happy is the land that has no history is a saying that can scarcely be said to apply to any country for an indefinite length of time. The land of Evangeline has certainly all the appearance at this day of a large share of prosperity, material and otherwise. There is, perhaps, no more fertile tract of country on the continent than the Annapolis Valley. The dyked farms, where the owners have the opportunity of shutting out or admitting at will in periods of drouth the tides of the sea, never lack for moisture. The old-fashioned manner of building the dikes, which were used by the primitive inhabitants of this productive valley, are still in use by the farmers of the Annapolis country. They have not been able to invent anything superior for repelling the invasion of the sea. The mud and turf walls are still as serviceable for the purpose as they were 250 years ago. In England there was experiment at immense expense to keep out the tides by building a wall of wooden spiles. The experiment was unsuccessful. It was found that the water got under the timbers and raised them, and the old-fashioned system, as seen round the Basin of Minas, and other points in the Annapolis Valley, was resorted to. A recent party from Ontario, and H. H. S. writes that they visited the Evangeline well, and the row of guarded willows, of which Charles G. D. Roberts writes, "whose branches perchance tell over to the young leaves of each recurring spring what they saw of Evangeline and her sorrow." Near this spot were unearthed not very long ago some blacksmith's tools which came were handy enough to connect with the site of the said blacksmith's shop; and also there were discovered the foundations of a good-sized building which, it is conjectured, may have been the site of the Mass house where the Acadians were kept in confinement before they were placed on the ships to be taken out of their country. The tourist through the land of Evangeline is bombarded with clouds of Evangeline literature, good, bad and indifferent. Bushels of mawkish rubbish have been written on the great incident in the history of Grand Pre, much of it is very bad verse, and a remarkable feature about the local literature is the small amount of attention paid by the writers to the romantic and artistic story of Longfellow, while the amateurish efforts of some of the poorer verse-makers are liberally quoted. On the other hand, those who have been fascinated by the chapters which Parkman devotes in simple but strong English to the tale of this unpatriotic and unhappy people, are struck with the similarity between the work of this great historian and some of the literature of the locality. If there has ever been any doubt as to where Parkman obtained his data, perusal of this local literature should at once remove it. By far the most ably written description of the land of Evangeline which the party came across in their travels was the exceedingly bright and clever little work of Mr. Roberts. By a drive of fourteen miles from Kentville or Wolfville, the tourist reaches Look-off Mountain, where there is obtained a view of rare grandeur over the Minas Basin, the Annapolis and Gaspereau Valley, the bold outlines of Blomidon Promotory, the Villages of Canning, Grand Pre, and other small settlements in the distance. The whole country is beautifully and highly cultivated, and seen from the Look-off tower, the distant fields, carpeted with golden grain, or dotted with apple orchards, comfortable farm dwellings and barns, clumps of trees, the whole threaded by a silvery river, and pierced with numerous bays glistening in the sunlight, make a delightful panorama.

Faith in the Colonies.

A suggestive fact disclosed by the literature of the day is the faith of English writers in the future of Canada and Australia. This is strongly brought out in an important book by Benjamin Kidd on "The Principles of Western Civilization." It lays stress upon the paramount importance of the western commonwealths in determining the trend of future progress.

Another Englishman, who is equally impressed with the energy of the English-speaking race outside England, is Archibald R. Colquhoun, whose "Mastery of the Pacific" will be published by Heinemann in London soon. The proof sheets reveal a deliberate attempt to prove that the Pacific has become as important as the Mediterranean was in ancient times, or as the Atlantic became after the voyages of Columbus and the wars between England and France for the control of the New World. The book has chapters on the marvellous possibilities of Canada, Japanese progress, the Dutch empire in the Far East, and the development of German enterprise in China and the South Seas.

University Ideals.

In his lecture at Toronto University a recent Saturday afternoon, Prof. Halliday Douglas, of Knox College, speaking on "University Ideals," dealt with the three aspects of a university, first as the field of mental training, second the atmosphere and fellowship in which the student rounded down his corners, and third, its national significance. Graphic pictures were given of the Scottish University life as well as of English universities, and the university life of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. Professor Douglas argued that what Canada needs is a combination of the inspiration of Scottish universities, with the thoroughness and residential features of the English institution, as well as a liberal supply of money. The university, he thought, should provide brilliant men with the means and leisure to work out their theories.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

ADD UP THE GAINS.

In consumption, as in other diseases, the results secured from continued treatment with Scott's Emulsion come from the accumulation of many small gains.

A little gain in strength each day—a little gain in weight each day—if continued for weeks, amounts to something.

Scott's Emulsion can be taken for weeks and months without the least disturbance.

It gives itself time to do good. It makes new flesh and strengthens the lungs.

AFTER MUCH HONOR.

Pauper's Grave Claims Friend of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria—Died in London of Hunger.

An obscure grave in Edmonton burial ground hides a life tragedy of more than passing interest. In it lies interred Samuel Back, who a few years ago was one of the leading men in the Hebrew congregation at Jerusalem.

It is no uncommon thing in London for men to die of hunger, and that was virtually the terrible fate of Back.

Thirty years ago his father Eisen Back, was one of the foremost and wealthiest men in Jerusalem, and when he died the son succeeded to his honors and emoluments. It is of record that when Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria visited Jerusalem, he passed through its ancient streets arm-in-arm with Eisen Back, and there is little doubt that the son at the same time was honored with the Emperor's attentions.

But a change came, when Samuel Back lost his fortune in building operations, and he wandered across Europe, a broken and dejected man, leaving behind him in the land of his fathers his wife and daughter.

Reaching London a year ago, he drifted to the East-end, whore, in Dunk street, one of the gloomy by-ways near Black Lane, he hired a squalid room and attempted to gain a livelihood by the sale of little photograph albums of Jerusalem. He spoke no English, made few sales of his wares, and slowly starved.

But to the last he never gave up the idea of returning to Jerusalem. He would go back in the summer, he said.

During severe weather, and at all times when it was impossible for him to be out of doors, he spent the time in reading religious books, for he was very devout in his faith.

A few days ago Back was knocked down by a van in Commercial street and cruelly hurt. The weakened condition of his system from lack of food prevented recovery, and he died in the London Hospital at the age of 60, after months of abject poverty that followed years of honor and opulence.

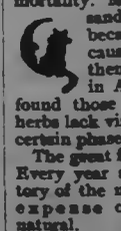
Thumb Rings.

Men's thumb rings are no rarities to collectors. Some of the Roman specimens must have been cumbrous wear, one in the Montfaucon collection bearing the bust of Trajan's consort, Plotina, measuring over three inches across. Mediæval churchmen of high degree did not allow "the largest, first and shortest of the fingers" to go unadorned. A massive gold ring was found upon the thumb of the supposed skeleton of Hilary, bishop of Chichester, who died in 1169, and the recumbent effigy of Bishop Oldham in Exeter cathedral is remarkable for the pressed together thumbs being inclosed by a single ring.

When the shrine of St. Thomas a Becket was robbed of its treasures, the famous archbishop's thumb ring, given to him by the king of France, graced with a ruby the size of a hen's egg, found its way to the thumb of bluff King Hal, and as the humor of the king is always voted just the thing we may be sure the royal hand was not the only one so decked at court. Mayors and aldermen imitated their betters. "When I was about thy years, Hal," says the fat knight, "I was not an eagle's talon in the waist. I could have crept into an alderman's thumb ring."

SUPERSTITION

Has been responsible for much of human mortality. Men and women die by thousands in an Indian famine, not because of lack of food but because caste superstition prevents them from accepting it. Even in America there are still to be found those who believe that healing herbs lack virtue unless gathered during certain phases of the moon.



The great foe of superstition is science. Every year science increases the territory of the natural at the expense of the supernatural.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery achieves its successful cures because it is a scientific preparation originated by a scientific man. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies the blood and establishes the body in sound health.

As the writer of the following letter says, "It is the best thing for nervousness and for a weak run-down condition that anybody would want. It gives a person new life and new blood."

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and is free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics.

"I must again send a few lines to you to let you know how I am getting along since taking the wonderful medicine which cured me two years ago," writes Miss Bertha Rieter, of 1416 Benton Street, St. Louis, Mo. "I still continue in very good health and think there is not a better medicine on earth than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the best thing for nervousness and for a weak, run-down condition, that anybody would want. It gives a person new life and new blood. I can now work all day long without feeling the least bit tired. I was very nervous and weak last summer. I took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it just made me feel like a new person."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets stimulate the liver.

THE NEWEST STORY.

One on Lord Salisbury Accepted in the Highest Legal Circles.

The very newest Salisbury story, and one which is accepted in the highest legal circles, is strikingly illustrative (says M.A.P.) of the Premier's isolation and small grasp of features. An elderly Liberal-Unionist baronet, of recent creation and of somewhat Lilliputian stature, was among the considerable number of invited guests to last summer's garden party at Hatfield. In the course of the afternoon Lord Salisbury laid hold of the baronet's arm, saying, "I want a quiet word with you." It was at the time of one of the "regrettable incidents" of the campaign, and the guest who had just returned from a hasty visit to South Africa, was delighted, though scarcely surprised, to find that the Premier's next remark, as they turned aside, showed a keen desire to obtain his view of the situation. The baronet at once poured forth his criticisms on the recent events of the war with the freedom and certainty that are the characteristics of the civilian, and the Premier honored him with by far the longest conversation of the whole afternoon. On rejoining the family group, his nephew remarked to Lord Salisbury: "I am particularly glad that you recognized Sir——, but what did you find to talk about for so long, you mean?" "I don't know what you mean," was the reply, "I never spoke to the man in my life. I have just been having a long and important talk with Lord Roberts. And I certainly found him thoroughly outspoken."

A Scientific Voice Improver.

Because of its strengthening influence upon the vocal chords, Catarrhozone cannot be too highly recommended as a wonderful voice improver. It almost instantly removes huskiness or hoarseness, thus insuring clearness and brilliancy of tone. Catarrhozone keeps the mucous surfaces in perfect condition, and its regular use absolutely prevents colds and throat irritation, thereby removing the singer's greatest source of anxiety, unfitness of voice. The most eminent speakers and Prima Donas would not be without Catarrhozone and credit in no small degree their uniform strength and brilliancy of tone to its influence. The hard rubber inhaler fits conveniently into a purse or vest pocket, and may be used in the church, theatre, any place or time. Complete outfit $1. Small sizes 25c. Druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

No Thanks Due.

A minister went from Kansas City down into the country to preach. Before going into the pulpit he asked if any one interrupted with "amens" and other ejaculations, as he could not stand such interjections. He was told of one old woman who always made herself heard at all good points. She was asked on this occasion to desist, and she obliged for once. At the end of the sermon the minister met her and warmly thanked her for holding her tongue.

"No need to thank me, no need to thank me!" she exclaimed. "You said nothing whatever to make me shout!"

The Agony of Sleeplessness.

Did you ever pass a single night in wakeful misery, tossing and rolling in bed, trying in vain to sleep and longing for morning to come? Can you imagine the torture of spending night after night in this way, each succeeding night growing worse and worse? This is the most dreadful symptom of nervous exhaustion and Debility. You can be thoroughly and gradually cured of sleeplessness by the upbuilding influence of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It cures in Nature's way, by creating new nerve cells and restoring lost vitality.

Superstitions of Today.

There are villages near the University of Oxford where no notion of medical science has penetrated and where charms are the only recognised cure for disease. A woman who has lately been lecturing in the neighborhood on sanitation found that whooping cough was always treated by spider. The spider was sewed into a piece of muslin and hung on a curtain rod, and the death of the spider meant the end of the cough. Not long ago a child was seized with the illness, and the doctor ordered "poultices on the chest." When he returned, he found that the mother had carefully laid the poultices on the oak chest which stood by the bedside. The remedy appeared to her perfectly natural.

NORTH SMITH.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The saw-mill at Hall's Bridge, which is owned and controlled by Mr. W. N. Blewett, is now running at full speed. Judging from the way the logs are being hauled there, Mr. Blewett will be kept busy for some time.

Mr. W. J. Pearson had the misfortune to give his foot a severe cut last week while chopping in the woods. The accident was caused by the axe catching a limb over head, the axe entered the inside of the instep causing a severe wound. Mr. Pearson will have a sore foot to nurse for a while.

Miss Higgins, our popular and efficient school teacher spent Saturday and Sunday under the parental roof.

Next Sunday will be Sundhy School day in the Methodist church here, when Rev. C. L. Thompson, of Ashburnham, will preach at 2.30 p.m. and 7.30 p.m. On Wednesday evening following a social will be held. After which Rev. J. J. Ree, of Oshawa, will deliver his popular address on "Some People I Have Met."

At the Quarterly Official Board Meeting of the Methodist church here, held last week, the pastor, Rev. R. A. Delve, was tendered a complimentary address which read as follows:

Rev. R. A. Delve, —

Dear Pastor, — We, the members of this Quarterly Official Board, desire to show in some tangible form our appreciation of the services rendered by you to this circuit since you came amongst us in the discharge of your ministerial duties, both in the pulpit and in your private visitations. We fully realise that in order for a minister of the Gospel to be truly successful in lifting up fallen humanity to the standard that Christ would have us attain to, he should have the sympathy of the members of his congregation, but he must have at least the prayers and co-operation of his trustees and Quarterly Official Board. To this end we desire to pledge ourselves, trusting that the remaining part of your stay amongst us may be even more profitable than the past.

Praying that our Heavenly Father may richly bless and comfort you, and your estimable wife, through all the journey of life, and that He may fill you with all spiritual grace and wisdom, so that your lives may be one constant testimony of God's power to keep and sustain amid the trials of your life.

Also we would not allow this opportunity to go by without extending to you and Mrs. Delve a cordial and hearty invitation to remain with us for at least another year.

Signed on behalf of the Board,

Stephen Harrison,
Recording Sec.

Dr. Delve replied at some length, thanking the members of the Board for the kindness extended to him since coming to the circuit, and assuring them of his best services. The invitation was accepted, subject to the action of the Stationing Committee.

A certain farmer in this neighbourhood was astonished on going to his barn on Tuesday morning about half past five o'clock, to find a man walking about the yard, to whom he bid good-morning, but the traveller made no reply. He evidently seemed to be looking for something. So the farmer asked him what he was looking for. He said, "I am looking for the road. What in h— do you think I would be looking for?" And where is your horse? "The d— thing is down there in the yard some place," he replied. The horse was found in the yard evidently looking for something to eat, but the driver refused to put the poor beast in, as he was in a hurry to get to Hall's Bridge. Judging from the appearance of the horse and driver they had been out all night. The traveller thanked the farmer for his kindness in showing him the way out, also offered him the contents of a bottle he had in the rig some place—he did not know where. Now, Mr. Editor it appears to me that prohibition would be a grand thing for man and beast.

WEDDING BELLS.

An interesting event took place on February 12th, at the home of Mr. J. S. Branch, Smith, when his daughter, Miss Mary Esther, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Joseph C. Vanskickle. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Mr. Gunton, pastor of the Gilmour Memorial church, in the presence of a number of friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired very handsomely in a gown of white cashmere, trimmed with silk and applique. She wore a veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by her sister, Miss Tressa, who was attired in a gown of cream cashmere trimmed with chiffon and lace and each carried a bouquet of carnations. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Fred Vanskickle. The maid of honour was little Miss Cora Bradburn, of Peterborough. She was attired in white organdie with a wreath of flowers on her head and carried a basket of carnations.

The wedding march was played by Miss Millie Jordan, of Victoria, B. C., cousin of the bride.

After the ceremony was over the newly married couple and the guests sat down to a sumptuous dinner.

Mr. Vanskickle is a prosperous young farmer, and he and his bride will take up their residence near Havelock.

FUTURE PROVISION.

There are two periods in a man's life, when in the natural course of things, he is unable to take care of himself—his childhood and his old age. During the whole of our lives we are consumers; during middle life only we are producers. It is therefore the aim of every man to put by enough during middle age, so that he will have an independent income for his old age. But, under ordinary circumstances this is often a hard thing to do. Men at that time of life generally find themselves with a family to provide for; perhaps their whole income is required to meet the household expenses, and it is impossible to find a remunerative investment for their small annual savings.

An Imperial endowment policy, as issued by the Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada, Toronto, is an ideal investment for a man in this position. Should he die at any time the insurance will provide for his family and leave them in an independent position. At the same time he is providing an income for his old age, which will enable him to end his days in comfort. With an "Imperial Endowment Policy" a man need have no fear for his own future, or the future of his wife and family.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

THE KIND THAT CURES.

Paine's Celery Compound has an established reputation for the cure of disease that no other medicine ever possessed; it is for this reason that imitations are made.

Unscrupulous and dishonest druggists and dealers whose sole worldly ambition is gain and large profits, are now foisting on the sick and suffering vile imitations of the popular Paine's Celery Compound; these imitations are positively hurtful and dangerous to young and old. These worthless substitutes bring in immense profits to the dishonest dealers while they are able to pursue their work without detection.

To those who are users of Paine's Celery Compound and to all who have determined to use it from to-day, we say: "Beware of imitations and substitutes. See that the name PAINE'S is on each wrapper and bottle." If your dealer dare suggest a substitute for Paine's Celery Compound, leave his store at once, and make your purchase from some honest man. The substituter cares more for his fat profit than he does for your health. Paine's Celery Compound is guaranteed to cure when all other medicines fail.

MARINE ESTIMATES

Important Improvement in the St. Lawrence Channel.

THE CATTLE GUARDS BILL

Mr. Lancaster Moved Second Reading of His Bill to Make Railway Companies Responsible But the House Sent It to the Railway Committee For Further Consideration—Chinese Exclusion.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—Hon. James Sutherland, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, was singularly fortunate in the progress made with his estimates last night. After a somewhat tedious private members' day, with an unusual amount of French debating, his estimates were taken up at 9.30 o'clock. In less than two hours over a million dollars had been voted. Several members of the Opposition expressed satisfaction at Mr. Sutherland's appointment, and the Minister was able to announce that important improvements in the St. Lawrence route would be made at an early date and at less cost than was usually supposed. He also said that he hoped that the insurance prejudice against the route would be overcome.

In answer to Mr. Taylor's question as to the superannuation of Wm. Jackson, lighthouse keeper of Red Horse Shoal light, near Gananogue, Mr. Sutherland explained that Mr. Jackson was superannuated at the age of 71, that no letter purporting to be signed by Mr. Jackson asking for superannuation and that no forged letter had been received.

Lancaster's Cattle Guard Bill.

Mr. Lancaster moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Railway Act. It is more popularly known as the Cattle Guard Bill. The bill makes the railway companies responsible for cattle killed on tracks between crossings, when efficient cattle guards were not maintained at such crossings.

Mr. Demers suggested that the bill be referred to the Railway Committee, and Hon. James Sutherland, as acting Minister of Railways, supported the suggestion.

Dr. Sproule opposed sending a bill of such importance to the farmers to a committee which had such a record for squelching measures of the kind.

For this, Col. Thompson of Haldimand accused Dr. Sproule of "playing to the gallery," to which the member for East Grey replied by reading a list of half a dozen similar bills that had been buried in that committee.

Mr. Wade of Digby prefaced a legal argument in favor of committing the bill to the Railway Committee, with the observation that there were three interests concerned in the measure. "One is the railway, the other is the farmer, and the third is the traveling public," he said.

"What about the cow?" Mr. Cowan asked, and the remainder of Mr. Wade's remarks were lost in the laughter that followed.

Col. Hughes put in a plea for the railway employe, and Mr. Stevens of Kent supported Dr. Sproule.

Mr. Avery of Addington made his maiden speech in favor of protecting the farmers' interests by compelling railway companies to adopt the best class of cattle guards obtainable.

Col. Tisdale defended the Railway Committee as an honest, well-intentioned and useful committee. After some further debate a division was taken on the motion of Mr. Sutherland, to refer the bill to the Railway Committee. The motion carried on a non-party vote, by 90 to 50.

A number of motions for returns were passed and the House then went into Committee of Supply. The marine estimates were taken up.

The House adjourned at 11.30 p. m.

THE CHINESE MUST GO.

The Dominion Commissioners Report Against Their Further Immigration.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—"Your Commissioners are of opinion that the further immigration of Chinese laborers into Canada ought to be prohibited." Such is the finding of the three Commissioners, Messrs. Roger C. Clute, K.C., of Toronto; James Munn of New Westminster, and Christopher Foley of Rossland, appointed a year ago by the Dominion Government to enquire into the Chinese and Japanese immigration in Canada.

The first part of the report dealing with the Chinese, a volume of nearly 1,000 typewritten pages, was laid before Parliament yesterday by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The Japanese are yet to be reported upon. Investigations have been held in Victoria, Vancouver and other towns of British Columbia, also in San Francisco.

Fill the New Page With Good.

The improvement to come in any life from the "turning of a new leaf" is not to be based upon the turning of the leaf so much as upon the constant and resolute filling of the new page by dint of unremitting and often strenuous effort. BOER RUSH A FAILURE

Few Got Across and They Lost All Their Cattle.

ALSO 15 DEAD AND 6 WOUNDED

Six Thousand Head of Cattle and 170 Head of Wounded Horses Left Behind in Their Flight—Boer Leader Banishment Proclamation May Be Waived by Lord Kitchener—Dewet Used Kaffirs.

London, Feb. 28.—The attack made by the Boers, numbering 600, and driving cattle before them, to rush the outpost line near Bothasberg, Transvaal Colony, during the night of Feb. 28, was most determined. They were led by two well known fighters, Ross Hands and Nanie Botha. When the Boers realized that their attempt to actually break through the wire fences was frustrated they crouched beside the dead cattle, with which the ground was thickly strewn, and from that defence poured a heavy fire on the British troops. The fusilade was steadily returned, and, finally, the Boers were driven back, leaving fifteen dead and six wounded on the field. They also left 170 dead or wounded horses and the entire herd of six thousand head of cattle.

CONDITIONS OF SURRENDER.

The Banishment Proclamation May Soon Be Waived by Lord Kitchener.

London, Feb. 28.—The Colonial Secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, made an interesting statement in the House of Commons yesterday, to the effect that the proclamation providing for the banishment of the Boer leaders did not preclude Lord Kitchener or Lord Milner from accepting the surrender of Boer leaders on modified conditions.

Lord Kitchener, on his own authority, had already accepted the surrender of some of the minor leaders, on the understanding that the provisions of the banishment proclamation would not be enforced.

Dewet Used Kaffirs.

London, Feb. 28.—A trooper of the 11th Yeomanry Battalion who was captured at Tweefontein, says: "The Boers, about 1,600 strong, surprised our pickets about 2 a.m., and poured volley after volley into the tents while the men were yet asleep. The fight lasted until daybreak, 4 a.m., when the enemy were in possession of the camp. The dead and wounded were lying in heaps."

Another prisoner states that Gen. Dewet had a large number of Kaffirs with him as a covering party, and that these succeeded in reaching the outposts and clubbing the sentries with knobkerries.

A SHORT STAY IN CANADA.

Prince Henry Will Be Welcomed at Niagara Falls, Ont.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—Prince Henry of Prussia will make a stay of two and one-half hours in Canadian territory. He will arrive at 2.30 p.m. on March 5th and leave again at 5. A royal salute of 21 guns will be fired by the 7th Field Battery of St. Catharines. A guard of honor from the 13th Regiment, Lieut.-Col. Guy McLaren, Hamilton, will receive the Prince when he steps on Canadian soil, and Lieut.-Col. Lessard, Royal Canadian Dragoons, Toronto, will supply an escort. Major Maude will welcome the Prince as the representative of the Governor-General.

Can Not Go to Canada.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—A cablegram was received at Government House last evening stating that His Highness Prince Henry of Prussia is unable to accept the invitation to come to Ottawa as the guest of the Government of Canada.

Heinrich at Washington.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Prince Henry of Prussia arrived at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and he and his suite attended the McKinley memorial services at the capital, and at their conclusion made a flying trip to pay tribute to the memory of the father of his country at Mount Vernon. He was the guest of President Roosevelt at a dinner at the White House last night.

COLONIALS FOR LONDON.

Those Who Fought in the War May Take Part at Coronation.

London, Feb. 28.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. St. John Brodrick, Under Secretary of State for War, in reply to Mr. McLaren, Liberal member for Bosworth, said that the claims of the representative detachments of colonial volunteers who fought in South Africa to attend the coronation and take part in the parades incidental thereto, were being considered.

Sailor Nearly Lynched.

London, Feb. 28.—An American seaman, named Charles Brown, narrowly escaped lynching at South Shields, Durham, yesterday afternoon, after killing a fellow sailor.

A general fight occurred on board the Liverpool steamer Beacon Light, Capt. Kelly, which was anchored in the Tyne, during which Brown shot a sailor named O'Donnell. Brown escaped in the melee and got ashore. Here he was captured by a constable after a hard fight on the dock, and it was with difficulty he was protected from the mob.

AS TO SUCCESSION DUTIES.

The Review's declaration of hostility to Succession Duties and its abuse of the Ontario Government for collecting revenue from this source, will bear a little examination which will justify the course of the Government, and condemn the course of our local contemporary in championing the interests of the favoured classes, the wealthy, who in some way or other escape their share of contribution to the public service at the expense of the poorer classes, who pay their taxes like men. The provincial revenue derived from Succession Duties, is devoted to charitable purposes, the relief of the afflicted in our public institutions, and as the act exempts from the collection of duties all properties given for charitable or religious purposes, and, as persons who amass great wealth, do not as a rule in the process squander much in charity, it is no hardship to devote a portion of the accumulation to the purposes of charity through the duties levied by the Succession Duties Act. The fortunes subject to this duty in the process of accumulation, enjoy the protection afforded by the laws of the province, and are, therefore, the legitimate object of a law requiring the payment of some equivalent to this protection. The persons who accumulate large wealth, are for the most part, those who grow rich in a manner and by means legitimate enough in themselves, but which permit of the avoidance, to a large extent, of the municipal taxation which the majority of citizens have to pay, and it is only even-handed justice, to have a law that will compel the estates of such persons to contribute the missing taxes in a lump, in the interests of charity. Besides, persons accummulate great wealth do not, as a rule do so by industrial and other enterprises that give employment to labour, but on the other hand far oftener they make capital, engaged in enterprises that employ labour, pay toll in the shape of interest on advanced capital which has perhaps escaped its fair share of taxes. It is often made a reproach that there is one law for the rich and another for the poor. This might have been true in the days when money was made by the rich in ways which permitted of an evasion of taxation, while the comparatively poor, the mass of the people, had to pay taxes on all they possessed and the more they benefitted the community by the improvements they made the more they had to pay. But this reproach is in the respect in question very largely removed by the act which compels the estates of the very rich to pay duties which to a certain extent are equivalent to the taxes that they were exempt from in the process of accummulation. Our contemporary the Review in denouncing the succession duties is standing up for the very wealthy and advocating their escape from paying their fair share of taxes; and the less they have to pay the more will the poor man have to contribute. But the Review is more loyal to its party leaders than to the public interests. Does the Review and the public know what it is opposing. Since 1892 when the Act came into force there has been collected from succession duties the large sum of $1,839,602.40 the amount last year having been $366,581.

The leader of the Opposition opposed the adoption of the Succession Duties Act and the present session his first lieutenant declared the act was a "disgrace to the country." Our contemporary therefore no doubt thinks that it is in good company in the fight for the privilege of the rich man and to protect him from the necessity of paying his share of the burdens of the state, like an ordinary man. Shall we abolish a law which brings us an annual revenue of between $300,000 and $400,000 a year by compelling the very rich to restore a part of their accummulated wealth to the state whose protection they have enjoyed and which accummulation of wealth has largely escaped the ordinary forms of taxation which the mass of the people have to submit to. The Review in espousing the cause of its leader Mr. Whitney in denouncing succession duties, is neither loyal to the financial interests of the Province nor the interests of our public charities, nor loyal to the principles of justice, which demands that there shall not be one law for the rich and another for the poor; that the rich shall not be exempt from taxation, thus necessarily imposing a heavier burden on the poor.

He tried Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure, and three bottles, with the Climax Iron Tonic Pills, completely cured him. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. TEMISCAMING .RAILWAY.

Mr. Latchford Explains the Government's Intentions.

TO END AT NORTH BAY.

Great Country to be Opened up—The Board of Trade Endorses Mr. Latchford's Views.

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—If the impression prevailed anywhere in Ottawa that the Government railway into the Temiskaming District will divert trade from Ottawa because of the line starting from North Bay instead of Mattawa, it has probably been dispelled by the luminous and comprehensive address delivered by Hon. F. R. Latchford before a largely-attended meeting of merchants in the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon. The Commissioner of Public Works for Ontario was present by invitation of the Board of Trade, and explained at length the reasons which influenced the Government in its choice of the route and the advantages which would result from the construction of the proposed railway. Mr. John Coates, president of the Board of Trade, occupied the chair, and first introduced Mr. R. W. Shannon, who said that while he did not oppose the building of the line, he thought its construction from North Bay rather than Mattawa, might interfere with the trade of Ottawa. Mr. Robert German described the physical features of the country through which the railway will pass, and said that as North Bay was a place where the two great railways of Canada converged and competitive rates could accordingly be hoped for, it was a proper starting point for the line. Moreover, the route chosen presented the least difficulties of construction.

MR. ALEX. LUMSDEN'S VIEWS.

Mr. Lumsden, M. P., stated that as he was interested in steamboat transportation on Lake Temiskaming, the construction of the railway line into that country would cause greater loss to him than to any other person in the province. Still he was not disposed to look at the project from the point of view of his personal interest, and having regard to the interests of the whole province, there was no doubt that the railway should be constructed. The trade of the new district would by the construction of the railway in part flow to Toronto, but as the only outlet for all that country was the great Ottawa Valley, and as Ottawa was the gate through which all the travel and traffic from the east would go into the Temiskaming region, this city would probably derive more benefit than any other place from the construction of the line. He spoke of the great natural resources of the district, which included an immense quantity of pine timber.

HON. F. R. LATCHFORD.

Hon. F. R. Latchford, who was received with applause, expressed his pleasure at being present to address his fellow members of the Board of Trade, on a matter that he believed to be of great importance to the people of Ontario, and particularly to the City of Ottawa. While Mr. Lumsden has at first appeared to oppose the proposition to construct the railway from North Bay rather than Mattawa, yet when the arguments in favour of North Bay rather than Mattawa were placed before him he not only withdrew any opposition but expressed himself in favour of the decision at which the Government had arrived. Mr. Latchford referred to the conditions with which the Government had to deal. At the head of Lake Temiskaming there were a million acres of as fine agricultural land as was to be found in the best counties of old Ontario. A little to the west again was a vast stretch of equally good land, amounting to about sixteen millions acres, covered at present for the most part with valuable timber, mainly spruce. The estimated quantity of spruce in this region was nearly 300,000,000 cords. Into the agricultural district at the head of Lake Temiskaming settlers had been pouring during the last six years. Already nearly a quarter million acres of land had been located in the 24 townships now surveyed, and there was every prospect of a very large influx of settlers in the present year. While access was afforded at present during the summer season by railway and steamboat, during the winter the settlers were shut out from the rest of the world. So difficult in fact was access that very few settlers could go in or out. The Government had not only the interests of the settlers to consider but also the desirability of affording access to Lake Tamagami, with its ten thousand islands, the most beautiful lake in the opinion of tourists, that exists on the face of the earth. Some ten or twelve years ago a railway had been projected from North Bay to the head of Lake Temiskaming but notwithstanding the demands for such a line which those interested in the country were making, the owners of the charter had not shown any intention to proceed with the work. The necessity became more and more apparent that a railway should be built, and the Government determined to construct a line, and last season placed a sum in the estimates to cover the cost of a survey. The point of departure to the north had necessarily to be between Mattawa and North Bay. From Mattawa the C.P.R. already extended northward along the Ottawa River in the Province of Quebec for a distance of 40 miles to the foot of navigation on Lake Temiskaming. A branch extended east to the Kippewa Lake. To construct a line from Mattawa along the Ottawa on the Ontario side would be in the first place to parallel the C.P.R. for a distance of 40 miles.

QUESTION OF COST.

The cost of construction for that distance would be enormous on account of the precipitous character of the shores. Then the same difficulties of construction, considerably accentuated by the still bolder character of the cliffs, would exist for a still further distance of 50 or 60 miles. The shores in some places rise to the height of 1,200 feet, affording scenery unsurpassed by the Saguenay or Hudson. It would be impossible to rise over these mountains from the shores of Temiskaming and reach the waters of Lake Tamagami. The railway was, in fact, from an engineering point of view, impracticable, and would not afford access to Tamagami at all. On the other hand, a railway comparatively easy of construction could be built from North Bay, as against a line of enormous cost from Mattawa. At North Bay the two great railways of the country converged, and communication with Ottawa was afforded by the C.P.R., with a down grade all the way; while a second route to this city was given by the Canada Atlantic from its junction with the Grand Trunk at Scotia. There would thus be two railways to Ottawa, a southerly outlet to Toronto, and, what might be desirable, a westerly route to the Georgian Bay from Scotia. The mere fact that the two leading railways would give competing rates to North Bay would be appreciated as a determining factor by every Ottawa merchant present who had ever shipped goods to points to which he could not obtain access by more than one railway. (Applause.) The new line is to be built and paid for by the land which it benefitted, and would not, Mr. Latchford felt sure, ultimately cost the Province one dollar. There was then in favour of the railway from North Bay economy of construction, the advantage of having a new line fed by and feeding in turn three of the great railway systems of the country, the opening to the world of the fine agricultural lands around Lake Temiskaming and the terrestrial paradise that was to be found in the Tamagami reserve, and the development which would follow the construction of the line through the mining region immediately east and north of Lake Tamagami. The last-named was a district of great promise, where but little work had been done. Mr. Latchford felt certain the members of the Board of Trade would regard the project as of immense advantage to the whole of Canada, and, with the increasing trade resulting from the development of this new country, of great benefit to Ottawa. Other places would also benefit, and the advantage would be general. No particular part of Ontario could be benefitted without the whole Province sharing in the advantage. Mr. Latchford hoped that what he had said would afford a better understanding of the question. He would not deal with the subject of Government ownership or any matter which might be debatable. He desired to treat the question from an impartial point of view, and thought the members of the board would be prepared as citizens of Ontario and Canadians to endorse the project. (Loud applause.)

MR. LATCHFORD'S VIEWS ENDORSED

Mr. Shannon expressed his pleasure at hearing Mr. Latchford's statement, and was satisfied that what had been done was for the public good.

Mr. Geo. F. Henderson moved, seconded by Mr. Wm. Hutchison, a resolution expressing satisfaction with the statements which the Commissioner of Public Works had made. The resolution was carried amidst applause, and in reply Mr. Latchford hoped that within a limited time the members of the Ottawa Board of Trade would be able to proceed by the new railway line to Lakes Tamagami and Temiskaming and see for themselves the wonders to which the speakers had referred.

The chairman, before the gathering separated, declared the meeting to have been one of the most interesting and satisfactory the Board of Trade had ever had.

Hon. F. R. Latchford had a conference with Mr. Russell of Pembroke, chief engineer of the Government railway to Temiskaming, with reference to the plans for the construction of the line. Mr. Russell stated that he had been able to find a comparatively easy route over the height of land between the Nipissing and Ottawa Rivers. Part of the district was very heavily timbered with excellent pine, and in other places there was a lot of hardwood timber of very large size. It is hoped that the construction of the first part of the line will be begun early in the summer.

New Transcontinental Railway.

Montreal, Feb. 28.—Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann were here yesterday and stated that they had made a proposition to the British Columbia Government re the section of the Canadian Northern between the Pass and Bütte Inlet, which will probably be accepted. The final question of a Pacific terminus will not, however, be decided upon until the whole matter has been gone into by the company's engineers. Mr. Mann also added that he expected the agreement with the Nova Scotia Government regarding the South Shore Railway would be ratified by the Legislature, and consequently the work between Halifax and Shelburne would be vigorously pushed forward.

Speaker Booth of the British Columbia Legislature is dead at Salt Spring Island.

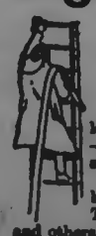
Fighting the Fires.



Hard life the pinchy firemen lead; out in all sorts of weather,—losing sleep, catching cold and straining their backs.

Hard to have strong, well kidneys under such conditions. That's why firemen, policemen and others, who are exposed to the weather, are so often troubled with Weak, Lame Backs and with Urinary Troubles.

DOAN'S Kidney Pills

are helping hundreds of such to health.

Mr. John Robinson, chief of the fire department, Dresden, Ont., says:

"Prior to taking these pills I had kidney trouble which caused severe pain in the small of my back and in both sides. I had a tired feeling and never seemed to be able to get rested. However, I commenced the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, and after taking three boxes am completely cured. I have now no backache or urinary trouble, and the tired feeling is completely gone. In fact, I am well and strong."

CANADA'S SHIPBUILDING.

Government Asked to Increase the Rebate on Necessary Material.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—A deputation consisting of J. Bertram and W. E. Redway of Toronto, J. Long, Collingwood, and Mr. Leighton McCarthy, M.P., waited on the Premier and Hon. Messrs. Fielding, Tarte and Patterson yesterday morning and asked that the Government increase the drawback now allowed on the manufacture of shipbuilding material from $1.15 per gross ton to $3 per gross ton. The deputation explained that under the present regulations they were greatly handicapped, as they had to pay a large amount of duty on materials used in the construction of ships. They argued, therefore, that if this drawback, which is now allowed by the Government in lieu of this duty were paid, they would be in a position to compete with the Clyde shipbuilding companies. They also pointed out the disadvantage under which they were working on account of American vessels being allowed to register at Canadian ports, while Canadian vessels were entirely debarred from registering at American points at all. Besides this, second-hand American vessels were often sold to Canadian firms at a nominal value and, consequently, admitted to this country at a low rate of duty.

The Ministers seemed disposed to consider the proposition, favorably, and asked how many vessels could be turned out by the three firms represented.

They were told that at present there were ten under construction, and if the Government took their proposition into consideration they were ready to enlarge their yards sufficiently to furnish all boats required for the coast and lake traffic.

The Premier and his colleagues promised the deputation that they would consider the matter fully.

ONLY A SUGGESTION.

But It Has Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump it can only result from the food we eat and digest, and that food should be albuminous or flesh-forming food, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals; in other words, the kind of food that make flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bill of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough and generally too much, the stomach, from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimilate it, which is the reason so many people remain thin and under weight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh-forming beefsteak and eggs and similar wholesome food.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking, after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and diastase which every weak stomach lacks, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to regain its natural tone and vigour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh-forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them with marked benefit as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful ingredient.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada as well as in Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, nervous, dyspeptic people strong, plump and well.

DETERMINED TO GO ON

Work on the Temiskaming Railway to Be Begun Early.

OPPOSITION OPPOSED THE BILL

Premier Ross Says No Proposition Made in Recent Years Had Been Better Received Than the Construction of the Railway as a Government Work—Busy Day in the Legislature.

Toronto, Feb. 27,—This afternoon in the Legislative Assembly the galleries were again crowded, owing to the impression which had got about that the Premier would move the second reading of the Prohibition Bill. The question, however, did not come up, and when the House got into Committee of Supply most of them lost interest and silently stole away.

Bills were introduced by Mr. Caldwell to amend the Registry Act, by Mr. McKay to change the name of the town of Tilsonburg to "Tilsonbury," and by Mr. Preston to amend the Election Act.

Hon. Mr. Stratton presented the reports of the Bureau of Labor, the Superintendent of Neglected and Dependent Children and the Poultry and Live Stock Associations.

The following bills were read a third time: Respecting the establishment of the Carnegie Library in Ottawa, Mr. Lumsden; to divide the District of Rainy River for registration purposes, Mr. Gibson.

Jurors' Act Amendment.

The House went into committee on Hon. Mr. Gibson's bill to amend the Jurors' Act, providing that where there was no jury business coming up in court their attendance might be countermanded five days before the holding of the court. Mr. Hoyle, who has a bill on the same subject, contended that the time was too short and that if no such business presented itself ten days before the holding of the court jurors should not be summoned at all. During the course of the discussion he quoted the Latin phrase "ex nihilo nihil fit," whereat the House laughed irreverently. Latin quotations are few and far between in the Legislature, and perhaps some of the members heard one for the first time. The bill received a second reading.

Committee of Supply.

The House went again into Committee of Supply and tackled a large and varied assortment of items under the head "Miscellaneous." Mr. Matheson wanted to know why sanitary investigation had jumped from $2,000 to $6,000, and Mr. Stratton explained that it was owing to the smallpox epidemic which had necessitated the appointment of Dr. Hodgetts as an additional inspector. In addition $5,000 had been appropriated for smallpox outbreaks, the estimates last year on that account being $10,600. Mr. Hoyle thought that the expenditure for re-stocking fisheries might better be applied to the extirpation of destructive fish which destroyed the spawn and young of valuable varieties. Hon. F. Latchford said nothing the Government had done had received more approval than their efforts to re-stock the waters with black bass. He agreed that it might be desirable to extirpate destructive fish, but the undertaking would be both costly and difficult. Mr. Bridgland said that in Muskoka the re-stocking process had been highly successful. Mr. Kidd complained that the fishery inspectors did not do their work efficiently. Mr. Latchford said the inspectors had great difficulties to contend with owing to the large extent of territory assigned to each. He wanted to know if the Opposition desired them to increase the "army of officials" of which they had so often complained. A general discussion as to the enforcement of the fishery laws followed. Mr. Pense spoke of the beneficial effect resulting in the Eastern waters of Lake Ontario, where conditions had greatly improved.

Temiskaming Railway.

On the item of $5,000, surveys of the Temiskaming Railway, Mr. Lumsden spoke forcibly in favor of the construction of the Temiskaming Railway, saying that he had formerly been opposed to the selection of North Bay as the southern terminus of the line, but had now been convinced that it was a desirable one. He dwelt upon the splendid agricultural capacities of the Temiskaming district. The timber of that country was being disposed of by the settlers at from $2.25 to $2.50 per cord, and last year the lumbermen had distributed among the settlers some fifty or sixty thousand dollars. Mr. Kidd said that Mr. Lumsden did not represent Ottawa opinion in favoring construction from North Bay. He did not think that the Government really intended to build the road. (Oh!" Oh!") Mr. Latchford pointed out some of the engineering difficulties in the way of building the road from Mattawa. A Board of Trade meeting at Ottawa at which the question was fully considered, had declared in favor of the North Bay route, which would give the shortest route and competition along two lines of railway. Mr. Powell stated that a firm of contractors had already secured a charter to build a road from North Bay to Temiskaming, and under these circumstances he did not see that the Ontario Government need embark in the enterprise. The Government should submit a plan of the road and a detailed estimate of the cost. Hon. G. W. Ross said the surveys were not yet ready to produce, though the engineer had traveled over the route, and made profiles. They proposed to build a good serviceable colonization railway adequate to the traffic of the country. No proposition made of recent years had been better received by the public than the construction of the railway as a Government work. A large amount of money had been paid to the Canada Atlantic to bring trade to Ottawa, and $50,000 had been voted to build the bridge had been voted to build the railways of the Gatineau Valley. Ottawa would benefit by the Temiskaming Railroad, which would bring her a share of the trade. By constructing the road as a Government work the province would continue to hold the key of the gateway to the Northwest instead of allowing it to be held by any corporation. They hoped to have a good part of the road under contract this year. Mr. Crawford approved the project, but thought the House should have fuller information before they were asked for further appropriations. It had shown the Government's want of business capacity. Hon. F. Latchford said that the Opposition were opposed to the principle on which the road was to be built, and Mr. Crawford had gone as far as he dared in view of public opinions in condemning it. The item passed.

Bureau of Labor.

The report of the Bureau of Labor for 1901 showed a diminution of strikes and lockouts. The total number reported during the year ending Aug. 31, was 19 and one lockout, affecting 64 establishments and covering an aggregate of 486 days, an average of 23 days to each. The greater number only required a few days for settlement. An encouraging indication was the growth of the tendency to settle labor troubles by conciliation or arbitration which prevailed not only in Ontario, but in other countries.

The Barberry Shrub.

Hon. John Dryden surprised the Committee on Agriculture and Colonization yesterday by submitting to them a draft bill providing for the general destruction, on the request of the localities affected, of the barberry shrub, which is largely used for hedges and ornamental fences. The details of the measure will be changed somewhat, but the above is the general principle. This step was the sequel to the presentation of a large amount of evidence by Prof. Lochhead of the O. A. C., Guelph, Sheriff Drury and a half dozen others from Simcoe County, the trend of which was to show that the barberry shrub undoubtedly caused rust in wheat, even miles away, owing to the influence of the wind. Samples of the shrub and rusted wheat were also produced. Provision will be made to prevent the cultivation or sale of the shrub in future.

THEY CANNOT UNDERSTAND.

Many People Still Inquiring About Joseph Brown's Case.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are Acknowledged to be a Wonder Working Medicine—Many Other Miraculous Cures Brought to Light.

Oshawa, Ont., Feb. 28th.—(Special.) One effect of the publication far and wide through the press of the miraculous cure of a case of Paralysis here in Oshawa has been to bring to the surface a great many similarly wonderful and well authenticated cures by the same remedy—Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. Brown, whose case has caused all the sensation, is a modest unassuming mechanic employed in the Oshawa Malleable Iron Works. Since the publication of the facts of his case and its cure he has been overwhelmed with letters of inquiry from all over the country, and to each of these he answered simply:

"Yes, Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me after all the doctors and hospital specialists had given me up. I couldn't walk and had to be fed like a baby for four months, but the pills soon fixed me up and I have been all right ever since."

He has also been in receipt of not a few letters from others who too have found Dodd's Kidney Pills a life-saving remedy when all else had failed.

Several of these, encouraged by Mr. Brown's example, have written to the papers reporting their cases and all are very enthusiastic in their praises of the medicine.

But our explanation of all these cases has been offered and it seems to make them easily understandable. The Kidneys are Nature's blood filters. If the Kidneys are healthy all diseases will be extracted and expelled—Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys and thus enable them to throw off sickness and to protect the body from any and every assault of disease.

O'Donovan Rossa Dying.

Colorado Springs, Col., Feb. 28.—O'Donovan Rossa, the celebrated Fenian agitator, is lying at St. Francis Hospital of blood poisoning. At noon yesterday an operation was performed, taking off the large toe of the left foot. The only hope for Rossa now lies in amputating the entire foot, and the patient is too weak to permit this.

Impossible to Dye Cotton and Wool Fabrics With One Dye.

Do not allow any dealer to sell you a dye that claims to colour cotton and wool with same dye. Cotton being a vegetable fibre, requires a specially prepared dye. Wool, being an animal fibre, calls for a dye that cannot give satisfactory results on cotton goods. The manufacturers of Diamond Dyes prepare special dyes for the colouring of cotton goods that cannot be produced by other makers of home package dyes. These cotton dyes are fast and solid. Washing or sunshine cannot fade them. Fast Diamond Dye cotton colours are used by all who make up homemade carpets and mats and rugs. All druggists and dealers should have these special cotton colours for your convenience.

If you are thinking of using your cotton or wool rags in the making up of pretty mats and rugs, send your address to The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 280 Mountain street, Montreal, P.Q., and they will send you free of cost, sheets of the Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns.

PERSONALS.

Mr. W. H. Walkey is confined to his room with illness.

Mrs. D. Hughes-Charles arrived in town from Galt yesterday.

Miss S. J. Robertson, Reid street, is confined to her room as the result of a severe cold.

Mr. A. L. Talbot has been removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he will undergo an operation.

Mrs. J. R. Stratton has sufficiently recovered from her recent very severe illness as to be able to be out again.

Miss May McCorquodale, of Toronto, sang at the Sons of Scotland concert in Havelock, on Wednesday evening last, and made a wonderfully pleasing impression on the very large audience which was in attendance. Quite a number from Peterborough were present at the entertainment, and were more than delighted with the numbers given by this sweet-voiced young singer. Miss McCorquodale, has not been heard in the vicinity of Peterborough before, but her appearance at Havelock has made for her so many friends that without doubt her name will appear in future on many concert programmes in the Midland District.

Mr. Herbert Dawson, of Port Arthur, a son of Mr. Alexander Dawson, was in town yesterday looking up old friends. Mr. Dawson came east with the advance guard of the big New Ontario deputation which annually comes this way to boom the fertile new district and interview both the Provincial and Dominion Parliaments in reference to special legislation for the benefit of the west. The railway and telegraph companies are also interviewed, and this year numerous valuable concessions have been obtained. Mr. Dawson has great faith in the future of Port Arthur and Fort William, and if the other members of the deputation are as fluent in describing the advantages possessed by New Ontario the older portion of the province will be in danger of a sudden great depletion of population.

STONY LAKE FIRE.

Mr. John Hubble's Heavy Loss Last Week.

The dwelling house of Mr. John Hubble at the head of Stony Lake was destroyed by fire at noon on Friday last. The family and a couple of neighbours who were working with Mr. Hubble were at dinner when they heard a crackling noize and going out found the upper part of the house on fire. An effort was made to extinguish the flames but in spite of all they could do the fire gained upon them and soon reduced the building to ashes. The contents of the first storey were saved but the provisions in the cellar and the furniture and bedding upstairs were consumed. The loss will be between $600 and $700. There was an insurance of $300 on the house and $150 on the contents in the London Mutual.

Mr. Hubble has had quite an unique and unfortunate experience in fire losses. Some years ago during the diphtheria scourge in Dummer, his dwelling house was burned. Later his barns were destroyed by fire caught from a fallow, and a costly law suit ensued over the burning of a neighbour's barns which were consumed at the same time, it being alleged that Hubble was responsible, he having started the fire to clear up the fallow. Not long after re-building Mr. Hubble's barn was again consumed, and in the summer of 1900 his house was struck by lightning. The building, however, did not ignite, but Mr. Hubble and his wife and several berry pickers who had taken shelter there during the storm were more or less severely injured by the shock. Mrs. Hubble was ill for some time afterwards.

Mr. Hubble was unfortunate in not having any insurance on his buildings until this last fire, and even with the insurance his loss will amount to $250. He is getting ready to rebuild.—Register.

FOR THE MUSEUM.

Capt Cockburn Sent Lieut.-Col. Rogers Some odd Instruments.

This morning Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers received for Victoria Museum, two rather odd looking musical ininstruments. These articles which have attracted a good deal of attention, were sent by Capt. Cockburn from Sierra Leone, and they convey to one, to some degree, the manners of the natives of that country and their rude ideas as to music. The drum is an odd-looking piece of architecture. It is a half glote-like instrument covered with a very thick covering of hide of some kind. It produces a very dull sound when played upon with the little drum sticks. However, it is the other instrument that arouses the curiosity of all. What the name of the instrument is no one here knows. It is made of a species of very hard wood, gut string and some strange sort of cells that assist in producing the noise—or rather music. It is possible to make seventeen different sounds on the keys. These are merely pieces of wood varying in length to suit the sound required to be produced. They are gently touched with a stick when being played upon.

REV. J. W. McMILLAN HERE.

He Delivered a Very Interesting Lecture in St. Andrew's Last Night.

The Sunday School room of St. Andrew's church was well filled last night with an appreciative audience to hear Rev. J. W. McMillan, of Lindsay, deliver his lecture on "A Trip Through Scotland and Germany."

The chair was occupied by Rev. J. G. Potter, pastor of St. Andrew's church, who introduced the lecturer of the evening. Rev. Mr. McMillan is a very impressive speaker with a rich streak of humour in his style, and last night he kept his audience in a happy mood throughout his entire lecture. His lecture was more in fact in the form of a talk and there were told many amusing incidents of the manners and customs of the Scotch and German people as viewed from a brief visit to these countries.

During the evening Miss Weddell rendered a vocal selection and Rev. Mr. Potter and Miss Weddell a vocal duet. A vote of thanks was tendered to the lecturer upon motion of Rev. Dr. Torrance, seconded by Mr. J. C. Brown.

The proceeds of the lecture were for the Home Mission Fund.

CHARLES DICKENS.

An Evening With the Great Novelist in T. A. S. Rooms.

The Ladies' Reading Circle of St. Peter's T.A.S. held a session last evening in the lecture room of the Society, which was well attended. The chair was occupied by Miss S. Kelly, and seated on the platform with her were Miss Maggie Lynch and Rev. Dr. O'Brien.

A short musical programme was introduced, consisting of an instrumental duet by Misses Kelly and Doris, recitation by Miss Ethel Primeau, vocal solo by Miss Annie Simons and an instrumental duet by Misses Doherty and Kelly.

Miss Maggie Lynch's paper on Charles Dickens was a masterpiece in every particular. This young lady showed herslf to be a warm admirer of the great English novelist and his works, and her description of many of the characters mentioned in his productions were beautiful pen pictures. The author's noble character, his pure soul and the high moral standard of his writings, together with his power of observation, were all thoroughly dealt with in the essay. Miss Lynch is to be congratulated on her prodution, which can truly be characterized as a literary effort of the highest order.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien in his remarks warmly congratulated Miss Lynch, and drew from the essay many beautiful lessons, which he urged his hearers to emulate and encourage. He also congratulated the Ladies' Reading Circle on the good work being done.

Short addresses were also given by Miss Lizzie Dennaird and Messrs. T. J. Begley and Chas. Murty.

120 YEARS OF AGE.

An Indian of Alnwick Who Lived 80 Years Ago.

The Toronto Globe each day publishes short extracts from its own columns of 50 years ago as well as extracts reproduced from the London Times of 100 years ago. Many of these items prove very interesting and in some instances very amusing. An item in yesterday's Globe reproduced from the Globe of Feb. 26, fifty years ago, is of particular interest to the people of this district. It is as follows:

"Thursday, Feb. 26.

—The oldest in Canada—There is an Indian in Alnwick, called Captain Jim, who is 120 years of age. If any of our exchanges can tell of an older man, white or red, we will probably hear of him."

About 20 witnesses have been summoned and some very interesting incidents of domestic life have come to light.

STONY CREEK DAMS

The Subject of Investigation Before the Public Accounts Committee.

On Thursday morning, Miss Charlotte Dickson, president of the Dickson Company; Mr. William Davidson, vice-president; Mr. Richard Hall, former president and manager; Mr. Shooke, present manager; and Mr. Waldon, bookkeeper, were examined before the Public Accounts Committee, of the Ontario Legislature, in relation to an expenditure of $4,000 on the construction of certain dams on Stoney Creek, township of Cavendish.

The evidence given disclosed the fact that the cost of constructing the dams was between $3,000 and $3,000, the province contributing to their construction on the condition of the improvements being available for all lumbermen and settlers who might desire to make use of the conveniences created by the erection of the works in question.

AN OTONABEE WEDDING.

Mr. George Lacheur of Town Married to Miss Emma L. Stewart.

A very pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Noble Stewart, Otonabee, yesterday afternoon, when his eldest daughter, Miss Emma Louise, was united in marriage to Mr. George Lacheur, of town.

The bride entered the room on the arm of her father, attired in a very becoming gown of steel gray, with trimmings of white silk and applique, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lena, who wore a dainty gown of white organdie, trimmed with valenciennes lace and insertion. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Harry Lacheur, of town.

After the ceremony about forty guests sat down to a sumptuous dinner. The numerous presents received showed the high esteem in which the young couple are held by their many friends. They will reside on College street. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Ashburnham.

LECTURE ON MOODY -

At the Y. M. C. A., Last Night by Prof. McConachie—The Attendance.

Professor McConachie, a teacher of Bible study in the Mount Hermon School for Young Men, delivered a very interesting lecture last night in the Y.M.C.A. on the life of the late Mr Moody. There was a small attendance, which may have been due to the fact that there were other attractions on last night, but nevertheless those who were present enjoyed an interesting treat. The lecture was given under the auspices of the Moody Bible Study Class, and the chair was occupied by Mr. G. H. Williamson.

Prof. McConachie, with the aid of lantern views, illustrated his lecture to the audience. In the course of his remarks concerning Mr. Moody, the lecturer said that when Dwight L. Moody was a mere boy he left home and went to the town of Greenfield, and was taken by his brother to a gentleman who made a practice of giving a penny to every new boy who came to town. He however, became homesick and returned home. His uncle, a prominent shoemaker of Boston, offered to take him on condition that he would attend church and Sunday school regularly. This he most faithfully did, and became actively engaged in the work of the Congregational Church. Removing to Chicago he became more actively engaged than ever before. He rented one, and as his means increased, more pews, and filled them with strangers. He collected a class of boys and taught them in Sunday school, and in this work he had the strong sympathy of Mr. B. Farwell, the first president of the Chicago Y.M.C.A.

In a room in his own home in Northfield, with a class of eight girls, he commenced the work of what became his great Seminary for girls. The girls who come to this school are usually from 18 to 19 years of age, the work taught is largely Bible teaching and domestic work.

After some references to the town of Northfield, Mass., and Mr. Moody's connection therewith, the lecturer said that four miles away, on the opposite bank of the river, twenty-one years ago, Mr. Moody founded Mount Hermon School. The buildings, now more than a score in number, are picturesquely located along a rounded hill or ridge, two hundred feet above the Connecticut. From the chapel tower a view is to be had which in extent and beauty, can scarcely be equalled. For twenty miles to north and south, running parallel with the river, the high hills guard the eastern and western horizons. In between lies the valley with its villages and farms, its knolls and woods.

In the early history of his labours Mr. Moody owed much to the assistance rendered by his wife and mother, and an infirmary which he built is named the Betsy Moody Cottage, in honour of his mother.

The student conferences held here from year to year are the scenes of great enthusiasm, 700 students attending last summer.

Prof. McConachie made a passing reference to the family of the great evangelist and speaking more directly on the work of the school he said that it is as unique among schools as Mr. Moody was individual among men. In his own words he desired "to help young men of very limited means to get an education such as would have done me good when I was their age. I want to help them into lives that will count the most for the cause of Christ." It is a young men's school rather than a boy's school. No student is admitted under sixteen years of age and a large number are really men. Those whose studies were cut short in boyhood by the need of going to work to support themselves or others, and who now feel the need of more training for usefulness, are especially welcome.

It is not required that a student shall be a Christian and a church member before entering, but no man is accepted unless he has formed an earnest purpose in life, and has a strong desire for such aid as the the school can render toward making him a useful man.

The students indulge in all the popular sports, such as baseball, football, polo, skating, etc., but the bible study forms the centre of the whole work. In this connection was shown the chapel, which was a gift from Mr. Moody's friends in America and Europe, on the occasion of his 60th birthday.

The lecture concluded with a reference to the convention now being held in Toronto this week.

FROM ENGLAND.

Mr. J. J. Turner Sends a Letter to the Mayor—His Best Wishes.

His Worship Mayor Denne has received the following communication from Mr. J. J. Turner, who is now in London England. Since the letter was written, Mr. Turner's mother has passed away. The letter is as follows:

Dear Sir,—Just a line to let you know that I am well and my mother though still alive is sinking fast and the physicians say that she is liable to go at any time.

I was pleased to hear that T. F. Matthews and W. H. Hill were elected to the responsible position of water commissioners and I must congratulate the people upon their choice as I feel sure that they will fill the position with credit to themselves and honour to our good town. I hope that you and the members of the council as well as the good town clerk and treasurer are all well, and that Peterborough is prospering which I feel it will under the guidance of so able a body.

I am sorry to inform you that we have small-pox very bad here and there are thousands of cases. Doctors are appointed at different places to vaccinate free of charge, and if one does not care to go to them, by sending them word they will come to one's house and perform the vaccination free of charge. Every person who has been vaccinated here wears a red band around their arm so that the people will know enough to not knock against them.

This is a wonderful place, and I often wonder where all the people are going to. They are continually on the move and the busses, trains, electric railroads, etc., are always crowded. They are still building more underground railroads.

I had the pleasure of meeting Mrs Grundy-Jackson in London, also Capt. Metcalf and wife, who had charge of the Barnardo Home in Peterborough at one time.

The reception to "our Joe Chamberlain," as the people call him here, at the Mansion House was a grand affair, and I would like to add my testimony that I think he is one of the finest statesmen England ever had.

I have just had a letter from Mr. Oke who expects to sail for home about the 5th of March. Believe me,

Sincerely yours,
J. J. TURNER.

Barrie's Challenge to the Champions of the Intermediate Series—Notes on Curling etc.

HOCKEY.

There will be a joint meeting at the rink to-night at 8 o'clock of the Hockey Executive and team to discuss questions arising through the present unfavourable weather.

The game which was to have taken place in Norwood to-night between the team of that place and the Fenelon Falls team for the championship of the Trent Valley League, has been postponed until Thursday of next week. This action was rendered necessary by the soft weather.

After consultation with the Observatory officials, the O.H.A. sub-committee have ordered the Wellington-Cornwall match for next Monday night in Toronto. It is probable that the frost will be here to-morrow and that there will be good ice on Monday.

On Monday night also the Upper Canada College team will play in Stratford for the junior championship. The return and deciding game will be played in Toronto Thursday night.

Three teams remain in the field for the intermediate championship, Galt, Collingwood and Peterborough, which are inconveniently situated for playing against each other. Galt and Collingwood will play a sudden-death game in Toronto on Tuesday night and the winner will meet Peterborough in home-and-home games if the weather permits.

That Galt team is talking of challenging the O.H.A. senior champions after it wins the O.H.A. intermediate championship. The Galt people are a little previous. They have yet to beat Peterborough and Collingwood. —The News.

A despatch from Barrie to the Toronto papers says:

"Sporting Editor Globe, — Sir, — The Barrie Hockey Club challenges Galt, Collingwood, or Peterborough to play the Barrie team home-and-home games for a prize consisting of seven gold lockets, same to cost not less than $55, to be donated by the Barrie Club. The games to be played under the conditions below: Referee to be appointed by the O.H.A.; 2. number of goals to count in deciding the winner; 3, each club to pay its own expenses; 4, O.H.A. rules to govern contest; 5, the first game to be played in Barrie; 6, expenses of referee to be paid by home club; 7, in the event of the three clubs accepting this challenge, we shall ask the secretary of the O.H.A. to decide which club is to be our contestant. Jos. Seeley, Manager Barrie Hockey Club."

The locals intend taking no notice of the above challenge. Barrie had the same chance as Galt, Collingwood or Peterborough, to win out the Intermediate championship and if they failed to do so, it was no fault of Peterborough's. Why, then, should they have the privilege of running up against the O.H.A. Intermediate winners, when they might, by chance, come out victorious? Barrie's challenge will fall on deaf ears, here at least.

Messrs. Jim McCabe and Ed. Dillon passed through Port Hope yesterday on their way home from Newmarket, and are loud in their praises of the courteous reception they received in that town. Mr. Robinson, the genial hotelkeeper, presented each of the boys with a box of Ontario cigars. Nearly every sport in Port Hope wishes Peterborough success in their endeavour to land the championship. —Com.

LACROSSE.

London, Ontario, is thinking of going into the lacrosse business. The Rugby Club of that city, and the Hockey Club, as well, are under the ban of the O.R.F.U. and O.H.A. respectively, and now the citizens of the Forest City think they will see what they can do with the C.L.A. The London News, the official sporting organ, of London, says that the prospects are bright for a first class lacrosse team in London this summer. "There is material enough in the city to put a team in the field that will come pretty close to landing the Intermediate Championship and with proper organization a fast twelve can be brought out. There are more and better players now available than in any season heretofore and it is only a matter of getting them together."

We hope that the London lacrosse team will flourish, but they must remember the straight and narrow path.

The Toronto Lacrosse Club is sending a team of stick handlers to the Old Country. The Toronto men evidently fear no hodoo, for they will commence their trip with thirteen men and start on a Friday. They go on March 28th.

THE TRIGGER.

Live pigeon shooting has been put under the ban in New York State. Governor O'Dell has signed the bill prohibiting pigeon shooting contests in the state. He presented the pen with which he affixed his signature to the measure to John D. Haines, President of the State Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which Society was the prime mover in the agitation to have the killing of pigeons for sport put an end to.

And when on the subject of pigeon shooting, an amusing incident that occurred during the past week is recalled to mind. It is a well-known fact that pigeon shooting has been a favourite pastime in Peterborough among certain of the young men. The other evening a well known bank clerk and two of his chums went out in search of pigeons, in order that they might have some wing shooting next day. They reached a barn on one of the concession lines, and at once commenced to storm it. They gained an entrance and lighted a lantern, which was brought along with them. The bank clerk was busily engaged in throwing the range of his optical organs along the rafters and beams of the huge barn, at the same time slightly bending backwards and holding a lighted lantern in one hand. In another instant he found himself in a manger of the cow stable, 15 feet below. The old cow astonished at the sudden arrival, and the apparent ball of fire, bolted back, and in a short time there was a general stampede. However, the bank clerk's friends came to the rescue and no serious results are reported. They then proceeded to get the pigeons, the bank clerk keeping a sharper eye on the hole in the floor than on the rafters above.

IN MEMORIAM

Of the Late Rev. Francis Andrews B.D., Who Died Feb. 4th, 1902.

The people mourn with one accord to-day,
Sorrowing deeply o'er a sudden loss,
The shepherd of the flock has passed away,
No more on earth he'll tell them of the cross.

Our dear, loved pastor, faithful teacher, guide,
Is not, for God has called him home to heaven;
Died in the harness, faithful unto death,
Unto the charge his Master here had given.

But one short year ago, the people came
Thronging in joyous crowds, to homage pay
To one who had to them for fifty years
Been teaching of the straight and narrow way.

And all was happiness; and kindly words
Were spoken on that day of Jubilee,
Words of appreciation and of praise,
For his life's work thus given unceasingly.

And earthly honours were bestowed on him,
Honours so well deserved, and highly prized,
And hearts that loved him throbbed with joy to see,
The hopes that they had formed thus realized.

And now to-day, again the people come,
But ah alas! No joyful hearts are here,
But strong men, bowed in grief, shed silent tears,
And women sob in sorrow o'er the bier

Of their loved minister; and as the last
Sad look is taken of that calm, still face,
Their hearts are moved within them, and they feel
As if no other e'er could fill his place.

So quickly, calmly, that pure life has closed,
No parting strife it knew, nor slow decay,
But in a moment's time—a little space—
Entered the portals of Eternal day.

And he had wished that when his work was done,
If God so willed it, that there might not be,
A weary lingering of the spirit here,
But that the call would come, to set him free.

And so God gave him rest—rest from his toil,
Rest from the weight of his high embassy,
Safe now within the Everlasting Arms,
He dwells in calm and holy Ecstasy.

'Neath the white winter's snow we've laid him low,
But like the flowerettes that lie hidden there,
Waiting the springtime, with its sun and dew
To call them forth more beautiful and fair.

So shall his spirit, free from earthly stain,
By death set free, and purified by grace,
Be brighter, purer, whiter than the snow,
And dwell for aye within God's holy place.

And shall we say, that now his work is done,
Ah no! for as the years are passing by,
His great and gracious messages of love,
Plead with us still to meet him in the sky.

Oh faithful heart! that ere was stedfast, true,
Sorrowing in pity, with us o'er our dead,
In many a trial have we heard his voice,
Praying for us—and been comforted.

And now, dear Lord, we pray, come very near,
That home in which the fatherless doth weep,
Speak words of comfort to these mourning ones,
In paths of peace do Thou them guide and keep.

And may that love of Thine, that's changeless still,
Uphold and cherish them, until at last,
Their feet shall climb the hill to Heaven's gate,
And enter in—life's storms forever past.
